O.A.C. QUINTET ELIMINATED BY SMASING VICTORY, 36-21

Pacific Coast Champions Finish Season in Whirlwind Style by Taking Powerful Machine to Easy Cleaning—Game Ends Schedule With Mac's Men on Top.

OZ THOMPSON STOPS HJELTE

University Men Not in Danger After First 17 Minutes of Opening Half.

(By Louis A. Boas.)

Idaho forged into the lead in the northern division race for the Pacific Coast conference basketball championship here last night by eliminating the Oregon Agricultural college quintet 36 to 21 in one of the most terrific clashes seen here this season, comparable only to the Washington and Oregon games played during the past fortnight.

Both teams entered the game knowing full well that upon its outcome depended whether or not their university would have a fighting chance for the conference title in the coming two weeks, and each man put up the fight of his life in order that his team might win that chance. It was due primarily to the greater stamina of the Idaho men that Idaho emerged victor over her dangerous rival.

Concentrate On Defense.

Both teams appeared to concentrate their efforts toward minimizing the effectiveness of the acknowledged stars of the opposing team, with Thompson, Idaho center, playing an excellent defensive style of game against Hjelte, huge Oregon Aggie tip-off man. The Idaho man, through his consistent, dog-like tactics, held the opposing star, around whom the entire visiting team seemed to be centered, practically helpless, allowing him but one field goal on a long overhead shot.

Ridings, on the other hand, was able to keep Al Fox, Vandal forward and conference leader in individual scoring, to one lone field basket, which came during the last quarter of the second half.

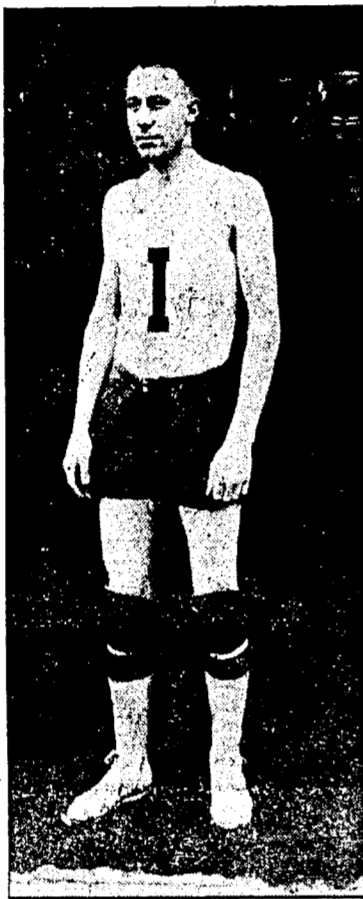

After Idaho had once gained the lead, it was clear that she could not

APRIL 13 AGREED UPON FOR MEN'S TRIANGULAR

The date for the men's triangular debate, including the Universities of Montana, Utah, and Idaho, has been definitely set for April 13, according to Phil Buck, debate manager. Tryouts will probably take place next week, the time to be announced in the next issue of The Argonaut.

The subject of the debate will be the application of a cabinet parliamentary form of government in the United States. Definite wording of the question has not yet been formulated. Candidates expecting to tryout have been urged to prepare their material immediately.

VANDALS MEET W.S.C. IN TWO GAME SERIES

CONTEST FRIDAY AT PULLMAN, SATURDAY AT HOME.

Outcome Has no Effect on Conference Standings—May Cancel Montana and Whitman Setups.

Coach MacMillan's Vandals clash with Washington State college Cougars at Pullman Friday night and Saturday a return game is to be played at Moscow. On Monday the Vandals meet the Whitman Missionaries on the Idaho floor. Washington State will be a hard team to defeat on their home floor and "Doc" Behler's team has been strengthened materially by the phenomenal Kelso.

The W.S.C. games are in the nature of workouts for the Vandals in that the contests are not conference games and will have no effect on the conference standing in either the Pacific Coast or Northwest leagues. Idaho, simply as a matter of pride, will, however, take the Cougars into

FORNEY HALL MONUMENT TO THE MOSCOW BUSINESS MEN

BUILDING READY FOR OCCUPANCY AT END OF COLLEGE YEAR TO ACCOMMODATE 110

Forney Hall, the new women's dormitory, under the course of construction by the University of Idaho Building association, an organization of Moscow business men, is nearing completion. The building will be finished and completely equipped by the close of the school year and summer school students will be the first to make use of the new dormitory.

