

STUDENT MUSICIANS SEE QUAKE HORROR

University Men Miss Tokyo Inferno by Twenty-Four Hours

DISASTER DESCRIBED

Al Marineau, Doy McKinley, Steamship Jazz Banders, Return From Orient

Vivid stories of the horrible Japanese earthquakes in which hundreds of thousands of persons perished, are told by Al Marineau and Doy McKinley, university students, who are back on the Idaho campus after spending two months in the orient as members of The Collegiate Serenaders, a five piece dance band. The boys were booked on the S. S. President Madison and also played numerous engagements at hotels and amusement resorts in China and Japan.

"Twenty-four hours before the quake we played in the Grand hotel in Yokohama, which is now nothing more than a huge pile of debris," Marineau said. "We were in Kobs when we heard of the catastrophe but we did not realize its extent until we returned to Yokohama several days later.

"The first reports received were to the effect that approximately 700 persons had been killed in a quake in Yokohama. This is not an unusual occurrence there and the news failed to create much of a sensation. YOKAHOMA IN RUINS

"Upon our return to Yokohama we found that the only streets in the city which had about 300,000 population before the quake, were several paths among the piles of stone. Death was everywhere and the bay was veritably dotted with floating bodies."

According to the two student musicians, scores perished in the bay when, after swimming out to Japanese navy vessels, anchored in the harbor, they were refused permission to board the warships, naval officers holding that they had no authority to take on passengers without specific orders."

The members of the orchestra left Seattle September 18. Others in the band were Mahlon Merrick, drummer, a student at Washington State College; Volney Shepard, pianist, also of W. S. C., and Ernest Reed of Twin Falls, who attended W. S. C. last year but who is expected to attend college at the University of Idaho this year.

FIRST TO BROADCAST

While appearing in Shanghai, China, the musicians enjoyed the distinction of being the first orchestra to broadcast over the radio in the orient. They were announced as "The College Serenaders from the University of Idaho" and were offered as part of a program sent out from the Shanghai Evening News radio rooms.

In Shanghai the musicians met Frank Blackinger a former University of Idaho student, who has been playing in the orient for the past three years and is now with the orchestra in the Parisian ballroom.

McKinley and Marineau are both members of the University Pep band, the latter being leader of that organization this year.

REMSBERG INITIATED TO ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Honorary Business Fraternity To Announce Winner of Cup Which They Offered

Alpha Kappa Psi, men's honorary fraternity under the business curriculum, initiated Phil Remsburg at the first meeting of the semester held Thursday night. Remsburg was a member of the local, Alpha Sigma Gamma, which received its charter from the national group last year, but he was not in college at the time.

The organization, which each year gives a cup to the sophomore in business who makes the highest average for the two semesters compiled the averages made last year, and in the near future will announce the winner of the award.

TAG DAY FOR "GEM" IS NOT BIG SUCCESS

Only 360 Annuals Sold -- Will Have New Drive In Near Future

The tag sale for The Gem of the Mountains, held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week resulted in only 360 sales according to Merle Drake, business manager of the 1924 annual. Mr. Drake characterized the sale as disappointing, as he had expected to sell at least 800 tags. Another tag day will be held in the near future.

The business management of the staff will have office hours in the U hut on Tuesdays and Thursdays during the third period, Mr. Drake announced. Tags may be purchased any time at these hours.

Since this year's Gem of the Mountains is to be an A. S. U. I. production it will take the united efforts of the four classes to put out a good year book. Peter Drus, the editor, has not yet chosen his staff but he hopes to be able to make appointments soon.

MOSCOW BUSINESSES CLOSE DURING GAME

UNIVERSITY THANKS MOSCOW MEN FOR SUPPORT GIVEN TEAM

Local Merchants Show Loyal Spirit Of Co-operation in Backing Idaho 100 percent

"Come fellows now and join the chorus; Together every Idaho man, With Gold and Silver waving o'er us, Victorious since our course began; Behind our team we'll stand united, Behind Montana's goal line too, And well her sons may get excited, Today's her Waterloo."

When the Vandals swing out on the field shortly before 2:30 Friday afternoon, with the Pep band playing and the crowds cheering and singing, every man on the varsity squad will realize that the entire city of Moscow is behind them.

All Moscow will close Friday afternoon from 2:15 to 4:15. The original closing time was fixed at from 2:15 to 4 o'clock but inasmuch as a majority of the Moscow business men expressed a preference for 4:15 it has been generally agreed that the closing time will be from 2:15 to 4:15. FINE COOPERATION SHOWN

University of Idaho students know that Moscow business men are behind university activities and the undergraduates now realize what the support, friendliness and cooperation of Moscow people has meant in the past and will mean in the future.

