

BASEBALL PROSPECTS PROMISING AT IDAHO

TEN VETERAN LETTERMEN ARE AVAILABLE THIS SEASON.

Good Material From Last Year's Frosh Nine—Train at Lewiston—Marineau is Captain.

With 10 men back from last year's squad and with a promising bunch of youngsters available from the last froshman crew, Idaho's baseball chances look mighty promising—so good in fact that the Vandal mentors are planning to establish for a week only a spring training camp at Lewiston.

During that period the Vandal squad members will drop down to a lower altitude and go through their paces just as the big leaguers do in their spring training camps.

Lewiston Welcomes Team.

The Lewiston boosters are strong for having the college nines with them for a few days and are helping all they can.

Idaho's nine made a real showing in the coast conference last year and with practically a veteran crew should do better this year.

Pitching Staff Strong.

The pitching staff is exceptionally

BIG CROWD TO ATTEND COMIC OPERA TONIGHT

BIG CROWD TO ATTEND 24 IS. CV NEWSPAPERS OF COUNTRY COM-MEND PRODUCTION.

Action, Clever Situations, Splendid Music, Realistic Settings, Certain to Please.

"Cosi Fan Tutte," or the "School for Lovers," is to be presented tonight at 8 o'clock in the university auditorium.

From all the favorable comment of the newspapers throughout the country the play must certainly be worth while. The critics describe it as a delightful combination of beautiful melodies, clever dialogue, and unique setting and costumes.

The setting should be a refreshing change from the usual run of plays. Most of the scenes take place in the palace and garden of two sisters and the entire stage effect is so well worked out that the atmosphere is intensely realistic.

The cast is composed of professional artists. The celebrated American prima-donna soprano, Irene Williams, is well supported by American singers of note.

This production is in the form of a comic opera and is given in English. Having run a very successful season at the Metropolitan, students are assured of an especially entertaining opera, really something extraordinarily good.

Theme Old and New.

The theme of the play is universal, being the story of two young Italian

GOVERNOR M'CONNELL SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

TELLS OF "BOISE BASIN DAYS AND WAYS"

Pioneer Executive Head of State Relates Interesting Episodes for Historical Pageant.

"Boise Basin Days and Ways" was the subject of a lecture delivered Tuesday before two of the Idaho history classes of the University of Idaho by former Governor W. J. McConnell. On request of his hearers, who desired "color" and "atmosphere" for the Idaho Historical Commencement pageant to be presented at the close of the college year, the speaker confined his narrative to a description of some wild-life scenes that were enacted in the gulches of this famous camp from 1863 to 1866.

Interesting Episodes.

Truck-gardening in 1863, Nanny Doughtett, the rebel spy, "Ferd" Patterson, "secessh" gunman, H. C. Street, rebel editor, the bogus gold-dust boys, the horse thieves, David Opyke, the embezzler sheriff, John Kelley, the dance hall violinist, and "the picket corral gang" were some of the episodes described.

In presenting Governor McConnell, Professor C. J. Brosnan reminded the students that the speaker was one of a small number of survivors from the earliest placer mining era, that he was born in the eighteen thirties when Van Buren was president, that as a boy he had studied Kirkham's grammar, the same text used by Lincoln, that he had voted for Lincoln in 1860, that he was a framer of the state constitution, and that he was a pioneer United States senator and state governor.

CHRISMAN IN COMMAND

University of Idaho Commandant to be in Charge of R.O.T.C. Encampment at Camp Lewis.

Colonel Edward R. Chrisman, commandant of the university regiment of the R.O.T.C., will leave here June 1 for Camp Lewis, where he will command the annual R.O.T.C. summer encampment, which is to be held June 14 to July 25. This is the fourth encampment that Colonel Chrisman has commanded.

Captains C. L. Lloyd and B. B. Baine, instructors in military science and tactics, will leave for Camp Lewis a week later. Both will be in command of companies at the student camp.

Students from all western universities who are enrolled in either infantry, engineering, field artillery or medical units of the R.O.T.C. will attend the encampment. Last year there were representatives from Washington, Oregon, Washington State college, Oregon Agricultural college, Idaho, Montana, California, and the Colorado School of Mines.

Forty-seven University of Idaho students have already signed up for this summer's camp and as Idaho's quota is only fifty-two, it will unquestionably be filled in a short time.

National Women's Honorary Society To Install Idaho Chapter April 14

On Saturday, April 14, Mortar Board, national women's honorary society will install a chapter at the University of Idaho. Mrs. J. M. O'Gorman, a member of Mortor Board from the University of Illinois, will be the installing officer.

