WORLD FAMOUS CHORUS WILL APPEAR TONIGHT

UKRAINIANS REPRESENT BEST OF RUSSIAN MUSICAL ABILITY

Troupe Hailed By Press As One Of Most Talented Singing Organizations

To-night the Ukrainian chorus, one of the world's most famous musical organizations, hailing from a section of Russia which is the only part to refuse Bolsheviki rule, will give a program in the University of Idaho auditorium.

The chorus, according to the eastern musical critics, is superior to even the greatest of the grand opera companies and can be compared only to the Vatican chorus at Rome. The group, with a single country and identical backgrounds of every member, has been trained to such a point that their voices blend as a single unit.

Originally the performance was scheduled for the afternoon, but later plans completed arrangements for the night presentation. Over forty male and female voices have been trained and blended until their singing has the volume and the brilliancy of the greatest symphony orchestras. Alexander Koshetz, director of the chorus, is known throughout the world for his productions.

A MUSICAL SENSATION

Since the chorus left Russia for the beginning of their tours, they have been hailed as the sensation of the greatest capitals of Europe. London was thrilled by their work, the critics of Berlin and Vienna were astonished at their brilliancy and perfection, and Paris welcomed them to the

SCARLET FEVER DANGER PAST AND BAN LIFTED

All Cases Successfully Cared For In The Infirmary By Trained Nurses

Scarlet fever has been completely wiped out at the university as a result of the efficient work of the health authorities coupled with the two weeks Christmas vacation and, although measles are prevalent in Moscow, no real danger is expected among the students because the authorities are well prepared to handle the situation, should it arise.

The ban, placed on all campus activities by President A. H. Upham upon recommendation of the health committee, was automatically lifted when the holidays opened and, with the resuming of classes, there seems to be no reason for its going into effect again.

INFIRMARY HANDLES CASES

All of the scarlet fever cases, which totalled nine, were handled at the university infirmary where one ward was segregated for that purpose. Two special nurses from Spokane and one from Moscow secured for the patients the best of care and attention. Practically all of the cases are now recovered and none have left any serious complications.

The successful way in which the whole situation was handled is due, in a large measure, to the efficient co-operation given by the students to the health committee, which is headed by Dr. W. M. Gibbs, of the department of bacteriology.

Bob Fisher, named as captain of the Vandal's second all-coast team. His pointing and broken field running made him a strong contender for a berth on the first team.

DAVIS TAKES CHARGE FINANCING NEW GYM

BIG RESPONSIBILITY PLACED ON SHOULDERS OF LEGIONAIRE

State Wide Canvass To Raise Funds For Construction of Memorial Gymnasium

Responsibility for financing the war memorial armory and gymnasium which is to be built at the university under joint auspices of the American Legion and the university alumni, has been placed on the shoulders of Paul Davis of Boise, who is department commander of the Idaho department of the American Legion. Appointment of Mr. Davis as managing director of the state wide financial canvass has just been announced by George Horton, secretary of the Idaho Memorial association, which was formed by the American Legion and the alumni association soon after the August convention of the American Legion in Coeur d'Alene.

Plans for the canvass are already being formulated by Mr. Davis, who attended the committee meeting of the memorial association, held in Moscow, at which he agreed to take over the directorship.

IN THE STATE SENATE

As Americanism officer for the American Legion, beginning in 1921, Mr. Davis accomplished results which attracted nation wide attention in American Legion circles. He was secretary of the state senate in 1919 and again in 1921, and was for three years director of the state bureau of licenses.

"Although I was not a University of Idaho student," said Mr. Davis, "I have always felt a strong sense of state pride and have had a deep interest in the university as one of the state institutions.

"The purpose of the Idaho Memorial association is to erect a suitable shrine to the memory of the Idaho boys who sacrificed their lives in the service of their country in the recent world war, and in former wars.

TO SERVE LIVING

"While it will be a memorial to the dead, however, this shrine will serve the living and will offer them an opportunity to protect their welfare for the future.

"It is fitting that this memorial should take the form of an armory and gymnasium. Statistics of the last war showed that 25 per cent of those who were called to service were found unfit for duty. Physical education and athletics would correct many such physical deficiencies in their early stages.

