University of Idaho Vandals tromped on the University of Washington Huskies here Saturday night, winning easily by a score of 40 to 26. The game was rough and fast and the feature of the entire contest was the marked superiority of the Vandals over the league leaders, who won from Idaho on the Washington floor by the narrow margin of one point in an early season game.

Idaho's signal victory Saturday means that the fighting Vandals, coached by David MacMillan and captained by Al Fox, are decidedly and definitely in the running for the premier honors of the Pacific coast and Northwest conference honors. The victory by a 14 point margin is also gratifying in that Idaho is even with Washington for this season, there being some little distinction between a 14 point trimming and a one point anybody's game win.

Game Entirely Satisfactory. Saturday evening's entertainment was entirely satisfactory. Except for the opening minutes of play there was none of that nerve-racking closeness that characterized the two games of last season when Idaho wrested the championship from the Washingtonians. After the middle of the first half the Idaho well-wisher settled back with that satisfied feeling of "wondering how big the score is going to be."

Coach MacMillan's new lineup with Harry Edwards at forward and Benny Keane at guard was a combination that was a great source of satisfaction to the justifiably exuberant crowd. The boys worked together like a charm and Washington's Huskies were simply outplayed, outpaced, outguarded, and outfoxed. To win from Washington is indeed an honor, for Washington has a great basketball team, a team coached by "Hec" Edmundsen, an Idaho graduate, and Idaho has every reason to feel delighted and, it must be said, relieved over the victory of Saturday night.

The game was so completely won by the Vandals that the crowd of 2500, packed and jammed together like sardines, even enjoyed the inconveniences of the crowd.

Idaho In Running.

Idaho is now in the running for the championship. Washington has to win from O.A.C. and Oregon before winning the northern division honors.

Interscholastic Meet Set for March 16-17

The annual Idaho state interscholastic basketball tournament will be held at the University of Idaho March 16 and 17, according to announcement from the athletic department. This program to determine the state high school hoop champions is fostered by the state interscholastic association, of which M. C. Mitchell, superintendent of public schools at Twin Falls, is president. District meets to select the sectional representatives to the state tourney will be held March 9. The scheme of districting followed last year, which provides for six different sections, will be retained.

If O.A.C. beats Washington and if Idaho beats O.A.C., all very likely suppositions, the three teams will be in a position to battle things out again for the honors. University undergraduates will watch with interest the game Wednesday night in the gymnasium when Idaho meets Willamette. Idaho will win but the game will be interesting as any game in which the Vandals participate is well worth seeing. Willamette will furnish good competition.

As a preliminary contest the freshmen meet the Moscow high school quintet. The freshmen have made marked improvement in the season and good material has been developed (Continued on page three.)

CHANGES RESULT IN IMPROVEMENT FOR UNIVERSITY

A. S. U. I. President Hersey Points to Advancement Made Possible by Adoption of Constitution

PROVISION MADE FOR BUDGETARY PLAN Three New Departments Created—Argonaut Published Twice a Week

"The recodified constitution of the A.S.U.I. will compare with the constitution of any university student body in the west," President Hersey said to an Argonaut reporter, in discussing the changes recently made by the A.S.U.I. "The old constitution was weak, it put student affairs on a very unbusiness-like basis, and it failed to keep pace with the needs of the student body. The new constitution puts the student government on an economical business basis, and it embraces several important changes that have been necessary for some time.

"Perhaps the most important and essential change made was placing student body expenditures on a budget system. This insures economy of expenditures that was impossible before. It will give the board of supervisors, formerly an inactive branch of student government, definite control of all money, as the board must approve the budgets of all departments. Every department manager will be impressed with the idea of (Continued on page three.)

PAUL ALTHOUSE NUMBER COMES TUESDAY NIGHT

The program by Paul Althouse, dramatic tenor of the Metropolitan opera company, in the University of Idaho auditorium Tuesday night, will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. All persons have been advised to come early as no one will be seated until a group of songs is finished.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the appearance of Mr. Althouse, who is recognized in the world of music as the foremost American tenor. Mr. Althouse is the same type of singer as Arthur Middleton, famous baritone, with a pleasing personality and willingness to answer to encores.

Practically all of Mr. Althouse's program will be in English and in addition to the numbers by Mr. Althouse, Rudolph Gruen, accompanist, will give a group of three piano solos.

Mrs. Sargent To Address Assembly On Existing Conditions In Europe

Fifteen thousand black troops, mainly native Senegalese and Moroccan, are at present quartered by the French in the occupied district of Germany along the Rhine, according to the statement made by Mrs. M. L. Sargent, head of the Romance languages department, who will address the student assembly tomorrow on the European situation.

