SENIOR COMEDY TICKLES CROWD

"For the Love o' Mike" Worth While Attraction. All Star Cast Features.

"For the Love o' Mike," musical comedy presented under the auspices of the senior class Friday night, really delighted a crowd that practically filled the university auditorium. The show was a winner with its clever lines and catchy songs. The crowd left with the satisfied, almost exuberant feeling of having seen a show that they wouldn't have missed even "for the love o' Mike."

Paul Harlan as Michael Winkler, and Arthur S. Guerin, Jr., as Benjamin Moore, were the stars of the production individually and together they made up a team of laugh getting comedians never before equalled on the university campus. In the finale musical number of the first act their antics brought down the house. Both Harlan and Guerin got a laugh from their first appearances in the show. For the two were a show unto themselves and got better as it went along.

The story opened in the Holcom House in the Catskill mountains where tranquility was a motto but "stick 'em prices" was the watchword. Kenneth House as Ting, dapper young bellhop, takes over the management of the house and the management of the amusing entanglements of the production. He did a good job.

Show Gets Away Fast.

The show got away to its record finish in fast time with Ting and Sam, colored porter, played by Bob Fitzke, furnishing the background for the entire show. Then the arrival of Michael Winkler and the party livened up with a vengeance.

Winkler's ambitions totalling $50,000 to marry Jane to Benjamin Moore and Aunt Jane to the man from the matrimonial agency, furnish hilarious amusement along with the counter plot of Ting and Bobbie Baxter, who is in love with Jane. The arrival of Kitty Benders, the regulation article, untangles the entanglements into all the indications of a triple wedding ceremony.

The cast was an all star one with the principals well adapted to their parts. Kenneth House was delightfully full of the devil and amusing ingenuity, and Bob Fitzke as Sam, the porter, drew a laugh with every line.

Aunt Jane Real Character.

Aunt Jane played by Jeanette Grieve, was beautifully done. Miss Grieve made Aunt Jane a character. Hester McKenzie as Suzette, the maid, was charming. Miss Marie Gauer made Jane, Winkler's niece, a substantial character. Walter Lytle was excellent

BASKET BALL SEASON TO START ON MONDAY

Idaho's Fighting Basketeers To Face a Heavy Schedule.

Facing a heavy basketball season, Idaho's "Fighting Vandals" begin official practices next Monday with a prospective line-up fully as strong as the memorable squad of last year. Coach MacMillan, whose team last year won the championship laurels of both the Pacific and Northwest conferences, makes no statements or predictions this early in the season, but all Idaho knows "Mac" is out to develop another winning team.

In general, all the teams of the west are stronger this season than last, and, coupled with the Vandals' 1921-22 record, they will make a very formidable schedule for Idaho. But with the eight letter men who are back and the six men from last year's freshman squad, the prospects are far from unpromising.

Captain "Al" Fox, all-Pacific and Northwest forward, "Oz" Thompson, center on the second all-east mythical team; Harold Telford, the "biggest" guard on last year's five; Harry Edwards, fast passer and clever guard; "Red" Steiner, a very fast

SERVICES AT U HUT TO BE HELD DEC. 10

The informal talk which Professor C. W. Chenoweth was to deliver at the University Hut last Sunday, as announced in last week's Argonaut, has been postponed until Sunday, December 10. At ten o'clock that morning Prof. Chenoweth will preside at a service which will give everyone the opportunity to hear an interesting talk on whatever subject he pleases to choose.

Waffles and Foresters To Combine at Party

From about 8:30 and on into the night on the evening of Wednesday, December 6, Huff's cafe will be filled to overflowing with music, comedians and waffles. The musicians will be of the best, the jokes of the rarest, and the waffles—leave it to the members of the Forester's Club to get away with them.

Under the management of Don Fisher, the foresters of the campus will join in making the most of merry-making. The entertainment for the evening has been worked out to perfection. Among the numbers of the program a clever bit of character impersonation is to be given. Music by a picked orchestra will be enjoyed throughout the evening. Solos will also be offered.