REVIVE INTEREST

"The creation of this association by the university student body and alumni and the Idaho department of the American Legion should serve to stimulate and revive Idaho's interest in the service of those boys who gave their all to their country in her time

BASKETBALL TROPHY CUP RECEIVED FROM ALUMNUS

James E. West, '16, Gives Handsome Loving Cup For Two Consecutive Championships

The University of Idaho is in receipt of a large, handsomely engraved loving cup given to it in honor of their two-season, two-conference championship basketball teams of the past two winters by James E. West of Seattle, a former University of Idaho student and a graduate of the law college in 1916.

An enthusiastic athletic fan and booster for his state university, Mr. West last winter told members of the team, when in Seattle, to play the University of Washington quintet, that if they succeeded in taking for the second consecutive year the conference pennant, he would give them a large trophy cup; the receipt of the cup now is the fulfillment of that promise. It is mounted on a huge ebony stand, is engraved with the names of those composing the two championship teams, and is one of the largest cups to be placed in the trophy cases of the gymnasium.

The loving cup is a handsome affair, and is a fitting memorial to the two championship teams of the past two winters. It is a fitting memorial to the two championship teams of the past two winters. It is a fitting memorial to the two championship teams of the past two winters.

IDAHO TRIPLES ENROLLMENT IN SIX YEARS PRESENT NUMBER STUDENTS TOTAL 1730

Increase of 631 in the total university enrollment in the last three years is revealed by the annual holiday check-up on enrollment just made by the registrar's office.

Enrollment is now 1730, being the total since the beginning of summer school, last June. The corresponding figure for the year 1920 was 1099.

Total enrollment for all of last year was 1736, being only 6 in excess of the pre-Christmas enrollment this year. As students continue to enter the institution during the second semester, university officials forecast a total enrollment of at least for the current university year. They base this estimate on the fact that 168 new students entered the institution after the December check-up of last year.

Present enrollment is almost triple the enrollment six years ago, being 292 per cent of the total enrollment for 1917-1918, which was 592. If this year's enrollment reaches 1900, as predicted, the enrollment will have more than trebled in size, being 320 per cent of the total for six years ago.

Dec. 17, 1920, the date on which the figures for that year were checked-up, was just 15 days after Dr. A. H. Upham arrived on the campus as president of the institution. Figures for successive years were compiled for Dec. 17 and Dec. 16, while this year's check-up was made Dec. 15. Mid-December enrollments were: 1920, 1099; 1921, 1332; 1922, 1568; 1923, 1730. Of present enrollment, 1303 students are resident in college courses; 57 non-resident; 82 in special courses; 74 in placement training for the United States Veterans' Bureau; and 214 were in summer school.

FRIDAY OPENS SEASON FOR VANDAL QUINTET

MONTANA COMES TO IDAHO FOR TWO GAME SERIES

Initial Appearance of MacMillan's Team In Coast Conference Attracts Wide Interest

The University of Idaho Vandals will open the Pacific Coast conference basketball season here Friday and Saturday nights when they meet the Montana university quintet in a two-game series, the first exhibition for the Bruins under the colors of the Pacific Coast league since their reception into the conference last month.

The games will be the opening contests for the northern division of the conference, and with the strengths of both teams comparatively unknown, are expected to prove interesting and give Coast sporting circles an insight as to the possibilities of the Idaho two-year champions this season. Montana, as far as experienced material is concerned, will be considerably better off than will Idaho. She will be able to place a number of veterans from last year in Friday's lineup, while Idaho will have but one letterman again in uniform.

STRENGTH WATCHED

Conference sporting critics will watch with interest these first two games for indications as to Idaho's probable strength this season in lieu of her two previous two-conference championship quintets. It is hardly expected, however, that she will be able to again place a team in the pennant race equal to those of the two previous years, but greater miracles have happened before at Idaho, and she will be faced throughout the season with cautious, alert teams, mindful of the fighting prowess of the Gem Staters.

GREATER OPPORTUNITIES FOR MID-YEAR ENTRANCE

SECOND SEMESTER REGISTRATION SET FOR FEB. 4 AND 5

Increase In Entrants Anticipated; 168 Entered Last Year; Many Courses Open

Increased opportunities are offered this year to new students to start their work at the University of Idaho at mid-year, according to announcement from the office of President A. H. Upham. Registration for the second semester is set for Feb. 4 and 5, and all university exercises for the second half-year start Wednesday morning, Feb. 6.