For over three months Mrs. Sargent has been traveling over Europe investigating and sounding out actual conditions. Much agitation has centered around the presence of the black troops on the Rhine, and Georges Clemenceau, former premier of France, recently issued a denial of the presence of negroes in the occupied districts.

In order to gain personal information on conditions and to understand the attitude of the population, Mrs. Sargent interviewed various people in France and in Germany.

"Europe is in a miserable situation as a result of post-war conditions, and America as a whole has very little knowledge concerning it," said Mrs. Sargent.

"We are not able to appreciate what actually exists in those countries. I did not stop in the tourist hotels, and I traveled by train rather than by auto, in order to get in close contact with the people. "I've talked with them in their own languages and it will no doubt surprise and shock the American people to know the pitiful plight they are in."

"Every student in the University of Idaho should know those conditions and figure them out for themselves. Those students are the ones who are going to deal with such conditions they aren't matters of mere foreign import, but are of real interest to every thinking American."

Many statements of the press, both here and abroad, have arisen through misinformation, according to Mrs. Sargent, and have given out incorrect impressions of the facts in the foreign situation, notably in regard to the occupied area.

The facts which she was able to gather on her trip will probably be of value to the student body in understanding the present state of affairs in Germany and France.

Mrs. Sargent's education was gained for the most part, in European universities, and she has been in close touch with events and the trend of opinion there for a number of years.

The Men's Glee club will furnish the music for the assembly.

IDAHO WRESTLERS WIN FROM COUGAR MAT MEN

VANDALS SHOW REAL CLASS IN FIRST CONFERENCE MEET.

Captain "Babe" Brown Takes Opponent Easily—Vesser Takes Northwest Champ.

Idaho grapplers won the first Northwest conference wrestling meet of the season Friday evening at Pullman, by the score of 44 to 36, winning four out of the six falls from the Washington State wrestlers. The Idaho mat men displayed an evenly balanced team, their strength in some classes being a source of surprise to the Cougar fans. A crowd of about 400 attended the match, including a good representation of women.

Captain "Babe" Brown, stellar Idaho heavyweight, for the first time in three years was confronted with an opponent. The Idaho leader took his match in straight falls, but it is thought that the match will be contested owing to the alleged ineligibility of "Babe" to participate in varsity athletics. The Vandal heavyweight threw his opponent, Phil Brown, for the first fall in 32 seconds by a bodylock. The second fall came after five minutes and 13 seconds of wrestling.

WASHINGTON QUINTET NOSES OUT COUGARS

HUSKIES WIN GAME AT PULLMAN IN LAST MINUTE.

W. S. C. Five Holds Score Lead From Start Only to Lose 31 to 19.

Pullman, (Special Dispatch)—The University of Washington defeated the W. S. C. quintet Monday night here by a score of 31 to 29 in one of the most exciting and hard fought contests of the season. W.S.C. held a lead from the start until the last few minutes of play.

The first half went easily to the Cougars, who led, 17-14 at the gun. At the beginning of the second half W.S.C. started strong, increasing the lead to seven points.

Washington, with ten minutes to play, started a rally, reducing the lead against them to one point. With the game almost won, W.S.C. resorted to long shots losing the ball to Washington forwards, who made a basket and converted a free throw and won the game with a two-point lead.

The game was rough with both sides fouling frequently.

Schroder, for W.S.C. and Crawford, for Washington, were the star point-getters of the two combinations. "Buck" Hunter of Moscow was re-

IDAHO GRADUATE NAMED AGRICULTURAL INSTRUCTOR

C. C. Gray, graduate of the University of Idaho college of agriculture in the class of 1920, has been appointed field instructor in agriculture to instruct the trainees of the United States Veterans' bureau doing their project training work in Idaho district No. 1, consisting of an area within 30 miles radius of Twin Falls. This appointment was made in cooperation with the Veteran's bureau and it will be the duty of Mr. Gray to visit each trainee and give systematic instruction on the work each is undertaking in his project.

NOT EVEN STANDING ROOM

Spectators Hang From Rafter to Witness Contest; 2,500 Attend

Two hours before the Washington-Idaho game, the first of the line of people waiting to see the game, started forming. Half an hour before the game was called the line was a surging mass of people five and six abreast, reaching from the entrance to the gym to the walk leading from the Administration building to Morrill hall. Around the gym door, and leading up the steps, the crowd was packed in so tight that no one could move, and the people farther back in the line crowded forward on them.

