Since the cast was so large in the book of the pageant, a number of the parts are being doubled by members of the cast given above. The ones who have speaking parts are riding again in different scenes, or taking parts in the dances which feature the various interludes.

Speaking Parts Broken Up

In the actual pageant the historical speaking parts which give various scenes and dramatic incidents in the history of Idaho are interspersed with dances, songs and tableaux which are characteristic of the period. For instance, Interlude one, The Dance of the Metals, is followed by Episode Two, Gold. The dances which are

TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP TAKEN BY GOLDSTONE

"Abe" Goldstone, racquet wielder supreme, won the University of Idaho men's tennis tournament by defeating Dan Prescott in the finals of the tournament Thursday morning, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. The new champion showed superiority in every phase of the game, although Prescott put up a stiff battle throughout the entire three sets. The match has been delayed for several weeks owing to an infected hand that was bothering Goldstone.

The new champion had the hardest row to follow of any man in the meet having put "Curt" Herrington out in the semi-finals. His decisive win over both of these Idaho stars gives him undisputed claim to the campus championship. As the new champion is enrolled in post graduate work at the university, he is ineligible for varsity competition.

RADIO BEGINS OPERATION

University Broadcasting Station Offers Musical Concert As Opening Program Thursday

The university broadcasting station, which has been under construction for several months, has finally reached completion, and the first program was sent out Thursday evening. Several test broadcastings had been sent out before this, with phonograph music and these proved all successes.

The first real concert to be broadcast was given by Bernadine Adair Thursday evening. Miss Adair gave a vocal program and several piano program took about an hour.

Several programs are being planned which will take several other musical artists of the campus. A piano concert is planned and also a violin recital by Professor Klaus. These concerts will be given in the near future.

The concerts are given in Liszt Hall and are transmitted by wire to the broadcasting station in the engineering annex. The broadcasting of the concerts is in charge of Mr. Murry of the engineering department assisted by Kenneth House and Jack Llewallen.

IDAHO MEETS W.S.C. HERE IN FIELD MEET

FRESH AND VARSITY MEN READY FOR DUAL EVENT.

Williams May Not Be Able to Enter Two-Mile—Yearlings Present Strong Field Entrants.

(By JOHN ZUVER)

The University of Idaho and Washington State College track and field men will meet Saturday afternoon on MacLean field at 2 o'clock in a dual meet. Both the Cougar and Vandal varsity and freshmen thinly clad will compete in the affair. Earlier in the season both the varsity and freshmen bowed before the Washington State team, but intensive training and development by several of the men makes the outcome of the meet look brighter.

It is not expected that Lewis Williams will be able to enter the two-mile race. The field is expected to be one of the best ever turned out.—Idaho Daily Statesman.

IDAHO FACES SERIES WITH OREGON TEAM

RIVAL NINES TANGLE HERE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Oregon Team Drops Games to Washington and W.S.C. During Tour.

The University of Oregon will meet Coach McMillan's Vandal nine on MacLean field here Friday and Saturday in a two-game baseball series. Early in the season the Vandals broke even with the Oregon men when on the disastrous coast trip. The Oregon outfit seems to be experiencing similar trouble in their present tour, having made a poor showing against the University of Washington and Washington State College in recent games.

MacMillan's outfit seems to have hit their mid-season stride, and are exhibiting in rare form. Their last three games have marked up three victories, a pair from Montana and one slug fest against Gonzaga, who defeated the Vandals earlier in the season.

Battling Much Better.

The stick work of the outfit has shown vast improvement in recent contests. Few men are not clouting out the ball for hits, and several are becoming big stick artists. The infield and outfielders are fielding well, and cultivating perfect pegs. The outfield may be further strengthened by the return of Ostrander, veteran fielder, who has been out of several contests because of a sprained ankle.

The good baseball weather that has prevailed during the past few days has taken the chill from the hurling staffs' arms and they are performing in mid-season style. In all, the entire outfit looks good for a double win over the Oregon outfit.

Webfooters Drop Games.