After the syrup has been flowing freely, a more than capable toastmaster will see to it that the speeches are not below par.

IDAHO DEFEATED BY GONZAGA MEN

Bulldogs Nose Out Vandals on Toss of Coin—Flip Decides Game.

Idaho was defeated by Gonzaga university Saturday afternoon at Spokane, 14 to 7, by the flip of a coin—yes, really, by the flip of a coin. The deciding touchdown in the last quarter was finally settled by tossing a dollar after Referee Grover Francis of Portland had made and changed his decision.

Stockton, brilliant backfield player for Gonzaga, had smashed across the line to be tackled by an Idaho man. The impact caused him to fumble the ball and an Idaho man recovered. Then came the referee's whistle and Referee Francis called 'Idaho's ball on 20 yard line.' The first decision was that a touchback had been made with no score.

Big Argument Started

Immediately the referee was surrounded by the Irishmen and he changed his decision. After much argument and after Coaches Mathews and Dorais had been called on the field the referee refused to give a decision and insisted that a coin be tossed as to whether or not it was a touchdown or a touchback. The toss won for Gonzaga.

Idaho completely outplayed Gonzaga in the first half. In the first quarter Idaho carried the ball by straight football to the Bulldogs' four-yard line where a fumble robbed Idaho of the chance to score.

Breshears Makes Touchdown

The prettiest and most sensational run of the day resulted in Idaho's touchdown in the second quarter. Idaho smashed down the field until the 25-yard line was reached. Sixty yards called from there by Breshears to carry the ball on a line plunge. The Idaho linesman opened up a hole and with the other Idaho back field men boring through on interference "Beany" sped through the line. The Idaho interference spilled Gonzaga's second defense and on went Breshears, dodging, twisting, side-stepping the Bulldog tacklers. On went "Beany" with only the Gonzaga safety man between him and the goal line. A desperate attempt to stop Breshears, partially frustrated by Breshears' cleverness and partially stopped by an Idaho man clearing the way, and Breshears was over

MUCKERS STAGE ATHLETIC CARD

Three Boxing and Three Wrestling Event for December 8.

The date for the annual "Muckers' Smudge" annual all college athletic event of the school of mines of the university, has been set for December 8, according to announcement by Stanley McDougall, chairman of the program committee. The "Smudge" is looked forward to as one of the principal athletic events of the college year both on the campus and in Moscow.

Features of the program are to include three wrestling bouts, three boxing events, music by the Idaho Pep band, a tumbling stunt, refreshments, suitable to a smoker, and free "smokes."

Good Boxing Program.

Peterson of Kellogg, a freshman student at the university and Inland Empire amateur lightweight champion, has agreed to meet Leslie, crack lightweight boxer of Washington State college. Harry Donik of Moscow and Gronvalt of W.S.C. have been signed for a boxing bout in the 175 pound class. Two capable 145 pound battlers will be signed up for the third bout.

A studied attempt has been made to bring together the best possible boxers. As far as possible the principals have been signed from Pullman and Moscow so that the keenest of rivalry may be brought about.

In the 160 pound class, Hamilton of Idaho meets Hanson of W.S.C. on the mat. Horning of the Idaho wrestling team is to grapple White of Washington State in the 175 pound weight division and Dechambeau and Molineaux, both Idaho men, are to tangle in the 145 pound class.

WEAR CAP AND GOWN IN PICTURES

The seniors are to have their pictures for the "Gem of the Mountains" taken in the customary cap and gown. This decision was reached at the senior class meeting a week ago Tuesday, and is the result of what has been a lengthy discussion over the question of using the traditional apparel in the pictures.

New Excuse Rule

The Faculty at its Friday meeting amended the regulation requiring excuses for one day absences to be filed within two days, extending the time to five days. This change is effective immediately.

EDWARD F. MASON,
Director of Publication and Secretary of the Faculty.

