DEAN FRENCH TRUE FRIEND TO ALL

To all who know Idaho or know of Idaho, Dean French typifies Idaho ideals. She brings to students, both men and women, a helpful understanding of their problems. The friendly spirit for which Idaho is known has been largely fostered by her attitude. Idaho women feel indeed fortunate to have a dean of women who cooperates with us in our endeavors and stimulates us to new undertakings. We feel that Dean French is our true friend.

GIRLS' GROUP ACTIVE ON UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

ORGANIZATIONS FOR WOMEN PERFORM IMPORTANT DUTIES FOR IDAHO CO-EDS.

The principles of self-government for the women of the University of Idaho are embodied in the organization of the Women's League. The membership of the group includes every woman on the Idaho campus, and the definite aim is to work toward unity and harmony among the students of Idaho, and promote the betterment of the university.

In November, 1921, a conference of the western branch of the Associated Women Students was held in Berkeley under the auspices of the University of California. It will be remembered that Gladys Hastie and Dean French were representatives from the University of Idaho. In November, 1922, a second conference was held at Salt Lake City, and Idaho's delegates were Clara Jones and Vera Luse. This conference was held under the direction of the University of Utah.

Interest Grows In Annual Stunt Fest

Interest in the annual song and stunt fest to be given in the university auditorium tomorrow night is being manifested by the undergraduate student body and Moscow citizenry, which annually packs the auditorium to overflowing on the night of the annual vaudeville contest. Songs from each class have already been submitted to the general committee in charge, and competition for the prize of $25 offered to the class presenting the best song and the composer, is waxing keen.

The songs and stunts will be given in order of the seniority of classes, the freshmen giving their offering first. The Fest will begin promptly at eight o'clock, and an admission price of fifteen cents will be charged to defray the expenses. Twenty minutes is being allotted to each class for the presentation of its stunt.

The song and stunt fest is one of the most interesting of the university amateur productions, and has been given annually each spring for the past six years, each year with more interest than the previous.

Debate "I" Awards Won by Four Girls

For the first time in the history of the University debate "I's" will be awarded to the co-eds. The four girls, Constance Taylor, Allegra Eckles, Bessie Savage, and Elizabeth Sandline, who served on the co-ed teams will receive that honor.

The first debate was held here between the University of Washington team and the Idaho affirmative team. The pros and cons of the Sterling-Towner educational bill were discussed. Idaho losing after some very excellent debating on both sides.

The second co-ed debate was held at Walla Walla where the Idaho negative team met the Whitman girls' team. Again Idaho was defeated.

The work was coached by Professor Harding and Philip Buck. According to them, the prospects for next year are very bright as this year's work has led to increased interest and enthusiasm among the co-eds.

WOMEN GRADUATES FILL RESPONSIBLE POSITIONS

MANY NOW TEACHERS, OTHERS IN BUSINESS, SPECIAL WORK, MANY BECOME MISSIONARIES

University records show that Idaho women are constantly filling responsible and important positions. Many are in the teaching profession, and a few have gone into business for themselves. Others work in offices, and some have even answered the call for missionaries in foreign lands.

Frances Asher of the class of '16 is an instructor in the Normal Training school in Kiowa, Kansas, while Catherine Bryden of '18 is supervisor of teacher's training in home economics in Washington State college.

Specialists in Work
Elsie Marie Nelson of '12 is manager and owner of the Rosebud Tea Rooms in Lewiston. Verna Johanson of '18 is an extension worker in home economics in Idaho Falls, while Dorothy Taylor of '15 is a specialist in foods and nutrition in the State College of Iowa.

Velma Spaulding of '18 is assistant dietitian in the Potter Metabolic clinic in Santa Barbara, California.

Lillian White of the class of '21 is teaching English at Clarke university in Atlanta, Georgia. The department of home economics at Lewiston Normal is headed by Ruth Fauble of the class of '16.

STUDENTS CONTRIBUTE $15,000 TOWARDS NEW GYMNASIUM

Undergraduates Pass Motion Unanimously Providing $10 Assessment as Part of A.S.U.I. Fees— Assist Alumni Memorial Plans.

University of Idaho students Wednesday voted unanimously to give $10 each toward the building of a gymnasium as a memorial to the University of Idaho men who gave their lives in the service. The special assessment will be made part of the year's A. S. U. I. fee and will be collected at registration time for the 1923-1924 college year.

