

IDAHO GRAD TELLS OF LIFE AT OXFORD

WALTER SANDELIUS DESCRIBES ENGLISH STUDENT LIFE

Rhodes Scholar Man Now Professor Of History at University Of Kansas

Walter Sandelius, an Idaho graduate of '19, and a Rhodes scholar recently completed his course at Oxford, and is now professor of history at the University of Kansas.

"Opportunity for a liberal education is practically unlimited at Oxford. We would be much ahead if it were true that liberal education here offered such advantages in American life.

"Great opportunities are available in travel on the continent during the vacations which take up almost half the year. The 350 pounds, supplemented by the fifty pounds advised by the Rhodes trustees, is sufficient for a reasonable amount of travel and school expenses.

NO ROLL CALL AT OXFORD

"As for study," Professor Sandelius continued, "the Rhodes scholar is practically thrown upon his own resources. No roll call is made at lectures and no work is graded. Little study is done during the term while during vacations many students isolate themselves on small islands in the channel where they will not be disturbed in ten hours' daily study.

"Lectures are optional. A student is assigned to a tutor who recommends certain books and fifteen or sixteen lectures, of which the student usually chooses six or seven. A weekly essay must be turned in to the tutor.

ROWING IS MAJOR SPORT

"Political and literary clubs, athletics, and all sorts of student activities take up a greater part of the time spent in college. Englishmen are very fond of all kinds of sports: rowing, the major sport; tennis, Rugby football, cricket, and others.

"The fact that life in the college is not systematized," Professor Sandelius went on, "is at first a disadvantage to those who are accustomed to finding themselves in an organized student body. The students live in the college building, of which there are twenty-three for the men and four for the women. Each man is given two rooms. There is a great deal of freedom, as meals may be taken anywhere and one is at liberty to go where he chooses.

MUST COME IN AT 12

"The only requirements are that the students come in at 12 p. m., and eat dinner at least five times a week

GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS

Those desiring to work on The Gem of the Mountains should sign up immediately. There is a card on the bulletin board on which the name of the person desiring to work, and the position desired, may be placed.

ELROD SELECTED AS YELL DUKE FOR YEAR

PEP RALLY WEDNESDAY DRAWS BIG CROWD

Turner Wants Old Idaho Fight At First Varsity Game Saturday

"Brick" Elrod, of Pocatello, was chosen yell duke, at the first pep rally of the school year, held at MacLean field Wednesday afternoon. There were three candidates for the position, and following the try-outs, Elwood was selected as duke by a committee of three.

Yell King Turner, stated that the attendance was very good, considering the fact that many of the students were still in class, as it was impossible to get classes excused for that hour.

IDAHO SPIRIT MANIFEST

Much pep and enthusiasm was shown; the real old "Idaho Spirit" manifesting itself during the entire rally. The students practiced Idaho yells, and several of the old songs, accompanied by the Pep band, "Idaho's enthusiasm maker."

Yell King Turner urged the students to carry on with the same old fighting spirit during the game Saturday and Idaho would be able to run up a record score against the southern Idaho team. He urged that the students as a whole begin to think football, and talk football, as the gridiron warriors are doing.

ACHILLES CLUB TO GIVE INFORMAL HOP

Four men were pledged by the Achilles club, senior military organization, at a meeting Tuesday evening. The pledges are Frank Minas, Paul Church, Elgy DeChambeau and Earl Wardrop.

The club is planning to petition Scabbard and Blade, national military fraternity, for a charter this year, and to raise money an all-college dance is to be given Saturday evening, October 20. The Collegiate Serenaders, an orchestra which is now returning from the Orient, will furnish the music.

HIKING CLUB TAKES FIRST TRIP OF THIS SEASON

The girls' hiking club took its first outing of the season Thursday afternoon with a four mile tramp. Jane Gibbs, manager, announces that the choicest of fall hikes will be to Pullman Saturday Oct. 20, to see the football game. All girls are urged to join the club and the time scheduled for hikes may be learned by seeing the bulletin board or consulting Jane Gibbs.

An Idaho Tradition

Idaho students may cheer an opposing team, but they never jeer or hoot it. No matter how the game is going Idaho rooters back their team, and are ever willing to applaud clever playing of their rivals.