THANKSGIVING VACATION WILL BE OBSERVED THURSDAY ONLY

A brief reprieve from college duties will be taken tomorrow, Thursday November 30, for the observance of Thanksgiving day. Announcements of the vacation period and plans of the week have been made by faculty and university officials and students are awaiting eagerly the dismissal of classes this evening that will mark the end of work until Friday.

On the campus, a number of social affairs have been planned for the day. The fraternity men and the Lindley hall men have plans made for the observance of the annual event with the essential palatte-tickling dinners.

Matinee at Gymnasium

In the afternoon from three to eight the men of Lindley hall and the women of Ridenbaugh have scheduled a Thanksgiving lunch and matinee dance to while away the hours.

The fraternity and sorority houses will be the scenes, tomorrow evening, of many delightful dancing parties and other entertainments.

Get Reports of Game

As usual leased wire returns of the game at Missoula will be received at the gymnasium when the Vandal ma-

IDAHO PLAYERS TO MEET BRUINS

Coach Mathews Takes 20 Vandals on Last Invasion—Team Ends Season.

University of Idaho Vandals left this afternoon on their final invasion of the season. University students turned out in the snow to see the Idaho football players off on their trip to Missoula, Mont., where the Vandals meet the University of Montana, Thanksgiving day.

Coach R. L. Mathews took 20 players on the trip and the players will break training with a big Thanksgiving dinner in Missoula as the guests of Albert Knudson, graduate manager of athletics.

Hausen Unable To Go.

The Idaho men are scheduled to win from the Montana Bruins, but a hard game is expected. All members of the team are in good shape with the exception of "Dad" Hausen, crack tackle and guard, who was unable to make the trip. Hausen suffered injuries to his leg early in the season and was unable to play against the University of Utah. He played in the game against the University of Southern California and against Gonzaga university but added injuries received in the Gonzaga game have ended the season for him.

The probable Idaho lineup against Montana is: Cobby and Vesser, ends; Vohs and Quinn, tackles; Neal and Goff, guards; Kline, center; Stivers, quarterback; Breshears and Klefner, halfbacks; and Captain "Babe" Brown, fullback. The other players on the trip are: S. Breshears, end; Kinnison, halfback; Marker, tackle and end; Siegfus, tackle; Tardie, end; Stephens, guard; Tapper, guard; Hubble, guard; Kershinsnk, tackle.

Stanford Opposes Tubbing
Stanford University, Palo Alto, Cal. (P. I. P. A.)—The sophomore class has gone on record as officially opposed to all tubbing, and pledged strict observance of the university's regulations against the water cure. Other measures of upholding traditions will be discovered.

Bench and Bar Dance

Billed as one of the best dances of the collegiate year the students of the college of law present their annual Bench and Bar dance Saturday night in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock. The lawyers are making extensive preparations for the dance, a limited number of tickets are being placed on sale, the floor will be in excellent condition for dancing, and the best possible music has been obtained.

The "Lawyers' Special" will be the tenth dance and "My Horse Charlie," it is understood, will be featured.

NO FULL DRESS FOR JUNIORS IN ANNUAL

That the formal "soup and fish," which has customarily been the toga of their class, will not be worn this year for the "Gem of the Mountains" pictures, was the decision of the Junior class at their meeting last Tuesday evening. The class also voted to let the member who won in the try-outs represent them at the inter-class discussion which is being planned by Prof. Lewis A. Harding of the English department.

University Alumnus Named on Air Board

Claude W. Gibson, Boise attorney, who graduated from the university in 1901, is a member of the new air control board recently appointed by Mayor E. B. Sherman of Boise. This board is to draw up regulations governing flying over Boise and also to work for advancement of aviation in that city. Another member of the board is W. S. Bruce, former university regent.

Mr. Gibson is mentioned in connection with this announcement as the inventor of an airplane stabilizer.

Mr. Gibson has been the business manager for the annual Armistice Day football game in Boise for the three years since this game was established and has contributed largely to its success.

IDAHO FRESHMEN LEAD NORTHWEST

Sixteen Yearlings Win Numerals by Performance on High Scoring Team.

