

YEAR'S FIRST RALLY COMES WEDNESDAY

WILL BE HELD IN BLEACHERS ON MACLEAN FIELD

Vandals To Perform In First Open Practice Permitted This Season

The first yell rally of the year will be held 4 p. m. Wednesday on the bleachers in MacLean field, and a yell duke will be selected from tryouts held at the rally.

The Harvard yell contest has ceased to be a feature of the Idaho-W. S. C. game. This year a new plan is being adopted to take its place. The Harvard Alumni club of Spokane offered the award four years ago as a prize for the best pep stunt put on at this game, the shield to go to the school which won the stunt three years in succession, and for three successive years Idaho has won, the trophy passing into her permanent possession last October.

Engineers to Stunt Probably, according to tentative plans being drawn up, the associated engineers will give a stunt between halves at the first game this season. Plans for the stunt are now being drawn up, but it has not been definitely settled.

Since the Harvard prize is no longer offered, a new plan has been suggested to take its place. According to this plan the college where the game is being played will give the pep stunt. It is adopted, W. S. C. will give the stunt this year, and Idaho next, doing away with the traditional competition.

Wants Idaho Spirit Yell King Ted Turner has issued an appeal to the student body to continue the spirit which they gained in the past.

"We want to keep on our yelling and on our songs so that our prestige won't slip. We have a reputation throughout the west for school spirit and we want to keep it," said Mr. Turner.

The yell duke is appointed by the yell king, and the job is open to any sophomore or upperclassman. In order that the yell king will have some basis for comparison, all candidates must take turns leading the yells in Wednesday's rally.

Band to Help The pep band will furnish the music for the rally. The rally would have been given earlier except for the fact that the pep band had not fully organized.

DERBIES SUGGESTED AS JUNIOR SKYPIECE

Juniors can wear derby hats, and the attractiveness of mankind's dress will be legalized, and not the legitimate prey of the upper purists of the campus.

Perhaps in three weeks we may see the brown derby of ancient renown dragged forth from its hiding place and paraded on its pristine glory. Which brings up the question of the kind of derby to be worn. The makers of certain skypieces have long advertised that the smart man should have in his hatbox a black derby with a close cropped rim. Or should it be one of the square toppers that distinguished Potash and Perlmutter?

Derbies are the sign of the gentlemen. They flaunt their sheen in the faces of the helpless opera goers of New York, and dazzle the orbs of Main street. But why should our seniors wear the canes and our juniors the derbies? Is it a composite gentleman that we seek?

Let them have their derbies, and the sophomore sophs their checkered Belmont stable caps. May the insignia of the junior class bear the jolly old sign of three gilt balls.

FACULTY TICKETS

Faculty season tickets, for all athletic games, will be put on sale this week. A canvass will be made of all faculty members, and those who do not buy them at this time may purchase them at the gate of the first football game. The tickets are good for a reserved seat in the faculty section at the football games, and for admittance only at basketball games. The price is $7.50.

PI PHI INSTALLATION TAKES PAST WEEK-END

FIFTH NATIONAL WOMENS' GROUP ON CAMPUS

Local Omega Phi Alpha, Founded March 5, 1920, With Nine Charter Members

Another chapter was added Friday to the roll of national Greek letter societies at Idaho when the local sorority, Omega Phi Alpha, was installed as Idaho Alpha of Pi Beta Phi. Installation ceremonies lasted over a period of three days and were conducted by Mrs. Archer T. Spring of Fort Collins, Colorado, editor of the Pi Beta Phi "Arrow", as installing officer. She was assisted by Mrs. Burton Beck of Portland, province president, and by the Pi Beta Phi chapter of Washington State College. Mrs. Ralston Butterfield, of Moscow, was in charge of installation plans for local Pi Phis.

Pledging and initiation of charter members and alumnae occupied Thursday and Friday. Friday evening the installation banquet was held at Guild hall. Decorations were in the fashion of a Japanese garden, the tables being placed among huge mounds of flowers interlaced with streamers of wine red and silver blue, while from the ceiling were hung Japanese lanterns of exquisite design. Bowls of dark red carnations, the Pi Phi flower, brightened the tables. Miss Helen Johnston, Idaho '22, acted as toast-mistress. Toasts were given by Mrs. Beck for the installing officers, Miss Trammell Rutherford for the University of Washington chapter, Miss Peterson for W. S. C., Mrs. Ralston Butterfield and Mrs. R. K. Bonnett for Pi Phi alumnae, and Miss Helen Ramsey for Idaho Alpha.

Reception Given Saturday Saturday evening the new Pi Phi chapter held its installation reception at Ridenbaugh hall. The spacious rooms of the hall, bright with cut flowers, were filled with a long line of faculty members, townspeople and college groups. In the receiving line were Margaret Springer, president of the Idaho chapter, Mrs. Spring, Mrs. Beck, Miss Bernice McCay, Mrs. A. H. Upham, Miss Trammell Rutherford of Washington, and Miss Caroline Bickelhaup of W. S. C. Dainty refreshments were served by pledges of sister groups on the Idaho campus, while music and dancing were enjoyed during the latter part of the evening.

