CAMPUS DAY PROGRAM ON

MALE ELEMENT BUSY THIS FORENOON BEAUTIFYING CAMPUS AND GROUNDS

Co-Eds All Prepared For The Elaborate Greensward Annual Fete; Dance Tonight in Gym

Old clothes are very much in evidence on the campus this morning, and the masculine half of the student population is so disguised that an outsider would be unable to distinguish tea-hounds from athletes. And already the campus begins to show improvement, for it has been a busy bunch of men who have been working on the campus this morning since 7 o'clock, and many will be the blisters that will be counted this noon as these same men wend their weary way homeward. But everyone is working with a will—but who would not work with the military police, in charge of Babe Brown and Grove Evans; gently urging one onward. For the water is plentiful today, and the paddles are hard. Much able assistance is also being given by the co-eds, who are passing out refreshments with much enthusiasm.

Projects which will be completed by noon are digging water system ditches in the athletic field; sloping and seeding the bank on the north side of the campus; sloping bank at rear approach to Ridenbaugh hall and improving and seeding the slopes of the main highway; improving the tennis courts; general campus cleanup; arranging bleachers; grounds and auto parking space; hoing the windbreak; cleaning the steps from the athletic field to the gymnasium; improving the slope, and laying concrete blocks on the slope in rear of the gymnasium; trimming sod and improving university drive, engineering building to the gymnasium; leveling up the grounds and road around the University Hut; help around the sorority houses.

At noon all work will cease, and the men will leave for meals, baths, and clean clothes. And then early in the afternoon the crowd will begin to gather on the campus for the afternoon program. This will begin promptly at 2 o'clock starting with a band concert at 2 o'clock, under the supervision of Berni Neilson, director of the University Military band of 40 pieces. At 2:30 the procession of the May Queen, her attendants and the senior girls starts, followed by the ceremony of crowning the May Queen and May Pole dances by Freshmen and sophomore girls. Miss Evadne Roberts, of Nampa is May Queen, Miss Polly Thomas of Malad is Maid of Honor, and Miss Ruby Gates of Boise is Page.

"The Masque of Spring"

The Masque of Spring, a spring pageant by President A. H. Upham, is to be presented. Character parts are coached by John H. Cushman and the dances are under the direction of Miss Irene Murray. The cast is made up of students in the course in dramatics offered at the university.

Campus day orators from each class will make talks and President Upham will deliver the principal address of the day.

The university orchestra will close the program with a concert at Ridenbaugh hall, from 5 to 6 o'clock. At 6 o'clock dinner will be served to all college students on the Ridenbaugh lawn by the senior girls. Immediately after this an all college song fest, led by Mrs. Florence Sharp of the music department, will be held on the athletic field bleachers.

All College Dance at Night

The closing event of the day will be the all-college dance in the gymnasium, at 8 o'clock. Peppy music has been promised, and the dance will be a non-program affair. And tonight, as the last strains of "Home Sweet Home" die away, another "Campus Day" will have passed into history, and that most cherished of Idaho traditions will be strengthened by another link.

IDAHO NET MEN GET EVEN BREAK

WIN FOUR STRAIGHT SETS FROM LEWISTON NORMAL TEAM

Willamette Players Take Idaho Into Camp Handily Friday In Tennis Tournament

The University of Idaho's varsity tennis squad broke even in matches played during the past week, losing to Willamette Friday morning in three straight sets, and coming back Saturday, decisively defeating Lewiston Normal, four straight by the steady, consistent playing by the Idaho squad proved to much for the normal players. Hays proved the only normal to force an Idaho man to the limit, Herrington going an extra set for a win over the Lewiston star. In their score was 6-3, 2-6, 6-3.

In the lady's single Vida Richards had little trouble in winning from Miss Mary Crosby, 6-1; 6-0. Ken Hunter also was working in brilliant style, besting Pepple of Lewiston, 6-2; 6-1. In the mixed doubles, Ken Hunter and Mrs. Vida Richards entirely outclassed the Lewiston team, winning, 6-1; 6-3. The men's doubles were called off due to the heavy rain Saturday afternoon.

Noble Moody and Hugh Doney of Willamette, exhibiting a broad variety of strokes, had little trouble in winning all matches from Idaho. Both men played consistent and flashy ball, their lawfords and cuts bewildering the Idaho men.

Results of the dual tournament were: Noble Moody, Willamette, defeated Kenneth Hunter, Idaho, 6-0, 6-1; Hugh Doney, Willamette, defeated Curtis Herrington, Idaho, 6-3, 6-1; Moody and Doney, Willamette, defeated Hunter and Herrington, 6-3, 6-1.