Members of the Moscow chamber of commerce committee, made up of Ray Carter, F. A. Bettis, and Clayton Keane, were assisted by a committee from the university students, the members of which were "Babe" Brown, "Dusty" Kline, both football lettermen, and Joel L. Priest, Jr. The committee members were cordially received by the business and professional men and a 100 per cent closing agreement was obtained. TEAM APPRECIATES SUPPORT

When the team clashes with the husky Montana Bruins Friday afternoon the members of the team will know that Moscow people are rooting for their success just as wholeheartedly as the university students. University students are appreciative of this expression of unqualified support from the Moscow people.

Idaho teams have been successful in competition with teams representing larger institutions and a good share of Idaho's success has been attributed to the morale of the Idaho men. Idaho's morale has been built up and bolstered by Moscow people and university students, fighting with the team from the sidelines. UNIVERSITY THANKS MOSCOW

All university students, members of the faculty, and football players have expressed appreciation of the continuing evidence of Moscow's support. Following are the names of business houses and professional men who close for the Montana game:

DILL GIVES TALK TO STUDENT BODY

IS SPEAKER AT SPECIAL COLUMBUS DAY ASSEMBLY

Courage And Imagination Greatest Factors Of Success In Every Enterprise

United States Senator C. C. Dill of Spokane was the principal speaker at the special Columbus Day exercises held at the University this morning under the auspices of the associated students.

Senator Dill chose as the subject of his talk the two eminent characteristics of Columbus, his fluent imagination and his indomitable courage, pointing out that he had conceived and proposed to exploit a new route to an old world, and discovered thereby a new world.

YOUNG PEOPLE WIN
"It is the young man and the young woman of today who develops new ways of doing old things, evolves easier and more efficient methods of performing old tasks, that inadvertently discovers new processes and opens up new fields of endeavor."

One of the greatest assets toward building up a race of men able to lead the world in productivity and thought is health, the Senator stated. "While we are young, and while our bodies can be made into whatever we please, is the time to lay the foundation for future activity," he said.

Senator Dill was introduced by Representative Burton L. French, of Moscow, with whom he was formerly associated in Congress. Senator Dill was much interested in the football game scheduled here for this afternoon, which he will attend.

OLD CORNCOB WOOS YEARLING SMOKERS

Corn cob pipes are the only form of smoking to be allowed the freshmen on the campus hereafter, and an "I" club court meeting in the gymnasium at 11 o'clock every Saturday morning will take care of all offenders against this rule or any other of the Idaho traditions.

Elva "Bung" Snow was elected president of the "I" club. Errol "Shorty" Hillman was elected secretary-treasurer, Frank Kinnison vice-president and Syb Kleffner sergeant at arms, at a meeting of the lettermen Wednesday night at the S. A. E. house, when the decisions were reached regarding enforcement of frosh traditions.

Under the old plan, according to members of the "I" club, offenders often were not punished. One or two lettermen meeting a man infringing established customs frequently let him go free since it was difficult and troublesome to deal out justice on the spot.

By the new plan the "I" men merely take the names of offenders and order them to report to the gym at 11 a. m. Saturday, when a meeting of the club will consider their cases. This applies to the wearing of the green caps, which must be displayed at all times on the campus by freshmen except after 6 p. m. Sundays and holidays. All traditions and all generally accepted rules of campus behavior must now be strictly observed.

Outlook Good For Repetition of Last Year's Success For 1924

Last year was the first tour to be made by the girls' glee club, although the men have been making their annual trip for some time. The trip made by the girls last spring was successful. Favorable press comments followed it, and its home concerts were well received.

FOOTBALL SPECIAL DRIVE WILL START

A special train from Boise, for the annual W. S. C.-Idaho game, is being planned. A story, taken from the Boise Statesman, gives the following information in regard to the train:

"With departure of the Boise special for the annual Idaho-Washington football game only two weeks away, alumni in charge of rounding up the Boise contingent said Tuesday night that reservations are coming in slowly. It is expected, however, that with an intensive drive in the next few days, it will be possible to get a full quota from the southern part of the state.

"Fare and a third will be charged for the round trip. The train will leave Boise Thursday afternoon, Oct. 18, and will arrive in Pullman about Friday noon. It will remain there until after the big game and will then proceed to Moscow where entertainment for the alumni has been planned for Friday evening and Saturday. The special will leave Moscow for Boise Saturday night and is expected to arrive here Sunday afternoon.

