WOMEN TO HAVE OWN GLEE CLUB

Eighteen Co-eds Organize to Give Concerts Thruout State— Selby President, and Ebbley Manager.

For the first time in the history of the university, the Girls' glee club will give a series of outside concerts. At a meeting on December 12, at Litz hall, the club was formally organized. Miss Florence Selby, of Boise, Idaho, was elected president and Miss Demerice Ebbley, of Wallace, Idaho, manager. A committee composed of Miss Florence Selby, Miss Demerice Ebbley and Miss Unita Lipps was appointed to interview Miss French, dean of women, who gave her permission for the girls to give concerts out of town.

It is the plan of the club in the very near future to approach the A. S. U. I. for recognition on the same basis as the men's glee club and the Pep band. At present there is no women's organization on the campus which receives financial assistance from the A. S. U. I.

Eighteen Members

There are eighteen members in the club, and each voice has been carefully chosen, so that the result is a beautiful harmonization of selected voices. Miss Irene Starrh, who is one of the university's most talented pianists, will accompany the club. The members are as follows:

Demerice Ebbley, Wallace; Marion Evans, Spokane; Helen Holl, Willow City, N. D.; Helen Haller, St. Maries; Opal Hunt, Omaha, Neb.; Marie Johnson, St. Maries; Hester McKenzie, Jerome; Mary Gettys, New Castle, Wyo.; Dorothy Mullaney, St. Maries; Florence Selby, Boise; Irene Starrh Boise; Polly Thomas, Twin Falls; Frances Lynch, Boise; Mildred Minsky, Boise; Fern Cranston, Sandpoint; Lillian Hardman, Twin Falls; Unita Lipps, Lapwai and Luella Kirkendall, Payette.

Lose Eight Players.

California will lose eight strong football players this year. This will prove a great loss to Andy Smith's team, because the men have been playing together for four years, and formed the backbone of the team.

SPECIAL READY FOR SOUTH RUN

Highball Christmas Special In Readiness to Carry Students Home for the Holiday Season.

As the result of a telegram sent to President Carl Gray of the Union Pacific System at Omaha, by President A. H. Upham of the University of Idaho, a conference was ordered between A. S. Edmonds, traffic manager of the Union Pacific, William McMurray, general passenger agent and E. A. Klippel and President Upham. As a result of this conference held Monday afternoon in Moscow, special rates of fare and one-half were announced for all points on the Oregon Short Line.

The rates were made effective between Friday, December 22, and Wednesday, January 3, which will necessitate holding the Southern special in Moscow until 12:01, midnight, Thursday. Following is the complete revised schedule submitted Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Klippel:

- Going.
- Leave Moscow 22nd 12:01 a.m.

BROADCAST CAROLS BY RADIO TUESDAY

Twenty-five selected voices from the two glee clubs of the University last evening sang a group of Christmas carols which were broadcasted by radio throughout the entire northwest. The arrangement was made through the efforts of Dean Permeal French, E. O. Bangs, and Mr. Woodworth and Mr. House, university students who operate the local broadcasting station on the north side hill.

The broadcasting of the carols was a part of the plan inaugurated this year to sing Christmas songs throughout Moscow, and because of the clearness of the evening, it is thought that they could be heard throughout practically the entire Pacific Northwest. Advance notice of the intention to send out the concert was carried in press dispatches sent out from the University Saturday, so that a large number radio fans were undoubtedly waiting to catch the first notes of the Christmas concert last night between the hours of 7:30 and 8:30.

VANDALS TAKE HOLIDAY TOUR

Idaho Quintet Leaves for Trip Through Inland Empire Prior to Opening of Season.

University of Idaho Vandals, two-conference champions last year, start their annual Christmas holiday basketball tour Thursday, with a game against the Cheney Normal school quintet at Cheney. This game is to be followed by eight others against the crack teams of the Inland Empire. The trip is designed to give the Vandals a taste of scrimmages and to give Coach David MacMillan a great opportunity to see his men work under fire.

Basket ball prospects are bright. Coach MacMillan continues to be silent on the prospects and the players are saying nothing and working hard. To the undergraduate, however, the prospects for another two conference championship team are absolutely brilliant. The players are working better together now than they were at the same time last year and the Christmas tour will put the team in the best of shape for the opening of the conference season on January 12 at Moscow.

Competition Waxen Keen

Competition for places on MacMillan's team is unusually keen. There are seven letter men out and the variety candidates from last year's crack freshman five are furnishing considerable activity for the veterans of last year. No announcement of the men who will make the basket ball trip during the holidays could be made early this week, but Coach MacMillan will take 10 players.

Pull Good Ones In Mental Tests

University of Washington, Seattle, (P. I. P. A.)—There is very little about modern or ancient personages, places, or characters that Washington's freshmen do not know, as was revealed by answers to a questionnaire recently given the English composition class by W. R. Gunlach. "Who was William George?" Why he is "Lloyd George's little brother," ran one of the answers. Equally startling is the fact that Mustapha Kemal Pasha is head of the Japanese navy; "Oliver Twist" is a kind of tobacco, and Mozart is a brand of cigars. Other sample of freshman intelligence are: "Jago," Japanese rice; "Sir Roger de Coverly," an old fashioned square dance; "Becky Sharp," a music writer; "Heifetz," the name of a cow; "Demosthene," a Russian writer; "Dardenelles," the name of a song, and "Ronald Amudsen," a painter.

STUDENTS WILL CARRY MESSAGE HOME CHRISTMAS

GOFF CHOSEN TO HEAD "I" CLUB COMING YEAR

Plans for Annual Dance are Made at Meeting of Letter Men.

A meeting of the "I" club was held Wednesday night at the Sigma Nu house, primarily to elect officers for the coming year. Those elected were Abe Goff, president; Jim Neal, vice president; and "Lefty" Marineau, secretary-treasurer.

Then came plans for the "I" club dance which will be given shortly after Christmas. Elaborate plans are being laid to make this the most successful dance of the year.

The second annual "I" club, all college, smoker to be given late in the spring, was discussed and this also promises to be good.

One "ringers" will be initiated at the first conference basketball game. "Sib" Kleffner will be in charge.

WINTER SHORT COURSE TO OPEN

New classes in the college of agriculture winter short course open January 4. It is announced that students who were not able to attend during the fall months may enter advantageously in January.

The short course is planned to give practical class room and laboratory training in such lines of work as dairying, poultry raising, livestock production, field crops, soils, fruit growing, farm motors, and many others.

The short course is open to students over 16 years of age who have had not less than grade school training.

ALUMNI DANCE AT LEWISTON

Lewiston, (Special to The Argonaut)—Under the auspices of the University of Idaho alumni association of Lewiston a dance for all students or graduates of any college or university will be given in the ball room of the Lewis-Clark hotel on Wednesday night, December 27.