GOOD GRACIOUS ANITA ATTRACTS COLLEGE MEN

CO-ED PARTY PENNY PARTY PROVES EXCEPTIONAL

Male Element Enthusias Over "Good Gracious Anita;" All Enjoy The Dance Afterwards

"Good Gracious Anita," an original musical comedy, presented before the men of the university Friday evening as a part of the Women's League Penny Party, was greeted with success on all sides. Every number was encoresd again and again and the show was certainly a credit to the girls in charge.

Miss Rhoda Felton acted as business manager while Miss Goldie Felton was director. Miss Polly Thomas furnished the plot for the play.

The story deals with the adventures of Anita Powers, a co-ed at the University of Idaho, who finds that she is left penniless until she finds another missing heir as stipulated in her grandfather's will. She immediately sets out to find him.

Miss Molly Porter, who played the leading feminine role, was very well liked while Miss Mary McCallum as Mr. Englethorpe made a decided hit as a comedian. Miss Rhoda Felton interpreted the part of Robert Harwood. Miss Bertha Glindeman, as Abraham Washington Sherlock Holmeas, and Miss Dorothy Cagle, as Miss Goodright, received much applause. Hester MacKenzie, Catherine Kahn, and Helen White were charming as maids and Henrietta Peasley made an impressive sultan.

Dancing Features of Program

Several dancing numbers were given as features. As "Jackie of the Follies," Lenore Pickerell was insistently encored. "Jean and Jack," a dance by Millicent Kuhn and Grace Paisley, was well received. Mary Morgan was featured in an effective harem dance.

The following girls made up the chorus for the musical comedy Polly Thomas, Charlotte Broadwater, Vaughn Prater, Annabelle Mcmasters, Rita Kendrick, Pauline Pence, Lucille Gahan, Marjorie Albert, Grace Johnson, Lucille Young, Gertrude Shepherd, and Norma Warner.

The Idaho co-eds enjoyed a penny party in the gym while the men attended the play, and later in the evening both attended a jitney dance in the gym.

INSTALL INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS AT IDAHO

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS—KNIGHTS BALL AND CHAIN MERGED IN BROADER ORGANIZATION

Installation Exercises Occurred Last Saturday at the Phi Delta Theta House

The Knights of the Ball and Chain were initiated into the Intercollegiate Knights last Saturday night at the Phi Delta Theta house. The Intercollegiate Knights is an organization which has grown from the Knights of the Hook, an underclassmen's honorary organization at the University of Washington. Lester Foran, the head of the extension and nationalization of the new national, arrived here Saturday and installed the local chapter Saturday evening.

Those initiated were Harold Cornelison, Sprague Stevens, Blair Armstrong, Howard Sarvis, Archer Golden, Glen Wilkenson, Lynn Rogers, Lynn Kelly, Merl Drake, Francis Sheeneberger, Sylvester Klefner, Malcolm McKinnon, Melvin McBride, Emil Stunz, Thome Roos, Herbert Karlberg, Dilbert Rose, Wayne Leland, Van Peterson and Ted Tanner.

Honorary members are President Upham, Faculty Supervisor; Elmer Wyland, honorary head of the organization, and Paul Rowell, president of the A. S. U. I.

Washington Sponsors Knights

The local chapter is one of the five similar organizations which now compose the Intercollegiate Knights. These are the W. S. C. Cougar guard, Montana, The Bear's Paw; Montana State, The Fangs; the Idaho Knights of the Ball and Chain, and the organizing chapter at Washington. The Knights of the Hook.

Expansion will be limited to colleges and universities of the North-

PIONEERS GATHER AT THE UNIVERSITY

OBSERVE REUNION CEREMONIES AT MOSCOW LAST WEEK

Former Governor James H. Hawley Addresses Student Assembly Wednesday Morning

Old timers who have been a part of Idaho history since the days of the early '60's united at the university Wednesday celebrating Pioneer day. Two pioneer governors, James H. Hawley of Boise and William J. McConnell, together with a large delegation of pioneers from the northern part of the state took part in the reunion which was planned by Prof. C. J. Brosnan, instructor in Idaho and northwest history.

Inspection of the university was the first event on the program and was followed by an assembly at which Former Governor Hawley was speaker and the pioneers were guests.

Francis Jenkins, proctor of men presided at the assembly. Following the assembly the R. O. T. C. unit of the university went through a formal review and parade in honor of the pioneers who occupied places in the reviewing stand.

