VANDALS AND BULLDOGS MEET IN FINISH FIGHT

EVENLY BALANCED TEAMS FOR FIERCELY FOUGHT GAME

Dopesters Expect To-day's Contest To Be One Of The Hardest Of The Gridiron Season

This afternoon will see the biggest football game in the history of the local institution fought to a finish upon MacLean field. Gonzaga sent her team to Moscow yesterday morning for what she hoped would be her golden opportunity to prove to the Northwest conference that she was competent to uphold her part should she gain admittance into the association.

All hope on the situation seems to show both teams practically of equal strength. George M. Varnell of Spokane, who has been obtained to officiate as referee this afternoon, carried several exhaustive football discussions in his paper last night, which are quoted below.

LINEUPS NAMED

The tentative lineups for the game this afternoon were announced by Coaches Dorais and Mathews yesterday afternoon as follows:

Gonzaga	Idaho
Needles.....L. E. R.	Nelson
Cahoon.....L. T. R.	Quinn
Cyre.....L. G. R.	Tapper
Murray.....C.	Kline
Smith.....R. G. L.	Stephens
Ashmore.....R. T. L.	Hausen
Dykeman.....R. E. L.	Vesser
Skeate.....Q. B.	Stivers
Stockton.....L. H. R.	Fitzke
Huntton.....R. H. R.	Kleffner
Garrity.....F. B.	Kinnison

Speaking of the Gonzaga clash this afternoon, Varnell says: "About even in the matter of weight, both graduates of Knute Rockne's school of Notre Dame, the Gonzaga and Idaho teams are expected to furnish one of the most sensational games of the northwest season."

BANK ON PASSES

"As in all its games up to this time this season Gonzaga is expected to pin its hope of victory on the forward passing game, although the Bulldogs with Stockton, Garrity, Bross and Huntton, have a backfield with a punch in it for yardage off tackles and through the line, but hardly has enough reserve strength to depend on the running or a bucking game to bring home the bacon."

"With Murray at center, Cyre and Smith at guards, Cahoon and Ashmore at tackles and Needles and Dykeman at ends, Gonzaga will present a line of good ability and one that will probably outweigh Idaho. However, the Gonzaga line will be pitted against what is probably the fastest and hardest charging gang of forwards in the conference in Kline, center; Stephens and Tapper, guards; Hausen and Quinn, tackles; and Vesser and Nelson at ends.

GONZAGA SHOULD SCORE
"It is said, however, that Oregon completed 11 out of 16 passes against Idaho last week. Not long passes,

NOMINATE THREE FOR GLEE CLUB MANAGER

Committees Named To Arrange Changes In Assembly Seating, Honor Code, And Constitution

Warren G. Vickrey, Philip G. Christen, and Harry Brenn were nominated for glee club manager by the Executive board at the A. S. U. I. assembly on Wednesday. The election on these nominees will be held Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the A. S. U. I. polls which are open from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m., of that day.

Mr. Vickrey, of Weiser, was a member of last year's glee club and sang bass on the club quartet.

Phillip Christen has been a member of the glee club for the past two years. Phil and Ray Allumbaugh are the only members of the present glee club who sang in the 1921 tour. Christen is a junior in the business curriculum.

Harry Brenn, who was with the club for the first time last year, is from Boise. Brenn is a junior in the school of engineering.

JOB REQUIRES KNOWLEDGE

A thorough knowledge of the cities and railroad facilities in Idaho and adjoining states is necessary to the manager of an Idaho glee club. It is because of this that the A. S. U. I. constitution requires that a nominee for manager must have at least one year of singing with the club.

The itinerary of the Idaho glee club covers more territory than that of any club in the west. Starting at Moscow the tour takes them through Oregon, Washington, south Idaho, Montana, and back into north Idaho. No concerts are given in Oregon or Washington but in Montana the club usually sings at the state normal school at Dillon. Already inquiries are being made by the normal girls as to what date the club will return this year.

FINANCING DIFFICULT

The covering of such a vast territory requires heavy expenditures, only a part of which comes from A. S. U. I. funds. For this reason the manager usually makes an advance trip throughout the proposed itinerary during the Christmas vacation. He signs contracts with the various high schools or theatres guaranteeing the club a stated amount for the concert given.

Each year the attempt is made to visit as many new towns as possible and this plan is to be carried out this year.

COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED

Three committees were announced by President Jennings, one for the drawing up of plans for assembly seating, one for arrangement of the honor code regulations, and one for recodification of the constitution.