Of 15 petitions presented at the last national convention, Idaho's application was one of four to be granted. The other three successful petitioning groups were the University of Texas, Washington State College and the University of Oregon. This makes a total of 25 chapters throughout the country.

DEAN MATHEWS TALKS ON MODERN RELIGION

EDUCATOR DISCUSSES RELATION OF SCIENCE TO RELIGION.

Dean of University of Chicago Theological College Talks at Assembly.

"Either our religion is a mere superstition, or it is a fact. If we can't combine faith with the things we know to be facts and realize as truth we had better give our religion up."

Dean Shaler Mathews of the University of Chicago, known in every part of the United States for his liberalism, and one of the nation's most prominent teachers of theology, talking on the subject of the contributions made by science to our religious thinking, startled the students of the university by a clear cut, terse and

Women Players Show Athletic Association Dance Plans Complete

Senior women trounced the juniors Thursday night, 23 to 3, in the inter-class basketball game of the girls' tournament now being run off. The real feature of last night's series was the freshman-sophomore game which ended in a 12 to 12 tie.

In the Tuesday night contests the underclassmen carried off the honors. The freshmen defeated the juniors, 34 to 4, and the sophomores took the seniors by the narrow margin of one point, 13 to 12.

DEBATE TEAMS PICKED FOR TRIANGULAR CLASH

The debating team of the University of Idaho which will meet in a triangular clash with Universities of Montana and Utah forensic artists April 20, has been picked from a list of aspirants, according to announcement Thursday morning by Prof. Lewis A. Harding, debating coach. Those chosen are R. E. Reed, of Coeur d'Alene; Rutherford A. Barnett, of Lewiston; Philip Buck, of Filer; Mable A. Eckles, of Portland, Ore.; Francis Wyman, of Boise, and Hugh F. McKee, of Weiser.

The debate will be on the question whether the United States should adopt a cabinet form of government.

The annual triangular contest with Utah and Montana is one of the biggest debates of the year. Idaho was successful last year in winning from both teams, thereby taking the three-cornered event. Idaho has had a very successful debating season so far this year, and from those trying out last night, excellent material was in evidence, so that it is thought the local institution has good prospects of duplicating its victory of a year ago.

The debate is under the management of Philip Buck, well known speaker and debate enthusiast. Professor Harding will have active charge of coaching the two teams.

Cletye Gossett Named President of Y.W.C.A.

Cletys Gossett of Moscow has been elected president of the University of Idaho Y.W.C.A. for the coming year. The election was held at a special Y.W.C.A. meeting held Tuesday in the University Hut.

Other officers elected were: Alma Baker, Twin Falls, vice president; Beulah Brown, St. Maries, secretary; Editha Barton, Moscow, treasurer; Laura Knudson, Spokane, undergraduate representative.

Installation of the new officers will take place the first part of next week, after which the new president will appoint her cabinet.

LINDLEY HALL SMOKER TO BE SATURDAY NIGHT

LINDLEY HALL SMOKER 14 .NR BOXING AND WRESTLING FEATURES OF PROGRAM

Third Annual Get-Together of Hall Men Promises to Be Big Success.

Arrangements have been completed for the third annual Lindley hall smoker, which will be held Saturday evening. Committees in charge promise something unusual in the line of stag parties, and a clever program has been announced.

Boxing and wrestling take the lead parts on the program. A ring will be roped off in the center of the dining room, where the smoker is to be held, and a stage will be erected for the stunts.

Three Fights on Program.

Three bouts appear on the fight program, Al Derr versus John Derr, Pete Anderson versus Ira Shallis, and Homer Curtis versus Wilbur Pettibone. All are clever with the gloves, and three good fights are assured.

But two wrestling matches appear on the program. These are Lapp versus Ross and Ditner versus Fales.

The stunt program is also well worked out. Almer Kearns and Jimmy Chapman will be the main attraction in the vaudeville program, with a dialogue.

To Give Short Play.

"The Death of Julius Caesar," a play in one act, or more if the audience can stand it, will be staged. The actors have not made their names known.

Music will be furnished by the hall quartet and John O'Neil. Blaine Stubblefield has been working on a beauty chorus which will make its initial debut and bid for fame, as a headline on the program.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB TOUR

Miss Ebbley Completes Advance Trip—Concerts in Coeur d'Alene, Plummer, St. Maries and Wallace.

Miss Demerice Ebbley, the manager of the University of Idaho Girls' Glee club, returned recently after a week's tour through the northern part of the state on a business trip for the club. Contracts for concerts were made with the cities of Coeur d'Alene, Plummer, St. Maries, and Wallace. The tour will take place during the latter week of April.

