COOPERATION

The cooperation of the A. S. U. I. administration, the two upper classes, and the "I" club prevented a long, drawn out underclass scrap. The fight, which usually takes place on a Friday night, is always called off for the Bury the Hatchet dance the following night.

This year, however, hostilities broke out in the middle of the week, with the dance scheduled for Saturday, and there was definite indication of a fight which would extend over several days and nights. Hazing as a practice has long been abolished, and the annual one-night scrap is the compromise from those by-gone days, but even that would have been endangered had the fight been allowed to continue.

Organized student authorities took the right course—the only course. Continuous unorganized fighting cannot be permitted.

GET TOGETHER

The Student-Faculty reception tonight is the annual get acquainted gathering of the year. From that time on everyone on the campus is supposed to know everyone else. And everyone is supposed to say "hello." Its a custom that is as old as Idaho.

But that isn't the point. The reception is a real opportunity to meet the people with whom you associate during your university days,—it is not only the duty, but the privilege of every Idaho student to attend, and become better acquainted with his campus associates.

Lets go!

BOOST

This issue of The Argonaut shows what western sporting authorities think of the Idaho football team. We believe in them too. We've got a real team, and a real coach. So let's boost for them. We've got all the confidence in the world in their ability. Let's show it. And they can't help but win. We know that.

So let's boost!

national rifle match. Michael Tierney and Harrison Armstrong were also on the sixteen man team from which the four men to go to Perry were selected.

In athletics Idaho students also made good. The 3rd company, in which all Idaho cadets were placed, won the baseball championship of the camp, and Arthur Golden, Joe Cogan, Gale Mix and Wilbur Pettibone played on the camp team which played the crack 4th Infantry team the closing day of camp.

In Other Branches

Idaho was also well represented on other camp athletic teams, and on the R. O. T. C. newspaper.

TUCKER-SABIN

George Tucker, '23, and Gertrude Sabin, '23, were married Thursday of commencement week at the Presbyterian manse in Moscow and make their home in Filer, Idaho, where Mr. Tucker is Smith-Hughes instructor in agriculture.

lose two games, one to U. S. C. and one to Idaho. Apparently he and Varnell appreciate the loss of nine lettermen at Berkeley."

Surprises Local Fans

It comes a bit shocking this early in the season, but proves beyond a doubt that Idaho is being looked upon as more than a dark horse in the conference running, and bears out the printed warning of practically every sporting scribe on the coast to "watch out for Idaho."

The Vandal schedule will not be nearly as severe as that which faced Mathew's proteges a year ago, but it still present difficult problems to be dealt with and considered in figuring out the chances for the Gem State eleven. Idaho will set a precedent this year for the west, and it is thought for the whole country, in playing three regularly scheduled conference games in succession without returning to the home field. She will begin by taking on the Oregon Aggies at Boise, on Armistice Day, Nov. 10. From there she will go direct to Palo Alto, where she will engage the Stanford Cardinals the following week, and continuing on down the coast, she is scheduled to play the Southern Californian Trojans in the big Thanksgiving Day classic at Los Angeles, Nov. 24.

Should she emerge from that trip intact, the performance will go down as one of the greatest achievements in football history, here or anywhere else.

Loses Act as Dampers

Three hard blows, though, have already fallen and have acted as local dampers. The first came when a faculty committee ruled Dale Vohs ineligible for participation this year. The second came when it became known that Abe Goff apparently would be unable to participate for his third year on account of injuries lingering from last season. Goff and Vohs were the only two-year lettermen on the team and with both of them out Mathews has a squad with only one-year veterans as a foundation. The third blow has just fallen. Loris Hubble, lineman from last year, has been visited with rheumatism and will in all probability be kept from the game this year under the doctor's orders.

Hubble didn't make his letter last season because he came to the varsity squad with only a smattering of experience. This year he would have had every opportunity to get a place on the first string.

Getting Into Condition

Bucking machines, tackling dummies and all other paraphernalia have been dusted off and are playing prominent parts in Mathew's training. Actual scrimmage will not be considered until Mathews is sure that all of his men are in good condition. He believes a large number of the serious injuries which handicap a team throughout the season are easily preventable. Last year he made a long step toward proving his theory when he took his squad through the entire season with a percentage of serious injuries almost insignificant compared to those of other teams in the conference.