This is a tradition that should be kept in mind throughout the entire year. It involves a reputation that Idaho cannot afford to lose. Other universities grant it to us—let's keep it.

FORESTERS MEETING FARWELL TO BEHRE

INSTRUCTOR LEAVES TO TAKE NEW POSITION

Rodner and Wheaton Elected To Manage This Year's Idaho Forester

The first regular meeting of the Associated foresters for the year was held the evening of October 3 in the U hut, and took the form of a farewell meeting for Prof. C. Edward Behre who is leaving shortly to take up his new work at the Northeastern Forest Experiment Station, Amherst, Massachusetts.

Dean F. G. Miller as the first speaker of the evening recounted briefly the progress of the School of Forestry during the four years that Prof. Behre has been connected with it, pointing out the splendid services he has rendered not only to the school, but to the state at large through his studies calculated to further the program of forestry in Idaho. He stated in closing that he predicted for Prof. Behre a brilliant future in his new field. Herman Baumann, on behalf of the students in the school of forestry, expressed appreciation of the high quality of Prof. Behre's work as a teacher of forestry, adding the good wishes of the entire club for his continued success.

HAS BRIGHT FUTURE

Prof. Behre, in response, expressed his pleasure at having been identified with the Forestry club the past four years and said he was sure the Idaho school of forestry had a promising future.

Dean Miller then introduced Mr. Harry I. Nettleton as the most recent addition to the forestry faculty. He said that Mr. Nettleton comes from the Oregon school of forestry, where he had served as instructor in forestry for some time, but more recently has been in the employ of the East Oregon Lumber company at Enterprise, Oregon.

WORKED IN LUMBER BUSINESS

He has thus had actual experience not only as a teacher but in the lumber business as well and comes to the school with strong endorsements. Mr. Nettleton stated that he was glad for the opportunity to become associated with the Idaho school of forestry.

Jack W. Rodner, a senior in the school of forestry, was elected editor of The Idaho Forester for the current year and Roger G. Wheaton, also a senior, was made business manager. Prof. Clarence W. Watson was chosen faculty adviser to the staff.

Good eats and a get together half hour concluded the meeting.

AG. CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR CARNIVAL AND SMOKER

From the Ag club meeting held Wednesday night there evolved plans for a dance, a smoker, a carnival, and the annual ag-day stock showing and judging contests. It was suggested that the latter event be extended over a period of two days instead of the customary one, as in previous years. This event will be widely advertised to call the attention of the people of the state to the activities and excellent stock of the agricultural department of their university.

The idea of a basketball game between the law school and the ags was brought up, and it was decided to arrange for such a contest some time about the close of the football season.

M'LAUGHLIN WRITES FOR PEP BAND SHOW

MUSICAL COMEDY TO FEATURE ANNUAL FALL FOLLIES

Entertainment Given To Finance Band For Armistice Day Trip

J. Stanton McLaughlin of the English department is writing a musical comedy for the University Pep band show, to be given in the auditorium November 3. The fact is, Mr. McLaughlin, who is writing the comedy, assures those who attend the show of some tuneful twinkling musical selections as well as a bevy of risibles, which may cause the ribs to give way to a flock of joyous aches.

Mr. McLaughlin has written many plays and musical comedies which have been put on with great success. It will be remembered that the most entertaining and successful act of last year's Pep band show was written and directed by Mr. McLaughlin. In view of this fact the lovers of good comedy certainly have something to look forward to, and this alone will more than pack the auditorium to its maximum capacity.

SCHEME STARTED IN 1920

The custom of having a Pep band show was originated in 1920 the year of the founding of the band. The purpose of the show is to assist the band to the southern part of the state, for the annual Armistice day football classic. Since the band made its first appearance in Boise three years ago its popularity rivals that of the football team, and the interest in this unique organization has been marvelous.

Those who have had the good fortune of seeing the shows put on in the past are unanimous in their praise. They all agree that said shows are the best ever and they wouldn't miss this one for love nor money. Although most of them haven't more than enough money to get to the show they have more than their share of love, so it is easy to see how popular this show stuff is.

No real authentic information is, at present, available as to the personnel of the acts, or just what their nature is, but it is a safe bet that they will be tip top, snappy, scintillating gems of the histrionic art. Rumor has it that some real surprises are in store for the fans who are among those present on the night of Nov. 3, and anyone who misses them will never cease to regret their absence.