An invitation has been extended to the university students who remain in Moscow for the holidays. Gibson Stalker, former Idaho undergraduate, is a member of the committee in charge. The price of the dance has not yet been determined.

Vaudeville Try Outs To Be Finished Soon

"All try-outs for the vaudeville to be given by the Women's League will be completed before Christmas vacation," stated Miss Rhoda Felton, who is directing the production. The vaudeville will be similar to the one given last year but will include a larger cast.

One of the leading attractions will be the original features of the chorus, which will include about thirty girls. The vaudeville will be given on February 16. Margaret Blackinger and Demerice Ebbley will assist Miss Felton in the direction of the vaudeville.

HEAR LECTURE ON WOOD PRESERVATION

The eighth of the engineering lectures was given by C. N. Whitney of the Forest Products Bureau of the United States Forest Service on the topic of "Wood Preservation."

Mr. Whitney brought before the engineers the needs of wood preservation in the United States. One of the main points made by Mr. Whitney was that the United States is using five times more wood than is grown each year.

Ways and means of preserving wood already in use were discussed, as was also the treatment of wood which is to be used. The railroads and telephone companies were cited as organizations which were helping in the preservation of timber.

With the lecture slides were shown, showing the effect of fungi growth on wood which has been used in building bridges and other wooden structures.

GIVE STUDENTS A TRY AT SPEAKING

Billed as three "Chinese Engineers," three prominent upperclassmen in the Engineering college, Wednesday evening, gave interesting talks to the Engineering association on different phases of their work.

One of the men spoke on the wage system in America. The advantages and disadvantages were discussed and ways in which the system could be improved. The second of the trio took for discussion the subject of companies, corporations, and partners. The third of the trio discussed stocks and bonds. In this topic, different types of stocks and bonds were taken up, giving the advantages and disadvantages of each.

It is hoped that more of the engineers' meetings will be of this type, and that more engineers of the university will take an interest in the meetings and attend whenever possible.

WORK ON 1924 BOOK TO BEGIN IN JANUARY

Best Book Ever Published Is Promise of the Editor.

"Active work will commence on the 1924 Gem of the Mountains immediately after the Christmas vacation," said Editor Preuss, "and we expect to put out a more uniform and carefully planned book than has ever been on the campus. The book will probably be about the same size as last year's annual. Every department editor has his work well planned, so a good book is promised by the staff."

Changes to Be Made.

One change is being made this year in connection with the arrangement for the collection of fees for space by the eighty different organizations on the campus. Heretofore some organizations have reserved space, had their material inserted in the book and have then forgotten to pay for the same. This has caused a shortage in the finances of the annual so in order to eliminate this, Editor Preuss said that if any organization wanted a page reserved, the fees would have to be forthcoming before the report would be printed. He said it would be well for the organizations to note this fact as knowledge of it may prevent troublesome inconveniences.

Plan For Engagements Of Musical Comedy

The advisability of send "For the Love of Mike," the senior musical comedy that elicited considerable commendable comment last month, to Lewiston and Pullman and of a return engagement at the university auditorium was the main topic of business at the senior class meeting last Thursday.

Definite action on any course was left to the discretion of Rex Kimmel, manager of the comedy, who has been investigating the possibility of giving the musical again.

The state of finances of the class and the matter of getting prompt collection on class dues was considered at the meeting. Some time was also spent discussing the historical pageant to be staged under the auspices of the class next spring.

AVERAGE FIVE MILES COLLEGE DAY'S WORK

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, (P.I.P.A.)—Five miles was covered by the students at Oregon Agricultural College in an ordinary school day, according to figures arrived at recently. This was found in an experiment tried out by one of the Oregon Agriculture students. From eight o'clock until six a pedometer was carried, and as each step was taken this clock-like instrument would register. This is an average for students living on the campus.

Winter Sports Carnival

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, (P.I.P.A.)—A winter sports carnival will be in vogue if the present plans of the booster committee are carried out.

BUILDINGS CRYING NEED UNIVERSITY

Needs of the University Set Forth by Dr. Upham so That Students in Going to Their Homes May Talk Intelligently Concerning Financial Short-comings of Their University.

"The taxpayers of Idaho do not realize that with the increase in enrollment in the last few years must come increased expenditures," declared President A. H. Upham in discussing the University's needs for the coming biennium. "Whatever financial depression does, it does not decrease the number of young people wanting a college education," the Idaho President said. The University administration is asking for an appropriation aggregating $250,000 more than the amount granted at the last legislature.

Of this sum, $50,000 will be necessary to cover an amount expected from certain outside sources which failed to materialize. Of the remaining amount, $150,000 will be used to defray increased budget expenses, such as the hiring of additional instructors and supplies which increase in proportion to the number of students; $17,000 will be used by the extension division; $12,000 to enlarge and equip the engineering building, the administration building and Morrill Hall and $25,000 to enlarge the armory and equip the gymnasium. $235,000 is being asked to erect a new science hall, to house all of the science courses taught at the university.

Science Hall Imperative

The last two years has seen an increased enrollment of 400 students and the addition of 20 instructors to care for the influx. The university thus finds itself in the position of having a gratifying enrollment increase, without the buildings to handle such a growth. The need for a science hall is imperative. Night chemistry laboratories, without proper lighting or ventilation, in a building where frequently acid and chemical reagents leak through to lower floor rooms, have been the order for the past three years. By removing all sciences to a science hall, one half of an entire floor in the Administration building

CO-ED DEBATERS CHOSEN FRIDAY

Six Girls Will Represent Idaho in Triangular Debate.

As a result of the try-out for the Idaho-Whitman-Washington debate, December 14, the following six girls were selected: Allegra Eckles, Portland, Ore.; Jane Gibbs, Caldwell; Elizabeth Sandelius, Moscow; Constance Taylor, Burley; Bessie M. Savage, Nampa; and Mary I. Vassar, Lewiston.

The judges for the tryout were Professor J. L. Rentfro of the English department, Mrs. M. L. Sargent for the Modern Language department and Professor James J. Gill of the Law department.

Work Will Begin at Once.

Work on the debate will begin at once under the guidance of Professor Lewis A. Harding. The debate will be held February 8, 1923. Idaho's negative team will debate the University of Washington's affirmative team at Seattle; the U. of W. negative team will debate Whitman's affirmative team at Walla Walla; Whitman's negative team will debate the U. of I. affirmative team at Moscow.

CO-EDS WIN GRADES ON LIGHTER COURSES

We would like to finish up our discussion of the relative brain power evidenced by men and women in college by referring to an article printed in a University of Southern California paper. They have it all doped out.

The women's grades average higher than men's, they claim, not because of superior brilliancy, but because the women select lighter courses. Statistics compiled on a small scale showed that on the U. S. C. campus, women average two hours less work than men, take lighter subjects, and have fewer outside activities.

A school for cheer leaders has been inaugurated at the University of Iowa. The plan is part of a scheme for better cheering at games and contests.

