Annual South Idaho Classic Looked Forward to As Feature

"The team needs this trip; the town needs the trip; and Idaho needs the trip!" declared E. A. Kilpel, travelling passenger agent for the Union Pacific, when discussing the Armistice Day Special to Boise. It's a red-letter day in Idaho's football calendar, and the event deserves every student's serious consideration.

If the student but stops to consider he cannot help but be impressed by the tremendous advantages, both personal and for the school, that are offered by the annual Armistice Day Boise trip.

In the first place, it is a wonderfully profitable trip from a purely personal point of view. It is an old adage that travel is a great educator, and this trip affords a particularly inexpensive traveling experience, for the round trip fare is only one and one-third, $22.53.

High Ball Train
Then to the student who has heard of or experienced the hardship of the usual South Idaho trip and who consequently hesitates to go because he will have to postpone his real pleasure till he reaches Boise, this can be said: this special differs radically from any other regular trip in that it is absolutely a through train. There will be no stopping, no changing of cars, no inconvenience whatever throughout the whole trip. It is a real pleasure trip from start to finish.

The service on the train is absolutely first class, and is probably better than anything else in the west.

SENIORS TO SPONSOR BIG MUSICAL COMEDY

All College Production to Be Announced Soon

Plans are being carefully made for a big all-college musical comedy to be presented under the auspices of the senior class in the auditorium on November 24th. During the past two weeks the committee has been busy working out the details preparatory to the actual beginning of work on such a task as the production of a musical comedy in which every student of the university is eligible to take part.

"I want to emphasize the fact that every student in the university is eligible to try out for this musical comedy," said Rex Kimmel, chairman of the committee. "There are singing parts and straight speaking parts, therefore the ability to sing is not a prerequisite to making the cast. A chorus of about twelve or fifteen girls will also be needed."

Tryouts Soon
Tryouts for the parts will be held the first of the coming week, the exact date and time to be announced later. The committee asks that all those who are interested in trying out hand in their names to either Miss Henrietta Peasley at the Delta Gamma House of Rex Kimmel at the Sigma Nu house as soon as possible.

CO-EDS DRILLING FOR RIFLE HONORS

Idaho marksmen will have need for looking to their laurels since the co-eds are taking up rifle drill. The first practice held Monday afternoon in Lewis court under the supervision of Captain Lloyd was mainly spent in disabusing the girls of the notion that both eyes must be closed at the moment of pulling the trigger. As yet the class is limited because of lack of material but it is hoped to enlarge the classes to accommodate all who wish to take this. The regulation army rifles are being used.

VANDALS SHOW FIGHTING SPIRIT

Mathew's Men Win Admiration With Plucky Fighting in the Second Half Against Odds.

From figures compiled on the play by play story on the Idaho-Oregon game at Portland on Multnomah field the figures are significant in this respect. Idaho made 246 yards from scrimmage plays and forward passes and Oregon's combined gains from forward passes and yardage from scrimmage totalled 215 yards.

Oregon made 190 yards from actual scrimmage and 25 yards on passes while Idaho outpassed the Oregonians for a total gain of 128 yards through her brilliant aerial attack. Idaho's gain from actual scrimmage was 113 yards.

Brown's Punts Feature
Captain Brown's sensational punting was a feature. When a man punts a heavy, almost water-soaked ball for an average of 40 yards that man is kicking the old pigskin. Idaho's lighting captain did that. He out-kicked his rival, Chapman of Oregon, by two yards on an average. Brown booted the ball 11 times for an average of 40 yards while Chapman kicked the ball ten times for an average of 38 yards.

But on with the game itself. Oregon opened the game by kicking off to Idaho. "Skippy" Stivers threw the eternal fear into Oregon on the first play by clipping off 40 yards in the prettiest and longest run of the game around end. A couple of fine smashes netted gains and "Babe" Brown shot a pass to "Beany" Brishears who grabbed the ball for a gain of 29 yards.

Idaho Plows Through
Idaho continued her march by straight football to Oregon's 22 yard line where an Idaho fumble was recovered by Oregon. Oregon in turn fumbled and dependable Johnnie Vesper recovered the ball for Idaho.