ERECTION OF BLEACHERS FINISHED THIS WEEK

Graduate Manager Albert Knudson put a dozen men to work Wednesday afternoon putting up the knock-down bleachers on the west side of the gridiron on MacLean field which are to accommodate Idaho students and faculty for the College of Idaho game Saturday and the subsequent games on the local field.

These bleachers will give the freshmen a little less space for football practice as they occupy one side of the frosh part of the field, but there is no other place available for the bleachers.

THOMSON VISITS BOISE

Dean Thomson returned at the end of the week from a flying trip to Boise where he was required to give expert testimony in federal court. He left Wednesday morning and returned Friday noon which sets a record for a trip to southern Idaho. Mr. Thomson made the trip by train.

STUDENT SEATING

The knock-down bleachers on the west side of MacLean field have been reserved for students. The permanent bleachers on the east side of the field will be used for townspeople.

FROSH SQUAD TAKES HARD WORK TUESDAY

FIRST STRING SCRIMMAGE WITH VARSITY TEAM

Moscow High Scrimmages With Other Frosh Lineup—Show Strong In Defense

Freshman gridders of the University of Idaho went through some hard scrimmage practice Tuesday afternoon when one squad played the varsity and another mixed it with the husky Moscow high school eleven on MacLean field.

The frosh were somewhat erratic and displayed a lack of smoothness which experience only will give them. Some of the varsity's plays were spilled nicely while others went for long runs.

ONE GAME POOR

Against the high school the other squad played a ragged game, marked by fumbles, failure to follow signals and poor interference. On defense the frosh usually stopped the high school smashes before they were able to cross the line of scrimmage, which augurs well for a strong defense.

Coach MacMillan expects to have the first squad picked by the time the six weeks grades are in, and urges all players to hold their scholastic standing high to prevent possible ineligibility due to failure in any subjects.

JUNIORS PLAN FOR ANNUAL PROM WEEK

Margaret Springer and Floyd Marchese were elected junior representatives to the student-faculty council at a meeting Thursday night. It was decided that the Saturday following spring vacation would be the date for the Junior Prom, and that the entire week would be known as Junior Prom week.

Derbies, as official headgear of the third-year class were definitely abandoned, by a unanimous motion that they shouldn't be worn. No definite action was taken on any other junior dress.

POINT SYSTEM REVISED FOR WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

The Women's Athletic association has appointed Pauline Ponce, Margaret Carter and Jane Gibbs, as a committee to revise the point system for women athletes. This committee will endeavor to arrange a point system which will meet approval. With the cooperation of Miss Wirt, head of the women's physical education department, it is hoped that something suitable can be arranged.

VANDALS START YEAR WITH GAME SATURDAY

COACH MATHEWS MAKES NO DEFINITE LINEUP

Varner Watches Squad In Action—Says Men Are In Excellent Condition

Coast conference critics will be watching with interest to-morrow's home game with the College of Idaho, the first of the season for the Idaho gridders. Idaho is as yet a comparatively unknown quantity in the coast race and the pre-season dope has the Vandals listed as the leading "dark horse." The College of Idaho has brought a creditable team to Moscow and with the Vandals far from tip-top shape should be able to make a good showing against the university team.

The game tomorrow will be the second between teams representing the two schools. A game played at Caldwell in 1909 went to the Vandals, 24 to 0.

HAS GOOD TEAM

The College of Idaho has been a consistent championship winner in the junior college conference of southern Idaho and tomorrow's game, being their long-sought chance at an Idaho varsity team, will find them all pointed and primed to cut loose in full force.

The Idaho lineup is pretty much in doubt and the advance announcement by Coach Mathews does not clear up the matter very much. Mathews has announced the following list of possibilities.

WHO MAY PLAY

One of the interesting bits of criticism of the Vandal team appeared in the Spokane Chronicle Wednesday evening. It is an article written by George Varnell, leading sporting critic of the northwest, after seeing the Varsity work out on MacLean field the preceding evening. Varnell has been writing a series of stories on Western football teams, all gained from personal observations, and the account of his impressions of the Gem Staters were highly complimentary.

VARNELL PRAISES VANDALS

Some of his statements are given below, and show just what is thought of Idaho's chances in the Coast conference, and how the team will stack up with other elevens in the west.