In addition to the conditioning drills Mathews and his assistants are paying no little attention to what in the parlance of the gridiron is known as "skull practice." This sort of practice is designed to acquaint the players with the latest rules and to teach them to analyze plays and possibilities instantaneously. It is this "skull practice" that makes one team know more football than another.

Light scrimmage against the freshman may be attempted some time this week.

THIRTY-ONE STUDENTS ATTEND SUMMER CAMP

IDAHO WELL REPRESENTED AT R. O. T. C. CAMP

Van Peterson Attends National Rifle Match Held at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Thirty-one Idaho students, who attended the R. O. T. C. encampment at Camp Lewis the past summer reported with the first turnout of the cadet regiment Thursday morning, and are actively engaged in drilling the freshmen recruits.

From the standpoint both of the military department and the students themselves, the 1923 camp was by far the most successful ever held. Twenty-five advanced course men, and six basic attended the camp, which covered a six week period from June 15 to July 25.

Offer Thorough Course

Thorough work was offered in all phases of military training, and demonstrations to supplement theoretical work were given by regular army units of the infantry, cavalry, artillery, and air service. Instruction taken up was in rifle, pistol, machine gun, minor tactics, the theory of command, and other related subjects. Emphasis was laid on the fact that the students were not receiving training to become enlisted men, but rather the training which was given was with the idea of making officers for a time of need.

Ample provision was also made for entertainment. At least twice a week programs were given at the service club, athletic equipment was furnished for baseball, tennis, indoor baseball, volley ball, and track, and trucks were furnished to haul those who so desired to the "old swimming hole." The closing week-end of camp, army reconnaissance cars took all the students to Mount Rainier.

Idaho Does Well

Idaho students made very enviable records in all branches of camp work. In rifle marksmanship, Idaho took second place, out of ten colleges competing, with the largest number of men shooting, many of whom had had no previous training along this line. Van Peterson made the high score in record shooting, of all men at camp, and is now at Camp Perry for the

COUNT RUMFORD 1753-1814

Born Benjamin Thompson in Massachusetts. Charged with being a Tory, went to England, and became Under-Secretary of the Colonies. Later, in Bavaria reorganized the military department and was made Count Rumford. Returned to England and engaged in scientific research. Founded the Rumford professorship at Harvard.

He watched the pot as it boiled

Thousands of people had watched the boiling pot, but Count Rumford wondered why it boiled. He did more than wonder; by scientific research he found out for himself.

And Rumford laid the foundation of the greatest generalization the human mind has yet conceived—the law of the conservation of energy.

Scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are devoting their lives to pure research, carrying on the work of Rumford and other pioneers of modern science. By methodical investigation, the frontier of scientific knowledge is being pushed steadily forward.

The General Electric Company, by continuous scientific research, has developed new and better ways of making electricity of use to mankind.

GYM COMMITTEE NAMED BY IDAHO LEGION HEAD

One of the first steps toward the erection of a memorial armory-gymnasium on the University of Idaho campus was taken at Boise recently with the appointment of five members of the Idaho branch of the American Legion by Paul Davis, state commander. The committee consists of O. W. Worthwine, chairman; J. Ward Arney of Coeur d'Alene; L. V. Patch of Payette; E. M. Sweeley of Twin Falls, and John Moran of Pocatello. This committee will work with a committee appointed by A. W. Kjosness, president of the University Alumni association, which is composed of Robert D. Leeper of Lewiston chairman; George Horton and Paul Peterson of Idaho Falls; Homer David, G. P. Mix, and Dr. J. H. Einhouse of Moscow.

A resolution endorsing the project to erect a building to commemorate the activities of Idaho citizens in the world war was unanimously adopted by the American Legion convention of Coeur d'Alene the first part of August. Complete plans for the building have not been worked out, but will be decided upon at a meeting of both committees to be held in the near future.

KIRKHAM TO REPORT ON 'SOUTHEAST OIL FIELDS'

Virgil R. D. Kirkham of the school of mines staff has returned from a summer spent in the southeastern part of the state. Mr. Kirkham, as geologist with the bureau of mines and geology, studied the oil formations in the Caribou hill district and his findings and conclusions will soon be published in bulletin form by the bureau. Considerable interest has been shown in the future of the field visited by Mr. Kirkham and his report is certain to attract widespread attention.