Miss Ebbley reported that a large amount of enthusiasm was displayed on the part of the towns visited, and extensive plans are being made in every way for the entertainment of the girls on their trip. Seventeen girls will make the trip, including the pianist.

The program is now completed and the girls are working hard putting on the finishing touches. The songs have been very carefully selected, with special attention given to variation. Among the special features is the trio, composed of Miss Florence Selby of Boise, Miss Luella Kirkendahl of Payette, and Miss Demerice Ebbley of Wallace.

Miss Irene Starrh, of Boise, who accompanied the club, has left college and her place will be taken by Miss Marion Evans of Spokane.

"GO-TO-CHURCH" PLAN FOR IDAHO STUDENTS

PALM SUNDAY SET ASIDE FOR SPECIAL SERVICES.

Invitation Extended to Undergrads For Particular Programs by Ministerial Association.

Faculty members and the students of the University of Idaho and Moscow high school have been especially invited to the church services of the church of their denominations Sunday. Sunday is known as Palm Sunday and the ministers have announced special programs at the 11 o'clock and 7:30 o'clock services.

The decision to make Palm Sunday "Go-to-Church" Sunday for university students was made by the Moscow Ministerial association. This is the first time that Palm Sunday has been so designated. The special services with special music are to be held at the Methodist, First Lutheran, Baptist, Christian, Episcopal, and Presbyterian churches.

The services of the various churches follow:

Christian Church. Sunday's services begin at 9:45 with a live, interesting opening exercise for the Bible school. Classes for all ages. This church invites with others the faculty and student body of the university and high school in a go-to-church activity. For the best of reasons schools and churches should work together. The morning sermon will bear the title of "The Place of Religion in Modern Education," and will be particularly adapted to the students. The evening sermon at 7:30, on "The Preparation of Jesus for His Life Work," will harmonize with the morning message. This sermon will be introduced by the choir chanting the text. This is

VARSIY ACTORS TO OFFER MODERN PLAY

"IF" OFFERS WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR SETTINGS.

Carries Audience Through Varied Scenes With Kaleidoscopic and Gorgeous Effect.

The American stage with all its gradations from the drab to the bizarre, has never been invaded by any play which offers so many possibilities for unusual and striking effects as Lord Dunsany's "If." The scenery, costumes, and even the acting itself are so perfectly coordinated that ten years of life fit by in a gorgeous kaleidoscopic effect, almost before the audience realizes it.

Effect, that indefinable something which grips an audience and holds it spellbound is the keynote in the dramatic success which the Varsity Players are presenting next Friday in the University auditorium.

Play is New.

Even before Broadway is thoroughly familiar with it, we are privileged to see a unique departure from the prosaic standards of professional and especially collegiate productions. Each of the ten scenes require different settings, ranging from the interior of an English cottage down through the Pullman car to a dazzling banquet scene in which Maxfield Parish colors are blended into a Bacchanalian revival.

Rapid Change in Settings.

The audience is carried from a simple fireside of old England to the oriental splendor of heathen India and back again with a rapidity which makes them gasp for breath. In two short hours the imagination runs the gamut of human emotions only to find itself once more wedded to the mad storms of the Palouse country when the curtain falls.

Fantastic, yet absolutely modern, this production adds one more star to the constellation which Idaho dramatics has built for itself, and offers an evening of entertainment for which New York is even now first-nighting.—P.M.H.

"Dutch Treats."

"Dutch Treats," another angle to the eternal problem of equal rights, has been presented to the student body by Dean French. Her plan is to have the girls furnish their own tickets to play and musical programs put on at the university. And her plan should be commended as a fair solution to the problem.

For it is a problem. When a man is working, and earning money, it is only right that he should foot the bills. But at college men and women are on an equal financial basis. Girls receive as much money to pay their college expenses as men do.

Looking at the question in this light, is it right that the men should be expected to buy both tickets for expensive entertainments. Is it not an excessive burden, a drain on scanty pocketbooks? The girls want equal right. Would this not place them on an equal basis with men to a far greater degree?

But it will be the men who object.

"Go-to-Church" Sunday

The members of the Moscow Ministerial association are firm friends and supporters of the University of Idaho. The ministers feel that a special "Go-to-Church" Sunday for faculty members and students is in order. Going to church never hurt anybody and the benefits of church attendance cannot be estimated. Start with this coming Sunday and continue through this college year and the next college year.

A college man or woman is not a college man or woman without proper religious training and background.

Congratulations.