Sixteen University of Idaho Freshmen win their football numerals this season by virtue of performance on the Idaho yearling machine, according to recommendations made to the athletic board by David MacMillan, freshman coach. The Idaho freshmen are recognized as first year collegiate champions of the northwest this season on the basis of elimination.

The freshmen established a new scoring record, piling up 231 points during the season against seven for their opponents. The single touchdown came in the last period of the Armistice day game with the Washington State college freshmen at Pullman.

Scored on Once.

The freshmen won every game they played this season by a substantial margin. Their successful season, culminating in a 21 to 7 victory over the Cougar cubs, gives the Idaho yearlings the northwest freshman championship. The players of the class of 1926 make up, without question, the greatest yearling eleven ever produced at Idaho.

MacMillan's team would not have been scored on this season had it not been for the W. S. C. freshmen game. This touchdown came in the last quarter of the game and during the season of six games the Vandal Babes piled up a total of 231 points. The Cougar Cubs were the only men to endanger the Idaho freshmen goal line.

Material Next Year.

The freshmen were coached along the same lines as Coach R. L. Mathews handled the Idaho varsity. As a result the freshmen players are looked upon as good material for the varsity next season.

Those recommended for numeral awards are: Captain Wayne Davis, Gooding, quarterback; Victor Cameron, Boise, fullback; Gifford Davison, Nampa, halfback; Neal Nelson, Heyburn, halfback; Ted Bucklin, Idaho Falls, end; Edwin Holden, Idaho Falls, tackle; Dean Sibley, Boise, guard; Philip McKinney, Lewiston, center; Orville Jones, Aberdeen, guard; Irving Terry, Plattsfield, N. J., tackle; Hanley Payne, Idaho Falls, end; Wilbur Disney, Rupert, guard; Ray Stephens, Blackfoot, guard; William Landson, Boise, end; Otto Huofner, Kellogg, halfback; Jack Phipps, Twin Falls, fullback.

BISHOP DECRIES USE OF SLANG

Touret Inquires Into Use of Racial Inheritances in Assembly Address.

Are we college people wasting our great literary inheritance?

"Most high school and, I regret to say, many college students use, in their daily conversation, about 20 nouns, 10 verbs, perhaps five adjectives and quite a number of conjunctions and prepositions to stick the whole thing together," declared the Right Reverend Frank Hale Touret, Bishop of the Episcopal district of Idaho, in his splendid address on "The Meaning of Education," in assembly last Wednesday.

"The hackneyed phrases, 'I'll tell the world,' 'it got my goat,' 'can you cement that?' and the rest of them are taking too big a place in the average person's daily conversation. The use of such slang indicates a laziness of speech, and will inevitably react detrimentally on the character.

Appreciate Mother Tongue

"The only remedy," Bishop Touret told the students, "for this careless use of our mother tongue is the true appreciation of its correctness. And this appreciation may be gained, principally, through reading good literature, the Bible, real poetry and worthwhile books. An extensive library is an invaluable assistance in providing a wealth of this good material."

According to the Bishop, there are four other inheritances of the race which we all are entitled to enjoy:

"In each of us there is a desire for some conception of our universe and of the processes by which we have arrived at our present stage of development. A certain group of men calling themselves 'Fundamentalists,' led by William J. Bryan, have declared against the theory of evolution, claiming it not in keeping with the teachings of christianity. A real understanding of our scientific inheritance will insure us against the false contentions of such men.

Develop Aesthetic Inheritance

"Because art is often regarded as highbrow stuff, many of us repress an inward craving for the cultivation of this aesthetic inheritance. No greater mistake could be made, for the ability to appreciate good pictures, music and architecture is rapidly becoming essential to a complete education.

"We are all created with the ability and desire to work, play and live together, which expresses itself in our institutional inheritance. We are not applying this capacity enough to our own government, for the widespread disregard of law that is prevalent to-

HOW MAY GERMANY PAY REPARATIONS ?