ORGANIZE HOME ECON ASSOCIATION FOR IDAHO

An Idaho State Home Economics association was organized on Wednesday, October 25. The object of the organization is to improve the living conditions in the home, in the institutional household, and in the community. It is the plan of the organization to affiliate with the American Home Economics association at an early date. The following officers were elected: Miss Katherine Jensen, president; Miss Dorothy Ellis of Boise, secretary and Miss Ruth Patchin, treasurer.

NON-AFFILIATED EDS AND CO-EDS FROLIC

Hallowe'en Dance at the Gym Last Saturday Night

Fantastic costumes, weird ghost guides and harvest time decorations characterized the dance-frolic of the non-fraternity men and non-sorority women at the gymnasium last Saturday evening. More than 25 eds and co-eds gathered to pass a delightful evening dancing and participating in the various special numbers of the program.

The entertainment began at seven-thirty, with two processions, one from Ridenbaugh hall and the other from Lindley hall and continued through varied numbers until the hour of departure. Refreshments of punch and waffles were served during the evening.

The outstanding feature of the occasion was the costumes of the frolicers which varied from harvest make ups to elaborate creations, such as George and Martha Washington and many others of equal merit.

The decorations consisted of corn shocks arranged artistically about the hall, evergreen boughs draped from the walls and black and orange crepe paper setting off the corn shocks and shading the lights to a mellow yellow glow. In the west end of the gymnasium stood a typical scarecrow as a necessary part of a corn field.

The music was furnished by the newly organized Associated Barb orchestra under the leadership of Lee G. Gregory.

Partners for the grand march, the opening number of the program, were chosen by matching numbers on cards of black cats, bats and witches. This was followed by a general mixed dancing and specials.

Among the specials the Chinese devil dance arranged by the women

A. E. F. CLUB PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Will Cooperate With American Legion on Program.

The first meeting of the A. E. F. club this year will be held in room 214 of the Ad building tonight. Plans will be completed for the dance to be given Armistice day, and other business will be brought up.

The A. E. F. Club will cooperate with the local post of the American Legion for the entire day's program. In the morning the customary ceremonies will be held, and in the afternoon a matinee dance will be given in the gymnasium. The reports of the Idaho-Utah dance will be given at this time. In the evening the A. E. F. dance will be staged in the gymnasium, as the closing event of the program.

of Ridenbaugh hall, under the direction of Miss Betty Mount. This was closely followed by the kiddie kar race in which two relay teams of four men each competed in a laughter-provoking relay up and down the gym floor.

The dance was very informal in character and evoked considerable amount of good fun from the guests present. Everyone entered the evening's entertainment with an earnestness of purpose and many were the acclamations of pleasure. The Associated Barbs who sponsored the idea feel that the success of the evening is in a large manner due to the splendid cooperation of the campus co-eds who lent every possible assistance towards the event.

Patronesses for the dances were Dean Permeal French, Miss Katherine Jensen and Miss Mae Mathieu. The program was in charge of Robert L. Holbrook, Miss Elizabeth Mount and Miss Mildred Anderson.

IDAHO ALUMNI BEHIND ELEVEN

University Grads at Portland Back Vandals; Learn New College Yells and Songs.

University of Idaho alumni meant much to the Vandals at Portland Saturday. They turned out en masse and rivaled the Oregon stands with their cheering. A special section was reserved for the Idaho alumni and they backed the team every minute of the game. Yell King Wyland made a distinct and decided hit with the alumni at Portland. He not only taught the willing old timers all the new Idaho yells and songs but under his leadership they put the yells and songs across in great shape.

A reception was held in the Multnomah hotel the night before the game at which talks were made by the former university students. Yell King Wyland turned the meeting into a pep rally and yell and song fest into which the graduates entered with the same spirit of the most ardent undergraduates.

Idahoans Organize
The Idaho society was organized several days ago at a luncheon attended by former students of the university and former residents of the state.

Mrs. Florence Corbet Johnston, wife of Dr. Wilson Johnston, a prominent physician of Portland, was elected president and Harry Daus was elected secretary. Mrs. Wilson was a member of the first graduating class of the University of Idaho and Mr. Daus graduated in the class of 1911.

