FRESHMAN BASKETEER TODAY VARSITY PLAYER TOMORROW

Coach "Squinty" Hunter Coaches First Year Stars Along Line of MacMillan System.

The freshman basketeer of today is the varsity man of tomorrow. And this season's crop of yearling basketball material, under the careful tutelage of Coach "Squinty" Hunter, has proven quite a remarkable product.

The yearlings won six out of eleven games played. They lost both contests to the Washington State frosh.

High School Players Welcomed Here By Students, Coaches, and Players

To members of the Idaho high school teams, meeting on the University of Idaho floor for the state high school basketball championship, The Argonaut, on behalf of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, extends a most cordial welcome.

Following are statements from President A. H. Upham, Coach R. L. Mathews, Coach David MacMillan, and Captain Al Fox.

PRESIDENT UPHAM'S MESSAGE

"We are glad to have you here on the campus of your own state university, prepared to contend for championship honors.

"Won't you try to make this visit count for something more than basketball though? Make up your mind right now that you are going to be a student of the University of Idaho and make a place on one of Mac's all-Pacific teams.

"Now go in and win!"

A. H. UPHAM, President.

COACH MATHEWS SAYS

"The University of Idaho department of athletics is glad to have the members of the sectional championship teams meet on the university's floor for the state high school basketball championship.

"No doubt the high school men are proud to play on their state university's floor. You high school men are doubly proud to play on the same floor on which the Pacific coast conference title was won from the University of California.

R. L. MATHEWS Director of Athletics

M'MILLAN ON BASKETBALL

"Basketball, like football and baseball, has undergone big changes during the past ten or twelve years. I can well remember playing under what were known as the 'old '98 rules.'

"Blocking, holding, in fact most anything except kicking the ball got by without a foul being called. The clothing worn in those days resembled the old fashioned football suits, which laced down the front.

"The backboards were usually made of chicken wire, and a well directed shot at the proper angle above the basket meant that the ball would drop dead through the net.

"The playing time was also different. The game consisted of three fifteen minute periods, with five minutes rest between them.

"The old style game was primarily push and pull, and lacked entirely the scientific play that we have today.

"Within recent years the tendency has been to eliminate the rougher elements of basketball. As a result, dribbling, which played a prominent part in a team's offense, has given way to better handling of the ball, and short, snappy passing, has taken the place of the long, uncertain pass.

"Wherever basketball is played today, emphasis is laid principally upon cooperation and organization of team play for the betterment of the whole.

"If a team is fortunate to possess a sensational shot, the offensive of the machine is planned so as to enable his to function to best advantage.

DAVID M'MILLAN

VARSIY MEN TOMORROW

"With the interscholastic basketball tournament coming up this week, Idaho students will be given opportunity to see their future basketball stars in action.

"The systems used by the various teams will attract their share of attention. But the high school players at the present time do not know basketball as a science, and it is truly a science.

"Having been fairly successful, I thought I knew basketball in high school, but a week under MacMillan drove that entirely from my head.

"The second year under Mac I learned more basketball than in all the preceding years combined, and only this last year have I noticed all the possibilities in basketball.

"If basketball men just starting out realize what Mac said in those few words, surely they could not help but keep their eyes and ears open while under his instruction.

"His is a system used in the professional world where basketball is developed to the highest possible stage. It is basketball reduced to a certainty, and without blind playing.

"I will not endeavor to go into the system, but I want to say this: High school students, come to Idaho and learn basketball first hand from the greatest coach in the west."

Harold "Tolly" Telford, of Coeur d'Alene, was elected captain of the University of Idaho Vandal basketball team for the 1923-24 season at a meeting of the letter men Tuesday night.

Telford was named by J. Fred Bohler, athletic director of Washington State college, as a first team guard on his official Pacific Coast conference 1923 quintets.

Telford Elected Unanimously.

Since Idaho has discontinued the policy of electing a football captain, through the action of the past season's football men, there was some talk that the basketball men might not elect a captain.

THREE TROPHIES OFFERED

Moscow, Oakley, Coeur Alene, Boise Win Right To Enter Play

(By Ed. Funk)

The Idaho State Interscholastic basketball tournament starts today with Moscow, Coeur d'Alene, Boise, and Oakley representing the four state district championship divisions in the final playoff for the state title.

Weston qualified in the southern Idaho tournaments to represent the southeastern district here, but Weston elected to enter the Salt Lake tournament instead.