The Argonaut congratulates "The Blue Bucket." The group of clever and far thinking students who have had the courage to present literary work of a high character are to be congratulated. The first issue assures the permanent success of the new venture.

True, criticism has been heard along with the praise. There has been commendation and condemnation. But a worth while movement has never been started without the attendant destructive criticism of individuals who haven't the courage or the ambition to help out. The man or woman who does things rejoices in the disgruntled comment of he who could do better if he wanted to.

More power to "The Blue Bucket."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The seniors who wish to order announcements and who have not done so may place their orders by telephoning Miss Elaine Wheeler at phone 174 any time before Sunday. The order will be sent in Saturday night.

Old Versus New.

"The question has always been, shall the old ideas of science in religion be replaced by the new? Within the past fifty years there has been a great cycle of development in science. Shall it replace the old ideas?"

"There were folks who believed that to be religious we shouldn't know much. They like to conceive of things so gigantic that they couldn't comprehend them, and instead of thinking things out they would say 'that we weren't meant by the creator to see them.' We have shrunk at time from finding definite explanations of things. We have even taught that suffering was good for the soul, and made misery the thermometer of our holiness."

Universe of Personality.

"But we are face to face with this, we live at present in a universe of personality, a sort of indefinable essence. We can't be materialistic and up-to-date. Science has discovered that the vanishing point of reality is activity, that everything resolves itself in the final analysis into activity. The atom, which we supposed to be the smallest unit of matter, and which we thought to be inert, has been found by science to be a nucleus of a positive charge surrounded by negative electrons constantly bombarding each other, so that matter is really incalculable in energy."

"So we can't tell definitely about anything. Everything is changing. A friend of mine who is a great scientist told me about a star in Hercules that has always been thought a respectable star. But in reality it is an entire hobo universe, as has been revealed by our increasingly accurate scientific instruments. It contains thirty-four thousand stars. Our sun and its stars are merely a single star as a matter of fact."

Trillions of Miles.

"Some stars are trillions of miles away. And the universe is so gigantic they are now measuring it in units of a celestial sphere, roughly two hundred million miles. They are saying that the galaxie composed of thousands of universes are formed even into a super galaxie, and that's about as far as I can get. But the point is, this little atom of bombarding electrons composes everyone of those universes and galaxies and super galaxie. So that the thing that composes us composes the entire ethereal universe to infinity, all little electrons of energy."

Hypothesis Not Fantastic.

"This hypothesis is not foolish or fantastic. It is the combining of things we know as a standard to judge and find new facts. This whole immense organization is run by a great tendency, science has found. A definite tendency reducible to science and a tendency to which we are related and are a part."

"They have behavioristic theories of life and psychology. They are right in a way, but they leave out something fundamental. Life and we ourselves are not merely machines acting in response to stimuli. There is an ethereal something actuating us to make us a part of the great scheme of existence, and we must simply live in personal and social environment, taking faith, chance, nemesis or something of the sort for our guide. We must just believe and run with chance to some great end, guided by that divine essence of personality within us all."

University of Washington, (P.I.P. A)—Construction on a new library building, to be finished in March, 1925, has been started at the University of Washington.

BIG SOPHOMORE FROLIC TO BE JAPANESE DANCE

The Sophomore Frolic, which is to be given in the gymnasium Friday, March 30, is to be a Japanese dance. The programs, favors, and decorations will combine to give the atmosphere of the "cherry-blossom land."

The frolic will serve as a farewell party before the spring vacation which starts the next day. The committees working on the plans claim that the party is going to be so good that it will make those who attend loathe to leave for home and anxious to get back after the vacation.

KANSAS STATE LEGISLATURE BANS AUTOS FROM CAMPUS

A bill prohibiting the use of automobiles at any educational institution in the state has passed the state legislature. Dr. E. H. Lindley, the chancellor of the University of Kansas, was formerly president of the University of Idaho.

UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA SHOWS ENROLLMENT INCREASE

University of Arizona, (S.I.P.A.)—Enrollment at the University of Arizona has increased from 1116 to 1299 the second semester. Approximately twenty-six per cent of the students of the University of Arizona are from other states and countries. Nearly every state in the union, and several foreign countries are represented here. About four per cent of the students attending the University of Arizona are from California. This is the largest representation from any state outside of Arizona.

FIRST DEFINITE ACTION TAKEN ON HONOR CODE

COUNCIL APPROVES OF DISCIPLINE COMMITTEE.

Proposed Seating Plan Also Endorsed—Discontinuance of Smoking On Ad Steps Urged.