These adaptations have been made necessary by the changing conditions in the university, even since the recodification of the constitution last year. According to Jennings it will be imperative that the changes be made each year until the growing has definitely settled Idaho as one of the larger colleges. At present the

Idaho Students Requested to be Early and to Show Good Sportsmanship Today

Idaho students will occupy the temporary bleachers on the west side of MacLean field this afternoon as they have at all previous games this fall. Yell King Turner urgently requests that all students be in their seats by 2 o'clock and earlier if possible, as the immensity of the crowd will make congestion inevitable and cause much delay if everyone is not on time.

Owing to the possibility of Gonzaga students presenting a stunt, none has been prepared for Idaho. But in event the Bulldog stunt fails to materialize, all Idaho men will line up behind the Pep band and form the old serpentine.

In answer to a letter sent by Yell King Turner to the associated students of the College of Idaho at Caldwell, inviting them to sit in the Idaho section at the game this afternoon, a reply has been received from Jerome Smith, president of that body, promising every co-operation possible and sending a vote of thanks for the courteous treatment received from the Idaho students by their football team while they were here for the Idaho-College of Idaho game some weeks ago.

800 ADVANCE TICKETS SOLD TO ARTIST COURSE

Rush Made By Students To Sign Advance Reservations To Coming Productions

Between 700 and 800 students have signed contracts for the purchase of tickets to the Artist's course, and additional ones are pouring in.

"The advance sale for the Artist course which the University of Idaho is sponsoring has met with unprecedented success," according to Professor E. O. Bangs, who has been directing the campaign. "The response from the student body generally has been a great source of gratification for the work required to bring such meritable offerings to the university," he said.

SEAT CAPACITY FILLED

Those students who have not yet made arrangement for a ticket are advised to do so at once, as the seating capacity of the auditorium is already nearly exhausted. A complete check is now being made of those who have not yet purchased and blank contracts will be mailed to each of them, as a means of giving every student an opportunity to avail himself of the privilege to hear these classical renditions and productions, which the university administration has provided.

MUST PAY SOON

Those students and faculty members who have already subscribed may now pay for their tickets at the Bursar's office. It is imperative that these subscriptions be paid before December 1, in order to insure a reservation.

After that time, if the success of the advance sale continues, it will be impossible to guarantee anything as to seating reservations. The effort and intention which those in charge are endeavoring to carry out is to have the entire house sold out before the course opens. It is therefore advisable that subscriptions be paid at the Bursar's office, at once.

LACK OF COMPETITION HURTS CROSS COUNTRY

U. OF WASHINGTON ONLY POSSIBILITY FOR MEET

Outlook Brightest In Years For Having Crack Squad, But Former Opponents Refuse To Compete

Despite the fact that Idaho's cross country talent this fall looks better than in years it bids fair to go for naught because of competition. W. S. C. has refused to enter a meet and Oregon has also declined to compete in this branch of sport this fall. Negotiations with the University of Washington are pending, awaiting a reply to Athletic Director Mathews, communication.

Idaho was victorious last year in the dual meet with W. S. C. which has heretofore amounted almost to a classic. No reasons are given by E. J. "Doc" Bohler, athletic director at W. S. C. to explain his refusal to enter a meet this fall and so far as is known now Idaho will not participate in cross country events this season.

FOUR IDAHO AG. TEAMS IN PORTLAND JUDGING

Sixteen Students Go To Pacific-International Livestock Exhibition Opening This Week

Four teams from Idaho will enter the judging contests in the Pacific International Livestock exhibition which opens at Portland this week. The teams are: livestock, dairy products, agronomy and dairy cattle.

These Idaho agricultural teams will compete with those representing agricultural institutions from California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Utah and British Columbia.

Members of the livestock judging team which left last night for Portland in charge of Prof. Hickman, coach and head of the animal husbandry department are: John Toevs, E. N. Storms, R. E. Everly, Fred Schmidt, Buford Kuhns, with J. H. Payne as alternate.

DAIRY TEAM LEAVES TODAY

The dairy products team leaves today accompanied by Coach H. A. Bendixon, of the dairy husbandry department. Its personnel includes: Francis Peterson, Paul Wickward and Jerry Black. The team will compete in judging milk, butter and cheese.

The agronomy team, coached by H. W. Hulbert, assistant in the agronomy department, leaves this afternoon, and the following men will make the trip: John Toevs, John Rensburg, Albert Larsen with Ed Poulson as alternate.

The dairy cattle team, with F. W. Atkeson, coach, will be composed of three men: Henry Hanson, Clyde Richards, Clarence Fales, with Henning Thulin, alternate.

The teams will all do their judging Sunday and Monday and at that time telegraphic reports are expected to announce the winners. They will probably be gone until the middle of next week.