Professor H. C. Dale Discusses Phases of World Problem

The intricate interrelationship of the payment of the reparations by the German republic with the commercial enterprises of the entire world and the correlated reasons why the reparations question has assumed such gigantic proportions was the context of the discourse at the Open Forum last Thursday evening by Professor H. C. Dale, head of the Economics Department.

Reviewing briefly but concisely the negotiations that have occurred in regard to the collection of reparations by the Allied powers since the signing of the peace treaty, Professor Dale took up the problem from its present-day application.

"There are two ways in which Germany could pay off the 132,000,000 gold marks now due the Allies and either way seems upon examination to be undesirable to the debtor nations.

"In the first place she could pay by gold currency. But to do this she would have to build a commercial enterprise of such dimensions that

THE SEASON OF 1922

Idaho football loses three of its foremost luminaries next season. Captain "Babe" Brown, the greatest defensive halfback in the history of Idaho football, star punter, a speeded up locomotive on the offensive, and an Idaho captain who has personified the fine spirit of Idaho athletics; Jimmy Neal, who has played for three years, a steady, consistently heady, and fighting game at guard; and "Beany" Breshears, the best of the famous Breshears family of football players, who is winding up his already brilliant athletic career this season at halfback—these three men will be missed next season.

BUT—Watch out for Idaho next season.

In the first place Coach R. L. Mathews, who has won the lasting respect and devotion of every football candidate, the esteem and admiration of alumni, the whole-hearted confidence of undergraduates and faculty, and the man who has placed Idaho football on a par with the best in the county, will be back.

The Vandal players of 1922, with the exception of Brown, Breshears and Neal, will be in suits early next fall. They will be experienced veterans after the hardest and most impossible schedule ever placed upon an Idaho team.

The freshman material from the yearling collegiate championship eleven of the northwest will be available. The frosh have been coached by David MacMillan along the same lines as those used by Coach Mathews.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

An honor system for all colleges of the university.

A.S.U.I. publication of the year-book.

Collection of class dues as a part of A.S.U.I. fees.

Publication of a codified A.S.U.I. constitution.

Six weeks exams.

Publication of a real Idaho song-book.

The discovery or composition of a suitable Alma Mater song. Consider "Dawning Sun Upon the Mountain."

Patronage of the vesper recitals of the music department on Sunday afternoon. Why not be well-rounded and take advantage of an opportunity to hear really fine music?

The adoption of distinctive garb for all classes.

Attendance at assembly and why not front seats? Musical comedy—yes. Why not for all programs? One hears better.

A continuance or abandonment of the calling system of previous years. If abandonment, what plans are there for a system of getting better acquainted?

Why not think of something yourself?

SOMETHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Idaho's Vandals of 1922.

Coach R. L. Mathews.

The fact that classes are dismissed anyway on Thursday.

The weather.

The possibility of turkey.

Thanksgiving boxes from home.

The prospects for basket ball.

The freshman champions.

The fact that we are Idaho men and women.

SETTING A PRECEDENT

The Washington club has donated $10 toward the activities of the Knights of the Ball and Chain. Truly a praiseworthy action for the benefit of a splendid organization. It might not be out or order to consider the action of the Washington club in the nature of setting a precedent.

SOCIETY

The Engineers' dance, held in the gymnasium Saturday, heads the list of social events for the past week. Stunts and specialties known only to engineers made the dance a decided success. The programs were made by the blue print method, and everything at the dance was done with the idea of impressing one that it was distinctly engineering. A revolving turntable, throwing various colored lights on the dancers, held a position in the center of the ceiling, and from it black and orange streamers were hung to the walls. The feature of the evening was the engineers' special, which was danced to radio music.

The Phi Delta Theta house was the scene of a delightful little party last Saturday. Good music and a unique lottery system, by which the ladies drew names from boxes for their dancing partners featured the evening. The plan saved the many hours of tedious work usually required for making out the programs and shifted the responsibility for the personnel

DEADLY TOURNAMENT DOST RAGE

It is hereby and hereon announced to all parties that Bunny Moore and his worthy co-partner art in the midst of a deadly and finely contested tournament. The object of the aforesaid memorable contest being to discern which of the two parties art the worthiest and most gracious at indoor golf, otherwise known as pool.