Reservations for the trip may be made by calling either the chamber of commerce offices or Howard Stein.

Dean Thomson and Dr. F. B. Laney are spending the week-end in Adams county doing professional work. They went by train to Weiser and from there to Council by automobile.

INTERMURAL FOOTBALL ABANDONED THIS YEAR

Many Injuries Last Year Due To Poor Condition Of Players

Intra-mural football has been definitely abandoned for this year because of the large number of injuries received by poorly conditioned players last fall.

Heretofore there has been keen rivalry between the members of the intra-mural association in different lines of sport, but elimination of football this year will delay starting of the 1923-24 schedule until the basketball season opens in midwinter.

A meeting of representatives of all the group houses and dormitories will be held soon to arrange schedules and definitely announce awards for the different lines of intra-mural sport, basketball, tennis, baseball, and track. Athletic director Bob Mathews stated that the award will be similar to that of last year which was a loving cup.

PERSONALITY SUBJECT OF DR. BARTON'S TALK

OLD THEORIES OF "WILL" AND "MIND" SEVERELY CRITICISED

Head of Psychology Department Says Heredity and Environment Mold All Personality

Defending modern behavioristic psychology and using caustic remarks about its enemies, Dr. J. Wesley Barton, head of the department of psychology at the University of Idaho, addressed the assembly of students Wednesday on "Human Personality". "Our findings in this line are of recent origin only. We are discovering things about the human machinery that we have never known, and would have been laughed at by the old school.

"Such terms as free will to choose our actions, mind, spirit and soul are generalities that could not be studied and they once made psychology worse than a joke. But now psychology is just emerging from the clouds, so that we can study definite phases of it."

PERSONALITIES CHANGE DAILY
Dr. Barton explained that people act in response to stimulation, that they receive from their senses, as of sight or touch, and decide not according to the dictates of a divine will within them but according to what their personalities are from heredity and environment. Our personalities, he said, are changing daily as we have new experiences, and human reaction to things perceived are in accordance with the character of the individual.

Instead of five senses, said Dr. Barton, the body has over eleven thousand, and the responding of the muscles to stimuli received is exceedingly complex.

Certain endocrine glands such as the thyroid located in the neck, according to his speech, are thought to be big factors in shaping our temperaments, by chemicals which they secrete and then turn back into the blood.

MOST VITAL SCIENCE

"Physicists can not tell us exactly what force is, although they can break it up into molecules, nor can chemists tell us what matter is after they have broken it up into electrons. They think that probably they are all differently arranged electrical charges, but the are not sure. Is that any reason not to keep on studying them, or for not using what they do know? Then why should they condemn psychology because, although it can tell you how you work it, it can not tell just why it happens the way it does. It is a new science in its infancy, but the investigators are on the right track and are studying the most vital science in the world.

"We know what cement is used for, but we know little of our fellow men, even though we can't help being in constant and familiar connection with them.

FINDINGS OF VALUE

"No wonder Oxford and old English colleges were ridiculing the old psychology that taught that we acted with the dictates of such a thing as independent will power, and that such terms as soul and mind covered up the things that we were ignorant of. We are advancing in our study of personality and behavior, and our findings are of value."

Dr. Barton has just returned from Peabody College in Tennessee, where he has been doing psychological research. He received while there the degree of doctor of philosophy, the highest scholastic degree obtainable.

BATTLE ON TODAY IDAHO AND MONTANA

Vandal Team Prepared To Put up Snappy Fight This Afternoon

BRUINS HEAVY TEAM

Coach Mathews' Aggregation Handcapped With Four First String Men Out

The University of Montana Bruins arrived in Moscow yesterday noon in time for a workout on MacLean field preparatory to their game here this afternoon with the Idaho Vandals in the first conference clash for either of the two teams.

The Montanans, in Moscow for the opening game, are some twenty men strong. Under the tutelage of Coach "Jim" Stewart, they are reported to be the strongest aggregation which has been turned out of the Missoula institution in recent years, and Idaho fans are promised a good brand of football this afternoon when the two teams line up for the whistle at 2:30. MONTANA IS HEAVIEST

The Montana team will outweigh the Vandals on the line, while the backfield appears to be of about equal weight. When interviewed by an Argonaut representative last evening, Coach Stewart stated that the team which he would send against the Vandals this afternoon would weigh in an average of about 175 pounds, while the Idaho team will balance around 168 pounds according to compiled figures.