ARTIST COURSE LAUDED BY NATIONAL CRITICS

LARGEST BAND EVER DIRECTED BY SOUSA

Other Numbers Coming to Idaho Acclaimed As Seasons Most Worthwhile Attractions

(By TOM MADDEN)
The University of Idaho is indeed fortunate in having scheduled for this year an artist course of unusual worth and high standard. This is evidenced by the press reports which tell of the praiseworthy successes and unanimously favorable receptions accorded the three numbers which the course will include.

Sousa's band is receiving even greater praise than ever before, regardless of the fact that this season he is appearing in more than two hundred cities in which he has already appeared ten times. In reality, the attendance at his concerts is consistently larger in cities he has visited the greatest number of times.

The organization is now composed of eighty-eight men exclusive of soloists and is the largest band Lieutenant Sousa has ever taken on tour.

W.S.C. COUGAR ELEVEN FACES CRUCIAL GAME

COUGAR HOPES HIGH FOR HOME-COMING GAME

Oregon Faces Hard Fight If Cougars Have Improved As Much As Expected

The Washington State Cougars will face one of their crucial games Saturday afternoon when they meet the Oregon University eleven at Pullman in their annual home-coming game, which is expected to draw quite a crowd of Idaho fans.

W. S. C. is expected to present a strong team Saturday, and if they have improved anywhere nearly as much during the past week as they did between the time that they played Idaho and California, they should be able to give Oregon a whale of a good time. It will be recalled that while Cougars were holding the greatly touted California Golden Bears to a meager 9 point victory, and gained for them unstinted praise from western football critics.

NEW LINEUP

Captain Vern Hickey of the Cougar eleven, who in 1921 was named as All-Coast end on the second mythical lineup and who has been in the backfield during the last two seasons, has been shifted back to his old position and will play left end against Oregon next Saturday.

The change has been expected for the last two weeks. Hickey is a stellar end, and in the opinion of the observers at the State college, the shift will strengthen the lineup.

Marker, the hard-driving lad from Tacoma, of last year's freshmen team, is scheduled to take Hickey's place at left half, according to the preliminary dope on the lineup. Marker started the season on the first string at fullback, but in the Gonzaga game he received a stiff neck that kept him out of practice for two weeks. Since that time, Slater, 190-pound letter man of last year, has been developed at fullback and he has been showing star work. In the Idaho and California games he drove through the line for consistent gains and on defense spilled plays right and left.

O. A. C. seems doomed to go down before the onslaught of the University of Washington Huskies on the same day for the Aggie home-coming game at Corvallis. Washington is putting a strong team into the field this year, and O. A. C. is not being given much in Saturday's game.

That it will be a good game, though, goes without saying. They are noted for their fighting ability, but it does not seem possible that they can hold the Huskies to less than a pair of touchdowns.

FEW BIG GAMES

Those are the only two conference games scheduled for the day. U. S. C. contenting herself with an easy game with Occidental university at Los Angeles. She needs a rest, for next week she meets California in one of her big games.

Stanford is to meet the Olympic club, and California will play the Nevada Wildcats.

PEP BAND SHOW TO-NIGHT SETS STANDARD FOR AMUSEMENT

Argonaut Reviewer Prophesies Two Hours Filled With Laughter And Merriment

(By PHIL TOLMAN)

Tonight is the night of the bigger and better Pep band show, and anyone who misses said show is going to be sorry for a long time afterwards. It will be, without doubt, the biggest and best show ever put on—the biggest value for the money ever seen.

The show has been fortunate in being very well organized with efficient and reliable persons in charge of the various departments. Scenic effects are splendid, and are the creations of two rising young artists, Don Allen and Claire Killoran. These two men have given up their time and talents to making the show a success and great credit is due them. Walter Garrett and Kenneth House, electricians, have been faithfully and efficiently performing the tasks set for them, and no small share of the glory belongs to them. The entire personnel of the stage force has done excellent work, and they have done it enthusiastically and well.

"AHME" KEARNS IS GOOD

Ahme Kearns has the role of butler and needless to say he will be responsible for a goodly share of the laughs which will escape even the most critical. When he sings his song entitled, "Minnie the Mermaid", it is funny enough to make the Great Stone Face lay down and laugh itself to death. He may get the words mixed up a little but that will not detract from his performance.

Florence Selby has the leading feminine role, and one which requires acting ability as well as a good voice, and in both of these qualities she is exceptional. Her solo, "A Kiss in the Dark" will be one of the hits of the show. It is a song splendidly adapted to her voice.

ALLUMBAUGH HAS LEAD

Ray Allumbaugh has the juvenile lead, and he is naturally fitted for this role. His performance of "Jimmy" is smoothly done, and with no trace of nervousness or inexperience. Allumbaugh is gifted with a remarkably clear, resonant, distinct voice seldom heard in a college musical show. His duet with Miss Selby, "Only One Love Ever Fills the Heart" is bound to be favorably received.