Idaho Alpha of Pi Beta Phi was founded as Omega Phi Alpha by nine young women of the university on March 5th, 1920. That is should obtain a charter in so short a time from a national fraternity of the standing of Pi Beta Phi is an evidence of a group of unusual character. The sorority holds the Elizabeth Kidder Lindley scholarship cup for the second successive year, and its members are prominent in all university activities.

Old National Group Pi Beta Phi was founded at Monmouth college in April, 1867. It was the first women's group of its kind to be organized in an American college, although it was not the first to bear a Greek letter name. The society was originally called the I. C. Sorosis, which name was changed to Pi Beta Phi about 1883.

The installation of Idaho Alpha brings to Pi Beta Phi its sixty-fourth chapter. While its membership is now over twelve thousand. The province which includes Idaho is composed of chapters at the University of Washington, University of Oregon,

PEP RALLY WEDNESDAY

There will be a pep rally Wednesday afternoon. That statement alone should be enough to insure a 100 per cent attendance of Idaho students on the bleachers.

It should not be necessary for the "I" club to round up unwilling rooters. It is not the duty but the privilege of every undergraduate to turn out and boost the team. They are working for you,—donate an hour of your time now to show them that you appreciate it.

PLAN FRESHMAN RALLY RECITAL TO BE FRIDAY

Novel Plan Made To Rouse Class Of 1927 With Idaho Spirit

A freshmen pep rally and parade, the first in the University of Idaho history will start from the campus at 7 p. m. Friday night.

Every freshman will be in the parade, every man with his directions, and a demonstration will be put on that will key the campus up to top notch for the first game of the season.

It is a new idea, a new tradition that will, after this, be followed out every year, according to Yell King Turner. The arrangements are entirely in the hands of the freshmen, who held a meeting Monday night to decide on definite details, which are being kept secret from the rest of the university until the night of the parade.

Should Unify Class

The rally, according to President Tucker, of the freshmen class, will unify the class and create a strength of feeling to back the team in a way that it has never been backed before. Whether or not it will include a pajama and torch procession has not been made public, but the plans include unusual features.

The chairman of the committee to assist the president and the yell king is Erickson.

No Information Given

Although the rally will start on the campus and wind up on Main street, definite information as to where it will start has not been given.

On account of the early time set, the presidents of all the group houses on the campus are requested by Mr. Turner to have dinner at 5:30 p. m. in order to permit the freshmen to make preparations. According to the order issued by President Tucker, all freshmen must be on the campus at the place appointed, ready to start, at 7 o'clock.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN WORKING OUT DAILY

Cross country work during the past week has showed considerable impetus, with about 25 men reporting for workouts each night under the tutelage of Lewis Williams, veteran from last year, in charge of the team this fall. The older runners are rapidly getting into condition for the coming meet with Washington State college, and the conference meet to be held a short time later.

The men have been running from one to one and a half miles each night, and with a continuance of good weather, Williams considers Idaho's cross country hopes to be the best in several seasons. Besides the veteran distance men out for varsity berths, a number of promising candidates have been turning out regularly, and give promise of making the older men step out for a place on the quintet of runners to represent the Silver and Gold in coming cross country events.

No date has been agreed upon by W. S. C. and Idaho officials for the dual meet between the two institutions, but it has been stated that it will occur the latter part of October, before the Pacific Coast conference meet, in which the locals will also participate.

Prof. M. R. Lewis of the college of agriculture took his class in irrigation measurements to Lewiston Saturday. The class spent the time in studying the irrigation system of the orchards of the district.

First Program By Department Of Music Has Numbers By All Members of Faculty

A musical concert in which every faculty member of the musical department will participate is to be given in the auditorium Friday night at 7:30, under the direction of Professor Bangs. It is expected to be one of the most worth-while programs to be presented this year.

It is the only time this season when four musicians will appear together. The numbers which have been selected were picked for their beauty and color, and the musicians themselves are well known in the northwest. The entire school is invited, and there will be no admission charges. Later in the year separate concerts will probably be given by the individual members.

The program follows:

- Soprano Solos: Ouvres Tes Yeus Bleus, Lungi Dal Caro Bene, My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice, Saint Saens, Miss Bernadine Adair, Piano Solos: Jeux d'Eaux, Romance from E Minor Concerto, Concert Arabesque Blue Danube Waltzes, Tenor Solos: Zueignung, By a Lonely Forest Pathway, Scandalize My Name, Wolf-Ferrari, Mr. E. O. Bangs, Piano Solos: Gavotte in E Minor, An Old Love Story, Etude Op. 10, No. 5, Violin Solo: Ballade et Polonaise, Piano Solos: Fantasie in D Minor, Prelude in E Minor, Spanish Caprice, Preuss Named Tennis Manager for Season

PREUSS NAMED TENNIS MANAGER FOR SEASON

Charles Preuss was elected tennis manager at a meeting of tennis enthusiasts Friday. George Gahan had been elected to fill this position last spring, but he presented his resignation at the meeting.