Drawings to determine opponents for the first games, and the order in which the teams will meet will take place at a meeting of the coaches this noon.

Double Defeat System.

The double defeat system will be used throughout the tournament. Friday afternoon the four teams will play according to the results of the drawing. The two losers and the two winners will meet in the evening.

"Buck" Hunter, who has an unquestionable reputation gained from officiating at varsity games, and "Squinty" Hunter, University of Idaho freshman basketball coach, will referee the tournament.

Coach David MacMillan, varsity basketball mentor, Dean M. F. Angell, and Prof. R. L. Neldig, all of the university faculty, will act in the capacity of judges, determining the winner of the cup which is to be presented to the team evidencing the best sportsmanship, and picking the members of the all-state team.

Coach Mathews In Charge.

Coach Mathews, representing the Idaho State Interscholastic association, will have full charge of the management of the tournament.

The Interscholastic

University students must and will support the state interscholastic basketball tournament. The tournament is a great advertising feature and a great deal of the success of Idaho basketball in the past may be attributed to the bringing of star high school basketball men to the university.

It is absolutely essential that the tourney be a success financially. The Idaho State Interscholastic Athletic association can hold the annual championship series at any place in the state. If the tournament is not a success financially the university is likely to lose out next year.

Get your season tickets now!

Idaho Assemblies

What's the matter with the student body that they can't give courteous attention to speakers in assembly? Every time a speaker gets up before a University of Idaho audience he talks to five rows of empty seats, and about a fourth of the students aren't paying any attention to what he's saying. Why are "assembly dates" and sub-rosa fussing countenanced?

Speakers who come before the student body have something valuable to say, or they wouldn't be up there.

There is also a necessity for a plan of seating, and for leaving the auditorium. The disorderly jam is robbing the assemblies of their dignity and creates an unfavorable impression that doesn't jibe with Idaho traditions.

TRYOUTS FOR DEBATE TO BE HELD TUESDAY

Tryouts for the Idaho-Utah-Montana triangular debate to be held April 20, will be given in room 217 of the administration building, Tuesday, March 20, at 7:30 p. m., according to Phil Buck, debate manager. The speeches of those contesting will be limited to five minutes each.

The question for the debate is: "Resolved, that the United States should adopt a cabinet-parliamentary form of government similar to that of Great Britain, constitutionality waived."

Considerable interest is expected to attach itself to this contest as Idaho last year won by the narrow margin of one vote, winning unanimously from the University of Montana, but losing to the University of Utah by a 2-1 decision.

Thus far this year Idaho has a clean slate, having won in a masterly fashion from the strong Washington team and from the Whitman debaters. It is the hope of the debate management that the coming contest will place Idaho in the top rank among western institutions in debate activities.

Since it is probable that none of the debaters taking part in the last contest will try out on Tuesday, the call for new material is being especially urged by the debate management. It is hoped that keen competition at the tryouts will assure Idaho a strong team in the coming contest with Montana and Utah.

IDAHO COACHES VICTORS

WIN LOP SIDED GAME FROM PULLMAN ATHLETIC DIRECTORS—GAME ENDS 47-23.

The University of Idaho's coaching staff won an easy victory over the faculty basketball team of the State College of Washington, Wednesday night, running up a score of 47 to 23 against the Pullman aggregation.

The game was fast throughout, considering the fact that none of the players were in the best possible condition for court work. Spectacular play abounded, the both teams were somewhat rusty on passing and floor work.

Hunter and MacMillan starred for the Idaho faculty, running up personal scores of 21 and 12 respectively. The Pullman team was completely at a loss when it came to checking this elusive pair.

Perhaps the most spectacular plays of the evening took place when Coach Mathews stopped Bohler of W. S. C. with a pretty tackle under the visitors basket, when the Pullman mentor threatened to score. The bleachers rose as a body and cheered the feat.

The gate receipts of the game will be applied toward the purchase of cups and trophies for the interscholastic tournament.

Economics Fraternity Holds Monthly Banquet

Alpha Sigma Gamma, men's honorary economics fraternity, gave a banquet Tuesday evening in Huff's cafe, at which time three Moscow business men gave talks on economic and political problems.

J. S. Heckathorn, cashier of the First National bank, discussed the banking conditions of Idaho, in which he told of the general financial situation of the state. A. H. Oversmith talked on "Fraudulent Promotion Schemes," and Homer David, of F. A. David & Sons, described the departmental mercantile system that the firm uses.

