RECODIFICATION VOTE THURSDAY

Final Disposition of Constitution up for Vote Thursday Afternoon, in Special Meeting — Entire Text is Printed in This Issue

President Lynn Hersey of the Associated Student Body called a special meeting of the association for four o'clock Thursday afternoon, when a final reading will be held on the recodified constitution as submitted by the recodification committee last week.

It is desired to have as many students out at this time when final contents as possible out at this time when final consideration will be given to the constitution as now drawn up. It is understood that other additions will be proposed by individual students to be included in the recodification. Serious thought should be paid to both the form of the constitution as submitted by the committee, and any changes which may be brought up Thursday.

Printed in Insert.

The entire constitutions in its entirety as drawn up by the committee and as it will appear is printed in this week's Argonaut on pages 3 and 4. This includes everything, both those parts which were left intact and any additions or changes proposed to the old constitution.

The recodification has entirely omitted one article which has appeared in the old statutes, dealing with the spring Song and Stunt Fest. The committee feels that this has now become a tradition on the Idaho campus, and that it should be entered in a student's handbook along with other university traditions, specifying in a concise paragraph all the rules and regulations of the stunt fest. The object sought is to eliminate all excessive articles and set rules from the actual constitution.

Discussion will be called at this time and tentative plans submitted regarding the honor code. It is hoped that definite action can be taken at this time upon the honor code, prior to the final printing of handbook. Several articles have been run in the Argonaut concerning the honor code, its purpose, and its success in other institutions on the coast.

The advisability of printing a student handbook will also be brought up by President Hersey at this time. The committee has recommended a publication which will show in a general way the college calendar, University rulings, Idaho traditions, brief descriptions of all-college organizations, such as the Women's League, fraternity and dormitory directory, descriptions and aims of such organizations as the Intercollegiate Knights, Idaho songs and yells, and other information which will be of general concern.

"THE NUGGET" IS MAGAZINE NAME

Students Urged to Remember Literary Magazine Depends on Subscriptions

"The Nugget," the name suggested by Louis A. Boas, has been chosen as the title under which the new literary publication will make its appearance. Reasons for the selection of this name were given by Ruth Hawkins, who is directly in charge of the first issue of the magazine, when she said of the name: "It has historical significance in a state which owes its existence to the discovery of gold within its present borders, and is also significant of what the management is looking for in the way of literary excellence at Idaho."

The Nugget is a publication combining literary and humorous features. It is open to contributions from all students; short stories, one-act plays, essays (humorous and otherwise), verse, original jokes, in fact any kind of literary material of quality. There will be a department

OREGON RETURNS TO OLD SEMESTER PLAN

University of Oregon, (P.I.P.A.)—The University of Oregon has gone back to the two semester plan used before the war. This change was suggested by a dean in the education department in order to lessen the work in the registrar's office, which in turn would decrease the expenses of the university. The vote was very close, due to the fact that a great many professors felt that their courses fitted nicely into the three term plan and did not wish to reorganize them, which, of course, would be necessary under the two semester plan.

WRESTLING CONTINUES TO BE MAJOR SPORT

Heated Discussions Brings Question to Student Vote

Maintaining that wrestling should be classed more properly as a minor sport, Joel Priest, supported by "Beany" Breshers, brought the question to a vote in A.S.U.I. assembly last Wednesday, which resulted in a victory for the opposition whose leaders were "Babe" Brown and "Heintz" Glandeman. So wrestling remains a major sport.

"Jody" Priest and "Beany" Breshers maintained that the scope of the sport did not warrant its being classed with football and basketball, while "Heintz" Glandeman and "Babe" Brown were strong for the affirmative.

Priest Cites Lack of Interest. In the discussion Priest cited the small attendance at last year's matches, maintaining that the lack of interest alone was sufficient to place wrestling in the class of minor sports. "Beany" Breshers enlarged upon Mr. Priest's argument and plainly stated that he was not in favor of wrestling as a major sport at the University.