The handsome three story brick dormitory with full and sub basements has been named in honor of Mrs. Mary E. Forney of Moscow, prominent Idaho club woman, and wife of Judge J. E. Forney, one of the first acting presidents of the university, and one of the first members of the board of regents.

The dormitory will accommodate 110 girls and there will be dining room accommodations for 150. The plans call for the latest and most modern type of dormitory construction with

ACTIVITY POINT SYSTEM STYLE CREATES HAVOC

WOMEN'S LEAGUE TAKES UP DISCUSSION OF PLAN IN VOGUE AT WESTERN COLLEGES.

Adoption of a point system for women's activities was discussed at a meeting of the Women's League held last Tuesday afternoon. The purpose of such a system as brought out in the discussion is to limit and distribute offices and honors. Its final adoption has been deferred until the amount of points to be allotted to each branch of activity has been worked out more fully.

According to the plan submitted by Vera Luse, committee chairman, each girl will be limited to a certain number of points a year thereby giving more girls a chance to participate in the various activities on the campus. A tentative plan was presented whereby such major offices as the manager of the Women's Athletic association or president of the Women's League would carry twenty points, while minor offices would be limited to ten points or less, according to their importance. Other activities that have no definite amount of points assigned to them would be cared for under the head of floating points.

System Used Generally. This system has been adopted by practically all of the leading colleges in the west, and Idaho girls are to be congratulated upon their timely foresight in inaugurating this system at the present time.

Several other matters were touched upon in the course of discussion, one of them being a way by which the Women's League might raise enough money to send a delegate to the convention to be held at Columbus, Ohio. Several suggestions were made but none were definitely decided upon.

CO-EDS USE DIETING, EXERCISE, AND COUE WITH SPRING MANDATE OF FASHION.

There is going to be a reduction in Idaho's co-eds—not in number, but in person. That is, if determination and perseverance count, and the reason is "clothes," for this spring's clothes are made for slim people, so, reducing classes and methods are in vogue on the campus.

Some favor dieting, others exercise, and Coue has his followers, but a combination of the three is used in most of the houses. After study hours, the more rotund members gather in the largest room with the strongest floor and the class is on. They go through most complicated and tortuous exercises. Solemnly perched on the back of their necks they wave their pedal extremities in the air while others roll back and forth across the floor. The class with a devout, but breathless recitation, "Every day, in every weigh, I'm getting thinner and thinner."

Surprized Young Man. One youth, while waiting for his date to perform the last rites, turned on the phonograph without noticing the record. In place of the expected outburst of jazz, came in the commanding tones of Walter Camp: "Assume first position, arms at side." The record had been left on from the previous evening's exercise. So, men, look before you play, and forgive them if they're cross, because who can be good-natured on a liquid diet, that is, the reducing liquid diet.

Jimmy Jones Disappears

"The most sought-after individual on the campus" is missing! Jimmy Jones has disappeared. His description is: height, about five feet five; age, not known; weight, about 50 pounds; hair, none; eyes, none; very boney frame.

Dr. Muttowski is mourning the loss of his skeleton. He reports that Jimmy usually is missing around initiation time, but he always has come back promptly before. It was thought for a while that Jimmy was gracing Miss Winslow's physiology class but she reports that the skeleton in her possession is her own, and that she won't be through with it for some time.

Any information leading to the discovery and recovery of Jimmy will be greatly appreciated by the zoology department.

MEASURE ALLOWS ALUMNI APPOINTMENTS ON BOARD

Of considerable interest to University of Idaho alumni and undergraduates is the announcement from the legislature at Boise that house bill No. 128 has passed the house. The bill provides that university graduates may become members of the state board of education.

If the bill receives favorable action in the senate and from Governor Moore, the measure will become a law.

In the past the law prohibiting Idaho graduates from becoming members of the state board of education has been pretty much a slap in the face. The prohibition impliedly questioned the ability and fairness of university alumni and the passage of the measure by the house is welcomed by the Idaho undergraduates.