THREE LECTURES GIVEN BY FAMOUS PUBLISHER

William Webster Ellsworth, who was for 37 years connected with the Century Publishing company, having retired several years ago as its president, gave a series of three addresses to University of Idaho students and faculty members Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Ellsworth, who was one of the outstanding figures in the American literary world during his long editorship, was brought to Moscow by the university, with the English club and modern languages department cooperating.

His subjects were "The Writing Game," "Moliere and His Times," and "The Joy of Writing." His long period of service with the Century company acquainted him with nearly all of the foremost writers of his time and his lectures were filled with interesting stories about such men as Mark Twain, Rudyard Kipling, Jack London, John Burroughs, Theodore Roosevelt, and many others.

W. S. C. GIRLS' GLEE CLUB TO PLAY EIGHT CITIES

Washington State College, Pullman, (P.I.P.A.)—The Girls' Glee Club of the State College of Washington left Pullman Friday night for a tour of eight cities, under the direction of Miss LaVerne Askin of the school of music. Harry Chambers, graduate manager of the student body, and William Jackson of Spokane, stage manager, went with the club to take care of the business details.

CO-EDS' RIFLE MATCH

Team is Out to Win From Northwestern Girls in Telegraphic Shoot.

(By DOROTHY CLINE.)

"Our girls will make a good showing, and they're going to win," said Sergeant A. Dahlin of the military department, in speaking of the rifle match with Northwestern university, which is to be held Saturday afternoon. The last rifle match was held with the University of Maine, and the Idaho coeds made a creditable showing, although seriously handicapped by a poor shooting gallery and poor lighting facilities.

An excellent shooting gallery has since been arranged in the basement of the administration building, where good lighting facilities are possible. The girls have been practicing regularly, and are looking forward to an opportunity to show their skill. The rifle team of each university will consist of ten girls, who will shoot in turn. The five highest scores made on each side will be used to determine the final result.

The match will begin at 1:00 o'clock and results will be telegraphed back and forth. Twelve girls now hold high scores and the ten who will comprise the team are to be selected from this number. The girls feel that much appreciation is due Sergeant Dahlin, who has been untiring in his efforts to help them. His patience seems to be inexhaustible and it is never too late for him to stay and help some would-be rifle shooter to conquer her imperfections.

Following are the names of the twelve girls holding the highest scores:

Evangeline Bennett, Leah Tuttle, Hazel Rowe, Fern Harrell, Dorothy Gallop, Ruth Wolfe, Gwendolyn Smith, Josephine Keane, May Alvord, Marie Hummel, Florence Hobbs, and Lola Hedge.

SOCIETY

Dinner guests at Phi Delta Theta Sunday were Clara McDonald, Dorothy Helm, Allene Gallagher, Ruby Hoyle, Louise Nagel, Marie Johnson, and Mrs. Richardson.

Leland Upton, of Whitman college, was a guest at the Phi Delta Theta house the first of the week.

The pre-meds held their first smoker of the second semester at the S.A.E. house last Thursday. The evening was featured by interesting discussions on the requirements for entrance into medical schools. Dr. Wolsedelak, Mr. Collins and Mr. Romig, lead the discussion on the amount of chemistry necessary to the pre-med. After the meeting hot dogs and coffee were served and the rest of the evening was spent in playing cards.

A dinner in honor of Ethyl Weyer, given by Helen Johnson, was charmingly carried out in St. Patrick's day effect Tuesday evening at Ridenbaugh hall. Covers were laid for twelve guests. The centerpiece was a vase of ferns and the favors were minute shamrocks. The guest list included: Miss Orr, Claire McDonald, Allene Gallagher, Edna Parrott, Louise Gerboth, Bertha Church, Dorothy Helm, Louise Nagel, Mabel Eichner, Genevieve Cattermold, Helen Johnson, and Lucille Young.

Miss Orr, who was a student in the college of letters and science, is leaving the campus for south Idaho where she plans on spending a few days visiting relatives before taking up her position as woman's buyer in her father's store in Glenn's Ferry.

Guests of Omega Phi Alpha during the past week-end were Alma Calhoun, of Seattle; Vina Mueller, Corvallis, Ore.; Margaret Winbigler, of Eugene, Ore.; Lucille Reed, Fairfield; Helen Madden, of Caldwell; Katherine Vincent and Mrs. Chastain, of Lewiston, and Marjory Freaks, Irene Canfield, Lela May DeMarr, Carol Bickle Lanpt, Mable Turnley, and Marie Stiner of Pullman.