"Heintz" Glandeman expressed his opinion to the effect that wrestling was as strenuous, if not more so, than any of the other major sports and just because the students did not appreciate the wrestlers' efforts and attend the matches was no indication that it should be abolished as one of the premier sports. To verify his argument, Glandeman asked if "Babe" Brown, coach of wrestling, would state his views on the subject. "Babe" responded with the knock-out blow to the wavering student opinion.

"Babe" Brown Favors. "In my opinion wrestling is unquestionably the hardest of the major sports. I have tried both football and wrestling so I think I have grounds for my statement. As for the students not turning out to witness the matches, why not abolish baseball, because I will vouch that there were as many spectators at the wrestling matches as there were at the baseball games last spring. I'm certainly in favor of seeing wrestling maintained as a major sport."

Prof. Cushman Gives Reading At Vesper

The vesper service held Sunday in the auditorium was perhaps one of the most enjoyable that has been given this year. John H. Cushman, assistant professor in English, recited Enoch Arden, the famous poem by Alfred Tennyson. The reading is very long and extremely difficult to render, however, Mr. Cushman's rendition was remarkable, effective and artistic.

Assistant Professor Sharp of the music department accompanied Mr. Cushman, with the piano score written by Strauss. This composition is considered to be one of the most difficult of accompaniment, being written in the modern harmonic style. The effectiveness lay in the ability of Professor Sharp to bring out the inner voices in the music.

Another enjoyable feature of the afternoon's program, was the quartet composed of Mr. Hungerford, Mr. Bachelor, Dr. Church, and Alfred Brigham. The audience was the largest that has ever attended a vesper service, and they pronounced the program a complete success.

VANDALS FACE W. S. C. FRIDAY

Idaho Hopes for Better Luck Against Cougars in Coming Series

Idaho rooters hope to see the Vandal basketballers take a new grip on the situation in the two games scheduled against Washington State college for Friday and Saturday of this week. The trip of the past week had results not quite along local hopes, but it is thought that after having a chance to rest from a tiring journey, the squad can put all its old time pep into playing, and start a long string of victories.

The first of the games, on Friday night, will be staged at Pullman, and the second will come off in Moscow on the evening following. The contests against Idaho's oldest and favorite rival are always among the epochs of the year, so there should be a high degree of interest in their outcome.

W. S. C. Reported Strong.

Washington State is reported to have a strong squad this year. In playing Gonzaga on her own floor, she piled up a large score in the first half of both games, and held her lead playing her second team in the second period. Playing the Bulldogs in Spokane, she dropped the first game, but came back strong and won the second the night after by a good margin.

Idaho won her single contest with Gonzaga, and established herself as that team's superior in the first game of the long trip. Comparing the scores made against the Bulldogs is about the only dope on hand. And such a comparison leads to the conclusion that the contests of the coming week end may swing either way. Local opinion is that Idaho will come out on the long end of both tangles, and start her average for the top in the conference standings. But even the most extreme optimists grant that the games are certain to be fairly close, fast, hard fought, and in every way well worth attending.

Mrs. Chas. Hahn of Lewiston was a dinner guest of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Co-Eds Still Have Uses For Skis In Spite Of Snow-Less Weather

Versatile Skeester Should Perform Any Time of The Year

Skii weather is still with us. At least all the girls have a skii, whether they use it or not is up to them. Instead of swearing at the weather they should be glad of the opportunity to try out their skill under trying conditions. A versatile skeester can perform at any season of the year. In fact during the summer months New Jersey is noted for her skeeters. Luckily for the sport here at Idaho, some of our girls wear a miniature skee on their waists. Yesterday some of them were frantically searching for some Kappaskee which had been lost. They should be careful about losing them on the campus as searching around on the damp ground may give them skeematic pains. And golden opportunity which the sorority girls seem to have missed is the chance to have several skis around when they are rushin' a prospect. This is a very excellent skeeme. A dandy idea for a party is to skii down the cellar door. The thrill is as great as the old way, but

Muckers Ball To Be Given On February 3

A rip roaring, shoot-em-alive, honest to goodness old time dance will be given by the Muckers on Saturday evening, February 3. The gym will be converted into a dancehall of the old Idaho gold rush days, and rough costumes will be in order. In fact, a vigilance committee will see to it that no one will get into the dance who wears anything at all that looks like a white collar. Hob-nailed shoes are also taboo.

