TWO YEAR COURSE TO TEACH TRADES

Mechanical Arts Opens New Field for Idaho

Establishment of a two-year course in mechanics arts, to prepare young men for the trades, is to be announced in the new university catalog, now being prepared. Another innovation will be the giving of entrance examinations in May, in Boise, Pocatello and Moscow, to accommodate students from non-accredited high schools who otherwise would have to wait for their examinations until the following September.

Examinations this year will be given on May 23 and 24 it is announced. They will be repeated in September, just before the university year opens, but the September tests will be given in Moscow only. It is announced as a strict university requirement that students from non-accredited high schools must take these examinations.

COURSE IN MECHANICS ARTS

The new two-year course in mechanics arts is a trade course somewhat corresponding to the short courses in agriculture and forestry already being offered. It is not a preparatory course for the university course in mechanical engineering but admits students who have completed 10 units of high school work and gives them training in shop work and allied courses, in preparation for the trades. The newly-acquired engineering shops are said to offer unusual facilities for this work.

Courses in architecture leading to a new degree of bachelor of architecture are announced as designed to prepare students for the general practice of the profession or for one of its various specialties. The University architect maintains an office on the campus, which gives the students in architecture an opportunity to become familiar with actual work in the various divisions of his practice. Plans have also been made for a four-year curriculum in landscape architecture, the first year of which is now announced in the new catalog.

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE

A bachelor's degree in pre-nursing has been added, designed primarily for those who wish to prepare themselves for administrative, teaching, social service, or public health work. The curriculum consists of three years' work at the university and two years at some approved school of nursing or hospital.

The curricula now offered by the college of agriculture will be changed to one curriculum with majors in Agronomy, animal husbandry, dairy husbandry, horticulture, agricultural education, agricultural engineering, and general agriculture.

SENIOR AG STUDENT TO TEACH IN GOODING HIGH

Burford E. Kuhns of Twin Falls, a senior in the college of agriculture, has been elected an instructor in Smith-Hughes agriculture at the Gooding high school, according to an announcement by Dean E. J. Iddings, head of the college of agriculture.

Mr. Kuhns has already left the university for Gooding to take up his university work while on the job at Gooding and will graduate with his class in June.

Dean Iddings returned recently from the southern part of the state where he attended the feeders' day show at Caldwell, and was in Boise on business in connection with the university extension service, of which he is the acting head.

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

The Ball and Chain chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights will give a dance in the gymnasium Saturday night, at 8:00 p. m. Music will be furnished by the Collegiate Serenaders. The floor will be as good as it was at the "H" club dance, according to the Knights. Tickets will be $1.00 and can be obtained from any Knight.

FORMER IDAHO MAN SITED FOR BRAVERY BY WAR DEPARTMENT

Major Luther Felkner Was Hero At San Juan Hill

Major Luther Felker, retired army officer who was commandant of cadets at the University of Idaho for several years and commander of the Idaho S. A. T. C. unit during the war, has been cited for an act of conspicuous bravery at the battle of San Juan Hill, where Theodore Roosevelt won his laurels, according to word received here from Washington, D. C. Major Felker, after retirement, made his home at Boise for several years.

At the time the major, only 19 years of age, was a private in troop K of the First Cavalry. He and his companions were lying behind brush and grass at Bloody Ford on San Juan Creek, at the foot of San Juan Hill before the advance began.

FELKER IS VOLUNTEER
A deadly fire was then being rained upon them by the Spaniards on the hill. To silence one machine gun, which was taking a particularly heavy toll, Major Forest called for a volunteer to locate it.

Offering himself for the hazardous duty, young Felker ran three quarters of a mile forward, escaping the fire of the enemy only by fortune. He discovered the position of the gun nest and returned to his companions with the information.

Wayfaring Men," All-University Production Will Formally Open Junior Festivities Ending With Junior Prom

The Junior class will this year come into its own at the University of Idaho with the inauguration of Junior Week, a formal occasion which will begin Thursday evening, April 24 with the presentation of the university play, "Wayfaring Men," and will close Saturday afternoon, April 26 with a tea dance at Ridenbaugh hall. Fred Taylor, president of the junior class, states that the committee, consisting of Lew Rowlands, James Cunningham, and Floyd Marchesi, have plans well under way, and that no effort will be spared to make each entertainment an impressive junior contribution to the college year.