Appointment of an upperclassmen's committee to enforce discipline and act in a judiciary capacity as the first step in the formation of an Idaho honor code was recommended at a meeting of the student-faculty advisory council at a recent meeting. The committee recommended will be composed of three seniors, three juniors and the president of the student body. Action on the recommendations will probably be taken at the next student assembly.

As a second recommendation for immediate action, the advisory council favored the passing of a rule to prohibit smoking on the front steps of the administration building, but not on the campus in general.

A new method of seating and leaving assemblies was also recommended, on a plan which has been very successful in many other universities. The proposed plan provides for the seating on a basis of seniority. The upperclassmen will be given the seats in the front of the assembly, and the underclassmen those in the back. But in leaving, those in the back will remain seated, the seniors passing out the door first, juniors, sophomores, and Freshmen next in order.

Code Has Been Discussed.

Lynn Hersey, president of the A.S.U.I. said in regard to the new plans which he introduced: "We believe that the student body has talked over the honor code as it was proposed, and have expressed sufficient favor for us to take action upon it. This committee would deal with all student misdemeanors from drunkenness to unsportsmanlike behavior, if it is adopted."

"As to the prohibiting of smoking in front of the administration building, I think it is pretty generally conceded that it has a bad effect on those visiting the school, and it should be forbidden."

Seating Conditions Bad.

There has been considerable agitation regarding the seating conditions in assemblies. The first five rows, which are the best in the house, have been left vacant because of the trouble in leaving. It is considered discourteous to the speakers and bad for the student body, Mr. Hersey said. "We are badly in need of something which will relieve this congestion and give the dignity and formality to assemblies which should be given."

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH GETS BIG APPROPRIATION INCREASE

University of Utah, (P.I.P.A.)—A bill has been passed by the state legislature granting annuities to all professors with eight years of service. An increase of $160,000 has been made in the appropriations for the university for the coming year.

INTERIOR DECORATOR GIVES TALK ON COLOR

Mrs. John Odson, an interior decorator from Spokane, gave a charmingly informal talk on color in the auditorium Thursday afternoon. The auditorium was transformed with draped fabrics, potteries and prints. One part of the stage was devoted to Japanese prints and fabrics, another to peasant potteries, charmingly arranged on hand-blackened crates.

Mrs. Odson spoke principally on color and its effect on feeling. She also explained the results of color combinations. As she talked Mrs. Odson demonstrated with fabrics from a seemingly inexhaustible supply. At the conclusion of her talk the audience formed an informal procession to examine and admire the things on display.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON CLUB SINGS AT CALDWELL, NAMP

University of Oregon, (P.I.P.A.)—For the first time in 11 years a University of Oregon organization will give an out-of-state concert, when Men's Glee club on its spring vacation trip appears in Caldwell, on April 6. The organization will sing in Nampa on the following night.

He concludes by saying: "My home in Wilmette is open to all Idaho people when visiting Chicago, and should any Idaho person pass through without at least calling me I should feel deeply hurt. Wilmette is twenty-six minutes ride from the Northwestern depot in Chicago and my address is in the Wilmette telephone directory."

Evan Gerritt Lewis, '10, is secretary of the C. & M. E. Lewis company, Moscow. Since leaving college he has spent much time around Moscow and the Coeur d'Alene mines. In 1912 he went to White Horse, Yukon territory, as assistant mining engineer of the Atlas Mining company and remained there until 1914, when he returned to the states, and later went to the Anaconda Copper Mining company as testing engineer. He moved back to Moscow in 1920, as he says that it is too much trouble to return here every year for the Idaho-W.S.C. football game, especially if you are a long distance away.

Marcus Whitman Barnett, '08, also graduated from the Columbian Law school in Washington, D.C., and is now secretary-manager of the North Idaho Title company of Lewiston Idaho.

Ralph Newton Largent, '20, is manager of the Mutual Creamery company at Lewiston, Idaho.

W. A. "Bill" Hunter, ex-'17, graduated from George Washington university law school, February 22. He was one of 101 out of 214 that took the District of Columbia bar examination February 8 to pass the examination. During his junior year he was elected by his class to respond to the toast for the juniors given during the celebration of the Centenary of George Washington university.

When war was declared he enlisted in the Canadian forces and went overseas as a flyer. While flying in battle formation he was shot in the back while his plane was 2000 feet in the air. He managed to bring his plane to the ground safely before he lost consciousness. After being found he remained unconscious for some time and he was reported killed in action. This mistake was caused by the fact that there was another W. A. Hunter, who was also an American, in the British air forces.

His home is in Coeur d'Alene where his people reside. At present he is located in an office in Washington but it is hoped that he will locate permanently in Idaho later on.

