SIX RECORDS BROKEN AT H.S. MEET

INTERSCHOLASTIC GINGER MEN STAGE PHENOMENAL TOURNEY

DOE SETS THREE NEW MARKS—TAKES FIVE FIRSTS—BURLEY
FIRST, MOSCOW SECOND

Six state high school records were broken and two tied Saturday afternoon in the Tenth annual Idaho State Interscholastic track and field meet. Wesley Doe established three new state records, tied his own record in the 50 yard dash, and was high individual point man with 26 and one-fourth points. His phenomenal performance in taking five firsts won the meet for Burley high school.

Old state records that went by the board with the establishment Saturday of new speed records and weight throws were in the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, the 220 yard low hurdles, the high jump, the javelin throw and the shot put. The state records equalled were in the 50 yard dash and the 880 yard relay race.

50 Pretty Race
Doe in the opening event of the day, the 50 yard dash, with Clarke of Moscow a close second, equalled his own record time of five and two-fifths seconds. In the 100 yard dash the brilliant Burley sprinter clipped off the century in 10 seconds flat for a new record. This lowered his own time by one-fifth of a second.

In the 220 yard dash Doe flashed in an easy first place in 22 seconds flat, cutting three-fifths of a second from his former state record. He made his third new state record in the 220 low hurdles by making the time 26 4-5 seconds. The former state record of 27 1-5 seconds was made by Mills of Lewiston in 1920.

Doe Takes Five Firsts
Doe won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, eight inches. This made five first places for the Burley athlete and he ran the last lap of the 880 yard relay in record time. His work on the field Saturday was a marvelous exhibition of real ability coupled with great form and consistent training. His flying leap of from seven to 10 feet at the finish of the 50, 100, 220 dashes and 220 low hurdles furnished not soon to be forgotten features.

The Burley man is now the holder of five state high school records in the 50, 100 and 220 yard dashes, the 220 low hurdles and the broad jump.

Smashes Shot Put Record
Eckholm of Sandpoint smashed the old shot put record by a goodly margin. The husky Sandpointer heaved the 12 pound shot for a new state record of 46 feet 11 and three-quarter inches. The old record of 44 feet four inches was made by Harpke of Nezperce in 1913.

Pickett, another Sandpoint man, established a new record in the high jump of five feet, nine and one-half inches. The old record of five feet, eight inches was made by Hoff of Colfax, Wash., in 1912.

ATTENTION MEN

Wednesday, May 24th, is the time when "all good men should come to the aid of their country." "Should" is putting it mildly, for if anyone be found lacking in the necessary fundamentals of patriotism—woe be to the slacker! The military police will be on the job, and it is hoped they will be the easiest of the many tasks that day.

Every man has been given the rank of first class private, or better, and with it the credit for having and using brains and initiative. If each and every one concerned will get in and see what he can do for his Alma Mater during those few hours, instead of trying to see what he can do her out of, the results will be beyond compare.

Last year an immense amount of work was done on Campus Day, and this year an equally large amount is awaiting our huskies. Ample tools will be provided, and everyone is assured of being able to "see something done" if they will but lend their elbow grease from seven in the morning to until eleven forty-five.

All women's groups are requested to make a list of the odd jobs around their houses and lots which have been pining for a few strong hands. If they will turn these lists in at once to Capt. Lynn Hersey, his company of men will adequately care for their wants.

Finally, one and all, lets get together on this job, and let's go! We all need a little hardening for our summer's work, and here's the chance to get it.

WOMEN ATHLETES MAKING STRIDES

W. A. A. ORGANIZED AT THE UNIVERSITY IN FEBRUARY

Co-Eds Espouse Such Sports as Tennis, Hockey, Hiking Trips and Baseball

The Women's Athletic association was organized in February, 1922, by twelve girls who had been active in athletics, eligibility being based on participation in tennis and basketball. Mary Ball, Norma Cowgill, Jean Rowlands, Margaret Kutnewsky, Pauline Rieck, Edith Cooper, Mary Van Gilse, Gladys Hastie, Vida Richards, Elaine Wheeler, Mrs. MacMillan and Thelma Hare were charter members. The organization adopted a constitution based upon those of the University and Washington and W. S. C. Women's Athletic association—these schools having the national W. A. A. The organization was recognized by the committee on student organization and passed upon by the faculty.