If house bill No. 128 is passed by the senate and signed by the governor it will then be possible for the governor to appoint one or more University of Idaho graduates to the state board of education.

UNDERGRADUATES HEAR OF "CODE OF HONOR"

MATTER BROUGHT UP FOR STUDENT CONSIDERATION

Talks Made by Dean Cockerill, Dean Thomson and Hersey—Kimmel Discusses Pageant.

"The honor code, which has been arousing so much interest in the University of Idaho, will have to come as an outgrowth of student feeling and favor. It can never be thrust upon the university. It can never be instituted unless you are ready to receive it," said Lynn Hersey, president of the A.S.U.I., in addressing the student assembly on the honor code Wednesday morning.

"There is already a certain honor code on this campus. We consider it dishonorable to become intoxicated here, to 'pan' athletic officials, for athletes to disobey training. A definite code will be the result of your own personal feeling."

Dean F. A. Thomson, head of the school of mines, spoke on the success

SPokane IS TO GET SERIES

No Visiting Team Handicapped by University Gym Despite Alibies.

(By O. A. Fitzgerald.)

With all official conference games but one over with and with the right to represent the north hinging on the result of that lone clash Idaho, now leading the upper division, will keep an eager ear to the ground Saturday night for rumbles from the Oregon-Washington battle at Seattle. Idaho ascended to the prominent position by defeating both Oregon and the Oregon Aggies here the first part of the week, but unless Oregon wins at Seattle the Vandals will have to place their supremacy at stake against the Huskies in a post-season series on neutral floor. Although history falls to show very many places where any warm friendship has existed between Idaho and the Webfooters the Vandals and their followers are praying that the Oregonians will do them a good turn and end all worry about a tie with Washington.

Two Out of Three.

In case the northern division should deadlock all arrangements have been completed for settling the dispute. Considerable talk has been heard of a so-called scheme for the coaches voting for the northern representative; but the only satisfactory way will be to bring the two together and let them fight it out. With that in mind Washington and Idaho have already agreed to meet in the Gonzaga university gymnasium at Spokane as early next week as possible. At first the Multnomah club gymnasium was suggested as the neutral floor for the tie-breaking series but Gonzaga's new gymnasium, with capacity for a tremendous crowd, offered the best attractions.

Think it Over.

Why not a gradual assimilation of the suggested "Code of Honor?" The principal subject of the last A.S.U. assembly is worthy of the most serious consideration. Such a subject might provide an interesting "bull fest."

The new women's dormitory, Foincy hall, is rapidly nearing completion. It stands for the public spirited business men of Moscow and is but one indication of the interest Moscow people have in the welfare of the undergraduate. Help to make Argonaut advertising genuine advertising by cooperating with those who are cooperating with you.

Construction Is Rapid

adequate social and recreation room, complete dining room and kitchen. The dormitory has been divided into suites of three rooms each, each suite or apartment to consist of two study rooms on each side of a dressing room and sleeping room. The sleeping room windows are large enough to make the room into practically a sleeping porch.

Architecture Conforms to Campus.
The general architecture of the building will conform to the general style of architecture on the campus.

The issue by University of Idaho Building association of $200,000 worth of seven per cent bonds brought about the construction of the badly needed women's dormitory. The bond issue was divided into two series and the first of $100,000 has been marketed. The second series will provide for the building of a new men's dormitory in the near future.

The new dormitory has been erected on a site purchased by the association of the public spirited business men of Moscow. The dormitory will remain the property of the building association until paid for by the university. The regents of the university have approved the plans and specifications and will contract to operate the building as a hall of residence, paying a fixed rental which will enable the association to meet its interest obligations to bond holders and to retire the bonds in series by the end of 15 years, at which time the hall will become university property.

Science Hall Needed
The general plan, whereby the students of Idaho at the state university will be comfortably housed at private and not state expense, was evolved by Dr. Enoch A. Bryan, state commissioner of education, and President Upham. Through the plan and the willingness of Moscow people to relieve the cramped conditions at the university, it was not necessary for the university to ask the present session of the legislature for dormitory appropriations, but the university was enabled to ask the legislators to provide for a new science hall, an absolute necessity for the continued growth and well being of the state's educational institution.

