BOB FITZKE MAKES GOOD

The Now Immortal Robert Shoots Field Basket for Visiting Team.

(By TED TURNER)

Well, folks, draw up your stools and I'll tell you about the best free-for-all basketball game that I've seen for some time. That is, it was free most of the way for the Vandals but the boys from Willamette didn't fare so well. Although Coach MacMillan started the game with a new combination the team started out from the first whistle and played good basketball all through the game. The first half ended with Idaho safely in the lead, 35-7, to be exact, and when the game ended the score stood at 64-23, in favor of the Vandals.

Emmel, of Willamette, started the ball rolling with a dandy shot from the middle of the floor. But that ended the blue jerseyed boys scoring for a long time. The new combination got under way and the outcome was never in doubt. The Vandals were passing and shooting well and the Willamette men had difficulty in getting the ball past Idaho's 50-yard line. It was a rare occasion when the Oregon lads worked the ball close to their own basket by passes. They would get possession of the ball only to lose it to the Idaho men, who generally took it down the floor by nice teamwork for a counter. The first half was fairly fast and the features were the Vandal offense and the inability of the Willamette men to penetrate Idaho's defense.

Fitzke Makes Good.

In the second half Willamette put up a better defense and started a long shot game, at which they were fairly successful. Wilkinson stood out conspicuously for Willamette by his long shots, four of which were converted. But after the Idaho men rested for a minute they started out to run the score up again. Al Fox had his dead-eye on the old basket and tossed the ball in from most any

Seniors Elect Kimmel President Of Class

Rex Kimmel, of Kicco, Fla., was elected president of the senior class meeting of the class held Tuesday of the University of Idaho, Tuesday semester. Mr. Kimmel has been editor of "The Gem of the Mountains," annual year book, business manager of the Men's Glee club, prominent in college dramatics and other collegiate activities. He is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity and the Silver Lance, honorary scholastic senior society.

John Cramer, of Hailey, was elected vice-president. Virginia McRae, of Spokane, was elected secretary, and Mary Thompson, of Caldwell, treasurer.

TWO STANFORD PUBLICATIONS COMBINED IN "SPECTATOR"

Combination of the "Cardinal" and the "Pictorial," the two deceased Stanford periodicals, into one single publication called the "Spectator," has been announced from the southern school. A joint staff of the two publications will publish the new magazine.

RIGID TRAINING STARTS FOR IDAHO TRACK MEN

Rigid training for both varsity and frosh track men started last Thursday under the supervision of Coach Mathews. There are at the present time about 100 men turning out. Varsity material is at present very scarce, owing to the cold weather, but as soon as it becomes warmer much more material is to show up. For the frosh track team there are plenty of good men for all events.

Coach Mathews wishes all men who have turned out for track previous to their entrance in the university to report to him for a tryout on either the frosh or varsity team.

University Women's Senior Honorary Gets National Mortar Board Charter

Membership in the national Mortar Board, women's honorary fraternity, has been granted to the Idaho Mortar Board, senior women's honorary association, according to word received Wednesday by Dorothy Cage, president of the local association. No details as to installation dates were included in the announcement telegram. The Mortar Board was organized at Idaho in the fall of 1920 with a charter membership of 13. Membership in the local Mortar Board was granted on the basis of scholarship, activities, and personality and the membership was limited to women of the senior class. The pledges are taken from the Junior class during the second semester. The pledges for this year have not been elected as yet.

