TRACK ATHLETES BEGIN WORKOUTS

FIFTY ASPIRANTS TURNOUT— HEAVY SEASON IS SCHEDULED

Extensive plans for the 1922 spring track season were formulated at a meeting called in room 207 Administration building last Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Some fifty-track aspirants were present and an enthusiastic discussion ensued. Coach Thomas Kelley and Fred Graf, graduate manager, made illuminating and instructive talks.

According to the plans laid, the spring season is to be an excessively busy one as far as track events are concerned. Competition is anticipated in many major events throughout the northwest. In May the track men will participate in some kind of meet every Saturday.

Relay Teams to Seattle

Among the major meets participated in will be the annual Pacific-Northwest Relay carnival at the University of Washington stadium at Seattle on April 22nd, and the Pacific Northwest meet at Seattle on May 28th. Five teams will go from Idaho.

Events of more local importance to which Idaho will send delegates are various meets with adjoining state institutions. On May 21 the silver and gold standard bearers will journey to Whitman for an engagement with the missionaries. Enough additional meets have been scheduled to allow track men a chance to win laurels every Saturday in May.

W. S. C. and Whitman Here

Both W. S. C. and Whitman colleges will meet the Idaho aggregation on the home clinders if the condition of the track field will permit of the meets.

The number of events scheduled and the interest already being manifested in track athletics give promise of a very successful year. Enthusiasm is expressed in every circle for the successful outcome of the season.

Coach Kelley Speaks

In speaking to the fifty track aspirants gathered at the first call rally last Friday afternoon, Coach Thomas Kelley called attention to the qualities that make up a good track man and commented enthusiastically on the coming season.

Retrospecting on his long experience as an athletic director, he advised the aspirants as to what would be demanded of them for success. He pointed out that track is essentially a field where individual effort counted most, and maintained that everything depended upon the man himself.

Owing to the demands that spring football practice will make upon his time, Coach Kelley will probably turn the active coaching of the track athletes over to Raymond Harsch and others who have had considerable experience. However, the coach expects to devote whatever time he can to the oversight of the track work.

Graff Tells of Finances

Fred Graf, graduate manager, spoke briefly at the meeting concerning the financial outlook for the coming season. Despite the financial condition of the department of track, he stated, improvements will be begun on the field as soon as the weather permits.

He went on to say that if all the improvements can not be completed this spring they will be completed next fall. He spoke optimistically of the prospects of the spring track squad.

Hard Work Ahead

Equipment was handed out to the track men Friday evening after the first workouts had been made. A careful check system on all suits issued will be maintained this spring.

The issue of suits will depend on interest and faithfulness demonstrated by individuals trying for position. It is hoped that by thus eliminating irregular aspirants the quality of the track athletes can be improved.

A large number of events have been arranged and the management of this department of athletics are very anxious that all contestants be stimulated to the highest degree of enthusiasm. Only by hard consistent work do they hope to place winning teams in the field.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

President A. H. Upham will attend the conference of western university presidents to be held in Portland, January 29 and 30. President Upham will go directly from southern Idaho, where he is now speaking on the movable school itinerary.

***** "I" MEN FEATURE *****

Initiation stunts by the one-ring "I" men will be a feature between halves at the W. S. C.-Idaho basketball game next Friday night. These stunts have been demanded by those letter-men wearing at least two rings and the one-ringers have been promised similar treatment to that received by the unlucky men who are caught in the gym with dates, should they fall to "kick through" with the entertainment. The "I" club plans to make this initiation an annual performance for those who receive their letters for the first time. The participants in next Friday's stunt will be those men who won their first "I" last spring in baseball or track, and those who won football letters this fall. The men who will appear are Ray Harsch, Frank Kinnison, Jeff Stone, Sherm Breshears, Dale Vohs, Abe Goff, Lefty Marneau, Eugene Ostrander, and Pete Barto.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATERS TO COME TO UNIVERSITY

SKATING POND AND PHI BETA KAPPA DISCUSSED AT OPEN FORUM MEETING

"Boise, Emmett, Caldwell, St. Anthony, Coeur d'Alene and Payette high schools have virtually promised to send delegates to the interscholastic debate league tournament scheduled here during the interscholastic basketball tourney," stated Walter Greathouse, debate manager, in the opening talk of Thursday evening's session of the open forum. Other matters considered were the skating pond question and Phi Beta Kappa for Idaho.

Mr. Greathouse went on to say that the interscholastic debate league as proposed to the state high schools was meeting with a high degree of favor. Fifteen schools have sent in replies favorable to the league already. Some schools were not in a position to accept this year because of an already too full curriculum.

Financial Prospects Good

The financial difficulties give great promise of caring for themselves in future debates, maintained Mr. Greathouse. The present year's meet will need a small amount of financial aid from the university and students and townspeople because of the age of the league.

Ten or fifteen dollars will be assessed each school sending debaters to defray expenses. With the number of schools that have signified willingness to participate, only $150.00 will have to be raised here.

Small School Interested

The majority of interest is being evidenced in the league is from the small schools throughout the state. These schools have less congestion in their curricula and are therefore in better position to send delegates.