The skit, to be done by Al Marinneau and Doy McKinley, has been worked up to a fine state of perfection, and will surely be one of the many features of the show which the audience will not soon forget. Their skit has been cleverly arranged, and will be just as cleverly put on by these two men, who are also doing their share in putting the pep into Pep band. Al is the leader and Doy is his right hand man.

Young Soldiers Get Out Their Horns Start Practising for the Cadet Band

That the cadet band under the direction of Bandmaster N. Neilson is well under way toward a successful season is readily admitted by all who have had the pleasure of hearing it. From eleven to twelve each day, melodious notes of closest harmony and martial beat are heard floating over the campus and upon investigation the cadet band proves to be responsible.

The enrollment of the band at the beginning of the semester was fifty-six men but this has been reduced to forty-four, the number that will be maintained during the year. Bandmaster Neilson says, "No men will be carried along just for looks. They must be able to play and play well." By keeping only those who are willing to work the band leader believes that a cadet band that will be on a par with other student activities will be assured. The distribution of instruments in the band is now complete and is as follows: baritones four, basses four, cornets eight, alto's five, trombones six, piccolos two, flutes two, saxophones eight, drums four and of course the ever present cymbal beater.

The band made its first public appearance this year at the Odd Fellow's convention and was received with hearty applause. This opportunity gave people from all over the state a chance to hear the band and see what the university is accomplishing along this line. Bandmaster Neilson is an old hand at the job and the men under him are assured of capable direction. That the band at this time is functioning better than at a much later date last year is an often expressed opinion.

"Empire" Goes to Spokane to Represent Idaho in Big Halloween Celebration

"Empire" Idaho's Great Dane mascot, held by two Knights of the Ball and Chain, towered over "Micky" the little bulldog of Gonzaga like a devouring Nemesis as they rolled down Riverside avenue, Spokane, in the Halloween parade and Mardi Gras Tuesday night.

With his head high and his tail switching disdainfully at Micky on the float behind, Empire rode down the street on the float, and took his first survey of the inland metropolis. The crowd of onlookers knew that the two canine aristocrats holding themselves so proudly proclaimed the meeting of the two rivals to-day in mortal combat.

Although a vivid and gorgeous array of buzzing, streamer decorated cars and floats snorted himself to be photographed under the 10,000 candle power illuminators of the Pathe camera man who ground steadily to get the picture before Empire should change his mind about the value of being photographed and decide to eliminate a camera man in the deal.

While in Spokane waiting for his chance to advertise his university the Great Dane was put up in ultra dog style and verily led a very pleasant dog's life. But after the big celebration was over his guardians rushed him away to get him safely caged from the wild Irishmen.

During the parade Empire wore his famous Vandal blanket. He will be on hand to keep any jinx from sneaking in on the team this afternoon, and will lead the squad onto the field as usual flashing his big legs to strike with awe the Gonzagans.

Idaho fights! That great, indomitable spirit which is so bound up, inextricably, in the ideals and traditions of Idaho, and which receives probably its fullest expression on the gridiron, will again prove its consummate strength this afternoon.

And Idaho men and Idaho women, in whom this spirit is inherent, will feel its impelling call and will respond nobly and naturally.

And they will not lose sight of the fact that this famous Idaho fighting spirit implies many other admirable characteristics: it is a spirit which demands fair play; which cheers the opposing team's man who is hurt and welcomes his substitute with applause; which requires silence while signals are being called; which respects the cheering of the rival supporters; and which extends to the opposing team and its supporters every courtesy and welcome consistent with good sportsmanship!

HONOR COMMITTEE

The first step toward achievement of an unwritten, traditional honor system was made Wednesday at the A. S. U. I. meeting when President Jennings announced the appointment of a committee to decide upon regulations and procedure.

The plans to root more deeply this great moral virtue in the characters of Idaho men and women should include some definite method of instruction, by word and example, of the underclassmen. For by such instructions will the upperclassmen themselves be more thoroughly impressed and convinced of the inherent truth and value of their teachings as well as will their less experienced younger brothers.

HELLO, BULLDOGS!

Greetings, Gonzaga! At this zero hour Idaho pauses a moment to welcome you; to admire your remarkable football team, which has so ably proved itself this season; and to assure you that, regardless of the outcome of today's contest, you will remain one of Idaho's friendliest and most respected rivals.

Idaho spirit is constant. Neither the fortunes of battle nor the whims of fate affect it. And today, in the name of that spirit, Idaho extends the right hand of fellowship, and sincerely hopes that your visit here shall be a memorable one.