Oregon seems to have taken a recent slump. Washington recently won two games from them and Washington State college Wednesday humbled the invaders by a large score. The coast outfit is due for a win, but in all probability the style that Idaho has been displaying of late will give the Oregon nine unlimited trouble in securing a victory.

Coach Mathews has not decided a hurler for the opening contest, but likely Fitzke or Captain Marineau will start the series. Both these hurlers have been displaying in good form to date. Marineau's arm trouble has been slowly leaving him, and in all probability he will be at his best in one of these contests.

Friday's contest is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock, while the Saturday fracas will not get underway until after the track and field meet with Washington State college.

DEAN MESSENGER GIVES TALKS IN SOUTH IDAHO

J. S. Messenger, dean of the University of Idaho school of education, arrived in the city Monday on a trip through the southern part of the state where he will deliver a number of commencement day addresses for high school graduating classes. This afternoon Dean Messenger will speak to the teachers of the Boise schools at the high school auditorium on modern educational methods.

Wednesday Dean Messenger is scheduled to give the commencement address to the senior class at Weiser high school and Thursday he will speak at the graduating exercises at the Nampa high school.

Indications that next year will see the largest enrollment of students at the university in the history of the school were voiced by the dean in an interview at the Idaho Monday evening. The present school term, which will close next month, has been a banner year, he said, and although he could not give the actual number of students who will be graduated this spring, it will be more than 150—the largest graduating class ever turned out.—Idaho Daily Statesman.

HONOR SYSTEM FAVORED BY W. S. C. GRADUATES

Washington State College, (P. I. A.)—An overwhelming majority of students voted for the honor system at the State College of Washington when it was put to ballot, but there was an even greater feeling against any system of reporting dishonesty which might be interpreted as student espionage. Students feel that best results will eventually be gained by trusting every man and woman to do the square thing.

INVALUABLE VOLUMES GIVEN BY JEROME DAY

Jerome Day, an Idaho alumnus and prominent mining man, has donated a set of books of twelve volumes to the university library. This set of books is a government report on a survey of the territory between the Mississippi river and the Pacific ocean. The name of the set is "Exploration and Survey for a Rail Road from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean."

This survey was made in 1854 by government officials and the report was presented to congress in 1855. All of the advisable routes between the Mississippi and the Pacific were very accurately surveyed. The report also includes the geology, botany, and zoology of all the territory.

The books are very well bound and will be of great benefit to the university as a whole. Due to the fact that the report includes the whole nature of the territory they will also be very useful to the different science departments.

The value of the books is also high because of the fact that they are now out of print and it would be almost impossible to duplicate them.

U. OF W. WINS ORATION

Tri-State Contest to Coughlin Who Urges United States to Enter World Affairs.

Paul Coughlin, representing the University of Washington, won the annual Tri-State oratorical contest in a speech on the subject "The Status of Liberty, Her Back to the World," in the University of Idaho auditorium Thursday night.

Coughlin's winning speech was a strong urge to the United States to enter into world affairs. He based his oration on the changing status in world relations, and urged that the United States step in and take her part in the advancing progression of nations.

U. of O. Declares Lawlessness. "The Reign of Law" was the subject covered in the oration of Paul Patterson, University of Oregon representative. He declared lawlessness and the attitude of those who oppose the carrying out of the laws.

Abe Goff, of Walla Walla, Wash., was the University of Idaho orator. He spoke on the subject of "Discontent." Discontent, he said in his address, walks by the side of the man that goes forward, but content is the refuge of the weak and spells certain stagnation.

Each orator was allowed from fifteen to twenty minutes for his address. The judges for the contest were H. E. Fowler of the Lewiston Normal, A. B. Cunningham of Washington State College, and Fulton Gale, Moscow high school principal. A prize of $100 was given to the winner. Idaho has won the contest for the past two years.

DRAMATIC STUDENTS ANNOUNCE FRATERNITY

"THE CURTAIN" RECEIVES SANCTION OF "U" FACULTY.