Last year the number of students entering the university after the holidays was 168. A larger number is expected by the university administration this year.

ENTRANCE UNRESTRICTED

Students who are accommodated by mid-year entrance includes not only the January graduates of the high schools, but also those who have had to remain out of school for half a year for financial or other reasons. Mid-year entrants also include a good many students who already have had some work at the university.

Inquiries relative to second semester work are now being received by university officers, and an increasing number of such letters is expected.

Of the seven schools and colleges of which the university is composed, it is announced that all except the school of mines and the college of engineering, in their so-called "fixed curricula," are prepared to receive new students in February. These include the college of letters and science, covering the general arts and science courses, home economics, pre-medical, business and music curricula; the college of agriculture, college of law, school of education, and the school of forestry.

WANT POINT SYSTEM FOR WOMENS SPORTS

CO-EDS WISH TO EARN LETTERS FOR TAKING PART IN ATHLETICS

Plan Is Approved By Faculty And Coach Mathews

Advocacy for the Women's Point System was formally started at the special assembly this morning when an open letter from the Woman's Athletic Association and their chart of scoring was read to the A. S. U. I. by the student body president. The letter is as follows:

Men have the reputation of a greater sense of justice and fairness than girls. For this reason, we want to lay the matter of the new point system of the Woman's Athletic Association before the men in your house, that they may understand it before it's acceptance is proposed at the A. S. U. I. meeting on January 8.

Before we even start on this, the girls want it plainly understood that their sports in no way are comparable to the men's athletics. But we are sure that the men of the University of Idaho are even less anxious than the girls that we develop a race of Amazons that could stand such strenuous training. However, (and here's where the point of fairness comes in,) there are some girls in the university who deserve recognition by their school for all around ability in women's athletics.

Bob Fisher, picked as center on the second all-coast team. His steady work during the season marked him as one of the most powerful in the conference.

STUDENTS STRAW VOTE GIVES COOLIDGE EDGE

FIVE LEADING ISSUES SELECTED FOR 1924 CAMPAIGN

McAdoo Given Preference As Democratic Candidate; Primaries Conducted By History Class

Students of American history, 155 in number, who voted in a presidential primary before the holidays, and whose vote has just been compiled, chose President Calvin R. Coolidge and William G. McAdoo as the Republican and Democratic favorites for the 1924 presidential nominations. As the five leading 1924 campaign issues the students selected in order of their importance, (1) readjustment of taxes, (2) the world court, (3) the soldiers' bonus, (4) agricultural relief, (5) immigration.

The political census was taken under the direction of Prof. C. J. Brosnan, who gives each year a review of current history in connection with his courses in United States history. The students are asked to form their own political opinions after an intensive study of library material outlined by Prof. Brosnan, and the votes are cast in secret.

In the Republican "primaries," President Coolidge received 93 per cent of the votes cast and Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes received five per cent, while Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, came third. Senators Borah and Gooding of Idaho received one vote each. Of the Democrats, William G. McAdoo captured 80 per cent of the votes, with Henry Ford getting all the rest but one, which went to Oscar Underwood of Alabama.

BOISE WILL GET GAME ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Idaho Will Be Matched With Non-Conference Team, Says Mathews

Boise will have a Thanksgiving day football game to replace the annual Armistice day classic if present attempts to schedule a game there between Idaho and some non-conference team of first-rate caliber are successful. Definite offers for a game have been wired to several big colleges and acceptance from any of them will make Boise the seat of another great gridiron contest.

Coach R. L. Mathews and Dr. M. F. Angell, dean of the college of letters and science, Idaho representatives at both the Pacific coast and Northwest conference meetings, made every effort to arrange an Armistice day game at Boise, or at least to hold that date open but, due to necessary schedule arrangements with other conference teams, this was impossible. Idaho's membership in both western conferences made it inevitable that schedule conflicts should arise and even now dates for several important games are still tentative.

Administration authorities at the university are determined to arrange a first-class game at Boise, probably on Thanksgiving day, and when the plans definitely materialize, south Idaho football fans may look forward to seeing an unusually good game.