Delta Gamma entertained Chi Beta Epsilon with a novel party Wednesday night. The Delta Gammas dressed as little boys and each called for "his" best girl. Dancing furnished the entertainment during the early part of the evening and all day suckers and balloons kept the "children" amused. After supper the freshmen entertained with a real show, and ice cream cones were passed around.

Phi Delta Theta entertained at dinner Wednesday evening for Dorothy Cage, Louise Yeaman, Katherine Hahn, Mary Kelley, Josephine Keane, Margaret Blackinger, Vaughn Prater, and Mrs. Weatherby.

Delta Gamma entertained Coach and Mrs. D. MacMillan and W. Garlin, B. Keane, H. Telford, A. Nelson, H. Edwards, A. Fox, O. Thompson,

FIFTY STUDENTS TO ATTEND CAMP LEWIS

Seventeen of those who will attend camp are advanced course men, and the others are sophomores or freshmen, who will take the basic training.

Training is Practical

The training offered at the encampment is of a very practical nature. Courses are given in the Springfield and Browning automatic rifles, machine guns, one pounders, minor tactics, camp sanitation, practice in command, and many other subjects. Very little theoretical work is given, everything taught being of a practical nature.

Ample consideration is also made for entertainment. Dances are given every Wednesday night, and students may obtain leave from Saturday noon until Sunday night. Tacoma and Seattle can easily and quickly be reached, and the recreation officer furnishes trucks for week-end trips to points of interest in the surrounding territory.

Team Takes Second

At the last encampment the Idaho delegation made a remarkable showing. The rifle team, in competition with teams from the representatives of all other western colleges, took second place in the match. This was considered exceptional, as the Idaho men had done no actual firing until they went to camp.

Captain Lloyd gives the training camps credit for the rapid growth that the advanced military courses have made at Idaho. Within the last two years, the enrollment in the junior and senior advanced courses has more than doubled. The attendance at camp this summer from Idaho will almost be doubled, in comparison with last year's attendance.

OF OBTAINING DRESS SUIT

Junior men at Ohio State university are worrying about finding dress suits for the junior prom. One junior, however, uses uncanny strategy, according to the Ohio State Lantern. "Why worry about a suit?" he asks. "Let the girls find them. I told five different girls that the first one who brought me a suit could go to the prom with me. The stunt worked last year, so I'm trying it again this time."

SECTIONAL CHAMPS HERE FOR TOURNEY

Gold basketballs will be presented to the men picked for the all-state team. Funds for the purchase of the trophies were provided from the receipts of the faculty game Wednesday night.

Season tickets for the tournament are being sold to students of the university and the local high school for $1. Season adult tickets are $1.25. Unless the tournament receives the best possible support from students and Moscow people, it must necessarily fail financially, because of the great expense of transporting teams from the different districts.

Keep Tournament Here.

Gate receipts are to be distributed pro-rata among the visiting teams. In case the teams are forced to meet a large deficit, in all likelihood the Idaho State Interscholastic association, under whose auspices the tournament is conducted, will see fit to hold it next year in a locality where proper support will be forthcoming.

According to dopesters Moscow's crack five stands an excellent chance to carry away championship honors. Moscow's record throughout the season is an enviable one. With twenty-six games played Moscow has lost but six. Two of these were lost to the W.S.C. freshmen, and two to the Idaho first year men. But two defeats at the hands of high school teams are chalked up against the local high school. Moscow dropped one game to Walla Walla, and one to Culesac. Since the defeat at the hands of Culesac Moscow has defeated that team twice. Moscow took the district championship at Lewiston by winning five straight games.

Nedros Strong Man.

Nedros, forward, has been doing stellar work for the Moscow five, and will put in a strong bid for the all-star team if he is running true to form. Bumgarner, captain, is especially strong on the defense, and one of the mainstays of the Moscow machine. Roise has also been doing good work at forward.

The tentative lineup of the Moscow team is as follows: Nedros and Roise, forwards; Drury, center; Bumgarner and Woody, guards.

Virgil and Norman Estes are held in reserve, to be substituted in either guard or forward positions in case of necessity. Thompson, a very capable center, has recently recovered from illness, and very probably will not go on the floor during the tournament.

Moscow's Season.