Organization to Encourage Play Production and to Generally Further Stage Work at Idaho.

Announcement is made of the organization, with faculty approval, of a dramatic fraternity on the Idaho campus under the name of "The Curtain." The name is significant not only because of its long association with the theatre, but also because a famous playhouse in London during the time of Shakespeare (perhaps the very playhouse in which the dramatist served his apprenticeship) bore the name of "The Curtain."

The purpose of the fraternity is five-fold: (1) to further dramatic activities in the University of Idaho; (2) to make a study of acting, play-writing and play production; (3) to

ARMORY MOST INADEQUATE

Military Service of Idaho Men Most Outstanding—32 Killed in War.

University of Idaho alumni will consider at their annual gathering during commencement week this spring the proposal to erect a combined gymnasium-armory as a memorial to the university students who served with the American armies in the major wars. Students have already signified their approval of the proposition and willingness to assist the alumni by voting unanimously to assess at the opening of school next fall each regularly enrolled student $10, which will be applied toward a building fund. This assessment will constitute the students' part toward the fund of approximately $200,000 which is the present estimated cost of a building such as will be necessary to provide housing for the constantly enlarging athletic and military activities of the institution.

The record of University of Idaho men in military service makes such a memorial extremely fitting, in view of the fact that the present armory-gymnasium has been greatly outgrown and that if the military work is to progress in the future enlarged quarters must be provided. The military work was instituted March 8, 1894, seventeen months after the university had opened its doors.

Record Outstanding

The record of the University of Idaho in the Spanish-American war is outstanding. The Idaho institution furnished the largest number of students in proportion to enrollment of all the state institutions of higher education in the United States. All of the university cadets volunteered for service but as the Idaho quota was limited all could not be accepted. Of the 39 University of Idaho men enlisting in the Spanish-American war, two failed to return. Paul Draper, second lieutenant in the 22nd infantry, who took part in the battle of San Juan hill; and Ole G. Haggberg, who was a captain in the university cadet battalion, both died in the Philippine Islands. A monument to these two men occupies a prominent place on the university campus.

Other university men who enlisted, and of whom the university now has record, are: George W. Kays, mining engineer, Phoenix, Ariz.; Barnum M. Mallory, prospector, Canada; Jesse L. Rains, physician, Oakley; William E. Reed, Lewiston; Nicholas C. Sheridan, president and general manager, Midnight Mining Company, Wallace; Leo Smith, Culesac; Francis M. Sneider, Leland; George A. Snow, mine operator, Salmon; Charles H. Armstrong, merchant, Wenatchee, Wash.; John T. Burke, stockman, Sublet; Samuel P. Budd, manager, Montana-Idaho Copper company, Delage; Ben E. Bush, deputy state land agent, Moscow; Peter G. Craig, Kennecott, Alaska; Joseph L. Gilbreth, colonel, U. S. army, Fort Crook, Neb.; Clement L. Herbert, Oakland, Calif.

No Records

Those of whom there is no present record are: Jerod H. Jacobs of Halley; Alex J. MacNab, Walter S. McBride of Spokane; Robert M. McGregor of Genesee; Lewis G. Nixon, Tremain M. Osborn, Elmer Oylear of Lenville; Walter S. Richardson of Pullman; Leo Smith of Culesac; George F. Comstock of Moscow; Eric I. Foss of Genesee; Charles Galloway of Weiser, Albert Hagstron, John B. Heyburn of Osborne; Pink A. Teague and Walter T. Wright.

Should the gymnasium be constructed it will also be dedicated to the university men who saw service in the World War. The University of Idaho furnished alone 251 com-

LEARN PAGEANT SONGS.

One of the most important features of the Pageant will be the songs and that is entirely up to the student body. Idaho has long been recognized and admired for its singing student body. In the days of the World War our "fighting army was a singing army." And a good, enthusiastic student body is a "good singing student body."

The campus will have more visitors than ever before at the Pageant and Idaho students will have a chance to prove to everybody that University of Idaho students can sing and sing well.