The Junior Prom will be formal and will be held in the university gymnasium. Sub-committees are making arrangements for appropriate programs, music and other details. Patrons and patronesses will be announced later. The Junior Prom has been an annual university dance since 1905, and is the third and last each year of three formal, the other two being the Athletic Ball, held on the night of the W. S. C.-Idaho football game, and the Military Ball, given on or about Washington's birthday. This year the Junior Prom will have an added impressiveness due to its connection with Junior Week.

Varsity Play Opens Week

By arrangement with John H. Cushman, director of dramatics, the university play will formally open Junior Week. This play was originally scheduled for a date early in April, but at the suggestion of Dean French, who is assisting the Juniors with the plans, Mr. Cushman postponed the play to accord with the time set for Junior Week.

FORMAL SHOWING
The fact that the play "Wayfaring Men" is an original production of a university student, Talbot Jennings, and will receive its first presentation upon the university campus, will serve to add an additional atmosphere of formality to the Junior festivities. In the centers, when new plays are given their "first nights," the occasion is always formal, and while no one will be asked to appear at the first performance of "Wayfaring Men" in full dress, nevertheless it is the desire of the Junior committee and of Dean French to make the occasion something more than is customary at the regular university dramatic productions. The play will be given two nights, April 23 and 24, the April 24 presentation being made Junior night.

College Church Day Planned for April 13

The Association of Moscow Ministers has extended an invitation to all university students to attend Sunday morning services during the remainder of the Lenten period and especially on Palm Sunday, April 13. Several of the leading churches have arranged special services for students and their pastors will talk on subjects of special interest to scholars. A prominent member of the association, in extending the invitation, said that the churches would welcome the attendance of campus groups and that reservations for them at any church can be made by calling Rev. H. O. Perry, telephone No. 1297.

Those who attend church regularly are asked to bring friends who do not and feel free to visit any denomination they choose.

AG CLUB MEMBERS PROPOSE GROUP WITH NATIONWIDE SCOPE

4-H's Seek Feasible Plan For Organizations

Plans looking to the formation of a national college organization of former club members and leaders were made at a meeting Saturday night in the University Hut of the Idaho "4-H" club with the Washington Green circle. These organizations include only club leaders and university students who have or are at present enrolled in boys and girls club work as conducted by the United States department of agriculture and university extension departments.

A joint committee was appointed to formulate definite plans of organization. Plans were also made for the annual Washington and Idaho club picnic on the state line, June 19, 1924, at which time 1,000 club members and leaders are expected to be present.

OBJECTS OF "4-H" CLUB

Objects of the Idaho "4-H" club, designed to help emphasize equally the "4-H's" in club work on the farms and the home in training of the head, heart, hands and for health, are: To provide a means of bringing together and stimulating the friendship between the students attending the University of Idaho who have been in club work; to cooperate in promoting and furthering the interest in club work among Idaho boys and girls on the farm and in the home; and to create among all club members in Idaho an interest in higher education at the University of Idaho.

The early part of the evening was devoted to a joint business meeting at which the Washington president, Miss Trudson, and the Idaho president, Milo Davis, Twin Falls, presided. Interesting talks were made by Mr. Underwood, assistant director of extension at Washington State college, Mr. Lounsbury, editor of the Washington club paper and director of publicity, and H. A. Stone, district club agent of the University of Idaho extension division.

JUNIOR WEEK IS INAUGURATED; TO BEGIN WITH PLAY, APRIL 24

The building will be of concrete, with brick facing and stone trimmings, and will be fireproof. Owing to the late start in construction, it is believed that the building will not be ready for occupancy before January 1, 1925. According to Mr. Hall, the plan of completing but the second floor and exterior was adopted in order to obtain actual use of the building as soon as possible.

DEAN DAVIS INITIATED INTO LAW FRATERNITY
Robert M. Davis, dean of the university law school, was Tuesday evening initiated as an honorary member into Kent chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, oldest national law fraternity in the country and the only national law fraternity on the Idaho campus. Dean Davis founded, and was a charter member of Davis chapter of the national order at the University of Arizona. The Arizona organization was originally formed as the Davis club and named after the Idaho law dean, but was later admitted into the national organization.

RECORDS OF SERVICE OF IDAHO'S SOLDIERS WILL BE COLLECTED
Plans for the Idaho memorial building project, which contemplates building upon the University of Idaho campus a combined armory and gymnasium in honor of Idaho's ex-service men, were perfected at a meeting of the board of directors of the association held at the university Saturday, March 29. At this meeting the board conferred with alumni representatives and with an undergraduate committee headed by Ted Turner of Caldwell.