STUART WALKER TO GIVE FOUR BRILLIANT PLAYS

Portmanteau Players Will Present Remarkable Dramas That Scored In East

Four one act plays, considered to be the finest fantasies of modern playwrights will be presented by Stuart Walker's Portmanteau Theatre players next Tuesday night, Jan. 15, by a special arrangement made by the Artist course committee. The extra presentation, which will be given two days before the regularly scheduled "Book of Job," to be given the night of Thursday, Jan. 17, includes "The Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," "Nevertheless," and "The Very Naked Boy," by Stuart Walker, and "The Gods of the Mountains," by Lord Dunsany.

"The Very Naked Boy," and "Nevertheless" are of the interior type, and are given before the curtain. Usually, they are curtain raisers in the style that has made Stuart Walker one of the leading writers of one

The W. A. A. Point System

Co-ed athletic letter awards are to be commended if fairness and popularity among other colleges are any criterion. The college woman who pays the same student body fees and is governed by the same student body regulations as the men certainly deserves recognition for her efforts in athletics. By far the most satisfactory method yet devised for making such awards is the point system which is being used by many colleges and universities over all the country. The Women's Athletic Association, in presenting a carefully tabulated point system endorsed by Coach Mathews, is offering the student body an opportunity to recognize its co-eds in a branch of campus activity where they have already made remarkable progress.

Watch It

Forewarned is forearmed. It is an easy matter to jeer and hoot opposing teams during a basketball game. But just remember that it isn't done at Idaho. Any person guilty of such action places a blot upon Idaho's sportsmanship record. So remember that Idaho does not want that kind of rooting. Tomorrow Idaho students will have their first opportunity to see their Vandals in action. Tomorrow a strong, semi-professional coast team will come to Moscow to play Idaho. Do not forget that the members of this team are visitors and strangers on the Idaho campus and that, as such, they will be susceptible to many impressions which they will carry home. And these impressions of Idaho, made by Idaho students, will determine whether this team will leave Moscow a booster or a knocker.

RIFLE TEAM TO COMPETE FOR THE HEARST TROPHY

Try-outs For Team Held On Indoor Range; Best Five To Make Team

Preliminary tryouts, for the purpose of picking a rifle team to represent the university in the contest for the William Randolph Hearst rifle cup, are being held in the target range, in the basement of the Administration building. Two teams of 15 men each are trying for places on the team. The following men are among the candidates: S. F. Coyle, B. V. Friedman, R. Pickering, T. Fulton, L. Hedge, R. Lawson, L. Breneman, R. Moore, R. A. Barnett, G. Waters, M. Luvass, A. Hatch, F. Hemplman, E. Sowder, L. Wilson, G. Williams, W. Pettibone, D. Shamberger, J. Bauer, C. Diehl, H. Munten, O. Huetner, H. Swanson, R. Lundquist, C. Chapman, and W. Kayser.

From this squad of men the highest seven will be chosen to represent the university in the William Randolph Hearst trophy shoot, which will be held sometime in the near future. Approximately 15 colleges and universities will compete in this contest.

CUP FOR WINNERS The winning team will be presented with a beautiful trophy cup and the school which is successful in winning three contests will become the permanent possessor of the trophy. Men comprising the winning team will be honored with individual gold medals symbolical of their prowess with the rifle.

The commanding general of the sixth Corps area has charge of the shoot and will make all arrangements pertaining to the contest. Idaho's preliminary scores must be sent in to the general's headquarters not later than January 11.

Teams competing in the Hearst shoot will be made up of seven men and the scores of the highest five will be the only ones counted in the final determining score. Scores of the shoot are to be sent by telegraph to the office in charge.

After the Hearst contest the year's highest teams will compete in a national shoot to determine the championship team of the United States.

POWER that can blast a mountain or crack a boulder—dig an isthmian canal or drain a swamp on the farm—has been created by the chemical engineer.

Today, explosives power is employed both in the heaviest and in the most delicate operations. The scientific control of this resistless energy has enabled explosives engineers to utilize it in a thousand ways undreamed of a generation ago.

Recently at the Frazier Quarries of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad in West Virginia, 60,000 pounds of du Pont dynamite were exploded at one time to bring down five hundred million pounds of stone for ballast. Literally a whole hillside was blasted out.