Practice is essential and the only way to learn songs is to learn them. The two songs to be presented in the pageant are two of the best of the famous Idaho songs. One, however, is not as well known as it should be. The song starting "Dawning sun upon the mountain" is destined to become the really proper Idaho Alma Mater song on account of its beauty, its dignity, and its expression of what Idaho is and will be. Get acquainted with this song and see if you won't agree.

A CRIME AND A SHAME.

There were a handful of people at the specially called A.S.U.I. meeting Thursday afternoon. The meeting had been properly advertised and it was important. A most important amendment was to be considered. Everybody knew or should have known about it and yet nobody attended the meeting. One hates to think that the lack of interest shown in this important matter of student self-government is indicative of the interest in all A.S.U.I. affairs.

A motion could probably be passed at an A.S.U.I. meeting asking the faculty for Sunday classes or the decapitation of all undergrads and there would be a lot of people who wouldn't even wake up.

It is pretty discouraging to the women who are working hard and actively for the better interests of the university when about 40 people turn out to consider their efforts.

A NEW DUMB ONE

Why, he's so dumb he thinks "watered stock" is leading a mule to water.

But that degree of dumbness or dubbiness should not be attached to the Idaho undergraduate who heard George T. Reid's able and interesting address at assembly Wednesday morning. The students, wise enough to attend assembly, heard an address well worthwhile. Consideration of vital problems of the nation from every angle is well within the jurisdiction of the college student and Mr. Reid gave many a student a new thought in his fair and to-the-point discussion.

Whittier College, Whittier, Cal.

A beauty contest to decide who will be Queen of the annual Women's Athletic Association Carnival, to be held May 29, has split the student body into two factions which are fighting desperately for supremacy.

The boys, not satisfied with the co-ed candidate, have entered "Percy," the handsomest man in school to oppose her.

Justifies Memorial The value of the service of the University of Idaho in these two wars is held to be of sufficient importance to justify a memorial such as the alumni plan to build in the form of a permanent home for the military and physical education departments.

The present armory-gymnasium was built in 1905. The enrollment in military courses was at that time about 150 but now the number receiving training has mounted to 450 while the amount of space for the department has not been increased at all. Next year the enrollment is expected to go well over the 500 mark and the military staff is wondering how so many can be efficiently handled with the present facilities. The armory-gymnasium would not only be a memorial to the university men but would be a recognition of the long service of Col. E. R. Chrisman, who was the first commandant of the corps, and who is still at the head of the "department. Colonel Chrisman came to the university as a second lieutenant. He was promoted to a first lieutenant and placed at the head of the department. In 1898 he was transferred to Cuba, where he captained a company during part of the Spanish-American war. He was sent to the Philippines after his Cuban service but in 1902 returned to the University of Idaho, where he remained until 1905, when he was ordered back to the Philippines. He remained in the islands until 1908 and upon his return to the United States was placed on duty at the South Dakota State college, where he remained from 1909 to 1911. He was then promoted to be a major and sent to Alaska, returning in 1912 to serve with the national guard of New Jersey until 1914, when he was ordered to the Panama Canal zone. He had been commissioned a colonel prior to his service in the canal zone and when the United States entered the World war he was sent to Porto Rico as a brigadier-general and placed in charge of the American forces there. In 1919 he returned to the University of Idaho. This year as in former years, he will command the summer encampment at Camp Lewis, Washington.

PRE-MEDIC CLUB MEN ELECT NEW OFFICIALS

Charles Preuss was elected president of the Pre-Medic Club, Carter Pitcher vice-president, and Sam Poin-dexter secretary-treasurer at a meeting held Thursday night.

The Pre-Medic Club is an organization of those students of the University of Idaho who are taking preliminary courses in the study of medicine, and has been of great aid to them in cementing the relation of the members of the course.

Paul Reed is the retiring president, Charles Preuss is at present a member of the junior class, and editor of the 1923 edition of the Gem of the Mountains. The Idaho pre-medical course is strengthening every year, and a more extensive course along this line may possibly be offered at some time in the near future.