'The Wren' to Be Given By Members of 'Curtain'
The Curtain will give a reading of "The Wren", a three-act play by Booth Tarkington, at the University Hut Thursday and Friday evenings, April 10 and 11, as its second dramatic offering of the college year. This play will be given in response to requests for another reading similar to "The Dover Road," done last February.

COMMITTEE APPROVES BUDGET OF UNIVERSITY
Members of the executive committee of the University of Idaho have approved the budget for the calendar year of the university as submitted by President A. H. Upham. Executive committee members also considered preliminary matters to come before the state board of education here on April 12.

Farmers' Fair' Planned as Elaborate Carnival
A "Farmers' Fair" will be staged by the University Ag club in Lewis Court, Friday evening, May 2, according to present plans of the organization. The fair will be in the form of a country carnival and it is planned to include side shows, games of chance, and other forms of similar entertainment.

EXECUTIVE GROUP CONSIDERS EDUCATIONAL PROBLEMS
Members of the executive committee of the University of Idaho have approved the budget for the calendar year of the university as submitted by President A. H. Upham. Executive committee members also considered preliminary matters to come before the state board of education here on April 12.

AG DAY APRIL 11 FORECASTS NOVEL PROGRAM
A "Little International" stock show and a parade, more than a mile in length, comprising floats and exhibits of the six departments of the College of Agriculture will be two new features of the annual Ag Day, slated for April 11, according to an announcement Tuesday by officers of the University Ag club.

Representatives Named To Executive Vacancies

Four junior and senior students have been elected to fill the new positions on the student executive board which were created by the reconstituted constitution of the associated students of the University of Idaho.

The students elected are: senior man, Vernon Patch of Payette; junior men, Wolfard Renshaw of Kamiah and Errol Hillman of Rexburg; and a junior woman, Margaret Springer of Boise.

These A. S. U. I. officers were elected to serve only for the remainder of this term.

NEW SCIENCE HALL CONTRACT AWARDED TO SALT LAKE FIRM

$153,000 Approximate Sum Of Successful Bid

The H. W. Baum company of Salt Lake City, Utah, has been awarded the general contract to build the University of Idaho $200,000 science hall, according to announcement Saturday by Commissioner W. J. Hall, head of the state department of public works, who is in charge of construction arrangements. The contract calls for completion of the exterior of the building and finishing the second floor and amounts to approximately $153,300.

Commissioner Hall will go over the ground either today or tomorrow with a representative of the H. W. Baum company and complete final arrangements.

WITTEP AWARDED CONTRACT

The contract for heating, amounting to $11,260, was awarded to C. E. Witte of Moscow. The electrical wiring contract will be awarded in a few days. The awarding of the plumbing contracts, the bids for which ranged from approximately $2,000 to $4,500, will be delayed.

Actual construction will begin early in April, as soon as the excavation and grading of the site are finished.

PLANS BY WEAVER

The plans, as designed by Rudolph Weaver, university architect, and head of the department of architecture, provide for a three-story building to be erected on the south half of the block occupied by Lindley hall and the geology building of the school of mines.

AG CLUB MEMBERS PROPOSE GROUP WITH NATIONWIDE SCOPE
Plans looking to the formation of a national college organization of former club members and leaders were made at a meeting Saturday night in the University Hut of the Idaho "4-H" club with the Washington Green circle. ### A. S. NOMINATIONS SET AT THURSDAY, APRIL 10

New Constitution Necessitates Many New Offices

A nominating assembly for election to A. S. U. I. offices for 1924-1925 will be held Thursday, April 10 at 4 p. m., in the university auditorium. This is in accordance with the A. S. U. I. constitution which provides that the student primary shall be held upon the third Thursday in April. Accordingly, this year the primary will be held April 17. Nominations may be made from the floor of the assembly, or within twenty-four hours of the primary, by petition bearing twenty-five names or more.

Nominees for student body president will be requested to make a statement not exceeding 100 words in the "Argonaut" issued the day before the primary elections. On the following Wednesday all candidates for elections may speak in assembly. No other form of campaigning is traditional at Idaho.

Nominations will be in order for the following offices: 1. President and 2. vice-president from the membership of the incoming senior class; 3. secretary from either the incoming senior or junior classes; 4. two men and one woman for the executive board from the incoming senior class; 5. two men and one woman for the executive board from the incoming junior class; 6. associate editor of the "Argonaut," editor and associate editor of the "Gem of the Mountains," editor and associate editor of "The Blue Bucket"; 7. dramatic manager; 8. manager of stock-judging teams; 9. yell-king. Total nominative offices, 17. Only the general offices and executive board, however, may be nominated at large; the other offices are provided for by nomination by boards or organizations as stated in the constitution. Number of nominative offices at large by any member of the student body is therefore, nine.