STEPHENS MEMORIAL BUILDING OPENED UP AT CALIFORNIA

University of California, Berkeley, (P.I.N.S.)—Stephens Union, a lasting tribute to the achievements of student activities, has been thrown open as a center of recreation to all members of the student body. Formal dedication of the massive building is scheduled for March 16, when the Henry Morse Stephens Memorial library and reading room, on the third floor, will be completed.

The men's and women's lounging rooms will remain open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night daily. The men's quarters are elaborately fitted, and are divided into the main lounging room. A writing room supplants the card room in the women's section.

W.S.C. BATTERY CANDIDATES START SEASON'S WORKOUT

Washington State College, (P.I.P.A.)—The first W.S.C. baseball turnout for battery men alone was held last week and Coach Applequist expressed a very optimistic attitude toward the Cougars' chances for winning in the coming season. Turnouts for the rest of the squad will be held as soon as the weather permits. Among the men who reported yesterday are: Pitchers, Jack Friel, Archie Rutey, James Highton, and Oliver Trygvi; catchers, Jack Kelly and Clarence Anderson.

Membership is open to both sexes, and candidates must have naturally red hair. If they dye, they will dye together.

IDAHO COACHES TAKE SECOND W.S.C. GAME

VANDAL MENTORS TOO STRONG FOR COUGAR HEADS.

Only Three Fouls Called but Gentleness of Contest is Seriously Questioned.

The Idaho coaching staff basketball team came off victorious in the second game with the W.S.C. coaches' aggregation, Wednesday night, at Pullman, with a score of 21 to 14. MacMillan, "Squinty" Hunter and Mathews formed a strong offensive machine for the Vandal mentors, and the trio carried the ball down the floor, sinking baskets at will. At the end of the first half the score stood 12 to 2, in favor of the Vandal squad, but the W.S.C. bunch came back strong in the second half, showing a stronger offense, while the Idaho team eased up a bit in order to give their more decept opponents a chance.

Unsympathetic Referee.

Bohler and Zink starred for W.S.C. and "Hack" Applequist, of former football fame, who missed almost all his tackles in the game on the Moscow floor, succeeded in downing Hunter once, thus preventing the Idaho faculty from scoring one basket. An unsympathetic referee called a personal foul upon him, however, and Idaho rang up two points in spite of his well meant efforts. But three fouls were called throughout the game. Whether or not this was due to the fact that the game was gently played is questionable, however.

WORD RECEIVED HERE OF DEATH OF ELDER

FORMER MINES INSTRUCTOR DIES AT DENVER.

University Suffers Distinct Loss in Passing Away of Well-Known Faculty Member.

Word has been received here of the death at Denver, on March 11 of Robert B. Elder, 37 years of age, formerly instructor in metallurgy in the University of Idaho school of mines and geology. Mr. Elder had been in failing health for over a year and left Moscow last October. Mr. Elder had shown great promises as a scientific investigator and had published several papers on the physics of the flotation process of ore concentration, which attracted nation-wide attention.

Prior to coming to Moscow in 1919 to accept a fellowship at the University of Idaho, Mr. Elder had been in professional work in Korea. Here he speedily demonstrated marked research ability and distinguished himself in the fundamentals of flotation. At the conclusion of his fellowship he was tendered a teaching and research appointment, which he accepted.

Writes Valuable Papers.

His paper, "Interfacial Tension Measurements and Some Applications to Flotation," published by the state bureau of mines, attracted wide attention and a later publication, "Note on the Measurement of Surface Tensions," issued by the Journal of Physical Chemistry, showed evidence of an unusual grasp of the physical basis of flotation phenomena. Shortly before his last illness he had been engaged in an investigation of classification as applied to concentration practice in the Coeur d'Alenes.

Mr. Elder was a member of the American Mining Institute, of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific fraternity, of the Masonic lodge, the Kappa Sigma fraternity and last year was president of the University club. In his death the university suffers a distinct loss.

FEDERAL ENTOMOLOGIST SPEAKS TO FORESTERS

James C. Evenden, of the United States bureau of entomology, gave two lectures to the foresters Thursday. His first talk, a technical discussion on the relation of forestry to forest entomology, was given at the eight o'clock period.

In the afternoon he gave an open lecture in the hut on forest entomology. He discussed the common forest insects, bark beetles, and pine butterflies, and showed a series of lantern slides relative to the subject. Afternoon classes were dismissed for the foresters, in order to hear the talk.

ON-SIDE KICK TABOO BY RULES COMMITTEE

FOOTBALL LEADERS DEFINE PENALTY FOR CLIPPING.