The building association, which is not an organization for profit, is but another evidence of the loyalty of Moscow citizens to the university and the sacrifices they are willing to make in order that young people coming in rapidly increasing numbers from all over the state may have comfortable homes while they are here at the university. Through this association they have found a way to finance the housing needs of the university by utilizing on favorable terms, funds that are seeking investment anywhere in the northwest.

Students Hear of Honor Code

of the honor system, a phase of the honor code which applies to examinations, in the school of mines.

Idea Grows.
"We have never announced that the honor system was in effect in our school. The idea has grown up with the students. We have never told the students that they were on their honor not to crib in examinations. But gradually it has come to be understood that a man with us was on his honor, that we recognized him as a man of honor."

"I don't see why an honor code shouldn't succeed. It has a much wider application than mere examinations. Every community in the United States works on that system. Community safety depends on something far different than law enforcement for its safety. It depends on an element which has a great deal to do with the success of our commercial and credit system—honor."

"We recognize that no university can acquire standing unless its faculty and students are in the main honorable. Nor can a community." Dean Thomson explained that in the school of mines, where practical problems can be given, that the honor system had been very successful and had elevated student morale. Speaking of the honor code as a whole, he said:

"We've got to train our students to be fair and square, and to live their lives fairly and decently, for it's the plan our entire government is made on."

Dean Cockerill Speaks.
Dean O. P. Cockerill, head of the law school, spoke on the success of the system there:

"We can subscribe unqualifiedly to the honor code. When I asked John Cramer, chief justice of the Bench and Bar association, if he believed in the honor system, he replied 'I do.'"

"If you students are here for knowledge and not for grades, the system will be a success. But it will of necessity be a growth from yourselves, and will depend on your attitude."

Human nature does not differ, but conditions do. Don't put yourselves in a position where you will want to cheat. The upperclassmen will have a great deal to do with the success of the honor system."

Force of Public Opinion.
Dean Cockerill stated that the honor code was undoubtedly a good thing and that there was, as Mr. Hersey had pointed out, a form of it in operation at the present time on the campus. The honor system, he said, could be made a success by the upper classmen through the force of public opinion, and tradition, shaping conditions in such a manner as to bring the right attitude to the underclassmen.

Mr. Hersey stated that the honor code must be brought about through perfect coordination of the student sentiment in its favor and loyal student support.

SOCIETY

The past week has been filled with considerable enthusiasm and as the Gem of the Mountains dance followed Idaho's victory over O.A.C. there was more than the usual run of enthusiasm. The Kappa Kappa Gamma formal held Wednesday was one of the prettiest dances given in recent weeks.

The freshmen of Gamma Phi Beta gave an informal George Washington dance Thursday afternoon at the Gamma Phi house.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at a formal dance at Guild hall Wednesday evening. The fraternity colors of the two blues formed a lattice ceiling and walls. Butterflies, shaded lights, and pussy-willows were combined to carry out the decorative scheme. A butterfly dance and the Key special were features of the evening. The guest list included: Dean French, Messrs. and Mesdames G. M. Miller, Mac P. Bailey, H. H. Orland, C. W. Hickman, H. Smith, E. B. Smith, G. Curtis, C. Von Ende, E. Taylor, F. Veatch, and Helen Fenn; and the Misses Catherine Ralston, Faith Fossett, Pattie Hoon, Margaret Hellison, Anita White, Genevieve Armstrong of Pullman, and Miss Ruth White of Lewiston; Geraldine Newton, Spokane; Roland Dick, Lewiston; R. The freshmen members of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority entertained Thursday afternoon at a very informal George Washington afternoon dance. Thirty-four couples were present. Punch was served.

Chi Beta Epsilon announces the membership of Ida Mathews, Pocatello; Marion Evans, Spokane; Frances Agnew, Boise; Nellie Green, Troy; and Mirth McArthur, Coeur d'Alene.

President and Mrs. Upham and Miss Margaret Upham were Wednesday dinner guests of Gamma Phi Beta.

Jean Rowlands, Bernadine Moser, June Crosson and Harriet Featherstone attended the Kappa Beta formal and military ball at Pullman.