The active members of Mortar Board are: Dorothy Cage, Idaho Falls, president; Clara Jones, Boise; Mabel Paterka, Republic Wash. The alumni include: Goldie Felton, Lewiston; Mary Ball, Colorado Springs, Col.; Ruth Litton, Lamont; Gladys Hastie, Seattle, Wash.; Inez Sanger, Payette; Georgia Oylear Rowell, Middleton; Helen Cochran, Emmett; Helen Bloom, Spokane, Wash.; Eleanor Faris, Buhl; Helen Johnston, Portland, Ore.; Gladys Beach, Burley; Grace Taggart, Hay, Wash.; Leta Sabin, Parma; Lila Patch, Boise; Olive Merritt, Edgmer; Jean Kendall Gibbs, Moscow; Mercedes Jones, Portland, Ore.; Helen Frantz, Moscow; Bernice Cornelison, Moscow; Fleeta Brennen, San Francisco, Cal.; LaVerne Borell, Rathdrum; Florence Bauer, Boise; Marie Anderson, Moscow.

SUCCESS EDITORIAL

Contributors Include Best Known Pen Writers on Idaho Campus.

With less than two weeks left before publication, "The Nugget," the University of Idaho magazine, is giving every indication of being a real success from the editorial standpoint. The slowness with which the students are espousing a book they have long demanded is not so promising.

The material for the "Nugget" is in the hands of the printers and the articles are rapidly assuming shape in type. Copy has been turned in all during the week and the process of bookmaking is well along. Publication will be made sometime during the last week of the month.

Despite the general acclaim of the students for such a magazine, to date

COUNCIL REORGANIZES INTER-HALL COUNCIL

LYNN HERSEY ELECTED PRESIDENT—PLANS MADE FOR GREATER ACTIVITY.

A reorganization of the Student-Faculty council, composed of President A. H. Upham, Dean Messenger, Dr. Kostalek, Miss Kathryn Jensen, Dr. Henry Schmitz, C. W. Hickman, Lynn Hersey, Clara Jones, Sigurd Sampson, Rex Kimmel, Jean Rowlands, Ted Turner, Agnes Cox, Pauline Pence, Frank Minns, and Otto Heufner, to deal with a number of matters requiring attention this semester, was effected at a meeting held by the council Wednesday.

Lynn Hersey was elected president for the remainder of the year; Ted Turner, vice president, and Agnes Cox, secretary.

The Student-Faculty council was organized last year to act in an advisory capacity in the handling of matters in which both the student body and the faculty are interested.

"There are a number of matters coming up for consideration this semester, and a number of enterprises in which the council will be valuable," said Lynn Hersey.

"It will undoubtedly be even more active than it was last year, and definite announcement of plans will be made later."

The council will meet about one month, subject to the call of President Hersey.

WEAR DERBY OF DEFEAT

Grand Chief Potentates Goff and Stevens Make Unique Wager.

(By ARTHUR S. GUERIN, JR.)

Approximately five hundred people turned out to see the Lawyer-Ag tilt at the university gymnasium Wednesday afternoon at 4:30. The crowd began to gather from shortly after lunch until the timer's whistle notified the waiting mass of humanity that the battle of the centuries was on. The respective rooting sections of the two colleges were gay with color. Both black and white. And the Ags waved large bundles of barley, their college insignia. Yell Kings and Dukes pranced the floor calling mightily to the frenzied children of Law to support their mighty conquerors even until death do us part.

Meeting for Students Interested in Argonaut

The cub of today will be the editor of tomorrow.

There will be a meeting of all members of The Argonaut staff Tuesday evening, February 20, at 7:30 in The Argonaut office. The meeting has been called to perfect the permanent organization of The Argonaut staff for the second semester.

All members of the past semester's staff and all persons interested in Argonaut work have been urged to be present. A definite organization will be worked out at the meeting and permanent assignments given out.

The Argonaut, due to the desire of the management to economize, will be unable to continue the plan of holding Argonaut suppers. The meeting at night will give the staff a greater opportunity to discuss matters of interest to The Argonaut.

Any undergraduate who shows a willingness to work, regardless of previous experience, will be eligible for a position on the staff.

The more efficient the staff, the better The Argonaut will be. One man or six men, or even a dozen undergraduates cannot be expected to put out the best newspaper without assistance. With a truly representative group of willing men and women The Argonaut may be made into a paper worthy of the university.

