COAST SCHOOLS OPEN BASKETBALL SEASON

MACMILLAN STARTS PRELIMINARY PRACTICE ON MONDAY

Four Letter Men Are Left From Last Year's Championship Team

(By Louis A. Boas)

With the football season in the wane and championship aspirations of not a few Pacific Coast and Northwest conference institutions blasted during the past week, attention is already swinging around to a consideration of the winter basketball season, and calls are being issued already in an number of universities for preliminary practice.

This is true at the University of Idaho, where Coach David MacMillan this week issued his first call for material, to report for initial practice yesterday afternoon. A large number of candidates have already been turning out for preliminary warming-up exercises, and Monday afternoon saw a large number more donning uniforms and running through basket shooting practice under Captain Telford.

PROSPECTS ARE NOT BRIGHT

Prospects at the Idaho institution, where for two years the championship flags of both the Pacific Coast and Northwest conferences have floated over the campus, are not particularly bright this season. Although Idaho will naturally be looked upon as a serious and dangerous contender, it is hardly to be expected that she can place in the field again this year a team capable of going through a duplication of the past two seasons and place again at the top of the percentage column.

The Idaho squad lost five men from last year's quintet, three of whom were stars of the first water: Al Fox, for two years all-coast forward, and captain of last season's champions; Harry Edwards, a fast, fighting for-

GREENWOOD SPEAKS TO ECONOMICS FRATERNITY

Kappa Alpha Psi Give Their Monthly Dinner And Entertain Spokane Banker

George H. Greenwood, cashier of the Old National Bank, of Spokane, addressed the members of Alpha Kappa Psi, honorary economic fraternity, Wednesday evening, at their regular monthly dinner, on the granting of bank credit and the credit situation in the inland Empire.

Mr. Greenwood's years of banking experience in this region enables him to speak with authority on the subject of bank credit, and banking conditions in general. For more than an hour his audience listened attentively while he pointed out the standards to be used in measuring the amount of credit a man should be granted. "We must look to more than the three C's," said Mr. Greenwood, "we must know more about the conditions of the applicant and we must have the applicant know more about his own business."

"Character determines whether a man should be given credit, and capacity and capital determine how much he should be granted."

Mr. Greenwood emphasized strongly the point that capacity should mean a man's earning power, and that while quick assets and current liability show the present state of a man's business, it doesn't show where he is going.

The speaker pointed out that in determining a man's credit, his expenses should be considered as well as his income. A great many men come to the bank asking for credit, who have sufficient income for a loan, but their expenses are so large that they are a very poor risk. He also pointed out that the sales of a concern is more important than the net worth, and that the operating statement is of more importance than a statement of assets and liabilities.

C. W. Renfrew, vice-president of the First National Bank, of Moscow, was a dinner guest at the monthly meeting.

VOLLEY BALL TEAMS TRY FOR LOVING CUPS

Must Win Three Consecutive Years To Gain Permanent Possession Of Award

The inter-house volley ball tournament will be played off tomorrow night, November 21. The captains of each house team met in Miss Wirt's office at the gymnasium yesterday, at 5 p. m., to draw for the schedule. Those who will compete in the contest are: Chi Beta Epsilon, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi, Forney Hall, with the town upperclass girls, and Ridenbaugh Hall with the town freshmen girls.

A silver loving cup is to be awarded to the winning team for this year and permanent possession of this cup will require that the same house team win it for three consecutive years. "The house which wins in this tournament will be on the first lap toward winning this cup," says Miss Lillian Wirt, instructor in physical education of women.

Basketball for women will begin immediately after Thanksgiving, according to Miss Wirt, who will act as coach.

FINAL GAME OF SEASON GOES TO COUGAR FROSH

IDAHO YEARLINGS FAIL TO SCORE ON BREAKS

Pullman Warriors Battle To 25-0 Victory In Revenge For Last Year's Defeat

Fortune scowled on Idaho Saturday and the Vandal babes went down to defeat by a score of 25-0. Fighting gallantly, they were unable to stop the fast stepping W. S. C. frosh. The jinx, which beset the varsity at Stanford, seemed to hover over the freshmen on the local field, giving W. S. C. two of their touchdowns en pure flukes.

Revenge for the drubbing administered the Cougar yearlings by Idaho last year was apparently uppermost in the minds of the visitors for they got it in a large measure. Idaho's hopes for a repetition of last year's victory were shattered early in the first quarter when Baird's punt was blocked and the ball went to W. S. C. on the Idaho 25 yard line. A criss-cross and two line bucks carried it over for six points. Again in the second quarter, Hanson, 190 pound Cougar tackle, picked up an Idaho fumble and raced 40 yards for a touchdown. He was tackled as he crossed the goal line.

Only once did Idaho threaten the W. S. C. goal. That came in the third quarter when by some brilliant passes and off tackle plays, featuring Miles and Baird, the ball was carried from midfield to the enemy's ten yard line when a pass was intercepted and the chance to score was lost.