Just what Idaho's chances are in the opening conference game, cannot be hazarded. The Silver and Gold squad has bumped against a streak of bad luck during the past ten days, and four of the first string men are suffering from injuries which are likely to keep them out of the Montana game. "Skip" Stivers, brilliant quarterback, suffered painful injuries in practice during the week and is not likely to start the game, while Wayne Davis, halfback, will likely be out for similar reasons.

KINNISON STILL OUT

Frank Kinnison is not yet in condition to enter the game after receiving a severe strain to his shoulder nearly two weeks ago, which practically disrupts the carefully developed Idaho backfield. Besides the injuries suffered by Vandal backfield men, Syb Kleffner, slated for end position, and who can be used with equal ease in the backfield, is suffering from practice injuries.

Today's game will be one of the biggest on the home schedule of the Vandals, and Moscow business men have consented to closing their establishments during the afternoon to attend the contest. Students will occupy the west-side bleachers, while the east slope grand stand will be reserved for townspeople and visitors. LINEUP INDEFINITE

The Idaho team which has been picked by Argonaut sporting scribes to start the game this afternoon reads something like this—Nelson and Reamer at end, Hausen and Quinn, tackles; Bucklin and Tapper, guards; Kline, center; Davidson, quarter, Fitzke and Disney, half-

COL. FRANK CHEATHAM TO INSPECT R. O. T. C.

Cadet Officers Try Various Positions Before Definite Appointments Are Made

Col. B. Frank Cheatham, general staff officer stationed in the ninth corps area, is expected to be in Moscow within the next week to inspect the Idaho R. O. T. C. regiment.

Work in the military department has been carried out rapidly this year, and although far from a finished organization the cadet unit has gone through two very creditable reviews in the past week.

Permanent appointments have not as yet been made to advanced course students, each man having been given an opportunity to demonstrate his ability in the various positions. This plan will be carried out for some time before assignment of officers for the semester is made.

COLUMBUS DAY

Today is especially significant to the American people. It was exactly 431 years ago that Columbus discovered the hemisphere that has produced the greatest nation of the world.

It is a fitting opportunity to turn back the pages of history, and again call to mind the stormy but rapid rise of the Americans. The pages are full of heroic deeds, sacrifices, and struggles. They record the greatest inventions that the world has ever known. The lives of many of the world's greatest statesmen are written thereon.

The progress of the world has been guided by the progress of America. Truly, the new world is worthy of its discoverer.

"OUR TRADITIONS"

Idaho's traditions, long allowed to slumber, have been revived, and will be enforced with a punch, as a result of a recent meeting of the "I" men.

This action has been much needed. Traditions are an integral part of university life, but traditions practically extinct are worse than none at all.

"FRIENDSHIP SPECIAL"

The special train that citizens of southern Idaho are boosting will prove of inestimable benefit to Moscow and the university. It will create a closer bond between north and south Idaho, and will offer an opportunity for the people of Boise and vicinity to see their university. It is aptly named a "friendship special."

DANCING RULES TO GOVERN W.S.C. HOPS

ASSOCIATED STUDENT COMMITTEE FORMS DEFINITE LAWS

Local Authority on Latest Approved Contortions Suggests Some Changes Be Made

The social committee of the Associated Students believes that the following suggestions would improve the standards of dancing at the State College. It is desirable that the students conform to these suggestions and give a boost to better dancing on the campus.

Correct Position

A. The man and his partner should stand facing each other, their faces turned in opposite directions. Their feet should be on the same line. Her hand should be placed against his arm or at the top of his arm, and his should be in the middle of her back.

B. Stand erect. An erect position will give the body graceful lines and will prevent cheek-to-cheek dancing.

Extreme Dancing

A. Good society avoids conspicuous dancing or steps that attract attention, does not permit exaggerated or sensational style of dancing. It is not the dance, but the way in which it is done that raises objection and criticism. —W. S. C. "Evergreen"

Having read the above rules suggested by the committee of dancing masters at W. S. C., a self appointed Idaho committee, at a recent meeting, has suggested the following amendments. Regarding rule "A" there is a splendid chance that while facing in opposite directions the two combatants may not be looking each other in the face, which might cause the pair to go their several ways. Such a happening would provide marvelous entertainment for those assembled, who might be disregarding the rules at that particular moment.

Rule A says their feet should be on the same line. Just picture the possibilities for some high class amusement if the girl should have a faster line.