The activities of the club have been limited chiefly to the promotion of friendly relations among its members and to discussions of general problems of importance in the field of medicine.

Special Meeting Fails To Attract Undergrads

The A. S. U. I. G. meeting called to consider the revised Women's Athletic association amendment to provide for women's athletics was postponed until a later date in that aquarium was not present. The meeting was scheduled for 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the auditorium and not more than 40 people were present at 5:15.

Jerry Gill, vice-president and acting president in the absence of Lynn Hersey, called off the meeting. The backers of the amendment propose to introduce the amendment at a meeting in the near future.

included in the interludes are, The Dance of the Waters, The Dance of the Indian Spirits, Dance of the Mining Gnomes, Dance of the Milkmaids, and The Dance of the Cowboy and Cowgirl.

The dancers who will take part have not yet been selected. During the next week Miss Winslow will give dancing classes for all those who have turned out. Their choice will be determined by the success with which they take part in the training classes. There are a number of places open in this particular part of the cast, and the casting committee has issued a request that all those who are not included already in the university dancing classes but who desire to take part should join the practice class under Miss Winslow.

Committee Handle Tickets
All the tickets for the pageant will be handled through the student boosters' committee, which was formed a week ago to handle the publicity and general arrangements. The committee is composed of three members from each fraternity and dormitory on the campus, and from the town groups. They will also see to the gathering of all the cowboy clothing for the production.

The executive management of the "Light on the Mountains" is composed of twelve committees. The general executive committee headed by Dr. A. H. Upham, president of the university, is composed of Dr. G. M. Miller, Dean Permeal French, J. H. Cushman, Professor Brosnan, Pauline Pence, Margaret Blackinger, Rex Kimmel, Stanley Siegfus and Bob Cummings.

Jennings Writes Book
The book committee is composed of Dr. Miller, Mr. Cushman, Talbot Jennings, who wrote the book of the pageant, Ted Sherman, and Elizabeth Mount. The press committee is composed of Mr. E. F. Mason, Miss French, Ruth Hawkins, Paul Harlan, and Orin Fitzgerald.

The pageant is being financed by the senior class of the university, and the finance committee is composed of Kenneth Anderson, Margaret Mims, Greek Wells, Marie Hummel, and Dr. Angell, Dean of the college of letters and science.

Carland, and Mrs. Bear. The music will be handled by Prof. Bangs, Bernadine Adair, and Mr. Claus.

Stanley Siegfus, who will have charge of the grandstands, will have working with him the Knights of the Ball and Chain, and the engineering department.

Four thousand people will be able to sit in the additional grandstands which will be put in by the engineering department. One section of the grandstand will be put in on either side of the present one, and the hills surrounding will be cleared off to permit greater seating capacity.

Professor Cushman, Dr. Miller and Talbot Jennings have left on a trip to the Lapwai Indian reservation to make arrangements for getting the genuine Indian costumes, especially those of the chiefs. Arrangements may possibly be made for bringing a number of the Lapwais to the university to take part in the pageant. The committee on Indians is Tom Sikkels, Unita Lipps, and Howard Hechtner.

Holbrook Directs Advertising
Costumes will be handled by Miss Jensen and Virginia McRae, advertising by Robert Holbrook, Tom Madden and Edwin Gowenlock, and lighting by Mr. Johnson, Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Cushman, and Walter Garrett. Warren Noggle has charge of live stock properties.

Albert Knudson has been appointed general field director by the executive committee, and he will be also efficiency and speed up man, handling the general direction of the working of the pageant. The stage setting and properties committee is Talbot Jennings, Virginia McRae, Rose Donovan, Jack Radner, and Ted Turner. The casting committee is Miss French, Mr. Cushman, Dr. Miller, Talbot Jennings, Mrs. Schoonover and Camille McDaniels.

An orchestra will probably be obtained on the campus to play appropriate music during the production. The various groups on the campus are at present working on two songs, "Idaho Fair" and "Dawning Light Upon the Mountains," to be sang in unison at the conclusion of the pageant.