A fall tournament will begin the last of this week, and all who desire to sign up for this must do so by Wednesday evening, as a drawing for places will be made at that time.

Opportunities for positions on this year's tennis team are exceedingly good, as but one of last season's lettermen, Clyde Richards, has returned.

Two other letter players, Dan Prescott, who served as tennis manager for two years, and Curt Herrington, a three year man, were graduated, and two other ranking players, Ken Hunter and Abe Goldstone, both ineligible because of graduate work, have also failed to return to college.

IRRIGATION CLASS SPENDS DAY VISITING LEWISTON

Prof. M. R. Lewis of the college of agriculture took his class in irrigation measurements to Lewiston Saturday. The class spent the time in studying the irrigation system of the orchards of the district.

Rooter caps should be worn at the pep rally Wednesday afternoon. Freshmen caps will be absolutely taboo. The "I" club will have charge of the attendance, and members have promised that there will be a warm reception in store for all underclassmen who should happen to forget that any such celebration is in progress.

IDAHO MUST HAVE BUILDING PROGRAM

POSSIBILITY OF ANNUAL ATTENDANCE BEING LIMITED

Idaho Is Only State In Northwest Without Definitely Outlined Building Scheme

Idaho must either adopt and continuously support a definite building program for all state educational institutions, or limit the annual attendance, was the statement made by Senator I. E. Rockwell, president of the state board of education, in an interview given recently to the Idaho Daily Statesman. The statement was made shortly after Mr. Rockwell's visit to Moscow, when he attended the board of regents' meeting and the opening of the university.

"The program does not have to consist of a large amount of money each year," Mr. Rockwell stated, "but this state must set aside so much each year to be used for constructing administration and instruction buildings at the institutions."

Mr. Rockwell indicated that a small levy each year would answer the purpose.

Problem Solved. "The board should not have to call on the people of the state to pay for dormitories. I think that problem has been solved in the method now employed at both the university and the Lewiston state normal school. At each of these places dormitories have been built by the formation of a local company which issues bonds. These bonds are amortized over a period of years and the rentals of the dormitories ultimately pay the principal and interest."

"All Idaho's sister states of the northwest have either building funds or definitely outlined programs of construction for their higher educational institutions. Montana has a $5,000,000 fund, Washington has made provision for additional buildings and Oregon is starting a $5,000,000 campaign for new buildings."

He lamented the fact that after several years of trying, Idaho's 1923 legislature would give only a three-eighths-mill levy for school building purposes.

"Idaho is doing less than 10 per cent of what is being done in sister states," he said, "and at the same time we are trying to compete with them."

The educational board president referred particularly to two instances of the need of buildings in Idaho. "At the university," he said, "the board recently purchased buildings for the engineering school simply because it had to—there was no room for the school with the increased enrollment expected this fall. At Pocatello, one of the technical institute buildings is actually being held together with iron rods."

The buildings purchased for the engineering school were acquired this summer from Jerome Day, north Idaho mining man, at a price of $45,000.

Not Cash Deal.

Mr. Rockwell seemed surprised that the public generally believed the purchase was a cash proposition. "Of course we didn't pay cash for the buildings. Where would the board get so much ready money just after the close of the school year?" he asked.

He took from his desk a letter with a check for $25,000 attached.

"That," he said, "is the first payment on those buildings and the state board still owes $42,500. We expect to pay for those buildings as money becomes available. Right now profits from the shop are amounting to $1200 a month. The university is operating a combined foundry and machine shop—the only one between Salt Lake City and Spokane."

"Also, these buildings contain tools of every description used in an up to date machine shop and tons of raw metals. The university will catalog this material and sell all surplus. We expect to get about $10,000 from the sale of this material to apply on the cost of the buildings."

The board president made an appeal to the people of the state to "get behind" a building construction program for all state educational institutions.

INJURIES MAY STOP KINNISON'S PLAYING

HALFBACK ON VANDAL SQUAD GETS SPRAINED SHOULDER

Loss Causes Shifting of Linemen Into Backfield, and Use of Second String Men

The football situation showed little change over the week-end with a shadow of gloom appearing on the horizon with the announcement of an injury sustained by Frank Kinnison, of Payette, one of the most promising halfback candidates on the university squad this fall. The announcement given out concerning the injury stated that he may be out for the remainder of the season, due to a severely bruised shoulder, sustained in scrimmage the latter part of the week.