Summary of Moscow's season: Moscow, 24; W.S.C. Frosh, 37. Moscow, 51; Prescott, 18. Moscow, 23; North Central, 17. Moscow, 24; Lewis and Clark, 21. Moscow, 18; Culesac, 33. Moscow, 24; Clarkston, 23. Oakley Strong Contender.

Oakley also stands a splendid chance of placing at the head of the ladder. Out of 29 games played this season Oakley has lost but two, one to Boise and one to Burley. Both of these teams Coach Sanberg's men later defeated, Boise losing two games out of three in the inter-sectional tournament, and Burley dropping one with a score of 43 to 32 in the sectional tournament at Twin Falls. The Oakley five is well balanced, fast on the floor, consistent in passing, with several spectacular point getters in the lineup. Larson, center, was high point man in the district scoring 47 out of 60 during the set a new record in foul shooting, tournament play. Martingale, forward, was high point man for field baskets alone.

Idaho Man Coach.

Coach "Sandy" Sanberg, Oakley coach, could give no definite information as to what the probable lineup of the first game will be. The eight players he carries are all of first string caliber, and there is little difference between them. The Oakley personnel is as follows: Martingale, Davidson, and J. Wilson, forwards; Larson, center; Hunter, Bates, Wilson, and Mathews, guards. Coach Sanberg is a University of Idaho graduate. In his first year as a high school basketball coach he has turned out a sectional championship team and a team that will make the strongest kind of a bid for the highest state honors.

Oakley's Record.

Oakley, 30; Albion, 8. Oakley, 55; Declo, 24. Oakley, 66; Heyburn, 7. Oakley, 25; Burley, 27. Oakley, 32; Burley, 20. Oakley, 22; Albion, 8. Oakley, 17; Rupert, 15. Oakley, 41; Jerome, 16. Oakley, 30; Filer, 17. Oakley, 45; Jerome, 31. Oakley, 40; Carey, 17. Oakley, 43; Burley, 32. Inter-sectional Tournament. Oakley, 23; Boise, 36. Oakley, 25; Boise, 20. Oakley, 33; Boise, 22. Coeur d'Alene Strong. Coeur d'Alene has the enviable record of never having been defeated in a high school game in the state during the past season. Coeur d'Alene has played some of the best teams in the northern section of the country, and has lost no games in the state.

In the Panhandle tournament Coeur d'Alene came off without a defeat. This team defeated the Gonzaga prep-school twice, held Wallace down with a score in favor of Coeur d'Alene of 39 to 5, and was defeated by North Central and Lewis and Clark, strong Spokane teams, by four and three points respectively. Plummer went down to defeat before this machine in two straight games, the first time Plummer having ever been defeated on her home floor.

The tentative lineup for Coeur d'Alene is as follows: Bradbury and Scarbro, forwards; Erickson, center; Morse and Captain Ashley, guards. Muller, Scott, and Benson, utility men, will be on the bench for substitutions.

Panhandle Tourney

Summary of the Panhandle tournament is as follows:

Coeur d'Alene, 38; Kellogg, 21. Coeur d'Alene, 26; St. Maries, 12. Coeur d'Alene, 27; Spirit Lake, 10. Coeur d'Alene, 25; Spirit Lake, 18.

Boise a Dark Horse.

Little can be learned concerning the Boise team, their score book not being available, but from all indications they may well be reckoned as the dark horse of the tournament. According to Coach Keane the Boise five has the poorest record of any team competing, having won 15 and lost three games, but they hope to alter their standing during the play here.

Captain Quinter, forward, and McLeod, guard, come well recommended as capable court men, and will be among the closest contenders for the all-state five.

Quinter, Robinson, McLeod, Quilan, Buyer, Atkinson, Silverthorne, and Jenkins compose the Boise squad. Nothing can be ascertained as to who will start the game. The entire squad is exceptionally versatile, every man having been coached in several positions, and substitutions will be varied in accordance with this system. Coach Keane is a university graduate and former all-star athlete. He has won recognition as one of Idaho's best athletes on the football field, the basketball floor, and the baseball diamond.

FORESTRY STUDENTS STAGE ANNUAL EVENT

SEVENTH ANNUAL BANQUET
GIVEN AT LINDLEY

Well Known Speakers on Program—
Value of Forestry Training
Pointed Out

The seventh annual banquet of the Associated Foresters of the Idaho School of Forestry took place Wednesday evening at Lindley hall. Sixty forestry students and their guests sat down to an excellent repast, in a hall bedecked with evergreen branches and otherwise appropriately decorated.