Change Time of Meeting

At the pleasure of the forum members the resolution was adopted providing for a change in the time of meetings. Hereafter the forum will meet every Wednesday night at seven p.m. The meeting was prorogued until the week after registration.

Other topics discussed at the meeting dealt with the advisability of making further investigation of Phi Beta Kappa at Idaho. The motion was made and carried that the president appoint a committee to investigate the question of a skating rink.

CO-EDS PLAY BASKETBALL

JUNIORS AND SOPHOMORES OPEN SERIES OF WOMEN'S GAMES LAST NIGHT

The first of a series of inter-class girls' basketball games was played in the gymnasium last evening, when the sophomores met the junior-senior team. The game had not been called when the Argonaut went to press.

The line-up as given by Mrs. Murray, director of women's athletics, is as follows:

Sophomores

Verle Bartlett, center; Vida Richards (Captain), forward; Edith Cooper, forward; Grace Morgan, guard; Violet Noble, guard.

Junior-Senior

Elaine Wheeler, center; Margaret Katowsky, forward; Mary Thompson, forward; Margaret Mims, (Captain), guard; Thelma Hare, guard; Subs: Mollie Kuhn, Mrs. Dave McMillan.

Vandals Fight Cougars in Home Game Friday

SINGER'S PROGRAM PLEASES AUDIENCE

STUDENT SOVIET FITTING CLIMAX TO PROGRAM OF THE EVENING

Students and townspeople filled the university auditorium to its capacity Friday evening at the annual homecoming performance of the University Glee Club. The entire program was enthusiastically received, and the unusual success of this concert, together with the success of the club on its recent tour, has marked this year as the best in the history of the club.

The selection of the program was carefully done, enough musical novelties being present in addition to the ordinary type of glee club music to make the program unusually attractive. The first number of the program, four of the most popular of Idaho songs, was presented by the entire club, after which a tenor solo was given by Alfred Brigham.

Give The Grasshopper

The third number consisted of several group songs, which were very well received. A double quartet then gave "The Grasshopper," a short cantata.

The fifth number on the program, the "Six Jazz Specialists," proved the biggest feature of the evening. They presented popular music in such a manner as to cause even the bald-headed row to show new signs of youth.

Study in Close Harmony

"A Little Close Harmony" was then given by the club quartet. Three more glee club numbers were then given, followed by "On the Road to Mandalay," a reading by Rex Mimmell. This also proved to be a popular number with the audience.

Student Soviet Feature

The last part of the program was given over to "The Student Soviet," a dramatic cantata based on Gilbert Sullivan's "Trial by Jury."

The clever comedy and well arranged music of this selection gave it the immediate approval of the audience, and it proved a fitting number with which to close what was unquestionably the best program that has ever been presented by a University of Idaho Glee Club.

Glee Club Popular

The widespread popularity that the glee club has gained in its annual performances both at home and abroad over the state was immensely increased as a result of the character of the present season's program.

Under the capable leadership of Professor E. O. Bangs, of the music department, this year's group has turned out one of the most attractive programs ever presented. That it was appreciated was evidenced by the universal spontaneous applause awarded the club wherever it appeared.

Entire Program Well Received

The entire program was well received Friday evening. Solo work, quartette, saxophone sextette, double quartette, individual work, all received the prolonged applause of the large audience assembled. Every number was so well liked that it would be difficult to pick the main attraction.

Plans are being formulated for two more appearances of the glee club this season. A concert has been arranged at Lewiston and another will probably be staged at Spokane.

SPECIAL A. S. U. I ASSEMBLY SCHEDULED TOMORROW

CALL ASSEMBLY FOR ELECTION PROPOSED AMENDMENT WILL BE SUBMITTED FOR SECOND TIME

A meeting of the A. S. U. I. will be called next Thursday at four o'clock to consider the amendment to the constitution which was proposed at the last meeting of the student body.

This amendment proposes to award the men who played on the freshman football team with sweaters and numerals and reads as follows:

"All freshmen recommended by the coach in their particular major sports shall be awarded an official certificate of merit signed by the President of the University, the Athletic Director, and the coach. Any member of the freshman football squad who shall have played eight full quarters of freshman football shall be awarded, upon recommendation of the football coach, in addition to the certificate of merit, a red V-necked jersey sweater, upon which shall be placed the freshman class numerals. The numerals shall be block numerals of white felt, five inches high, the lines of which shall be 3-4 inch wide."

ELECTRICAL ENGINEER TO SPEAK AT U OF I

JOHN MILLS, AUTHOR ON ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING, TO SPEAK

John Mills, one of America's leading electrical engineers, and the author of several technical books dealing with the development of the present system of radio and telephonic communication, will address the students and faculty of the engineering department this afternoon. His topic will be "The Vacuum Tube and Its Application."

Mr. Mills had the distinction of being the first person whose voice was carried through the ether across land and sea from Washington to Honolulu when radio telephony reached an advanced stage in 1915. He is assistant personal manager of the engineering department of the Western Electric Company, the research branch of the Bell System.