Just what effect his loss will mean to Idaho gridiron aspirations cannot yet be forecasted. Several men have been shifted from the second team and from the varsity line during scrimmage play since that time, and it can be only speculated upon whom will devolve the responsibility of filling in the place on the Vandal backfield. Mathews may take either Charles Hausen or Johnny Vessar out of the line to fill the halfback position, or he may concentrate his energies toward developing another halfback from several likely candidates now playing with the second or third squads. Either solution seems to onlookers as plausible as the other, and only the appearance of the team on the field in the first two games will give an inkling as to what the Idaho mentor actually will do.

Stephens Center Material

As a result of the condition of Abe Goff, center and guard last year, Ray Stephens of Blackfoot, a guard on last season's frosh squad, is looked upon as a possible center to work in conjunction with "Dusty" Kline, regular varsity center, who in all probability will handle most of the pivot work again this season.

The line still presents the biggest problem for Coach Mathews, with the necessity of developing several good tackles still looming to the front. Quinn and Hausen, last year's tackles, are doped as first string men, but others are necessary. So far, none have showed outstanding ability to fill in except Sophus Marker, a second string man last year, and Ted Bucklin, frosh end a year ago.

Three Frosh Out

Three of last year's freshman linemen failed to meet scholarship requirements and these men, Irving Terry and Edwin Holden, tackles, and Dean Sibley, guard, are lost for varsity material this season.

What Idaho will do against the College of Idaho eleven is regarded as important. The College of Idaho eleven from Caldwell, is coached by

MUSICAL COMEDY TO BE PRODUCED HERE

The days of the original Guilbeart and Sullivan musical comedy and the original Floradora sextette may be reproduced the university in the near future, Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts," however, will more probably be the vehicle selected. Professor E. O. Bangs is now going over the various possibilities for these productions. Several of them have been successfully produced here in the past.

Guilbert and Sullivan have been produced so frequently in the past that, in the opinion of George Nathan, nationally known critic, only a very skillful cast can produce them successfully. On the other hand, it is alleged that no other musical comedies really worth the name have been produced since that time.

However, with the infinite possibilities offered by the 1923-24 co-ed crop, Idaho can very probably find more than sufficient talent for the production of top hole musical comedy.

The days of the original Guilbeart and Sullivan musical comedy and the original Floradora sextette may be reproduced the university in the near future, Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts," however, will more probably be the vehicle selected. Professor E. O. Bangs is now going over the various possibilities for these productions. Several of them have been successfully produced here in the past.

Guilbeart and Sullivan have been produced so frequently in the past that, in the opinion of George Natthan, nationally known critic, only a very skillful cast can produce them successfully. On the other hand, it is alleged that no other musical comedies really worth the name have been produced since that time.

STUDENT REPRESENTATION

The suggestion that there be a student representative on the calendar committee has been received with great favor by the student body, and it is probable that it will come up for consideration in the A. S. U. I. meeting Wednesday morning.

It was probably through some oversight that this has not already been done. The necessity is apparent. In the interests of the student body it is necessary that at least one student familiar with the situation as it presents itself to the parties chiefly concerned be on this committee.

Calendar events are a compromise between the interests of a number of groups. A balance must be maintained.

The favor with which the idea has been received points that the students see the necessity. Direct representation is always more satisfactory.

ADVERTISEMENTS

There is information in Argonaut ads that is valuable. That information establishes direct contact between buyer and seller. Our patrons aren't donating money to charity. They guarantee the integrity of their business and their article.

The ads keep you abreast of the times by giving you information necessary to the intelligent spending of your money. Our merchants, through advertising, offer you a service in buying. They save your time.

Naturally, Argonaut advertisers follow the trend of the demand. They convey facts about your purchasing field in the line where your money is going. Through the medium of public print they even prices and direct buying to intelligent channels.

Advertising tells you how to dress correctly, what books are the best, and even what sundae you can buy on your "date" to get the most value for the least money.

Moscow merchants are keeping close to your requirements. They follow your needs, prevent the waste of money. It is not to their interest to create a demand for useless articles, but to give you a carefully worked out service.

Business loyalty demands that you buy from our advertisers. The value of that element is enormous, the principle of reciprocity applied.

The Argonaut furnishes the medium, and the use you make of it depends upon your own cleverness.

SEASON TICKET SALE TO BE STARTED SOON

ENTERTAINMENT COURSE OF THREE NUMBERS OFFERED

Committee on Events Has Charge of Disposal of Tickets in Near Future

Season tickets will be issued soon for the three numbers to be presented by the university entertainment course this year. Students may sign subscription blanks ordering the tickets, and the money can be paid any time until about December 1.

In mid-December the band of John Phillip Sousa, an organization which has gained world wide fame, will come to the University of Idaho for a concert. The Ukrainian chorus from Russia will come in early January. "The Book of Job" is the last number, which will be produced here in latter January.

Famous Musical Organization
Sousa is the best known and most liked band leader in the United States. His pieces and directing have furnished the backbone of American production in this line for a number of years.