Rule B says good society avoids conspicuous dancing or steps that attract attention, but if one goes to the Follies in New York City he will find the four hundred well represented, eagerly observing Gilda Gray putting on her conspicuous dances which even attract an undue amount of attention in New York. As for the hundred of New York has the reputation of being good society which sets the example for society of lesser magnitude, it seems Rule A is just a bit incongruous.

In order to be sure not to do any extreme dancing, stay as close to the center of the floor as possible. Do not go near the extreme ends of the arena.

Extreme dancing has not been absent from the Idaho campus this year, because so far it has been extremely difficult to dance extremely well on account of the extremely large crowds which have been inhabiting the gym whenever a dance has been staged. We will probably have extreme dancing until more spacious grounds are provided.

The Idaho committee of dancing masters has the following rules which will be put into effect, and these rules should cover any situation which may arise.

1. As soon as the judges and timekeepers are ready the combatants should grasp the ropes and briskly rub the soles of their shoes with resin, which will be provided, in order that they will be sure of avoiding any possible chance of losing their equilibrium, a most embarrassing thing.

Boxers often do this to keep from slipping or falling, although many times they slip, but not of their own accord.

2. As soon as the weights have been announced the participants square off, then come together, one arm extended, the other around the opponent's waist. The orchestra will then begin, after which the dancers will do likewise.

3. Should the man chance to tread upon his fair partner's foot, he will gracefully say, "Your pardon is granted, isn't the floor bumpy tonight?"

The girl will then sweetly say, "your error, the bumps are not on the floor. It's just the corns on my feet."

The male member of the team should reply, "that's what you get from wearing a number three shoe on a number seven foot." This will probably end the dance whereupon the man will tell the girl how wonderful the dance would have been, and then go for his next adversary.

4. Regarding debates as to whose dance this is. Should two of the boys have difficulty in deciding which shall have this dance, the biggest one should say, "I'll take this one, and if she hasn't the next one you probably have it, and if he has it you won't mind, you need a rest anyway."

This clever repartee is not very tactful, easy and graceful, but it is a source of amusement to bystanders, who often times win considerable money wagering on the outcome of the altercation.

With these rules and regulations carried out to the letter, the committee feels that all dances in the future will be delightfully devoid of petty transgressions and hard feelings, and a good time will be had by all.

LETTER OF IDAHO GRAD TELLS OF MEXICAN LIFE

Lynn Hersey, '23, Describes Opportunities Offered By Business Firms in Sonora

A letter received from Lynn Hersey '23, states that he is employed as a mining engineer at Pilares de Nacozari, Sonora, Mexico. He says that out of a population of 5000 there are only 35 white people, but that they make up in influence and authority for their lack of numbers.

Relations between the Mexicans and the Americans are much more cordial than at any time in the past, according to Mr. Hersey. The Mexican people are just beginning to realize what a wonderful help the Americans are to them, and are changing their attitude accordingly.

Opportunities for young men in all walks of life are almost unlimited, as Mexico's resources have as yet hardly been touched, and the development of the country is only beginning.

The big mining companies operating in Mexico are doing their utmost, says Mr. Hersey, to create positions for men in that line and make life very comfortable for them. He lives with about 16 other young mining men, all college graduates, in the manner of a fraternity house. Their quarters are the very best and are equipped with the most modern conveniences. They have tennis courts, pool tables and all sorts of equipment conducive to passing time in an enjoyable manner.

Considerable interest in the fortunes of the Idaho football team is manifest, according to the letter, and it seems that Idaho has her share of supporters.

MINING SCHOOL ENGINEER RETURNS FROM KELLOGG

A. W. Fahrenwald, ore-dressing engineer of the United States bureau of mines, with headquarters at the university, has returned from Kellogg where he has been supervising the installation of a new hydraulic classifier in the mills of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mining company. This classifier is the result of six months of co-operative work of the United States bureau of mines, the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mining company and the Idaho school of mines.

WRESTLING PROSPECTS GOOD AT WASHINGTON STATE

Washington State College, (P. I. N. S.) Though only one letter man remains from last year, Coach Whicker is optimistic about the coming season as a result of the first wrestling turn out Saturday. Regular turn outs will be held this fall and the men drilled in the fundamentals of the art so that they will be ready for real wrestling after the Christmas holidays.