Beta Theta Pi announces the pledging of Kester Flock of Spokane.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained at dinner Sunday for Professor and Mrs. Wodsdalek, and Mr. and Mrs. Young.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained at dinner Wednesday for A. Golden, J. Connors, E. Leithe, H. McQuaig and Walter Casebolt.

Phi Alpha Psi announces the pledging of Herbert Pollard of Rupert and Bryce Morgan of Glenns Ferry.

Dinner guests of Phi Alpha Psi Tuesday were Casebolt, Ficke, Kerns, Haymond, Hasfurther, and Wheaton.

One of the points brought forward to induce the co-eds of Northwestern university to join the rifle corps was that the experience gained would be a valuable asset in married life.

Championship Tie Probable

As noted several times during the week the Vandals are all steamed up and practice is continuing without halt, for Idaho must maintain the terrific pace which has raised her from third place to first in order to realize the ambition of repeating as coast and northwest conference champions. The Vandals realize the seriousness of the job ahead of them, which will be more complex if the tie with Washington materializes, and are out to make the best of their opportunity. Idaho can thank the Oregon Aggies for one fortunate turn in their defeat of Washington at Seattle.

Schedule Helps Out.

Earlier in the season Idaho was walling over the fact that the preliminary games were all away from home; now she is rejoicing. Had the schedule been reversed there is some doubt if the Vandals would be able to beat as strong a team as Oregon on their home floor, although there is little doubt but that they could win from the Aggies at Corvallis.

Considerable has been said by visiting teams about the Idaho gymnasium and every one, except Washington State, has used it as an alibi. Neither of the Oregon teams seemed to be greatly handicapped by inability to make their long high-arched shots from around center and the Web-footers did most of their telling work from what is ethically called mid-floor. Washington likewise, did considerable long-distance shooting, but their weak point was inability to hit the basket, which would have been a drawback in any gymnasium. The Vandals, on the other hand, play a passing game which features little long distance shooting, for they keep passing the ball around until a favorable opening presents itself.

Oregon May Win.

Although Idaho is now in a position which should call for some consideration of strength of the southern division leader the Vandals are right now far more concerned with home affairs and will not give much serious thought to southern happenings until the outcome in the north is definitely decided.

Judging from the comparative strength of the two teams, based on their respective showings against Idaho here, Oregon is expected to win over Washington at Seattle. This prediction is made in spite of the fact that Washington State kicked the hope pall over and defeated the Web-footers at Pullman. The Oregon team seems to possess a far better basic attack than does Washington, unless it has improved since their appearance here. The Vandals were compelled to exert every ounce of drive to down the Oregonians while Washington fell comparatively easy under a 40 to 26 score.

Robert Garver, former business manager of The Argonaut, left college, the position has been occupied by Winton Arnold, who was his assistant at that time.

Rex Kimmel is president of the senior class, president of the interfraternity council, house manager of Sigma Nu, and was editor of the 1923 "Gem of the Mountains." He has been prominent in university dramatics.

Leo Gregory, also nominee for The Argonaut business managership, has had some business experience, and in the past has been successful as an insurance salesman.

Business Managership Important.

The business managership of The Argonaut includes the mailing and distribution of the paper, handling and soliciting of the advertising and the general business management of the paper.

The two new departments in women's activities have never before been recognized as independent organizations by the A.S.U.I. Girls of the university have taken such a keen interest in women's athletics and the Glee club that it has been necessary to create the two departments, both acting independently of the men's departments. Both positions will be of considerable importance on the campus, and the election of directors of these activities is expected to arouse great interest and enthusiasm.

Ready for Tour.

The Girls' Glee club has been working on productions for the past semester and formulating tentative plans for the coming trip, which will be made under much the same plan as that of the Men's Glee club, which left on its tour last week.

Girls' tennis, basketball, hockey, indoor baseball, volley ball and hiking will be taken over by the Women's Athletic department. The inter-class basketball contest is now being held, and a number of hikes are being planned for the spring.

Both the nomination and election are being held under the rules of the re-codified constitution.

camp both Friday and Saturday nights.

May Cancel Games.

It is barely possible, in view of the situation in the Coast conference, that Idaho might cancel the Whitman game. Idaho will cancel the two games with the University of Montana, scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday of next week at Missoula, in the event that Washington beats Oregon at Seattle.

