With a successful football season closed for a few weeks students will go without intercollegiate athletic contests, and then basketball practice starts.

Fortunately, Idaho will have quite a number of games at home and students will have great opportunity to show their support for the team than they have had in football. Because of this, they will be able to be of all the value to the team a good crowd of rooters can.

Cochs MacMillan forecasts that Idaho's chances for a strong team are excellent and that a big bunch of promising material is out. But on the dubious side, the positions left vacant by Hunter, Moe and Carder will be hard to fill.

Idaho will send on the floor considerable new material and the value of whole-hearted rooting will carry double value. Hard games, with fast experienced teams are ahead of the Vandals and a unified, active, howling bunch of rooters will do much toward taking Idaho near the top of the list in the conference. Let's Go!

NO MORE LIBRARY DATES

A certain prominent sorority on the campus, with the object of raising the standard of scholarship, has introduced a scheme of supervised study. Each evening, the frosh are herded into a single room, and forced to apply themselves to their lessons all evening. No one is allowed to attend the library. There is some difference of opinion as to the real object of the scheme. Avowedly, it is to cause more effective study, but some of the wise maintain that the real idea is to allow the upperclass women more freedom of conduct in the library, so that they may act as they please without being under the accusing eye of a group of freshmen to whom such diversions are forbidden. Anyway, the library is getting to seem awfully lonesome.

Speaking of the library, the suggestion to transfer the social center of the school to the reformed Y hut is taken as a personal insult by the library employees.

The Camp Kidder

AND NOW HISTORY IS COMPLETE

Now that about 10 days' calm has followed the Beta-Kappa Sig football melee, the campus has about returned to normal. It was only by exerting great effort that students have settled back to the quiet and uneventful. The campus was spell-bound as a result of the game. Half was spell-bound because the Betas didn't win and the other half because the Kappa Sigs failed to come out on top. Even the trusty inter-fraternity sport writing specialist of the Argonaut was so set back that he failed to get his account of the game turned in in time for the last issue of the Argonaut.

Realizing, however, that such important events cannot be ignored, the Argonaut hereby reproduces for posterity the only scientific record of the battle.

"Just Before the Battle"
Football dopsters received one more severe jolt on Armistice day when the Beta-Kappa Sig game, which has been the topic of much discussion, deliberation and speculation on the part of followers of the elusive pigskin for the past two months ended with a 0-0 score. It had been generally admitted by football experts throughout the country that the game would be close and hard fought, but the possibility of a shut-out had never been considered.

New York and Chicago quoted even money on bets before the game, and this greatly influenced the placing of money throughout the remainder of the country.

Smell Smoke of Victory
The day was an ideal one for a football game, and the crowds, which began appearing at nine in the morning filled the grandstand, overflowed the bleachers and framed the sidelines ten deep when the first whistle was blown at 1:40 P. M. Both teams were confident before the game. Neither coach could find words for a definite statement, but the Beta Bears themselves predicted a large score at their end, while the Kappa Sig aggregation, fondly and lovingly nurtured by their coach, Joe Hogan, also scented victory.

Shaw Brotherly Love
The feature of the game was when a Kappa Sig linesman picked up a Beta fumble, and pivoting and dodging with ease, tore through both teams and almost made the only touchdown of the game—for the Betas. Another incident worthy of mention occurred with a Beta linesman, evidently feeling his services were no longer needed by his team, lined up with the Kappa Sig team.

Broke, broke, broke.
On the tenth of the month, by Gee;
Oh it's lucky my thoughts don't utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

Oh well for the musical guy,
For at dances he oft can play;
Well for the vocational man,
For the government will help him to stay.

And my bills keep rolling in Till the thought of them gives me
a chill;
But oh for the chink of a silver coin
Or the sound of a crisp dollar bill.

Broke, broke, broke!

But a dismal wail for the vanished
kale
Cannot bring it back to me.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Gladys Hastie returned Sunday from Berkeley, Cal., where she represented the University of Idaho at the Second Women's Intercollegiate conference last week. While in the south she was the guest for several days of Fleeta Brennan, '21, at her home in San Francisco. Among other affairs given in her honor was a luncheon given by Miss Brennan at the Hotel Oakland in Oakland. The guests were Miss Margaret Teaman and Miss Ethel Bell, of the University of California, and Miss Margaret Byrne, of Delta Gamma, member of the graduating class of 1920 at the University of Idaho, who now makes her home with her mother in Berkeley.