Leon J. Nichols, a member of the class of 1904, was appointed chairman of the reception committee, to receive and entertain the team during its stay in Portland and Ray Robertson, a graduate of the class of 1914, was appointed yell leader for the society for the game.

HOME EC GRADUATES HERE FOR THE INSTITUTE

Among the visiting delegates to the teachers convention here were Miss Ruth Scott, Gertrude Sabin, and Dorothy Ellis, all of whom are graduates of the home economics department of the university. The former now occupies the position of general supervisor of home economics in the high schools of the state and is located at Boise.

An informal dance was given at the Kappa Sigma House on Saturday evening. The guests present were: Dean and Mrs. Cockerill, Misses I. Callier, A. McMaster, H. Wall, M. McArthur, J. McCauley, H. Madden, G. Jacobson, M. Ganer, P. Pence, N. Prescott, Platte, Boyer, Byrd, L. Young, A. Cox, M. Alberts, H. Honnell, H. Stanton, F. Green, M. Collins, F. Hobbs, D. Willett, B. Day, S. Jensen, Z. This tradition bureau came as an outgrowth of a movement started some time ago by a committee of alumni to more definitely formulate and organize Washington's past customs that might eventually merge into traditions.

IDAHO VANDALS BATTLE OREGON

Battle Fiercely Against Big Odds on Oregon Field of Sawdust

A wet, slippery, sloppy, sodden, slow and heavy field with Idaho outweighed better than ten pounds to the man and you have the Oregon game. Chapman's place-kick from the 25-yard line, Chapman's individual gains, Chapman's uncanny faculty of springing a flying football—and Oregon won 3 to 0.

But watch Idaho from now on, without the slightest hesitancy the statement can be made in honesty to Oregon's great eleven and in honesty to the Vandals themselves—on a dry field Idaho would have beaten Oregon at Portland Saturday.

Oregon Has Team
Not for one minute should it be considered that Oregon has a poor team. Oregon has a hard fighting aggressive and powerful eleven, probably one of the greatest Oregon teams turned out in the past four years. Idaho has nothing to be ashamed of in losing 3 to 0, to Oregon. Coach Huntington's team played its best game of the season against Idaho—Oregon had to. In Chapman and Parsons and Captain Shields the University of Oregon has three players of whom she may well be proud.

But particularly may Oregon sing the praises of Chapman for it was he who won the game and saved the game. His place-kick counted the winning three points, his own gains made the kick possible, and his catching of Idaho forward passes kept victory with Oregon.

LOCALS TAKE CUP IN CROSS-COUNTRY RACE

Trials for Varsity Team Brings Forth Some Good Material

Tryouts for the varsity squad of cross-country runners was held last Saturday in connection with the running off of the inter-mural cross country contest, which resulted in Phi Alpha Psi, local group on the University campus, taking both first and second places, which gives them possession of the cup offered by the inter-mural athletic association.

Lewis Williams, running for the winning group, completed the two and a half mile course in 15 minutes 46 seconds, considered to be very good time for the course, which is a up hill and down dale affair. Henry Powers, also running for the Alpha Psi's, was a close second, and John Brady, for Phi Delta Theta, finished third.

Coach Jerry Gill is working this week getting his cross country team in shape for the dual meet to be held next Saturday with Washington State college. Last year the Cougar team of five men sort of walked off with the bacon, but Coach Gill has a different story which he will tell to the Idaho student body next Saturday.

Gill himself is eligible to run, but owing to a bad knee, it is doubtful whether he will be able to run next Saturday.

PUNTS and PASSES

By Slim Pickens

The jinx seems to have settled on the Vandals definitely. The game last Saturday at Portland was a hard struggle for each team, but added weight and a slippery field gave Oregon the advantage. Idaho has certainly been playing in bad luck this season. But the small scores she has been defeated by shows that she is certainly up with the foremost of the Pacific Coast teams. The jinx at Oregon will be broken next year.