The first round of the dealy combat wast won by none other than Bob, the party of the second part. But Bunny wythe true courage didst retaliate ande didst garner the big tin star as the dust from the second engagement didst clear up.

The medal as wone by Bunny hasst been suspended in the place known as the Palace of Sweets where all the curious may view it. Betting odds at present run strongly in Bunny's favor as he has been the holder of the magnificent star since Nov. 23, past 1 nthis same year of our Lord as xmas comes in this year.

In six several trials Bob has been driven off in the last few minutes of play by the evasive Bunny and the decoration is still Bunny's.

The next installment of the battle will be held in the Moscow Ivory Palace this afternoon, next. Returns will be posted in the window of the Palace of Sweets where all mayest see. The medal ist now hanging in the Palace of Sweets.

Alpha Sigma Gamma Banquets at U Hut

A banquet was given in the U Hut Tuesday evening by Alpha Sigma Gamma, upperclassmen's professional fraternity in the department of economics and business. Professor H. C. Dale, head of the department, Prof. S. F. Browne, and Prof. L. I. Schoonover, faculty advisor of the fraternity, were guests. Professor Dale gave a short talk on "Business as a Profession."

In two difficult parts, Bobbie Baxter and Kitty Benders. Miss Henrietta Peasley made Kitty Benders a real feature of the show.

Two specialty dances were features. The first by Gerald Gill and Mary Paisley drew two encores and the specialty by Miss Dorothy Parsons, Port Arthur. Sven Moe and Ulla Powell was even more warmly received.

Every chorus number furnished the demand for two or more encores. The chorus singing was good and catchy clever. Probably the feature musical numbers were "Little Sophie Green," by Mr. Fitzke, and the girls' chorus and "The Flapper Walk," by Miss McKenzie and chorus. Members of the chorus were:
Grace Jacobson, Katherine Hahn, Helen Zeigler, Polly Thomas, Helen Woods, Alene Long, Agatha Platt, Beulah Brown, Fred Taylor, Harold Johnson, Carroll Davis, Vaughn Price.

Herbert Karlburg, Darwin Simmons, Ray Burbidge, and Van Peterson.
Rex Kimmel Manager.

One of the most remarkable features of the show is that the production was virtually developed into a finished professional musical comedy in 10 days. J. Stanton McLaughlin was director, and Rex Kimmel was general manager. Miss Rhoda Felton, Miss Mary Paisley, and Gerald Gill were directors of the chorus. Virginia McRae was property manager. Kenneth Anderton was business manager.

The Idaho Pep band orchestra, lead by Eric Leithe, was one of the many features of the show.

Proceeds of the production will go into the treasury of the senior class. The success of the production would seem to assure the giving of a similar production each year and plans are now being made to present the show at Lewiston early in December.

Punts and Passes (By Slim Plekens)

Did we hear someone say that there is no such thing as luck?

That person is mistaken. Luck has been absent in every game that Idaho has played this season. Even the luck in flipping a coin was against us in Saturday's struggle.

According to correct interpretation of the rules, the score made by Gonzaga in which so much dispute occurred, should not have been allowed, and should have been called a touchback with the ball placed in play on Idaho's twenty yard line in the Vandal's possession.

This is the first time a coin has ever decided a touchdown.

Question: Why is a referee?

Doctor Miller lecturing to the freshman English class says that the average college woman has a vocabulary of about 800 words. It is a small stock, but think, Doctor, of the turnover.

Why not have the coaches, in future games, toss a dollar to decide whether or not first downs have been made; whether or not a team should be penalized for offense; whether or not a touchdown is a score; yes, even to determine whether or not a game should be played?

Intra-Mural Basket Ball To Start Soon

Intramural basketball plans were made by the athletic representatives of the various groups at a meeting held Monday afternoon. Ten teams will compete for the cup, and each team will have one game scheduled with every other team. A schedule will then be arranged for the five winners, to pick the championship team.