The dance will be given the eve-

ORATORICAL CONTEST TO BE HELD AT O. A. C.

The Pacific and Northwest intercollegiate oratorical contest will be held on the O.A.C. campus this spring. The contests will be between the winner of the state intercollegiate contests in Montana, Washington, Idaho, California and Oregon. Both men and women are eligible in the local elimination contest. The freshmen and sophomores will hold their eliminations first and the juniors and seniors will follow. The subjects of the orations have been handed in before Christmas and severe criticism has been passed upon them.

E. G. VANHOESEN MAY TAKE FATHER'S PLACE

Governor Moore May Appoint Former Idaho Man To Senate

E. G. Van Hoesen will fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, Senator D. W. Van Hoesen, in the state senate, if senate bill No. 56 passes both houses of the present legislature. This bill, if passed, will repeal section 462 of the Idaho statutes, and give the governor power to appoint a person a vacancy in the legislature. The bill has already passed the senate, and is now awaiting action in the house.

Governor Moore is heartily in accord with the plan, and if the bill passes, he will undoubtedly appoint E. A. Van Hoesen to fill his father's place. Senator Van Hoesen died on Monday, January 16, shortly after the legislature started its present session, and on the day that his bill to abolish the cabinet system of government was introduced.

E. G. Van Hoesen is well known on the campus. He attended the University of Idaho three years, leaving in June, 1921. He was a two year letter man in track, running the quarter mile, and was also prominent in campus activities. He served on the committee that recodified the constitution of the A.S.U.I. two years ago. Without doubt, Mr. Van Hoesen will be the youngest member of the Idaho legislature, if he receives the appointment.

ALPHA ZETAS HAVE INITIATION

Five members were initiated last Saturday night by Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity. Those initiated were John R. Robertson, Idaho Falls; Joseph Payne, Idaho Falls; John D. Remberg, Rupert; Walter H. Pierce, Twin Falls.

In connection with the initiation ceremonies the fraternity indulged in a merry banquet in the home economics rooms in the administration building.

LAST OPPORTUNITY TO BUY YEAR BOOK SOON

Final Sale of Annual to Be Held Between Semesters

The sales committee of the Gem of the Mountains staff will hold a final sale to the last chance to buy a year-book as it is necessary that the final budget be completed the middle of February, and the number of books will depend on that sale. Gus Bjork, in charge, states that the sale will be conducted in the halls of the Administration building, as before, and at the same price of two dollars. The final cost will be four dollars and a half.

This year's annual will be entirely different than heretofore. There are many special features and a special cover design. The staff is well organized and will be delivered on the first of June and possibly earlier. The necessity of ordering now cannot be urged too greatly for it is the last opportunity to buy.

BREAKS ENROLLMENT RECORDS

The enrollment at Stanford on the second day of registration was the largest in the history of the University for the winter quarter, 2420. The final registration will go considerably above 2500.

Prof. Claus To Give Violin Recital Friday

The following program will be given by Professor Claus, at his formal violin recital in the auditorium on Friday evening, January 26. The recital promises to be one of the most enjoyable events of the year, and a large audience is expected.

Timber Beasts Hear Forest Service Man

"The relation of forests to the general public," is the subject of a series of lectures being given this week by Mr. Theodore Schoemaker, of the U.S. Forest Service at Morrill Hall before the School of Forestry. Mr. Schoemaker is illustrating his lectures by the use of films, making the series very interesting and valuable, according to Dean F. G. Miller, of the Forestry school. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Comparative Dope On Teams Is Upset

By a score of 23 to 22 the University of Idaho Vandal basketballers defeated the light Oregon Aggies at Corvallis Monday night. This was considered as one of the most crucial games of the present conference tour. The Aggies, because of the schedule, were not able to meet Idaho last year, although they were the biggest runners up of the Pacific conference as the season closed.