RAISE FRIENDSHIP FUND FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS

Northwest Secretary of Y. W. C. A. Discusses Improvements in Local Organization at Monday Meet

"Learn how to keep on the high-way, instead of the low," said Miss Elsie Heller, Northwest student secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in addressing members of that association Monday evening at the University Hut.

Miss Heller discussed ways of raising money for the "friendship fund" for foreign students and impressed upon the members their individual responsibility. Ways of improving the local organization were also suggested. At the close of her talk she gave individual advice and suggestion to cabinet members.

Preceding Miss Heller's talk a business meeting was conducted by Jean Frazier, president, during which Constance Taylor was appointed under-graduate representative and Goldie Pears, secretary.

Mrs. H. D. Martin accompanied by her daughter Louisa gave tow vocal solos at the close of the meeting.

A dinner was given in honor of Miss Heller at which the cabinet members and the advisory committee were present. Effective autumn decorations, including dainty pumpkin place cards, were used on the table.

probably be Fitzke, Stivers, Kleffner and Kinnison, a fine quartet of footballers with two of the four of a real sensational players. Fitzke will out-kick Stockton of Gonzaga. Judging from the form shown by the pair so far this season, and Fitzke is a good passer and able to pack the ball in addition. Stivers figures as one of the heady quarterbacks of the conference and an excellent kicker and passer. Kleffner and Kinnison are both good backs.

"With Stivers running the Idaho team the Vandals are expected to have an advantage over Gonzaga with Stockton directing the Bulldogs' play. Not that Stockton is weak, but Stivers is strong.

"There are two ways to figure comparative score dope on the Idaho and Gonzaga teams. The Vandals beat Montana 40 points while Gonzaga defeated the Bruins by a 23-point margin. Idaho beat W. S. C. 14 points while Gonzaga won from W. S. C. by a 13-point margin. Both comparisons give Idaho an edge in the figures, if they mean anything at all.

"Gonzaga scored four times against W. S. C., while Idaho registered but two scores against the Cougars, but Idaho held the Cougars scoreless while Exendine's team counted twice against Gonzaga.

IDAHO STRONG

"Summed up, Idaho appears to have more reserve strength than Gonzaga, which would indicate that if Idaho can hold the Bulldogs through the early stages of the game, Mathews' reserves can be thrown into the game to turn the tide of battle.

"Gonzaga, on the other hand, has a scoring football machine. A team that would likely register at least one count on almost any varsity team in the country, as a result of its highly developed forward passing game, and if Gonzaga can get its aerial game into working order against Idaho, there appears to rest its chances for victory.

"Seldom have two more evenly matched teams clashed on a gridiron in the Northwest than Idaho and Gonzaga as they look on the dope for Friday. Conditions and breaks will probably settle the outcome with the team that gets the breaks of the game winning.

PARKER ANNOUNCES A New One for Students

Parker D-Q—the Note-taker Pen, $3

Strong metal girdle reinforces cap
Large ring-end links to note-book
—A pocket-clip if you prefer—
No extra charge for either

WE asked about 1000 students at seventeen universities and colleges the kind of pen they wanted.

The majority preferred the Parker, but not all could afford to pay the Parker Duofold price.

So we set to work and produced this black beauty—the Parker D. Q.—formed on Duofold's classic lines and made by the same crafts-guild.

We gave it a 14k gold point tipped with polished Iridium, and a good healthy ink capacity; then we added two things we could find on no other pen of this size below five dollars—a metal girdle to reinforce the cap; and an extra large ring link to fasten to the student's note-book. These features are included free, or a pocket-clip instead of ring-end.

The Parker D. Q. is an ink-tight pen. Ask to see it—note its shapeliness and balance. Try other pens too, and see how super-smooth the Parker is in comparison.

Bench and Bar Dance

The lawyers have announced the completion of their plans for the biggest and best dance of the year.

Hearty co-operation has been shown by all members and success is assured as shown by the enthusiasm with which the frosh have planned the decorations the second year men the punch, and the seniors the more finer details such as favors, programs and conditions of the floor.

The decorations will be in blue and white, blue for honesty, and white for virtue. The punch has been manufactured by a firm of great renown. The seniors promise many extra surprises and beg the public not to fail to come to the best dance of the year.

A delightful musical combination has been secured which will afford a pleasant surprise for all.

The formal reception and open house of Forney Hall given Saturday evening, and the presentation of the new assistant dean of women, Mrs. Shaff Blomquist, was one of the big society events of the year.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Mary E. Forney, Mrs. Alfred Upham, Mrs. Shaff Blomquist, Mrs. Viola Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Shaff, of Lewiston, Miss Mary Houston and Miss Florence Casey.