If Washington wins from Oregon at Seattle Saturday the two out of three game series will have to be played off to determine the champion. As a result, Coach MacMillan will probably cancel the Whitman game, although it will count in the Northwest conference. The first game against Montana will also count in the Northwest conference.

Use Same Lineup.

Coach MacMillan will probably use the invincible combination of Fox, Edwards, Telford and Keane against Washington. The game at Pullman will begin at 7:30 Friday night and the return game here Saturday night will begin at 8 o'clock.

Coach "Squinty" Hunter's Idaho freshmen will play Spokane university at Spokane Saturday night and on Monday the frosh quintet meets the fast Lewiston State Normal team in a preliminary game to the Idaho-Whitman varsity contest.

be stopped, and her meager advantage continued to increase until but a few moments before the final gun the score stood 30 to 14. With a couple of neat passes, and two free throws, the Aggies boosted their record up to the 21 mark before the final close of the game.

Visitors Hold Lead.

For practically the first seventeen minutes the visitors led the Idaho Vandals, only allowing Idaho to tie their record once during that period, after which they immediately regained the lead. With but eight minutes of time left Idaho again tied the score, took the lead, and became invincible. The end of the first half showed the Gem State cagers in the lead with a margin of five points, the score standing 15 to 10.

Ridings and Thompson were the first men to score in last night's contest, the O.A.C. man hooping a neat basket after nearly five minutes of play, followed almost immediately by Thompson for Idaho. O.A.C. went into the lead shortly thereafter on free throws, retaining it for three quarters of the period. Fouls were frequent on both sides, Idaho losing two of her men, Thompson and Edwards, during the final minutes of the game on four personals. O.A.C. was more fortunate, going through the contest without being compelled to make a substitution on that count.

Fox High Pointer.

Gill, O.A.C. guard, was high point man of the game with a total of 13 points, nine of which were gained via the free throw route out of 15 attempts. Fox for Idaho ranked second with one field goal and 10 out of 14 conversions. Keane and Telford, Vandal guards, each caged four field baskets apiece, and played brilliant ball throughout the game.

Idaho by winning last night's contest, definitely eliminated the Oregon Aggies from the title race, and placed themselves at the head of the northern division list with a percentage of 625. Washington now ranks second with a percentage of 571, with the opportunity of tying Idaho, Saturday, by defeating the University of Oregon at Seattle.

A huge crowd was out for Wednesday's clash here, the gymnasium being crowded long before the call of time. Fog horns and whistles quickly spread the tidings of the victory of the local team at the close of the game, and the downtown streets soon were filled with enthusiastic and excited celebrating students.

UNIQUE PLAY PROGRAM PROMISED FOR MARCH

THREE ORIGINAL COMEDIES FOR "LITTLE THEATRE."

Varsity Players Present "Sail On," "Afterglow," and "The Barring of the Door."

Perhaps the most unique program of the college year will be presented in the near future by the Varsity Players. In line with their policy of practical as well as theoretical training, three of their number have written original plays which are to be produced under the direct supervision of the individual play-wright.

So far this year all plays have been under the direction of Professor Cushman and the response which they have received from those fortunate enough to see them has been gratifying to those who are sponsoring Idaho's "Little Theatre." These plays will give us an idea of the success which he is having in teaching still another branch of the subject, namely, production.

Three Clever Plays.

Since the best of production and staging cannot make a good play unless the play itself is good, perhaps a word should be said about these plays.

"Afterglow," a philosophical romance by Glen Hyde, is a pleasing little playlet which carries us into Mexico. "Sail On," a pseudo-historical farce by Phil Buck is a clever bit of humor, while "The Barring of the Door," by Talbot Jennings is straight comedy.

All of these men have already written considerable original stuff which has received much praise in the past and these plays are sure to be up to the standard of their previous work. The date of production is to be around March 10.—P.M.H.

CHEMISTRY PROF UNDERGOES APPENDICITIS OPERATION

Professor J. E. Baldwin, of the University chemistry department, was operated on for appendicitis Wednesday afternoon. He has been ill for some time. The operation was successful and Professor Baldwin was reported Thursday night has rapidly recovering.