The action was taken to assist the University of Idaho alumni in their plans to build the memorial gymnasium at a cost of $200,000. The plan whereby the alumni will raise the money necessary for the gymnasium will be submitted to the alumni association meeting here on June 9. From reports received here by Dr. J. Harry Einhouse, president of the alumni association, representative graduates of the university are enthusiastically behind the plan.

$200,000 Gymnasium Planned

It is planned to build a $200,000 gymnasium with all proper equipment and space for the work of the athletic department. A swimming pool is also included in the temporary plans. Idaho's present gymnasium is recognized as entirely inadequate for the needs of the university's rapidly growing student body. The alumni plan calls for the building of the gymnasium within two years.

The action of the student body was entirely voluntary and was taken in order to assure the alumni of the willingness of the undergraduates to help out in their campaign for the $200,000 gymnasium. On the basis of enrolment for the coming college year the special assessment unanimously agreed to this morning will bring in $15,000, which will be available within the opening of the college year.

Einhouse Tells of Plans

A student committee arranged a brief program of talks on the necessity of a new gymnasium and the plan whereby the students can be of assistance in the alumni plan. Talks were made by Dr. J. Harry Einhouse of Moscow, president of the alumni association, on what the alumni plan is; "Babe" Brown, Boise, varsity football captain; Abe Goff, Walla Walla, two-year football letter man; Talbot Jennings, Boise, student body president elect for next year; Lynn Hersey, Lenore, student body president; and Coach R. L. Mathews, head of the athletic department.

The motion that every regularly enrolled student be assessed $10 for the gymnasium fund, the assessment to be collected next fall, was made by Joel L. Priest, Jr., of Boise. The motion passed unanimously and without opposition.

Active work by the alumni for the raising of the gymnasium funds will start this summer. Voluntary subscriptions will be asked of every alumni and the alumni association at its June meeting plans on also voting a special assessment. The new gymnasium will be the alumni memorial to the Idaho men who gave their lives in the World war.

"Tall and Dark" Co-Eds Choice -- Men Don't Agree on Any Type

Men, they like 'em tall and dark. Of the fifteen co-eds asked for their ideal man ten began "tall and dark." But they were not so interested in his appearance as in his character. Where the men laid emphasis on "her" appearance the women laid the emphasis on "his" personality and traits. Smiles were an important feature with most and several specified that he was to be cynical. Only one objected to his smoking but most co-eds said that he might smoke. The following sketch was given with little hesitation, as though the pretty little co-ed had given it some thought.

"My ideal man is tall and dark, with large brown eyes but not at all effeminate. He must be very reserved, serious; must give in to me, but not too much; must be a very neat dresser; not wealthy but a musician or artist preferred. Here she stopped to explain that it was not a long-haired but a commercial artist. She doesn't care to have him broadly educated, but well educated along his particular line. He must like golf, riding, and must like children. He may smoke cigars or a pipe, but not cigarettes. He may drink if he "knows when to stop."

Must Smoke Camels
"Tall and dark, slender, with dark eyes, rather foreign looking, a good dancer, steady-going, adaptable, a professional man with money and a car, athletic looking and smoke Camels." This sketched the ideal of another co-ed.

The next one had great difficulty in deciding just what was her ideal but she finally decided on this:
"Tall with black or very dark brown hair, grayish blue eyes, a good dresser, good hiker. Rather cynical, not egotistical, not necessarily good-looking, broad shouldered, but not fat, very attentive. May smoke, play billiards, golf and tennis but no poker. Must like fried cabbage or sautéed mushrooms. Must like good music, good plays and like children."

CO-ED PREXY BUILDS FOR FUTURE

As president of the Women's League for the past year, Clara Jones has done much for the women of Idaho. Clara is an able executive with foresight and vision. We felt proud to have her go to the conference at Salt Lake as a representative Idaho girl. The recognition granted Idaho women this year may largely traced to her influence. Under her leadership self-government is becoming more than a phrase.

Costumes for the pageant are to claim the attention of all university co-eds on Campus Day, Friday. Under the directions of Miss Katherine Jensen of the home economics department, lieutenants have been named for each group house on the campus and the girls' halls.