Ticket Takers Flight Crowd.

The ticket takers at the door found it difficult to handle the crowd, as under the impetus furnished by the jammed line, men and women actually struggled for admittance.

And throughout this long wait, a blizzard added to the discomfort of the crowd. An icy north wind was blowing, and snow blown by the wind, covered everyone. People stamped their feet and swung their arms, but overcoats and exercise proved useless against the driving snow.

And yet the conditions this year are far better than those last year, due to the plan whereby reserved seats may be purchased by students and townspeople. For the Washington games last season the crowd began forming at four o'clock in the afternoon, although the games did not begin till eight, and many brought lunches to eat during the long and tiresome wait. But reserved seats have not proved entirely successful in eliminating a waiting line, for seating space is limited, and the crowd fought for the seats that had not been reserved.

Conditions in Gym Poor.

Conditions within the gym are no better. Seating space is limited, and there is no seat available that does not carry with it a promise of much discomfort. Only on the lower floor there are seats, and the crowd in the balcony stood several rows deep, crowding for glimpses of the game. And on the supporting rafters and beams of the building men clung like monkeys, glad to have a position from which the game could be witnessed.

Exit facilities are serious and inconvenient. There is but one exit to the building, and with crowding and jamming, it was twenty minutes before the building was vacated by the crowd. For every game many students, and a great number of townspeople are turned away, when even the standing room has all been utilized.

Gail Taggart Clements of Lewiston, Idaho, spent the week end in Moscow.

INITIATION FILLS WEEK END FOR GREEK SOCIETIES

Eleven Groups Initiate During Past Few Days; One Hundred and Ten New Members.

MANY NEW PINS PROMINENT ASSETS

Freshmen Brave Wintery Weather to Display New Emblems

A majority of the sororities and fraternities have initiated during the past week end, and 110 new Greeks have been added to the population. The time of year has arrived when to 110 freshmen the weather seems unusually warm, and coats are thrown back, and vests and dresses are displayed regardless of the cold snow and icy wind.

Banquets were given in honor of the new initiates by all organizations, and Gamma Phi Beta and Sigma Nu gave informal house dances for their new members.

Those groups which have not yet initiated their pledges are Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Delta, and Beta Theta Pi.

CO-ED BASKET STARS TO PLAY CLASS GAMES

University co-ed basketball stars will have an opportunity to display their ability in the coming inter-class games, according to announcement by Pauline Pence, student manager of girls' basketball. Plans are now complete for a series of inter-class games in the near future to determine the class basketball championship for the co-eds.

All university women are eligible for positions on the class teams. The only requirement is that the aspirant for a regular position on a class team attend three out of the five preliminary practices. The first practice starts Tuesday night at 7:15 in the gymnasium.

Each class team will meet every other class team and also the players from the Moscow Business and Professional Women's club. All games will be played under the Spaulding girls' basketball rules.

Spring Vacation Dates March 31 to April 9

A ten-day spring vacation, starting Saturday, March 31, and lasting until Monday, April 9, has been definitely assured by the faculty. The Inland Empire Teachers' association will meet in Spokane during part of the week, and it is probable that several faculty members will lecture at the meetings.

Due to a plan whereby second semester final examinations, commencement, and registration for summer school will be held the same week, June 6 to 14, the spring vacation will not cause the second semester to continue an additional week.

The Argonaut—Your Paper

The Argonaut is to be, under the present editorship which open with this issue, an institutional newspaper, to be used for the best interests of the university. The Argonaut is to be as much a newspaper as possible, to be representative of every phase of collegiate activity. The Argonaut is not and cannot be a one-man paper. The Argonaut is the official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho and the interest you take in your publication is to be reflected in the standard of The Argonaut.

Musical Appreciation

No man is a college man and no woman is a college woman unless he or she has an appreciation of good music.

Too many undergraduates, even if there is only one, are failing to take advantage of an educational opportunity offered by the university in the artists' course numbers. The bringing of recognized artists to the undergraduate at a most modest price is a distinct privilege that every Idaho campus citizen should appreciate.

The experience of one undergraduate is in point. He attended what he imagined a "high-brow" concert. Some of the numbers he liked, other he did not. But he liked enough of the numbers to attend the next worthwhile musical offering. His musical appreciation came to life and now he is among the first to make his seat reservation for the next offering.

The Althouse concert is an opportunity.