With varsity practice every afternoon, and freshman practice every evening, it was exceedingly difficult to arrange a time for the intramural teams, and the present arrangement will give the teams the gym every afternoon from 5:30 to 7:30 for practice and games. The schedule will begin Friday, December 15.

ho secondary defense with the threat of a long pass the Bulldogs were able to gain eight and ten yards regularly with passes over the line of scrimmage. Stockton whipped the pig-skin like a bullet.

Gonzaga went from her own 15-yard line to a touchdown in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter an Idaho man fumbled on the Vandal 20-yard line and Gonzaga recovered. A series of completed forward passes and then Stockton carried the ball on the play that won the game for Gonzaga. This was the play that caused the big argument and that had to be decided by the flip of a coin.

Gonzaga has a great forward passing team. It is hard to lose a game,

IDAHO VIOLET SETS RECORD

Idaho Jersey Establishes New Record on Quantity of Output During Year.

Official records have just been received from the Holstein-Friesian association of America, showing that Idaho Violet Posch Ormsby, one of the best producers on the university farm has just broken some more milk and butter fat records. Idaho Violet has established new state records for milk production for both the seven and the 30-day periods. She started the test at 9 years, 5 months, and 18 days and during the seven-day period produced 730.7 pounds of milk and 23.466 pounds of butterfat; equivalent to 29.33 pounds of butter. In the 30-day period she produced 2868.3 pounds of milk and 97.870 pounds of butterfat, equivalent to 122.34 pounds of butter.

The 30-day record established by Idaho Violet is the second highest state record.

Idaho Violet achieved this just after freshening, after she had broken her own state production record. Last year she gave 21,379.3 pounds of milk, 805.9 pounds of fat, equivalent to 1007 pounds of butter, which stands as a record for all breeds for 1921.

Dairy officials say she is going better this year and barring accidents she should break her record again. Her total to November 1 is 18,755 pounds of milk, 676.5 pounds of fat or 845 pounds of butter. This record for 233 days is not official but shows that she is still capable of holding her own as the state's best producer.

About two months after freshening she began increasing production and was again put on the seven-day test. She raised her butterfat mark to 25,776 pounds, equivalent to 32.22 pounds of butter, which surpasses her former seven-day state record for aged cows.

During that period her milk tested higher but the volume production was not so great. She is also holder of the high milk producing record, having produced 105.6 pounds, over 12 gallons in one day.

University Graduate Sets Production Mark

Ward Gano, a Moscow farmer who recently established a new record for quantity potatoes, was formerly a student of the university, being enrolled in the college of agriculture as a member of the class of 1916. Mrs. Gano was Mabel Drury, a member of the class of 1918.

Mr. Gano's recent achievement was the delivery of 370,089 pounds of potatoes, grown on 36 acres, under contract to the Washburn and Wilson Seed company of Moscow. This is said by Herman Wilson of the seed company to have been the largest yield he has ever known from a field of that size, averaging more than 100 sacks to the acre and the quality being excellent.

guard; "Bill" Gartin, speed and the ability to stick to his man; Ade Nelson, one of the most accurate shots on the team; and "Pete" Wynan, who made an enviable record two years ago, will all be out next Monday. And with them "Johnnie" Vesser, Walter Reamer, "Dusty" Kline, "Sib" Kleffner, "Skip" Stivers, "Joe" Thomas and "Bennie" Keane, all of whom bring promising records from the freshman squad.

According to Coach MacMillan, the schedule will not be entirely completed until December 8. It will include a trip during the holidays, when a number of games will be played. The "home and home" system will be used in both conferences this year; the home floor of each contending team. So for every game played on a foreign floor Idaho will have one played at home.

The whole Pacific northwest has been divided into two sections and in the finals the winner of the southern section will meet the winner of the northern section on their own floor in a series of three games for the championship.

Y. W. C. A. BEGINS FIRESIDE SUPPERS

The first of a series of Sunday night fireside suppers, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. was given Sunday, November 26, in the U hut. The hut was quite transformed for the occasion with shaded lights and chairs intimately grouped around a blazing fire.