The work is to be handled through the costume committee, which consists of Miss Pease, Miss Patchin, Miss Lien, Mrs. Murray, Miss McCrae, and Miss Donovan. Costumes must be made for Mining Gnomes, Spirits of Wood and Stream, Water Sprites, and various other symbolic figures, so the girls are being useful as well as ornamental on Campus day this year.

FORNEY HALL WILL BE BEAUTIFUL CO-ED HOME

Dedication Ceremonies Are Part of Commencement Week's Program

Forney Hall, new women's dormitory, built at a cost of $100,000 by the U. of I., will be ready to entertain the graduating class of 1923 and those citizens of Idaho who have been especially invited to be guests of the University during pageant and Commencement week. The first occasion for its use will be when Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Upham give their annual dinner for the senior class, June 1. In speaking of the event, Dean French said, "It is entirely fitting that the seniors who are leaving college should be the first guests entertained in this beautiful new women's residence."

The University is looking forward to having the representatives of the state who will attend the commencement exercises, enjoy the building at the time of its formal opening for they will be its guests.

The hall will be dedicated to Mary E. Forney, who has long been a resident of Idaho and wife of the first president of the institution. She is known in every part of the state for her activities along many lines, being especially interested in the work of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, of which organization she has been president for a number of years. The people of the

CO-ED PARTS IMPORTANT IN UNIVERSITY PAGEANT

IDAHO WOMEN TO MAKE 150 COSTUMES FOR HISTORICAL EVENT ON CAMPUS DAY

Every co-ed will be given an opportunity to display her talent, whether dramatic, musical, terpsichorean, equestrian, or artistic in contributing to the success of the great Idaho Pageant, "The Light on the Mountains." The pageant requires more than one hundred feminine roles, and the rest of the co-eds will have an opportunity to do their bit in the making of costumes.

One hundred fifty costumes will be made Friday, in the various halls and sorority houses, under the direction of the costume committee, which consists of Miss Pease, Miss Patchin, Miss Lien, Mrs. Murray, Miss McCrae, and Miss Donovan. Costumes must be made for Mining Gnomes, Spirits of Wood and Stream, Water Sprites, and various other symbolic figures, so the girls are being useful as well as ornamental on Campus day this year.

Co-Ed Athlete To Receive Recognition

University of Utah, Salt Lake City, (P.I.P.A.)—Sweaters are to be awarded to University of Utah co-eds as athletic awards, according to a recent decision by the Associated Students of the University of Utah. The sweaters will be white, have rolled collars, and will open down the front. The insignia will be the Old English style crimson "U," which is very beautiful in design.

Ever since the Women's Athletic Association started on the campus, the girls have been slowly but surely showing the student body that they mean business. They have been successful in basketball, swimming, tennis, hiking, and of recent years also in baseball and track. This is remarkable, considering the short time that they have been organized.

The winners of the sweaters will be the high point W.A.A. girls. Before award day, the points of each W.A.A. girl will be tallied, and her record compared with those of the others girls, and the four girls who have the highest number of points to their credit will be the winners.

A plan similar to this is now being worked out by the University of Idaho co-eds.

SOCIETY

Jean Rowlands was unanimously chosen as the recent student body election to represent "Miss Idaho" in the historical pageant to be presented on MacLean field, June 9. The Commencement week program is one of the largest undertakings this year and "Miss Idaho" will take a prominent part in its production. Named "The Light on the Mountains," the pageant will present the development of state history and through it the spirit of Idaho, as represented by "Miss Idaho" will prevail.

"Miss Idaho" takes the place of the May queen who formerly presided over the May Day events. Due to the presentation of the pageant, the May this year.

Miss Rowlands, a senior, has been greatly interested in women's activities on the campus, having been a member of the advisory board of the Women's League and active in Y. W. C. A. work. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Thursday dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta were Charles Christie, John Cluen, Ross Loughty, and Palmer Sodeberg.

Phi Delta Theta, contrary to all tradition, evidently had the consent of the Gods when they gave their annual picnic Sunday, May 13. The day remained clear, despite a few threatening clouds. About fifty guests enjoyed the outing.

Omega Phi Alpha entertained at dinner Wednesday evening Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Gail, H. W. Batchelor, and Louis Cady.