This signal victory Monday evening brought the total success of the Vandals up to three for the trip. The tour began Wednesday, January 17, when the Idaho five defeated Gonzaga by the decisive score of 33 to 20. Thursday evening the Washington Huskies grabbed off a narrow victory in a 37-36 score.

Of the other two games Idaho divided honors. Friday she won from the Multnomah Athletic club of Portland 40 to 25. The next night she lost to the University of Oregon hoopsters 42 to 35, while playing a brand of basketball very much inferior to her regular style. A resume of the games played shows:

Washington Wins Close Game. Seattle, Wash., Jan. 19.—In a classic contest the University of Idaho basketball Vandals tasted defeat here last night when the University of Washington quintet nosed them out by one point, 37 to 36. The game was rough and fast and the constant fouling spelled defeat for the Vandals. The work of Sam Riddle, referee, was more than questionable.

"Windy" Crawford, Washington guard, virtually won the game for Washington by shooting 19 out of 22 free throws. Last season Idaho took the wind out of Washington's conference aspirations by taking the Huskies for two defeats at Moscow, and the Washington team was more than primed to meet up with the Vandals. Crawford was high point man of the game with his successful conversion of 19 free throws and his shooting of three field baskets, a total of 25 points.

Fox Makes 16 Points. Captain Al Fox was Idaho's ind-

U W LOSES TO IDAHO DEBATERS

In brilliant, extemporized arguments William S. Briscoe and Glen Hyde won a signal victory last Tuesday evening, January 16, over the University of Washington debate team at Seattle. The forensic contest was attended by 400 persons gathered to hear the subject of cancellation of allied debts by the United States.

Briscoe and Hyde upheld the negative for the University of Idaho. Ralph Graves and Hamlet Dodd, winners in east-west debates, opposed Idaho on the affirmative side of the question. Both Idaho men made a favorable impression on the audience which seemed at first heartily in accord with the views of the Washington talkers.

The exceptional ability of the Idaho debaters overcame the slight opposition of the audience in a series of effective extempore answers to the affirmative speakers. By clever strategy Briscoe and Hyde melted the frigidly of the crowd and effectually answered the arguments of their opponents by well-timed humorous thrusts, that established them with the audience and downed the points of opposing team.

AGAIN WE HAVE WRESTLING

The Argonaut last spring took a definite stand upon the wrestling question, which stand it reiterates today. It was maintained that wrestling was not in the true sense a major sport, and should not receive recognition as such from the Associated Student Body.

Wrestling is not truly a representative sport. We have never yet come in contact with the co-ed who liked to witness the sport. In fact, so strong was the apparent opposition from that quarter last spring, that action was taken by the governing council requesting women not to attend the matches staged here. The Argonaut was at that time informed from authentic sources that an absolute ban had been placed on co-ed attendance by the administrative authorities. That should be sufficient reason alone why wrestling should not be accorded the honor of being a University of Idaho major sport.

We are glad to see somebody stepping to the front with the courage to speak his convictions. We hope the issue has not been definitely settled.

JAMMING THE MACHINERY

Every movement meets opposition, and every new innovation receives plenty of adverse knocks and discouragements before it is even well started. The funny and amusing thing is that most of these come from people who sit by the side of the road and watch the other fellow do the work, offering suggestions only after the task is completed and suggestions can but rightfully be construed as criticisms.

Students are as prone to possess that fault as their elders, and hardly an organization is started, an innovation announced, or a change proposed in an established organization that somebody does not come to the front afterward with some suggestion which would have been appreciated a little earlier by those working out the fundamentals involved. It seems to be one of the human weaknesses to like to throw the monkey wrench into the machinery once in a while.