C. W. Watson, instructor in forestry, acting as toastmaster, added much interest to the program by his clever introductions and replies to the various speakers. The program included short talks by Professor C. E. Bahre, A. D. Decker, land agent for the Potlatch Lumber Co.; C. L. Butterfield, E. C. Shepard, supervisor of the Boise national forest; A. M. Sowder and J. W. Rodner, of the school of forestry, and Professor C. W. Chenoweth of the university faculty. These talks were interspersed with songs by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon quartet and selections by an instrumental trio, consisting of violin, cello, and piano.

President A. H. Upham and Senator M. E. Lewis, whose names appeared on the program, were unable to be present, the former being unexpectedly called out of town at the last minute and the latter being detained by business in south Idaho.

Professor Behre gave some amusing reminiscences of his work at the school of forestry, where he had first made the acquaintance of the toastmaster, Mr. Watson, and one of the guests, Mr. Decker.

Forestry Graduates in Demand
Mr. Decker traced the relationship between the lumber industry and the foresters of the country from the early days and stated that without question the lumber industry would be seeking the services of graduates of the forestry schools in increasing numbers to help work out the big problems of improved methods of logging and milling, utilization of by-products, putting cut-over lands to productive use and maintaining the supply of raw material for the future.

C. L. Butterfield, introduced as a pioneer in Moscow, recently interested in forestry matters, congratulated the foresters upon their choice of vocation and encouraged them in their work with the counsel that satisfaction with one's work was more to be desired than large material gain with its usual accompaniment of anxiety and care.

Forest Supervisor E. C. Shepard, who has been giving a series of lectures to students of the forestry school for the past ten days, amused his audience with anecdotes of his experience.

A. M. Sowder, president of the Associated Foresters, outlined the accomplishments of the organization during the year and called upon the students to continue to show their interest in forestry by supporting the club in the future.

J. W. Rodner, apologizing for failure to produce the "Squirrel Pudding" from the Hermit of Hemlock Butte, as scheduled on the program, related the incidents relative to his missing the third annual holdup of the Fernwood pool hall last summer after having been relieved of his valuables in the two preceding events.

The last speaker of the evening was Professor C. W. Chenoweth, who has for several years spent his summers as smokechaser in the Clearwater national forest, and who last year made himself famous in forestry circles in the northwest through his publication in "The Idaho Forester" of a humorous article entitled, "The Science of Smokechasing." Professor Chenoweth kept his audience in continual laughter, following the story of his initial experience in forest protection work, in which some of those present had figured as his boss.

At the close of the program everyone present felt that the banquet had been the most successful event of its kind in recent years and the committee in charge, composed of A. W. Sowder, J. W. Rodner, E. T. Nero, and Leslie Eddy, deserve much praise and credit.

THE SCHOOL OF LOVERS

MOZART'S COMIC OPERA TO BE GIVEN HERE MARCH 23.

"Costi fan tutte" or "The School of Lovers," to give it its English name, for it will be sung in English, will be given by William Wade Hinshaw's celebrated company of all-star American singers at the university auditorium on the evening of March 23.

This little comic opera was the most popular of the novelties given last year at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York. Its sparkling, tuneful music, its gay comedy and its picturesque setting and costuming, make it an opera comique that once seen will not soon be forgotten. It is undoubtedly Mozart's best work of this type, and 20th Century America finds it quite as delectable as did 18th Century Europe.

The story of the opera is filled with intrigue and abounds in laughable situations. It tells the story of two beautiful sisters, Leonora and Dora-bella, who are betrothed to two Neopolitan officers. The two officers, confident of the fidelity of their sweethearts, accept a wager put to them by Don Alfonso, a cynical bachelor friend, and agree to test the love of their fiancées. Under pretext of being called from Naples on military duty, the two officers disguise themselves as Albanian noblemen, and before the sun has set, each has won the heart and hand of the other's sweetheart. Disillusioned, but forgiving the officers agree to forgive and forget, while Don Alfonso laughingly remarks "You must not censure a woman for flirting," "Costi fan tutte," which being translated means "they all do it."

The action is fast and furious and the music keeps pace with the merry plot. It abounds in tuneful solo, duet, quartet, and sextet numbers, while the entire three acts sees no abatement in the gay comedy.

This will be the last on the university artist course for the year. Reserved seats will be on sale Thursday at Hodgins for $1.25 and $1.00.