At the present time Mr. Mills is visiting the leading technical societies and educational institutions of the country giving a course of lectures under the auspices of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Speak on "The Human Voice"

Before the local sections of the Institute, Mr. Mills will talk on "The Human Voice and Its Electrical Transmission." The lecture will be illustrated by demonstration experiments.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE MEETS TO TRANSACT BUSINESS

A meeting of the newly organized Women's Athletic Association will be called this evening at 5 o'clock in room 108 of the Administration Bldg. for the purpose of electing officers for the current year. The proposed constitution will also be read and new members made eligible by their participation in basketball this year, will be decided upon.

VICTORIOUS VANDALS RETURN FROM TRIP

ADD FIVE CONSECUTIVE VICTORIES TO BEGIN CONFERENCE SEASON WITH

With five more victories added to their long string the Vandals returned Sunday from Oregon, where they spent the past week. The Vandals won two straight from the University of Oregon, two from Willamette university and one from the Multnomah A. C. in Portland. The scores of the five conflicts were as follows:

Idaho 5, Oregon 23.
Idaho 49, Oregon 19.
Idaho 27, Willamette 19.
Idaho 32, Willamette 19.
Idaho 45, Multnomah 19.

Not a one of the three teams was able to fathom the Vandal attack.

Prepare for Cougar Battle

After a few days' rest, Coach MacMillan will get his men in training for the Cougars, who come across the line Friday night. A return game is to be played at Pullman on the following night.

The Cougars played Gonzaga a return game at Spokane recently but were unable to decisively defeat the Gonzagans. But this cannot safely be taken as a criterion for judging Idaho's opposition. The Cougars won from the Walla Walla Legionaires and indications are that they will give Idaho one of the hardest games of the season.

Two Victories Over Oregon

Standing out above all other victories on the Vandal's coast trip is the double drubbing which Coach MacMillan's men gave the University of Oregon. Although the Oregon men admit their team is far below par it shows that Idaho is to be reckoned with in the coast conference this year. Last season, it will be remembered, Oregon was the stumbling block to Idaho in the northwest conference championship and the double defeat is a sort of wallop in the opposite direction and serves to take out the sting.

In the first game Idaho failed to get started in her usual style but came up with full force in the second and scored 40 points against 19 for Oregon.

Rich Fox Stars

"Rich Fox, captain of the Vandal horde," says the Oregon Daily Emerald, "posed as the star point accumulator in the second fracas, whereas it was his brother Al who captured honors on the previous evening. Three times Coach Bohler changed his lineup in an effort to beat back the invaders."

The lineup and summary:

Oregon (19)	Idaho (40)
Andre, 2	F. A. Fox, 10
Rockey, 2	R. Fox, 12
M. Latham, 2	C. Thompson, 10
Burnet, 2	G. Telford
Beller, 4	G. Gartin, 6
Veatch, 3	S. Edwards

STUDENT ASSEMBLY AROUSES INTEREST

LOUIS BOAS ONLY NOMINEE FOR POSITION OF ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF PAPER

Louis Boas, a junior in the college of engineering, was elected associate editor of the Argonaut for the coming semester at the A. S. U. I. assembly last Wednesday. The proposed student-faculty plan was accepted by the student body and the "I" club presented an amendment to the A. S. U. I. constitution which would award members of the frosh football team a sweater with class numerals.

Mr. Boas had no opposition for the position of associate editor and his election was thus virtually accomplished at the time of nomination. He has had wide experience in newspaper work both on the campus and in the southern part of the state and bids fair to be one of the most successful editors the paper has ever had.

To Amend Constitution

The proposition to give sweaters and numerals for their services on the freshmen football team was made as a resolution by the "I" club in a recent meeting. It reads as follows:

"AN AMENDMENT"

To amend Article 2, Section 7 of the By-laws of the Constitution of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho to read as follows:—

"All Freshmen recommended by the coach in their particular major sports shall be awarded an official certificate of merit signed by the President of the University, the Athletic Director, and the coach. Any member of the freshman football squad who shall have played eight full quarters of freshman football shall be awarded, upon recommendation of the football coach, in addition to the certificate of merit, a red V-necked jersey sweater, upon which shall be placed the freshman class numerals. The numerals shall be block numerals of white felt, five inches high, the lines of which shall be 3-4 inches wide."

Council Discussion Waxens Warm

Considerable class spirit was shown over the student-faculty council plan as it was proposed when Howard Sarvis, treasurer of the freshman class, attempted to secure the passage of an amendment to the proposal so that the frosh might have equal representation on the council.

Upperclassmen and frosh lined up on opposite sides of the question and debate waxed warm for a few minutes. After a few minutes of discussion someone had the presence of mind to call for the question. The amendment, proposed by Mr. Sarvis, was voted down and the original plan for the council was adopted on the next ballot.

Council Plan Much Discussed

The student-faculty council which has been up before the student body for about two months was brought up through the initiative of the Open Forum and was brought to an issue at the last assembly by a committee from that body.

The plan, as it stands, would create a council of 15 people, five from the faculty and 10 elected from the student organizations. Ex-officio members would be the president of the A. S. U. I., the president of the Women's league, and the president of the senior class.