CONTRIBUTIONS MUST BE SIGNED

The Argonaut is frequently the recipient of articles meant for publication which are dropped in the contribution box unsigned. It has been and will continue to be, the policy of the Argonaut to ignore any articles which are not signed by the author, whether his signature is to be used at the end of article or not. If contributors do not wish their own name to appear in print, they are at liberty to designate such a fictitious name as they deem fit, but their own name MUST accompany the article in order that the editor will do other than designate it to the waste basket.

A CORRECTION IS OFFERED

The Argonaut notices that the University of Washington Daily, as well as Seattle and Portland papers continually refer to the Idaho Vandals as the "Maroon and White" players. Evidently Silver and Gold is not associated with Idaho teams to any great extent. Either Idaho should change her colors to match the suits issued to her athletes, or the suits should be changed to match her chosen colors. Choosing the most logical of the two suggestions, our teams would never give cause for lax sports writers to misinform their readers concerning Idaho's colors.

GRACEFULNESS OR ENTHUSIASM?

The recent basketball games have brought to light some male students who would do well in a Russian ballet, but who seem out of place leading red blooded men and women in stirring Idaho yells and songs. We don't think it is necessary to assume a figure 8 position as a preliminary to leading a college yell. If a little more attention were paid to the business of instilling enthusiasm into the crowd during the actual yelling, instead of wondering what the girls thought of the graceful exhibition, better results might be obtained.

SOCIETY

Elmina Jones of Gamma Phi Beta, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is again attending classes.

Dr. and Mrs. Upham and Miss Peggie were dinner guests of Omega Phi Alpha Wednesday evening.

Dean French was a dinner guest of Omega Phi Alpha Thursday evening.

Idaho Grad Receives High Honor From Yale

Dr. Lawrence H. Gipson, who holds degrees from the College of Idaho, the University of Idaho, Yale, and Oxford, and is at present professor of history and English at Wabash, has received the Justin Winsor prize, offered by Yale for the best historical writing within the past two years. Dr. Gipson won the prize on his book, "Jared Ingersoll," which has received much favorable comment from critics and reviewers. Dr. Gipson is the first Rhodes scholar from Idaho.

vidual point getter with an almost equally good free throw shooting record, 14 out of 17. In addition Captain Fox scored one basket from the field. Edwards, who went into the game as a substitute, counted three field baskets for Idaho. Captain Lewis, of Washington, counted three field baskets.

Defeat Gonzaga and Multnomah. Spokane, Jan. 18.—Superior team work and passing ability of the University of Idaho veteran basketball team defeated Gonzaga university quintet, 33 to 20, last night before a crowd of between 500 and 600 in the Gonzaga gymnasium. Idaho piled up 20 of its points in the first half to 10 for the Bulldogs, but were unable to penetrate so easily (the defense put up by Gonzaga in the second half. Captain Fox of the Vandals was the best at floor work and added nine points in ten attempts from free throws, while Thompson and Telford each scored four field goals. Whelan and Heutter showed well on the offense for Gonzaga, with Needles strong on the defense.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 20.—University of Idaho Vandal basketball team rolled up here last night to the tune of 40 to 25. The Multnomah team, made up of former collegiate basketball stars, were unable to cope with the brilliant passing offensive of the MacMillan machine.

In the second half MacMillan sent in a number of substitute players and even in the later period the Multnomah Athletic club players were out-classed. Captain Al Fox and Nelson were high point men.

Lose to Oregon Five. Eugene, Ore., Jan. 22.—The University of Oregon Saturday evening handed the Idaho basketball team their second Pacific Coast conference defeat this season, winning their scheduled game here 42 to 35.

The Idaho players were beaten during the first half, when Oregon rolled up an invincible lead through the fast work of her forwards and the comparative ease with which they slipped past the Idaho guards. The Vandals failed to show as was expected of them, and were plainly not playing up to their standard of a year ago.

Not until the second period did the Gem stagers display any basketball ability, when during the last ten minutes they staged a valiant rally, too late to be effective, however.

Latham and Fox were the high point men of the game, each making 15 points for their team.