Speaks of Early Days

In speaking of the early days of the state Former Governor Hawley characterized himself and Former Governor McConnell as representatives of the very few remaining pioneers of the state.

"In the winter of '72 or '73 the first pioneer meeting was held in the territory of Idaho," he said in reminding the students of the efforts made to preserve relics of historical value.

"The eligibility requirements were so strict that at the first meeting only a limited few could be classed as pioneers. In 1876 an association of pioneers was incorporated and a collection of historical relics and information started. In 1907 the legislature took over the responsibility of preserving the collection and since that time the work has been carried on as a branch of the state government.

Pioneers Are Passing Away

"The present group of pioneers are slowly passing and it rests on the shoulders of the next generation to carry on the work of preserving the records and relics. Idaho is blessed with sites and places of historical significance which should be preserved. The story of the Nez Percé Indian war is well known but the battle grounds are not adequately marked."

The greatest venture ever taken by civilized man was the way Former Governor Hawley characterized the trip through the northwest by Lewis and Clark.

The desire to see the establishment of pioneer associations throughout the state with the purpose of collection and preservation of relics of Idaho history was expressed by the speaker.

Other features of the Pioneer day program were the Moscow chamber of commerce luncheon at noon at which the pioneers were guests and a pioneer program in the afternoon at the University Hut.

west and Pacific coast conferences for two years. Chapters will be granted to other petitioning bodies in eastern colleges when the western division has been more completely organized. Control of the association will be kept at Washington for the first term, after which officers will be elected at yearly conventions.

Other western chapters which will be taken in soon are, Oregon, The Oregon Knights, and similar organizations which will be formed at O. A. C., University of Southern California and Stanford.

Intercollegiate Knights Advantageous

The advantages to be gained from forming the national organization, according to Lester Foran, is the bringing of local units together for the exchange of thoughts and ideas and to facilitate the entertainment of visiting teams. Although similar organizations have been formed at Dartmouth and Penn State, following the visit of their teams in the west, no attempts at eastern expansion will be made until the chapters now organized are in more complete coordination.

The pin of the new organization is a shield with a red strip running diagonally across it. A silver helmet is mounted in the center with the letters "I K" upon it.

IDAHO AND W. S. C. STUDENTS TO PICNIC

WILL MEET FRIDAY EVENING FOR BURY HATCHET

Plans Made to Promote a More Congenial and Cooperative Spirit Between Two Schools

All precedents of history are to be broken Friday evening when students of the University of Idaho and Washington State college meet at a point midway between the two institutions for a sumptuous "Bury the Hatchet" picnic.

The picnic, which will mark one of the biggest innovations of the school year is being sponsored by the Y's of the two schools and the University

FROSH WIN NORTH STATE TRACK MEET

DEFEAT WALLACE-KELLOGG ATHLETES BY SCORE 67% TO 54%

Yearling Clinder Men Stand Out Well In All Events Except the Hurdles

The University of Idaho, Freshmen defeated the combined Wallace-Kellogg track athletes last Saturday afternoon in a meet at Wallace, Idaho. Only ten men were allowed to go on the trip because of lack of funds but despite this the Frosh took the meet after a hard battle with a score of 67% to 54%.

The meet, although not held under the best of conditions, was a great success and some very fast time was made. The Idaho Frosh stood out in the runs especially, taking all the track events except the hurdles. The Wallace-Kellogg stars proved to be in the field events although the Frosh took their share of places in these.

The Kellogg and Wallace high schools were well represented at the state meet where they made some good marks and it was thought that with only ten men the Frosh would be defeated. One of the best events of the day was the 220 yard in which the Frosh took all three places.

The detailed results were as follows:

Fifty yard dash—McDougal, Idaho freshman, and Huefner, Kellogg, tied for first; Thomas, Idaho freshman, third. Time: 5:2.

Half mile run—Sowder, Idaho freshman, first; Rheinhart, Wallace, second; Covey, Idaho freshman, third. Time: 2:10 3-5.

High jump—Clizer, Wallace, first; Hansen, Kellogg, second; Leland, Idaho freshman, third. Height: Five feet, six inches.

120 yard hurdles—Huefner, Kellogg, first; Leland, Idaho freshman, second; Penny, Kellogg, third. Time: 17:1.

100 yard dash—Powers, Idaho freshman, first; Thomas, Idaho freshman, second; Huefner, Kellogg, third. Time: 10:2.

Broad jump—Liebe, Kellogg, first; Leland, Idaho freshman, second; McDougal, Idaho freshman and Hansen, Kellogg, tied for third. Distance: 19 feet, 2 inches.