Dinner guests Tuesday evening at Phi Delta Theta were Mrs. Talbot Jennings, Mrs. Ronald Evely and Mrs. Wendell Palmer.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained Wednesday at dinner Professor and Mrs. J. L. Rentfro and Miss Mabel Rentfro.

Delta Gamma will entertain informally Friday night with a house dance. About forty guests are invited.

The freshmen of Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained the Gamma Phi freshman Monday evening with a "King Tut" party. Stunts and an Egyptian dance furnished novel entertainment.

Delta Gamma announces the engagement of Irene Collier to Bradford Barnes, Delta Kappa Epsilon at Seattle, Washington.

Dinner guests Wednesday evening at Kappa Kappa Gamma were the Mesdames W. M. Hatfield, E. A. Keane, E. J. Armbruster, J. N. Nankervis, O. W. Beardley, W. S. Robbins, and Charles Sternberg.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained at dinner Wednesday night Dean and Mrs. O. P. Cockorill, S. Breshears, H. Wittberg, J. Eagleson, H. Sarvis, and B. Stone.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at dinner Thursday evening A. Fox, L. Hephrey, G. Gahan, G. Gill, F. Horning, D. Cramer, G. Wilkinson, L. Nash, and D. Kuhns.

Dinner guests of Delta Gamma Wednesday night were the Misses Ella Olsen, Helen Whitman, Isabel Clark, Bernadine Adair, and Helot Frantz.

Guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Wednesday night were Claire McDonald, Helen Loveless, Margaret Mimms, Bernadine Boughton, and Louise Gerboth.

Dinner guests at Beta Theta Pi Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Richmond and daughter Eileen, Mr. Banks, Phillip Quilliam of Lewiston, Neil Irving, Howard Scheffel, and the Rupert track team were weekend guests.

Ridenbaugh hall entertained the following guests at dinner Wednesday evening: Walter Casebolt, "Babe" Brown, Bill Perry, Miss K. Winslow Mildred Pearson, Mrs. Carson, Miss Andrews, Mrs. Hays, Helen Forsythe, Lillian Hardman, Helen White, Phil Tolman, Kenneth Anderson, and Helen Ziegler.

Kenneth Marchesi and Josh Boyd of Wellogg, were week end visitors of Beta Theta Pi.

Few social affairs remain to be given yet this year. Sigma Nu will give its formal dance May 29. The Kappa Sigmas will entertain with an informal dance May 26, and on the same night Ridenbaugh Hall will give its formal dance.

IDAHO TRIMS MONTANA WITH HEAVY SLUGGING

TAKE TWO GAMES FROM GRIZZLY INVADERS—VANDAL TEAM PLAYS ERRORLESS BALL

The University of Idaho baseball nine broke its hitting slump Tuesday when it took two straight games in the double header with the visiting University of Montana team, 5 to 3 and 8 to 6. The Vandals literally slugged their way to victory in both contests ringing up eleven hits as against the visitors' three in the first game, and twelve as against Montana's seven in the second.

Captain Marineau, pitching for Idaho in the first game, held the visitors down to three hits and two runs, playing a stellar game throughout. He pitched six no hit, no run innings out of the nine, and fanned eleven men during the game. He was master of the situation at all times, and played heady ball, walking but four men, and holding the Grizzlies down to easily fielded hits.

Kleffner Gets Homer
Fitzke, Kleffner, and Stivers were the leading hitters for Idaho in the first game. Out of four times at bat Kleffner reached first base on an error, was thrown out at first once on a bouncer to second, made a neat double, and for a final exhibition, topped out a home run. Stivers made a single and two bagger out of four trips to the plate, while Fitzke registered a single and a three runner. Cobley made two neat singles.

The hitting of Montana was negligible during the first game, three singles totaling their results in this line.

Idaho's Errorless Ball
Idaho played errorless ball during the first game, and Montana made but two errors. From this standpoint this game was unique in college ball.

Several fielding features marked the first game. In the sixth inning, with a man on second, the batter hit a hard grounder which Marineau fielded. Instead of cutting the batter off on first he held the ball, catching the runner between second and third and allowing Lawson and Stivers to close in, gave the ball to Lawson, who tagged the Montana man out. This was one of the headiest plays of the game.