The Mexican government offered the Ukrainian chorus, through its director, a large bonus to remain there after its regular schedule had been completed last year, so all Pacific coast engagements were cancelled. This time, however, their appearance is certain.

Wonderful Scene Effects
A whole carload of elaborate lighting and scenery will come with Stuart Walker's production based on the bible, as well as an experienced and much liked cast.

An effort is being made to have all co-eds buy their own tickets, on account of the unusual cost. Definite action regarding this phase will be undertaken at a later date.

IDAHO GRADUATE MARRIES

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Mary C. McCarthy of New York city and Raymond L.

Spangler on Sept. 25, at Denver, Colo. Mr. Spangler was graduated from the college of agriculture in the class of 1921 and is now assistant extension agronomist of the state of Idaho. After Nov. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Spangler will be at home in Boise, at 1816 West Jefferson street.

GEM OF MOUNTAINS ADVANCE SALE SOON

TAG DAYS TO BE WEDNESDAY THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Only Those Who Make Advance Payment Will Obtain Year Book

The advance sale of The Gem of the Mountains, Idaho's year book, will begin Wednesday, and cover a three-day period, according to Merle Drake, manager of the publication.

The sale will be by the tag method, and everyone who pays the initial installment of three dollars will be given a receipt, in the form of a tag, to wear. The cost of the book if the advance payment is made, will be four and a half dollars, but students ordering later will be forced to pay five dollars.

No Extras Available

There will be no extra copies of the annual printed, following the example set by last year's business staff, and only those holding receipts will be able to obtain the books.

Work has been progressing rapidly under the direction of Pete Dreus, editor. In the near future the staff will be announced, and the publication will round into definite shape.

Arrangements have been made to have all photographs taken at either Storners' or Miklos studios. The charge for each picture to appear in the annual will be a dollar and a half, fifty cents of which will be refunded to the annual, to assist in defraying expenses.

QUARANTINE PLANNED ON IDAHO PRODUCTS

EXTENSION AUTHORITIES OBJECT TO FEDERAL ACTION

Given 60 Day Period Before Definite Action On Material Will Be Taken

Officials of the agricultural experiment station, including Dean E. J. Iddings, director; C. W. Hungerford, plant pathologist; and Claude Wakefield, entomologist, have wired protests to the federal horticultural board against the proposed consideration of quarantine of Idaho products. This consideration on the part of the federal board comes following the reported existence in the state of the eel worm disease on clover.

In reply to telegrams sent by Congressman Burton L. French and University of Idaho officials federal authorities have given assurance that 60 days will be allowed to elapse before any definite action is taken.

Idaho experiment station experts in entomology and plant diseases report that any consideration of a quarantine is unjustified. Tests conducted by the entomological station have indicated no probability of carrying the eel worm through shipping of products. It is held that the quarantine would involve discrimination against Idaho products, including seeds.

The experiment station officials are conferring with the state department of agriculture through Commissioner Mark Means and the assistance of Idaho agricultural organizations will be solicited in presenting Idaho's case during the next 60 days. Notice regarding the hearing to consider the possibility of a quarantine has been widely distributed by the United States department of agriculture. The hearing was held at Washington D. C. on Oct. 2 but final decision was deferred.

GOOD FOOTBALL STUFF NOW ON PULLMAN TEAM

The scrimmage mill on Roger's Field is now turning out real football men for the crimson and gray team, according to side-line enthusiasts at the State College of Washington.

Rudy Mathers of Hillyard, looked on as a likely prospect the first week and a half of training, tore into the first scrimmage like a house afire, and showed that he is made of good football stuff. He is small, weighing only 160 lbs., but is well built, and is a "back" of great driving power. He made a record for himself during the war on the Great Lakes

Navy Team, playing against some of the best men in the country, and has already made plain that he is going to deliver the goods for Exendine this fall.

Cliff Marker, a former Stadium high school player from Tacoma, who won his freshman numerals at W. S. C. last year, is another promising fullback. He tears big holes in the line and makes consistent gains for his side in a scrimmage. He is fast and weighs 185 lbs.; that is why he is a hard man to stop. All preliminary dope gives him a chance to win his big "W" this season.

Other men showing well in the first few days of tough scrimmage are Kramer, letter end; Hjertoos, tackle; Burks, center; Wilkerson, end; Hickey, half; and Zaepfel, half.

So far it would appear that the backs are stronger than the linemen in the Cougar squad. With every practice, however, the line is strengthening, and it may stand up well by the time the first game is played against Pacific University Oct. 6.

Training table for the grid men has started, with more strict rules than previous coaches have imposed. Players are not allowed to "step out" to social entertainments any night in the week, but must be in bed early, and keep regular hours, with no dissipations of any sort.