GONZAGA SECOND STRING TO MEET FROSH OCT. 20

Yearlings' Record of Last Year Makes Difficulty in Finding Schedule Games

The Idaho freshmen will meet the Gonzaga second team on the local field on Oct. 20, instead of at Spokane as previously planned. This is good news to local football fans as the game should be a fast one.

No games have as yet been scheduled with high school teams for the second string frosh, but negotiations are under way for games with Lewiston and Clarkston.

Graduate Manager Albert Knudson is having difficulty in filling the freshman schedule due to the championship record of last year's team.

VICTORY FOR VANDALS PREDICTED BY VARNELL

Spokane Sporting Scribe Thinks Idaho Has Bruin Opponents Well Outpointed

George Varnell, Spokane sporting authority, on the night before the Idaho-Montana game, predicted a victory for Idaho.

Varnell says, "The University of Idaho football team will take on the University of Montana Bruins Friday at Moscow in the first Northwest conference battle of the 1923 season for either of the teams. Idaho will go into the game a favorite over the Missoula aggregation and Coach Mathews' gang figures to win by a comfortable margin.

Montana's showing against Mount St. Charles last Saturday was not impressive, while the Idaho game against the College of Idaho showed the Vandals to be stepping along in great early season form.

On the dope Montana figures to have a slight advantage in weight over Idaho for the Friday game, but the Moscow eleven is big enough to take care of itself under the slight weight handicap.

Idaho will have an advantage in the kicking department with Fitzke and Stivers. The game, originally scheduled for Saturday, was switched to Friday to give Coach Mathews and his players an opportunity to come to Spokane Saturday and watch the W. S. C.-Gonzaga game. The entire Idaho first string of players will be on hand here Saturday to watch W. S. C. in action, as the Vandals and Cougars will clash in their annual game Friday, October 19.

HIGH SCHOOL MEN PLAY IN MORNING

MOSCOW-KELLOGG FOOTBALL GAME SET FOR 9:30 SATURDAY ON FAIRGROUNDS FIELD

Moscow and Kellogg high school football teams play here Saturday morning at 9:30 on the Fairgrounds field instead of Saturday afternoon, as previously announced. The change of the game from the afternoon to the morning was made in order to give the Kellogg players an opportunity to see the Washington State College-Gonzaga university game in Spokane Saturday afternoon.

Coach Jacobsen of the Kellogg team will bring 17 players to Moscow Thursday night. The Kellogg players are making the trip in automobiles and will be in Moscow for the Idaho-Moscow game on MacLean field Friday afternoon.

Comrada Strengthens Team
Coach Comrada is busy strengthening weaknesses in offense and defense made apparent in Moscow's game against the heavy Lewis and Clark eleven. The Moscow coach will present a much lighter and possibly a more inexperienced team than the eleven representing the Kellogg high school.

Kellogg has one of the strongest teams in northern Idaho. Coeur d'Alene won an early season game from the Kellogg players, 21 to 6, but marked improvement has been made by Coach Jacobsen since that time.

Ticket Sale Success
The season ticket sale campaign of the Moscow high school is practically completed. The campaign has put Moscow high school football on the best financial basis in the past several years. Approximately $650 was raised by the sale of season tickets.

Three hundred tickets were sold to high school students and approximately 100 tickets were sold to Moscow business men. New football equipment was necessary this year and an expenditure of $300 was made. At the present time the high school football management, after payment of all bills, has $350 with which to finance the season.

Leaders of the ticket sale campaign have expressed appreciation for the support of Moscow business men.

AG. COLLEGE CATTLE MAKE GOOD RECORDS

Cows in University Herd Hold Highest Number Prizes in State

The success that the University of Idaho has had with dairy cattle is positive proof that Idaho is an ideal place to breed, raise and develop economical high-producing dairy cows that continue to produce year after year, in the opinion of Prof. F. W. Aatkeson, head of the dairy department of the university. Figures advanced by Professor Aatkeson to support this statement also indicate that the University of Idaho has developed more state record cows than any other herd in the state.

The Holstein herd includes five cows that have made more than 1000 pounds of butter in a year, nine that have made more than 800 pounds and 12 that have made more than 700 pounds. In the seven-day division there are four cows that have made more than 30 pounds of butter and eight that have made more than 25 pounds. This record is considered good for an institution with but 20 cows of milking age.

MANY RECORD COWS
The university Holstein herd has more 1000-pound record cows than any other university or agricultural college in the world, and during the last year the institution developed the highest record living cow owned by a state institution. The university has also developed the highest record junior 4-year-old and the highest record senior 3-year-old owned by a state institution, although the 4-year-old record has since been beaten. There is now a cow finishing a record for senior 4-year-olds which is almost certain to break the institutional record, giving Idaho three out of a possible seven class leaders for cows owned by state institutions.