The University of California triumphed over the University of Southern California Saturday. The Trojans tried desperately to win this game but the men from Berkeley couldn't see it that way. The Trojans would rather defeat U. of C. than any other team and had high hopes that this year would see their hopes realized.

A report from W. S. C. states that 500 frosh are out for basketball. They should develop a strong yearling team with that amount of material.

It looks as though Yale, Harvard, and Princeton are guaranteeing against defeat in inter-sectional games. They are not playing any of them from other sections.

The inability to kick goal after touchdowns were scored lost the game for Chicago against Princeton Saturday. They each made three touchdowns, but Princeton won by three points because of kicking goal each time.

There seems to be much internal dissension in the Washington student body over the attempt of Yell King McCabe to install dignified rooting for that institution. Dignified rooting is Pacific college of Forest Grove. Or. ball or basketball game good old spirit and pep counts a great deal for the home team.

The University of Texas Bears under Coach Bridges Taylor will make a trip to Boston on Nov. 11, Armistice Day, to play a return game with Boston college. The Boston gridgers were victorious over the Texans at Dallas a year ago.

UNIVERSITY GETS POULTRY GIFTS

Twelve purebred breeding white leghorn cock birds and 100 white leghorn hatching eggs have been received by the department of poultry husbandry in the college of agriculture at the University of Idaho. The birds are a gift from Archie Larson of Weiser, a breeder of an excellent strain of purebred white leghorn.

In speaking of the value of such an addition to the poultry department, Dean Iddings said: "Mr. Larson has been very appreciative of the efforts made by the department of poultry husbandry and has shown himself an enthusiastic supporter of the University by this splendid spirit of cooperation."

"The birds are particularly valuable in that they represent strains that are not for sale in the regular market."

ers are those who transfer from one school to another. Harvard has seven such players on her team this year.

Penn State has wired its acceptance for the big Tournament of the Roses game on New Year's day to be played at Pasadena. The University of California will probably be the other team. incidentally Penn state has one of the hardest schedules ever played, seven games coming right in a row. The Nittany Lions play all of their games away too, for the school is in a small town and almost inaccessible for visiting teams. They are rated as one of the best eastern college eelcens.

The big boys are starting to fall. No less than seven important football teams that have been undefeated before a week ago lost Saturday's games. The list includes Centre, Syracuse, Georgia Tech, Ohio State, Dartmouth, Rutgers and Boston College.

Football is popular in the South American countries. Brazil won the championship of our neighboring continent last week by defeating Paraguay 3 to 0. They play the English game down there.

Stanford is showing up stronger than she did at the first of the season. Her victory over the Oregon Aggies shows that she will be a real contender when she meets Washington and California.

Pacific college of Forest Grove, Oregon, beat the College of Idaho at Caldwell, Friday, 7 to 6. The Pacific team held the fast O. A. C. team to a 3 to 0 score a couple of weeks ago.

Idaho's next big game is at Boise when she tackles the University of Utah in the big Armistice Day game. Utah got off to a bad start at the beginning of the season, but has been improving lately, and this should be a great game. It is estimated that 7,000 fans will witness this contest.

Notre Dame has a wealth of material for the backfield positions. Gus Desch and Berman are being pushed hard to hold their positions.

man. Neither team really threatened the other's goal line and play was principally in midfield.

Idaho Aerial Attack

In the fourth quarter Oregon went to Idaho's 15 yard line. There Idaho held and the ball passed to the Vandals on downs. After an exchange of punts and with play in midfield, Stivers clipped off 20 yards on a return of an Oregon punt. Then came the thrilling, desperate attempt of the Idaho men to score. Down the field went the Idaho team. Stivers to Brown, Kleffner, Cobby, Brown and Vesser to Oregon's 20 yard line—an unbroken succession of completed passes for 10 and 15 yards at a crack.