After the first touchdown, playing seesawed in the center of the field, neither side being able to gain. The teams were about evenly matched as to weight but the Pullman team had a slight edge on speed and showed some nearly perfect interference and tackling. The third touchdown came when another Idaho punt was blocked and W. S. C. punched over a touchdown from the thirty yard line, meeting such stubborn opposition, however, that frequent measurings were necessary to determine whether or not they had made their yardage. Again in the last quarter a successful pass and a thirty yard run resulted in the fourth touchdown.

The Cougar midgets played like a well oiled football machine, but had the evil jinx not given them what-ever breaks there were, the score might have been a better index to the strength of the two teams. Idaho's frosh fought savagely, but were not deadly enough tacklers to stop the charging Cougars at crucial moments.

Considerable time was taken out during the game due to injuries of which each team received a share. One W. S. C. player had two ribs

CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES RECEIVE CRUSHING BLOW

Fighting Idaho Machine Suffers First Defeat Of Season To Heavier Opponents

Idaho lost its first game Saturday. The Stanford Cardinals proved too much for the fighting Vandals; weight, probably more than any other factor, marred the Silver and Gold record of six games without a loss or a score against her, and Stanford won 17 to 7.

That Idaho fought, however, is clearly shown in the play-by-play which came over the wires Saturday to anxiously waiting students who gathered in the bleachers and on the hill sides watching the W. S. C. yearlings maul the Vandal babes, but deavouring the staccato reports from the Palo Alto gridiron.

The Cardinals pushed across their two touchdowns with an assortment of tricks, aided by a 15 pound weight advantage to the man. It was a battle between the heavies and the lightest team in the Pacific Coast conference, and the weight won. Stanford scored in the second quarter with a touchdown and again in the third quarter with a field goal from placement from the 45 yard line. The game was laid on ice during the final period with another touchdown

ARKANSAS, SIAM, STEP UP

Have you a little immigrant in your home? The strangers from far lands who are in our midst whether they are from the kingdom of Siam, or from the state of Arkansas, are asked to step to the front and be recognized. If anyone is willing to confess that he hails from any region east of the Mississippi river or north of the state of Tennessee, he is eligible to become a charter member of the proposed Immigrant club.

Very few attempts have been made to determine who these people are, but it is rumored on the campus that if they are subjected to a severe cross examination they will break down and admit that they are from Chicago or Cranberry, Iowa, as the case may be. It is also being whispered about that the time at the meetings will be taken up in profound study of Rand and McNally's atlas, pointing out their respective homes on the map and cracking favorite stories about the old home town.

The purpose of starting the Immigrant club is to promote friendship among the students from the eastern states and to provide a place and time where those from Boston and vicinity can drop their r's and broaden their a's without dodging flying bricks.

Speedy Bouts Promised At Smoker Dec. 14

The annual Mucker's Smudge will be held in Eggan's hall on December 14, and promises to be the biggest and best smoker ever put on in Moscow under student supervision.

An opponent for Gronvalt, W. S. C. heavyweight who scored such a speedy victory over the veteran and experienced Dornick, the plummer, in last year's contest, is being looked for. A match has also been proposed for Leslie, of W. S. C., who fought Eddie Peterson a four round draw last year. Many other matches of headline quality will feature the program, and in combination with the cider and smokes to be furnished with the rest of the entertainment, will make the evening one of the largest of the year for the sport loving men of the campus.

It may be said that the cider will soon go to press in order that it may have time to get ripe between now and the date of the smoker.

PICK CHARACTER TYPES FROM WOMEN ON CAMPUS

MANY VARIETIES WILL BE SELECTED BY THE JUDGES

Those Chosen Will Appear in Tableau "Sweethearts"

A contest which culminates in the selection of a number of character types from the women of the campus-at-large, is announced by the committee in charge of the senior class play, "Sweethearts," where the types chosen will appear in tableau between acts.

According to the plans announced by Miss Pearl Stalker, chairman of the committee in charge, the senior class women will be delegated to individually urge every co-ed on the campus to report to the judges in the auditorium on Tuesday evening, Nov. 27, at 8 o'clock, where a private, exclusive tryout will be held.

PICK SPECIFIC TYPES

This contest is in no sense mercenary or professional. It aims, not to pick the most popular or best looking or most outwardly impressive girls, but to choose from the co-eds on the campus those whose qualities and inherent characteristics best fit them to a wide and varied list of specific types.

Under the theory that "many a rose is born to blush unseen," the judges will attempt to find a few that exist on the campus hidden beneath a veritable deluge of artificial camouflage.

These types will be of every kind and description. No attempt will be made to limit the number. If all commonly known types are exhausted, the judges will coin new ones. Among the better known types to be chosen are: the Spanish, the English, the aristocratic, the girlish, the romantic, the Grecian, the typical co-ed, the vivacious, and possibly the flapper.

The task, however, of choosing a typical flapper is a difficult one. Possibly the reason is that usually the flapper is not true to type; whenever she is brought on the stage or before a critical audience she fails to flap.

But those qualities below the surface which determine character as well as outward attraction will be considered in preference to the more superficial beauty of face and figure. And it is expected that when the carefully chosen types are presented to the audience, its appreciation of their inherent beauty will be evident.