In the seventh inning, with two men on bases, the batter slapped the ball for a seemingly safe hit over second base. Stivers, taking a long chance, by a brilliant piece of fielding, covered the ball and threw the batter out on first, retiring the Montana team without a run.

Knock Out Two Pitchers.
In the second game of the afternoon Idaho started Snow in the box while Montana let Centerwall, who pitched in the first game, start as twirler.

The Idaho stickers after the first inning, made quick work of Centerwall, however, and in the second inning, after the Vandals had made four hits, with but one man down, he was removed, Porter taking his place on the mound. The relief pitcher was unable to check the Idaho hitting rally, three baggers being made before the Idaho nine was retired. Idaho scored six runs during this inning, hitting for four triples, one two bagger and one single.

Porter stayed in the box for Montana but one inning. Fitzke, the first man up in the third inning, hit a two bagger. Cobley the next man, walked. Johnson was then substituted for Porter, retiring the next three men with Snow and Stivers each getting nice runs in the second game in the third and sixth innings.

The Montana squad made all their two strikeouts and an easy infield grounder. Johnson pitched good ball during the remainder of the game, holding the Vandals down to four hits and two runs.

Driscoll Steals Home
Driscoll, Montana short stop, accomplished the unexpected in the sixth inning when he stole home, bringing in Montana's sixth and last run of the game. He led far off third base, there being two men down, and went down with the Idaho twirler's arm, sliding into home plate before Gulanelli could put the ball on him.

Kleffner made the prettiest fielding play of the entire second game in the fifth inning. With one man down and a man on third the Montana batter hit a high fly ball over second. The outfielders were playing too far back to cover the play, and Kleffner, making a pretty run, and showing perfect judgment, caught the man out and relayed the ball in to Stivers, who threw the runner coming in from third out at the home plate. This play saved a score and retired the Montana stickers for that inning.

of his eyes; but he must have a good disposition and be well liked by men, not athletic; must get his own way, be a professional man. She'd rather not have him wealthy; doesn't care about a car; she admires a temper but not at close range; he may smoke cigars and cigarettes and finally she volunteered that "she couldn't stand a trusting man."

"He must play the violin or some other instrument" was what the next girl laid the emphasis on. This musical man was to be tall, slender, with dark hair, not necessarily good looking, "strong white teeth that shine when he laughs," a wonderful dancer, well-dressed, and a man who won't get mad and swear when a tire blows out. He must be able to swim, have a dominant personality and be a financial success.

Straight Nose Essential.
"A straight nose above all things!" exclaimed a co-ed who possessed a retrouse nose. She then continued—"dark brown eyes, medium height, long eye lashes, no stiff collars, witty and entertaining; athletic, a little sarcastic; must like mountains and hunting; like to dance and play cards; be a little conceited; have a car; and a position that will give him time for travel; be fond of books; energetic; yet serious minded."

This one demands neither a tall man nor a dark one. Her ideal is light with 'blue eyes, five feet eight inches tall, rather a heavy build; good natured and smiling; prefers a civil engineer; not poverty stricken nor wealthy—just enough to live comfortably; a college graduate; "not over-bearing."

The last one asked for her ideal responded quickly:

"My suggestion is to find your man and make him your ideal!" So men, they're none of you exempt—because if you don't suit you'll be remodeled.

SELF-ANALYSIS IS URGED FOR UNIVERSITY CO-EDS

MISS HELEN M. BENNETT TELLS IDAHO GIRLS OF "CHOOSING AN OCCUPATION."

"Am I a leader or am I a follower? Am I an original person or am I an imitator? Am I an active person or a static person? Am I a roamer or a stay-at-homer? Am I a talker or am I silent? Do I like persons or things or ideals?"

These are the five questions for self analysis suggested by Miss Helen M. Bennett in her talk on "Choosing an Occupation," given to the University women Thursday morning.

The Right Direction. "A teacher must be a person interested in people and ideals; a laboratory worker in ideas and things; a saleswoman in people and things. So if you are planning to teach be sure that you are interested in life in the right direction."

"If you're a talker, get into an occupation where your ability to talk is an asset. A silent person does well in research work, and many doctors and lawyers are silent."

"If you want to be on every train you see pulling out, or if you're always in somebody else's room it's likely you're a roamer. Do go into a line of work in which you can roam! And one of the ideal occupations for a roamer is teaching. Don't, if you are this type, go into the business of raising apples, because apple trees aren't easy to move around. Don't become a doctor or do any work in which it is essential to work up a clientele."