Favors Raise For College Professors

That college professors and other employees of higher institutions of learning should receive a raise in salary from the state for every child born should be instituted," declared Dr. Samuel J. Holmes, professor of zoology at the university.

"A new salary schedule for the academic members of the university should be instituted," declared Dr. Holmes, "a schedule which will remunerate faculty members not only for the quality of the service which they render as educators but for the number of children they bring into the world." He adds, "There should be an automatic increase in salary for every baby born. Unless the state rewards rather than penalizes parenthood, the 'best blood' of the nation will be eliminated within a few generations."

CAROL SINGING GRIPS CAMPUS

Christmas Spirit Pervades Students During Week.

The students of the University of Idaho are imbued with the spirit of Christmas. The week preceding the holidays has been one to bring to the minds of all, the happy message of the Christmas season. The timely suggestion of Dean French, that the students unite in the singing of Christmas carols, has been unanimously acted upon. The suggestion was received with splendid spirit by the various groups of the campus and after a week of practice in their homes, the students assembled in the auditorium Thursday morning and under the direction of Professor E. O. Bangs enjoyed an hour of carol singing.

Sunday evening the campus was the scene of a most beautiful and inspiring activity. Nature has given the University of Idaho a perfectly formed Christmas tree in the heart of the campus and the hand of man has enhanced the beauty of this tree by brightly colored lights and decorations. Here, on Sunday evening, absorbed in the joyous spirit of Christmas, the student body of the university gathered and under the direction of Professor Bangs they sang the carols of Christmas.

Here, in the heart of the campus, where he might share it with all, every student of the university has had already one gaily bedecked, snow covered, frost sparkling and really living Christmas tree. "I am indeed well pleased," said Dean French, "the leader of the movement," "with the manner in which the students have responded. The singing of Christmas carols in its infancy year has been a marked success and will become, I believe, one of Idaho's cherished traditions."

FOR A CAUSE

Idaho students can do much to aid their Alma Mater during the coming fortnight by carrying home with them the story of a state university which is being held stationary through a lack of state appropriations; a story of a university which is educating just one half of the sons and daughters of Idaho, while the other half receives its knowledge at the expense, though ultimate benefit, of other commonwealths.

Those people who know the conditions at the University of Idaho, are not wont to criticize. It is hoped those who base their criticisms on reports, beliefs, and misconceptions, who continually raise a question over increased expenses at the various state institutions of higher learning. By knowing and disseminating the information and facts presented by various interested students last Wednesday, such criticisms can be held, we hope, to a minimum.

The whole question simmers down finally to knowing our topic—the University—and enthusiastically and tactfully working among our friends and associates for its betterment.

It has been reported that some University students thought the pretty lights on the Christmas tree on the campus were presents being distributed by the Electrical Engineering department, and forthwith helped themselves to half a dozen. Such, however, was not the case. It is hard to believe that University people would have no more scruples than to remove the trimmings from a community Christmas tree.

The carol singing undertaken by University students the past week began pretty chilly, but the weather man eased up a little Monday and saved the day, and incidentally aided in what most of us hope will be the establishment of a yearly undertaking by University undergraduates at Idaho.

Club Holds Social Hour Wednesday

The regular monthly social meeting of the Wesleyan club, consisting of active and preferential Methodist student, last Wednesday evening at the University Hut was characterized by musical numbers, talks and refreshments of chocolate and wafers.

Tenor solos by Alfred Brigham, soloist of the Glee club, accompanied by Dr. F. L. Church, a piano solo by Miss Luella Kirkendall and a mixed quartet number by Misses Kirkendall and Roberts and Messrs. Harold Lenhard and Cecil Tulley constituted the musical program.

Dr. H. O. Perry, pastor of the Moscow Methodist Episcopal church, spoke briefly on the value of the "Wesleyan club." At the close of the regular program the members indulged in the singing of Christmas carols.

SOCIETY

Now that the Christmas vacation has at last arrived parties as well as studies are neglected and all thoughts are bent homeward. The Christmas vacation which begins this Thursday December 21, will end on January 4. The Washington Club dance on the sixth of January opens up the usual round of parties for the first of the new year. January 12 is open and on the thirteenth of January is the Women's League dance.

The past week has been the inspiration for many dinners, and delightful social gatherings. Among the many affairs were four large dances; the Phi Gamma Delta party at Eggan's hall, the Elwetas dinner dance at Guild hall, the Kappa Alpha Theta pledge house dance and the Foresters annual all college dance at the gymnasium.

The Phi Gamma Delta dance which was held at Eggan's hall was one of the most original parties of the season. The hall was decorated to represent an Egyptian scene, with its palm trees and the soft shaded lights gave an oriental atmosphere.

The Elwetas dance at the Guild hall was a very pretty affair.

K. A. T. Pledge Dance.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained at a dance for her pledges Saturday night. The decorations of evergreens, mistletoe and holly cleverly carried out the Christmas spirit. During the evening each guest received a gift drawn from a Christmas tree. The guest list included Messrs. Fleming, Safely, Sutherland, Parks, Allumbaugh, Scheneberger, McKinley, Edwards, Russel, Gossett, J. Brown, Drake, Dingle, Fleming, Roise, Guerin, Eldridge, Anderson, Vohs and Mr. and Mrs. O. Stillinger.

Saturday evening, December 16, the Elwetas gave a dinner party at the St. Mark's Guild hall. Streamers added beauty to the cabaret effect, and small Christmas trees enclosed the dance floor. Booths seating four bordered either side of the dance floor, and at the sound of chimes, Miss Hope Gamwell gave a very graceful interpretive dance. As the last course was being served, a drayman wheeled a large Christmas package to the center of the floor and Little Miss Dorothy Gillette burst through its wrappings and charmingly interpreted a snow flake dance.

The remaining hours were spent in dancing. Patronesses and Patrons for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dale, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Oversmith. The guests were Misses R. Beattie, M. Bliss, M. Alvord, F. Graves, M. Healy, S. Trousdale, M. Specht, H. Haller, M. Robbins, M. Huston, H. Ormsby, C. Anderson, A. Nero, L. Morris, M. Pierson, F. Kerr, A. Baker, L. Sebree, H. Zeigler, L. Frantz, V. McRae; Messrs. R. Filtzke, W. Rader, Misses Brown and Hellen- sen, Messrs. Markham and Claudius from W.S.C.

Alpha Delta entertained with a house dance Saturday evening. The house was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums. The guests were: Heath, Lamuel, Wells, Ponzetta, Gudmundson, Quarrels, Emmingham, Crim, Swalley, Briscoe, H. Armstrong, Weholt, H. Wallace and Messrs. Arversona and Eid, both of Pullman.