Applications will be received by Agnes Cox, secretary of the A. S. U. I. executive board, from anyone desiring appointment as student business managers as follows:

1. Freshman assistant manager of athletics—sweater in Junior year, $15.00 a month in Senior year.
2. Circulation manager of the "Argonaut"—becomes automatically manager of the "Argonaut" in Senior year—$3.00 per issue and percentage on advertising.
3. Assistant business manager of the "Gem of the Mountains," becomes business manager in Senior year—$10.00.
4. Assistant business manager of "The Blue Bucket," becomes manager in Senior year, percentage on advertising.

With the exception of Freshman athletic assistant, these offices are open at present for the year 1924-1925, consequently, with the exception of freshman athletic assistant, only juniors may apply. Appointments as new assistants will be made in May. Apply in writing to Agnes Cox in Registrar's office on or before Wednesday, April 9, 4 p. m. State qualifications and whether or not you intend to return next year. Freshmen may also apply to Albert Knudson, general manager, on or before the same date.

RECORDS OF SERVICE OF IDAHO'S SOLDIERS WILL BE COLLECTED

Plans for the Idaho memorial building project, which contemplates building upon the University of Idaho campus a combined armory and gymnasium in honor of Idaho's ex-service men, were perfected at a meeting of the board of directors of the association held at the university Saturday, March 29. At this meeting the board conferred with alumni representatives and with an undergraduate committee headed by Ted Turner of Caldwell.

At this meeting the board discussed plans for securing the service records of every Idaho man and woman who served in the world war. These records will be kept in quarters especially designed for this purpose and will form the basis for a permanent historical collection. Not only will official data be gathered, but also such interesting material in the form of

'LITTLE INTERNATIONAL' STOCK SHOW PLANNED

Ag Day April 11 Forecasts Novel Program

A "Little International" stock show and a parade, more than a mile in length, comprising floats and exhibits of the six departments of the College of Agriculture will be two new features of the annual Ag Day, slated for April 11, according to an announcement Tuesday by officers of the University Ag club.

Patterned after the International stock show held annually at Chicago, the stock exhibits and showing and fitting contests planned for Ag Day will be similar to "Little Internationals" staged by agricultural schools throughout the country.

Following the judging of stock, which will start at 8 o'clock in the morning, the parade will form and start from the Latah county fair grounds at Deakin and Sixth streets. The line of march will move up Sixth and turn south on Main to University avenue and Main street and continue up University avenue to the campus.

SHOW TO FOLLOW JUDGING

At noon faculty and student members of the College of Agriculture will lunch in barbecue fashion at the dairy building.

In the afternoon student judges of the stock will give reasons for their selections and a general discussion of dairy stock raising problems will follow. The "Little International" stock show will open at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at Lewis Court.

E. V. Ellington, head of the dairy department of Washington State college, will conduct the judging of the university dairy cattle. He will be assisted by John L. Smith, well-known dairy cattle judge of Spokane and William Auld, manager of the Waikiki farms near Spokane. Joe Knott of the school of agriculture at W. S. C. has been selected to judge the fitting and showing contests.

In the animal husbandry division Prof. A. B. Hackedom of W. S. C., J. H. McCroskey, cattle breeder of Garfield and John Burns, herdsman at W. S. C., will act as judges.

HIGH SCHOOLS TO CONTEST

In addition to the judging of university stock, Prof. W. B. Armstrong will conduct judging contests between the high schools of north Idaho which carry agricultural work under the

COMMITTEE APPROVES BUDGET OF UNIVERSITY

Executive Group Considers Educational Problems

Members of the executive committee of the University of Idaho have approved the budget for the calendar year of the university as submitted by President A. H. Upham. Executive committee members also considered preliminary matters to come before the state board of education here on April 12.

Stanly A. Easton of Kellogg, chairman of the executive committee, and Huntington Taylor, Coeur d'Alene, returned to their homes today. Irvin E. Rockwell, another member of the executive committee and president of the state board of education, returned to his home today at Bellevue. President Upham is also a member of the executive committee of the university.

'Farmers' Fair' Planned as Elaborate Carnival

A "Farmers' Fair" will be staged by the University Ag club in Lewis Court, Friday evening, May 2, according to present plans of the organization. The fair will be in the form of a country carnival and it is planned to include side shows, games of chance, and other forms of similar entertainment.