Describes Active Girl. "The girl who just rushes around and almost skips when she walks is the active type. She would make a good reporter or recreational director, but just imagine her as a bookkeeper. The static person is one who walks into a room and immediately looks for some place to sit. She thinks better when in repose. Static people make good bookkeepers or research workers. But if you're active choose an active occupation."

Leaders should choose occupations in which they can be leaders—followers should choose leaders to work under.

"No education is an education unless it results in people being able to get out and do things. People are not valuable unless their occupations are wisely chosen."

"No woman is economically safe unless she is trained to do something. Even if your father is able to support you if you don't want to go out and make a contribution to society just remember that money comes and goes. Your father may not always be able to support you. Even if you are married and in a home of your own you may be compelled at some time to make a living. If you're prepared, you are safe."

IDAHO BREAKS EVEN IN TENNIS TOURNEY

W. S. C. LOSES OPPORTUNITY TO SCORE FIFTH WIN OVER IDAHO RAQUETEERS

The Idaho tennis team tied the tournament with the Washington State raquet wielders Thursday afternoon, with a score of two matches each. Herrington won his singles match for Idaho; he and Prescott took the doubles, and Prescott and Preuss both lost their singles.

This is the first time in five years that Idaho has not been defeated in the annual spring tournament with W. S. C. Six years ago in the first contest between the two colleges, the Idaho team, composed of Ken Hunter, Bill Deneke, and Squinty Hunter, defeated the players from across the state line but since that time, up to the present season, Idaho has registered straight losses.

Herrington Wins From Merrick

J. T. CROOT MEN'S TAILOR

The first set, between Herrington and Merrick, was fast and hard fought. Herrington played his usual hard, smashing game, driving his opponent to the back court, and breaking up many drives from the net position. His playing was steady and consistent, and all his shots were carefully placed. The first set he easily won, but Merrick came back strong the second set, when Herrington slackened up, and took it after the game score had been deuced. The Idaho man fell into his form again in the third set, and won it with clever offensive work after the score had been tied at five all.

Preuss lost the next match to Broadbent in two straight sets. All games were exceptionally close, with nearly all deuced, but the Washington State player took the breaks on the ties.

Prescott Loses Hard Fight. The match between Prescott and Billings was the hardest fought battle of the singles. The Pullman raqueteer took two straight sets, but both were characterized by hard, heady playing, with no games taken with any great lead. There was little net work, each man keeping his player in the back court with long drives, and relying on cross court play for points.

The first set was lost by Prescott on his serve, after the score was tied at three games each. The second set, after the Pullman player had the lead with a three-love score, the Idaho manager staged a rally, and with close, careful playing tied the score at four all. At this point Billings again took the lead, and won with two more straight games.

Idaho Takes Doubles. With Washington State in the lead, at this point 2 to 1, Herrington and Prescott defeated Billings and Broadbent in the doubles, two straight sets and tied the tournament. This match was easily the feature of the tournament. Herrington, with exceptionally clever net work, smashed the Pullman offensive, causing them to play a defensive game. Prescott handled the back courts well with long hard drives near the base line. The first set was easily taken, while the second was tied before it resulted in an Idaho victory.

The scores were: Singles: Herrington defeated Dickey 6-1; 5-7; 7-5. Billings defeated Prescott 6-3; 6-4. Broadbent defeated Preuss 6-1; 6-3. Doubles: Herrington and Prescott defeated Billings and Broadbent 6-1; 8-6.

NEW ASSOCIATION FILLS NEED FOR CO-ED SPORTS

University Women take Active Interest in All Branches of Campus Activities.

Because the women felt the need of athletic activity, the Women's Athletic association was organized in January, 1922, with 13 members. The aims of the association are to aid women's athletics, foster good sportsmanship and a friendly feeling among the women of the university. Membership is open to any girl who has participated in at least two sports a semester.

The W.A.A. has become a recognized department of the A.S.U.I. and the manager is elected by the student body. The present officers are: Maude Carlund, president; Laura Knudson, secretary-historian; Bessie Savage, treasurer. The membership of the organization has increased to fifty members, and the requirements for a National W.A.A. have been fulfilled.