Dinner guests for the week were: Ridenbaugh Hall. Verle Bartlett, Ruth Hawkins, Jessie McCauley. Dean French had as her guests Mrs. Florence Zumhoff Caughlin, Mrs. J. Day and Miss Bernice Day, the Misses Patchen, Pease and Lean. Gamma Phi Beta. Professor and Mrs. Barton were dinner guests Thursday at the Gamma Phi Beta house. Kappa Alpha Theta. Dean and Mrs. George M. Miller, Professor and Mrs. O'Gorman, Marguerite Barlogi and Mirth McArthur. Kappa Kappa Gamma. Dean and Mrs. Angell, Mr. and Mrs. Schoonover, Neil Barnett, Florence Graves, Edith Walker. Delta Gamma.

Mrs. D. W. Church of Boise and daughter, Miss Bertha Church, Hester Yost, Margaret Kinnyon, the Misses E. Skillern and L. Burnard of Lewiston, Bernice V. Anniss of Pullman, and M. Matthew. Beta Theta Pi. Misses McDougall, Evans, Noggle.

Farrel Hanson, a freshman in the agricultural college, was called home last week due to the serious illness of his mother.

The freshmen of Gamma Phi Beta entertained the alumnae and active chapter at a fireside on Sunday evening. Following the supper the freshmen presented a clever musical act.

Kappa Kappa Gamma held an exchange dinner with Omega Phi Alpha Wednesday.

Ralph Rowell, '22, a graduate of the college of agriculture, was a visitor last week. Mr. Rowell has been concerned with lettuce growing in southern Idaho the past six months.

Hello!

A plea to make every day "Hello Day" at Idaho. Say! don't you just feel sorta fine. As along life's walks you go; And every smiling face you meet Sings out Hello! Hello!

And have you ever stopped to think, When all is fraught with woe, That friendships formed right here at home Will grow and grow and grow?

How often have you trudged along, Your spirit weighted low, And had a song leap in your breast At someone's bright Hello?

Where ever is such spirit found, Such love for friend or foe, As just this place, where classward bound, The watchword is Hello!

We've sung the song, equality; To make all know it's so, Let's keep alive tradition— Hello! at Idaho. —"Snub."

BUBBLES

Indoor Sports.

Being as how it is kind of unsafe outside at present I thought that a few suggestions as to indoor sports might come in handy. Satisfaction nor safety is not guaranteed.

The most common I. S. at this time is getting up in the morning and putting several blankets around your radiator to get it warm. If necessary you can pry loose the polar bears that have been frozen fast to it and by hanging them out the window they will thaw out and be just as good as before. The next popular I. S. is finding somebody's room in which the water has not frozen. If unsuccessful don't worry—if you wash your face it may become frozen before you can dry it.

The commonest I. S. right now is figuring out what you are to give her or him. My suggestion as to the best way to do this is to write the names of all of the possible gifts on small cards. Shuffle the cards three times. Lay them on the table without looking at them. Put on your hat and coat and go to the nearest mail box, count the rivets in the right side and return to the cards. The name of the article that is on the top card would make a very poor gift so the process must be gone through again. By elimination you can in this manner select the most appropriate present.

My most enjoyable I. S. is to sit in front of the grate and wonder what he or she is going to give me. You would be surprised how far off you can guess.

My roommate finds that his most enjoyable I. S. is putting all the coats and bathrobes he can find on his bed and then crawling under them.

A young fellow asked me How I would like to be that tree Out on the campus. And when I asked him why He said because It is all Lit up.

Far be it from me to criticize and I think that this Xmas carol singing is a great idea, but when the fellow in the next room starts to practice—and knows the words but not the tune—drowned him at high tide.

Society sure turned a couple of handrings last Sat. night—four dances, two picture shows and a dog fight.

Even if this column did have a lowly start she sure has a fine end—and here it is.

Well, that's that.

Seattle, (P.I.P.A.)—The new library for the University of Washington will be the largest building on the campus. If about twenty feet were sliced off the width of Education hall, the largest of the present buildings, it could easily be placed inside the reading room of the new library, when it is built. Construction on the new library will start next spring, and the building will be ready for occupation in the fall.

SENATOR CALLAHAN ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY

Discusses Necessary Improvements Needed by the University.

Senator Callahan of Wallace spoke to the students at the close of the business part of the Wednesday assembly. His subject was in keeping with the business discussed earlier in the meeting—that of "working for the improvement and betterment of Idaho."

Study Economic Conditions.
"One of the most important things we can do," said Senator Callahan, "is to study the economic and business conditions which prevail in Idaho at the present." He stated that the future of Idaho rested on the generation now of college age and that to better the conditions would require study and good management on their part.

SAYS POSITION IS UNCHANGED

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Palo Alto, (P.I.P.A.)—Stanford's position in the Pacific Coast conference today is exactly the same as it was before the conference undertook to "reprimand" her scheduling the Pittsburg game.

The delegates at the conference meeting in Seattle last week requested the Stanford representatives to reconsider the resignation; the two thereupon withdrew the resignation, and the withdrawal was accepted.

EVERGREEN WILL COME OUT THREE TIMES A WEEK

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, (P. I. P. A.)—"The Evergreen," State College of Washington's twice-a-week newspaper, will be issued three times a week beginning December 1. Clayton V. Bernhard, editor of the paper, attended the Pacific Intercollegiate Press Association convention, and while there investigated the operations of other college newspapers in order to increase "The Evergreen" in quality as well as in quantity. The rapid growth of the college makes necessary the third issue of the paper each week.

TELLS NON-FRAT MEN OF "FRATERNITY LIFE"

Wm. Briscoe Points Out Salient Features of Greek Letter Groups.

"Some intimate glimpses of what fraternity life means," a talk by William S. Briscoe, of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity featured the meeting of the non-fraternity men at the University Hut Monday evening.

The question of holding a banquet to which the non-sorority women would be invited was discussed and a motion carried to plan such an event early in the new year. A report of the committee appointed to investigate the proposition preceded the action. Other numbers on the program for the evening were two number by the group's orchestra, refreshments and transaction of other business concerning the group.

LIMIT WHITMAN CAMPUS TO FOUR DANCES A YEAR

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Walla Walla, (P.I.P.)—Four informal dances a year at a total cost of one hundred dollars is the rule laid down by the Panhellenic Council. As a further restriction, it was held that the expenses for no single dance should exceed fifty dollars. This movement, it is thought, will be conducive to a democratic spirit in the school as well as to the economical impulses of the students.

IDAHO GRADUATE IS CONSUL AT VIENNA

Member of the Class of '06 Has Important Position

Carol Howe Foster, graduate from the University of Idaho in the class of 1906 is the United States consul at Vienna. As American consul, his duties are numerous and important.

In question to a brief summary of achievements, Carol Foster writes as follows:

After I finished the work required for my Idaho B. A., I went to Oxford and spent the following three years in study and travel. One of the places I enjoyed most was Vienna.

Consul Foster's trips abroad have been numerous. He has visited England, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland and France.