The production has been insured with Lloyds of London against both rain and small attendance for the night of June 9. Eighty seven towns have been picked out over the northwest, especially in Idaho, and tickets are being sent to alumni in those towns for distribution.

WOODBURY SCHEDULED FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

PERSONAL FRIEND AND COMPANION OF EMERSON.

Oakland Man Delights University In Previous Appearance—Intimate With Literary Figures.

Among the list of lecturers of nationwide importance for the summer school at the University of Idaho this year, which opens June 12, will be Charles J. Woodbury of Oakland, Cal., for many years the personal friend and companion of Ralph Waldo Emerson, famous American essayist.

Mr. Woodbury is perhaps the only lecturer in America who can speak of Emerson from the standpoint of personal acquaintance, and his association with that great personage also brought him in touch with the other literary figures of the time, among whom were Walt Whitman, Joaquin Miller, Henry Thoreau, Mark Twain and many others. In his talks he speaks of Emerson with the familiar, intimate manner that any person uses in talking of one of his closest friends.

The appearance before the summer school students will be a return engagement for Mr. Woodbury, as he appeared before the student body for a series of lectures last winter. His talks at that time were very interesting and were flavored with numerous incidents about Emerson and his friends which have never been recorded on the pages of any written biography of the great American writers and intellectual leaders of that era. He came to the university through the efforts of the English club.

Another important speaker on the summer school program will be John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education.

iams, star two miler, will be able to enter the meet, due to a pulled ligament that he acquired shortly before the Montana meet. Williams won a spectacular two mile race from MacLeod at the meet at Pullman. In not able to compete his loss will be severely felt. Powers, low hurdle man, has also been troubled with a bad ligament, and although his ailment has been rapidly improving he may not be able to enter in the stick event. Aside from these mishaps the entire varsity squad is in first class condition.

Mile to Be Thriller.

One of the most interesting events of the meet will be the mile race between Captain Guy Penwell, of Idaho, and Leslie of Washington State. The Cougar miler nosed the Idaho leader out at the tape by a fast sprint. Penwell has since been developing a sprint at the end of the race, and in all probability the race will be a thriller of the afternoon.

In the sprints Idaho's chances are few for annexing a first place, Davis, Cougar ten second man, is expected to be in condition for the meet and in all probability will win the dash events.

The Washington school also possesses several other fleet century and furlong men, and Idaho's chances are slim of annexing more than a third place in either of these events. Keith is Idaho's best bet in either of these races, and will undoubtedly pull through with a place in one or both of them. Powers is the only other Idaho bet in the sprints.

Casebolt Strong Bet.

In the quarter mile Casebolt is doped to repeat his performance at Pullman and cop a first from Maurer and Hopkins of W.S.C. Since this race the Vandal quarter man has been improving steadily, and will undoubtedly have little trouble in winning first place.

Sowder of Idaho, although losing to the famed Michales of Pullman by a scant five yards, has been improving lately. He easily outclassed the field at Montana several weeks ago, and in all probability will push the cougar half miler to the limit for a victory. This race is also expected to be one of the thrillers of the meet.

Idaho will have a hard time breaking into place in the high and low hurdles. The Cougars have a trio of stickmen who are hard to beat out at the tape, and in all probability Powers, Filtzke and Cogley will find a hard time placing in the events.

Weak in Field Events.

The field events will be the downfall of Coach Mathews' men. The university has few experienced field event men, and will have a hard time breaking into events that the veteran Cougar jump and weight men are entered in.

In the weights, Filtzke and Quinn are the Vandals' best bets, while in the pole vault Guerin and Walker will have a hard time placing. Stivers and Fox are entered for Idaho in the broad jump, these men have been improving lately and will likely make a fair showing. Cogley is the Vandals' only chance in the high jump.

Frosh Field Stars.

The freshmen will vest their power for a win over the Cougar Babes in the field events. Despite the loss of Nelson, star pole vault and weight man, due to ineligibility, the frosh have still a good amount of field material to take a lead in the field events. Pickett, star high jumper and weight man, is good for firsts in several seconds. Stevens in the shot took a first at Pullman and will likely repeat.