Snow Slaps Campus With Greatest Gusto

Snow! The beautiful snow! Two weeks ago Idaho students put up their sleds and skis. Then eight inches of snow fell in a whirling windstorm. The windstorm picked up the snow, and wrapped the campus in one of the worst storms of the season.

Fur lined gloves, mufflers and heavy overcoats came out of the closets and winter sports once more came into ascendancy.

Students awoke at two a.m. with snow drifted through the windows, maybe it drifted onto their heads and down their necks, and possibly just possibly, missed their eight o'clock classes while they sat on the steam radiators.

One young man was heard to remark, by way of illustrating the law of compensation, that the storm had prevented him from "stepping out." Hence that he had enough money to buy—to buy, well to buy somebody a valentine.

Last year winter lasted well into—no, not summer, into the spring, and from the present prospects it is doing the same this year. Spring is very distant. "Every day, in every way," etc.

Thomas Bucklin left Tuesday for Kellogg, where he will accept a position with the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mining company.

SOCIETY

One of the most important and pleasant social functions of the past two weeks was the dance given by Ridenbaugh hall in the spacious living room, dining room, and hall of Ridenbaugh hall. The decorations were attractive, the music was excellent, tasty refreshments were served, and the floor of the hall is unexcelled for dancing on the campus.

Saturday evening, February 10, Gamma Phi Beta entertained at its fourteenth annual initiation banquet in honor of its new initiates. Following the banquet an informal house dance was given. The guests were: S. Hreshears, G. Hodgins, T. Turner, W. Noggle, E. Babcock, F. Brown, R. Fields, S. Kleffner, D. Sutherland, D. Prescott, F. Marchesi, J. Cogan, B. Scott, P. Wyman, J. Gyde, G. ### IDAHO WRESTLERS WIN FROM COUGAR MAT MEN.

The work of "Johnnie" Vesser in winning a decision over White, W.S.C., last year's Northwest light heavyweight champion, was the outstanding feature of the meet. After grappling the first two periods to a draw, Vesser took to the aggressive during the third period and at the end of five minutes of intensive foot work, threw White to the mat with such an emphasis that the Pullman star was forced to throw up the sponge.

Kinnison, Idaho, middleweight, after losing the first round to Hamilton, staged a pretty come-back by winning the next two rounds. In the final round Kinnison twice pinned the Cougar mat man to the floor, but the falls did not count as the action took place off the mat.

Captain Ewing, of W.S.C., was the outstanding star for the Cougars. He lived up to his name as one of the foremost welterweights on the coast when he won from Hillman in two straight falls. However, the Vandal grappler gave him weight and succeeded in staying the first go three and one half minutes only to be thrown by a body lock. In the final round, Hillman, after four minutes of punishment in which he showed the Pullman star he could stand the gaff, fell before a scissors and half nelson.

Phillippi Punishes Cougar.
In the middleweight class Phillippi worked over Allen of W.S.C. The Idaho man had a shade from the start. Phillippi displayed a broad knowledge of the mat game by the punishment he administered to the Cougar.

Leighty of Idaho lost to the veteran Jahlstrom in the featherweight class by a decision in the first bout and a fall in the second after six and one half minutes of wrestling. Leighty is entirely a new man to the wrestling game, but his showing against the W.S.C. veteran makes the outlook for the featherweight look bright.

W.S.C. and Idaho have a return

TELEPHONE AUTHORITY MEETS IDAHO STUDENTS

J. E. Ray, representative of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, is visiting the university in the interest of his company. Mr. Ray wishes to get in touch with all men of the junior and senior classes who are interested in the telephone business.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company, as well as all the large companies of the United States are at all times on the watch for the best men obtainable to put in the different departments of the work.

Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock Mr. Ray will address the juniors and seniors of the engineering department on the organization of the Bell system and the relations of associate companies, also on the working conditions and opportunities offered to the men taken into the employ of the company.

Mr. Ray intends to hold personal interviews with students who are interested in this line of work, who are taking engineering, science, or business courses. He will also interview the professors of the university.

A meeting of the Associated Engineers will be held Tuesday night in room 217 of the administration building, at which time Mr. Ray will present six reels of motion pictures, dealing with the principles of the Western Electric company, an associate company of the American Telephone and Telegraph company. Along with the pictures Mr. Ray will give a lecture, bringing out the important parts of the pictures.

CHANGES RESULT IN IMPROVEMENT FOR UNIVERSITY

economy and an audit of all departmental books will be made each year.

"The budget system of accounts has made possible the publication of The Argonaut as a semi-weekly paper, as department expenses will be cut to the minimum.