The decorations of roses, dahlies and mountain ash made a most delightful background for the charming costumes. The music was furnished by the College Sorenaders.

Lindley Hall entertained the women of Ridenbaugh and Forney Halls and the football men and coaches at a Hallowe'en dinner and dance Wednesday evening. The exchange of dinner guests between the halls marks a new era in the social relationships of these organizations. The boys were equally divided among the three halls for dinner which when finished merged into a short dance, many of the couples coming to Lindley Hall to dance. The recently organized Lindley Hall orchestra furnished the music, and in spite of its lack of cooperative practice, put on a very favorable exhibition of syncopated harmony.

The decorations were in true Hallowe'en spirit consisting of the proverbial black cats, and witches and shocks of corn surmounted by Jack o' lanterns.

The football men were present in a body, with the coaches. The guests of honor included Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Neidig, Mr. and Mrs. Knutson, and Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan.

ALUMNI
Curtis E. Herrington, '23, is now in Gooding county doing county agent work and testing cows. He writes that he likes the work and that he would be glad to hear from any of the Idaho students at this time. His address is: c-o County Agent, Gooding, Idaho.

Herbert E. Samms, '17, is located in Wallace. He is a metallurgist for the Tamarack mine.

Guy Holman, class of '09, is now making his home at 621 Huntington Ave., Plainsfield, N. J. For several years he has been in Japan as a representative of the International Banking Corporation, but has recently been transferred to this country. He is now attached to the home office of the corporation permanently. He writes that he has met many of his old friends and classmates since returning to this country, among which was a pleasant encounter with Herbert H. Beier, another Idaho graduate whom he accidentally met on the train while going east. They "matched memories," according to his words, and had a very enjoyable visit talking over old times at the university.

Ralph W. York, ex '19, arrived on the campus today, powered up to take in the Idaho-Gonzaga game this afternoon. He is making his home in Boise, where he is secretary of the Syms-York company of that city.

GIRLS START RIFLE PRACTICE
"Rifle practice for girls will begin as soon as the military department will allow it," says Miss L. Wirt, instructor in physical education for women.

In prospect of the rifle season, correspondence has been carried on with several universities arranging matches to be held in December and January. It is a possibility that as many as three afternoons each week will be given over to girl sharpshooters, thus enabling the co-eds to compete advantageously with other schools.

FREE TRIP TO CHICAGO AWARDED CHESTER MINK

Idaho Student Will Attend International Livestock Show and Contests in December

The free trip to Chicago, given each year by Armour and Co. to the Idaho club member making the best record in club work with swine, was awarded this year to Chester L. Mink, of Gooding county. Mink is the winner of a Union Pacific scholarship which he is using this fall as a freshman in the college of agriculture.

The award was made, after careful inspection of the club member activities of the whole state, by a committee consisting of Prof. C. W. Hickman, Prof. J. E. Nordby, and William Kerr. Announcement of the award was made by J. H. Rearden, who is in charge of junior extension work.

Mink expects to leave for Chicago about November 28, and will arrive in time to attend the International Livestock show which opens there December 1. Armour and Co. provides enough money for the trip to cover the cost of transportation as well as all living expenses during the stay in Chicago.

The entertainment provided includes not only admission to all phases of the great livestock show, but also a study of the whole packing industry and attendance at all of the judging contests.

L. L. Abbot, graduate of last year's law school, has taken up the practice of his profession in NezPerce. He has been taken into the office of P. W. Mitchell of that city.

William J. Nixon, LL. B. '23, has opened a law office at Soda Springs, Idaho.

J. Roy Mitchell, ex '16, has been with the forest service at La Pine, Oregon since 1914.

Rupert Le Roy Peck, ex '20, is superintendent of the Filer, Idaho public schools.

VOLLEY BALL IS POPULAR

Volley-ball has so increased in popularity that the W. A. A. thinks it necessary to arrange for two practices each week, instead of one. A time schedule for these practices has been posted on the bulletin board.

In the inter-house volley-ball tournament which is now being played, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Forney and Ridenbaugh Halls are in the lead. The championship team for the tournament will be decided by Thanksgiving and a trophy will be awarded to the winning group.

ular acts, will satisfy the craving for tuneful and harmonious syncopation. A dazzling selection of popular songs and dance numbers have been carefully worked up, and will be sure to please as everyone in the band is a master of his instrument and does his part exactly right. This act will no doubt be the big feature of the show. It is the feature everyone is looking forward to, and the boys in the band will see that no one is disappointed. They have put in a lot of time and effort to make this part of the show letter perfect.