Wayne Davis and Wagner have been making good marks in the broad jump, and in all probability Davis will annex a first place in this event. Boileau and Kent in the pole vault will likely win several points for the frosh.

Huefner, D. McCrea, Johnson and Wagner are entered for the yearlings in the hurdles. Huefner has been getting down his form to a fine point in the high sticks, and is slated for a first place.

Davison and D. McCrea have been cutting capers in the century and furlong, and are sure of holding their own in the two sprint events. Pullman has some good yearlings in these events, but the rapid development and intensive training that these two men have undergone during the past few weeks makes the outlook brighter in the dashes.

The Pullmanites are extra strong in the mile and 880-yard run. Idaho has entered in the mile Archibald and Cogley who will find it hard breaking the tape ahead of the three stellar Cougar milers. T. Taylor and Guernsey are the Idaho yearlings' best bets in the half. Johnson, Idaho frosh quarterman, is expected to win his race in easy style.

VANDAL FROSH LOSE FINAL COUGAR GAME

BAD INNINGS IN FIRST AND FOURTH GIVE W.S.C. LEAD.

Final Score 6 to 4—Idaho Yearlings Try Hard to Pull Contest From Fire in Sixth.

The University of Idaho freshmen lost their last game of the season to the W.S.C. frosh Thursday afternoon on MacLean field by the score of 6 to 4. This gives the freshmen one win out of the three game series played with the Cougar yearlings. The Idaho yearling outfit played good ball at times, and they would hit a slump.

The loss of both Terry and Cameron because of ineligibility, due to scholastic standing, has been a severe drawback to the yearling outfit, and their loss was felt both in the team work and stick work of the club.

Get Five Run Lead.

A bad first and fourth frame gave the W.S.C. frosh a five run lead. This was cut down by the Idaho outfit in the fifth inning when Iverson, the cougar moundman, weakened, and plus poor support and erratic fielding by the infield gave the Vandal frosh four tallies.

In the sixth frame Idaho had a chance to tie the score, Lewis, the first man up driving out a three base hit, but the Cougar hurler then settled down and pulled out of the hole. A tally in the eighth put the game on ice for the invaders.

Score by innings:

W.S.C.	200	300	610
Idaho	000	040	000
Batteries: Iverson, Cummins and Sandell, W. S. C. Fields and Harding, Idaho.

The freshman nine lost to Cheney Normal Wednesday at Cheney by the score of 13 to 8. Payne was knocked out of the box in the second inning, Wahl replacing him, and holding the teachers scoreless the rest of the game.

LARGE CROWD COMING TO HISTORICAL EVENT

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR AUTOMOBILE CAMPING SPACE.

Moscow Chamber of Commerce Co-operates With University Officials—Facilities Thrown Open.

Many people are planning to come by automobile to Moscow in June to witness the all-university pageant of Idaho history, "The Light on the Mountains," the night of June 9, university officials have learned.

It is announced that ample camping space will be provided on the university campus and adjacent to it, as well as at the city tourist park. Opportunity for making coffee will be provided, and the shower bath facilities in the university gymnasium will be available to visitors.

Chamber Behind Event

The Moscow chamber of commerce is co-operating with university officials in promoting the pageant. Mayor I. H. Molgard has issued a proclamation declaring Saturday, June 9, to be Idaho history day and urging citizens on that day to consider their reasons for being proud of their state, to teach the same to their children and to arrange their affairs so that they can attend the pageant.

Chambers of commerce in other Idaho cities are being asked by the Moscow chamber to co-operate in pageant publicity and to request the issuing of similar proclamations by their mayors.

Bulletins describing the pageant and the other events of commencement week are being sent to 3,500 alumni and former students. An unusually large influx of relatives and friends of graduates is expected on account of the size of the graduating class, which numbers 165.