Miss Clark, students secretary of the Presbyterian church was a guest at the Delta Gamma house Friday noon.

On Wednesday evening Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at dinner for their mothers.

Lynn Rogers and Charlie Pitcairn, of Phi Delta Theta were Wednesday dinner guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Coasting, skiing and sleigh riding have proved the favorite pastimes during the past week. A thick blanket of snow has transformed the surrounding hills into a typical Idaho winter picture. Dancing has been forced to take second place and the Track Benefit Hop of Saturday evening, though very enjoyable, attracted a comparatively small crowd.

Mr. Thompson of Caldwell was a Sunday dinner guest at the Delta Gamma house. He was here visiting his daughter, Mary.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at a fireside on Sunday evening. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Von Ende, Dr. and Mrs. Miller and Mrs. and Mrs. Harvey Smith.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained in honor of Professor and Mrs. Bronnan and Dr. Church at dinner Wednesday evening.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith and Thelma McGee, Esther Morris and Louise Jenness of Gamma Phi Beta.

Miss Margaret Johnson of Lewiston spent the week end at the Theta house.

Harry Krigner of Spokane was a week-end guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Thelma McGee, Elmira Jones, and Nell Prescott of Gamma Phi Beta attended the Shriner's formal ball in Lewiston Friday evening.

Sunday dinner guests of Omega Phi Alpha were the Messrs. Sampson, McKinnen, Wells, and Coons of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Helen Johnston and Mary Brown spent the week-end in Lewiston.

Mrs. Jerome J. Day and Mrs. Chas. F. Arney were dinner guests of Sigma Nu Wednesday evening.

Scoop Taylor was a guest of Sigma Nu Wednesday at dinner.

Roy V. Star, '21 of Twin Falls is at the Elwetan, renewing old acquaintances.

Albert Graf, Amand Kern and Gus Bjork of Sigma Nu were dinner guests with the Elwetan Sunday.

The Elwetan announce the pledging of Ritchie Bailey, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Lynn Kelley of Lewiston.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Miss Clark, Student Secretary of the Presbyterian church at luncheon Thursday.

C. B. Lowe, Harold Wallace and Walter Toews attended the game at Spokane Saturday.

The original W. S. C. cougar, which was stolen by students of the University of Washington two years ago, made its first public appearance at Seattle this month when it was displayed at a dance given by the Knights of the Hook. Other college trophies displayed were the Oregon beaver, the California bear, and the Stanford stick.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,
It's Camels for you.

Alumni News Column

OLD GRADS SEE IDAHO POUNCE ON GONZAGA

That the game held considerable interest for alumni is evidenced by the fact that many came from a distance. Among the out of town alumni were John McEvers, '15, of Wallace, now prosecuting attorney for Shoshone county, Wilton Emmett, '17, practicing law in Kellogg, George Sylvester, '15, of Rathdrum, Paul Peterson, '19, of Twin Falls, Sarah Nettleton, '19, and Helga Anderson, '19 teaching in Sandpoint this year, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Murray of Moscow.

JOHN BOOTH VISITS CAMPUS

John M. Booth, '17, was in Moscow recently, renewing old acquaintances in town and at the university. Mr. Booth is doing very successful work in farming near Nez Perce. "You can guess what place offered the strongest attractions," wrote Booth, who is now a regular Nez Perce monthly chaper, in a recent letter to a friend at the university after telling of a trip over France, Belgium, Monaco and Monte Carlo and points of interest on the Mediterranean after the signing of the Armistice. Mr. Booth spent two years in uniform, 15 months of which was overseas. He was one of the Idaho delegates at the National American Legion convention last fall.

CAMMACK GOES EAST

To purchase 10,000 dairy cows for the farmers of Idaho, F. R. Cammack, '15, will leave for the east this week, said L. W. Fluharty, director of university extension service, while he was in Nampa on his way to Kansas City. Aside from the importance of such a large purchase of cows to the dairy industry of the state the 10,000 cows will furnish a market for surplus hay where the cows are purchased. "The dairy cow, the hog and the hen form the ideal combination for the farmers of the state," said Mr. Fluharty. "If we can bring enough of these into the country there will be no surplus hay or grain crops and the farmers will be assured a steady cash income. Mr. Cammack, who is recognized as an expert dairyman, will visit a number of eastern states and select best dairy cows obtainable for shipment to Idaho in the next few months.