Other student members would be elected by the various classes. The faculty members would be appointed by the president of the university. Members would be chosen by the organizations at the beginning of each organization at the beginning of each year. The report of the committee which drew up the plan declares the purpose of such organization to be "to discuss problems of mutual concern to students and faculty of the university" and "to promote a broader sympathy between students and faculty of the University of Idaho that they may mutually further progress of Alma Mater Idaho."

SQUARE AND COMPASS MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Square and Compass club was held at the U hut last Wednesday evening. The first part of the meeting was given over to regular business which was followed by a very interesting talk on Masonry by Dean Eldridge. Following the meeting there were light refreshments. It is expected that the club will have its national charter by the next regular meeting and the club will probably be installed at that time.

THE IDAHO TEAM

The coast trip served as an eye-opener to the wet towel throwers who were confident that Idaho's basketball team this year would be far below previous standards. No one figured Coach MacMillan could lose so many stellar players and yet build up what appears to be pretty near a championship team in at least the northwest.

California's disinclination to meet the Vandals at Moscow is very regrettable as it would give the Gem State an excellent opportunity to compare their team with those of the south.

In several parts of Oregon the University of Idaho basketball team is considered invincible. It would appear that Idaho has fully demonstrated that she has a quintet above par, and only teams which have mastered the art of close individual guarding can ever expect to stem the Vandal's advance.

Set plays formations and the like have no place on the Vandal way of doing things. They take the ball wherever they happen to secure it and depend upon their versatility and ingenuity and speed to evolve a plan which will get it within shooting range.

Outside of the fact that Coach Bohler of the Willamette Bearcats collapsed on the day following the first Idaho game, while making an address in assembly, nothing out of the ordinary transpired on the trip.

Following is a few opinions gleaned from write-ups of Idaho's various games during the last invasion: "The passing of the visitors, when they chose to pass, was something to write home about. They are wonderful on the defense and handle themselves well collectively and individually and their team work is very annoying to the opposing aggregation."

"No other team of any size or class, from yearling kids up to 'varsity size, has played as safe a game as Idaho. The ball is likely to stay away back a long time if necessary, until there is an opening for a close-up run."

The Cougars and the University of Washington are both hard opponents and cannot be beaten on the reputation gained in Oregon. Both are out for championship honors but are fully aware of Idaho's strength and are planning accordingly.

PULLING TEETH

We are forced many times to call the janitor to empty our waste paper basket which has become overcrowded with pseudo-editorials and comments from which we were unable to pull the festered teeth. The waste paper basket thus becomes the recipient of the "raw" articles that might otherwise heap injury on insult by appearing in the student publication.

And we don't like to place these articles in the waste basket either. They are full of desirable comment and worthwhile news which would be of immense value were they made known to the student body. They have the correct attitude in the majority of cases but are clothed in such harsh, sometimes even crude, language as to make their appearance impossible. It is one thing to think the proper ideas and another to express them forcefully and gracefully. When an article comes in clothed in language of an abominable nature—a nature that would necessarily detract from the reputation to the person making the statement, were he known—no matter how good the thought we are compelled to discard the idea. A common fallacy seems to be that to be forceful the article must be written actually vulgarly in many cases.

A good idea unworthily expressed loses about ninety-five per cent of its value. The reader instead of getting the idea meant to be conveyed will find himself studying the method of expression used if it is peculiar in making use of some of the less credited forms of thought symbols. The impression made by the choice of words in many instances holds longer than the object aimed at by the writer.

Anything that has valuable qualities of a constructive nature will certainly be recognized by the editorial staff and be given publicity under the head of student comment but the qualities of the university influence cannot be sacrificed for mere purpose of putting in print the forcible eccentricities of someone's pen.

COURTESY TO VISITORS

The "Oregon Daily Emerald," official student publication of the University of Oregon, laid down an example for us in its treatment of the team which was playing in Eugene. The paper severely criticized the attitude taken by some of the Oregon rooters who in the excitement of the contest began hooting the Idaho aggregation.

While such procedure as indulged in by the Oregon rooters is an almost unavoidable occurrence, the spirit which prompted the comment made by the Emerald is none the less valid and worthy, and every attempt should be made to minimize the recurrence of such conduct by students. True, in the heat of contest individuals—students and otherwise—are apt to forget themselves to the extent of showing some discourtesy to the visiting team, especially if that team is the superior team, but all precaution should be taken against the likelihood of any such demonstration.

We are to have visitors soon. We are confident that our team will be absolutely invincible; and we are behind. They are bound to win. But if the other team should prove the victor, let us retain our manners and treat it with the courtesy that is due it. We take exception to the school that snubs our men; let us set a new record and show them that we can be fair in defeat and victory alike. The students of Idaho have always shown themselves dependable in this characteristic and we believe they are capable of upholding their position.

STUDENT COMMENT

What's wrong with the girls at Idaho? They have plenty of pep but there's one worthwhile field in which they haven't directed their energy—the Girls' Glee Club. This organization was formed with the same purpose as the Men's club, to arouse interest and give training in music as well as to afford pleasure to others. In other schools the girls' glee club has been as successful as the men's but at Idaho this has not been true.

Whitman has a splendid girls' club which wants to give a performance here—but what can Idaho do in return. The freshmen have shown a fine spirit but the older girls with training and experience will not do their part by coming out to practices. Mr. Bangs has two operettas in view—one for the girls to put on alone in the near future, and the other for the girls and men's glee clubs combined to put on in the spring.