Time is to be Taken Out in Try for Point—Oppose New Type of Ball.

Taking a far-reaching step calculated to simplify gridiron regulations and eliminate misinterpretations of them, the football rules committee at its annual meeting created an approved rulings committee, charged with the task of establishing a basis for precedence in disputed issues arising in the game.

This action was characterized by members as the most important action of the committee, which, after a lengthy discussion of rules, made but one fundamental change in the regulations for 1923. This change was the abolishment of the on-side kick from scrimmage formation, a feature which was said to have been little used in recent years and which has been particularly difficult to rule upon when it occurred. The on-side kick from kick-off formation was not affected by the decision, however.

Rules to Guide Officials.

Serving as a virtual board of arbitration, the approved rulings committee will interpret moot questions and publish its decisions annually in the form of a supplement to the regular football rules. Its findings, however, will be subject to final approval by the rules committee as a whole. The result of its work, it is believed, will establish a series of precedents to guide officials and others connected with the conduct of the game.

E. K. Hall, chairman of both the rules and advisory rulings committee, in pointing out the significance of the work which the new body will accomplish, declared it would enable greater amplification of the rules and serve as a basis of education for increasing competency among officials.

Interpretations of the type planned have been drawn up previously in connection with the rules, it was said, but at present they either have been discarded or incorporated in rules changes.

Most of the rules committee's deliberations were devoted to clarifying sections of the rules and making a number of minor changes.

Penalty for Clipping.

These alterations included: Imposing the penalty of 15 yards for clipping either from the spot where the ball was put in play, as the former rule provided, or the offense occurred, whichever will give the offended side the most ground; removal of the five-yard penalty where an on-side man touches a kicked ball; giving the defending team the ball if it intercepts an incomplete illegal forward pass, instead of allowing the attacking team to put it in play again, and imposing for delay in starting the second half, a penalty of 25 yards, the same as that for delay at the start good. Hear it. Special music at both services. Christian Endeavor societies meet at 6:30. Special Revival meeting to be conducted all next week.

Offering and announcements.
Solo, "The Palms." Louisa Martin of the game, but at the discretion of the referee.

As a result of removal of the on-side kick, which has been permitted by the rules since its infancy, the committee eliminated the touchback, where a player who is off side and within the opponent's 10-yard line is touched by the ball kicked by his own side. Formerly the touchback, under these circumstances, resulted in giving the ball to the defending side on its own 20-yard line.

Time Out Trying for Point.

Hereafter, time out will be taken during the try for point after touch-kicking attempt, it was decided.

The committee decided not to put its stamp of approval on a new type of football, exhibited to them, which differed from the standard type in that the valve was on the opposite side from the lacings. It was claimed to be better balanced than the old type.

Mr. Hall was reelected chairman of the rules committee and Walter Camp of Yale, reelected secretary. With W. S. Langford of Trinity and F. W. Moore of Harvard, they also form the new advisory rulings committee.—Spokesman-Review.

University of Idaho Coeds Defeated by Northwestern Girls in Telegraphic Shoot.

The University of Idaho co-ed rifle team made an excellent showing in the telegraphic rifle match with Northwestern university last Saturday making a score of 1450 points against 1785. This shows a marked improvement over the last rifle match, and the Idaho girls feel sure that with a little more practice, they will be able to win the next one. The highest individual score made by Northwestern university was 376 out of a possible 400, by Miss Bowsfield, while the highest individual score for Idaho was 303 by Hazel Rowe.

The rifle contests were conducted according to accepted regulations, ten girls composing a team. Each girl shot in four positions, lying prone, sitting down, kneeling and standing. The scores of the five girls who made the best records were used to determine the final results.

Personal scores of the Idaho team were as follows:

Hazel Rowe	303
Gwendolyn Smith	285
Evelyn Bennet	284
Lola Hedge	284
Mae Albert	272

(Continued from page one) officers who decide to test the love of their sweethearts by disguising and making love to the girls as two Albanian noblemen. Each wins the heart of the other's betrothed, and they finally unmask, forcing the girls to confess their infidelity. But the cynical old bachelor, who had encouraged the young men in their test, declared that the girls could not be blamed for flirting, as he said, "Tis woman's nature, cost fan tutte (they all do it)." Tickets are in great demand but may still be obtained either in the hall of the administration building or at Hodgins'. The price is $1.00 and $1.25.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS PROMISING AT IDAHO

(Continued from Page One.) strong, having been bolstered by the addition of Bob Fitzke, whose hurling last spring led the frosh into many a victory. The great amount of material available will make competition for positions very keen. A check-up of material indicates that Idaho may count on a position nearer the top than the foot of the percentage column.