"Most of the feed used by the herd is raised on the university farm," says Professor Aatkeson, "which goes to show that we can grow feeds necessary for high production. The climate in Idaho is better than the middle west states for making large records. Another thing which is noticeable about cows raised in Idaho is the fact that the Idaho feeds make it possible to make big records year after year, whereas in some state a cow cannot withstand high production year after year."

W. K. CLEMENT, FORMER U. PROFESSOR IS DEAD

News of the death of Professor W. K. Clement, who was professor of ancient and modern languages at the University of Idaho from 1893 to 1899 has been received in a letter to Dean J. G. Eldridge from Dr. J. M. Aldrich of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, D. C., who was a member of the university faculty from 1893 to 1913.

Professor Clement died a year ago but the news contained in the letter from Washington was the first notice of his death that had been received in Moscow.

The information had just been received by Dr. Aldrich in reply to a letter which he addressed to Professor Clement to tell him about the feat of Prof. Louis F. Henderson, who recently swam the Columbia river in celebration of his seventieth birthday. His letter brought a reply from the Troy Laundry Machinery company of Chicago, for which Professor Clement had been editing a trade publication. Professors Henderson, Aldrich and Clement all came to the university in 1893—Henderson as professor of botany, Aldrich as professor of zoology and Clement as professor of ancient and modern languages.

STUDENTS STAY IN HIGH SCHOOL

Chicago—(A. P.)—If the boy or girl who formerly "quit school" at the end of the seventh or eighth grade is not actually becoming extinct his ranks are being decimated annually, according to reports covering an average ten year period compiled from the offices of public instruction in ten central states.

The percentage of increased high school attendance for the period was taken as the medium for estimate. The average increase figure for the decade was found to be 95.4 percent, with extremes ranging between 1,000 percent, the figure reported by Oklahoma to 40 per cent that of Iowa.

While the figures do not unqualifiedly represent the increased proportion of grade school—the factor of increasing population applying largely in newer states—they do indicate that the former gulf existing between the eighth grade and high school gradually is being eliminated.

In Oklahoma, according to a statement issued by Luther Russell, state high school inspector, the increase in 11 years from 1910 to 1921 was from 6-125 to 62,021, or 1,000 percent. Figures supplied by the department of education of Kentucky set the increase from 11,856 in 1913, to 36,000 in 1922—an advance of 203 percent.

while in South Dakota the total number of high school students in 1922, 19,683, represented a jump of 162 percent from the 7,509 enrolled in 1912.

Vernon M. Reigel, state director of education for Ohio, gave the increase in that state as 120 percent, and advance from 80,609, the figure for 1912, to 178,705, that for 1922.

Voicing the belief that the showing in his state was particularly good in view of the strong call of the many industries of the state "for boys to get out of school into work," Thomas E. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction of Michigan, reported the increase there at from 49,466 in 1912, to 106,496 in 1922, an increase of 115 percent.

High school attendance in Kansas has increased 86 percent during the last ten years, according to J. W. Miley, state superintendent of public instruction, who placed the figure for total attendance in 1913 at 39,032 compared with 72,774 in 1922.

A jump of 70 percent in high school attendance from 1913 to 1923 was reported by Leonard B. Job, assistant state superintendent of public instruction of Indiana. The exact increase was given as from 59,822 in 1913 to an estimated total of 101,425 in the latter year. Compulsory attendance up to the age of 16 years, was given principal credit for the good showing. The percent of increase during the last decade for Illinois was set at 42 by Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction. Total high school enrollment in 1912 was 74,568 and in 1922, 163,097.

"Bringing the high school to the pupil" by means of establishing rural high school in connection with consolidated schools and merging the eighth grades with the high school by creation of junior high schools is noted by Miss May E. Frances, state superintendent of public instruction of Iowa, as influencing the greater proportional gain in high school attendance in that state during the last decade. Between 1910 and 1920 the enrollment grew from 45,235 to 63,217, an advance of 40 percent, she said.

Texas proved no exception. In the 5 year period since 1918 the increase in high school attendance has been 35 percent, or a growth from 125,000 to 175,000 in the period, according to S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction. Figures issued by the state department of education of Wisconsin, with offices in Madison, set the increase there at 81 percent, or a gain of from 40,012 in 1912 to 72,423 in 1922.