Shot put—Bloom, first; McKinley, second; and McClary, third, all of Wallace. Distance: 38 feet.

220 low hurdles—Huefner, Kellogg, and Newton, Wallace, tied for first; Powers, Idaho freshman, third. Time: 24 seconds.

Discus—Osborne, Idaho freshman, first; Bloom, Wallace, second; Huefner, Kellogg, third. Distance: 106 feet, 4 inches.

220 yard dash—Powers, Idaho freshman, first; Sowder, Idaho freshman, second; Rheinhart, Wallace, third. Time: 5:2.

440 yard dash—Brossard, Idaho freshman, first; Pollard, Idaho freshman, second; McKinley, Wallace, third. Time: 57:3.

Javelin throw—Clizer, Wallace, first; Leland, Idaho freshman, second; Thomas, Idaho freshman, third. Distance: 159 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Half mile relay—Powers, McDougal, Thomas and Pollard, Idaho freshmen, first. Time: 1:42.

Christian Federation whose plans it is to promote a more universal and congenial spirit between the populace of the two educational centers.

The occasion has been determined for some time and official sanction gained for the day. All plans have been consummated and prospects point to a gala party. The students will journey thitherward in the early hours of evening in accordance with schedules which will be posted.

That the picnic will lack none of the essentials of a real thing is attested by the plans which provide for stunts, contests and possibly a baseball between the co-eds from each institution.

The popularity of the occasion is being attested to by the enthusiasm with which it is being seconded. The belief is held that a large attendance will participate in this friendship meeting.

TRACK MEN LEAVE FOR SEATTLE MEET

PACIFIC AND NORTHWEST CONFERENCES AT SEATTLE

Stars of the Northwest to Compete For The Honors at Large Combined Contests

Captain Tom Kelly will leave for Seattle today with the nucleus of the Idaho track squad to compete in the combined Pacific and Northwest conference meet to be held Friday and Saturday at the University of Washington stadium.

Due to the Vandals only being represented with a trio of stars at the meet, the school is not putting in a

UNIVERSITY RACQUETEERS ENTER TWO TOURNAMENTS

The University of Idaho varsity team will enter into two matches this week end. Friday the Vandal racquet artists will journey to Pullman to play against W. S. C. Earlier in the year W. S. C. gave the local a severe spanking, but the form that the Idaho artists have been performing in lately makes the outlook for revenge brighter.

Saturday Whitman will meet the locals on the Idaho courts. Little is known of the strength of the visitors, but judging from past teams produced Idaho will have a hard time gaining the upper hand.

BRUINS TAKE SLOW DUAL TRACK MEET

WIN FROM IDAHO BY 74 TO 63 HERE SATURDAY

Rain and Chilly Weather Causes Slow Records to Be Made Throughout

Weakness in the wind and the field events enabled the University of Montana to defeat the University of Idaho 74 to 63 in a dual track meet held Saturday afternoon on the Catoch county fairground track. Fair time was made in many of the track events despite the wet, muddy and slow track caused by frequent showers throughout the afternoon. However the easy second in the half for a total of were far below college par.

McGowan and Shaffer, both of Montana were tied for high point men of the meet with a total of 15 points. McGowan had little trouble in copping firsts in the shot put, discus and broad jump. The heave made by McGowan in the discus was for 131 feet, 1 1/2 inches, and was the only brilliant spot in the field event marks. Shaffer netted his points by taking a first in the high jump, a tie for initial honors in the pole vault and second in the broad jump and discus throw. Penwell was high point man for Idaho with a first in the mile and a easy second in the half for a total of eight points.

Capt. Gill had little difficulty in taking the mile. After running on even terms until the final quarter mark with Brady, of Idaho and Jacobson, of Montana, the Idaho star distance man stretched out, finishing 30 yards ahead of Jacobson. To top Idaho's supremacy in the distance and middle distance runs Macey broke the tape first in the 880 yard with Penwell close following.

Idaho also showed supremacy in the hurdle events, Canine pulling a dark horse and stepping the low hurdles for a first. Stoneman, veteran high jumper, topped, found little difficulty in taking the high sticks. His time of 16:03 was exceptionally fast considering the slow track.

The absence of several of Idaho's foremost field event men from their respective events, undoubtedly caused many of the poor marks set in field events. While the discus proved exceptional—inter-collegiate style, the records set in the javelin and high jump were far inferior to the prep marks set at the state meet last week.

The Summary

100 yard dash—Thomson, Montana, first; Sullivan, Montana, second. Time: 10:02.