Veterans on the squad are "Bung" Snow, Captain "Lefty" Marineau and Les Eddy, pitchers; Frank Kinnison, catcher; Guy Wick, second; "Skip" Stivers, short stop; Harry Edwards, third; Alex Fox, Arnold Cobley and Eugene Ostrander, outfield.

Twelve Home Games.

Idaho will play 22 games, with 12 of them on the home diamond. The schedule is quite satisfactory and like the basketball outlay, starts off with a coast trip. The season follows:

- April 23-24—Oregon at Eugene.
- April 25-26—O. A. C. at Corvallis.
- April 27-28—Washington at Seattle.
- May 3-4—O. A. C. at Moscow.
- May 9-10—Whitman at Moscow.
- May 11—W. S. C. at Pullman.
- May 12—W. S. C. at Moscow.
- May 14-15—Montana at Moscow.
- May 25-26—Oregon at Moscow.
- May 28-29—Washington at Moscow.
- June 1—W. S. C. at Pullman.
- June 2—W. S. C. at Moscow.
- June 4-5—Whitman at Walla Walla.

INITIAL BLUE BUCKET ISSUE WELL RECEIVED

(Continued From Page One.) writers. Then, too, it is quickened with poems of a high order and criticisms and light bits of humor that enliven the pages and make them interesting reading.

Clever Style Shown.

The contributors who appear in this issue write with a style that lends life and sparkle to the publication. Their stories are real and their action is vivid, with none of the dull spots that creep into some of the current short stories, and none of the improbable plot construction of authors who write of things with which they are not intimately familiar.

"The Way of Women," by Stanley Phillip, which opens the issue, is a clever little story on the infidelity of the frailer sex, and ends suddenly with a surprise in quite the logical manner. The surprise probably comes in the fact that it does end in the logical manner instead of going on after it is through. It is well written and the dialogue creates two very amusing characters in the women, Shorty Belden and Bill Parks. Jennings' Story Good.

Talbot Jennings' story "How the Palouse Hills were Made," combines something of the style of the immortal Kipling with a remarkably clever style all his own. It is a tale of the great Paul Bunyan, whose marvelous deeds are recounted by the western lumberjacks, and is written against a background of ironical, or rather sympathetic satire. Jennings is an unusually talented word handler, and uses humor without becoming hilarious. His tone of repression adds a great deal to the story.

In "Tomorrow" Glenn Hyde has obtained a unity of effect in producing a story of the north that is really a fantasy. The effect is obtained by a use of strikingly concrete details all used to give a certain atmosphere and feeling that changes subtly with the change in feeling in the story. The result is, indeed, pleasantly fantastic. It creates a distinct feeling of emotion.

Setting is Realistic

"The Sword of Shumah," by Kenneth M. Hunter, is an oriental story dealing with a huge double handed sword, owned by an American who was living in China and of an incident relating to it. Evidently the writer is familiar with his setting, and he works it in with his plot very carefully.

Oren Fitzgerald in his essay on the "Fundamentals of Fishing" is frankly satirical and amusing. He draws a picture of the joys of fishing that might, despite the good natured raillery, incite the embryo angler to start an immediate search for the old pole and the hand-made flies.

"Through My Transom," from the pen of Blaine Stubblefield, is a good sketch, well handled and interesting to read. It gives promise of some excellent sketches to follow.

Poetry Gives Promise.

Henry Swartwood writes verse with an easy swing and a musical rhythm that is pleasing. His verses are not of the overdone free verse style, and they have a lyrical touch to them that is charming in its simplicity. This number contains three of them. Ted Sherman also writes a clear humorous verse.

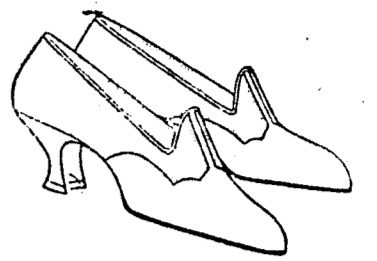

Phil Buck, who is a clever humorist, gives "Pointed Impertinences" that live up to a reputation for that type of work that has gained him considerable prominence at the university.

Two Regular Departments.

Two departments which will be regular features are distinctly valuable to a publication of this sort. The department of books and that of drama, both edited by Ruth Hawkins, contain very good criticisms by Stanley McLaughlin of the English department on books of the day, and several dramatic criticisms by John Cushdown, as prevailed under the old goal interestingly written and are an accurate guide to the worth of productions coming out in both fields.—P. L.A.