As a consul for the United States at Vienna, he has in his employ several people. He speaks of his staff consisting of twenty-four members, as follows:

I have now in my employ four consular officers, an admiral, a colonel, a commander, a mayor, a count, a baron and baroness, etc.

Besides his work as an American consulate he attained many professional achievements as Rhodes Scholar at Oxford.

LAWYERS NOW U. S. ATTORNEYS

McKeen F. Morrow, of Boise, assistant United State district attorney, who was in Moscow recently while the federal court was in session, is a graduate of the university, class of 1908. He was one of the first Rhodes scholars from Idaho to Oxford, and is now secretary of the committee which designates holders of these scholarships. Another assistant United States district attorney is John H. McEvers, a graduate of the Idaho law school in 1915 who until recently was prosecuting attorney of Shoshone county. Both men are members of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

GREETINGS

The Alumni association, through its officers, extends to every Idaho graduate the heartiest greetings of the season. May the coming year bring many happy days. Your cooperation in the past has been fully appreciated and we take this opportunity to extend our thanks and best wishes. (Signed): J. HARRY BINHOUSE.

Notes From Secretary.

This, the Christmas edition of the Argonaut is being mailed to all alumni whose addresses we have. If you have not paid your dues for 1922-1923, use the blank inserted in this edition for that purpose. The Argonaut is being mailed to all alumni paying their dues, which amounts to $2.00 per year.

The secretary is handling the alumni mailing list in his own office this year. If you do not receive yours, write direct to him about it—not to the Argonaut office.

University Alumnus At El Paso, Texas

Mr. Edwin D. Peterson who graduated from the mechanical engineering department in June, 1921, has accepted a position as draftsman with the American Smelting and Refining company at El Paso, Texas.

His first job was to figure the stresses due to weight and wind load, and the brick work required for a 350 foot stack to be erected in the state of Chihuahau, Mexico.

IDAHO GRADUATE IS SHEEP STATION HEAD

W. A. Denecke, a graduate of the University of Idaho college of agriculture in the class of 1920, was recently appointed by the bureau of animal husbandry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to the position of superintendent of the sheep breeding experiment station at Dubois Idaho.

After completing the Idaho course in agriculture, Mr. Denecke worked for some time for some of the large range sheep outfits of the intermountain country to supplement his scientific training with practical experiences in the detail of range management. He then took the civil service examination for junior animal husbandman in the bureau of animal industry, passing with a high mark. His first appointment was assistant to the superintendent at Dubois and quite recently came the appointment to superintendency.

The sheep experiment station at Dubois is one of the most extensive experimental plants operated by the federal government. Several thousand acres of land are used for pasture and to grow hay, and substantial buildings have been erected for residences and offices, and for livestock shelter.

VARSITY PLAYERS OPEN LABORATORY THEATRE

Three One-Act Plays Are Given in U Hut Friday Night.

Presenting with a high degree of success three exceptionally good one-act plays, the Varsity Players appropriately christened their new laboratory theatre in the University Hut last Friday evening. Dr. A. H. Upham delivered the inaugural speech between acts and Dr. Miller gave a talk on "College drama."

"Sweethearts" was a romantic play of the old-world type with an unusually dainty setting. The people acting in the play showed a good deal of talent. Maxwell Sholes and Louisa Martin played the stellar roles. Mr. Sholes took the part of a bashful young man, Harold Spreadbrow, who was in love with Miss Jennie Northeast.

He was soon to leave for India, so came to propose to Jennie. Being very bashful, however, he made a most awkward proposal in which Jennie didn't help him much although she was in love with him. He went to India and thirty years later came back to see his old home. Much to his surprise he found Jennie unmarried. He was not married either, so the old boy and girl love came to a happy ending after all these difficulties. Helen Madden played the part of a maid and Rex Kimmel was good as the gardener.

"Her Tongue," a clever little play, by Henry Jones, received much applause. The actors in it were all well liked for they showed considerable dramatic ability. Pearl Stalker took the part of Miss Patty Hanslope, whose greatest fault was her nimble tongue. Ted Turner acted as Walter Scabell, a wealthy young man, whom Patty's cousins, Fred and Winnie Bry, wished her to marry. Bethel Collins as Minnie Bracy and Glen Hyde as Fred Bracy, were well received. The cousins arrange a meeting between Patty and Walter, but warn Patty not to spoil it with her tongue. Patty has only half an hour in which to talk to Walter, so determines to make the best of it. She talks so much that Walter is absolutely disgusted and leaves her insulted because he did not propose. Miss Stalker probably handled one of the most difficult roles of the evening and the applause she received proved her success. Mrs. Mason took the part of a landlady.

"The Knave of Hearts," by Louise Saunders had a rich bizarre setting. In this drama, Mary McCallum as Lady Violetta had to prove her ability as a cook before she could marry Pomdeble the Eighth, played by Talbot Jennings. She made some tarts which were to be tested by the pastry cooks in the country, Dorothy Cline and Amy Barstad as Blue Hose and Yellow Hose. As Violetta could not cook, her tarts were a failure. She begged the Knave of Hearts to help her. Phil Buck, in this part, promised to do his best. He decided to steal some tarts from his wife. When the court found out that Violetta's tarts were gone, they were very angry for they believed the Knave to have stolen them. He came back with his wife's tarts and since they were excellent the cooks decided that Violetta could marry the king. The court decided to banish the knave, and Violetta suggested that they take his social position from him. This made the knave very happy for he hated social position. Phil Buck, as the knave, received much applause. Kenneth M. Hunter played the part of the chancellor, who was not allowed to chancel, and did well in that role. Others having parts in this play were Mrs. Schoonover, Doy McKinley, Helen Donald, Miss Long, and Louise Yeaman.

The plays were directed by Professor Cushman and the details of the management were in the hands of Virginia McRae and Rose Donovan.

DONED CHICKEN IS NEWEST DELICACY

Ranks With Seedless Orange, Hairless Dog and Other Brain Children of Burbank

Can you who have toiled long over the difficulties involved in carving the Thanksgiving or Christmas fowl, imagine the joy of not encountering a bone everytime you cut out a piece from the bird. And can you, who enjoy eating the same bird, imagine the joy of not having to nibble in crevices around every bone. Sounds impossible doesn't it? But along with the seedless orange, and the prickless cactus, now comes the boneless fowl. The poultry department of the college of agriculture has recently issued directions whereby anyone can become a second Burbank, and prepare a totally boneless chicken or turkey. In short, they are follows:

The bird should first be picked and singed, but not drawn. The tendons are then pulled, and the shanks removed. Remove the head, crop, and neck, and make an incision around the vent. The bird is now ready to be boned.

Place the bird on end and scrape the flesh from the wish bone. It can then be easily removed. Dislocate the wings and tendons, working across the ribs. Gradually scrape all flesh from the body case. The thighs should be disjointed when they are reached. Special care must be taken on the breast and along the back not to break the skin. After removing the body case, scrape back the wing and leg bones and remove them. The end of the wing maybe left in small birds to preserve the shape of the wings. The body case may then be opened, the gizzard cut and cleaned and, with any scraps of meat, inserted.