220 yard dash—Sullivan, Montana, first; Thomson, Montana, second. Time: 25:03.

440 yard dash—Egan, Montana, first; McCallie, Idaho, second. Time: 54:04.

120 yard hurdles—Stoneman, Idaho, first; Cobley, Idaho, second. Time: 16:03.

220 yard hurdles—Canine, Idaho, first; Roberts, Montana, second. Time: 27:04.

880 yard run—Macey, Idaho, first; Penwell, Idaho, second. Time: 2:07:04.

Mile run—Penwell, Idaho, first; Jacobson, Montana, second. Time: 4:45.

Two mile run—Gill, Idaho, first; Jacobson, Montana, second. Time: 10:40.

Shot put—McGowan, Montana, first; Rowe, Idaho, second. Distance: 39 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Discus—McGowan, Montana, first; Shaffer, Montana, second. Distance: 131 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Javelin—Plummer, Montana, first; Mohler, Idaho, second. Distance: 140 feet 1 inch.

Pole Vault—Porter and Shaffer, Montana, tied for first. Height: 10 feet 6 inches.

High Jump—Shaffer, Montana, first; Cobley, Idaho, second. Height: 5 feet 1 inch.

Broad jump—McGowan, Montana, first; Shaffer, Montana, second. Distance: 20 feet 6 inches.

bid for initial honors. However with Captain Gill and Penwell in the distance and middle distance runs, along with Mohler in the weight events, the school is expected to make no mean showing in the events the

Competition Keen

Stiff competition will face all three of the Idaho stars. Penwell especially is staked up against some of the foremost milers in the country. Such men as Wakley and Williams of the University of Washington and Swan of O. A. C. will face the Vandal star in his event.

Wakley won the conference last season in the remarkable time of 4:28.

VANDALS TIE HUSKY TEAM

BUNG SNOW PITCHES ALL-NIGHT GAME FRIDAY AFTERNOON—ALLOWS FEW HITS

Second Game Played on Cold Bleak Field Saturday Morning—Proves Varsity's Undoing

Three timely hits won for the University of Idaho, 3-2, in the first game of the two-game series played with the University of Washington ball club at the Fairgrounds field Friday May 19. The second game was taken by the Washington team the following morning by a score of 6-3. Snow in the first game proved the star of the day, practically winning his own game by allowing but two hits to his opponents and accounting himself for a single and double and scoring the winning run in the eighth.

The second game of the series was poorly played in comparison with the first. Disagreeable weather coupled with a cold and raw wind made pitching a difficulty. Washington took advantage of this and cut loose with a salvo of hits in the fifth which counted for four runs before Marineau was able to retire the side.

Idaho's only scores came in the first when the three tallies were made on two hits and two errors by the Washington fielders. Leonard, Washington moundsman, after the poor start of the first inning, tightened up and pitched a nice game of ball, keeping the Idaho hits well scattered for the remaining eight innings.

Snow Takes Own Game

"Bung" Snow, Idaho pitcher in the first game, practically won his own game by a heavy clouting and his generalship in the box. Besides hitting for a two bagger and a single, he scored the winning run, allowed but two poor hits and managed to pull out of several neat holes after baubles in the infield had filled the bases. Outside of an error in the sixth when he overthrew third, his game should have been a shutout and with proper support the Washington runners would have been held scoreless.

In the second inning, Edwards, Idaho's Babe Ruth, clouted a deep one to center field for a three bagger. Cobley followed to bat but was ruled out after he made an attempted bunt to save Edwards who had left third in an effort to squeeze home. In this inning Marineau made one of the prettiest hits of the day when he drove out a two bagger over right field and scored Edwards from first.

The second score made by the Vandals came in the last of the fifth when another two base hit by Snow scored Wicks. An error by Washington's short stop was responsible for Wicks making first and after making second Snow poked his first hit and scored Wicks, giving Idaho a 2-1 lead.

Sixth Inning

The sixth frame was a hard inning for Snow and for a while it looked dark for Idaho. McMahon, the first Washington man up, drove out a sizzling single and after moving to third on an error, came in by an overthrow by Snow, making the score 2-2. Weis made first on this error and Snow walked Torrance, putting two men on and none down. Snow's generalship and cool-headedness, however, pulled him out of the bad hole, when with two men on he fanned the next two batters and allowed the third out to be handled by a throw from short to first.