GRADS DOING SOCIAL WORK

Boise chapter of Gamma Phi Beta Alumni association has elected Miss Angelina Bradley Burns, '19, president for the coming year. Miss Burns, who is an English instructor in Boise high, says that the association plans on some social service work for the coming year. Every summer a picnic is given the 30 or 40 orphans at the children's home.

IDAHO LIVESTOCK EAST AFTER NEW LAURELS

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE SENDS ANIMALS TO INTERNATIONAL SHOW AT CHICAGO.

The University of Idaho college of agriculture has entered the grand champion yearling Southdown wether and the grand champion steer, "Idaho Sensation," a purebred Hereford, in the International Livestock show at Chicago, November 23 to December 3, according to an announcement Monday by C. W. Hickman, professor of animal husbandry. The Idaho wether was grand champion at the Western Royal Livestock show at Spokane and also won the grand championship at the Pacific International Livestock show at Portland.

"Idaho Sensation" won the grand championships at both the Portland and the Spokane shows. Another wether of the university farm, winner of the reserve grand championships at both shows or next to the Idaho grand champion wether, is also to be entered in the Chicago show.

Fred Bayliss, university beef cattle herdsman, has gone back with the steer which was shipped from Portland following the close of the Pacific International show. "Idaho Sensation" was shipped back to Chicago through the courtesy of Congdon and Battles of Yakima, Wash., in a carload of exhibition stock owned by the Yakima firm.

Sam Stoddard, university shepherd will be in charge of the Idaho wethers: He will give an exhibition at the Chicago show with his three fine Scotch sheep dogs. Last year he gave an exhibition and officials of the Chicago show, the largest and most important livestock show in the United States, have made plans for an exhibition this year.

"We look to 'Idaho Sensation' and the Idaho wethers to do something back at Chicago or they would not have been sent," said Professor Hickman. "The animals were the best of the Western Royal and Pacific International shows and we believe that their entrance at the Chicago show will be well worth while."

Beef cattle of the university's purebred herd are being taken care of in the barns at the Latah county fairgrounds while other stock is being taken care of in enclosures on the university farm, according to Professor Hickman. The temporary winter quarters will be maintained until spring or until a new beef cattle barn is constructed. The cattle were burned out of their regular quarters by the destruction by fire of the beef cattle barn.

"Investigation shows that the university lost only one animal as a result of the fire," said Professor Hickman. "This animal was an aged bull which broke away after being led to safety and rushed back into the flames. The entire 36 head of purebred cattle would have been lost had it not been for the fine work of Harry Morgan."

DRAMATISTS FORM CLUB

Will Seek Membership in National Organization; Limit Membership

Embryo actors and actresses will compose a professional dramatic club that is being organized on the campus. Students will be elected to membership at the beginning of their junior year and will be required to pass high requirements.

An effort will be made to connect this club to a national organization which would not only be of great benefit to the students themselves and to the University but a great honor as well.

This club plans to produce two or three all-university plays a year. This year a musical comedy is to be given as a benefit for the Cinder Track fund.

INSPIRE CO-EDS TO SERVICE

Miss Mary Eliza Clark, student secretary of the Presbyterian church, gave a very interesting talk on "Service" at a meeting of university women held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Clark has been making a tour of the west for the purpose of meeting university girls.

HARRIET ENSIGN IN IOWA

Miss Harriet Ensign, '21, writes that she is having a quiet time in Clarion, Iowa, where she now lives. An occasional trip to Ames serves to break the monotony. On a recent visit to the state college she met Emory Roller, former chemist at the university experimental station.

address is in the telephone directory," writes John Maurice Crom '11, now a district manager of the Cement Gun Co. Inc. and former assistant engineer of sewer construction at government explosive camp "C" Nitro, West Va. Mr. Crom was also city engineer at Cashmere, Wash. for some time.

ATWOOD IN INSURANCE GAME

A. P. Atwood, '20, has assumed charge of the insurance department of the John E. Nickerson agency at Lewiston. Mr. Atwood, up to the time of accepting his new position was connected with the Empire National bank and the officers of that institution speak highly of his ability. He was in charge of the insurance departments in banks of Koozka and Pomeroy before going to Lewiston.