"Probably Idaho will not win all the games on its schedule. The team may win only a few of its hardest games, but the team that faces Idaho on the gridiron this fall will find itself pitted against a hard-fighting,

First Frosh Pep Rally to Demonstrate How It's Done

To-night the freshmen "bust loose" with a real pep rally and parade that is the first of its kind in the history of the University of Idaho. There have been rallies put on by upper-classmen assisted by the younger students, but this one is entirely in the hands of the wearers of the green, and promises to be a real rip snorter. "Powder river, let'er buck" hearses and wild midnight parading. Not exactly midnight parading, because the parade begins promptly at 7.15 p. m. Every freshman, the feminine forces included, will be out in the great procession with weird paraphernalia to show the rest of the school what a real pep rally is like.

From now on it will be a feature of the year's first game, and a tradition. Mystery surrounds with thick secrecy all the exact information regarding the details as the class has decided upon them, but occasional rumors indicated that exciting action is in progress.

Yell King Turner, who passed upon the advisability of all plans which were offered, has stated that he believes that the first year minds, fresh and unsophisticated with college wisdom, untrammelled by the watchful upperclassmen as yet, will be able to produce a classic example of the thing as it should be done. Also, that since the tradition has been put in motion, that they will be able to continue doing so.

Everett Erickson is chairman of the committee on arrangements and Walter Tucker, president of the class, is also helping to put it across with the rest of the university.

Juniors Show Terror at Prospect of Derby Hats

The juniors are purists. To a man they have given derby hats the razz and followed the standards of Mr. Heywood Brown of New York who calls them the skypiece of serility.

Nobody knows what made the juniors give the derby the "haw haw" but it is certain that they have no desire to regard it as the emblem of liberty. It is reported upon good authority that any member of the class who essays one will be ducked in the fountain at dawn, or possibly without waiting for sunrise.

The question arose out of the demand that the junior class adopt some distinctive kind of dress other than the corduroys. Some intrepid member suggested the time tried derby which was cast forth even from lower New York, where it graced the heads of the old confidence men who peddled gold bricks for a living.

Campus opinion is divided regarding the wisdom of the action of juniors, who are unmoved. They contend that they are the ones who would have been forced to invest five dollars in a hat now worn exclusively by the Beau Brummels and taxi cab drivers and hat advertisements. Also, they would have had to wear them.

Probably the decision marks a hopeful sign in the budding wisdom of our third year students. Such wisdom is what those three years of university have given them.

ASSEMBLY CAMPAIGN

Some five hundred freshmen who are not familiar with our traditions have come into the university. The yearly campaign to induce them to take seats in front of the auditorium has again started.

Now is a ripe time to put into effect a plan of seating by classes, in order that in the future this confusion may be avoided. If a ruling is adopted for the seating, assemblies may assume a little more of the dignified air that is necessary and become less like cattle stampedes.

It has been said repeatedly that it is extreme discourtesy to greet speakers with rows of empty seats in the front. It looks as though the student body is getting ready for a quick getaway. Yet, since no definite action has been taken, each succeeding group of underclassmen must be nagged at about it.

Until definite measures are adopted for producing order, upperclassmen, both by example and by watching underclassmen, can aid a great deal in giving assemblies a more ordered appearance.

The dignity of the University of Idaho requires that in the very near future a plan of seating by classes be adopted. An assembly is a serious occasion and should be an indication of the student body's respect for the university.

OUR PEP BAND

The Pep Band, working hard and building up its usefulness, has done a great deal toward making the University of Idaho known throughout the northwest.

It isn't such an easy job they have on their hands. They practice day in and day out to perfect their music, then play at the games and meets to keep the spirit of the student body going. They furnish the snap that bolsters up pep in a losing fight and puts a proud swing to our stride when we are winning.

Lively music always keys up the crowd, and helps them to be a live wire unit. Their work on the whole is one that signifies a unity of support behind all of our university activities.

They do their best, and it means a great deal to Idaho.

FROSH SPIRIT

The freshmen, in starting the tradition of their rally and parade, are doing something really worth while for the university, and the student body is solidly behind them. It may not seem to be important in the long run, but when you consider, they are laying the foundation for organized spirit and backing.

It is the spirit of the thing that counts. They are keeping up the drive that unifies the Idaho student body.