Refreshments were served cafeteria style from a long table lighted with shaded candles. A clever program was given under the direction of Jean Rowlands. Thone Roosa and Ted Turner gave banjo selections; Editha Barton and Florence Selby sang; Irene Starr played; and Jeanette Grieve gave readings and "told a story."

Dean French talked to the girls, emphasizing the need for regular church attendance. The evening ended with Idaho songs. These suppers are to be given twice a month during the winter. Their purpose is to give all the girls of the campus a social hour together.

Call For Basket Ball Brings Out 70 Frosh

Seventy young aspirants for the freshman basketball squad reported for practice last Monday evening in answer to the first call by Coach "Squinty" Hunter. This is not an unusually large turn-out, but it is far too great a number to be efficiently handled; so, according to Coach Hunter, within the next few weeks a process of elimination will reduce the number to a manageable squad.

With possibly the exception of Bill Landson and Glen Talbot, who were all-state basketball men two years ago, there are probably no outstanding high school records in the squad. This, however, is not necessarily a handicap to this year's freshman team, and in the opinion of many who have made the comparison, this season's prospects are at least as bright as they were last year.

Some basket shooting and a few minutes of scrimmage was all that was attempted Monday, but from now on practice will be in earnest every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening at 7:30.

IDAHO GRAD HOLDS IMPORTANT POSITION

Claude J. Hayden, who was a member of the class of 1913, majoring in horticulture, is now horticulturist for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company, with headquarters at Albany, Alabama. Mr. Hayden was a member of Zeta Delta, now Sigma Nu. He received his master's degree from North Carolina State college in 1916. He went overseas as a captain in the 11th infantry and served in the St. Mihiel and Argonne-Meuse battles. Since returning he has served the Seaboard Air Line Railroad as development agent and has been associate professor of horticulture at Clemson college.

Barton Physical Instructor

Wesley Barton, son of Professor J. A. Barton, is a physical instructor and student this year at Peabody college, Nashville, Tennessee. He teaches swimming and gymnasium work ten hours a week, and is registered both in Peabody college, which is a teachers' college, and in Vanderbilt university. Mr. Barton took his junior year at the University of Idaho and then taught last year at Fraser.

Interpret Racial Inheritances

"Education is not, as many believe, simply the accumulation of facts, it is not the making of oneself into a veritable storehouse of information; education is the interpretation of these racial inheritances which go to make up a complete life."

John L. McMillin, grand counselor of Sigma Chi, who is here investigating the local fraternity, Phi Alpha Psi, which is petitioning Sigma Chi, expressed his enjoyment of his visit and thanked the faculty and students for their hospitality.

Dean Francis A. Thomson, chairman of the committee on public events, was in charge of the assembly.

HOW MAY GERMANY PAY HER REPARATIONS

it could not fail but be a menace to the business of the allied nations themselves.

"There is only about 7 billion dollars of gold in the world available for currency and the United States holds between three and four billions of that. Therefore, she would have to build up her industries.

"The second manner in which Germany might discharge her reparation obligations would be through delivery of goods, but this would work the same hardship. In this event she would have to perfect her business enterprises until she would flood the world markets with cheaper goods than could be manufactured elsewhere. Then too, this would mean that the workers of the powers collecting the goods would be idle and the countries would be disrupted internally.

"In either method of payment the result is the same in the last analysis. The debts so students of economics say, would really be paid only at the expense of the powers to whom they are due.

"No nation wants to see Germany restored even to her prewar standing in the commercial world and she should have to have at least 100 per cent more in order to meet her debts. Apparently, there is no solution for the dilemma in sight and that is why cancellation of debts is being talked in many circles today.

"If the Allies cannot collect from Germany they cannot pay the United States the ten billion dollars they owe her. From this angle, again, the question of reparations seems so far from being settled and is very near to the American public."

Professor Dale has a reputation of being a well posted man on economic matters and room 207, where the talk was made, was overflowing at an early hour. He will probably speak before the forum again at a later date.