When preparing the bird for roasting, the dressing or stuffing may be placed in the bird from either end. More stuffing is required than for the roasting fowl prepared in the usual way. It is not, however, necessary to force the stuffing into the legs or wings as these will hold their shape nicely. After roasting, the boned fowl does not have an appearance greatly different from that of the bird with all the bones in. Its appearance is appetizing, it is found tender and

FACULTY RULING OUTPLAYS FROSH

Loss of Five Men Puts Crimp in Hopes of Frosh Quintet.

With five of his best Frosh basketballers on probation, Coach "Squinty" Hunter is finding some difficulty in forming a team that will step out and win the basketball championship of this section. There is plenty of material out for practice, but some of the boys are finding it hard sledding to keep up in their studies and some of them have fallen below the required average. The only thing for them to do is to hit the ball a little harder and give up some of the lesser pleasures in order to become eligible for the team.

Varsity Play Frosh.
 The Varsity scrimmaged with the Frosh last Friday and while the Babes showed some form in their defense they were poor on the offensive side of the game. The frosh held the Varsity to a comparatively small score but were unable to ring any counters themselves. Coach Hunter is anything but optimistic about the chances for his team because he realizes that unless every man on his squad buckles down to good hard work and training the chances of winning the conference championship are pretty slim.

The first game on the Babe's schedule is with the fast Walla Walla high school team, on January 6. If everything goes well between now and that time the Frosh should win, but they will be given a real battle, as the Wa-Hi boys are credited with having a strong team.

Chicago U Will Pick Male Beauty

The "most beautiful man on the campus" is soon to be chosen by the students of Chicago University. Russell Pierce, editor of the Cap and Gown, sponsored the male contest when college authorities interfered with a similar program for the co-eds. All the university editors have to do now is to find enough men with the nerve to enter the contest.

AMERICA HAS MORE WOMEN IN COLLEGE THAN ANY NATION

BUILDING CRYING NEED UNIVERSITY

would be free to care for the overflow of recitation classes which are now forced to meet in other out of the way rooms in the University hut and gymnasium.

At present, there is one instructor for about every ten students, and on the basis that, during the past two years 400 students have been added, the university must prepare to add quite a number of new employees. If, in two years, 25 new instructors were added, at an average cost of $2000 a year, each, we would have there an increase amounting to $100,000. If the faculty is not increased in proportion to the student gain, their results a lowering of the efficiency of the college work.

Gymnasium Inadequate

The present gymnasium, built to care for an enrollment of 400 students, is inadequate to handle the present student body of 1300. One hundred fifty girls take together gymnasium work one hour a day, and have in their department but three showers, located in a room 10 feet square. It is impossible for 150 girls to take any physical exercise and take a proper shower with such limited facilities in an hours time. Consequently many risk their health by running to their homes in the chill air to take a proper shower.

The military department has been using two offices, each ten feet by ten feet, to accommodate six officers and non-commissioned officers, and has been greatly hampered by lack of storing space for equipment. With additional facilities, field guns and like equipment could readily be obtained for Idaho. Practically from its beginning, the military department of the University has been maintained entirely by government money.

Between 50 and 60 football men during the past season, dressed and took their showers in what was formerly an S. A. T. C. cook shack, and used three showers when they had but 15 minutes after leaving the field to get to their respective homes for dinner. Other men have been facing similar handicaps.

Face Peculiar Situation

Idaho faces another peculiar situation," said Dr. Upham to a representative of the Argonaut. "We have nearly as many students from the state of Idaho attending other western institutions as we have going to Idaho colleges and universities. Some figures may help. In the collegiate year of 1920-21, according to government figures, there were less than 200 out-of-state students attending educational institutions in Idaho, while Utah had 237 of our students, Oregon had 243, Washington 309, and California 179, a total of 968. Idaho state students are leaving their own state to obtain an education, the majority of them never to return again within her borders."

Lack of technical equipment is forcing yearly hundreds of native Idahoans to seek their education outside the domains of their state, while the university could care for them and give them an education equal to that obtainable anywhere if it had the buildings and necessary technical equipment.

"Whatever financial depression does it does not decrease the number of young people wanting a college education," said Dr. Upham.

REAL SNOW CARNIVAL PLANNED FOR WINTER

Will be Sponsored by Inter-Collegiate Knights; Skiing and Other Sports.

A real "Snow Carnival," which will be one of the features of the winter, is being planned by the Intercollegiate Knights who will probably stage the big event sometime near the end of this semester or the first of next.

As it will be the first time such an affair has been attempted in these parts, more than usual interest is expected.

A ski jump will be erected and all events common to a snow carnival will be in evidence. It is suggested that all aspirants for the honors and prizes that are to be given, get out their old wooden slippers and get in shape. It is hoped that a large number of Miss Winslow's ski slickers will enter the tournament so that the men of the campus cannot claim all the honors.

The present plans are to have the carnival last for a day and a half and end up with a big dance on Saturday night. Hot dawgs will be in evidence and there will be enough doing to keep the crowd from getting cold. Stickers are to be distributed to all students going home for the holidays and they are requested to stick them on their suitcases and to talk the carnival up as much as possible.

If anyone has any good suggestions along this line they will be appreciated by Art Golden at the Sigma Nu house, who is chairman of the carnival committee.

INTRA-MURAL GAMES STARTED THIS WEEK

First Three Games of Schedule Played Last Thursday.

The first games of the intramural league were played last Thursday. The games were both fast and exciting, but owing to lack of practice, teamwork was missing.

The Kappa Sigmas defeated the Elweteta basketballers 21 to 7. The Kappa Sigmas outweighted the Elwetetas about twenty pounds to the man.

Phi Gamma Delta defeated Phi Alpha Psi 30 to 15. The Betas defeated Lindley hall 26 to 6.

Two Games Delayed. Two more games were scheduled for last Friday, but they have been delayed until this week.

Games delayed were Phi Delta vs. Lindley hall; Sigma Nu vs. S.A.E. Further schedule for the league will not be given until the first round has been played.

It will probably be interesting to know that all teams that have participated in matches so far have used Coach MacMillan's system of a five-man defense.

The Vandals start out with their war paint on this week to invade several cities during the Christmas vacation for their preliminary training. Coach MacMillan expects to work on a strong defensive team and this trip will give him an idea of what to do to develop such a team. The boys have found their eyes for the baskets and have been caging the ball from all angles and positions.

MacMillan will take about eleven men along. The subs will probably get a chance to play so that the Coach can get a line up on what kind of men he has to fall back on. Many games have been won by good freshmen being sent into the game during the last few minutes of play and scoring the necessary point or two which meant victory. Idaho's chances for success will be more certain if MacMillan has several good men to run in near the end of the game.