Allumbaugh Elected Prexy Sophomores

At a meeting held Monday night by the sophomore class, for the election of officers, the following were elected: Ray Allumbaugh, president; Demerise Ebbly, vice president; Margaret Springer, treasurer; Louise Young, secretary.

Allumbaugh, a student from Boise, was elected with a total of sixty-six votes, after a very close race. Allumbaugh is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and the Glee club. Miss Ebbly is from Wallace. Miss Young and Miss Springer are from Boise.

Considerable interest and spirit was shown by the class in this meeting and there was a large turn-out. Another matter brought up for discussion was the Sophomore Frolic, which was scheduled for March 31, but it was found that vacation starts at noon of this day so a committee was appointed to arrange for a prior date if possible. The question of establishing the honor system was briefly discussed and arrangements will be made to procure a speaker on this subject for the next meeting.

MAT TOURNAY CANCELS S. E. I. U. CLUB DANCE

The S.E.I.U. club dance, scheduled to be held Saturday night, has been indefinitely postponed, according to Merle Drake, president of the club. The action was necessary because of the Idaho-W.S.C. wrestling meet, which will be held in the gymnasium the same evening.

The club plans to arrange for a date later in the spring, in order that they may give their dance, which has become an annual affair.

Wednesday evening dinner guests of Omega Phi Alpha were: Dr. Muttowski, Professor Brown, Mr. Howe and Mr. Vasquez.

Idaho, twice winner of the basketball championship of the Pacific coast conference, is not an idle forecast, but a practical actuality. Washington Huskies, at present leading the league, are due to tumble and the stumbling blocks, two of them, are University of Oregon and the Oregon Agricultural college quintets. Idaho in turn must win from both Oregon and Oregon Aggies.

As a result the Idaho undergraduates next week will talk, think and dream basketball for the University of Oregon and the O.A.C. teams play here, Oregon on Monday and O.A.C. on Wednesday. The prospects are alluring—the undergraduate has been provided something to look forward to, athletically speaking—for the contests will not only be great exhibitions of varsity basketball as played in the Pacific coast conference but the chances are enormously good for two telling Idaho victories.

Oregon Game Monday.

The Vandals are out to win and the game of foremost importance at the present time is the clash with Oregon in the gymnasium Monday night. This game will be called promptly at 7:30 o'clock by "Buck" Hunter of Moscow, who has been agreed upon as referee.

Reserved seats for the Oregon game will be placed on sale Friday noon in the administration building, according to announcement by Graduate Manager Knudson. Every effort is being made to relieve the congestion at the game in that the graduate manager is to open up the Sportsmanship by Order.

Idaho undergraduates are good sportsmen—hence, why in the name of Willie Keeler the necessity for constant reminders or "epitaphs" on "let's win this game in two ways." The incessant cry to "show your sportsmanship" gives a distinctly erroneous impression that Idaho men and women have to be constantly warned against rushing out on the floor to make merry with the referee or visiting players. Visitors can arrive at that one conclusion. A yell leader should lead yells and should not, in our humble estimation, at any time attempt the part of a "short-snappy-after-dinner speaker."

Funny Things Happen.

Undergraduates have shouted the need of a literary and humorous publication, largely because other colleges issue publications of that character. Now that Idaho is venturing the issuance of such a magazine to meet the demand, the management of the proposed publication reports a most general failure to subscribe. Buy "The Nugget"—it is worthwhile.

Your Own Loss.

A small number of students heard Paul Althouse. The undergraduates present will long remember the program. It is unfortunate, as far more undergraduates might still be treasuring the memory of the evening. The next time it might be well to take a chance.

LAWYERS DEFEAT BARLEY WAVERS

(Continued from page one.) Immediately preceding the game Abe Goff, associate justice of the Bench and Bar association, advanced with chest protruding and head and eyes at attention, to the middle of the floor, and calling out nobly to the Grand Chief Potentate of The College of Agriculture, "Fat" Stevens, he offered the following wager, to-wit:

Wager Wearing Apparel.