UNIVERSITY MUSIC RECITAL PROVES VERY SUCCESSFUL

Members of the university music department gave a recital last Friday night in the auditorium. The program gave a variation of vocal and instrumental selections, which were well received by the audience. This is the last recital which will be given by the department as a whole, but several will be given by the individual members during the year.

SEE WHAT ARIZONA HANDS FROSH GIRLS

DO IDAHO FRESHMEN CO-EDS HAVE IT EASY

Life of Ease and Luxury in Comparison to the Lot of Fair Sisters

The poor little frosh girls who think they are terribly abused and misunderstood, have the wrong stuff. They are getting off easy. In fact, theirs is a path of roses with the jolly old thorns all carefully removed. They have it soft, nothing tough about their lot at all, when we compare the rules they must follow here to those the frosh girls at the U of Arizona are required to observe honestly and obey. Here's the way the U of Arizona rules look:

1. Freshmen girls must wear green ribbons which must be worn on the right wrist. Ribbons on wrist watches are prohibited.

NO STOPS ON STEPS

2. No freshmen are allowed to linger on the steps of the Agricultural building.

That rule wouldn't effect them much if it were in force on this campus, as the Ag boys hardly have time to play around much with the smart-er sex. But look at this next one.

3. Freshmen must not sit on the grass.

That one would be more keenly felt if in force here, but they could stand it not to sit on the grass. This next one, though, would cause some discomfiture and might possibly cause a few to lose their dazzling nonchalance.

BACK DOOR USED

4. Freshmen must enter the rear door of the assembly, and must sit in the southeast part of the assembly.

The article from which this was taken neglected to state as to whether chairs or seats are provided in the southeast part of the assembly or not, but it was no doubt understood that the girls would provide their own seats.

5. No rouge or jewelry (except wrist watches) may be worn at any time until October 8th. (This includes after 6 p. m.)

That would sure be tough on the frosh girls here, where they wear rouge or jewelry either before or after October 8th, after the dance, after dark, in fact even after all is said and done. Pretty soft for the

IDAHO FROSH GIRLS, NO FOOLING. NO POWDER PUFFS

6. From 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. no compacts or powder puffs may be carried, until Oct. 8th.

So you see, girls, how nice and pretty you are sitting here at the jolly old U of I. In the future, whenever some rule doesn't coincide with your way of thinging, if you do such a thing, just thing of your sistern at the University of Arizona, and you'll sigh contentedly and say, as Walt of Gasoline Alley does, "I know when I'm well off."

VOLLEY BALL COMES AS NEW CO-ED SPORT

Inter-Group Games To Start In Lewis Court Next Week

Volley ball is fast coming to the front among the campus co-ed athletes. An inter-house volley ball tournament, with Daisy Wicher as manager, was decided upon at the last Women's Athletic Association meeting. A girl was appointed from each house to act as captain of her house team.

The tournament will be played off before Thanksgiving and the class teams will be chosen later by competent judges. All players on class teams will receive award according to the newly revised point system.

BEGIN NEXT WEEK

Practices, under the supervision of Miss Wirt, head of the physical education department, will be held at Lewis court, beginning next week. The time schedule for practice hours will be placed on the bulletin board soon. "Volley ball is now on the campus", says Daisy Wicher, "and therefore there will be equal competition between all teams. Also it is not as strenuous as basketball and for this reason more girls may participate. It will necessarily take the place of fall hockey because we have no suitable field."

Miss Wirt urges all girls, especially those who expect to teach school, to seize this opportunity to learn the game. She says, "Teachers are often called upon to manage girls' athletics or to coach some particular game and they should be prepared."

Miss Irene Starr will furnish the accompaniment.

Until last year there had been no definite plan for a girls' glee club. With the adoption of the revised A. S. U. I. constitution which provided for women's activities, however, the organization was given the financial backing of the student body, given a manager, and made a regular department of student activity.

SUCCESSFUL LAST YEAR

The club was under the direction of Demerice Ebbley last season and twenty-five girls were taken. This year probably not more than that number will go on the trip, and possibly only twenty.

The men's glee club has been successful for a number of years, but music critics of the northwest expressed the opinion that the first girls' trip was excellent both in the pieces which they chose and the manner in which they presented them.

Officials for the game, as announced by Graduate Manager Albert Knudson, will be W. G. Higgins, Spokane (Gonzaga), umpire; Ben Comrada, Moscow (Whitman), referee; Bill Mulligan, (Gonzaga), head linesman.