But in a power house in Baltimore, du Pont explosives were used to perform a different and delicate operation. This work involved blasting out five concrete bases in the basement of the building without damage to a switchboard that governed the distribution of power over a large section of the city. And in making these blasts a glass of water and some wire nails placed on their heads in an upright position were set near the blast and were not disturbed by the explosion.

So, in dynamite, we have a servant that will do our bidding in little things as well as big—a power that can be made to perform our work easier, better and cheaper in our industries and on our farms.

The du Pont Company has been making explosives since 1802. With the development in explosives manufacture have come many improvements to expand the use of the product. And it has been the privilege of du Pont, through exhaustive research and experiment, to lead the way.

Send for "Farmers' Handbook of Explosives" for full information about explosives on the farm.

unclassified students are seated in assembly according to the number of years they have attended the university, according to an announcement by "Babe" Brown, chairman of the committee on arrangements. The new plan of seating went into effect at the assembly today.

If students in these courses have been at the university for two years they will be seated with the junior class, or in accordance with the position they would be occupying in the regular courses. This arrangement was made necessary through a misunderstanding as to the rating in seniority of short course students.

The new seating will be enforced by the "I" Club, composed of the lettermen, and the Inter-collegiate Knights chapter, and the definite seating and leaving of the assemblies in order of their seniority, will be maintained permanently.

Seventeen Vandal Grid Men Qualify for Athletic Awards

Go! To Receive Three Ring Sweater; Eight Win Two-Stripe Sweater

Seventeen members of the University of Idaho football team this fall will be awarded sweaters upon a recommendation made by Coach R. L. Mathews to the athletic board of the Associated Students.

Those to receive awards are as follows. For three years of service, Abe Goff of Walla Walla, receives the three-ring sweater for having played two years of varsity ball, Sylvester Kieffner of Twin Falls, Vernon Stivers of Moscow, Maurice Kline of Plainsfield, N. J., Charles Hausen of Rupert, Lyle Tapper of Richfield, Frank Kinnison of Payette, Johnny Vesser of Coeur d'Alene, and Lawrence Quinn of Boise, are given two-ring sweaters. "Bob" Fitzke of La Crosse, Wis., W. L. Stephens and Ray Stephens of Blackfoot, Neal Nelson of Heyburn, Otto Huefner of Kellogg, Wayne Davis of St. Anthony, Victor Cameron of Boise, and Theodore Bucklin of Idaho Falls, receive one-year service stripes.

Swimming Pool for Moscow Planned by Business Men

Construction of a swimming pool and natatorium in Moscow seems assured by a proposal made by N. Williamson of the Purity Creamery company to the Chamber of Commerce. The plan will receive the support of university students and faculty members, President A. H. Upham told members of the Chamber of Commerce at its last meeting.

Funds will be raised immediately by a Chamber of Commerce committee to assure immediate construction. It is expected that the plunge will be actually in use during the spring months.

Moscow has talked about a municipal natatorium for years but funds never have been available. Mr. Williamson's proposal that he would build a natatorium himself, provided his patrons would buy season tickets in advance, to show their interest in the project, was, therefore, hailed with enthusiasm at several public meetings.

Committees are now selling 1000 season tickets at $10 each, interchangeable within families and good for six months. The funds thus accumulated are to be placed in a bank and not touched by the natatorium company until the pool is completed in accordance with plans submitted to the Chamber of Commerce.

For students, tickets will be sold at $2.50 each, good for the remainder of the university year.

"The American Legion pays tribute in several ways to the memories of those who died in the world war. Not only does it assist in raising funds for the construction of memorial buildings and statues in many parts of the country, but Legion posts in every community have participated in Memorial Day exercises, decorated the graves of fallen comrades at home and abroad, and conducted military funerals for former service men who have died since their return to America.

INDIANA BUILDS MEMORIAL

"Other states are erecting memorials. For instance, the state of Indiana will erect a $5,000,000 memorial building which will house Legion national headquarters. Legionnaires in the state of Washington have started a campaign to build a $500,000 memorial to the Legion members who were assassinated at Centralia.

Distinguished Historian Spoke at Assembly Today

"War and Revolution" Subject of Inspiring Address By Dr. Frank A. Golder

Dr. Frank A. Golder, a distinguished historian, who is in charge of the Hoover war library at Stanford university, and who has been engaged during the past three years in collecting material for this library in Europe, is a university visitor on Monday and today.