"That in the event of the game being won by the Ag college, the Law college would don the proverbial raiment of the farmer, consisting of a straw hat and blue denims, and wear them faithfully to classes for the remainder of the week, and if the Lawyers survived the struggle and came through victorious the Ags would wear a derby hat, high collar and red necktie for the same period of time.

"Mr. Stevens accepted the wager as only a gentleman and a sportsman could, and the battle was on.

The game was fast and cleverly played. The Lawyers took the lead immediately and maintained it throughout the entire game. Tears stood in the eyes of the Ags and they cuddled the poor little Short Ags to their sides and sent up a mournful prayer that their team might come through victorious, but all to no avail, the Ags were helplessly beaten.

Lawyers Lead Struggle.

At the end of the first half the Lawyers had doubled the score. In the last half the Ags tried valiantly to come back, and slowly they gained on the now cocksure Lawyers. The Ag rooting section burst madly into a storm of applause as their team showed signs of life, but then the Lawyers found the basket and from all angle of the floor they sent the ball spinning through the net for counters. The game ended with the Lawyers on the long end of a 30 to 2 score and the Ags went home to don the garb which circumstances forced them to wear.

C. L. RAE ADDRESSES ENGINEERING STUDENTS

TELLS OF TELEPHONE COMPANY POLICY TO PATRONS.

Motion Picture Lecture Held For Entire College—Interests Juniors and Seniors.

C. L. Rae, of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, spoke to the junior and senior engineering students Tuesday on the policy of the company to their patrons and employees.

Mr. Rae, in his discussion of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, gave some of the principles of the company. The company is the head of all Bell Telephone companies throughout the United States, having 27 associate companies, manufacturing the products used in the Telephone and Telegraph system.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company is spending $217,000,000 in investments for the betterment of the telephone and telegraph system. The company throughout the United States has in use approximately 14,000,000 telephones, and is increasing this number at the rate of 600,000 annually. This increase per year is more telephones than are in use in Spain, France, and Portugal together.

Show Motion Pictures.

Tuesday evening Mr. Rae presented to the associated engineers several reels of motion pictures, showing the Western Electric company, one of the associate companies of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, which manufactures most of the supplies for the telephone system. The plant of the Western Electric company covers some 300 acres, employing 38,000 men and women. The plant is located at Hawthorn, Ill., a few miles from Chicago.

SOCIETY

One of the most unique forms of entertainment this year will be held Friday in the gymnasium in the nature of "An Evening in Spain." Of every couple admitted, one of the two must have either studied Spanish or else be enrolled in the course this year. The guests are requested to come dressed in the Spanish costumes and the entire entertainment will be given in the Spanish language. The evening has been well planned from beginning to end and promises to be a jovial affair.

they have been very reluctant about backing the venture in a financial way. The management under the capable handling of Rosebud Donovan has been and still is making a thorough canvass to place subscriptions, but results are not yet what they should be to insure the permanency of the magazine.

Non-Support Big Surprise.

"The management of the publication is expressing no little surprise at the action of the student body concerning the taking of subscriptions to 'The Nugget.'" The great majority of students have been deploring the absence of such a book at Idaho for years, but now that such an enterprise has been taken up with a view to the continuous issuance of the magazine, they are disposed to 'pears,' say those in charge.

"In beginning 'The Nugget' at the University of Idaho, we students are doing just what has been done at other institutions of note for many years. We have been slow in getting started here but now that the undertaking has been started, it should receive the support of practically every student.

"The Nugget" is a strictly student magazine. It was started by students. It is managed by the students. The material contained in it is being written by students, and the venture is being made as a result of the voice ings of the student body for such a book.

Student Enterprise Entirely.