VETERAN SQUAD AT W.U.

NINE LETTERMEN ANSWER BAGSHAW'S CALL FOR MEN

Eighty-five candidates answered Coach Bagshaw's first call for practice at the University of Washington Saturday afternoon and engaged in a stiff workout on Denny field, preparatory to what the Huskies hope will be their most successful season.

Among the large field out for places on the 1923 Husky machine were nine veterans of last season's team. Fred Abel, quarterback, who played a brilliant game against Idaho in the opening game for both squads; Ham Green, halfback; Les Sherman, fullback, and Bill Beck, halfback, were out with the backfield candidates. Chalmers Walters, Roy Petric, Jack Lillis, Vern Beliman, and Ken DuBois turned out with the linemen.

Baggy has taken direct charge of the backfield men, and spent the first practices in rudimentary work only. Assistant Coach, Wayne Sutton, will tutor the ends, and Tubley Graves will handle the rest of the linemen.

PHI GAMS TAKE CUP OFFERED BY FRENCH

GAIN PERMANENT POSSESSION OF SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

Omega Phis Get Girls' Cup For Second Consecutive Year

Scholastic competition among the women's groups on the University of Idaho campus promises to be unusually strong during the coming year, with Omega Phi Alpha sorority, winner of the Elizabeth Kidder Lindley cup for two successive years, striving to maintain the highest average for the third successive year, which will give it permanent possession of the trophy.

Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, having won the Burton L. French cup for three successive years, becomes owner of it. Congressman French announces that he will offer another cup to be awarded on similar plans.

Pi Phi to Install Kappa Alpha Theta held the Elizabeth Kidder Lindley cup for two successive years before Omega Phi Alpha stepped to the lead. Omega Phi Alpha will soon be installed as the University of Idaho chapter of Pi Beta Phi.

Averages for the women's groups for the second semester of last year are: Omega Phi Alpha, 5.173; Kappa Alpha Theta, 5.187; Gamma Phi Beta, 4.908; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 4.883; Chi Beta Epsilon, (not eligible for competition on account of recent organization), 4.848; Delta Gamma, 4.824; Alpha Delta (not eligible for competition on account of insufficient numbers), 4.091.

Averages for men's groups are: Kappa Delta (not eligible for competition on account of recent organization), 4.669; Phi Gamma Delta, 4.629; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 4.384; Phi Alpha Psi, 4.332; Phi Delta Theta, 4.312; Sigma Nu, 4.294; Kappa Sigma, 4.281; Elwetaz, 4.242; Beta Theta Pi, 4.220.

Computation is based on a possible average of 6.000. The average for the entire university is 4.574.

OREGON FOLLOWERS GLUM OVER SEASON'S OUTLOOK

The Oregon outlook for the present season is not being given much by followers of Shy Huntington's teams, and Idaho undergraduates and alumni are more insistently of the opinion that the Vandal squad will be able to hand the Lemon Yellow a decisive defeat this year when they meet for their annual clash on the Coast.

Shy will have but five of last year's regulars back in the folds this year—Chapman at quarter, Vonder Ahe and Campbell at tackle, and Ward Johnson and "Hunk" Latham in the backfield. All, however, are good men, and around them may be built a winning team despite present forecasts, and may again prove the Oregon tendency of late years in being a "November team."

Huntington is placing a lot of confidence in his six weeks of spring practice, and believes that it will enable him to find berths in much shorter time than otherwise for his men. "It will be a touch season, with all teams more evenly matched than ever, in my opinion," he has been quoted as saying. "Oregon, though, may be depended upon to put up a good show no matter who she is matched against."

SPENCE-NEWLIN J. Edwin Spence and Peninah Newlin, '15, were married in St. Michael's cathedral, Boise, early in June. They will live in Seattle, where Mr. Spence is a member of the faculty of one of the high schools.

SOCIETY The social season for 1923-24 promises to be more interesting than ever and one of the first notable events will be the installation of Pi Beta Phi on the campus. And after September 29, the Omega Phi Alphas will be wearing the arrow of Pi Beta Phi. "Rushing" by the sororities takes place this week and Sunday September 22 is the official "pledge day." Then begins the usual round of dances, teas, and entertainments. The Athletic Ball which follows the U of I-W. S. C. game, will be the first big formal of the year.