The following officers were elected: Thelma Hare, president; Margaret Kutnewsky, secretary; Edith Cooper, treasurer. Regular meetings are held the first and third Tuesday of each month. First semester pledges were Vera Luse, Juanita Phillip, Eugenia Cruzen, Grace Morgan, Mary Thompson and Millicent Kuhns.

The spring the Association has offered tennis, hockey, hiking and baseball—activity in two sports and a general interest in women's athletics making a girl eligible to membership. Activity in a sport is defined as an attendance on the field of two-thirds of the practices. Roll is taken and a great interest is being shown.

Tennis is, as yet, under supervision of the men's athletic department, matches being scheduled by them. One of this year's matches is scheduled for June 2 and 3 with Whitman to be played at Moscow. A possible tournament is expected with Lewiston normal for Saturday, May 20. Winners in the two tournaments held in the last two weeks were Margaret Mims, Mary Thompson and Vida Richards. These will form the varsity team.

Hockey has been a very popular sport. Practices occur Tuesday and Thursday at 4 o'clock and a game is to be played next week. The following girls have shown their interest in fulfilling required attendance rules: Gladys Bahler, Thelma Hare, Myra Armbruster, Dorothy Cage, Mary Isabell Vassar, Lucille Gahan, Daisy Wicher, Jessie MacAuley, Margaret Springer, Alice Ficke, Grace Morgan, Gertrude Shepherd, Florence Armbruster, Margaret Carter, Amalia Lowen, Maxine Ehlen, Evelyn Angell, Winona Byrd, Hazel Jones, Mae Alvord, Francis Nogzel, Ruth Wolf and Cecilia Lemmer. Hockey will be a major sport when a point system is adopted. Games will be scheduled with other schools probably next Campus day has been announced for Wednesday, May 24. The day's program is varied. In the morning, the men, awakened by a bugle call at 6 a. m. are to don their corduroys and flannel shirts, and with pick and shovel they will "gang" together for the annual general campus "clean-up." Refreshments are served during the morning by the co-eds. All work is under the supervision of Heintz Glindemann, president of the "I" club.

The afternoon program begins with a band concert at 2 o'clock. The concert is under the supervision of Bernt Neilsen, director of the Military band. At 2:30 the May Queen, her attendants and the senior girls will have their procession which terminates at the senior "I" bench. The May Queen is Evadna Roberts, the Maid of Honor Miss Polly Thomas, and the Page, Miss Ruby Gates. After the crowning of Miss Roberts the freshman and sophomore girls will each wind a May pole.

VANDAL BASEBALL TEAM WILL PLAY WASHINGTON

Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20, Idaho crosses bats with the University of Washington nine at the Latah county fair grounds for the first time in a number of years. University of Washington plays a two-game series with the Washington Staters May 17 and 18. These two games will be big deciding factors in the conference standings of both colleges.

VANDALS TAKE TWO FROM MISSIONARIES

IDAHO EVENS UP WITH WHITMAN WITH VICTORIES
MacMillan's Men Win First Game 3 to 1; Second Eleven Inning Battle—3 to 2

By winning two straight games from the Whitman aggregation at the Fairgrounds May 10 and 11, Idaho evened matters and jumped another notch in the conference standing. Both games were fast with the first game ending in a 3-1 victory and the second going to eleven innings for a 3-2 win for Idaho. Snow and Marineau allowed but seven hits in the two games, while Whitman pitchers were freely hit for 14.

Knudson, Whitman pitcher lost the second game of the series by a wild throw to third. After pitching a splendid game for ten innings the Whitman moundsman allowed the bases to fill and then in an effort to catch Snow sleeping on third, made a wild pitch and Snow scored the winning run for Idaho.

Idaho Pitchers Star
Both Marineau and Snow portrayed their usual good pitching ability and in allowing but seven hits in the two games, gave followers of college baseball a treat. Both men showed good control and handled the box in the nearest form seen for some time at college games.

Stivers and R. Fox proved the hitting kings of both games, each taking three hits from the Whitman twirlers. Stivers at short handed eleven chances with only one error credited. R. Fox in the catcher's box handled both Marineau's and Snow's fast ones without a baulk and kept the Whitman base steals at a premium with his unerring peg to second.