"It is entirely a student book, being edited, printed and managed by the students. And as such, it should receive the wholehearted cooperation of the campus community. The subscription price is within the reach of all and 'The Nugget' will be the very best kind of souvenir to take through life, as the title indicates that the contents will be the finds of the university and is itself descriptive of the historical features that made the upbuilding of the state.

"Three issues to be printed this spring are offered to the students for 50 cents. This is less than 20 cents a copy and will be lower than the retail price of similar magazines. Single copies will sell for 25 cents. Subscribers, however, may secure extra copies for 15 cents.

"By taking advantage of the subscription rates students will save 25 cents on the aggregate price of the three issues. Advantage of the opportunity should be taken by all as beyond doubt each individual will ultimately want copies and students are loath as a usual thing to expend 75 cents where 50 cents will do.

Worth While Book.

That the book will be highly worthwhile is not to be doubted, say those who are acquainted with the articles that are going into "The Nugget." Humorous sketches and essays, short stories with abundant local poems and various other home-grown "gems" will make up the contents.

On the list of contributors to "The Nugget" will appear such names as Philip W. Buck, known to everyone on the campus for his satirical humor; Kenneth M. Hunter, who has contributed interesting and well written articles; Ted Sherman, with some of his entertaining poems; June Crosson, who has contributed a delightful force of the "Nine Lives of a Cat," and a host of other campus satelletes who wield versatile pens.

"Send a Nugget home," has become the slogan of the sales force of the publication. Since the report has spread, considerable interest has been manifested by home folks who would like to see what the university has to offer in the line of literary productions.

IDAHO FRESHMEN WIN HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST

COACH HUNTER'S TEAM TOO STRONG FOR MOSCOW.

Preliminary to Varsity Game Fast and Hard Fought, With Final Score 43-24.

In a preliminary game to the Idaho-Willamette game, the Idaho freshman team romped away from the fast Moscow high school team, by a score of 43-24. The game was void of any thrills but was interesting to watch. The high school lads put up a good scrap but were clearly outclassed. Coach Hunter's men were in good shape and compared with their showing at the first of the season were 100 per cent better Wednesday night. The first half ended with a score of 20-10 and was a race from one end of the floor to the other. The high school boys showed up well in this half but the teamwork and passing of the Babes was too much for them. Nedros was unable to get his long shots into action and the rest of his team was unable to get through the Yearling's defense to advantage.

Fosh Score Heavily.

In the second half both teams played a better game and were more accurate with their shooting. The M.H.S. men made several nice long shots and the Babes relied mainly on their ability to work the ball under their own basket and convert from there. Stevens showed up to advantage with his basket shots and floor work, although he had bad luck with a number of his shots. Talbot had his eye on the basket too and made five nice shots from the floor. "Wee-Wee" Cotter didn't miss very many either and converted five counters, too.

Nedros played a good game for the high school men, as did all his team mates. They are a scrappy little team and show that they have been well coached. They should make a good showing in the state tournament to be held in the university gymnasium on March 16-17.

place on the floor. Then the rest of the Idaho men would take their turn and generally were successful in making a couple of points each time. Bob Fitzke got enlargement of the heart and made a basket for Willamette. Some people say it was just a plain mistake, but others contend that his lady friend happened to be sitting under the Willamette basket and Bob simply couldn't resist showing his prowess. Anyway, it didn't matter.

For Idaho, Al Fox was the individual star. He amassed a total of 38 points and worked the floor in great shape. Harry Edwards played a nice floor game and got four baskets to boot. Fitzke got five baskets, not counting the Willamette one.

Willamette Fights Hard.

For Willamette, Wilkinson was high point man, making a total of 12 points. He made several very difficult shots from the middle of the floor and played a nice game all around. Emmel showed real class with his excellent floor work and made a couple of dandy long shots. The whole Willamette team showed a lot of fight although they were clearly outclassed. They were a good clean lot of players and were good sports.

VANDALS PREPARE FOR BASKETBALL

entrance to the gymnasium for holders of certain seat sections.