A special feature of the fair will be a temporary dance floor to be erected in one end of the court, where the best campus orchestra available will furnish music for dancing. R. E. Everly is in charge of the affair.

Nominations

With the announcement of the annual A. S. U. I. nominating assembly scheduled for April 10, student attention will be once more focused on the campus political situation. It almost goes without saying that this is a time when every Idaho student should answer to the polls with his intelligent vote.

On your A. S. U. I. officers for 1924-1925 depend the strength and progress of your student body organization. In their hands you entrust the solemn responsibility of maintaining and promoting the ideals, traditions, and spirit of Idaho; and to them you will have pledged your united support and obeisance for the coming year.

Consider, then, before you cast your ballot or make a nomination: can you truly expect from your chosen candidate the proper fulfillment of the office; and will you be willing to accord him that unquestioned support he will demand if elected.

April Fool

A new wrinkle in Argonaut customs appears in this issue, with the entire back page devoted to an April Fool sheet. Two of the staff editors were in entire charge of this production, and it has been published with the distinct understanding that there should be no malicious humor involved. There will naturally be some of the horseplay and tomfoolery that may be expected in an undertaking of this kind, but none of it was written with derogatory intent. It is sincerely hoped that the faculty members and students pushed to the front in this manner will accept the humor in the vein that it was intended—merely innocent, whole-hearted fun.

the club amused themselves by playing games. Some one suggested drop the handkerchief, but after much inquiry and merriment it was found that everyone had forgot to bring one so they played Pillow instead. Parson Stubblefield entered into the fun with much gusto and when Talbot Jennings remarked that he had kissed a certain young lady 17 or 18 times more than the rules allowed the parson playfully knocked out three of Talbot's front teeth and shoved him on the hot stove laughing merrily all the while. In the midst of the hilarious fun that followed Lefty Marinneau was blindfolded and during one of the games he thrust his hand in the hot steam of the tea kettle and said something that the reporter did not catch, but immediately after 9 of the ladies went home. After the rest of the ladies had left, the boys broke up some blue and white china dishes and had quite a lively time with the gate receipts. Every member of the English club declared that it was the best time that they had had in years.

Moscow business men, it is announced, have offered numerous prizes for the showing and fitting contests and stock judging. Both students and members of the faculty of the Agricultural college believe that Ag Day will be an opportune time for north Idaho farmers to visit and inspect the University farm and its properties and see what progress is being made. Especially are they anxious to have farmers attend the evening stock show.

Son of a London soap-boiler who became Astronomer-Royal. At the age of 20 headed an expedition to chart the stars of the Southern hemisphere. Financed and handled the printing of Newton's immortal Principia.

The comet came back

The great comet that was seen by William of Normandy returned to our skies in 1910 on its eleventh visit since the Conquest. Astronomers knew when it would appear, and the exact spot in the sky where it would first be visible.

Edmund Halley's mathematical calculation of the great orbit of this 76-year visitor—his scientific proof that comets are part of our solar system—was a brilliant application of the then unpublished Principia of his friend Sir Isaac Newton.

The laws of motion that Newton and Halley proved to govern the movements of a comet are used by scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to determine the orbit of electrons in vacuum tubes.

As spectacular as a comet has been the world's electrical development. By continuous scientific research the General Electric Company has accelerated this development and has become a leader in the industry.

Sprightly and dainty and marked with an even tempo. ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

"It has long been my most earnest desire," said Mr. Marineau, in his speech of acceptance from the Ad. building fountain, "to raise the moral standing of the pleasures indulged in by the co-eds and he-eds. With the co-operation of the dean of women I hope that I shall be able to install in the Ad building basement elaborate card rooms—tow-bits to be the traditional limit) where students may meet in social intercourse. A most fitting adjunct to the card rooms will be a luxurious billiard parlor, such is the age ushered in by the regime of bobbed hair."

The Pep band is backing Mr. Marineau in his administration, which they greeted with a hilarious demonstration staged in the dairy barn.

The cheers of the enthusiastic Idaho students mingled with sound of cracking peanuts in the president's office as Captain Lloyd, laughing merrily, stepped forward to receive the token.

"I will state," he said in his quaint Norwegian accent, "that political exigencies demand emergentist promptitude, and while the United States is indissoluble in conception and invisible in intent, treason and internecine disagreement have ruptured the consanguinity of patriotism beyond the powers of comprehension." The rest of his speech was lost in the laughter and applause that followed this witty epigram.