MONTANA U COACH NEEDS NEW STUFF

Linemen and ends are sorely needed on the University of Montana football field and, unless more recruits and regulars show up in the next few days, Coach J. W. Stewart will have a hard time on the conference this fall.

The backfield is in good shape, with a complete pair of sets available at any time. The weakness in the line was evident last Saturday when in the first scrimmage of the season Coach Stewart found it necessary to draft two frosh recruits into the line of defense. It is expected, however, that there will be several football men registering late this fall, and these are being counted on to strengthen the varsity eleven appreciably.

Old stars on the field include Plummer, Johnson, Ilman, Sugrue, Griffin, Christie, Silvernale, Conley and "Buster" Tarbox.

Christie is a Spokane high school man, who came here in 1920. He has won two letters on the regulars at Montana, and is scheduled to be one of the main supports of the university squad this fall.

FORNEY HALL RECEPTION
At a recent meeting at Forney hall, the following house officers were elected: Mary Houston, president; Irene Starth, vice-president; and Vivian Magnussen, secretary-treasurer.

Col. and Mrs. E. R. Chrisman, and Captains C. L. Lloyd and B. B. Bain were Sunday dinner guests of Kappa Sigma.

RIDENBAUGH HALL ENTERTAINS
The girls of Ridenbaugh hall enjoyed their first fireside Sunday evening. The freshmen from Ridenbaugh put on a clever skit, while the Forney hall freshmen attempted to give all time full upperclassmen a nightmare. The program was greatly enhanced by the impromptu stunts of the uninvited upperclassmen from Forney hall.

FRESHMAN SCHEDULE TENTATIVELY MADE

GAME WITH GONZAGA SECONDS LOOKS DIFFICULT

Washington State Frosh Preps To Avenue Defeat By Idaho Last Season

Coach MacMillan's freshmen will meet the Gonzaga second team at Spokane, Oct. 20 for their first hard game of the 1923 schedule. The Bulldog second string men promise to be a real problem and if the Yandal Babes get by them successfully, a strong freshman team will be no longer problematical.

On November 2 the Idaho freshmen tangle with the University of Montana frosh at Missoula and Nov. 10 Cheney Normal comes to Moscow. Both tussles will be hard, but the game with the W. S. C. freshmen on the local field Nov. 17 will be the climax toward which all efforts are bent.

Out For Revenge

With last year's defeat still fresh in their minds, the Cougar cubs can be counted on for a fight which will make football history.

No games have yet been scheduled for Oct. 6, Oct. 13, and Oct. 27, but Graduate Manager Knudson expects to fill these dates if possible.

Two Teams In Field

Due to the large number of candidates for positions there will be two freshman teams with some of the strongest high school teams in Idaho and eastern Washington on the schedule for the substitute team. This plan will give an opportunity for developing possible varsity material for next year.

Scrimmage was begun on Monday and the men are working hard to make the first squad, which as yet is without a nucleus.

R. O. T. C. ENROLLMENT SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Enrollment in the university R. O. T. C. regiment totals 532 to date this year. This shows an increase of over 16 per cent, as compared to the enrollment at the same time last year.

In the advanced course, which is in reality the objective of the whole system of training, an even greater increase has been shown. As compared to the 41 students who took this training last year, there are now exactly 50.

The reason for this is the opportunity that the advanced course offers, to receive a commission in the reserve corps, and the popularity of the summer training camps. Idaho has always placed well in these camps, and each year more students attend.

PETERSON PLACES AT NATIONAL RIFLE SHOOT

Van R. Peterson, who is at Camp Perry, Ohio, at the national rifle match, took 18th place in a membership shoot at 600 yards, in which approximately a thousand entries finished.

Peterson, who is a senior in the university, is a member of the five-man team, which was selected to represent the ninth corps area of the R. O. T. C. at the match. He was high point man on the range at the training camp this summer.
The match closed Oct. 1, and Peterson is expected to return to college in the near future. He is manager of this year's Glee club.

TRAVELER FAILS TO FIND BIGGEST THING IN LIFE

Globe Trotter Obtains 57 Pounds of Names in 21 Years

Cleveland, O.—Josef F. Mikulec has wandered over 200,000 miles seeking "The Biggest Thing in Life."

And after twenty-one years of globe trotting and autograph collecting, he isn't sure but what he might have found the object of his search right at home in California.

"I have visited kings and queens, presidents, governors and notables in all lands. I have seen every country and every city; have traveled when and where I pleased—but I have missed the biggest thing in life," he says sadly.

"The biggest thing? Companionship—real companionship."

"I meet scores of people every day. But they aren't interested in me and I can't get the opportunity to become interested in them. They want to know of my travels, and I've got to tell it all over again."

"When the day is done, I haven't anyone I can sit down and talk with as one friend talks with another. And that is the biggest thing in life."

Every one knows Mikulec. President Harding once met him. So has Woodrow Wilson, the Prince of Wales, J. P. Morgan, the late Teddy Roosevelt, and hundreds of others of equal note.