The types will appear between acts of the senior play, "Sweethearts," and the appropriate setting and costumes will be used to the best advantage, so the effect will undoubtedly be astonishing.

The judges who will choose the types next Tuesday have been carefully picked from the faculty and townspeople, and are announced as follows: Mrs. Ralston Butterfield, J. F. Stewart, Miss Zudreele, J. Stanton, McLaughlin, and Pearl Stalker.

GOVERNOR'S WIFE RECEIVES SURPRISE

Before the O. A. C. — Idaho game, Mrs. C. C. Moore, wife of Governor C. C. Moore, was first divided in her sentiments for the two contestants, but her loyalty for the school from which she graduated overcame her when she saw once more the Orange and Black on the field, so she earnestly cheered for them throughout the game.

She became alarmed for fear she would be reprimanded between halves of the game when she saw the Pep band and the yell king approach her box, but she had a pleasant surprise instead. The Pep band played, "And here we have Idaho," then Ted Turner, yell king, in behalf of the president, faculty, and students of the university, presented her with an exquisite bouquets of large crysanthemums, and the band played "Come Follows." It was indeed a very impressive ceremony and was quite appropriate for the occasion.

ANNUAL PEP BAND DANCE SET FOR NEXT SATURDAY

Plenty Of Harmonic Jazz Promised For Week-end Entertainment

The jazz boys of the Pep band announce a dance to be given in the gym November 24, at 8:30, and all should be on hand so as not to miss a single bar of this precious music.

Al Marineau, with his educated slip horn, will be much in evidence directing the band and slipping in a little "near harmony" when least expected. Between the squealing of the clarinet, the sobbing of the bass horn, the moaning of the saxophones, the laughing of the trombones, the rippling of the piano, and the tomtom of the drums, there ought to be enough rhythm to make old King Tut crawl out of his linen swaths and hit for Idaho.

If there is anything on the campus that needs the support of every student, it is the Pep band, and with the added inducement of a guaranteed good time a record crowd should be in attendance. Dance followers are assured a good floor, good music, decoration, favors, and programs.

All anyone needs is a girl and a dollar. The first is easy to find and the last can almost always be obtained from the first. Get a girl, borrow, beg, or steal a dollar, but come!

FRATERNITIES ERECT COMMUNITY BUILDING

NEW YORK GREEK-LETTER MEN SEEK COMMUNAL HALL

New Club House Will Have Large Banquet Room and Gymnasium

College fraternity men are the latest New Yorkers to turn cliff dwellers.

The high price of lodgings, which has driven many families from private houses into apartment houses, has caused members of various fraternity clubs to seek a common roof.

To meet this need the Fraternity Clubs building, a sixteen story structure, is being erected at Madison Avenue and 38th street.

Members of the various clubs, nearly all of them college graduates, will have their own private club quarters and sets of sleeping rooms, but while they may lounge and slumber under the Greek emblems of their brotherhoods, they will eat and exercise in a communal dining hall and gymnasium.

The house committee will comprise a representative of each particular club. National headquarters of several

Vesper Recital Sunday Begins Musical Season

The first vesper recital of the year will be given next Sunday afternoon November 25, in the university auditorium, at four o'clock. These programs are put on by the department of music and during the past years have proven a popular Sunday afternoon entertainment.

The initial program of this year will be a piano recital by Frank Mitten of Moscow. Mr. Mitten is a junior in the College of Letters and Science, majoring in music. Since entering the university, he has appeared in many recitals and pleased many audiences. Last year he made a tour of the state as piano soloist with the glee club, winning added recognition with each appearance. Mr. Mitten's program will contain numbers to suit a variety of tastes.

The program follows:
Brahms Rhapsodie op. 79 no. 1
Chopin Nocturne op. 15 no. 1
..... Etude op. 10 no. 5
..... Etude op. 25 no. 9
..... Ballade op. 42

VANDALS FACE FINAL STRUGGLE UNDAUNTED

PROMISE BITTER FIGHT WITH U. S. C. SATURDAY

Despite Last Week's Defeat Idaho Is Still Quoted At Par By Dopesters

Notwithstanding the drubbing administered to the Idaho football team by the Stanford Cardinals last Saturday at Palo Alto, Gem State stock continues to be quoted at par by university undergraduates and sport enthusiasts in Moscow this week with regards to the coming clash with the University of Southern California Trojans at Los Angeles, in the final game of the season for both opposing eleven's.

The most serious stumbling block which the Vandals will be likely to run up against next Saturday will be a lack of suitable reserves to throw into the game at critical stages, which is held largely responsible for Idaho's defeat at the hands of the Cardinals last week. With the game a tie, 7 to 7, Stanford was able to throw in a tremendous amount of reserve strength, which succeeded in breaking up Idaho's brilliant aerial attacks and converted an Idaho pass into a second touchdown, which, coupled with a field goal from midfield, clinched victory for the California team.