ST. PATRICK CLAIMED BY IDAHO ENGINEERS

The seventeenth of March is St. Patrick's day and the Associated Engineers of the University of Idaho are claiming St. Patrick as the patron saint of the engineers.

St. Patrick's feat of driving the snakes out of Ireland is an example of sanitary engineering. His transit work on the road to hell, and his discovery of the open gates while using the "dumpy level," make him the peer of any engineer in the history of the world.

The University of Missouri is recognized as the originator of "St. Patrick as an Engineer." It is said that several senior engineers had a dream in which they were directed to a certain spot where they found a remarkable stone. Upon the face of the tablet were unmistakable representations of a transit, a compass, a slide rule, and many minor engineering instruments. Across the tablet was inscribed in ancient tongue, "Erin go bragh," which is not "the top of the morning," but, "St. Patrick was an engineer." Since that time March 17 has been recognized by most engineers as a day of rejoicing.

PRESIDENT TO OCCUPY PRESBYTERIAN PULPIT

President Upham will occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, his topic being "A Man-Size Religion." The occasion is the annual Sunday morning service conducted by the men's brotherhood of the church.

Students and others, whether they are affiliated with the church or the brotherhood or not, are invited to this meeting, according to the Rev. Wayne S. Snoddy, pastor.

President Upham has been a frequent speaker at religious assemblages, having recently addressed the Spokane Y. M. C. A. and having filled the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church in Spokane one Sunday in the course of the absence of the pastor, Dr. Sherman L. Divine, on his trip to the Near East. Several of Dr. Upham's addresses before high school graduating classes in the last two years have been baccalaureate sermons.

Phi Delta Theta Holds Founders' Day Banquet

The annual Founders Day banquet of Phi Delta Theta fraternity was held Thursday evening. Alumni from the local chapter and from Whitman college attended. This is the first annual banquet to be held in the new house.

A decoration scheme was tastily carried out in the fraternity colors, while candies furnished illumination for the banqueters.

During the banquet the guests were entertained by a program featuring members of the active chapter. Numbers by the fraternity quartet were numerous, and several readings served to entertain.

The alumni guests for the evening were Harvey Smith, Homer David, Howard David, Fulton Gale, Ben Comrada and Mr. Myers.

YEARLING BASKETBALL MATERIAL DEVELOPER

one to Walla Walla high school, Cheney Normal and Potlatch A. A. The quintet scored two wins over Spokane university and Moscow high school, and one game from Potlatch A. A. and Lewiston Normal. During the season the freshmen scored 333 points to their opponents 271.

Credit to Coach.

A great deal of credit must go to the freshman basketball coach, "Squinty" Hunter, for his diligent and tireless effort in rounding the team into a typical Idaho aggregation. By taking a handful of high school stars from the state, he developed several whose prospects look bright for future varsity material.

Early in the season the yearling coach was confronted with the problem of breaking each player of his prep school style of ball to the more advanced and aggressive college brand. It was not until the yearlings had been worked over did the outfit take on the aspect of a winning aggregation.

Once in the mid-season form the yearlings retaliated from all their early defeats, except those by the Cougar frosh. Potlatch was downed in a return game. Moscow high school the conquerors of Walla Walla was defeated twice as was Lewiston Normal the victor of Cheney Normal.

Stillman was high point man of the aggregation, converting 61 out of 135 free throws and 17 baskets from the field for a total of 95 points. Talbot, rangy center, lead in field goals with 34 and 11 out of 16 free tosses for a total of 79 points. Stevens with 20 baskets, Cotter with 15, Nelson with 9, Rowe with 6, Sowder with 2, Fields with 2, Taylor with 2 and Harding with one came next in the seasons scoring.

No Individual Stars.

To pick an individual star of the quintet even to Coach Hunter seemed to be impossible. The outfit worked well together in every form of play, passed and guarded about on par. Stevens and Cotter as running mates were ideal forwards. Both had fair lineups with the basket and fed Talbot and Stillman consistently. They also covered well and proved advantageous in both offense and defense.

Nelson, Talbot and Stillman were the main factors in the offense, all were good floor men, they could dribble and handle the ball with ease. And then hurry back to help form the impregnable five man defense. Rowe as a general utility man worked into the team work in excellent fashion.

Coach MacMillan will likely find some valuable material from this season's frosh aggregation to build Idaho's varsity in the future.