The winning run came for the Vandals in the eighth frame when Snow opened with his second hit of the game. Kinnison made first on an error by third and a sacrifice hit by Stivers and a fielder's choice scored Snow from third and gave Idaho the winning run. The Washington aggregation tried hard in the first of the ninth to tie the score with pinch hitters and after getting two men on

JUNIOR YEAR BOOK NOW OFF THE PRESS

1923 GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS SOON DUE ON CAMPUS

Students Leaving Early Are Urged to Give Names to Manager For Forwarding of Book

The Gem of the Mountains year book issued annually by the Junior class, is now off the press and is in the process of being bound, according to word received by the editors from the Caxton Printers of Caldwell, where the book is being printed.

The will be on the campus in a short time now, and a good sale is anticipated. This year's book will be considerably larger than heretofore, and is being bound in an attractive embossed leather cover, which will be an innovation over recent issues of the "Gem."

Students leaving college before receiving their copy of the annual, are requested to turn in their names to William Carpenter, business manager, so that they may receive their copy by mail.

THE CO-ED EDITION

With the Penny Party last Friday evening, the co-eds of the university closed a season of intense activity on their part. The week seemed especially dedicated to them in that they occupied the center of interest over the entire campus. And the success with which they achieved their objectives speak well for them.

The editing of the Argonaut is especially deserving of commendation in that it demonstrated that the gentler sex of the campus are on a par with if not in some ways superior to the male element. The way in which the paper was handled, the dispatch with which the work was done and the character of the work itself speaks very highly of those in charge.

From many standpoints the paper was the best put out for a number of years. For one thing it was on time, which has not always been the case. It was well written and well edited throughout. And, furthermore, the news was timely and valuable from a journalistic standpoint.

Indeed, the editor, Miss Yeaman, and her corps of able and reliable assistants may well be proud of the edition. It has every quality of merit with none of condemnation.

The Penny Party staged by the Women's league was indeed the hit of the year and a fitting close to a week of intense energy on the part of the women of the university. They successfully lured the unsuspecting men into the labyrinths and mazes of their cleverly arranged program—to the definite satisfaction of the men themselves.

But a moral should adorn every editorial. Therefore, let it be said that since the women have demonstrated their ability that they keep themselves more in the foreground and occupy their vital place in campus life that is theirs by just due.

CAMPUS DAY

Today we are in the midst of one of the most valuable and most gratifying Idaho traditions, Campus Day. We have many other cherished traditions but none of them quite come up to this one in many respects. Campus Day is unique and a day always to be remembered by sons and daughters of Idaho.

Campus Day is esteemed for two reasons; first, it is a day devoted to the beautifying of the grounds that are an inherent part of all that goes to make up the university; and second, it is a day of pageantry and frolic on the greensward. Either one of these aims would be sufficient to arouse the interest and enthusiasm of the students. Both of them stir the students to profound reverence and veneration for the institution and give them a better appreciation of the esthetic splendor of a well kept campus.

The morning hours dedicated to the tasks, on the part of the men, of the beautifying of the campus lawns, drives and courts serve a great purpose in keeping alive the knowledge that the university in its environment should be kept a thing of beauty. It gives the men a deeper insight into just what composes the campus and just what could be done for greater scenic enhancement.

The co-eds are also busy preparing for the afternoon fetes and dances and at the same time take an active interest in the renovation work of the men. They too are deeply concerned in the continuance of the delightful courts, drives, lawns, etc. of the university.

The afternoon schedule fills the heart of every loyal man or woman of the university with delightful and long-lived memories of the May day spirit of springlike renaissance. The crowning of the May Queen, the esthetic dancing in fact all the pageantry gladdens the heart of the most obtuse and builds up for later reminiscence scenes of enduring ecstasies and pleasures.

Campus Day this year is to be a bigger occasion than ever before, thanks to the efforts of those who have the institution at heart, and no student will be able to experience the thrills of the work and play of the day without feeling an increased pride and reverence for what the university means to them personally.

THE STUNT FEST

Owing to a minor difficulty in the mechanical department last week it was impossible to print a story of the stunt and song fest which occurred a week ago last Friday. The story is being printed this week instead. Although those responsible for the edition regret very much this omission it could not be averted. Such things, however, occur many times with no one particularly to blame.

APRIL A.S.U.I. BUSINESS SHOWS SMALL EXPENSE

BALANCE SHOWS ONLY A DEFICIT OF $875.61 OVER APRIL BALANCE

The April business transactions of the Associated Student Body of the University of Idaho were consummated with a total $5,023.30 balance on May first. This is a decrease of $375.61 over the balance at the beginning of last month.

FOREWORD

This spasm of effervescing comes from the productive pastures of the Ethanol Society.