GIVE IDAHO FIRST CHOICE

The game with the Trojans next Saturday will be one of the big cards on the western program. Idaho last year won over southern Californian fans by their fighting spirit and their staunch defensive work in the face of overwhelming odds, and U. S. C. this year gave Idaho first choice for their big holiday game in the southern metropolis over all other conference aggregations.

Idaho came out of Saturday's clash in good shape, much better in fact than did Stanford. All the Vandal players are in good condition, and with the Trojans more nearly equal in weight to the Idahoans, a stiff game is expected. The dope, however, seems to point to a Southern California win, occasioned by the triumph several weeks ago of the Trojans over Stanford, 14 to 7, and the capitulation of Idaho in turn to Stanford.

ADVANCE SALE TOO SLOW ARTISTS COURSE TICKETS

Advanced Orders May Be Handled By Special Collectors Unless Paid Soen

The tickets for the Musical Artists' course, which is to be given this winter at the University of Idaho, have not been going as they should, according to Prof. Bangs, chairman of the university committee. Many have signed up for these tickets, but comparatively few have paid for them. Professor Bangs urges that they be paid for before next Friday or it will be necessary for a special collector to handle the matter, so as to avoid unnecessary confusion at the last minute.

The following statement was clipped from a review of the entertainment from the Philadelphia Evening Ledger.

UKRAINIAN CHORUS

"The Ukrainian National Chorus, about forty in number, gave a concert in the Academy of Music last evening before a disgracefully small audience in which the greatest heights which can be achieved by a local organization, at least as demonstrated in Philadelphia for a good many years, were reached. The Chorus is under the direction of Alexander Koshetz, a wonderful director and trainer of concerted singing and an equally great choral composer and arranger."

"When the choir was here last season it literally dumbfounded the audience by its perfection of rhythm, intonation, enunciation, unity and balance of tone and range of voices from sopranos to the extraordinarily deep and rich second basses, at least four of which have a register extending below low C."

The Idaho Argonaut

A new heading or caption appears in this issue of The Argonaut. The word "University" has been scrapped, and in its place "Idaho" has been substituted. "University" was indefinite and unsatisfactory, while "Idaho" narrows the publication to its rightful place. It makes The Argonaut a really representative organ of the University of Idaho.

Publicity or News

The real purpose of a newspaper is to furnish timely information on past, present and future activities. But a collegiate publication faces another problem, the line of distinction that must be drawn between news and publicity. Publicity for campus events is undoubtedly worthy, but too much of it transforms the paper into a propaganda sheet. It is unreasonable to expect a paper to print story after story, none of which contain news value, but instead pure publicity.

Therefore, The Argonaut has adopted a definite policy on the matter, which will be followed for the remainder of the college year. Any story of real news value will be printed, and for campus events not more than two publicity stories will be allowed. Except in unusual cases where such publicity would benefit the entire institution, this rule will not be broken. It should be remembered that The Argonaut is not obliged to print this propaganda for any campus organization.

Idaho Fought

The Vandals have been defeated, for the first time this year. But Idaho students are not downhearted, for the Vandals fought, as Idaho teams always fight, and Silver and Gold undergraduates are proud of them in defeat even as they would have been in victory. In that Saturday game the team gloriously upheld the honor of Idaho, and across the records of the contest, taking away the bitter sting of defeat, may well be written these words:—"Idaho fought."

SOCIAL HONOR

The following editorial was written by a university student not residing at Idaho, and the Argonaut begs leave to reproduce it here.

"When the subject of the honor system in college life is brought up, its connection is in its application to examinations. The students are trusted to the extent that there is no faculty supervision during the tests. And the honor system has proven its worth in many schools. The honor code, as a complete code, is being used in very few universities, but in many ways the professors place the students on their honor in the classroom. There is another condition in the University of Idaho to which the honor code might be applied with profit. Why not apply it to the social side of our life. At the present time, in most of our universities we are not university men and women socially, but high school children, if the restrictions placed upon us are any criterion. In adopting the honor system for examinations, it only made it easier for the professors, and made the student shoulder more responsibility. That is right and just. If the honor code were to be adopted as a means of controlling the social side of our college life, it would mean that the students themselves would be responsible, and that would not do in this case, for it is apparent that not until they get out into the cold, cruel world are college folks supposed to assume much, if any, of the responsibilities of right living. In college they are under the same restrictions that have brought out criticisms of so many girls' schools. "After all, would asking college people to apply the honor system to their social life be demanding too mature a reaction?"

HOME ECS. ESTABLISH FUND

Plans to establish a fund for deserving upper classmen of the home economics department, were made at the last meeting of the club on Tuesday evening at the Delta Gamma house. The business meeting was followed by a social program in which Miss Glatha Hatfield gave a piano solo, and Miss Jensen gave a talk on the advantages of the home economics course. The evening was concluded by the serving of refreshments, and dancing by members of the club.

broken. Due to the returns from the Stanford game being received during the local battle, interest in the freshman game was not as high pitched as it would otherwise have been.

This contest finishes the freshman schedule and closes a season marked by two victories and two defeats. The games seemed to show that as long as Idaho made the first touchdown the team played a brilliant game, but when the opposing team scored first, the jig was up.