There is something peculiar about mass psychology. The feeling that arises in a rally of this kind somehow brings the undergraduate closer to his college, and gives him a warm glow of pride. He comes immediately to believe, and work for its betterment. It is the whole-hearted backing that makes for better achievement.

Somehow it lets the upperclassmen know that the freshmen are Idaho men, and a real unit in her life. They are doing their part, they stand ready to serve at any time, and they offer a real, red blooded support.

fast-thinking, well-developed eleven that will contest every inch of ground it loses, regardless of it being a light varsity aggregation for Pacific Coast conference competition. The team is well balanced and has no glaring weaknesses and in its team play it will have a strong asset. Thus did George Varnell, sports critic, referee of big football games on the coast, voice the impressions of the University of Idaho squad which he gained while standing on the sidelines at a regular practice recently.

The workout ended with a peppy scrimmage between the varsity and the freshman team, which gave Varnell to study the team play and tactics of the Idaho eleven.

TEAM IS LIGHT

"The University of Idaho team for this season will be light in comparison with the other Pacific Coast conference lineup," Varnell continued.

Among the many other features of the workout that made an impression on the veteran referee was the morale of the Vandal squad as apparent from the way the players tore into their work and pulled together in a spirit of cooperation and unison of purpose. He walked through the varsity dressing room after the practice ended and found the men singing, laughing, and joking and bursting with pep even after such a long, hard workout.

SQUAD WELL DEVELOPED

"One thing the Idaho line showed proves that Coach Mathews has his aggregation well advanced in its practice work and practically ready for the opening of its schedule, and that was charge. The Vandal forwards had dash and drive in their charge and that is going to be a wonderful asset to the team. Not occasionally but on every defensive play, the Idaho linemen crossed the neutral zone like they were on springs and were back behind the frosh line to break up plays before they could get underway.

"A low, fast charging line is a matter of football religion with Coach Mathews, and he appears to have accomplished his objective with his Idaho forwards this fall."

NEW FOOTBALL HISTORY

While in Moscow Varnell took occasion to comment on coast football prospects in general. He expressed the opinion that gridiron fans should witness some history-making contests this season, contending that the weaker teams of last season are showing considerable increase of strength and that there is at this time no really weak club in sight.

All three California institutions should have strong elevens, he assured the northern football followers. In the upper half of the circuit there appears to be much work ahead of the coaches. Washington State, Oregon and Washington, all with good prospects ahead, have yet to get their elevens to tip-top shape, while the Oregon Aggies and Idaho already appear quite formidable to Varnell's eye.

He declined to make any championship predictions but it is believed that he favors California to take the pennant again, despite the loss of nearly all the great players who were on the Bear "wonder team" of the last three seasons.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL MAN BARRED BY INJURY

Hector Zoring, a candidate for the freshman football squad, received a broken arm in scrimmage Wednesday afternoon.

He was cared for at the office of Dr. H. J. Einhouse where both bones were found to be fractured slightly below the elbow. He will be out of the running the remainder of the season.

Albert S. "Danny" Daniels, who was graduated from the school of forestry in 1923 is now in Texarkana, Texas in the position of chemist and technical adviser for the National Lumber and Creosoting co. He writes that he will be glad to see anyone from the university any time they are in Texas.

Miss La Dessa Hall has accepted a position for this year as professor of business in the Alaska Territorial college at Fairbanks, Alaska. Miss Hall is a native of Moscow and graduated from the university in 1920 with high honors. She taught in the Boise high school for the past two years.

Bryan Bundy, who graduated from the university college of agriculture with the class of '23 is now farming at Culesac, Idaho.

Dan Prescott, one of the well known members of the class of '23 is putting his engineering education to practical use with the Commonwealth Steel company of Granite City, Ill.

John L. "Shad" Hodgins, ex '19 is assisting his father who is an attorney in Twin Falls. In his spare time, he writes up sports for the Twin Falls News.

Adna M. Boyd, ex '18, who for the past three years has been connected with the Haack Prescription company of Portland, Oregon, as a pharmacist, has entered the Portland Medical college to obtain his M. D. degree.

George Smolak and Philip J. Shenon are engaged in investigation of the dry silver ores of southern Idaho under the supervision of the school of mines.

Mr. Smolak will be remembered as a graduate of the University of Idaho of the class of '22. Mr. Shenon is a graduate of the University of California.