"With the exception of three years that I was out in private work I have been continuously in horticultural work at Wenatchee, Wash.," writes Phillip C. Darlington, '07. Mr. Darlington has grown up with the fruit industry at Wenatchee and is now in charge of 50 inspectors at that place. 15,000 cars of apples and 1,000 of other fruit were shipped out of this district during the past season.

ELWETAS ENTERTAIN AT INFORMAL DANCE

Saturday evening, Nov. 12, the Elwetas gave an informal dance in the Guild Hall. The programs were cut and the shape of the Elweta pin and printed in gold on purple. The Elweta's colors were also tastefully used in the decorations, which were supplemented by balloons of a variety of colors and daintily colored butterflies which floated among the streamers. Chaperons were Dean and Mrs. M. F. Angell, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Over Smith, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Endicott and Mr. and Mrs. Dana Elliott. Other invited guests were Messrs. Fisher, Leihay, and Weber of Washington State College; Misses Thomas, Huston, Walker, Beattie, Meek, Stevens, Dickinson, Wright, Mench, Cox, Patterson, Felton, Nogel, Ebbly, Fater, Specht, Roberts, Povey, Senger, Gilman, Yangill, Beach, Mary Ball, Luce, Collins, Schriber, Thomas, Baker, Morris, Frieze, Carland, Johnson, Henckley, Huffman; Messrs. Thometz, McCallie, Carpenter, McClain, Macey, Kern, and Sowder. Elweta Alumni present were Edward Nettleton, Ralph Largent, Henry Felton and undergraduate Charles Stidwell.

FRESHMEN NAME-TAGS USED AT PENN STATE

Eastern Campus Thinks Idea a Good One; Has Many Advantages

So that its freshmen may quickly become acquainted with each other, Pennsylvania State college has its first year men and women wear name tags for the first week of school. The plan has made a hit, according to the Penn State Collegian which says:

The custom started this fall and by the action of the student council this week becomes one of the regular college customs. The rules to be in force hereafter are practically the same as those that were in effect this fall.

The advantages of the custom were demonstrated this fall. The new men were aided in becoming acquainted with one another, the card in many cases serving as an introduction. It also helped the older men to become acquainted with the newcomers, and in every way served to familiarize the student body with one another.

FAVORS RESOURCE SURVEY

State Needs More Money and People Says Immigration Agent

A systematic survey and classification of Idaho's resources and irrigable lands, and a formulation of a program to clear logged-off forest lands in the state were advocated by C. D. Arney, western colonization agent for the Northern Pacific railroad, as a means of increasing the state's wealth and population, in his address on "Immigration and Citizenship," to the students of the University of Idaho.

Mr. Arney declared Idaho needed more people and more money and presented this plan as a possible solution of the problem. He explained the favorable attitude of the railroads toward universities and colleges in assuming their share of the work.

SHORT COURSES BEGIN

Mid-Winter Students Come in Following The Christmas Vacation

The University's special 12-week short course in forestry will start Monday, January 4, and close March 12, according to an announcement by F. G. Miller, dean of the school of forestry.

In addition to the regular forestry faculty, W. C. Loudermilk, G. B. Mains, H. R. Flint and J. A. Larsen, experts of the United States forest service will deliver special features, discussing management of white pine forest protection, silviculture and kindred subjects.

The university's winter short course in agriculture opens Wednesday January 4, according to an announcement by F. E. Armstrong, principal of the school of practical agriculture.

Ten weeks of intensive work in important farm subjects will include such courses as soil study, grain crops, irrigation, farm motors, tractor repair and operation, horticulture, vegetables gardening, poultry production, milk production, livestock management, and farm records.

VACATION FOUR DAYS LONG

Wednesday Afternoon and Evening
Class Will Meet As Usual

Thanksgiving vacation will extend from Thursday morning to Sunday morning, according to authoritative information given to the Argonaut today.

Contrary to the rumor that has been current on the campus, all Wednesday afternoon and night classes will meet, and failure to attend these classes, without leave of absence will entail 10 per cent cut in final grades.

Ten points will be deducted also if the student fails to attend Monday classes, unless excused by leave of absence. According to the deans of the various colleges, it will be an extremely difficult task for a student to get an excuse upon returning to school.

A saxophone band of 50 pieces, the first college organization of its kind in the United States has been organized at O. A. C. by the school of music.