The chorus of the show, Oh Boy! now here is something really delightful and pleasing to the eye, and every man, woman and child should see it. Six of the pretties girls to be found anywhere, and six of the most graceful and agile young men on the campus constitute the personnel of this rare chorus. The easy, graceful, effortless manner in which these dozen exponents of the Terpsichorean art do their stuff is at once a joy and a pleasure to behold. The costumes worn by the chorus are unique as well as neat and attractive. This will be one of the bright, colorful bits of the production.

J. Stanton McLaughlin is the author of the play and that alone is sufficient guarantee as to its quality. In this creation of his he has something for which he will long be remembered, as one of the cleverest play writers we have ever had at the University of Idaho.

PEP BAND BOOSTER TRIP TO BE MADE IN SOUTH BEFORE ARMISTICE GAME

Fourteen Pep band men will leave Moscow Sunday for the southern part of the state to play in the various towns in the vicinity of Boise before the big Armistice day classic.

Since the return of Al Marineau, leader, from China the band has been reorganized and practicing intensely on a number of new pieces.

Enthusiasm in south Idaho is reported to be increasing every day, and the Pep band will play at the dances and high schools as a means of increasing the attendance at the game.

STRONG PERSONNEL
The personnel of the band is composed of Al Marineau, leader, of Boise, playing the trombone; Ulla Powell, Boise, manager, on the clarinet; Doy McKinley, Kellogg, solo cornet and hokum man, Fairly Walrath, Orofino, coronet; Claire Reems, Sandpoint, coronet; Ross Woods, Coeur d'Alene, coronet; Paul Atwood, Lewiston, clarinet; Dolan Swanson, Coeur d'Alene, trombone; W. Renshaw, Boise, baritone horn; Fred J. Marineau, Coeur d'Alene, french horn; P. C. Samms, Boise, bass drum; Jimmy Kieldsen, Boise, snare drums; Eric Leithe, Coeur d'Alene, pianist and librarian; Francis Sheneboffer, Twin Falls, base horn.

LONG ITINERARY
Leaving Moscow Sunday in a special Pullman, the band will arrive at Boise Monday. They will play in Boise Monday beginning at noon, and Tuesday they will play in Nampa and Caldwell and at a dance at Boise that night.

Wednesday the car will take them to Twin Falls where they will play at the high school and later at the dance, and then back to Nampa for a dance Thursday night.

Friday they will return to Boise and will meet the south Idaho special coming in for the game. Possibly they will play at some of the smaller towns on Friday also.

The big game comes on Saturday, and the band will be on hand to lead the Idaho rooters in their singing and to infuse pep into the crowd, and a big dance will wind up the week Saturday night. They will return on the special Sunday.

NAVY TOPIC OF ADDRESS BY CONGRESSMAN FRENCH

Disarmament Conference, Work and Use of Fleet Explained in Talk to R. O. T. C. Students

Hon. Burton L. French, Idaho representative to congress, in accordance with navy day, addressed an assembly of R. O. T. C. students, Tuesday morning. Mr. French outlined the functioning and necessity of the United States Navy. He further explained the "Armament Limitation Conference", held in Washington last year, and the significance of the 5:5:3 agreement, reached by the United States, Great Britain, and Japan.

NAVY IN PEACE
The decisive importance of the Panama canal was also discussed. The function of the navy in time of peace was another point brought out. He cited the valuable relief work done in the recent Japanese disaster, and also in the San Francisco earthquake; how it maintained order and supplied provisions for the fugitives. The development and protection of trade are also accomplished by the navy, according to Mr. French.

Mr. French's idea was to awaken our interest and open our eyes to the necessity and accomplishments of our navy.
SET NAVY DAY
Navy day was set aside as October 27, by the president on recommendation of the naval league. Its purpose is to give the people of the country an opportunity to pay tribute to the navy and consider its importance to the nation.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS GIVEN NEW STUDENTS

SYSTEM RATES CLASSWORK ACCORDING TO MENTAL ABILITY

Experiments By Dr. Barton Show High Intellect Gives Ability

Are intelligence tests of any actual value? Dr. J. W. Barton, head of the psychology department, who has spent considerable time and research on this subject, and who is now conducting mental tests for new students enrolled at Idaho, believes they have not only practical value but experimental value as well.

The experimental value, Dr. Barton says, is to determine whether or not future fitness can be predicted. The results are kept in file and referred to by the instructors to see how capable a student may be. If a student passes a high mental test he is supposedly capable of doing good work, but if low the instructor must handle him differently.

RESULTS NOT ABSOLUTE
The results are not an absolute analysis of a student's mental capacity, because at the time the experiment is given to him he may not be in condition to do his best. Therefore, several tests should be given to each individual to give him a more exact rating.

In other institutions intelligence tests have been given with valuable results. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university and Robert C. Clothier, of Haverford school for boys, conducted an experiment in one of the largest of American industries on a group of boys under eighteen years of age.