EPISCOPAL CLUB PARTY MONDAY WAS BIG SUCCESS

Between 75 and 80 university undergraduates attended the annual Episcopal club dance Monday night in Guild hall. Waffles and coffee were served to the guests, who were seated at tables on the stage. The music, the dance and the floor were all good, and one of the best informal parties of the college year was the result.

She played on the inter-class basketball teams in her freshman year, and again this year on the sophomore team. She is one of the leaders in the point system which has been installed by the Women's Athletic association.

Three Candidates Named.

Miss Mims, the third nominee for manager of girls' athletics, has been interested in inter-class basketball, and is captain of the senior team. ### VARSITY MEN INVADE SOUTH IDAHO FIELD

IDAHO GRAPPLERS MEET C. OF I. MEN SATURDAY.

Prospects Bright for Mat Success at Caldwell—Brown Takes Five Wrestlers.

When the University of Idaho wrestling team left Thursday for its tournament with the College of Idaho at Caldwell next Saturday, there were two reasons for their invasion of the southern Idaho school. First of all, the men are going out to bring home the bacon, and second, the boys have been wanting a chance to prove to College of Idaho students that members of Idaho's wrestling team and the rest of the students are not as heathenish as they were painted in a statement appearing The Statesman immediately after the return of the defeated U. of I. wrestling team to Caldwell last year.

It appears that the coach of the Coyotes last year was not as good a sport as most college coaches are and after his team was defeated by the Idaho grapplers here in Moscow, this coach waited till he got home and then caused to be printed a nasty article flaying the spirit shown by Idaho students and athletic management towards the C. of I. team.

Statement Aggravates.
The truth is that the Coyotes were shown an unusual amount of attention and courtesy while they were in Moscow and it was rather aggravating, to say the least, for those people who tried to make everything pleasant for their guests to read in the newspapers that Idaho students were not good sports. A good share of the criticism was directed towards the referee that Idaho engaged for the occasion and while this man was not the best in the world, he was the only person available on that occasion.

All told, there was no call for the published statement, and while it is well known that the sentiment expressed in the statement was not representative of the students of the C. of I., it left a little hard feeling among the members of the Idaho team and they are going down south to show the world that they can win from the Coyotes on a foreign mat.

The team left Thursday and the match is to be held on Saturday night in the Caldwell high school gymnasium. The men who will represent Idaho at Caldwell are: Ross Leighty, 125 pounds; W. Phillippi, 135 pounds; R. Molyneaux, 145 pounds; F. Kinnison, 158 pounds; Johnny Vesser, 175 pounds. For Leighty this trip will mean a visit with his parents as his home is in Caldwell. Coach "Babe" Brown accompanied the team to Caldwell but will not be entered in the tournament.

INDOOR TRACK MEET NEXT GROUP CONTEST

INTRA-MURAL ATHLETES NOW IN TRAINING.

Lewis Court Baseball Games Start Friday Afternoon—Keen Interest Shown.

The intra-mural indoor track meet, newest innovation in the field of intra-mural athletics at Idaho, will be held on the afternoon of March 3, in Lewis court. Rules have been posted, and aspiring athletes from the various houses are already pounding the cinders, attempting in the short space of time afforded to attain perfection in condition and form.

Intra-mural meets have met with marked success in other institutions in the northwest, arousing keen interest among the various groups, and bringing to light much new and unsuspected material for varsity squads. Indications are that the interest will be no less keen here, every group having entered men in events.

Twelve Events Possible
Events for the meet will be as follows: 40 yard dash, 40 yard low hurdles, 40 yard high hurdles, high jump, broad jump, 440 yard dash, 880 yard run, mile run, 2 mile relay, shot put, and if possible the two mile run and pole vault.

Because of the cramped conditions associated with every indoor meet it will be impossible to run the 100 and 220 yard dashes or to throw the discus or javelin and it may be found necessary to drop the pole vault and two mile run from the schedule.

According to the dules given out by Bill Gartin, secretary of intra-mural athletics, letter men may compete in those events in which they did not win their letters. Weight men are eligible for the sprints, while sprinters are eligible for the weights.