Blue-Ribbon Stock

High class meat can be obtained this week. We have just purchased from the University of Idaho stock farm, two prize winning steers. These high class animals brought home the blue ribbons from both Spokane and Portland last year. They are to be slaughtered and sold this week and next. No increase in price. CO-ED BASKET BALL NOW IN FULL SWING

Girls basketball started in full swing this week, with the beginning of the interhouse games. All house matches will be played off this week, and practices will then begin for the interclass games. Much excitement is being manifested over the selection of girls for the house teams, since only girls who have played on house teams are eligible for membership on the class teams.

Girls from various houses are being grouped together to form teams since not enough girls are turning out to make up a team for each house. Two games were played on Tuesday evening, and two more will be played on Thursday evening. Practices will then begin for interclass matches. After two weeks of stiff practicing, the class teams will be ready. Miss Pauline Pence, director of girls' basketball, is in charge of all games.

S. A. E. Team Leads Group Basket Ball

The "Dope" in Intramural Basketball has all been upset. Teams that were leading last week, with the exception of the S.A.E. are now ranking third and fourth. The following games were played this week:

S.A.E., 19; Fijis, 9.
Sigma Nu, 21; Phi Alpha Psi, 19.
Phi Delta, 21; Elweta, 17.
Fiji, 21; Lindley, 19.
Kappa Sigma, 20; Beta, 14.
Elweta, 28; Phi Alpha Psi, 17.
S.A.E., 17; Beta, 8.
Sigma Nu, 16; Kappa Sigma, 15.
Phi Deltas, 12; Fijis, 11.

League averages:

Team	Won	Lost	Average
S.A.E.	4	0	1000
Phi Deltas	4	1	800
Kappa Sigma	3	1	750
Sigma Nu	3	2	600
Betas	3	2	600
Fijis	2	3	400
Lindley	1	3	250
Elweta	1	4	200

MISSIONARY TELLS OF EXPERIENCES IN INDIA

Saturday: Betas—Sigma Nu, 1 p.m.
Phi Alpha Psi—S.A.E., 2 p.m. Lindley—Kappa Sigma, 3 p.m.

"The most wonderful phase of my experience as a missionary was seeing the splendid development of the people of India," said Mrs. L. H. Carson in an address given before the Y.W.C.A., on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Carson has given 38 years of her life in missionary service, and remembers the early part of her work with its hardships and misgivings just as vividly as the later years when she began to see the results of her efforts.

Her talk to the girls was simple, direct and informal, and won their eager attention. Mrs. Carson left the little town of Cambridge, Nebraska, in 1883, and although she had never travelled before, she went aloft to Chicago for her missionary examination. The trip to Burma took two months at that time, while the trip across the Atlantic from New York to Glasgow lasted ten days. Mrs. Carson was greatly impressed by the Island of Malta "where Paul was shipwrecked." She spoke of it as "The most desolate place I have ever seen." The island is almost entirely barren, having no soil except that which has been brought over in barges from the mainland, and most of the inhabitants are beggars.

In Arabia, Mrs. Carson and the party with whom she travelled visited the Khedive's palace. They were conducted to the palace on funny little donkeys bearing such names as Gladstone, Christopher Columbus, Bismarck, etc. Mrs. Carson told many interesting anecdotes of her work in foreign fields. She has consented to give a series of talks and the girls are eagerly looking forward to the next one.

Dean Cockerill and family were the dinner guests of Phi Alpha Psi Sunday.

U. OF W. LOSES TO THE IDAHO DEBATE TEAM

Against the well-coached and heretofore highly successful Washingtonians, the Idaho debaters launched an extemporaneous attack that marked a radical departure from the regular routine of debate. After analyzing the situation the Idahoans began a humorous tirade that answered all points and swung the opinion of the crowd to their logical deductions and conclusions.

Briscoe, second speaker, who closed the case for Idaho was deemed by Washington critics to be the most masterful talker in the debate. Glenn Hyde, also distinguished himself by his ability to meet the arguments of his opponents in a jocular but convincing manner.