OFFICIAL OF CYPRUS WRITES DEAN MILLER

FORESTRY OFFICIAL OF ISLAND
HEARS OF IDAHO

Several Communications Received By School In Regard To Correspondence Courses

From a government official in the Island of Cyprus, the school of forestry of the university has received its most recent inquiry relative to its correspondence course in forestry, which, so far as is known here, is the only course of the kind offered in the United States.

The letter was written by Constant J. Antoniadis, officer in charge of the Paphos Forests, on the southwest coast of Cyprus. He says he has been in correspondence with the United States forestry department with reference to correspondence instruction in forestry and has been referred to the University of Idaho. He requests information regarding the ground covered, the length of the course and the fees payable.

SEVERAL COMMUNICATIONS

Mr. Antoniadis' letter is one of several received from foreign countries in regard to such correspondence study of forestry.

Dean F. G. Miller of the forestry school explained that the work includes two courses, "Our Trees and How to Know Them" and "Lumber and Its Uses." The latter was started in January, 1913, and since its establishment has enrolled more than 300 students. Those taking the correspondence courses are chiefly out-of-state students, though many from the state of Idaho who have been unable to enroll for the four-year or the ranger course have taken advantage of the opportunity afforded.

"Our Trees and How to Know Them," taking up the kinds of trees in North America, was published and included in the course last fall.

VANDAL FOOTBALL STARS
'SHOW GOOD SCHOLARSHIP

Records show that the University of Idaho football squad which started training for the 1923 season did not contain a man ineligible on account of scholastic standing last year. This applies both to candidates from the 1922 freshman team and to those of last season's squad eligible to further competition.

Several of the freshmen last year fell down on grades but were prevented by other reasons from coming back this fall. Even had they met the scholastic requirements they probably would not have returned.

This clean-cut scholarship record is outstanding on the coast and it is believed that Idaho is one of the two institutions, if not the only one, able to point to such a showing. Other schools have lost several valuable men on account of scholarship slumps.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE TO REVISE CONSTITUTION

The Women's league held its first meeting of the year last Tuesday afternoon, with a full house. Florence Graves, president, called the meeting to order and gave a short speech of welcome. The last term's minutes were read and approved, and the president introduced the new assistant dean of women, Mrs. Bloomquist. In her talk to the girls, Mrs. Bloomquist keenly urged the right vocational training, and stressed the fact that it was better to consider one's regard for her work as well as her capability before attempting her major course.

The only standing committee appointed was the social committee with Myra Arbustor as chairman. A unanimous vote was given Denise Ebbly as song leader, and Maude Carland was elected correspondent to the exchange bureau. A motion to revise the constitution was passed, and the booklets containing the constitution, and the council, and league, constitutions will be issued to all the girls as soon as they are printed.

Muckers Make Plans for Smudge

Plans for the annual Muckers' smudge were discussed at the meeting held by the Muckers in the Metallurgical laboratory Tuesday night at 6:30. Tentative plans for the Muckers dance were also talked over. Dean Thomson addressed the meeting on the relation of the school of mines to the student body and urged a spirit of friendliness and co-operation with the other schools.

Fred McGonigle of Spokane was elected vice-president to take the place of Herbert Pollard who did not return to school this year. Dinner was served after which the regular initiation was held. "Dad Hausen, who had managed to escape the ordeal for the past two years was forced to undergo initiation with 16 new frosh. Lots of pep and enthusiasm was shown by those present and the Muckers are looking forward to a successful year. The Smudge promises to be an unusually interesting affair.

It was decided to extend an invitation to students in the college of letters and science, who are majoring in geology, to join the Miners' organization. Heretofore only those registered in the school of mines have been eligible to join.

Mining Man Visits University

Dr. D. A. Lyon of Washington, D. C. assistant director of the United States bureau of mines, and C. Ralston, superintendent of the Berkeley, Calif., station of the bureau, visited the University of Idaho recently for conferences with Dean F. A. Thomson and other officials of the school of mines and state bureau of mines and geology.

Dr. Lyon expressed himself as much pleased with the research work in metallurgy being carried on at the university in cooperation with the federal bureau. From Moscow Dr. Lyon and Mr. Ralston, in company with A. W. Fahrenwald, federal bureau representative at Moscow, proceeded to Kellogg for an inspection of work being carried on at the Bunker Hill mill.