ASSOCIATED ENGINEERS SELECT NEW OFFICERS

Kriss Crowther, a junior civil engineer, was chosen president of the Associated Engineers at a meeting of the organization held Wednesday evening. Fred Crandall, a third year civil engineer, was elected vice-president, and Joseph Skidmore, a sophomore enrolled in electrical engineering, was elected secretary-treasurer. Final plans were made for the annual engineers' picnic, which will be held Sunday, May 27. This is the only social function that is given by the engineers which is for engineers only. It is the wish of those in charge of the picnic that all engineers turn out Sunday and make it one of the best picnics of the season.

LAWYERS ADDRESSED BY RAILROAD OFFICIAL

VICE - PRESIDENT NORTHERN PACIFIC TALKS ON CHARACTER

George T. Reid Tells of Difficulties and Opportunities Encountered in Law

"Human character is stable and unchanging, and you will meet the same problems of character in your contact with the business world that I have experienced in my thirty years of practice," said George T. Reid, vice-president and general counsel of the Northern Pacific, in an address to the students of the college of law Wednesday morning.

"You have chosen a difficult profession, and one in which your success will be measured by your industry, your personality, and the amount of common sense with which you are endowed," Mr. Reid continued, "There is a fourth essential, the exercise of scrupulous honesty, in the absence of which your progress will be blocked by a stone wall."

Knowledge of Law Needed

"Through these essential elements of character, you must acquire first of all a thorough knowledge of the general principles of law, and the habit of thinking in harmony with the reasoning of the courts."

As an illustration of the great lack of this knowledge of fundamentals, Mr. Reid called attention to the long list of cases concerning the first ten amendments to the constitution which have been carried to the supreme court. There they have been declared unconstitutional because of the fact that the Bill of Rights is fundamentally a restriction of the federal government, and not upon the states.

Tendencies of Business

Mr. Reid also spoke of the tendency of modern business to avoid litigation in the courts, and settle disputes by arbitration and businesslike methods.

In conclusion, Mr. Reid called attention to the fact that most great leaders have been members of the legal profession, and said, "You are going into a profession where you can offer great service, or where you can do great harm. I urge you to make the most of your opportunity for service."

VANDALS TAKE GAME FROM GONZAGA NINE

IDAHO BALL PLAYERS SLAUGHTER VISITING BULLDOGS.

Bob Fitzke Pitches Invincible Brand of Baseball While Teammates Clout Four From Box.

University of Idaho ball players walloped the Gonzaga Bulldogs here Wednesday afternoon, winning easily by a score of 14 to 2 on MacLean field. Four Gonzaga pitchers were used without material success for the visitors in that their offerings were knocked to all corners of the lot by the Idaho batsmen.

Bob Fitzke, Idaho's star speed ball artist, was invincible. His speedy twirling kept the Bulldogs to but four well scattered hits and he was master of the situation in every inning. Fitzke has been pitching splendid ball for the university this season and his individual work has been a big asset for Idaho's diamond success. Fitzke has also been hitting the ball consistently and is at the present time one of the leading Idaho hitters.

Idaho gained her lead in the fifth inning when Foley blew up. Seven men crossed the plate in this frame and the Idaho team was retired only after Schott had been called to the Gonzaga mound. All four of the Gonzaga twirlers were unwillingly generous on free transportation to first base on account of the fusillade of hits banged out by the Vandals.

Score:

Idaho	14	7	3
Gonzaga	2	4	2
Batteries—Fitzke and Guirnela; Foley, Schott, Magnuson, Ashmore and Garrity.

IDAHO POULTRY EXPERT NAMED OFFICIAL JUDGE

Prof. R. T. Parkhurst, head of the poultry department of the University of Idaho college of agriculture, has been licensed as an official judge by the American Poultry association. This appointment is taken as a distinct recognition for Prof. Parkhurst as the number of judges in the west is limited and the association is unusually discriminating with regard to personality.

Prof. Parkhurst has been with the University of Idaho for three years and during that time has done extensive research and original investigating, in addition to his teaching duties, the results of which have been of considerable value to poultry raisers of the state.