The boys have proven a success in their undertaking and now it's for the girls to show the old Idaho spirit and equal if not excel the men. But this cannot be done if the older girls will not devote a little of their time to this activity. Why can't Idaho do as well as Whitman. We can make trips too if these operettas prove successful. This means that any of you who are interested should see Mr. Bangs today or soon and get a good part in one of the operettas. A MEMBER OF GIRLS' GLEE CLUB.

The first "breakfast meeting" of the DeSmet club was held Sunday morning, Jan. 22 at Lindley hall. After breakfast had been served, the regular business meeting was called. Final plans were made for the all-college dance to be given Feb. 18. These meetings are to be held once a month.

PIONEER GOVERNOR PRESENTS UNIVERSITY WITH VOLUME

Hon. James H. Hawley, pioneer governor of Idaho, has donated to the University of Idaho library a reprint of J. B. Wyeth's "Oregon," published in 1839. Governor Hawley's gift is a valuable addition to the collection of works on Idaho and the Pacific northwest now in the library. It is an almost indispensable reference volume for students of western and Pacific northwest history.

Governor Hawley is the author of a history of Idaho published in 1920, one of the recent contributions to the historical literature of the state. Governor Hawley's career in Idaho antedates by one year the creation of Idaho territory, during which time he has been a participant or contemporary of almost all the events and movements of importance connected with early Idaho history.

PROFESSOR OF PSYCHOLOGY WILL TEACH IN THE EAST

Professor J. W. Barton, head of the department of psychology, has signed a contract to teach the coming summer quarter in the Peabody School for Teachers, which is located at Nashville, Tenn. This college is the second largest of its kind in the United States, Columbia being the only one ranking above it.

Professor Barton has recently published a series of psychological articles in the American Psychology Journal, and the offer that was made to him has come as a recognition of his work along that line.

Professor Barton plans to leave Moscow for his summer's work about July 1, and he will not return before September 1. While in the eastern states he intends to visit the psychological laboratories in some of the larger universities, in order to gain ideas for improving the laboratory here.

TWO FACULTY MEMBERS SPEAK IN SOUTH IDAHO

Two Idaho faculty members were speakers at joint sessions of the Idaho chapter of American engineers, Idaho Irrigation Engineers and Idaho State Architects Association meeting last week at Rupert. Professor J. H. Johnson, head of the department of electrical engineering, read a paper on "The Automatic Hydro-Electric Plant," while Dean Iddings spoke on "Relation of the State University to Irrigation Farming and the Irrigation Farmer of Idaho."

The attendance at the meetings was good, considering the fact that the weather was quite severe all the week, and travel difficult. Among the other interesting speakers were Barry Dibble, head of the Minidoka Irrigation project, and A. H. Connor, state assistant general and attorney for the state public utilities commission, who spoke on "Valuation" in respect to engineering subjects.

"Mr. Dibble, in speaking of coming activity in irrigation project," said Professor Johnson, "was quite optimistic. He stated that he expected to see a lot of money spent in southern Idaho this coming summer. Worse periods of depression for the farmer have been weathered than this, and reclamation work would go forward with renewed vigor with the coming of spring."

SPECIAL STUDENT SERVICES

The Presbyterian and Methodist Churches of Moscow will hold special services for university student next Sunday. Bishop L. R. Smith of India will speak at the eleven o'clock service of the Methodist Church and a special service will be held for students at 7:30 at the Presbyterian Church.

An entertainment will be by the Faculty Women's club for at students with or without dates, at the United Sunday afternoon. These entertainments are proving very popular. All students are welcome.

RIDENBAUGH HALL RECEPTION BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT

"One of the most brilliant events of the season," is the undergraduate opinion of the annual formal reception given by Dean French and the women of Ridenbaugh hall on January thirteenth. Over 800 Moscow people, members of the senior class and the faculty, and two juniors from each fraternity and sorority group on the campus were guests.

Features of the evening were the music furnished by three of the most talented varsity musicians; the carnations and chrysanthemums which so attractively decorated the reception room and parlor; and the delicious refreshments of coffee, sandwiches, mints, and nuts that were served during the evening with the upperclassmen of Ridenbaugh hall pouring.

KELLOGG CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GIVE TO LOAN FUND

The coffers of the Student Loan fund were enriched to the extent of $200 during the past week through a donation from the Kellogg Chamber of Commerce, according to L. F. Parsons, executive secretary of the University.

The fund is a rapidly growing one, due in no slight measure to the efforts of the Moscow Chamber of Commerce, which recently sent out circular letters to the various city commerce chambers throughout the state, urging them to contribute to the support of the fund.

Ellen Reiersen spent Saturday and Sunday in Pullman, the guest of Gladys Nash of Alpha Chi Omega.

Mr. Kenworthy, manager of Kenworthy Motion Picture show, announces that the picture, "The Conquering Power," will be shown on Thursday evening and Friday afternoon instead of Monday and Tuesday as had been formerly planned. The change has been made to give all the students an opportunity to see the renowned picture.