JOSEPH HENRY
1797-1878

Born at Albany, N. Y., where he became teacher of mathematics and physics in Albany Academy. Leading American physicist of his time. First director of the Smithsonian Institution.

When Henry
rang the bell

If any bell was ever heard around the world, Joseph Henry rang it in his famous experiment at the Albany Academy. The amazing development of the electrical industry traces back to this schoolmaster's coil of insulated wire and his electro-magnet that lifted a ton of iron.

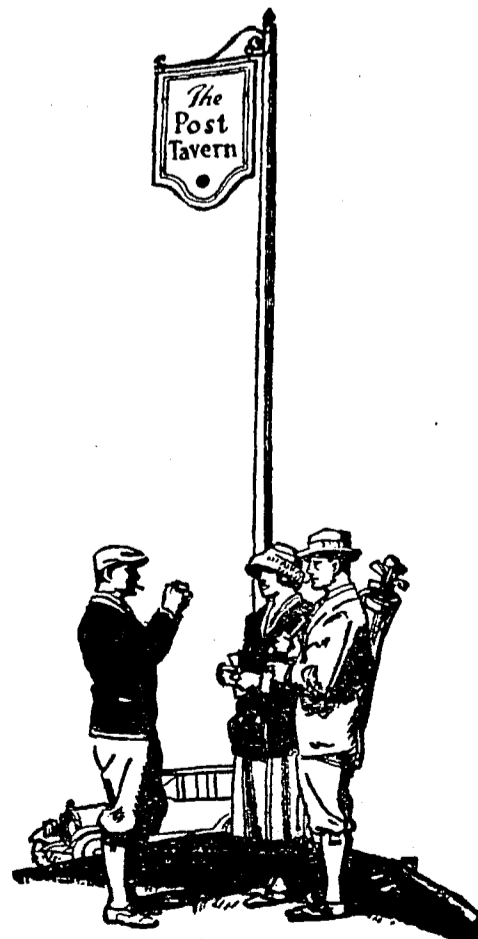

Four years later when Morse used Henry's electro-magnet to invent the telegraph, Henry congratulated him warmly and unselfishly.

The principle of Henry's coil of wire is utilized by the General Electric Company in motors and generators that light cities, drive railroad trains, do away with household drudgery and perform the work of millions of men.

The work that was begun by pioneers like Joseph Henry is being carried on by the scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. They are constantly searching for fundamental principles in order that electricity may be of greater service to mankind.

STUDENT BODY LAYS PLANS FOR NEW YEAR

FIRST MEETING USED FOR GENERAL DISCUSSION

A. S. U. I. Joins Organizations In Asking Southern Idaho People To W. S. C. Game

The first A. S. U. I. meeting of the year was held Wednesday morning, Talbot Jennings presiding. Announcement was made of several issues of general student interest which will be taken up at the next meeting. These issues include the continuation of the honor system at the university as a tradition instead of as a written code, athletic awards for women, arrangement of seating in assembly by classes, and the recodification of the A. S. U. I. constitution.

Ted Turner, yell king, led the student body in "Old Idaho" and announcement was made of the yell rally for Wednesday afternoon.

INVITE BUSINESS MEN

A motion was made by Joel Priest to the effect that the A. S. U. I. extend an invitation to the business organizations of southern Idaho to be the guests of the university students for the W. S. C. Idaho game, Oct. 19. The motion was passed and the invitations were extended supplementary to the invitations sent by the Moscow Chamber of Commerce to the Chamber of Commerce of Boise and by the Moscow Rotary club to the Rotarians of southern Idaho. Telegrams were sent by Agnes Cox, A. S. U. I. secretary to the Chamber of Commerce organizations of Boise, Nampa, Caldwell, Payette, Weiser, and Parma and to the University club of Boise.

Ted Turner, of the public events committee, announced the artists' course which will be presented at the university. Dean F. A. Thomson, chairman of the public events committee, spoke to the women of the university, appealing to their loyalty for independence in regard to the purchase of tickets for the artists' course. "We are not trying to disorganize the prevalent tendency of the students to 'pair off' by this suggestion; we are rather promoting this tendency," said Dean Thomson.