On the 20 yard line an end run play gained a yard. The third down and

Stivers Uses Generalship
Stivers showed his generalship without question. He decided to risk all on a pass. There were scant moments to play and it was win or lose. Stivers elected to pass. "Rah Rah Rah

Field Handicap

And also—without prejudice—the wet, slippery and slow sawdust field did have a great deal to do with the Oregon victory. The speedy, fighting and aggressive Idaho men reckoned with a real problem in Oregon's weight advantage on a wet field. Being outweighed ten pounds to the man is nothing to be sneered at even in a football game, played beneath a blistering sun after a dry spell of ten weeks. Imagine what a ten pound advantage is on a wet and slippery field, where men slip and slide and don't dare and can't try pivoting, dodging or twisting, where agility is impossible and where the test is built strength and bull beef against bull strength and bull beef, such was the game against Oregon.

So in all kindness and all fairness and all truthfulness let Oregon give at least one cheer for Peter P.

Long before this point emphasis should have been placed on the slogan now adopted by every coach of Pacific coast conference football team—watch out for Idaho. unit spirit of the fighting Vandals, the men with fighting hearts, did that for Idaho and they did the same thing at Portland against Oregon.

Have You?
Have you ever read a story of the wonder team, the team that fights from the whistle and then comes back for more? Every Idaho man and woman is proud of the Vandal fight. They have shown all season that "Idaho Fight" is a reality and "Idaho Fight" was a fearful reality to the Oregon mind Saturday afternoon.

Chapman made his winning kick in the second period. Idaho battled Oregon players off their feet. They turned the tide of public favor with their never say die spirit. That brilliant fight, that desperate give 'em everything display of what a really inspired unit of eleven men can do was demonstrated for 10,000 people at Portland Saturday and the Vandals of 1922 are the boys that did it.

HALL WOMEN PLAN EXCHANGE DINNERS

First Dinner Given Tuesday Night to Hall Men

Arrangements are being made for a series of exchange dinners between Ridenbaugh hall and the houses on the campus. It is planned to continue these dinners throughout the winter or until such time as guests shall have been exchanged with every house on the campus.

The first dinner was given Tuesday night, October 31, when men from Lindley hall will be entertained. In the future the dinners will be given Wednesday nights.

The purpose of having these dinners is to give the students an opportunity to know each other in a more personal way than is offered at the large general mixers.

HOUSE DANCES ARE WEEKEND FEATURES

Broom-sticked witches and grinning, pumpkin-headed goblins ran wild at the Phi Delta Theta house party last Friday evening. They flitted ghostly past windows and French doors pleasingly decorated in black and orange, and among the jolly crowd that, under the subdued glare of the festooned lights, merrily danced the hours away.

Hardly had the last strains of "Home Sweet Home" died away when there was a mad rush for davenport and sofa chairs; and soon delicious refreshments, consisting of pumpkin pie and whipped cream, and coffee, were served, after which the guests departed in a mood clearly bespeaking their utter enjoyment of the evening.

The guests were: Misses Wade, Montgomery, Kearns, Gates, Pence, L. Collins, A. Cox, McDaniel, Stanton, Honnold, Madden, Kahn, Springer, Johnson, McInnis, Schrieber, Kelley, Mount, Blackinger, Parsons, McArthur, Palsley, Long, Jenness, Hahn, Swanson, Paeris, Kerr, Healey, Kennedy, M. Cox, Kell, Willett, Wheeler, Arbruster, Disalt, Huston, Gauer, Peasley, and M. Collins; Miss Elizabeth Thomson, of Lewiston; Mesdames Beverly and Vogleson; Messrs. and Mesdames Homer David, Harvey Smith, Howard David, G. V. Mix and O. P. Cockerill.

The Elwetats entertained at a delightful dancing party on Saturday evening. The house was artistically decorated in the many varied colors of autumn leaves. Those present were: Professor and Mrs. Mecham, William Raeder and the Misses Athey, Arbruster, Annis, Baker, Beatle, Bliss, Decker, Gerboth, Hallar, Hardman, Hayne, Noggel, Parrott, Swanson, Yost, Ziegler.

DEAN MILLER OUTLINES FOREST SCHOOL WORK

Dean Miller, in a recent address to forestry students of the university, pointed out the phenomenal growth of the school, and the important place which it is taking among other universities throughout the country.

"We have been drawing students from quite a wide territory," said Dean Miller "Last year 18 states were represented which is a third of the states of the Union. We also had India represented by two students."