Touche of Haberdashery

"The Freshman Glee. The lights were softly shaded and baskets of flowers grouped about the gym gave the atmosphere of spring, while bright organdies and sport suits lent great flashes of color to the gay scene."—Argonaut.

Society satelletes, sporting sport suits, scintillating salubriously beneath a silhouette background of charming caravats and perforated hostery would sound much better.

Should a canary be addressed "Mr." or "Miss"?

The Ethanol Society is more than mildly interested in the continually recurring problem as to satisfactory means of determining the sex of canaries. The society advances the following simple formula in anticipation that it will be of value: Place seeds before the critter in question. If he eats it's a he and she eats it's a she. Later modifications may have altered this rule.

Proposed Ethanol Badge

The Ethanol Society has produced its fourth design for a society emblem. Dr. Residue entered the impressive portals of the society recently waving the badge of a fraternity called Phi Beta Kappa which closely resembles our proposed pin. Rather than incur the wrath of this companion organization the society has decided to submit a fifth design which we are positive this time is original.

Blame the Law of Gravity

"Women declared to be knock-kneed"—Headline.

From the Old Guard

"I saw Bitterroot William the other day and he didn't appear so very pert. Bill sez his broken down appearance dates back to a broncho bustin' episode but most of his friends say it is the result of gettin' in and out of a patrol wagon so often. Others lay the blame to his searchin' of other folks' cellars."

Which reminds us that the university much now be spoken of as situated in the gas tank district.

Another thing we won't mention at all is the perfectly wonderful picnic weather last Sunday.

To the Tub My Brave Man!!

Three members of the crew of the Tub Andrew were today awarded the $2000 reward.—S. R.

The arboretum is getting so much publicity these days that we won't even mention it this week.

WHOA! th' rein's crossed
They breeze 'out on us every day
And everybody snickers
They squirm and fuss and arouse the the mob
Those doggone Daily Squirts.

"Today congress looks as though it would wear itself out by talking."—Oregon Journal.

At last congress has found speech to be the strongest weapon. After three days and nights of ceaseless firing from the heavy sensational artillery the Russian opposition has been reduced and the goal won without expensive military operations. Senator Borah is to be commended and his cohorts, who kept the lecture material channels open in face of heavy enemy fire. They should be remembered with the D. S. C.

In common with the masculine gender, as was ably stated in Feminine Foolishness last week, the females enjoy the right of pursuit of happiness but the happiness of pursuit apparently has more luring qualities for their subtle souls.

The Ethanol society was plainly and indubitably shocked when charged with the heinous crime of profaning the sanctity of the mausoleum for deceased relics known as the museum. Far be it from us to think our humble sheet worthy of a place there adjacent to the spade used by George Washington to paddle himself across the Delaware. We ain't really sayin' we did, an' we ain't sayin' we didn't, but we don't appreciate the guy who gave us so much undesired publicity.

As a matter of fact, though, that museum needn't think it is such a much. The glass tank now holding the collection in the library came mightily near being a cheese vat instead. The Ethanol society debated long and seriously on whether or not to present it to the dairy department.

"This," mumbled Dr. Karbolic, as he painstakingly gathered together the bits of a shattered mirror, "will serve as excellent food for reflection."

"I want some perfume."
"Djer-Kiss?"
"No, I did not."

Ques: What's in friendship?
Ans.: What's on friend's hip.

Now that the Ethanol society is erecting a gasoline filling station on the campus, the stalled motorist will no longer have to sing, "Far from the gas tank, plumb empty."

We saw a guy at the barber shop who was so hard that he broke the cuspidor when he spit out his chewing gum.

MEN ATTEND COLLEGE FOR $15 PER MONTH

SIX YOUNG MEN AT O. A. C. DEMONSTRATE FEASIBILITY OF CHEAP EDUCATION

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.—How to go through college on $15 a month, earning that and other expenses, is being demonstrated by six young men in the "Mud Flats" district of Corvallis.

High Vinton, '23, of New York City and Edward Rector, '21, of Seattle, Wash., hopped off the train in Corvallis with $1,000 and the ambition to become college graduates. They still have most of their money and all of their ambition besides being two years nearer their goal.

The boys first bought a lot for $400 and erected a building that served as quarter for the two men. Later they became acquainted with four other students who also had a desire to earn their own way through college, so two more shacks were added at a cost of $250. These are rented from the owners.

"Bathing" is the method used by the young men in combating the high cost of living. They all work in Corvallis and are entirely dependent upon what they earn, receiving money from no other source. Vinton and Rector have bought a small truck and intend to do general truck work in their spare time.