Idaho Not in Danger
The first game of the series was without doubt one of the best games played on the fair grounds. Whitman after the first inning, when they scored their only run, were handled without difficulty and except for the fourth, when Marineau allowed a two base hit and walked one, did the the Missionaries have another chance to score.

With the score in Whitman's favor, 1 to 0, the fourth inning opened with Edwards being put out on a slow one to short. Cobley walked and Snow took first on an error at second. Wicks followed Snow and after missing the first two good ones clouted a perfect two bagger scoring Cobley and Snow

GIRLS PUT ON SHOW FOR "MEN ONLY" FRIDAY

Arboretum Will Be Deserted—Open Night for All University—Dance in Gymnasium

For one night only the arboretum will be deserted, for one night only the house davenport will not hold their usual quota. Believe it or believe it not, this will be an open date night too. This memorable occasion is to be Friday, May 19, 1922. The cause—"The Penny Party." A great deal of excitement is being aroused over the fact that Men Only will be allowed to witness the Auditorium show. For the girls, however, there will be the most unique party of the entire season in the "U" hut.

For Men Only
One of the most popular of the Freshman girls is to become a menace for every University that night! We of the press service, after having seen one of the rehearsals, can nonly smile secretly and say, "Save your pennies." It's going to cost 25 of them. On account of the vast sales predicted it has been suggested that an advance sale of tickets be made. If this is done be sure and get yours early.

For Women Only
There comes a time in the life of every woman when she is called upon to make a great decision and this time is approaching for the Idaho co-ed. What shall I wear to the Penny Party? This is the puzzle that confronts all the girls just now. It was bad enough to get an attractive costume for the Co-ed Prom even taking into consideration the "window-fillers." This time the dates are coming over to the dance and the matter of dress becomes doubly important. One thing is certain, there will be no masks to foil the "dates."

Girls! Bring all your pennies! For beside all there is to see in the main show there are to be the most unusual, alluring and attractive side shows imaginable.

KING DEMONSTRATES WRITING OF POETRY

ADDRESSES ENGLISH CLUB MEMBERS AT MEETING
Spokane Writer Describes The Process of Manufacturing Daily Poems Under Heavy Pressure

Stoddard King, writer of "Long, Long Trail," was a guest of the English club Wednesday night at its last regular meeting of the year. Mr. King is columnist on the Spokesman-Review and herds his brain children together each day under the banner, "Facetious Fragments," and was short poems which have appeared from time to time in this column that he used as the background of his talk on "Painless Poetry."

Painless poetry is often written under great pressure, he told English club members, and usually comes from the mental machine at the rate of a poem a day. From his collection of his own short poems he selected the best and outlined the successive steps which caused to write the piece. Interpersed in his talk were satirical jabs at his own profession.

Those who heard Vachel Lindsay's boyish buoyant style and enjoyed his work, "Major Booth Enters Heaven," rocked with joy when King recited from memory his parody entitled, "General Hays Enters Hollywood," written shortly after Hays' appointment as supreme dictator in the moving picture world. King used all the "booms" and "bangs" which made Lindsay's poetry so distinctive and the parody in itself was a work of poetical art.

and giving Idaho a 2 to 1 lead.
The third tally for Idaho came in the next inning when Kinnison scored after two costly errors had advanced him to third and a good hit by Stivers had sent him in. Idaho tried again to score in the following innings with two hits but Loop, Whitman prodigy, tightened up and with good support kept the rest of the inning scoreless.

BOISE DEBATERS WIN STATE TITLE

SOUTH IDAHO TEAM WINS CHAMPIONSHIP FROM LAPWAI

First Annual Contest on Question of Toll Exemption For American Coastwise Shipping

Boise high school debaters won the debate championship of the state Thursday evening by defeating the Lapwai high school team, northern Idaho champions, by an unanimous decision of the judges. The question was, "Resolved, that all vessels engaged in American coastwise shipping should be admitted to the Panama canal free of tolls." Lapwai debaters upheld the affirmative and Boise supported the negative. This was the first state championship debate contest. It concluded the schedule of the Interscholastic Debate league for this year.