Three New Departments

"Three new departments, the Gem of the Mountains, women's glee club, and women's athletics, are embraced in the recodified constitution. The Gem of the Mountains is really a student body publication, representative of the university and the student body, and by giving its publication to the A.S.U.I., Idaho is only doing what other western schools have done for several years."

In speaking of the new departments for women, Mr. Hersey said, "In my opinion this move not only tends to follow the trend of national advancement in women's activities. It will stimulate the interest of the university women, which has been noticeably lacking in past years.

"The changes which effect The Argonaut," President Hersey continued, "are a real indication of the growth and advancement of the Idaho student body. The size of the university warrants a semi-weekly publication, for every other school in the Pacific conference issues students papers at least twice a week, and many publish dailies. The pay of The Argonaut officials has been reduced to keep pace with the economy program, and the policy of the paper has been taken from the hands of the editor, and placed with a board, consisting of the editor, the A.S.U.I. president, the ranking senior on The Argonaut staff, and one other staff member.

Class Dues to be Paid.

"The problem of class dues has long been a difficulty. Few students have paid class dues, and on these few unfortunates has fallen an excessive burden. Under the new provision, whereby dues are collected from every student at the time of registration, the class expenses are equally divided among all students, and with more money, every class will be more active.

"The article in the new constitution whereby the board of supervisors must approve each publication before it can collect advertising in the name of the student body, will prove a great help to the authorized publications. It has permitted The Argonaut and the Gem of the Mountains to encounter far less difficulty in selling advertising space. This provision has met with the unanimous approval of the Moscow business men.

"Another important change," Mr. Hersey stated, "is the provision whereby agricultural judging teams will be aided in paying their expenses to meet teams from other colleges, and to livestock shows. Previously these teams, truly representative of the university, have been forced to pay all expenses themselves.

Freshmen Athletes Recognized.

"The recognition by numeral sweaters of freshmen participating in all major athletics, is another important change. In past years only football numerals have been awarded, and freshmen engaged in other major sports have been unrecognized. The appointment of assistant student athletic managers is also an important move. These men will assist the graduate manager, and it will enable them to take an active part in athletic management."

In concluding, President Hersey stated: "The constitution in its present recodified form will meet the demands of the student body for many years. It contains changes which have been tried and have proved successful in other institutions, and it is thoroughly modern and progressive."

NEW ASSISTANT NAMED FOR EXPERIMENT WORK

Frank H. Collins, a graduate of Kansas Agricultural college, has been appointed assistant chemist at the agricultural experiment station at Moscow, succeeding William C. Aitkenhead, who resigned recently to accept a position at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind. Mr. Collins has had special training in the field of agricultural chemistry, including two years' experience in analytical work dealing with various agricultural problems.

His work at the university station will be along the lines of the organized projects of the agricultural chemistry department. The plans call for studies of alkali soils, investigation for corrective methods for "slick spots" in soils, investigation of the effect of rotation on the protein content of wheat, and other problems of vital importance to Idaho farming sections. This work will be conducted under the direction of Professor R. E. Neldig, station chemist.

Vernon Miller of Lewiston was a week end visitor at the Beta house.

Co-Ed Negative Duo Loses Close Decision

Allegra Eckles and Constance H. Taylor, representing the University of Idaho in the woman's debate at Walla Walla, last Thursday evening, February 8, were defeated by the Whitman co-ed debaters, the vote being 2 to 1 against them.

The Whitman college debaters, upholding the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: That a federal department of education be established, as provided in the Towner-Sterling bill," were Fern Cable and Martha Young. Idaho lost decisions in both the co-ed debates of the same evening, each by a 2 to 1 vote of the judges.

Accounts of the contest at Walla Walla indicate that Idaho debaters showed skill in presentation and argument and that the decision for the winner was close and difficult for the judges to decide.

for next year's varsity. Moscow high has a strong team that will test severely the strength of the freshmen in their last home game.

Vandals Outpass Visitors.

Washington players were outpassed. The Vandals shot the ball from one to another with dazzling speed and deadly accuracy until a Vandal player could slip in a field goal from underneath the basket. Fifteen such field baskets were made by the Vandals while the Huskies were forced to resort to long shots for baskets on account of the strength of the Idaho defensive. The Huskies were unable to penetrate only occasionally into the "short-shot" territory so zealously guarded by the Vandals.