All holders of reserved seats in sections L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, and U are to enter the gymnasium at the south entrance. Holders of reserved seats in other sections will enter by way of the front door. This same plan will be followed for the rest of the home games this season.

The reserved seats for the O.A.C. game, Wednesday, February 21, will be placed on sale Monday noon and the reservations for the W.S.C. game Saturday, February 24, will be placed on sale Thursday noon.

Even Up With Oregon.

Oregon has a strong team and when the Vandals were on their coast tour the Oregon team caught the Idaho quintet in the "doldrums," a thing that may come to any team, and beat them 42 to 35. The Vandals aim to even up on this season's count Monday night. It is to be remembered that the Vandals played 10 games in 14 days of hard traveling on their coast trip.

Oregon in the coast conference has won from Idaho and the Oregon Aggies, and has been defeated by O.A.C., Washington and W.S.C.

Coach MacMillan will, of course, not announce the lineup against Oregon until just before the game. The effectiveness of the combination used against Washington may, however, influence him to use that same brilliant combination. To pick the best team from the brilliant array of Idaho basketball players is impossible except for Coach MacMillan and he has always picked the best team. Undergraduates are watching with considerable interest the three new members of the varsity basketball squad, Kleffner, Penwell, and Charley Simmons. All three men showed up particularly well during the intramural season.

Balance of Schedule.

Idaho's basketball schedule for the rest of the season is Oregon, February 19, at Moscow; O.A.C., February 21, at Moscow; W.S.C., February 23, at Pullman, and W.S.C., February 24, at Moscow (both Northwest conference games); Whitman, February 26, at Moscow; Montana, February 28 and March 1, at Missoula, Mont. Arrangements are now being made for a game with Gonzaga university at Moscow, the date of which has not yet been set.

Norman Moss of Washington State will referee the O.A.C.-Idaho game. The referee for the W.S.C. games has not yet been named.

Coming back to the situation in the Pacific coast conference, Idaho is a reality in the race for the championship of the northern division. The northern division winner meets the winner of the southern division, and it is well recognized that faster basketball is played in the north than by Stanford, California and the University of Southern California.

How Things Stack Up.
If Washington, the present leader on percentage, is beaten by either Oregon or O.A.C., and Idaho wins from both Oregon and O.A.C., Idaho, O.A.C. and Washington will be tied for first place. If Washington is defeated by both Oregon and O.A.C. and Idaho wins from both these teams, O.A.C. and Idaho will be tied for first place. In the event of a tie in either case the team will probably play a series of the best two out of three games.

Idaho's basketball team is out to battle to victory in all the remaining games and there is every reason to believe that the "fog-horns" will sound off four separate and distinct times, starting with Monday night, next week.—J.L.P., Jr.

TENOR PLEASURES WITH RECITAL

Althouse, Famous Dramatic Singer, Gives Recital to Small But Appreciative Crowd.

Paul Althouse—singer with a beautiful voice and real personality. Althouse took a small but most appreciative audience in the University auditorium Tuesday night with him through the joys of music. Probably no greater dramatic singer has ever appeared in the university auditorium as evidenced in "The Blind Ploughman," a number as sung by Althouse that caused one to wake with a start with the last note and wonder why one's hand was clamped to the arm of the seat.

Althouse seemed almost to play with his audience. He carried his hearers to the heights of emotionalism and in the next number rollicked with them in a lightheartedly beautiful and simple song. He changed from the highest type of dramatic artist to an irrepressible college youngster singing for college youngsters. The change, let it be known, did not diminish in the slightest degree the indelible stamp of the great singer on the man.

Human, Real, Genuine. Perhaps the best description of Althouse would be in the words of his own song, "The Last Song":

"To have the world
To make music with me."