Twenty-one years ago—he's forty-five now—Joe left his home in Croatia, a province of Hungary. He's been walking ever since, through a score of nations and every state in the United States.

Now, he wants a little farm somewhere in his adopted country. He sees a wheat field, or maybe rows of corn and tomatoes and plows and horses and chickens—and neighbors.

Joe's autograph book weighs 57 pounds now. Names that would amaze you are written in it. Just about every world character except John D. Rockefeller and the King of England.

He uses a little wagon to carry the book, it is so heavy. For many years, however, he carried it, but it wasn't that big then. He increases it as it fills.

Joe wants to see his book finally placed in a museum or library. He hopes someone will buy it for that purpose.

Price? He won't say, but he does add that what it brings will buy the farm and have plenty left over to tide him through the remainder of this life with friends.

25,000,000 Widows in India Who Cannot Wed

Geneva.—There are 25,000,000 widows in India who are forbidden to marry again by their religion, according to Isobel Frosham of the Church of England Missionary society in a lecture here.

"Widows in India are usually badly treated by their relatives," said Miss Frosham, "because, according to the Hindu religion, the widows in a former incarnation must have committed sins involving the subsequent loss and punishment of their husbands."

"These women, when ill, are not allowed to be attended by a male doctor and they suffer greatly. Only women doctors are allowed to attend them."

Bird and Mouse in Fatal Duel

FORESTRY SCHOOL NATIONALLY KNOWN

NINE FROM NEW YORK RANGER SCHOOL REGISTER

Enrollment Shows That Students From Sixteen States Know Of Idaho Course

Students from 16 different states of the union have enrolled in the university school of forestry for the present semester. A large percentage of out-of-state students come from the eastern states, though southern states and Washington are also well represented. The enrollment from Idaho is, of course, in the lead, with New York state following with a representation of nine men. The states of Washington and Illinois have eight men each in the Idaho school of forestry and Massachusetts comes fourth, with an enrollment of five students. Other schools which are represented are Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Indiana, Minnesota, Utah, Florida, California, Oregon and Washington, D. C.

The large New York group comes from last spring's graduation class of the New York state ranger's school, of Syracuse university. After carefully studying the facilities of the various forestry schools of the country nine of the graduation class of 20 decided to continue their studies at the University of Idaho.

School Nationally Known
Through the work of Dean F. G. Miller and the faculty the university school of forestry has exceptional advantages for training foresters and lumbermen as it is within a short distance from heavy forests and large lumber camps. It is on the edge of the largest white pine belt in the world and only a short distance from some of the largest sawmills and logging camps of the United States. Every possible phase of the lumber industry is concentrated within a few miles of the university and trips to the forests, logging camps and mills are made by the students at all seasons of the year.

When interviewed on the splendid record of the Idaho school of forestry, Dean Miller, head of the school, said: "We are very much gratified over the number of students enrolling from our own and eastern states, as well as over the high quality of the men who are attracted here. The location of the school and the opportunity for practical work in forestry doubtless explains why our school has been selected by those young men as the place to get their professional training."

FORESTRY OFFICIAL VISITS UNIVERSITY

Theodore Shoemaker of the United States forestry department was a visitor at the university Friday, addressing those enrolled in the school of forestry on "The Public Relation to the Forest Service." Mr. Shoemaker is in charge of district 1 of the national forest service, which covers northern Idaho and Montana.

In his talk Mr. Shoemaker emphasized the importance of education in the line of forest conservation, and public cooperation. He said, "More than one-half of the state of Idaho is forest land, one-third being within the national forest and the remainder under state and private ownership. The lumber industry employs more men than any other industry in the state and the forests are being rapidly cut with no regard to the growing of new timber. Fires also do much damage, millions of feet of valuable timber being lost annually from this cause alone. The problem is that of forest conservation. The national and state forests can only be saved by the education of the young men of the state and by public cooperation."

CHURCH RECEPTIONS HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

SIX DENOMINATIONS GIVE PARTIES FOR STUDENTS

Annual Affairs Draw Large Crowds—Churches Decorated And Programs Given

The annual reception for students of the University of Idaho, given under the joint auspices of the young people's societies of the Moscow churches, Friday night, attracted more young people than ever before and an excellent time was had and a fine spirit shown throughout. The students, when registering, express their church preference, or, if they have no preference, so indicate. It has been the custom of the Moscow churches for a number of years to hold separate receptions, but on the same evening. Each church sends invitations to the students giving that church as their preference, and all send invitations to those expressing no church preference.