The cherry military students crowded around and pressed bouquets of sweetly smelling rhubarb upon the officers and the ceremony was properly ended by everyone joining and singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The entire Ag college turned out to meet the Bug yesterday noon as it brought the famous race horse operator and his fiery piece of horseflesh to Moscow.

Football is to be dispensed with and MacLean field will be converted at once into the finest race course north of the famous track at Tia Juana. Thus Idaho's fame may be further spread and new classes of students will be drawn to the university—including a goodly number of diamond studded, checker-suited sons of Africa.

GOOGLE'S STATEMENT

"I shall devote all my talents and experience to training the Idaho men, and co-eds as well, to play the ponies so that Idaho shall rival the Kentucky derbies," concluded Prof. Google as he playfully swallowed his cigar, in an exclusive interview to the Argonaut. (Get your swagger sticks, girls.)

PARADISE CREEK TO BE CANALIZED

Mr. Priest and Mr. Taylor since their return from Venice last fall after receiving a degree in Dago Laws. After succumbing to the alluring, dreamy, fascinations of the watery streets of romance they embodied this plan in their visions of a greater Idaho, yes THE GREATER IDAHO so widely celebrated in Gem state nightmares. But one accomplishment remains—that is a provision for the Venetian moonshine to play about the campus and this famous blue lagoon. Latest advices assert that this is to be secretly effected simultaneously with the opening of the canal.

As outlined by Rudolph Weaver, special architect, in cooperation with Messrs. Priest and Taylor, the canal will be of Palouse cement throughout, of a width averaging fifty feet. The creek thus widened is designed primarily for nocturnal navigation between the University of Idaho and W. S. C. A fleet of some two hundred Neopolitan gondolas, of a sport roaster model, have been ordered from the Ford Motor company of Coeur d'Alene to be constructed under the personal supervision of Fred Crandall and Sylvester Kleffner, who after three years of academic experimentation have perfected a gondola which is propelled by love alone.

FANCY GONDOLAS

The Gondolas are to be owned by a joint stock corporation organized by Professor H. C. Dale, to be known as the Fussers' Holding company, Limited. The interior will be colored in a tiffany blend with a general limousine construction. Imported canaries will accompany each romantic "bark" so as to alleviate the necessity on the part of each aquatic sheik of serenading his fair innamorata. All fraternity serenades will hereafter be given from a fleet of gondolas on the canal. Professor Weaver has met with superlative success in working out designs for the esthetic tone and decoration of the canal precisely in pure Neopolitan style, thanks to the untiring historical research conducted by Prof. C. J. Brosnan, and well illustrated by his chalk talk.

PLANT PRUNE TREES

Frank Minas and Art Golden have altruistically volunteered, upon the assurance of special privileges, to line the banks of the canal with an aristocratic grove of the highly esteemed Boise prune trees. The foresters, not to be outdone, have already sent Rodgers Wheaton and Clarence Olson south to Louisiana to procure cypress trees and on their return trip they will secure a shipment of California palms, which, harmonized with the Boise prunes, will alluringly grace the canal.

The tinge of romance will hover over the entire canal, pervaded with enchantment. Little resting coves will be constructed at frequent intervals just large enough to accommodate a single gondola, where couples may find a retreat for fascinating tete-tetes upon the murmuring, blue waters. Walter K. Garret has devoted the height of his luminous talent to the construction of an intricate lighting system which will shed a soft, shadowy glow of blue and pink light over the waters, in the absence of the warm moonbeams.

PERFUMED WATERS

Hodgins' have volunteered to furnish sufficient water of roses to make the Paradise waters fragrant with Persian splendor and the air redolent with the grandeur of the mystic orient.

Formal opening is scheduled for May 1, when Dean Permeal French will smash a bottle a bottle of Paradise water across the bow of her private gondola, the first to be launched, followed by the student fleet launched in a cloud of canal water.

Gondolas may be signed for a the Registrar's office.

RECORDS OF SERVICE OF IDAHO SOLDIERS WILL BE COLLECTED

diaries, letters, or memoirs as may be made available.

Paul Davis, director of the project, stated that while plans for securing this service data have not yet been perfected, they will in any event call for the cooperation of every organization in Idaho. The American Legion takes the responsibility of assembling and classifying the records and will work out plans for making them most easily accessible in their quarters in the memorial building.

PARADISE CREEK TO BE CANALIZED

Venetian Gondolas Will Float Between Idaho and W. S. C.