HIGH INTELLECTS SUCCEED
They computed evidence that boys with the highest marks were more likely to remain with the company. They pointed out that the boys who left the employ of the company did so for one of three definite reasons: some to obtain better positions, others to return to school and still others from being discharged. Those who were discharged showed a low mental alertness and those who obtained better positions passed a high intelligence tests.

How long these tests will be given at Idaho has not been decided, but if their value increases as in the past, they will probably become part of the regular requirements of the university. The first year girls have already taken their tests. The boys whose surnames begin with letters before J, will take their tests Monday at 11 o'clock, the remainder taking theirs on Wednesday, 11 o'clock, in room 217.

RECOGNITION CARDS TO STUDENTS OF BUSINESS

Would Certify Bearer As Regular Business Student As An Aid To Receive Consideration

Students enrolled in the business curriculum will receive business recognition cards signed by Prof. H. C. Dale, head of the economics department, according to plans now under way. This card will be of pocket size and will certify that the bearer is a regularly enrolled student in business at the University of Idaho. It may be used for one year as a means of recommendation.

In speaking of the plans, Professor Dale said, "This card will identify the bearer as an aggressive student of business and will help him many times to receive consideration from those in charge of any business enterprise, as a mill, factory or office. This will in many cases enable the student to visit the larger business institutions, which on their own initiative they probably would not be able to visit."

This is the bands' thirty-first annual tour and, when it is considered that appearances are made in every large city, the value of the opportunity to Idaho University students can readily be appreciated.

UKRAINIAN CHORUS POPULAR
The Ukrainian chorus has just arrived in New York City from a highly successful tour of South America. This chorus is made up of natives of Ukraine, a part of small Russia, whose inhabitants are recognized the world over as the greatest singing people. The members of the chorus, which includes approximately fifty voices, appear dressed in their gay national costumes.

That this number is one which is popular and in demand throughout America is shown by the statement of John Grier Hibben, President of Princeton, who says, "The work of the Ukrainian Chorus is an able expression of the highest form of art and our Princeton audience was enthusiastic in its approval and appreciation."

DRAMATIC TREAT
What is unquestionably one of the greatest dramatic treats ever offered will be "The Book of Job" which is an actual dramatic presentation of the Old Testament text, arranged and produced by the genius who is universally conceded by critics to be the most artistic theatrical producer of the present time, Stuart Walker.

Mr. Walker will need no introduction when his successful presentations of Lord Dunsany's plays is recalled. This particular play has become famous for its intense drama, its magnificence of thought and its splendor of expression. The vivid struggle of wills that underlies the poetic drama is something that is deeply impressive and makes the performance a strangely fascinating play.

MUSIC ORIGINAL
Every phase of the production of this gigantic drama has been perfectly worked out. The music is entirely original and is peculiarly adapted to the settings. It is based on the old Hebrew chants and is arranged by Elliott Schenck. Even the actors have been chosen with particular reference to the beauty of their speaking voices. The stage settings, scenic arrangements and lighting effects have been worked out in infinite detail by Zimmerman, who is undoubtedly the outstanding genius of stage design.

Idaho students may well anticipate the coming of the opening number, Sousa's band, on December 10th, the appearance of the Ukrainian Chorus on the tenth of January and the presentation of "The Book of Job" on January 17th, as events which will bring them an unimaginable wealth of culture and pleasure.

Ivan A. Crawford, of the college of engineering, was postponed due to illness in his family, and the A. S. U. I. meeting planned for the following Wednesday, was held instead.

A committee consisting of Joel Priest, chairman; Pearl Stalker, Fred Crandall, Florence Graves, Ulla Powell, Vaughn Prater, R. C. Everly was appointed by Jennings to effect the reorganization of the A. S. U. I. constitution.

PLAN HONOR CODE
Members of a committee to decide upon the honor system regulations to be observed in the University of Idaho are Charles Pruess, chairman; Mary Houston, Abe Goff, Jewell Coon, Walter Casebolt, Ruby Gates, and Margaret Springer.

A committee to act in co-operation with the various class presidents in arrangement of an assembly seating plan was also selected at this time. "Babe" Brown was appointed chairman with Pauline Pence, Bob Fitzke, Ida Matthews, Paul Harlan, and Leo Fleming assisting him. They will present a seating plan in the near future in conjunction with the four class presidents, Walter Casebolt, senior; Frank Minas, junior; Sid Yeager, sophomore; and Walter Tucker, freshman.

Miss Andrews, from the infirmary, took a few moments to drop some health hints. She especially requested the students to report every case of sore throat during the scarlet fever epidemic downtown. This she says, is an important step in preventing the same epidemic among students.