The debate was close and interesting throughout. The Boise speakers had a slight advantage in the constructive argument, and were effective in rebuttal. Floyd Foran, of Boise, was the outstanding speaker of the evening. His delivery was pleasing and the content of his argument especially good for high school debate work. Toole, third speaker for Lapwai, showed up well in both constructive and rebuttal arguments. All of the speakers demonstrated a great amount of preparation, as well as ability in handling facts and presenting theory. In several respects the contest equalled collegiate standards.

Lapwai Handles Affirmative
Upholding the affirmative, Lapwai speakers contended that the Panama canal problem was a domestic prob-

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Women's athletics are steadily developing and are beginning to play an important part in the various campus activities. The different classes have organized their own teams and held competitive games for leadership. So far Idaho has been unfortunate in securing meets for the women with Pullman or any outside school but it is hoped that next year events of this kind will be included in the regular athletic schedule.

In choosing a college, many persons look for one that ranks high athletically and it is only through supporting and boosting our own athletics we can make this phase of our college an attractive advertising feature.

At the first of the year the co-eds displayed remarkable skill in basketball and now they are showing the same talent in tennis, baseball, hockey and hiking.

The Women's Athletic association, which has been recently organized, has as its goal the promotion and building up of a keener interest in athletic endeavor.

Idaho women, truly representative of our great state and institution, should be all-around women of Idaho. Realizing that physical fitness goes hand in hand with mental fitness a more serious interest should be taken in women's athletics.

IDAHO MEANS YOU

Idaho means much to you—make it mean much to others.

Such is the slogan of the A. S. U. I. committee in charge of the student campaign to interest high school graduates in the University of Idaho. Letters have been sent out to all undergraduates with lists of graduates from every high school in the state. Idaho undergraduates by saving these lists can know exactly who is ready for college entrance in the fall.

Students can get students.

It is the small thing, the obvious thing that is being asked of undergraduates. Most natural is the praise worthy tendency to tell of Idaho. But of so much greater advantage is a systematic organized campaign in which every boy or girl eligible for college enrollment can be told first hand of the University of Idaho.

Support the new student campaign. It is a worthy movement. If we are to see our institution grow greater in numbers and greater in strength here is the right step in the right direction. Talk Idaho and present facts. Let there be no over-advertising for the truth about Idaho is sufficient to bring Idaho students to the own great institution.

Since Idaho means much to you—why not pass the good word along.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS LEARN OF TRADITIONS OF IDAHO

Mutual respect of men and women of the University of Idaho campus was characterized as one of the finest of Idaho traditions by Miss Permeal J. French, dean of women, in an address Wednesday morning on "Traditions Old and New." Miss French spoke of the university student body as "one big family" in which the finest spirit between men and women was shown.

In an interesting talk Miss French told of how traditions endeared the institution to the graduates in that they "kept alive from year to year the love for the university." Some amusing incidents of the first traditions were told and Miss French traced the history of each important Idaho tradition.

Beta Quartet Pleases
Mrs. Florence Sharp, of the university department of music, took charge of the assembly following Miss French's address and the Beta Theta Pi house quartet sang "The Boys of the Old Brigade." The number was enthusiastically encored. Members of the quartet were Fred Veatch, Vanford Peterson, Robert Cummins, and Merrill Bennett.

Two old Idaho songs were re-introduced to the student body, the first "U. of I. Steps Song," by the Beta quartet and the second "We, Thy Children," by the university orchestra, led by John W. Dickinson, instructor in the violin. The student body then sang the songs, led by Mrs. Sharp and accompanied by the university orchestra.

R. Neil "Gus" Irving of Coeur d'Alene was a visitor Beta Theta Pi during the week end.

lem. "We do not charge tolls for use of the Great Lakes," said Mr. King, first speaker for the affirmative, "and the Panama canal coastwise shipping is as much a domestic situation as the shipping over the Great Lake route." He contended that since the Panama canal coastwise shipping is domestic in scope, American vessels should have the privilege of using the canal without tolls the same as the Great Lakes are used.

Replying to the affirmative contention, Warren Montgomery, first negative speaker, insisted that the Panama canal was of international importance, and not simply a domestic problem. In support of this contention, he cited the treaties which the United States had made providing for use of the canal by all nations alike. "We must not break our promises to other nations," Mr. Montgomery argued.

Girl on Lapwai Team
Eva Carlson, second affirmative debater contended that the Panama canal was not intended as a means of making money. She cited examples of government enterprises, such as the postal service and the railroads, to show that the government was not a business concern. Miss Carlson based her case on the theory that money value should not enter into the discussion, and that the Panama canal was not built to create a source of governmental revenue.