Off Side Plays

Thanksgiving time is almost here and some of the boys may be called upon to do the carving. Should that doubtful pleasure happen to any of you here are a few pointers.

While carving, if the turkey should happen to slip, don't appear covered with confusion, although you may be with gravy, but just calmly and nonchalantly say, to the lady in whose lap the turk has fallen, "Lady, I'll trouble you for that bird," and go on as before.

Never eat frog legs because the "hops" in them will cause you to become intoxicated.

We knew a man who was so stingy he would order two drinks—drink one—then push the other back to "settle."

He would put green spectacles on his horse and feed him shavings.

His hair is parting, and will soon be parted forever, then he can use his head for a cue ball - won't need to sing anymore.

Some soprano.

Well, you're no lily!

Professor Bangs is a good leader, but he should use a baton or a rope.

Yesterday in one of the Education classes, Professor Crawford said, "I was in a feeble-minded institution once." Many in the class broke down and laughed. We can't decide whether they were laughing because of his frankness, or whether they thought it funny that he wasn't detained.

A successful doctor needs lots of "patients."

Isn't that the limit?

It's like a hard boiled egg—you can't heat it.

Did anyone see the show put on by the Stray Antlers club from Pullman? There was quite a large crowd at the theatre that night but no one knows whether there was a show or not.

But the fact remains—we got nicked for no less than 4 bits.

They're not so dumb over across the line after all.

Wonder if the senior lawyers are looking forward to the twelve weeks exams. Every one of them has a sign over the door in his room, "Lest we forget what happened when we forgot, three weeks ago."

As the convict said, "Pardon the liberty I am taking," and as the president of the Defunct National bank said, "We'll close now."

Babe Brown, varsity wrestling coach, has issued a call for a meeting of all men interested in wrestling. The meeting will be held in the gymnasium today at 4 o'clock. Practice will begin in the near future, according to Brown, and there will be opportunities for both varsity and freshmen. The meets for the season have not as yet been scheduled, but present plans call for several with other institutions, in the Pacific coast conference, and possible some out of the conference.

SPOKANE POTATO SHOW DRAWS IDAHO EXHIBITS

Home Economics Department Will Demonstrate Advantages Of Graded Varieties

The University of Idaho, in cooperation with Washington State college, will contribute to the Pacific Northwest Potato show which will be held in Spokane, November 20 to 23, in management of the women's department of the exhibition. The exhibits will be made and arranged by the home economics department, under direction of Miss Katherine Jensen, and will be in charge of Miss Clara Cowgill, district home demonstration agent of northern Idaho, who will be in Spokane during the show. The object of the exhibits which the University of Idaho will put on is to show the advantage to the housewife of using graded potatoes instead of the ungraded varieties. This will be done by the use of charts showing the economy or waste of each kind. Pictures will be shown on diseases of potatoes caused from poor storage, and the effect of various methods of storing, paring and preparation will be demonstrated. Miss Cowgill will give a series of short talks to the women and recipes for preparation of potatoes will also be distributed.

Society Gossip

Though our thoughts are now in California with our Vandal team, we still enjoy the dances. Saturday afternoon found the football enthusiasts at the matinee dance in the gym to hear the game returns. In the evening the Engineers held their annual dance which was very successful in every way. The next big dance scheduled will be the Pep band dance on Saturday, Nov. 24. This brings us close to the Thanksgiving season, with thoughts of home and Mother's cooking. For those who will not be able to go home, the social calendar promises many delightful and novel surprises in the way of dances, dinners, and entertainments.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE DANCE COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Plans for the much talked of Woman's League dance are under way. All the details incidental to the dance have been worked out, and necessary committees have been appointed. The main committees follow: music, Margaret Blackinger, chairman, Marie Johnson, Mirth McArthur; patrons, Margaret Collins, chairman, Pearl Stalker, Fairy Sanger; programs, Mary Houston, Agnes Cox; refreshments, Helen Ramsey, chairman, Mary Isabelle Vassar, Jewel Coon; floor, Grace Jacobson, chairman, Blanche Boyer, Opal Hunt; tickets, Ruby Gates, chairman, Daisy Wieher. Merna Bliss, Grace Morgan, Margaret Springer, Florence Casey, Hillan Hardman, Mary McCallum, and Jean Frazier; publicity, Dorothy Darling and Betty Mount.

In an effort to show the men of the school that they are not the only ones who can put on a good dance every little detail is being looked into by the committees, and if this dance fails to be the most enjoyable one of the season it will be through no fault of the women.

U. I. SELLS BULL TO ARIZONA U.

MATADOR CONQUEROR TO HEAD HOLSTEIN HERD—BLOOD LINES ARE OF THE BEST

The University of Idaho has recently sold the Holstein bull, Idaho Matador Conqueror 384967, to the University of Arizona, to head their Holstein herd. This calf was twenty-two months of age and a well grown bull of good type. His bloodlines combine some of the best families of the Idaho herd. His two nearest dams average 25434.8 pounds of milk and 1139.37 pounds of butter and his three nearest dams average 22531.4 pounds of milk and 1018.41 pounds of butter. In the seven day division his two nearest dams average 606.2 pounds of milk and 33.5 pounds of butter. Both his dam and sire's dam have milked over 105 pounds in one day on strictly official test.