The game was rough and fast and "Buck" Hunter, of Moscow, lived up to his reputation as the best referee in the Pacific coast conference. Hunter called fouls closely and three men were ruled out of the game on personal fouls. Bryan, husky Washington guard, was the first to go by the four personal route. He was followed by "Benny" Keane of Idaho, and "Windy" Crawford, of Washington, was the next player to have four personal fouls registered against him.

Both Al Fox and Crawford were off form on free throw shooting. Had Captain Fox been in form the Vandals would have won the game by a margin of 25 points or more. Captain Fox simply was off form due to illness for the past week and probably the Idaho captain will never again be as inaccurate with his free throw shooting as he was against Washington. Crawford, of Washington, who is usually deadly in his free throw shooting, made only 10 in 17 trials, while Fox made 10 out of 21.

New Combination Effective.

Captain Fox was the high point man of the game with 14 points, the Idaho captain slipping in two field baskets. Harry Edwards was the high point man on field baskets with four. Edwards played a brilliant game at forward. Thompson counted three field baskets. Keane slipped in three field goals, and Telford accounted for three of the Idaho goals from the field.

Keane smashed up play after play passed accurately, and was accurate by Washington with his long arms, in his basket shooting. Telford kept Frayne, Washington forward, from a single basket, and Peters to a lone field goal.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR CRACK NINE

MacMillan to Coach Idaho Baseball This Spring—Available Material Will Make Competition Keen

With several old stars back and a group of men from last year's freshman team, Idaho should put out a winning combination in baseball, according to Athletic Director Mathews. Although it is early to talk on baseball, enough interest has been shown that it is a live subject with fans on the campus. Competition, no doubt, will be keen for berths on the varsity.

David MacMillan, who successfully coached the team last year, and who is the basketball mentor, will have charge of varsity baseball. Coach Mathews will be busy with the spring football practice, but will give assistance to MacMillan if necessary.

Old men who are back include Fitzke, Snow and "Lefty" Marneau, pitchers; Kinnison, catcher and third baseman; Stivers, shortstop, and Edwards, Ostrander, Cobley, Al Fox for the outfield positions. Fitzke is also a first baseman. Kleffner, star frosh infielder last season, is expected to make the varsity infield. There will probably be others out for all positions when the call is issued for candidates.

Indoor Practice March 1.

"Indoor practice for the batteries will start March first," said Mathews "and an intensive, daily workout will be required of all aspirants for these positions." This will give the batteries more than a month and a half of good practice and Idaho should be in good condition for the opening of the season.

Idaho has an attractive schedule arranged, opening with the University of Oregon games at Eugene on April 23 and 24. Altogether 22 games will be played, twelve games here and ten on other diamonds. The complete schedule follows:

- April 23-24—Oregon at Eugene.
- April 25-26—O. A. C. at Corvallis.
- April 27-28—Washington at Seattle.
- May 3-4—O. A. C. at Moscow.
- May 9-10—Whitman at Moscow.
- May 11—W. S. C. at Pullman.
- May 12—W. S. C. at Moscow.
- May 14-15—Montana at Moscow.
- May 25-26—Oregon at Moscow.
- May 28-29—Washington at Moscow.
- June 1—W. S. C. at Pullman.
- June 2—W. S. C. at Moscow.
- June 5—Whitman at Walla Walla.

NEGOTIATE FOR DEBATE

IDAHO MEETS MONTANA AND UTAH IN TRIANGULAR SOON—TRYOUTS WITHIN 10 DAYS

Negotiations for the men's triangular debate, including the Universities of Montana, Utah and Idaho, are well under way, according to Phil Buck, debate manager, and a definite date will be set in the near future for the forensic contest.

The subject of the debate will be the application of a cabinet parliamentary form of government in the United States.

"The question," said Mr. Buck, "is of considerable interest to students of political science and American government, as many authorities consider a revision of the present governing bodies of the United States to be necessary."

Tryouts for the debate will be held within the next week or ten days, according to the debate management, and candidates are advised to start preparing their material immediately. Further announcements concerning the tryouts will appear in The Argonaut and on the university bulletin boards.

Idaho's negative debate team will go to Missoula to debate the University of Montana while the affirmative will debate Utah here.

Dan Cupid Sends Valentine Letter; Argonaut Cub Registers Big Scoop

The Argonaut cub has made a scoop, the largest of scoops, in his estimation, that has ever been shoveled into the drawer of the copy editor. And it came in a manner in which most scoops come—it was not found, but it found the cub.