(By Hellsbells)

HE bill providing for the canalization of Paradise Creek from Pullman to Moscow passed the Idaho senate today and was signed by the governor. Construction will be underway with the advent of spring weather.

The bill calls for an appropriation of $75,000 which will be used in conjunction with the appropriation made by the state of Washington, thus enabling the most modern Neopolitan construction throughout.

MUSICAL INSPIRATION

Inspiration for the scheme was drawn from the latest hit, "So This Is Venice," which when sung by the Idaho legislature by Professor Billy Michael, together with the melodious pleadings of Joel Priest and Scoop Taylor, joint fathers of the bill, caused the passing of the act without a dissenting chirp.

This marks the realization of the dreams so endearingly harbored by

TWANG OF HAWAIIAN INSTRUMENTS TO PERVADE CEREMONIES

(By Hellsbells)

As the latest innovation in graduating exercises, the board of regents has passed a resolution calling for the presentation of a genuine koa wood ukelele to every member of the graduating class.

Each will have inscribed in gold the name of the recipient and will serve as a lasting memento of their alma mater to be handed down to posterity. A special Banjo-uke will be presented to the class president, Harold Telford.

Seniors are expected to master the ukelele art sufficiently so that the applause to the commencement speaker may be given by the melodious twanging of 150 of these captivating little Hawaiian instruments.

Society

Ezra Browne and Sallie Hoskins, late of the university of Idaho were seen early this morning on board the 7:15 freight train on their way to parts unknown. They seemed to be looking for someone that they did not want to meet.

The bridegroom was backed up by Dean Nagele of the Military College and a one-eyed man from Pullman who was called Pete. Miss Ella Oleson filled the room with the tender strains of Lohengrin's Wedding of the Winds as the happy pair walked proudly up the aisle. After the ceremony the joyous newlyweds escaped their rollicking friends and flagged the 7:45 freight for Pullman where they will spend a two days honeymoon. Ezra had a somewhat of a worthless loafer and we think that Mr. Hoskins had gained a son rather than lost a daughter.

PERCY SYLVESTER VAN RIPER

The latest picture of Percy Sylvester Van Riper of Lewiston, who will be seen in prominent university social circles during the next semester. He is the son of Major Van Riper, the hero of the battle of Oshkosh, and is making his first appearance upon the Idaho campus. Mr. Van Riper graduated with high honors from the state institution at St. Anthony and is expected to make quite a name for himself in college activities. He is here shown seated in his newest roadster which was presented to him by his proud father.

"BOOK OF JOB" STAGES COMEBACK

This afforded a remarkable demonstration of the facility and speed with which the Portmanteau theatre can be dismantled, as no traces remained of the players at the end of seven minutes flat.

Thus another point was scored for the common people.

DEAN SKOGGS STARS IN ORGAN RECITAL

"IDAHO AIN'T WHAT SHE USED TO BE" SCORES GIGANTIC HIT

WITH unusual charm and interest, Dean Skoggs, entertained at Sunday vespers services a large and appreciative audience with an opening Recital on the gigantic new pipe organ just installed in the Library. Miss Mae Mathieu, contralto soloist, assisted Dean Skoggs.

In the "Students' Prayer at Six Weeks," by Chopin, was brought out with the sustenance of the organ the rich, throbbing, imploratory tones which gave an expressive appeal to the tender melody. Miss Mathieu was ably supported by Miss Ella Oleson, noted soprano from Genesee in this rendition.

Valse Flunkit, a fascinating sketch by Dean M. F. Angell, was greatly appreciated, especially by delegates from the law school.

In "Hi Lee, Hi Lo," an Allegro MoLo Appassionato, composed by Dean E. J. Iddings, the dramatic expression and difficult octave work, with its intensified Climax (Plug), disclosed Dean Skoggs' excellent command of the intricate technique involved.

Halitosis on Breath of Spring Combated

Ever alert and apprehensive of the health of the university, the pre-meds after careful research conducted by Charley Preuss, have found the insidious thing in the breath of spring—yes, 'tis another ominous outcropping of Halitosis actually carried on the breath of spring.

To relieve the situation, Professor J. E. Wodsedalek has ordered by wire 98 gallons jugs of genuine Listerine from the Lambert Pharmaceutical company of Sandpoint. Upon the receipt of the shipment, outposts will be placed beyond the arboretum where, armed with university sprayers, they will saturate the breath of spring, thus positively killing Halitosis—thanks to modern science and the pre-meds,

"HARMONY" HALL DECLARED NUISANCE IN INJUNCTION

Injunction proceedings were brought in the superior court today against the music department and Prof. E. Orlo Bangs, seeking to restrain the atrocious, heterogeneous, discords, masquerading as music, which ceaselessly reverberate from Litz, alias Harmony, hall at all hours of the day and night.