He was sired by Matador Violet Idaho 273447, the great show bull that was used in our herd for two years and now is under lease for a year to the University of Nebraska. Matador Violet Idaho was sired by King Segis Matador Walker, the oldest and best proven son of Matador Segis Walker. King Segis Matador Walker only left us twelve daughters but out of that number three have passed the thousand pound of butter mark, one has made over 30,000 pounds of milk, all under maturity, and four have made over thirty pounds of butter in seven days. The dam of Matador Violet Idaho is Idaho Violet Posch Ormsby who has three records over 1000 pounds of butter, her best being 26812.5 pounds of milk and 1259.26 pounds of butter. She is the highest record living cow owned by a state institution, the highest record cow in Idaho, and ranks seventh in the world among cows with three records over a thousand pounds of butter. She has one proven son and two daughters with records over 23,000 pounds of milk.

The dam of Arizona's new bull is Idaho Segis Ormsby Girl 419573. She has several official records, her best being 24057.1 pounds of milk and 1019.48 pounds of butter in one year, beginning test at four years and six days of age. This is a state record for Idaho and at time of completion was the record for college owned cows. She has since freshened with third calf and made 644.7 pounds of milk and 34.8 pounds of butter in seven days, which is the state record for all ages in the seven day division. She is now about eight months along in this year's record and she will beat last year's records, giving her two records over a thousand pounds of butter. She was sired by King Segis Matador Walker, mentioned above, and out of Ormsby Girl 2nd, a cow that made 16724.6 pounds of milk and 776.48 pounds of butter as a four year old under very ordinary care. Ormsby Girl 2nd left us three daughters that average over 800 pounds of butter at less than mature age.

Thus, it is seen, Conqueror is a double grandson of King Segis Matador Walker and has for his two grand-dams two of the best producing and breeding cows in our herd. Regarding the sale of the bull to the Arizona institution, F. W. Atkinson, head of the department of dairy husbandry, said: "We are very glad to see this bull find an opportunity in such a great herd of cows and where his daughters will be tested. This makes three state universities using Holstein bulls bred in this herd and in years to come, we should be able to exchange proven sires of the same breeding and thereby, solve our herd sire problem."

GRASS COUNTRY TEAM PICKET TO ENTER MEET

CONFERENCE RACE SCHEDULED AT EUGENE ON NOV. 24

Penwell, Hillman, Williams, Sowder, Crow and Wyman To Make Trip

Tryouts for places on the cross-country team to represent Idaho in the conference meet to be held at Eugene, Oregon, were held Friday afternoon. Six men were chosen as they placed in the tryouts. The team will leave Thursday afternoon in charge of Guy Penwell, and will arrive in Eugene Friday.

The tryout was held over a course of two and one-half miles, with fast time being made considering the course taken. The men placing in the tryouts and making the team are: Guy Penwell, Erroll Hillman, Lewis Williams, Art Sowder, Alton Crow, and Harold Wyman.

The cross-country meet is to be held Saturday, Nov. 24, in connection with the Oregon home coming program. It is expected that at least five teams will be entered, including W. S. C., Washington, Oregon, O. A. C., and Idaho.

NOBLE TRIBUTE IS ACCORDED DEAN LITTLE

The following tribute to Dean C. N. Little of the college of engineering in the University of Idaho, who died suddenly from heart failure in Berkeley, California, last September, was published in the October 19 issue of "Science," a noted scientific magazine, and is considered of sufficient value to deserve reproduction here. He was born of missionary parentage at Madura, India, in 1865. He was a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he took the A. B. degree in 1879, and the M. S. degree in 1884. He took his degree of Ph. D. at Yale in 1885, and afterward studied in Germany with Klein and Hilbert. His work in the theory of knots was of fundamental importance. By methods which he invented and perfected he succeeded in enumerating and classifying the different kinds of knots up to those of the tenth order. This work attracted the attention and interest of Professor Tait, of the University of Edinburgh. Professor Little's work was published in the "Proceedings" of the Connecticut Academy of Sciences and in the "Transactions" of the Royal Society of Edinburgh. In the last few weeks of his life, on being relieved of his duties as dean of the college of engineering, he turned again to these researches and under the inspiration of sympathetic associates he was laying his plans for another assault on this most difficult field of analysis situs. His untimely death is a very serious loss to mathematics. As a teacher he may be known by his fruits. He was very vigilant in the unholding of high standards of scholarship. Earnest and enthusiastic and inspiring, inflexibly following his own high ideals, he was a man to be reckoned with by those who would take the easy and popular roads in educational matters. As a man, he was entirely lovable. Loyal to his friends, with malice toward none of those who failed to understand his devotion to what he believed was right, he has left behind him an imperishable record of a well-spent life.