Don't ever get the idea that we think this column is funny but we do have a lot fun writing the darned thing.

Oh Boy!

Did you ever take some co-ed into one of the downtown ice cream dispensaries, and you happened to feel in your pocket and discover that you only had two bits there instead of the dollar you thought you had, and you knew darned well that you didn't have any money in the bank, so you began to squirm around, and the waiter brought the menu, and the co-ed looked at the thirty-cent sundaes, and you began to get hot under the collar, and then she let her eyes wander up to the list of the fifty-cent specials, and you broke out into a cold sweat, and almost fell out of your seat, and then she ordered a coca cola—Oh Boy! Ain't a grand and glorious feeling.

How's This?
Wanted—Man to run a soft drink parlor out of town.

Dear publi:
I am now sitting in my warm study with a sweater, 1 overcoat, nit gloves and etc. & am going to expostulate on the evils of those eternal things that they is in the habit of throwing in the faces of the all reddy over and hevy burdened members of the stewardent body. By the abuv I mean the final exams. Now i likes a sport but i can't see as how the afore mentioned and well known instruments of torture that gives the profits any pleasure at all or singly.

They comes at just the time when every body is just getting over the effects of the xmas holidays or in the spring when everone has a pronounced case, 12 bottles, of the spring fever. Now don't mistake me, by spring i mean the time of the year and not a drinking fountain that natur puts around, because i can't stand even to see water anymore, and i don't need a bath ether.

Perhaps i had better explain to the new members of the stewardent body as what a final exam consists of, then, if there is any of them what wants to make one they will no how. About a week before the time that you want to use the exam you take a good sized note book with loots of riting in it and you mix it slowly with 6 or 7 hrs. of mental angwish & season with sum i site. The treatment for the next few days is much like home brew, ie, stir every nite.

The nite before the exam is to be used you spend the hole nite porring over it any good lite & som mid-nite oil. On the morning you are to appear with the exam you get up early and porr the above over with more ginger. Do this while you drink a cup of hot java and then run with it for the seen of the battle where you smear it on a blu book.

Hoping that i have made the world a better place to live in.
Yurs till it stops snowing,

Tony Sarg's Marionettes, in their interpretation of Rip Van Winkle, made quite an impression upon one of the inmates of the Kappa Sigma house, if the story of the brothers of that fraternity is to be believed. They claim that the affected brother will break out in a high quavering voice and say, "I'm an old man now. Here is the Delta Gamma house but where is (censored)? Even my old friends have forgotten me. Oh, what a liar you are!" It has been suggested by his fraternity brothers that he be sent to his old home in Blackfoot until he recovers. The writer of this column has heard the above many times, so no one can doubt the truth of the statement. Flowers will be accepted.

By special arrangement with the English department, this column has agreed to print the best of the Freshman themes that have been turned in this semester. Under this agreement we present the following essay, which we feel will prove of interest to everyone.
"Wimmin"

Wimmin is the opasite of men. Both men and wimmin sprang from monkeys but men sprang the farthest. A wuman is a man with long hair, made-over fetures, diferant close, and a tempere. Sum of the ways you can tell a wuman is by the kind of foot ware she sports. They is merely stilts that has bene sawed off. If the shu fit she gets 2 sizes smaller. And you can usully tell her by her skirts altho they is rapidly disappearing, but most of the time you cant tell her anything. Men is the beter or rather more dread than wimmin. But wimmin is how doing evrything a man does ecsept chew and ware enough close. They haden't enugh bad habits them selves but had tu go and borrow mens. They now smoke, gambel, cuss vote ware trowsers and other evils. Wimmin is usefull because they make good wives. But they have many affliksbuns. The wurst is, lateness. A date at 6 with any wuman means at least 9 and others even forget what day it is.

Men has there tungs jointed at the back so the forard end flaps. The frogg has tungs hitted at the frunt so the back end can flap. Wimmin has there-piveted in the middle so when the frunt gets tired they can use the back. A mun unce thought he had invented the only perpetule moshun machene. 1 day he got maried. After lissuing tu his wife talk fur a week he junked his modle and got a job as a traveling sallsman.

Wimmin is a nesessary evil which you cant get along with and cant get along without.

AND THEY SHOOT MEN LIKE LINCOLN FREQUENTLY

A cross between an insane asylum and a formal dinner dance is a hard proposition for the average mind to embrace, but such was the situation at one of the prominent sorority houses a week ago last Monday night, when three men students, crazed with the thoughts of the coming final, entered the house (after formally inviting themselves) and transformed the dining room into a mixture of a car-baret, a lumber-jacks' mess hall and everything else in between. Plaf hats, leather collars, red ties, canvas gloves, and every other conceivable article of apparel that could possibly be used to imitate a full dress outfit graced the forths of these three examiniticks.

A full eight and a half course dinner was served to the guests, after which they were taken to the living room and entertained by half the members of the sorority while the other half returned to the dining room and counted the silverware and table linen. The result must have been telling, for before the departure of the guests, the fair damsels, in true susterly fashion, proceeded by the caveman method, to relieve the masculine members of the Party not only of the silverware surplus but also of their Ingersolls and any other article of adornment that might prove of value as souvenirs.