The outline of the arguments advanced by both teams was, according to the University of Washington Daily, as follows:

"Washington, on the affirmative, argued that America's moral obligation to the Allies, uncollectibility of the $11,000,000,000 debt, and economic trade relations required cancellation, and also stated that England had already offered to cancel greater claims against the other allies than America held.

"Idaho's team was adjudged successful in meeting these arguments. It claimed, among other points, that even if the debts were uncollectible at present, they should be kept in the books for the sake of America's prestige and influence in trade and affairs of its debtors."

The success of the Idaho team is conceded a signal victory in that Washington has recently defeat Harvard, Princeton, Dartmouth and Penn State. Graves debated against Penn State in 1922 and Dodd against Princeton in 1921. In both instances Washington won.

RECODIFICATION VOTE COMES UP THURSDAY

to all students, both old and new. Necessity Felt.

The necessity for a handbook was due to the fact that heretofore Idaho traditions, such as the Hulme fight, have been carried on based entirely on the memory of older students. An outline to be followed during registration will also be included in the handbook should it meet with the approval of the students. The new constitution will of course be included in the handbook, and in this way every student will have in a condensed book, the vital facts concerning his university.

"THE NUGGET" WILL BE NAME OF NEW MAGAZINE

devoted to short reviews of new books; also to dramatics and especially to dramatic activities at Idaho. Material is Needed.

The editors are desirous of receiving more material and to insure the success of the magazine more material must be supplied. At present there is a shortage of humorous material and of plays. There has been much criticism voiced at the magazine being a literary publication, but there has been no humor turned in. It is hoped by the editors that the present week will bring some really worth while humor and also that some one-act plays will be contributed.

The staff wishes it understood that the magazine is to be financed by subscriptions. This means that student support will be the test of the success of the enterprise. If the students are interested in this activity to the extent necessary to assure it a firm financial foundation, and cooperate with the editors in securing a publication of literary quality by contributing articles of merit, the success of the undertaking is certain.

YEARLINGS SPLIT WEEKEND SERIES

Frosh Team Wins From Spokane University But Drops Game to Potlatch Athletic Club

The Idaho freshman team split even in two games played during the past week end, having defeated Spokane University 32-16, Friday night, and losing to the Potlatch Athletic club by a score of 37-29 on Saturday night. In both games the Babes showed a wonderful improvement over their previous exhibitions and promise to do even better in their game next Saturday night with the Potlatch A. C.

The game Friday night was played in the gymnasium and there was absolutely nothing to it. The Idaho men played rings around the Spokane players and shot baskets at will. Their passing was much better than heretofore and there was evidence of team work displayed.

The Spokane men had difficulty in handling the ball and it was seldom that any of them got close enough to the basket to shoot. They were game, though, and put up a good fight till the final whistle.

But it was a different story on Saturday night. After traveling in low gear from Moscow to Potlatch the Frosh stepped out and for the first half it looked as though they might annex another game, the half ending 15-12 in favor of the Frosh. They were beginning to tire from the rough trip and from the game played here the night before. When the second half started it was nip and tuck for about five minutes and then the Potlatch team began to forge ahead and with the addition of fresh players began to wear the Idaho men down. The game ended with the score 37-29 in favor of the A. C.

It was a good battle from start to finish and Coach Squinty Hunter was more than pleased with the fight displayed by his team against the heavier and more experienced Potlatch team. He believes that his proteges will hand out a licking to the Potlatch team when they meet in combat next Saturday night in the gym.

Rich "Bullet" Fox, brother of Al and captain of last year's championship team, is coaching the Potlatch club and it is amusing to watch him and his old team mate, Squinty Hunter, gnash their teeth at each other during a game.

STUDENTS ADDRESS ENGINEERS' MEETING

Crandall and Bjork Give Short, Interesting Talks

At an interesting meeting of the engineers, Wednesday evening, Fred Crandall spoke on the subject of "Taxes," and Gus Bjork, on the "Westinghouse Electric company." A set of slides were also shown depicting modern coal stokers and their use.