Monday afternoon, all the sorority houses held "open house" for the freshmen on the campus. This is a traditional "get acquainted" party for the girls and a means of starting friendships from the first, in keeping with Idaho's democratic spirit.

Miss Louisa McMartin, '21 of Twin Falls, spent a week at the Gamma Phi House, of which group she is a member. She left Wednesday for Vassar College to continue her studies.

Miss Aleta Green and Florence Bauer of Potlatch are visiting at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Self Dependent Thinking

"A larger self dependence in your thinking, a training in thinking for yourselves, a will, a desire to think for yourselves. May we hope that you get a certain amount of willingness, a certain amount of self reliance in your college association. "There is a difference between freedom of thought and extravagance of thought. Have we even intellectual curiosity? Do we care to exercise our minds? How many of us are going to have a curiosity beyond the mere passing things of life. The test of an educated man or woman is his or her ability to see distinctions. The cheap generalization is the brand of half-educated thinking. "May you acquire the community point of view," the president said in pointing out that the biggest thing in the undergraduate's life should be the University of Idaho. He warned, however, against the practice of devoting too much time to activities in detriment to individual studies.

Constitution Almost Sacred

"The kind of constitution we have is the happy medium between an autocracy and a democracy," said Captain Connor, in his short address on the constitution. "The purpose of the constitution is to guarantee to the individual certain rights and liberties. It is necessary to protect the minority against the majority; to protect the majority against the majority; to protect the majority against the minority."

"The constitution is something almost sacred, not to be touched lightly, but reverently."

Fijls Win Cup

Congressman Burton L. French presented the scholarship cups offered for highest group scholarship during the past year. The men's cup was presented to Ralph Bristol, representing Phi Gamma Delta. Phi Gamma Delta has won the scholarship cup offered by Congressman French for the past three years and now acquires permanent possession of the cup.

The women's cup was presented to Miss Margaret Springer, representing Omega Phi Alpha, soon to be installed as a chapter of Pi Beta Phi. This is the second successive year that the scholarship award has been won by Omega Phi Alpha.

Omega Phis Win

Omega Phi Alpha made a group average of 5.173 out of a possible 6.000, while the Phi Gamma Delta lead the men's groups with an average of 4.629.

Announcement was made at the assembly that Congressman French would offer another scholarship cup as an incentive to high scholarship starting next year. The women's cup is offered by Elizabeth Kidder Lindley, wife of Dr. E. H. Lindley, former president of the university.

SET RULES GOVERNING COLLEGIATE SCOUTING

The practice of scouting for high school athletes was virtually outlawed at a recent meeting of representatives of the eight institutions comprising the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference, at Portland, according to Prof R. E. Neidig, a member of the athletic board, who represented the University of Idaho. Dr. W. H. Barrows, Stanford representative, proposed to make scouting impossible but it was pointed out that such a ruling could hardly be enforced and the final decision was that scouting be prohibited, with the provision that "flagrant" cases be brought to the attention of the conference.

In connection with the attempt to minimize scouting the conference voted that no college should give complimentary tickets to prospective high school athletes visiting the institution.

Reverse Participation Clauses

The rule on what constitutes participation was reversed. Hereafter a man shall not have participated unless he has played in a part of a varsity game. Previously a year on the squad has counted as a year of participation, regardless of whether the candidate was ever permitted to enter a game.

Uniform eligibility certificates were adopted and several of the rules were clarified. The suggestion that the conference appoint a sort of intercollegiate Judge Landis to decide on matters of eligibility was heartily defeated, the representatives feeling that colleges were capable of deciding such matters for themselves.

The meeting was very successful and in the opinion of Professor Neidig will result in a stronger friendship between the various institutions comprising the conference.

MICHIGAN LOSES TEN OF 1922 LETTERMEN

Of the 21 letter men last year on the University of Michigan football team 10 were missing when the 1922 squad started practice last Saturday. Seven of these 10 were selected to start the Ohio State-Michigan game last year and were regulars through out the season.

Captain Paul Goebel and the late Bernard Kirk, Michigan's two star ends in 1922; Jackson Koefer, one of the best backs ever developed at Michigan; Franklin C. Cappon, one of Michigan's greatest fullbacks; Douglas F. Roby, 185-pound halfback, and Robert T. Knobel, who ably filled Kipke's place in the Michigan-Illin-