The noise was such that a farmer living near Moscow mountain put in a riot call to the Moscow Police Department. The complaint was that of disturbing the peace and true to law and regardless of what the consequences to his person might be, the town dick and his able and husky assistant appeared on the scene, accompanied by their trusty patrol wagon. True to their habits, the girls immediately vamped these mere males, and when they departed half an hour later they had completely forgotten their mission, and incidentally their hearts.

The guests then entertained the girls with several well chosen songs, after which dancing was indulged in. The guests felt somewhat out of place however, in their soup and fish, so they departed at a late hour. They left with the cordial invitation to return again at an early date, and to stay longer at their next appearance. It is only fitting and proper to close a report of a party with the conventional sentence, so we are forced to say that a good time was enjoyed by all, and that the guests left wishing that they might be invited to many more such delightful affairs.

VANDALS PLOUGH WIDE PATH

Judging from reports the Vandals did all but tear the University of Oregon gymnasium to bits and drag it back to Moscow. Last year the Vandals were defeated by Oregon, but it was not sufficient to spoil Idaho's conference aspirations. This year the tables were turned and turned way around. The Vandals, in fact, ploughed a wide path through all of Oregon while on the trip and established a new and higher reputation for Idaho basketball.

SPEAKING OF DARKHORSES

Whitman college, conqueror of Idaho on the gridiron, has a basketball team which they hope will develop into a northwest conference championship team. The Missionary coach evidently has plenty of material available to weld into his quintet for every day or so the papers carry dispatches from Walla Walla stating some regular has been displaced by a new man. Already this season Whitman has defeated Oregon but has lost to the Oregon Aggies and to the Walla Walla Legionaires which makes this horse all the darker.

VIKINGS ARE STRONG

The University of Washington Vikings, who appear at Moscow against the Vandals February 15 and 16 are perhaps the strongest teams in the Pacific coast conference. With big-margin victories over Oregon and two narrow points wins from the Oregon Aggies the Vikings are tightening their belts and waiting for the at-

DRAMATIC NOTES

Final tryouts for the all-university play, "Adam and Eva," will be held this week in auditorium on Wednesday—3 to 5; Friday—3 to 5; and Saturday morning—10 to 12. All contestants should notify Kenneth Anderson, manager, as to the time which best suits their individual schedules. No tryouts will be held after the times above mentioned.

English 37 will present its third group of plays at the university auditorium on February 3 at 8 o'clock. These plays were written in English 23, the course in playwriting at the university, and are original. Much interest is aroused in campus circles over the fact that these are the first original plays to be written and produced by the students at the University of Idaho.

FORESTERS BANQUET VISITING SPEAKERS

SIXTH ANNUAL FEAST OF TIMBER MEN AT GUILD HALL ENJOYED GREATLY

The sixth annual banquet of the Associated Foresters of the University, was held Thursday evening at Guild hall. W. J. McConnell, one of the first governors of the State of Idaho, and several prominent northwest forestry men were guests of honor. Over sixty members were present, and enjoyed to the utmost the Ex-Governor McConnell, who is perhaps more closely identified with the early history of Idaho than any other man, spoke on "Pioneer Days in Idaho." Representative Lloyd A. Fenn, of Kooskia, an Idaho forestry graduate of 1911, spoke on "The Proposed Transfer of the U. S. Forest Service to the Department of the Interior," pointing out that the ensuing dangers of such a move were serious. Much historical data on the establishment of the forest service and of the work which has been accomplished for the conservation of the nation's forest resources was given in the course of Mr. Fenn's remarks.

India Forestry Student Talks
One of the most interesting talks was that given by P. D. Sharma, a native of India, who is taking advanced work in forestry at the university. Mr. Sharma told of the life and work of "a forest ranger in India," comparing it to the life of the life and work of the forest ranger as we are acquainted with him in Idaho.

Early experiences in forestry work in this state were related by G. B. Mains of Emmett, district forestry inspector of the Payette National Forest, in his talk on "Forest Reminiscences." Other interesting discourses were given by Dean J. G. Eldridge, head of the department of modern languages, Herman Baumann, a senior in the forestry department; Brown M. Schick, Moscow business man; Ben E. Bush, assistant state land commissioner; S. F. Bartlett and C. R. Patrie; students.

VISITING DELEGATE ADDRESSES PANAHELLENIC MEET THURSDAY

At a meeting of Panhellenic Thursday afternoon Mrs. Florence Mitchell Smith, of Oklahoma, visiting delegate of Gamma Phi Beta, addressed the members. Mrs. Smith urged that the local Panhellenic exist with some purpose in mind other than settling disputes which might arise among the groups.

A short business meeting followed. The present rushing rules were altered slightly. Dinner hours were extended to last three hours—6:30 to 9:30 in the evening.

"OLD YALE" SUBJECT AT MORNING ASSEMBLY

DEAN J. G. ELDRIDGE WILL TELL OF REASONS FOR THE YALE PRESTIGE

"Some Ways of Old Yale" will be the topic upon which J. G. Eldridge, dean of the faculty, will speak in assembly Wednesday morning. Dean Eldridge is a Yale graduate himself and his first hand information concerning the ways of America's great educational institution.