For Althouse seemed to sing with his audience rather than at them. He was human, real, genuine. To add to a program by Althouse would be difficult but Rudolph Gruen, accompanist, did the impossible in three piano solos and an encore number. Mr. Gruen courteously inferred that his audience was well acquainted with the encore number as he did not announce it. The desire of the audience, however, was to hear him play. Mr. Althouse sang one of Mr. Gruen's own compositions, "The Phantom Ship," and Mr. Althouse graciously passed the apparent appreciation of the crowd from himself to his accompanist.

"Daffodil Gold" was a colorful number in which the golden mellowness of Mr. Althouse's voice was shown to advantage. "Someone Worthwhile," "Sunday," and "The Lilac Tree" were favorites. It might have been well for Mr. Althouse to have left his audience with the thrill and inspiration of "The Great Awakening" but the crowd would have none of it. Again Mr. Althouse charmed with a light encore and with another song left his audience living with him the dramatic realism of the number.

EUROPE IN PRIVATION

MRS. M. L. SARGENT SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY ON ACTUAL PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS.

"Central Europe is engulfed in an abyss of privation and poverty. Her industries are demoralized, her resources have been confiscated, and production is practically at a standstill," said Mrs. M. L. Sargent in an address given to the student body Wednesday morning at assembly.

"On the surface things seem normal, but underneath her misery is terrible. The educated classes have been reduced almost to starvation, and everywhere you will find conditions worse than we have ever imagined to exist."

For three months Mrs. Sargent has been touring central Europe, investigating those conditions of which she spoke and gathering first hand information.

Living conditions in Germany today are 840 times higher than in pre-war times, according to Mrs. Sargent, and money has depreciated to such an extent that it is practically useless as a medium of exchange.

"For some time people have been forced to use substitutes for everything from shoes and wool to coffee. A pile of coal six feet by seven and waist high costs 45,000 marks. "Hate is the supreme emotion. Hate and fear are seething throughout Europe."

The trip was made by Mrs. Sargent with several of her relatives, but at various points she traveled alone, interviewing the populace in order to gain the viewpoint of the middle classes.

In concluding her talk on foreign conditions Mrs. Sargent said, "I believe it is the duty of every student to inform himself. It is not my purpose to formulate opinions, but I believe it is your duty as Americans to think over the problems that are facing us in central Europe."

DR. BRYAN WILL SPEAK FOUNDERS DAY AT W.S.C.

Dr. E. A. Bryan, who for nearly a quarter of a century was president of Washington State College, has accepted the invitation of the associated students to return for Founders day, March 28, and give the principal address at assembly the day before, when there will be a special program commemorating the approval by the legislature 32 years ago, March 28, 1890, of the act founding the college as an institution of agriculture and school of science.

S. A. E. BASKETEERS Repeat On Capture Of Premier Honors

The crack Sigma Alpha Epsilon quintet has won the intra-mural basketball championship of the university for the second successive year. With virtually all of the games played, the percentage table shows a high mortality rate for all of the teams that met the S.A.E. basketballers. The twice champion team went through the season without a single defeat, finishing the season with a percentage of an even grand.

The percentage table at the present time is as follows: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 1.000; Sigma Nu, .750; Kappa Sigma, .750; Phi Delta Theta, .571; Beta Theta Pi, .571; Phi Gamma Delta, .375; Lindley hall, .250; Elwetars, .143; Phi Alpha Psi, .000.

Teams representing Sigma Nu and Kappa Sigma went through the season with only two defeats each. Despite the fact that the Sigma Alpha Epsilon quintet won all its games, lively competition was furnished throughout the entire season.

REGISTRAR'S REPORT SHOWS ACTUAL NEED

LABORATORY AND CLASS ROOM SPACE INADEQUATE AT PRESENT

1100 More Registrations in Science Courses Than in 1914-1915.

"In laboratory sciences there are now 1100 more registrations than in 1914-1915," reads a statement from the registrar's office of the university. Since 1914 the only additional laboratory and classroom space provided to accommodate this increase has been the erection of the south wing of the Administration building in 1917.