Fred Sherman, Boise's second speaker, pointed out that the negative did not favor making the canal a business venture. The objections of the negative to free tolls were, he claimed, that free tolls were opposed to the moral code of the United States and to our economic policy. He referred to the treaties considered by his colleague in support of his argument.

Arley Toole, last affirmative speaker, endeavored to prove that free tolls through the Panama canal would be beneficial to the country from an economic standpoint. He showed that rail rates would be lessened to coastal points by free tolls through the canal. He argued that railroads would have to reduce their rates to meet competition of the coastwise shipping. He showed, by means of a chart, the decrease in cost of goods to the consumer that would result from free tolls.

Foran Closes Negative
Floyd Foran, who closed the negative arguments, contended that reduced rates would benefit only a small portion of the country, and that the majority of the country would "pay the bill." He argued that the affirmative had failed to show that the United States had a moral right to exempt her own coastwise shipping from tolls.

He further contended that free tolls would not benefit the consumer, but would simply enhance the profits of the ship owners. He pointed out that only American ships were engaged in shipping through the Great Lakes, while ships of all nations go through the Panama canal, and that the canal is not simply of domestic importance. He took the stand that free tolls would be a discrimination between shippers, and therefore would be economically unsound. A vessel sailing from the Atlantic to the Pacific would be exempt from toll, while a vessel sailing from the Atlantic to a foreign port would have to pay toll, according to Mr. Foran.

The rebuttal arguments centered around the economic and moral soundness of free tolls to American coastwise shipping.

Three on Each Team
Members of the Boise team were Warren Montgomery, Fred Sherman, and Floyd Foran. The Lapwai debaters were Loren King, Eva Carlson, and Arley Toole.

Judges of the debate were Prof. J. M. O'Gorman, head of the department of secondary education; Dr. George Morey Miller, head of the English department; and Dean E. J. Iddings.

FEMININE FOOLISHNESS

Man is a word. The Lord said, "Let there be man," and there was and has been ever since. St. Patrick has not come forth as yet to relieve us of this pest, but we still have hope, thought some of us may die in despair.

The dean's foresight was remarkable when she insisted upon having lights on the campus. It will soon be difficult to plow one's way at night through the piles of cigarette stubs without brilliant illumination.

A new plan for the swelling of the Women's League funds for the coming year, assisted by the men of the Bench and Bar, is to erect a series of benches on the second floor of the Ad building at the foot of the stairway.

From the appearance of men's hats, it would lead one to think that the flappers were very proficient in the use of the rolling pin.

They must do wonderful things at Washington—we know because we've been told so. Too bad some people left, wasn't it?

Stacomb doesn't go well on a stay-at-home.

Short skirts for women and long hair for men seem to have been in style at the same time. If this works both ways, men please note that skirts are getting shorter.

If woman is supposed to be the vain branch of the human tree, we wonder why it is that the fraternity and not the sorority houses have large mirrors in their hallways.

The reason a man objects to taking out a girl who wears goggles is because the noise of the flapping buckles prevents him from peddling his usual line of hot air—maybe that's why she wears them—ever think of that?

If all the long haired men on the campus were poets Idaho would be the "Home of the Verse."

Just when we were getting settled down to real spring weather, the Phi Deltis had to announce a picnic date so that means more mud ahead.

I went to the dance
The other night
With my best girl
They had one of those moonlight affairs
When they turn out their lights
And the chaperons take a rest
But that was the dance
I had given
To my stag friend,
Darn him!

Just wait girls until the nineteenth and we are going to have the rip roaringest party without any interference from mere man.

Mere men, tired business variety, tea hound and stalwart athlete, are going to be given the treat of their lives next Friday. Better rush—the front seats are going fast.

No wonder the junior girls couldn't sing. Their hearts, under those thrilling "I" sweaters, were beating so loudly that they drowned out the words.

First co-ed—Why didn't you find out his name when the prof called the roll?

Second ditto—I tried to, but he answered to four different names so I found out his fraternity instead.

head of the college of agriculture, Dean O. P. Gockertill of the college of law was chairman of the debate. Each speaker gave a ten minute main speech and a five minute rebuttal talk.