"Last year our total registration numbered 75 resident students and 27 correspondent students. So far this year we have 15 states represented in the school of forestry covering territory from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border and from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean. The reason for this attraction to Idaho is perhaps because the timber is in the west."

"I might say a word here as to where our graduates are the data of which was collected for a forestry directory. We do not have a large number of graduates. Our school was established in 1909 and it was three years later before we could hope to have received their degrees from the school of forestry, two of which lost their lives during the World war, making a total of 25 living graduates. "Of these 24, 75 per cent are actually connected with forestry work either in the forestry profession itself or in the lumber business in one form or another, and all of whom are very profitably employed."

JULIA CLAUSSEN DELIGHTS CROWD

Carries Audience Spellbound Thru Exclusive Concert. Prefers German Music to All Others.

The concert given last Wednesday evening in the Auditorium by Madame Julia Classen surpassed by far any that has previously been given in the University. The great artist held her audience spellbound from the beginning until the end of her performance.

The program was composed of three groups of songs, French, German, and English. The first group was extremely delightful, as Madame Classen possessed a beautiful flowing, pure pronunciation, and executed the songs with that light, delicateness so characteristic of the French music. Madame Classen's voice, while seemingly of unlimited volume and power was yet clear and bell-like. Her softest tones were perfectly audible in the extreme rear of the auditorium. One rather unusual quality of her voice, was the width of range. Madame Classen proved to have not only a beautiful mezzo-soprano, but a rich, mellow, contralto as well.

In a personal interview after the concert the marvelous singer said: "The wide range of my voice is due to singing in Opera, because there one is forced to sing both very high and very low. My favorite music is the German. It is real music, and that is the highest compliment that can be paid to it."

While Madame Classen speaks with a Swedish accent, she is distinctly French in her mannerisms. She has a charming and refreshing personality, being very vivacious and witty.

Carries Audience Along Another beautiful quality of her voice was the infinite amount of feeling with which she rendered her songs. While comparatively few of the large audience understood the foreign tongues, yet all were able to feel and interpret the mood or spirit of the song, through her marvelous expression.

Madame Classen left the next day for New York City, having come to the University, directly from Chicago for just the University of Idaho concert.

BUSINESS COURSES PROVING POPULAR

Over 200 Students Major in Economics—Gathering Important Data

That the department of economics and business is popular at Idaho is evidenced by the fact that ten hundred and thirteen students are enrolled in its courses. Two hundred and two of these, according to Professor Dale, head of the department, are majoring in one of its branches.

The Idaho Economics Bulletin, treating such topics as distribution of wealth, transportation problems, banking interest, the importance of the Panama canal from an economic standpoint, etc., is being sent to business men throughout the state. It is issued monthly and is being widely read and quoted by the newspapers.

Professor Gathers Statistics Professor Brown, secretary of the Idaho Statistical association, is getting in touch with educators interested in the gathering and interpretation of statistical data.

In connection with rural sociology Professor Brown is endeavoring to find, by means of questionnaires, what reading material is used by the farmers of the state. By communicating with the teachers in the county districts he is able to list the most popular newspapers and magazines.

INTRA-MURAL BALL CONTESTS RESUMED

Following in the wake of many ankles, intra-mural football took a decided turn today, and conditions are strained. For ten days no games have been played, but up to today the sporting editor could find no reason, but the mystery has finally been solved. Because of the fact that they were so overworked a week ago Saturday, the ambulance drivers of the city struck for higher wages, and it was only with the understanding that they be paid time and one half for overtime that they consented to work at the game Monday night.

But to get back to the game. Who played? For the first three quarters

—See You on the Special— the sport writer couldn't find out himself, but during the third quarter he sneaked up on two of the players and recognized them as an S. A. E. and a Phi Alpha Psi, so it must have been them that played.

So now the race is between the S. A. E.'s and the Phi Gammas. This afternoon was spent in investigation, and at the hospital we discovered that in last Saturday's contests the Phi Gammas won from the Kappa Sigs, and the Phi Alpha Psi aggregation defeated Lindley hall.

So local fans are waiting for the big game next week, when possession of the cup will be contested for.