Baptist Church
The Baptist church was changed noticeably on the inside as on the outside. A canopy of silver and gold streamers hid the ceiling and lights, while feathery asparagus and beautiful autumn flowers were used in great profusion around the room. A goodly number of students were in attendance and entered heartily into the numerous games, stunts and tricks of the evening's program. Delicious and bountiful refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Those directly responsible are to be congratulated. Walter Lette, president of the Baptist Young People's Union and Basil Burton, chairman of the social committee, were ably assisted by Earl Humphrey, Charles Craver and the decorating committee and refreshment committee from members of the Royal Oaks class. Rev. and Mrs. Burton greeted the new comers and later spoke words of welcome to them.

Methodist Episcopal
The student reception in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church was a decided success. The young people had their rooms beautifully decorated and committees were in waiting for the large number who came. By actual count there were 175 in attendance. Both parlors on the top floor of the temple were full. After some lively get-acquainted games, every person present enrolled in the improvised college and enjoyed to the full the athletic contests as well as the ice cream and cookies which followed.

Following there were sung many of the college songs, winding up with "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." At the conclusion, Mrs. H. O. Perry, superintendent of the young people's department of the Sunday school, announced that the parlors would be open every Sunday afternoon. Committees will be on hand to meet any who desire to come in.

Much of the splendid success of the reception was due to committees in charge, made up of members of the Epworth League. Miss Thelma Farnsworth has been elected student secretary for the coming year. She was also chairman of the committee on plans and decorations.

Christian Church
One of the most enjoyable receptions ever given by the young people of the Christian church was the annual students' reception held last night in the church annex. The reception was in the form of a Japanese party and the large room was beautifully decorated in true Japanese fashion. The walls of the room were entirely hidden with evergreen.

In which were branches of pink Japanese cherry blossoms. Feathery green also covered the ceiling, from which hung butterflies and real canary birds. The lights were softly shaded with Japanese lanterns, while bouquets of asters and chrysanthemums added to the decorations. Wisteria hung from the lattice arch above the booth where cherry ice and wafers were served.

Miss Evelyn Burch, the social chairman of the Christian Endeavor society, had charge of the program of the evening, which was opened by the singing of one verse of "Onward Christian Soldiers," after which Rev. G. W. Morgan, the pastor, led in prayer. The following program was then given: Piano solo by Miss Ethel Albert; an address of welcome by Dean F. G. Miller of the forestry department at the university; "Japanese Love Song," a solo in costume by Mrs. E. V. Ewers; a short talk by Rev. Morgan; a musical reading, "Japanese Lullaby," by Miss Goldia Smith; a welcome in behalf of the young people's class by the teacher of the class, J. T. Croot; a solo, "Suki San," in costume, by Edna Parkins; a short talk in behalf of the Christian Endeavor society by the president, Miss Alma Lauder, followed by a few words by the president-elect, Miss Emma Oller.

After the program the young people bustled themselves getting acquainted, and following the delicious refreshments they gathered around the piano and sang Christian Endeavor "pop" songs and Idaho college songs. About eighty young people were present.

First Lutheran
The reception given on Friday evening by the young people of the First Lutheran church was well attended by members of the student body and by local members of the Luther League. Rev. A. Andre, the pastor, and Miss Ethel Anderson, of the League, each gave hearty words of welcome. Miss Angela Andre gave a splendid reading and Miss Florence Oberg gave a pleasing solo. Elfin Lindquist gave a trombone solo, which was much enjoyed. After a social session, splendid refreshments were served by the committee in charge. Games were played and a social session enjoyed.

Presbyterian Church
Informality was the spirit in evidence at the annual Christian Endeavor get-together reception which drew a large number of students to the Presbyterian church Friday evening. The singing of college songs paved the way for the get-acquainted features of entertainment provided.

Toward the close of the evening Orland Mayer, master of ceremonies, directed the guests to the church auditorium, where a varied program was put on by the Endeavorers. Constance Taylor, the society president, had the leading role in "The Eskimo Tragedy." Dean J. G. Eldridge led the group in a "sing" distributing souvenir song booklets, which had been made for the occasion.

Special musical selections were furnished by Lucinda Tuttle and Gladys Gregory during the serving of refreshments in the dining room. Beulah Schumacher headed the committee which had the reception in charge.

JUST as the Parker Duofold and Lady Duofold are recognized as the aristocrats of pens priced at $5 and higher, so this new Parker D. Q. is the blue-blood of pens in the medium-priced class. Indeed the same crafts-guild that produces Parker Duofold makes this Parker D. Q. that we announce at only $3.

Parker designed this pen based on a study of the students' requirements and desires. Hence it's a pen that is practically made to the students' order. We know of no other with this special ring to link to note-book, and no other this size under $5 with a special metal girdle to reinforce the cap. Yet no extra charge is made for these features, or for the super-smooth point of 14k gold tipped with Native Iridium.

Insist on seeing this new creation. Any good pen counter can supply you, but look carefully for the stamp of the genuine, "Geo. S. Parker—Lucky Curve."

Lasting Style

Style that is just pressed in cloth wilts with the wear. Style that is cut and tailored into the clothes last as long as the finished garment.