This is the second meeting at which the engineering students themselves supplied the program.

Crandall gave a history of taxes from early European history to the present day taxes which include State, County, income tax, and many other assessed taxations.

Bjork Speaks on Westinghouse. Gus Bjork spoke on the Westinghouse company and the graduate course offered by the company to graduating engineering students of the universities of the United States.

He also gave a short history of the company, from the time of founding up to the present modern plants of the company which are located in the larger cities of the east. The Westinghouse company, being one of the largest manufacturers of electrical equipment. Mr. Bjork was connected with the company prior to entering the university.

A set of slides were shown giving pictures of coal stokers, how they are built and how used. The modern automatic coal stokers do away with hand feeding of furnaces and increase the power output of the boilers.

The engineering meetings are proving beneficial as well as interesting to those who attend. It is the aim of the organization to bring before the meetings topics of interest to the engineer, giving him an added interest in subjects outside of his course, as well as pertaining to the engineering subjects.

Idaho Grad, Prominent Spokane M.D., Marries

The marriage of Miss Lucille Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Barrett, and Dr. Carroll Smith, Idaho, '01, will take place in Spokane Saturday evening, January 27, and afterward they will leave for an extended tour of South America.

The trip is being taken by 500 American College of Surgeons members representing its clinical congress and meetings will be held at Rio, Buenos Aires and Montevideo.

Dr. Smith is one of the prominent surgeons of Spokane, a member of Kappa Sigma, and a graduate of Idaho and Northwestern. Miss Barrett graduated last June from Wellesley, where she was prominent in college activities. They intend returning to Spokane about May 11.

Final Exams Promise To Be Quite Difficult

Final examinations for the semester ending in two weeks will commence next Friday afternoon and continue through a week to Saturday, February 3.

All classes will end this week and the rest of the semester will be given entirely over to the final exams, which promise to be as hard and thorough as usual. Preparation for them is everywhere in evidence, and with their coming the veracity of the old adage: "The way of the procrastinator is hard," will again be demonstrated.

The various organizations of men and women on the campus that are competing for the scholastic cups are making strenuous efforts and using drastic measures to boost their averages. Most of them are forbidding open nights and enforcing stringent study hours in an effort to make the highest showing possible.

The end of the gruelling week will bring sighs of relief or gasps of indignation from the harassed freshmen and everyone else for that matter. Then will follow a brief breathing space, a few days for recuperation, during which registration doors will be opened for the next semester. Classes will again take up on Wednesday, February 7, and campus life, like history, will repeat itself.

Prof. Gibbs Lectures To Frosh Engineers

ASTOUNDING facts about Malaria, the history of its bacteria and the life of the carrying agent of the fever, the mosquito, were a few of the topics discussed by Professor W. M. Gibbs, head of the bacteriology department of the university in his lecture on "The Engineer and Sanitation," delivered to the freshmen engineers, Thursday afternoon.

In this tenth lecture to the freshmen Professor Gibbs said that the engineers, more than any other profession outside of the medical, should have a knowledge of sanitation and prevention of disease. The engineer is very likely to be the cause of malaria if he permits unsanitary conditions to prevail in his construction camps.

The engineering faculty, headed by Dean Little, is providing the engineering students with the best speakers, who present live subjects which are of interest to the engineers of the university. It is the purpose of those in charge of these programs to make them interesting to all engineers.

Girls To See Wrestling; Dean French Gives O.K.

Dean French has given here consent to all women enrolled in the U. of I. to attend wrestling matches held at the Gymnasium under the auspices of the Athletic board. After a short conference with Babe Brown, Dean French made the following statement: "Any major or minor sport held at our school which is not clean enough for our girls to attend is not clean enough for our boys. Wrestling is a clean sport and our wrestlers need as much support as we can give them." Babe Brown states that our first wrestling match will be held February 9, and that he wants a large attendance to prove what an interesting and clean sport wrestling really is.