IDAHO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS IN CONTEST

COMPETE FOR A UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIP NATIONALLY

Horace Lanchester of Bliss High School is Awarded First Place in the State

An essay on "How Good Roads are Developing my Community," will pave the way for some aspiring high school student to enjoy a four year university course according to the national essay contest announcement of the High School Firestone University Scholarship for 1922. The award will cover all reasonable expenses and tuition for a four year course in any university selected by the committee on awards and is valued at around $4000.

The contest is open to all high school students in the United States and its possessions and offers excellent opportunity to display literary ability.

Offers Literary Honors
In addition to its material value, winning the scholarship offers unusual literary honors and advantages. Magazines of national circulation and hundreds of daily papers print the winning essay while prominent educators, acting as judges, have expressed their admiration of the literary merit contained in the composition of those heretofore written.

The winner of the 1920 contest was received officially at the White House in Washington and presented with the scholarship certificate by President Harding who extended personal congratulations.

The English department of the university acted as a body to select the essay from those submitted by Idaho students which will go to the national judges.

Bliss Man Gets First
Horace Lanchester, a senior of Bliss high school was awarded first place. His essay excelled the other submitted in the state in both literary merit and content.

The Ball and Chain will entertain with a Campus Day dance tonight.

TRACK MEN TO SEATTLE

The Washington star has not let down so far this season, and has been given stiff competition by his running mate, Williams, who has stepped the mile in the same time as Penwell, that of 4:36.4.

Swan, of O. A. C., who two years ago stepped the oval in 4:26 flat and who was not entered last season due to illness, is expected to spring a comeback this year for a repetition of first honors.

Gill Doped as a Winner
Captain Jerry Gill, winner of the two mile in the conference last season, is easily doped to carry off first honors. The elongated Idaho star has short flies retired the side.

Second Game
Idaho looked like a sure winner in the opening inning of the second game when Idaho batters accounted for three runs before the Washington fielders had a chance to recover. Stivers and O'Brien both moved to first on a hit and an error and Edwards poked a long one, scoring both men. Cobby then scored Edwards, giving Washington a 3-1 handicap and all the odds against them.

Washington Wins in Fifth
The fifth inning proved Idaho's doom when Marineau began dishing out hits as fast as the Washington batters could swing the stick. Barrett, clever first sacker and lead off man for the visitors drove out a neat single and paved the way for the successive five hits which followed. A repetition of singles and one double accounted for four runs before the avalanche of hits had ceased and the Washington batters were retired.

A ninth-inning rally was tried by Idaho but a neat double play by Harper to Barrett robbed the Vandals of all the chances for a comeback.

Some clever fielding catches were made in both the games and material attributed to robbing Idaho of several hits in the second game. Two pretty catches by Marriot and Lewis in the first game snatched two perfect hits from Cobby and Snow. In the second frame, Miles, Welts and Harper made three exhibition catches and R. Fox picked a high one well from within the race track.

not been pressed so far this year, but despite this has stepped the two mile in short time.

Mohler will find most of his competition in the weights and javelin against McGowen and Shaffer, stars from Montana, who made such an excellent showing against Idaho last Saturday. Tuck of Oregon, all around field event man is also expected to loom up.

Honors in the meet mean the championship of both the Northwest and Pacific Coast conferences. The dope sheet shows the University of Washington the northwest's only hope against the strong invaders from Southern California and California. With such teams as these entered, some of the best athletes in the country will be pitted against each other.

STUDENTS PUBLISH LITERARY MAGAZINE

BOOK IN HANDS OF PRINTER;
CONTAINS GOOD WORK

"Extravagances," Booklet of Essays, Limericks, Plays and Poems Being Published

"Extravagances," a booklet of poems, plays, essays and limericks compiled by students of English courses at the University of Idaho is due to be off the press by next week according to announcement made by those publishing the book. It will be placed on sale at 25 cents per copy.

The publication will be handsomely bound in hand printed covers and will contain some of the best local literary products of the school year. The contents will be both serious and humorous in nature.

"Extravagances" is strictly a student book. Earnest Fuller, junior, is editor in chief. Glenn Wilkinson, business manager. The hand tinting work of the covers will be done by Marion Featherstone.

It is the intention of the publishers that the book shall be made an annual occurrence of literary value. The idea was originally fostered by Kenneth Collins and J. S. McLaughlin, instructors in English who ably supervised much of the work.

The three hundred copies to be published will be ready for sale sometime next week. Owing to the limited number of copies the sponsors of the book advise that those who desire one should get their orders in early. A