Himself a native of Russia, he came to the United States in early childhood and received all of his education here and finally graduated from Harvard university. At the time of the breaking out of the European war, Dr. Golder was engaged in research work in the archives of the Russian government at St. Petersburg, investigating for the State department of the United States, the history of the American purchase of Alaska from Russia.

During the past few years his time has been divided between work in collecting the material for the Hoover library at Stanford and assistance to the American Relief association under the direction of Herbert Hoover.

Boxing Begins This Week New Equipment Purchased

Boxing classes under the directions of "Bob" Ferris will be started in the gymnasium, according to the bulletin which will be posted Wednesday by the athletic department. This bulletin will give full information about the course in boxing instruction which is being offered by the university for the first time.

"The Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," is a one act play that has been the most popular written by any modern playwright. It has already been presented over a thousand times in the United States alone, and its appeal in the realm of pure phantasy is greater than ever.

Where Stuart Walker is of the type of writer who deals with real life only in its more naive aspects, almost as though they were fairy tales, Lord Dunsany is bizarre, strange and fantastic. This young Irish genius has dared to introduce into this age of realism a dash of pure romance that he is today the only man who is trusted by the soldier playwright as a disconnected with the more hampering limits of fact.

But in all of the four plays which will be given in this special performance, which is largely the result of Stuart Walker's friendship for Dr. Milver, who was his former English instructor, there is a spontaneity and poetry which must live because of its beauty even above its great dramatic worth. Moreover, both Dunsany's plays are Stuart Walker's own permit an unleashed imagination in the way of decorations and costumes, and opportunity which he has taken excellent advantage of in the productions which will be seen here.

Since Walker asked his advance agent to do all that was possible by way of giving the University of Idaho the benefit of his best at the least cost to them, the night performance here is given at the regular matinee price.

TWELVE WEEKS COURSE FOR FOREST RANGERS

Dean Miller Arranges A Special Short Course; New Courses Will Be Available

A special 12-weeks course for forest rangers began Monday, January 7. This work is intended for three classes of students, according to Dean F. G. Miller—students who have had more or less high school training and wish to enter ranger work; those who are already rangers and wish to perfect themselves; and men who have had practical experience in other phases of the lumber industry.

A complete schedule of new courses has started. These courses form the second term of work for ranger students who were enrolled in the fall.

Courses offered include forest administration, which gives acquaintance with the organization and regulations of the forest service; identification of conifers, dealing with the characters of the cone-bearing trees; practice of silvi-culture, describing natural and artificial methods of forest regeneration; scaling and cruising; surveying and mapping; forest protection; wood technology; mechanical drawing; and the following elective courses: grazing, animal husbandry, veterinary science, English composition, mathematics, and first aid to the injured.

PROF BONNETT RESIGNS POSITION ON AG. FACULTY

Will Enter Seed Business In Moscow; Member Idaho Faculty Five Years

Resignation of Prof. R. K. Bonnett from his position as professor of agronomy and agronomist of the experiment station, which he has held for the last five years, is announced by Dean E. J. Iddings, dean of the college of agriculture of the university. Professor Bonnett, whose resignation takes effect Feb. 1, will enter business in Moscow as a member of the Washburn & Wilson company, seed dealers.

As a member of the Idaho faculty and experiment station staff, Prof. Bonnett has specialized in teaching forage crops and plant breeding and has taken an active part in the experiment station undertakings in the department of agronomy. During the period of his connection with the institution it has been the policy to unify the experiment station program of the state in so far as possible, so that the investigations conducted on the sub-station farms would be correlated with those pursued at the home station at Moscow.

Work of the irrigated sub-station at Aberdeen, the high altitude sub-station at Felt, and the cut-over land sub-station at Sandpoint, has been devoted largely to a program of crops and soils work. Professor Bonnett has been sympathetic with this program and has done much, it is announced, to unify and correlate the entire Idaho program in agronomy. He has done considerable extension work and has judged at many fairs and is well known in many parts of the state. He has been active in general university affairs and is chairman of the faculty calendar committee.

Professor Bonnett is a graduate of Kansas State Agriculture college and holds a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin. Before coming to Idaho he was a member of the teaching and experiment station staff at Kansas State Agricultural college, where he taught several classes in agronomy, and had an experiment station assignment in the investigation of pasture grasses.