The complaint is lodged jointly by the Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, and Gamma Phi Beta fraternities on the grounds that the musical madhouse constitutes a public nuisance, and that the students living in these houses have been thrown into a stupor and in a few cases sleeping sickness has resulted due to the vibrations emitted from "Harmony" hall. "Babe" Brown and Lorrin Hubble, who live on music alone, have become gaunt and pale, while corpulent students over the entire campus are suffering from severe sympathetic dimunitions in bulk, thus show far-reaching results.

ARGEE ON SILENCERS

Prof. Bangs, very anxious to ameliorate the difficulties, has volunteered to place maxim silencers upon all his students while in action and it is thus hoped that further litigation of a serious nature may be averted. Doctors are hopeful of an early recovery of all victims, and are especially optimistic in the cases of Brown and Hubble.

Campus Oil Wells Future Source of Petrol for Bugs

(By Hellsbells)

In accordance with a petition filed by Mable Eichner, Gene Zachman, Jimmie Chapman, et al (all Ford owners), Dean Francis M. Thomson has announced that the geology department will immediately sink oil wells on the campus in front of the Ad building for student use, in order to dodge the high price of gas.

PRIVATE STILLS

The Latah county sheriff has agreed to sell confiscated stills to students at $2.53 each, plus war tax, for gasoline distillation. These are to be attached directly to the flivers and will be filled with crude oil from the campus well. Heat from the exhaust will vaporize the volatile oils, and the gasoline will flow directly into the tank from the worm, thus providing a perpetual supply, making the Standard Oil company look like Stacombs or Gluco manufacturers.

Social Regulations Undergo Alteration

(By Hellsbells)

Complete revision of existing social regulations are announced today by Dean Permeal French to take effect immediately, to-wit:

Arboretum—Is open for nightly use of the students. Fraternities will be expected to construct commodious benches underneath the sugar plum trees.

Elks' Dances—Every freshman girl is expected to snag at least one date per month to the Elks' dances. Vaccination only acceptable excuse for failure to comply.

Open Nights—Every night of the week. Doors to sorority houses and dormitories will be locked until midnight to discourage an early return.

Exchange Dinners—Hereafter exchange dinner guests between fraternities and sororities must wend their weary way homeward before midnight under the new moon, and 2 a. m. under the light of the full moon.

Swimming Pool—to be supplied later after due and weighty consideration.

Students Enthusiastically Cheer R. O. T. C. Officers

The informal ceremony that was staged on the front steps of the Army was one of the most delightful and pleasing every witnessed on the Idaho campus and bids fair to become an Idaho tradition. ## Beloved Professor Resigns in Favor of Tamale Making Gloom and sorrow hang heavy on Spanish students today. The announcement comes from the president's office that Delphin Raynaldo, after thirteen years of fruitful, conscientious endeavor upon the university faculty, has resigned.

Yes, severed forever, all these affectionate bonds that have tied him to his didactic pursuit. Mr. Raynaldo shakes his head in despair and attributes his resignation to the unappreciative levity and licentious conduct of his beloved Spanish proteges and erstwhile students. The gravity of this action has stilled the entire campus. Must he be lost!

REMAINS LOYAL

No, not Delphin Raynaldo, he is of sturdy, loyal, enduring stock. Though from across the waters comes the call of his Filipino co-eds, he resists—he remains loyal to the university.

Yes, our Delphin in order that he may gratify the longing of his heart with the constant sight of his dearly beloved campus, has accepted the position of head of the Tamale department of the Oriole's roost—ah, Raynaldo's Tamales forever.

It is rumored that Albert H. Knudson is to become business manager of the enterprise.

Vital Announcements

The "I" club has decreed that henceforth all upperclassmen will wear frock or tuxedo coats with their corduroy trousers. Dinner jackets will be worn in the morning by those who have missed their breakfasts, signifying that they have yet to dine. These regulations will be optional with faculty members.

A new class in astronomy will be conducted by J. Stanton McLaughlin, instructor in star-gazing. The class will meet at 9 o'clock on clear nights in the Hay-Wire foundation observatory situated in the loft of the cattle barn.

Owing to the discovery by Prof. V. R. Kirkham of lumps in his mashed potatoes, the opening of Easter vacation will be advanced to April 11.