The training of these men is just as important to a successful team as is training of the first team men. Basketball, conceded by athletes and trainers as being the most exhausting game when played fast, uses up the strength of the players. The team equipped with a second string that is almost as good as the first, can send in fresh men and, other things being equal, will win the game.

It's the games won that determine the championships.

Readers of last week's Argonaut will realize that Coach Mathews has secured a more favorable football schedule for next year than was his lot to have this season. He has the easier games scheduled for the early part of the season, when he can build up his machine gradually by playing and scoring. A team that can score a few points in the beginning of the season has a distinct advantage over one that is unable to score. It has better morale for one thing. It has the feeling of victory, perhaps, and of consciousness in ability to cross the line. It has knowledge of what plays were fruitful in the termination of a score. It finds its strong points. It knows where it is weak and can build up. Which leads us to say that we will beat W.S.C. next year and a couple of teams whose initials are O.A.C. and U.S.C. The Vandals next year will be known as a team that beats the "C's."

John MacMillan, captain-elect of the Illini football team, is champion heavy-weight wrestler of the Big Ten, and has started training on the mat. Bob Zuppke, coach, likes to have his football men keep in training during the winter.

KNIGHTS TAKE IN NEW TIMBER SUN.

Initiate Class to Serve Alma Mater for Coming Year.

Chance prowlers about the Administration building last Sunday night were surprised and alarmed at the flickering lights and weird noises issuing from its ghostly depths. Echoing footsteps, tense voices, a rattling, clanking and banging that might have done credit to Marley's ghost, the scream of a quivering victim, shrieks of maniacal laughter—these were incident to riveting the armor onto the squares of the Intercollegiate Knights, who are now full-fledged champions of the honor and progress of the University of Idaho.

The pledges having been tried and found true, they were cordially welcomed into fellowship at the Round Table, and are now prepared to serve and sacrifice for their Alma Mater. After the ceremonies were completed, the Knights repaired to the Kampos kitchen and closed the evening with toasts, speeches, songs, and a midnight supper.

Those initiated were: Paul Harlan, Donald McCrea, Wayne Huddleston, John Cuen, J. Robinson Fields, Percy Richards, James D. Chapman, Lewis Williams, Verne Johnson, Bert Stone, Albert Sogard, Charles Johnson, Martel Archibald.

PROF. SCHOELL TALKS OF FRENCH MANSIONS

French Speaker Vividly Describes Architecture of Renaissance Period.

Vividly portraying in masterful English the architectural effects of the old French mansions of the Renaissance period, Professor Frank L. Schoell, a Frenchman of international reputation, so impressed his audience last Wednesday afternoon that in their minds these venerable old monuments of tradition came to compare favorably with the famous Bastille or the ruins of Pompeii in historical beauty and value.

The speaker demonstrated the practicableness and art-contributing value of these magnificent old homes and convinced his listeners that these mansions would make interesting studies for the student of architecture.

Professor Schoell thoroughly understood his subject and was so enthusiastic over it himself that his audience plainly showed their enjoyment by the rapt attention given him. He was able to put his subject more clearly before them by the use of lantern slides.

It was largely through the efforts of Dean Eldridge and Miss Mathieu that this renowned speaker was brought to the university and in the opinion of all who heard him, they were amply repaid for their efforts.

Professor Schoell was much impressed by the American university student and confidentially admitted that they made him feel more at home than his own French students.

Despite delay caused by a late train, quite a large audience gathered to hear him and, to say the least, none of them were disappointed.

Golden Bears Plan For New Clubhouse

University of California, (P. I. P. A.)—The University of California is planning a new clubhouse. It will contain a training table for the varsity team and also will afford living quarters for visiting grid aggregations.

At present the various fraternities on the campus turn over their houses to the varsity teams during training season and men in these houses live at other fraternities while the teams are holding their training table. In order to relieve this condition the Big "C" society plans to erect this clubhouse.

In addition, the clubhouse will serve as a place for the varsity teams to hold meetings, and to make plans for the trips away from the university.

Haverford Par With Notre Dame? Ranking football teams for the 1922 season is one of the biggest jobs of all times. The season, with its many surprises and disappointments, brought forth the most topsy-turvy condition in many campaigns.

But below we have a new angle on the whole affair. A Haverford College student has discovered by a system of comparative scores that the Main Liners should arrange a battle with Notre Dame for one of the premier gridiron titles. Here is the way he sizes it up:

- Haverford tied Stevens.
- Stevens tied Hamilton.
- Hamilton tied Rensselaer.
- Rensselaer beat Hobart.
- Hobart beat N.Y.U.

Skis Missing---Co-Eds Show Blues

Forty pairs of skis have disappeared somewhere en route from East to West and forty co-eds are anxiously waiting for their arrival. Telegrams and tracers are being used to the utmost and it is hoped that the lost skis will soon be found. Miss Winslow, who is very fond of skiing will ski with the girls, when the necessary equipment arrives.

Kiddies Enjoy Christmas Tree Given For Them By "Y" Girls

"Oh boy, look at mine," and "aincha glad ya came?" with various other exclamations of happiness filled the air when forty excited kiddies received the gifts and good things which Santa Claus had brought to the Y.W.C.A. Christmas tree in the University Hut for them on Saturday afternoon.

Such a time! The fun began at half past two, when they arrived eager and expectant, and the excitement increased in direct ratio to the passage of time. The hut rang with games and laughter, and soon every little guest had caught the spirit of the occasion and abandoned himself joyfully to sheer fun. If one ever wondered what the spirit of Christmas really is, he had only to see the room full of happy kiddies who played about the big Christmas tree and then watched with shining eyes while the full stockings were distributed to each one.

Guests All Sizes.

The guests represented all sizes and ages down to the tiny tots whose short legs could hardly climb the steps and whose conversation was highly colored by the dialect known as baby-talk, but the Christmas festivities brought the same happy thrill to them all. When at last they really must go, and the big sleigh which had brought them, drew up at the door of the hut, there was no formal leaving-taking, but the radiant little faces and chubby hands clutching their treasures tightly, said a great deal more to their tired hostesses than any words could have done. If you want to know what the real Christmas spirit feels like, ask Irene Collier or any of the University Y.W. girls who helped her entertain the little folk on Saturday afternoon.

ASSEMBLY TALKS OF IDAHO NEEDS

Equipment Wanted for Gym and Morrill Hall; New Science Building is Also Needed.

"Idaho taxpayers do not seem to realize that increased enrollment in the university always means an increased expenditure," declared President Upham who headed the program in assembly last Wednesday for discussing the university's needs in view of the state legislature's convening in January.

"It is extremely hard," Dr. Upham continued, "to make the people see that the appropriation asked by the university is not over-estimated and partly unnecessary; and, going on this assumption, the legislators usually cut the original amount to 30 to 50 per cent."