This morning's mail contained a lengthy letter from that breaker of all hearts, Mr. Daniel Cupid, in which he send a message to the students of this institution, on the most discussed of all subjects—love. And he hands out the information in a manner that would put the far famed Beatrice Fairfax of every news syndicate to shame. The staff of the Argonaut, from the editor to the pressman has read this advice, and more than one of them has it memorized. So why not pass it on to the "dear public?" If we can stand it, you can. Dan says:

Dear Cub:—
I have with me an arrow for each and every one of you, not excluding your most worthy Student Body Prexy, Lynn Hersey, and even that worthy master of ceremonies, Dean of all Broom Pushers, Fred Skogg.
In the words of the prophet, "Spring has come," or is coming and with it come the Song of the Heart as the fair Ed and Co-Ed trip lightly upon the green. (If we are ever going to have any of that green stuff called grass again.) Beware you of the shorn locks and mud scows, for the day is upon you. Trust not the wily

Ed as he argues with you within the close confines of the sacred premises of the Library, trying with all his unrelenting perseverance to induce you to stroll with him to youder arboretum. For as surely as you go when the scent of spring is in the air, he shall take his badge from off his chest and you shall return to your sisters who await your safe return, bereft of the title "Free Lance" and be the victim of one of life's little jokes, an engaged maiden.

Then he to his brothers will return and open a box of "two-fer" cigars and receive the mad handshakes that invariably accompany such activities. Play not with the dynamite of a young man's love in the spring if you do not care to settle down and bury your head in the soap suds of the weekly wash, for this will surely be the outcome of your folly.

But blessings on you, my children, for surely "as you sow, so shall you reap," and may the harvest be a bumper crop of happiness for you and all of yours. Give all of your youth to the joy of being alive; and live your lives as true representatives of your Grand Old Alma Mater. The Argonaut and Dan Cupid join in wishing you every happiness in the coming quest for romance and when the day has closed and night has fallen may your children's children live the lives of their youth as only Young America can. With all my love,
Dan Cupid.

SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE FOR BOOKLET IS ON

MANAGERIAL STAFF OF "NUGGET" WORKING HARD.

Students, Faculty and Townspeople Show Active Interest in Publication.

The general drive for subscriptions to "The Nugget," literary magazine to be published the last of February, has been postponed until Wednesday by the managerial staff which has charge of the financial responsibilities of the booklet.

Meanwhile a campus-wide solicitation is being made by the representative committee which has been selected to take care of the subscription sale in the various houses and among the members of the various groups.

The results of the campaigns will be available by Thursday, it is planned. At this time it is hoped to get a definite idea of the results attained and the prospects for the financial success of the magazine.

General Sale Wednesday.
The general sale of subscriptions in the Administration building Wednesday will be conducted for the purpose of getting in touch with anyone who may not have been visited by the canvassers among the groups.

Both students and faculty will be canvassed for subscriptions both in the group and the general campaigns. The book as planned will have an appeal for all persons interested in the university and an opportunity will be extended to all to buy the magazine.

Although no exact statement as to the number of subscriptions sold is forthcoming to date, the management states confidentially that the "Nugget" is making a very favorable impression, both on the campus and in Moscow.

Much Interest Demonstrated.
The success with which the publication is meeting is ascribed to the general feeling of the desirability of such a magazine at the University. It will be a departure long anticipated by campus people and gives every promise of filling the need adequately.

"The Nugget," as has been stressed before, is purely a student venture. The editorial and managerial departments of the book are being planned and carried out by the students themselves. The interest in the magazine has continued to grow and every indication points to the success of the venture.

and speeches. Students are to dig out their Spanish grammars and be prepared to translate at least one word during the evenings, as the entire program will be in Spanish.

The only requirement will be that one of each couple must be taking, or have had Spanish. Those who attend will come dressed in Spanish costumes as far as possible, the boys with their sombreros and peon trousers, with a bright sash, and the girls with their mantillas and lace. Undergraduates are advised to get a partner and come.
Hasta luego. Adoia!

REGENTS ACCEPT PLAN FOR COMBINED EVENTS

COMMENCEMENT WEEK PROGRAM ARRANGED BY PRESIDENT

Graduation Exercises, Final Examinations, Summer School Registration Set for June 6-11.

Commencement exercises, second semester examinations, and registration for summer school will be dovetailed together during the period between June 6 and 14 this spring, according to a plan proposed by President A. H. Upham and approved by the board of regents of the university. This change in the academic program came as a result of the restoring of the spring vacation week, which will be observed this year while the Inland Empire Teachers' association is in session at Spokane, the first week in April. It was the belief of the university that faculty members should for the most part attend the association meetings.