Vaughn—Say are you a stage coach?
Walt—No, I'm a fast male.

Poor Mary

"They don't. Where did you get that idea?"
"I heard Uncle tell papa that at midnight the party waxed Mary."

GRADUATING CLASS MAKES PLAY CHOICE

SENIORS PRESENT G. B. SHAW'S "YOU NEVER CAN TELL"

Select Star Cast and Practice Now Under Way for Presentation; Dean French Director

Members of the class of 1922 have selected George Bernard Shaw's "You Never Can Tell" for the annual class play. The cast has already started practice with Dean Perneal French acting as coach. The play will be presented on Saturday, June 3.

"You Never Can Tell" is an amusing study of the play of social conventions. In the characters of the twins, Gloria and Crampton, Shaw cleverly presents characteristics which determine at once certain weaknesses, over-indulgence, and curiously enough it portrays a tyranny and inflexibility which, in a measure, should be responsible for the proper development of youth.

Shaw makes William, the waiter, the best illustration of the man "who knows his place." Altogether the play sparkles with quick repartee and present situations that are interesting and amusing.

Cast of Star Dramatists
Many of the people taking part in this play have been seen in other campus dramatics and judging from their previous work this year's production will be one of the best ever presented. The cast of characters follows:

Mrs. Clandon..... Gladys Beach Gloria, her daughter..... Evadna Roberts Phillip, one of the Clandon twins..... Harold Murray

Valentine, a dentist..... Paul Ellis McComas, a solicitor..... Walter Toews William, a waiter..... Michael Thometz Parlor maid..... Irene Johnston

Crampton, an old man..... Boyd Brigham The senior girl to take the part of Dolly, the other Clandon twin, is yet to be selected.

Rich, the speedy center and left fielder, made the feature plays of the afternoon. Wicks also made a clean catch, running back from second and nabbing a hard fly hit by Matsuna.

Idaho, in her second game with the Missionaries, came near duplicating her second game at Whitman, when at the end of the ninth the score was tied and it was anybody's game. Snow's cool head work in the two following innings kept the game on ice for the Vandal batters.

Whitman was the first to score when in the fourth three errors in fielding allowed Rich to cross the plate. Walthers went out on a short grounder to Snow and Rich made second on a poorly handled ball in center field. Both Comrada and Hall gained bases on two errors on Wicks and Rich was scored on a sacrifice bunt by Schroeder. The infield then tightened up and the side was retired.

Idaho Ties Score
Idaho's tie run came in the seventh when A. Fox walked, R. Fox fanned and Snow made first on an error by Dean. Kinnison then received a walk and another error by the Whitman second baseman allowed Snow to trot across the pan, tying the score, 1 to 1.

In the eighth things began to look dark for Idaho with Coffee fanning and Walthers, the heavy hitter of Whitman, driving out a neat one. Rich followed and on the second strike poked a three bagger which scored Walthers and gave Whitman a one run lead. The next two men went out and Idaho taking the batter's chances was unable to even up matters.

Ninth Inning Rally
A ninth inning rally was the deciding factor in the game when with a 2 to 1 defeat staring them in the face R. Fox hit safely and scored from third when Knudson fumbled a hot grounder. The score was then 2-2 and the next two inning the Whitman men were unable to do any damage. Two pretty catches by Stivers in the tenth took away their only chances of getting on base.

The unlucky eleventh proved this time lucky for Idaho when two errors and a hit filled the bases and left the Whitman pitcher up in the air. With only one down he cut loose from a balk and made his peg to third which went wild and Snow dusted the plate for the deciding run. This game was a duplicate of the second game played with Whitman and Walla Walla when the score was tied in the ninth and Whitman put across their deciding run snatching a sure victory from Idaho.

CO-ED TENNIS SHARKS IN SECOND TOURNEY

VIDA RICHARDS LEADS IN THE RACE FOR FIRST PLACE

The second co-ed tennis tournament is now in the midst of the finals and as a result of the complicated arrangement in the preliminaries new faces will probably be seen in the second and third places. Vida Richards has continued her straight march to first place, winning all her matches handsly. Margaret Mims, who placed second in the first tournament, lost in the semi-finals to Mary Thompson, who in turn was eliminated by Vida Richards. Rhoda Felton, having won all her matches so far, appears to be in line for second place.