A point system is awaiting the adoption of the A.S.U.I. amendment for the awarding of sweaters and numerals for participation in the various sports.

THIRTY TENNIS ENTRIES.

Because of the weather conditions, the girls tennis tournament has not been played off. Thirty girls participated in the matches, and Joanna Rudisell, Mary Thompson, and Beatrice Hunter will play in the semi-finals.

After the tournament has been played off, the challenge system will

ANNE OAKLEYS STAR.

Much interest has been shown in the girls' rifle team. It was organized for the first time, this fall, through the efforts of Miss Winslow. Seargent Dahlen gave instruction three afternoons a week on the different positions for target shooting, and a team of 12 was selected. Matches have been held with the University of Main and Northwestern university.

Prospects for next year are very bright. With the experience of the girls of this year's team, and with more equipment, a better organized team will be had next year.

CLUB WELL RECEIVED DURING INITIAL TOUR

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB IS ROYALLY TREATED IN NORTHERN TOWNS.

The initial tour of the Girls' Glee club was a memorable trip, and those who enjoyed it brought back wonderful stories of new friends they had made, and of the royal entertainment accorded them everywhere. Twenty girls made the trip this year, and great hopes are being entertained for an annual tour of the entire state in the future.

Accompanied by Professor E. O. Bangs and Mrs. W. A. Murray the glee club left Moscow at 7:45 Tuesday, April 24 and reached Spokane in time for shopping and sight seeing trips before lunch. At 4:00 o'clock they took the train for Plummer, where the first concert was held. A train of automobiles was waiting at the station to take them to the high school, where they were the guests of the senior class and the school board at a banquet served by the home economics department. After their concert the girls caught a late train for St. Maries, where they spent the night. At the station they were met by automobiles and taken to various homes.

Tour St. Maries

Wednesday morning was occupied by rides around St. Maries. At 1:15 a short concert was given at the high school, and this was most enthusiastically received. In fact several members of the glee club have been in receipt of amorous epistles from appreciative seniors, proving conclusively that "music hath charms to thrill the high school youth." The toy symphony was especially applauded.

During the afternoon automobile trips were enjoyed by the girls.

In the evening dinner was served in their honor by three of the mothers, Mrs. B. F. Haller, Mrs. D. H. Kerr, and Mrs. L. Mullaney. After their evening concert at 8:00 o'clock the girls were entertained at an informal dance.

Concert at Coeur d'Alene

Thursday morning at 7:00 the party left for Coeur d'Alene. Captain Miles, the captain of the boat, pointed out places of importance as they went down the river, past Harrison, Goat Mountain, the beautiful Chatoleet, where the river empties into Coeur d'Alene lake, and down past Conkling Park to Coeur d'Alene. Here they were met by cars.

The girls were invited to luncheon at the homes of Coeur d'Alene people.

and then went to the high school, where they gave a concert at 1:15. After the concert they were taken for long rides on the beautiful lake shore road, which extends for miles along the steep bank of the lake. Some visited the town of Harrison and others drove to Hayden Lake, returning in time for dinner, before the evening concert. After the concert they enjoyed short rides about the lake.

Fall to Make Boat

Saturday morning at 8:30, the glee club was scheduled to leave for Harrison on the boat, but the gaiety of the night before had been too much for some or the of the carolers and they did not appear. The good-natured captain, however rose to the occasion and held the boat until everyone arrived. At Harrison they took the train for Wallace. The Business Women's Club of Wallace gave a luncheon and program for them at the Banquet restaurant, and here they were taken at once in automobiles.

Features of the program were a violin solo by Miss Mildred Stachey of Wallace, a talk by Mrs. Pullman, also of Wallace, and a talk by Demerise Ebbley, manager of the Glee club. After the luncheon the girls were shown through the Burke and Mullan mines.

Last Concert Is Given

Dinner was served at the Grotto, and at 8:00 o'clock the girls gave the last concert of the tour, after which a dance was given in their honor by the people of Wallace.

Some of the girls left Saturday morning returning at once to the university, but others accepted the hospitality so cordially extended them, and remained in Wallace until Sunday morning, when they left for Spokane. The Girls' Glee club and the University of Idaho will always remember the magnificent reception and the warm-hearted, genuine hospitality which the people of Idaho so splendidly gave them on their tour.