After holding detailed consultations with the deans of the various colleges, a rock bottom budget was finally made which amounted to $108,000. This budget will be submitted to the state board of education with the recommendation that the sum mentioned be asked of the legislature in January. This will be needed to maintain the university and make the necessary improvements during the next two years.

This appropriation is about $250,000 more than was given two years ago, but of the difference $50,000 comes from the failure of certain interest moneys to materialize and the remaining $200,000 will be required for additional equipment and teaching facilities made necessary by the increased enrollment.

That the university really needs the proposed science building which will cost about $235,000 was demonstrated by Ted Turner, who brought out the fact that the engineering building was now accommodating three times the number of students it was intended to.

Due to insufficient space the students enrolled for chemistry are compelled to do their laboratory work at night and use the time that should be utilized for study. Mr. Turner said that Morrill hall and the Administration building were under a space handicap on account of containing some laboratories which would naturally be removed if a new science hall was erected.

Howard Breshears stated that the same condition, i.e., lack of space, prevailed in the athletic department. He emphasized the fact that it would be practically impossible to maintain a standing in the Northwest and Pacific conferences with less than $25,000 for operating expenses for the next two years.

The last two speakers laid bare minor improvements and necessities that could and should be remedied by an increased appropriation from the state.

The slogan of the meeting was, as pointed out by the speakers, was, "Everyone work for an increased appropriation from the state to better conditions at Idaho."

PROF. CHENOWETH GIVES TALK SUNDAY

Points Out Aims Students Should Possess in College Life.

Do you know that every student at the University costs the state and Federal government $1200 annually, and that this was one of the biggest arguments against appropriating funds for the university at the last legislature? According to Prof. Chenoweth, who talked to an interested audience at the U Hut last Sunday morning, there are at least three classes of people at the university who give this argument any grounds whatever.

The first class of students who do not deserve the $1200 expended on them annually includes those whose enthusiasm is not directed anywhere in particular. Pep is a fine thing, but it must be intelligent pep, it must be used to some purpose. If you don't know where you're going, you'll never get there.

To the second class belongs the fellow who puts all his thinking on one thing. He bends all his efforts on learning one particular profession with the single, ultimate object of making a lot of money. When he is through college he will spend all his time making a living to the exclusion, entirely, of the infinitely more important job of living a living.

Education is not a short cut to getting rich; it is a means to grow rather than to get. Development, to really be such, cannot be one-sided; it must be an expansion in every direction.

In the third class are the students who cannot make decisions for themselves. They work fine when started in the direction by someone else. Having none of their own, they travel through life working out the convictions of other people.

"It is far better," declared Prof. Chenoweth, "to have a conviction that is wrong than to be guided by the convictions of others that are right. One person who can initiate is worth a thousand who can only imitate."

This is but one of the vital questions that Prof. Chenoweth discussed last Sunday, but it is one that is truly in accord with the publicity program that is being launched by the whole University on the eve of legislature's convening. It is the aim of the promoters of these Sunday morning discussions to bring to the U Hut every week some person who can talk interestingly on some important and equally vital subject. Are you going to miss the next one, which will probably come on the Sunday following vacation? Watch the Argonaut for the exact date.

Buy Duckling Tub.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH, (P. I. P. A.).—Freshmen at the University of Utah will be given deluxe ducklings hereafter as a result of the purchase of a new duckling tub by the student association. The tub is made of tin painted white, and has an upholstered edge. The suggestion has also been made that the freshmen be furnished with Turkish towels to make the ducking more agreeable.

OPEN HOUSE IS HUGE SUCCESS

Girls' Groups Entertain Men Royally Saturday Afternoon in First Annual Visiting Day.

Success met last Saturday by the "open house" program of the sororities, Ridenbaugh hall and Crest cottage promises to make it an annual event.

The several houses were thrown open at one o'clock, when the fraternities in groups of fours and fives made the rounds. Such a good time was shown the men at every house, however, that upon arriving at any one, it took considerable courage to leave.

Complete Circle Made.

Starting at one end of our "circle," at Ridenbaugh, we found dancing and an opportunity to dance with all.

Then to the Gamma Phi Beta house where congeniality reigned supreme. A delicious lunch was served to all and each man was made to feel that he owned the school.

Then coming down the hill to the Kappa Alpha Theta house we found everyone happy and about fifty great dances ahead.

On arriving at the Omega Phi Alpha house we ran headon into the best fudge in the world.

Delta Grammas Very Hospitable.

The Delta Gamma house was too cheerful and we lost several of our members.

But marching on with our depleted ranks we arrived at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house where we met everyone, enjoyed the hour and filled our pockets with candy.

Alpha Deltas Visited Next.

With one hour more in which to go, we arrived at the Alpha Delta where we enjoyed an hour of real pleasure which was hard to leave.

Breaking away, however, we invaded Crest cottage which was certainly not outdone by any.

All in all, open house has met with the hearty approval of the student body. We will look forward to another.

worth, Boise, Idaho; W. D. Hunniston, Pocatello; and F. G. Miller, Moscow. The sub-committee will report its findings to the general committee, which meets in Boise in the early part of January.

DEBATERS READY FOR TRIANGULAR

Prof. Harding Coaching Teams Which Meet Washington and Whitman Soon in Triangular Match.

The University of Idaho will send its negative debate team to Seattle against the University of Washington, and its affirmative team will debate Whitman college here. The question will be: Resolved: That the United States should cancel the debts due from her allies in the World War. Washington and Whitman will debate with their other teams at Walla Walla.

Each team will consist of two men and the affirmative side of the question will be upheld by the home debaters of each of the three contesting schools, according to Professor Lewis A. Harding, debate coach.

Squad is Working Hard.

The squad is working hard and consistently under Professor Harding's directions and whoever is on the team will have his arguments well in hand. William Briscoe and Walsler Greathouse, both former debate managers, are on the squad. The other four are new men in Idaho forensics. They are: Frank Wyman, Glen Hyde, Francis McKee, and Clarence Lindstrom.

Negotiations are now under way for the triangular debate between the universities of Idaho, Montana, and Utah. Tryouts will probably be held soon after the holidays.

The Kampus Kitchen

Will be open during Christmas vacation only from 9 A.M. to 1 P.M.

AMENDMENT TO FOREST LAWS TO BE DISCUSSED

Sub-Committee to Meet at Forestry School Here December 21.

Amendments to the present forest laws of Idaho are now under discussion by the general committee on forest legislation, according to Dean F. G. Miller, head of the School of Forestry.

The sub-committee of the general committee on forest legislation meets at the School of Forestry, December 21 and 22, to make the final draft of the proposed amendments.

This sub-committee consists of: C. K. McHarg, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; C. L. Billings, Coeur d'Alene; Ben E. Bush, Moscow; M. E. Lewis, Moscow; R. H. Rutledge, Ogden, Utah; H. C. Shell-