Championship Steer Sold to Iowa State

E-dah-ho, junior shorthorn steer bred and exhibited by the University of Idaho, has been sold to the State College of Iowa at Ames, according to C. W. Hickman, professor of Animal Husbandry of the university college of agriculture.

The disposal of this animal recalls to the campus an event of last year when the new beef barn was formally opened. The annual Ag Bawl was the occasion and to those persons who attended will be recalled the contest and the crowning of Miss Helen White, harvest queen, for offering the most appropriate title for the young steer.

E-dah-ho is now 11 months old and weighs 945 pounds. He won grand championship over all breeds and ages at the Pacific International Livestock show at Portland, and first prize at the American Royal Livestock exposition at Kansas City, prior to the exhibition at Chicago.

Iowa State college plans to use him in class and exhibition work during the year and to show him next year as a yearling.

FRIDAY OPENS SEASON FOR VANDAL QUINTET

son tour of northern Idaho and eastern Washington, on which she met some of the strongest semi-professional aggregations in the northwest, the squad is in excellent shape for the coming season. One of the greatest weaknesses in the eyes of Coach David MacMillan before the trip was the lack of co-ordination between the players and their inexperience, and this he believes, has been materially bettered during the past two weeks.

"It is hard to say just what prospects we have this season," he said. "Only conference competition will tell. The men seem to be rounding out in good shape, and I think that they will be able to give a pretty good account of themselves Friday and throughout the season."

PERSONNEL Those who have been showing up to good advantage on the Idaho squad this season so far from whose number Coach MacMillan will choose his team for the opening games are Harold Telford, captain and all-coast guard last year, "Bob" Fitzke, center, Neal Nelson, guard, and center, Guy Penwell, forward, Walter Reamer, forward, William Lanson, forward, Dale Vohs, center, Vernon Stivers, forward, Maurice Kline, guard, and Errol Hillman, forward.

aesthetic center of the continental society with a warmth that assured their success.

America too has paid her tribute. New York and Boston were taken by storm and the success here of the chorus has been constant and glowing.

Last year the scheduled appearance at Idaho of the Ukrainians was postponed by reason of a special request of the Mexican government that they remain for a longer tour there. For that reason all contracts of the chorus along the Pacific coast were cancelled.

COLOR AND COSTUMES The quaint color of their native Ukraine lends a dash of romance to the entire concert. The producer Koshetz, has skillfully worked in touches of old world atmosphere and their costumes are the elaborate, gaily bedecked regalia of Russia—leather boots, most of them red, and the men wearing loose nickerbockers of bright hues and long coats. The women dress also in bright colors, some of the characteristic head dresses being crowned with fruits and flowers.

PRESS PRAISES CHORUS

The St. Paul Pioneer Press said of their presentation there: "The Ukrainian National Chorus sang Friday evening. After recording that fact one stops, wondering what words can be found in which to express the profound and bewildering beauties of the performance. How is it possible to tell of a musical experience so overwhelming in its power, so arresting in its emotional effect!"

"On the conductor's stand before them was a man in European evening dress who, without a baton, extracted such music from his choristers as those who heard it will never forget. Many choruses obtain precision of attack, faithful pitch, smooth ensemble. These singers have all that, and much more. There tone is utterly amazing. The conductor manipulates it as though it were a great mass of perfectly pliable ductile material. And considering that the voices range from high soprano to the contra-basses which no nation except Russia seems able to produce (and such basses!) the perfect homogeneity of vocal substance is incredible.

"Some times the ensemble is reminiscent of a wind orchestra; sometimes of an infinitely splendid pipe organ. Always its points of light and color are focused to unbelievable brilliance.

"Altogether, the concert was a tremendous musical experience whose profundity is not to be described in words."