C. N. Lehmer, Dr. Lehmer is Professor of mathematics at the University of California.

COAST SCHOOLS OPEN BASKETBALL SEASON

(Continued from page one) ward; and "Oz" Thompson, second all-coast center, who was for three years a tremendous factor in Idaho's successes. Other men to be lost from the pennant quintet were Bill Gartin, a guard, and Adrian Nelson, a forward, both first string men.

FOUR LETTERMEN REPORT

Four lettermen will this year comprise the nucleus of the squad which will report for regular practice soon. They are Harold Telford, captain and all-coast guard, who may be shifted to a forward berth because of the serious losses sustained in that department of last year's team;

"Benny" Keane, a tall, rangy guard, who finished his first season in whirlwind fashion, and gave promise of developing into one of the most brilliant players on the Pacific Coast; Percy Styner, a two year veteran at guard, who plays a consistent, cautious game; "Bob" Fitzke, a sub-center last year being groomed to hold down that position regularly this season; Guy Penwell and "Lefty" Marineau, subs last year, who have a good chance of making the first string this winter. "Dusty" Kline is also expected to turn out at the close of the football season.

A number of good men will come from the freshman ranks of last year, which include Neal Nelson, center and guard; Ray Stephens, forward; Roy Rowe, center, and Ellsworth Sowder, a forward. Pickett, a new man, showed to advantage the first night and has possibilities of development.

TO TOUR DURING HOLIDAYS

It is expected that the Idaho team will again take a tour of eastern Washington and northern Idaho during the Christmas holidays, and just prior to the opening of the conference season in January. The practice of the Idaho team in making a strenuous pre-season tour is thought to be one of the factors influencing materially the condition of the men for a long, hard season of basketball with long, tiring trips, which so often prove stumbling blocks for an otherwise brilliant quintet.

PEP BAND TRIP SOUTH SCORES BIG SUCCESS

SCHOOLS CO-OPERATE ENTHUSIASTICALLY

Now Again Proves South Idaho Is 100 Percent Booster For University

"Crowned with success" is a mild way of expressing the great achievement accomplished in the trip made by the Pep band and yell king through the southern part of the state before the O. A. C. -Idaho game. Whole hearted welcome and co-operative enthusiasm was extended to them from the time they reached Boise Monday morning, Nov. 4, until they boarded the special the next Sunday.

This concentrated representation of Idaho's spirit left Boise in cars to visit the tributary towns soon after they arrived. They visited Nampa first, and started the sparks of enthusiasm, and left it 100 percent of boosters. Caldwell high school was the next stop, where they spread their mission equally well.

IDAHO COLLEGE ENTHUSIASTIC

The College of Idaho showed a spirit of co-operation and good fellowship that it cannot be given too much credit for. They rehearsed our songs and yells with much enthusiasm and exposed a spirit that seldom occurs between two schools who contest for honors among themselves.

Tuesday the party gave a concert in the Boise high school, where they also left the desired spirit. In the afternoon they went out to the penitentiary to give the inmates a treat, but were not allowed to bring their instruments with them, so they parked their synoptic weapons outside and went in to renew old acquaintances. That night they gave a dance in Boise. The next morning they left for Twin Falls in a big bus, playing in the streets of the towns enroute. A good program was put on in Twin Falls, then playing for a dance in the evening, which was attended by a large crowd, who absorbed the spirit of the occasion.

TED TURNER ACTIVE

At the different high schools visited, Ted Turner was introduced to the principals, and then he would introduce the band and start the program. The program started with a few selections by the band, and Stanley Johnson would give a piano solo, after which the band would play again. Then Ted Turner would give a short talk and lead them in songs and yells. Practically the same program was given in all the schools visited, except with Twin Falls, where a little one act play, entitled "Alaboy Pedey." This dramatic production was made up by Doy McKinley and Ted Turner on their way to Twin Falls. It left a heavy impression as it was greatly appreciated.

They played in different towns on the return trip, and topped off the day by playing at a dance in Nampa that night, where another crowd was anticipating a treat.

The special train was received by the band Friday morning and that afternoon concerts were given on the streets and for the different civic clubs.

BROADCAST MUSIC

Radio broadcasted the music of the Pep band from the Boise high school station while the O. A. C. band played at a well attended dance.

Saturday morning they participated in a parade with the O. A. C. band, Boy Scouts, and other military and civic organizations of Boise. By this time everyone was brimming with anxiety. Never has there been a larger crowd or such enthusiasm displayed at this annual occasion.

The Idaho rooters were scattered among the great crowd, but nevertheless their yells and cheering were vigorous and the College of Idaho students did not fail to expose their zest and fervent support for Idaho for which we should again compliment them.

WARMLY RECEIVED

The good done by the propaganda spread and the attention attracted by this tour, cannot be over estimated. Never has any organization or single factor of this institution been more warmly received and actually aroused interest and support for the University of Idaho. It broke the barriers of aloofness and reached out and made everyone feel that they would like to boost for Idaho. Due to this growing popularity, the trip next year is hoped to be extended to Pocatello and Idaho Falls.

SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED BY FINE ARTS SCHOOL

Award of $500 To Be Given For Best Interior Decorative Design

A $500 scholarship in the Paris division of the New York school of fine and applied arts will be awarded to the winner in the design for an interior decorative architectural treatment, which is announced in an invitation received by Professor Weaver, of the architectural department. The Jackson Heights Garden Apartments community for students in architecture and art are issuing the invitation to compete to all students in all universities who are interested in the subject.

The Jackson Heights community is one of the newer developments of New York City, and it is their intention to stimulate interest in the growing profession of Interior Architectural Decoration.

Students in the university who are interested in this subject and desire more information may receive full particulars from Professor Weaver in the Architectural departments.

Miss Jessie Rummel, a former student of Professor Weaver in residence architecture, is now an instructor in Interior Architecture at the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts in which the above mentioned scholarship is to be awarded.

W. S. C. INSTALLS

Washington State College, (P. I. N. S.) Mask and Dagger, local dramatic society, has been installed as the tenth chapter of the National Collegiate Players. Ten charter members were initiated at installation ceremonies last week.

The national organization is of high dramatic standing and has chapters in the larger colleges and universities of the west and middle west. The eleventh charter has been granted to the Oregon Agricultural College.

Mask and Dagger is one of the oldest and most active of the honorary organizations on the Washington State campus. It was founded more than ten years ago. The local identity will be preserved as the chapter will be known as the Mask and Dagger chapter of the Players.

during a desperate Idaho aerial rally,

a Stanford back intercepting one of Stivers heaves on the 45 yard line, and dashing 30 yards to the 15 yard line. From there it was sent across the chalk line on a beautifully executed pass, Soloman to Campbell.

FITZKE IS VERSATILE

Fitzke was given an opportunity Saturday of showing his assortment of tricks, a thing which he has not done during the last few games witnessed by the home folks. He carried the ball around Stanford's ends for huge gains; he plunged through the line for yardage, and he punted out of danger. Stivers as Idaho general, used every advantage which presented itself, and when faced with defeat, did the only possible thing and opened up on a desperate aerial attack, which if successful might either tie or win the game, and which if it failed, meant only defeat by a larger score. The fates of battle decreed the latter, and the score at the close of the game read 17 to 7, where it might have read 10 to 7 had Stivers elected a defensive game in the final quarter.

Stanford was able to throw an immense reserve force at critical stages of the game, with telling effect. Nevers, star Cardinal fullback, kicker and passer, was injured during the first half, but was replaced by Soloman, and no difference could be detected between the abilities of the two players by the play reports received here.

PASS, STIVERS TO FITZKE

The lone Idaho score came in the second period with a touchdown, Fitzke going over on a neat forward pass from Stivers, after Idaho had lost the ball when within striking distance of the goal line, only to again fight down the field in the most brilliant offensive rush of the game, and score their only touchdown, tying the game.

Twice Stanford attempted field goals during the first and second quarters before either side had scored, but both went wild. Shortly after their second attempt, however, Fitzke and Nevers succeeded in pushing across their first touchdown, which Idaho tied soon after. A field goal in the third quarter again gave Stanford the lead, and virtually won the game, forcing Idaho to resort to dangerous over-head attacks, which gave Stanford its second touchdown on an intercepted forward pass.

WILLIAM KONRAD ROENTGEN 1845-1923
Born in Lennep, Prussia. Educated at Zurich. Awarded the Rumford Medal of the Royal Society in 1896 jointly with Philip Lenard for discovery of X-rays. Won the Nobel Prize in physics in 1901.

"I did not think— I investigated"

One day in 1895, Roentgen noticed that a cardboard coated with fluorescent material glowed while a nearby Pluecker tube was in action. "What did you think?" an English scientist asked him. "I did not think; I investigated," was the reply.

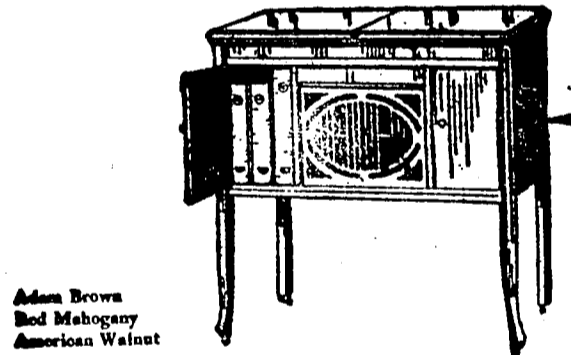

Roentgen covered the tube with black paper. Still the cardboard glowed. He took photographs through a pine door and discovered on them a white band corresponding to the lead beading on the door. His investigation led to the discovery of X-rays.

Roentgen's rays have proved an inestimable boon to humanity. In the hands of doctor and surgeon they are saving life and reducing suffering. In the hands of the scientist they are yielding new knowledge—even of the arrangement and structure of atoms. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have contributed greatly to these ends by developing more powerful and efficacious X-ray tubes.

The General Electric Company manufactures everything electric—from fans to powerful locomotives, from tiny lamps to mighty power plants. Its products are used around the world.