GAHAN ELECTED HEAD INTER GROUP COUNCIL

George Gahan, of Boise, was elected president of the Inter-fraternity council of the University of Idaho for the coming year at a meeting held Wednesday. Gahan served as vice-president of the council last year. He is a senior in the college of letters and science.

Paul Harlan, of Jackson, Ten., was made vice president. Harold Cornelson, of Moscow, was elected secretary and Ray Allumbaugh, of Boise, treasurer.

Regulations governing fraternity rushings were discussed. The president was authorized to appoint a committee to draw up rules on rushing to be submitted for action by the council and various fraternities.

ENGLISH CLUB MEETS TO ELECT OFFICERS

Pearl Stalker Elected President of Organization For Coming Year

Pearl Stalker of Boise was elected to head the English club for the present year at a meeting of the club held Wednesday night in the U hut. Miss Stalker has been actively interested in almost every phase of the club's work and a successful year is assured under her leadership. Other officers elected were Louisa Martin of Moscow, vice-president, and Mary Isabelle Vassar of Lewiston, secretary-treasurer.

A business meeting followed the election of officers. Probably the most important development of the meeting was the decision to continue "The Blue Bucket" as a literary publication. There was much discussion in regard to changing it to a humorous magazine but the decision to continue its literary character was thought to be the only practical method due to lack of humorous material of merit. When humorous work of quality is available it is always acceptable and desired by the editors.

NEW LIBRARY DEPARTMENT

Action was also taken toward the establishing of a "Fiction Shop" in the university library. It was decided to place there immediately approximately twelve volumes of current worth-while fiction and to add four or five volumes each week. This shop is to be financed by the English club but the books are available to the entire student body.

A committee on membership was appointed with authority to raise the standard of the membership requirements, it being the opinion of the club that there should be a closer restriction of membership to those actually interested in the work that the club is trying to do for the university.

FORESTRY DANCE TO BE NOVEL AFFAIR

Decorations And Programs To Vary From Ordinary-Ranger's Cabin Built

Elaborate decorations and splendid music promise to make the Forester's Ball, Saturday evening, one of the most unique and entertaining dances of the college year. The dance will be informal rather than a hard time affair.

Lines of trees and evergreen branches will change the gymnasium into a forest where autumn colors will prevail. A miniature ranger's cabin will lead the way into the dance hall, where punch will flow freely all evening from a tiny spring. The music will be furnished by Thone Roos's five who will be partially concealed in the forest.

UNIQUE PROGRAMS

The programs will be different from the ordinary and will commence with a clever verse conforming with the idea used in the decorations. There will be sixteen dances and four extras. A poem called "Saw-milling in Prosperous Times" will be woven in between the dances and the twelfth will be the Forester's special.

"The committee on arrangements," said Art Sowder Wednesday, "assures the student body that everything has been done to make the first all-college dance of the year a success."

Patrons and patronesses for the affair will be President and Mrs. A. H. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Parsons, Dean Permeal Jane French, Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmitz, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Behre, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Watson, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry I. Nettleton.

DUNN CHOSEN HEAD OF WASHINGTON CLUB

George Dunn, of Spokane, was chosen as president of the Washington club, at a meeting of that organization held Tuesday night. He succeeds Charles Preuss, who was the head of the club last year. Other officers elected were Charles Mount vice-president; Phyllis Schalkle, secretary; and Hazel Jones, treasurer. All of the newly elected officers are from Spokane.

A considerable growth has been noted this year in the number of Washingtonians attending the university. The exact number has not been ascertained but it is thought there will be approximately 115 members of the club. Plans were discussed concerning the Washington club dance, which is an annual affair. The next meeting of the organization will be in the form of a social gathering, to be held at the S. A. E. house, one week from next Tuesday.

in the college. The junior common room is the gathering place for the men and much time is spent there reading the newspapers or talking over after-dinner coffee."

In concluding, Professor Sandellius said, "A student may choose his own reading; he may go to lectures or not. He can read with a practical or cultural aim in view. Oxford can give to the student whatever he will take out."

LARGE NUMBER OUT FOR CROSS COUNTRY

Cross country men, under the leadership of Lewis Williams, cross country letterman of last year, are fast rounding into shape for the coming meets. No definite dates have been set as yet for any of the meets, but from all indications the local runners will make a good showing for their alma mater.

The nucleus of this year's team being built around men of experience, the foundation for the team