The Point that has Youth Eternal No style of writing can distort it—no years of use can wear it away. PARKER DUOFOLD might well be called the Fountain Pen of Youth. Not that its oversize ink-sac is everlasting—it is not. Yet should it wear out a few years hence it will take but five minutes to replace it. But the point—the most vital part of a pen—this Duofold point will far outlast the generation that writes with it. No need to decline to lend your room-mate this pen, for it never once loses its original shape. It's as smooth as a polished jewel bearing—hence it needs no "breaking in." Try this super-smooth Parker beside any pen on earth regardless of price. There's a lure in its fit and balanced swing. It urges your hand to its work—it gives your mind free rein! So don't ever buy an unruly pen—don't use one—such pens distract and discourage. They're the reason Parker created the Duofold. All good pen counters have it. In his first team selections Varnell gives the University of California four places. Stanford takes second place with three men on the lineup; the University of Washington has two; and the University of Idaho and the University of Southern California one each.

Frosh Hoop Men to Meet Cheney Normal Friday

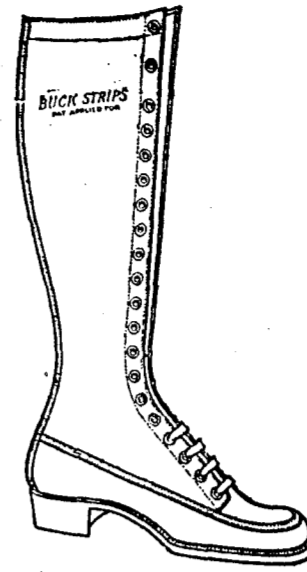

The freshman basketball team will have the first game of the season with the Cheney Normal quintet in the university gymnasium, Friday, January 11. Other games announced by the graduate manager are two with the Lewiston Normal one of which will be played in Moscow and the other in Lewiston. Games with W. S. C. Gonzaga, and some of the larger high schools are being considered but as yet have not been definitely arranged.

The two games between the Normal and the Frosh were hard fought last year, each team winning one game and the first year fans are expecting a fast contest when the two teams mix here next Friday night. Daily work-outs have put the frosh in tip-top shape and with some of last year's best high school basketball men to select from, and exceptionally swift team is expected. Under the direction of Coaches Mathews and MacMillan the yearlings have been developing in good shape and in occasional scrimmages with the varsity they have shown good team work and accurate shooting.

Shall We Have an Up-to-Date Natatorium or Not?

Easiest, cheapest way ever inaugurated to have one—and a good one. Simplest way. Everybody has the opportunity not to have one but go on as we have been doing using gravel pits, stagnant streams or expensive long trips to where water is more plentiful.

The way to have one soon is show your willingness by purchasing a season ticket.

The way to kill it and go on as we have been without a natatorium is take no interest, assume an air of indifference, buy no tickets.

The proposers of this up to date natatorium, believing that it's one of the most necessary things—believing that it's a good thing for our town and will do a lot—a whole lot too, to bring additional hundreds here who do not now come. Those crowds of strangers will swim. We'll make them glad they have come. They'll be sent up town feeling good. They'll spend money and help give the streets a busy look. We'll do our share, put up all, the expense, operate and maintain it in a businesslike, masterful manner.

LET IT BE UNDERSTOOD that you are not being asked to give a donation—NO, NOT AT ALL—but given in exchange for $10.00 6 months' swimming for your entire family.

Let's get to work. It should not be necessary to have solicitors call on you. Simply call at First National Bank, any of the officers there will deliver to you a ticket.

The proposed sale of season tickets will cover less than half the expense of building this natatorium.

January 15th the Purity Creamery Co. proposal to build this up to date natatorium is started or forgotten. Now it's up to you. What do you say—swim or not?

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN 1706-1790

Printer, journalist, diplomat, inventor, statesman, philosopher, wit. One of the authors of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, author of Poor Richard's Almanack; and one of the most eminent natural philosophers of his time.

But nobody had thought to do it

By bringing electricity down from the clouds over a kite string, it was a simple thing to prove that lightning was nothing more than a tremendous electrical flash.

For centuries before Franklin flew his kite in 1751 philosophers had been speculating about the nature of lightning. With electrified globes and charged bottles, others had evolved the theory that the puny sparks of the laboratory and the stupendous phenomenon of the heavens were related; but Franklin substituted fact for theory — by scientific experiment.

Roaring electrical discharges, man-made lightning as deadly as that from the clouds, are now produced by scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. They are part of experiments which are making it possible to use the power of mountain torrents farther and farther from the great industrial centers.

Electrical machines bearing the mark of the General Electric Company, in use throughout the world, are raising standards of living by doing the work of millions of men.