Twelve Credits Necessary.
Entrants, to be eligible for the meet must have carried twelve hours work in the institution during the past semester, and must be carrying at least twelve hours this semester. Moreover, candidates for the teams must have reported with the varsity squad for at least ten days before the meet, or have made some special arrangements as to conditioning with Coach Mathews.

Because of the fact that space is limited it is found necessary to curtail the number of contenders to two men from each group in any one event, with the exception of the quarter mile, in which event but one man from each group may be entered.

Lists of candidates for the meet, entered by different groups, were due at the athletic office Wednesday.

Indoor Baseball Schedules.

Schedules for intra-mural indoor baseball have been posted as follows:

- Phi Gamma Delta vs. Sigma Nu
- Saturday, February 24, 1 P.M.

A white tile fountain, from which fountain pen ink will flow continuously, is to be erected in front of the book store at the University of California. The fountain, an eight-sided kiosk of glazed tile is part of the equipment of a new book store recently opened.

GAME SCHEDULE READY FOR CO-ED BASKETBALL

The schedule for girl's interclass basketball games as announced Thursday morning by Pauline Pence, manager, is as follows: Tuesday, March 1, freshmen vs. seniors, sophomores vs. juniors; Thursday, March 6, freshmen vs. sophomores, juniors vs. seniors; Tuesday March 8, freshmen vs. juniors, sophomores vs. seniors; March 8, ties will be played off.

(By ROBERT L. HOLBROOK)

The last opportunity to procure the first number of "The Nugget," will be proffered students and other University folk on or before Wednesday, February 28, according to announcement just made by the managerial staff of the magazine.

Last Chance.

"Those who fail to take advantage of this opportunity," said Rosebud Donovan, manager, "may later regret their inability to get a copy as only a limited number will be printed the first issue, and those will be distributed among the actual subscribers."

"Those who desire copies of the first number will do well to make immediate arrangements with some member of the managerial staff. The three numbers are being sold at a subscription price of 50 cents or approximately 15 cents per copy. May Save 25 Cents.

"By taking advantage of the subscription offer, students can make a saving of 25 cents on the three numbers. Many have signified their intention to buy when the magazine is printed but it is essential that they subscribe now to allow us to determine how many copies to print.

"Since the magazine is a new venture at the University of Idaho, extreme care must be exercised in the first publication or so to ascertain the student opinion on the magazine and to make the departure a financial success. This means that publication will be confined to the very minimum. To Print Minimum Number. "A minimum publication will limit the number of papers that can be purchased after the magazine is printed. And those who have not bought subscriptions in advance will be unable in many instances to get copies.

"It is the desire of the management to enable every student to get his or her copy of "The Nugget," but we are simply forced by necessity to use the utmost caution until the publication has been put on its feet by the unstinted endorsement of the student body."

Book Gives Promise.
Considerable speculation is rife concerning the new magazine, and innumerable guesses are being hazarded as to the contents of the "Nugget." The few hints that are being dropped by the editors give every indication that the booklet will live up to every expectation.

"The Nugget" will be a thirty-two page magazine plus cover for the first issue. The cover will be printed in two color form upon a background of artistically tinted cover paper. The colors for the first number have not been definitely selected but they will probably be gold and black or some other combination.

Contents Very Interesting.
The contents of the book will be a combination of everything from the great to the near great. Humorous essays, good jokes and numerous articles will enliven the pages of the magazine and evoke many an unsurpassed laugh from the reader.

The literary tone will be given "The Nugget" by the breezy short stories, vivid descriptions, expositions that really expose, allegories that eclipse the magic of Dr. Coue, and numerous other forms of composition.

A Student Magazine.
"Above everything else, students and others are urged to remember that "The Nugget" is a student publication and will fail or succeed dependent upon the support that it receives from every individual. It is edited by students and the finances are to be furnished largely by student subscriptions," say those in charge.

"For several years students have voiced their desire for a magazine at the university. This is the first attempt that has been made to found a permanent institution of this character. If it succeeds this spring, in the modest way that is anticipated, the foundation will be laid for an ever-growing booklet next year and thereafter.

"It would be impossible to start out with a magazine complete in every detail as is desired to obtain ultimately. This can be accomplished only by careful and gradual building up. The first thing necessary is positive and absolute support of the student body. After that the magazine will prosper beyond a doubt."