At first it was believed that closing the university for the spring vacation would necessitate a week being added at the end of the year and a corresponding delay in starting the summer school work. It was to provide a second semester of 18 weeks and enable the opening of summer school at the date planned by the other state institutions that President Upham suggested the plan of consolidating the activities previously scattered over a longer period.

Under the new plan the academic calendar will be as follows:

Academic Calendar.
Spring vacation, March 31 to April 9 (Inland Empire Teachers' association is scheduled for April 4 to 6); final examinations begin Wednesday, June 6; Alumni day, Saturday, June 9; Baccalaureate Sunday, June 10; commencement day, Monday, June 11; registration for summer school, Tuesday, June 12; and end of final examinations, Thursday, June 14.

This is the first time in the history of the university that commencement events have been grouped together. In former years they have been scattered over an entire week, with commencement coming on Wednesday. It is the belief of President Upham that the bringing together of all the exercises at a week-end will enable alumni and friends of the graduates to attend the entire program without great inconvenience. This grouping plan is rapidly being adopted by the larger universities.

It is expected that the historical pageant, depicting interesting events in Idaho and northwest history, will be presented on the afternoon of alumni day. An effort will also be made to have teachers and others planning to enter summer school come early and attend the pageant and other public exercises on the commencement week program.

"There will be some confusion and perhaps some minor conflicts," said President Upham in commenting upon the new plan, "but the larger advantages will more than offset these."

ZACHMAN NAMED ASSISTANT HEAD

Junior From Emmett in College of Letters and Science Elected Associate Editor of Argonaut

Eugene Zachman, of Emmett, a junior in the college of letters and science, has been elected associate editor of The Argonaut for the coming semester. Mr. Zachman, who is also a member of the University Press club, will automatically become editor at the beginning of next year.

The new associate editor has been reported on The Argonaut staff for two years and this year he has served as news editor. His election was unanimous at the A.S.U.I. meeting Wednesday as no other candidates are able at this time to meet the qualifications demanded of an associate editor under the A.S.U.I. constitution.

Change in Editors.

The Argonaut during the past semester has been in charge of Louis A. Boas of Boise, the retiring editor. Joel L. Priest, Jr., of Boise, the associate editor during the past semester, becomes editor of The Argonaut for this semester. Mr. Priest takes active control with this issue.

Mr. Zachman, under the provisions of the reconstituted A.S.U.I. constitution, will be the first editor in recent years to serve for an entire scholastic year in that capacity. Mr. Zachman will serve as associate this semester and become editor for an entire year, 1923-24. The associate editor, to be elected in the spring, will be associate for a year and editor the following year.

DEAN THOMSON TO ADDRESS STATE MINING ASSOCIATION

Dean F. A. Thomson, head of the school of mines, will address the Idaho State Mining association Tuesday on the work of the Idaho State Bureau of Mines and Geology, at the annual meeting of the Association at Boise.

The state mining association is composed chiefly of the mine owners and operators meeting to discuss the problems and topics relating to the industry. Dean Thomson, who is secretary and executive officer of the bureau of mines and geology, will be in southern Idaho a short time before returning to Moscow.

BASE BALL FOR FROSH

PREDICTION MADE THAT STRONG CROP OF YEARLINGS WILL ANSWER FIRST CALL.

Freshmen baseball will be a reality this year. If present plans are carried out. There will be enough diamonds for both the Varsity and Freshman nines to practice on, and plans are being made for an attractive schedule for the frosh.

While no call has gone out for practice, men have been seen, during the warm days, out limbering up the old glove. More interest is being shown in baseball each year at the university and it is predicted that there will be a crop of strong men out for various positions on the frosh nine.

Fields of Caldwell, who pitched the Caldwell high school team to the state championship, is perhaps the best known among the frosh aspirants as a twirler. Cameron, outfielder from Boise, is also well known on the campus because of his ability to pound the pellet for extra bases. He had an offer from the St. Louis Browns last year, but turned it down in order to come to the university. Lansdon of Boise is a clever infielder and should make a strong bid for the team. Harding of Malad is known in the southern part of the state for his ability to hit and field. Payne, shortstop and pitcher, is well known in southeastern Idaho as is Bucklin, who has been a high school first baseman and catcher.

MacCrea, infielder and Ted Kent, outfielder, both good hitters, are expected to turn out. Stillman, basketball star, will sign up for a baseball suit and will perhaps try for first base.

All told, there will be a goodly turnout for freshman baseball when the call comes.