The following comparisons of registrations in the laboratory courses, for October 15, 1914, and the same date in 1922, have been compiled. In eight years, registration in botany has increased from 91 to 250; chemistry, from 149 to 640; physics, from 33 to 129; zoology, from 75 to 248; psychology, from 11 to 234; bacteriology, decreased from 44 to 34. On October 15, 1914; 403 students were registered in laboratory courses, as compared with 1535 in 1922. The report of the president of the institution, made in October, 1914, emphasized the need "for additional laboratories and recitation rooms at the university."

Add One Thousand. A thousand students have been added to the university enrollment in the last five years, nearly 500 in the last biennium. The actual enrollment of the university, December 16, 1922, was announced at 1235, and 200 additional students are expected before the close of the college year. These figures do not include summer students, those in special courses, nor non-residents, who will bring the total up to about 1700.

Judging from the increase recorded in the last few years, university authorities expect an additional increase of 500 within the next two years.

Thurlyn Shrontz, '21, and his Grangeville basketball team, Coach Burns and the Culldesac basketball team and the Lewiston basketball team were guests at the Beta house Saturday. They came to see the Washington-Idaho basketball game.

NEW DRAMATICS DEVELOP TALENT

"Little Theatre" Movement Makes Possible Production of Lord Dunsany's "If" by College Cast.

Some people have been wondering how a play so modern and spectacular as Lord Dunsany's "If" can be presented by a college cast. Under the old regime of elocution as practiced by college dramatic societies, such a venture would have been unthinkable, but luckily, both for the colleges and for the stage, that day has passed. The theater of thirty years ago, against which our New England consciences warned us, has gradually recruited the more daring of our university thespians, until now we can look forward to a stage which will be as college-bred as the professions.

This condition has led to a serious attempt on the part of some of the big universities to give adequate preparation in the field which they know some of their students will choose as their life work. At Idaho the productions which are frequently produced at the university but are but a part of the laboratory work which our dramatic department is doing in that direction. With the nucleus of these Varsity Players who are being drilled in the technique of staging, costuming, lighting, color effects and the numerous other fine points of the game, it is now possible for Idaho to have and enjoy the very best.

New Doctrines Accepted.

This same very best was with the older generation of actors, a tradition handed down from father to son, or perchance picked up by some exceptional man, but there was never until recently any attempt to analyze the art and make it accessible to the dozens of talented young people who were fortunate enough to live in a cultured college environment. The modern dramatic department is doing this and it is the ultimate aim of the "Little Theater" movement at least as expressed at Idaho and the rapidly growing number of colleges who have accepted the new doctrine.

The classes are not restricted to those who want to act, but due to the splendid opportunities for specialization on the stage, people who believe their forte to be costuming, stage-lighting, or directing can receive their training. At Idaho the classes are yet so small that extensive specialization is as yet impossible, but this is compensated by the broad training which our students can receive. Therefore, with this nucleus to bolster up the students who make the cast from outside the Varsity Players, and with the type of direction which we now have, the success of Idaho's latest venture in dramatics is assured.—P.M.H.

Bridge Craze Hits California Co-Eds; Restrictions Made

University of California, Berkeley, (P.I.P.A.)—So great has become the card playing fad at University of California sororities that numerous houses have imposed rules, which work the terrible hardship on the "sisters" of being restricted to only 14 hours a day for bridge playing.

The new rule is that there must be no bridge playing before 10 a.m. and none after 7 p.m. on school nights. On other nights the lid is off.

Some of the more studious sisters decided that a grand slam in the evening means a flunk in the morning.

It was reported that the bridge-playing fad got so bad that the girls were making a night of it, and taking a cup of coffee and a morning rub in place of regular breakfast before rushing off bleary-eyed to classes. The first houses to pass the new rules were Gamma Phi Beta, and Delta Zeta. In other sororities, the sky—and the dawn—is still the limit.