Since his graduation Dean Eldridge has revisited the scenes of his campus activities many times, the last of these being last year when he attended the 25th anniversary of his class and on the same trip was delegate from the University of Idaho to the inauguration of President Angell new head of Yale.

His talk will bring out why Yale is such a center of tradition and the reasons for class rivalry running so high.

SECOND YEAR STUDENTS ELECT YEAR BOOK STAFF

CHARLES PREUSS AS EDITOR HEADS LIST—WILKINSON ELECTED BUSINESS MANAGER

Charles Preuss, a second year Pre-Medic student from Tacoma, Washington, was elected editor in chief of the 1924 Gem of the Mountains, official year book of the University, published annually by the Junior class, at a sophomore class meeting held Thursday afternoon.

Other officials elected at this time were: Burton Russell, College of Letters and Science, student from Wendle, assistant editor; Glen Wilkinson of the College of Law, business manager, and Gustav Bjork, second year Engineer, assistant business manager.

Following the custom set by the class of '23, this year's sophomore class deemed it wise to elect the staff of their year book early in order that they might become acquainted with the situation by working in conjunction with the present staff, and organize their staff before the opening of the fall term.

SPANISH CLUB BEGINS WORK

Beginning with the new semester, the Spanish club will begin active work. It has received an invitation from the national honorary Spanish fraternity, Sigma Delta Pi, to affiliate with the mother chapter at Berkeley, California.

It is the purpose of the club to promote interest and use of the Spanish language and literature as well as things of current interest in all the Spanish speaking countries.

Those eligible for membership must have had two years of university Spanish and to have received a grade of not less than B. The club will be a regularly recognized campus activity.

Mrs. Fred Cushing Moore, who graduated in '17, gave a reading before a meeting of the Associated Engineers in Spokane last Wednesday.

Miss Mary Clark, '21, a teacher in the Fairfield, Washington, high school, is in Moscow visiting relatives and friends.

JUNIOR PROMENADE LANDMARK OF YEAR

BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS AND WELL COSTUMED DANCERS COLOR THE EVENT

The Junior Prom, heralded as the first of the two exceptions allowed by the new ruling covering the activities of all followers of the syncopated jazz, was one of the events of the post-holiday season.

The decorations, solid red throughout, blended well with those fortunate enough to have chosen a red harmonizing colored gown for the night. For those that didn't, well then their thoughts blended into the idea. Futurist realism was lent to the affair by the Junior stunt committee through the use offered fuses as source of light, not to say smoke during the coughing of the Junior special.

Desiring to have the floor to themselves, the Juniors took this means of assuring success to their plans, for only loyal Juniors could have the persistence to endure what they did for a dance.

Seen from the doorway at that particular instant, the special gave the appearance of Dante's world famous yarn, with university society in the principal roles. The Grand March was led by William Gartin, Junior class president, and Miss Thomas.

IDAHO SOPHOMORE CITED BY BOY SCOUT COUNCIL

GEORGE DEAN AWARDED DISTINCTION FOR AID GIVEN DROWNING WOMEN

For first aid rendered to three north Idaho women last summer after they had been saved from drowning by two other young men, George Dean of Lewiston, sophomore in the College of Letters and Science, has been awarded a gold medal by the National Council of Boy Scouts of America.

On the eighteen of last August, Mr. and Mrs. Creager, their daughter Ruth, and Marie Helfrey, a sister of Louis Helfrey, a freshman in the university, were caught in a small squall on one of the Coued d'Alene lakes, and were thrown from their small boat into the water.

Mr. Creager was drowned, and the three women saved through the valiant efforts of Ray Farmin, who has a brother registered this year in the engineering college, and W. F. Johnson of Spokane, who with Mr. Dean succeeded in reviving them after reaching shore.

The scout council, after carefully reviewing the case, awarded the medals for personal bravery to the three mentioned men, all of whom were officers of the boy scouts, at that time.

All of those mentioned are of well known north Idaho families and the rescue attracted wide attention throughout the northwest at the time.

MID YEAR GRADUATES ARE NOT NUMEROUS

According to the latest authenticated reports the only mid year graduate at Idaho this year will be Miss Gladys Hastie of Seattle, Washington. It is considered probable that Chauncy Gordon will also be matriculated at this time.

Miss Hastie is a member of the local chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma and is one of the best known and most highly respected co-eds on the campus. Throughout her entire college life here she has been at the forefront in women's activities, and has also taken active part in university betterment movements.

She is president of the Women's League, a member of the Argonaut staff and an ambitious worker in all social affairs. Last fall she represented the Women's League at an intercollegiate conference in Berkeley, Cal. She has been associated with the Argonaut for the past three years.

Miss Hastie plans to leave for her home in Seattle shortly after the examination period. Her absence will be felt by those who have become acquainted with her during her stay at Idaho.

PROFESSOR OF GEOLOGY TO ADDRESS ENGINEERS

Prof. Kirkham of the geology department will address the associated engineers at a special meeting in room 217 administration building tonight at 7 p. m. His subject will be "the relating of geology to engineering." Mr. Kirkham is an interesting and well informed speaker and all engineers are urged to attend the meeting.
