

DEGREES WILL BE GRANTED TO 180 AT COMMENCEMENT

Class of '24 Will Be Largest Group Ever Graduated From Idaho

One hundred and eighty seniors will be given degrees from the University of Idaho at the annual commencement to be held June 2. The list as compiled by Miss Ella Olesen, registrar at the university, includes the largest number of graduating students in the history of the institution. The graduates will be from the seven schools and colleges of the university and the degrees to be granted will cover a wide range of subjects in both arts and specialized science courses.

The names of those who are recommended to receive degrees are given below, arranged according to colleges and degrees to be received:

COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE.

Bachelors of Arts.

Frances Ethel M. Anderson, Laclede; Florence M. Armbruster, Moscow; Myra Armbruster, Moscow.

Gussie Barnhart, Kellogg; Elizabeth Bartlett, Boise.

FARMERS' FAIR TO BE OLD TIME CARNIVAL

Jitney Dance To Lend Some Additional Fun

Arrangements for the first annual "Farmer's Fair", to be given May 2, by the University Agricultural club, are progressing nicely and present indications point to what will be the best and most successful entertainment feature ever put on at the university, according to the Ag club.

Sixty percent of the proceeds from the carnival will be given to the athletic and memorial gymnasium funds.

OPEN WITH PARADE

On the morning of May 2 a gigantic street parade will be given. Massive and beautiful floats will be a feature of the parade, as well as a dozen or so of the funniest clowns and acrobats obtainable. It is rumored that Ahmy Kerns will be in charge of the clown section and has guaranteed to assemble an "unbeatable" galaxy of those mirth provoking gentlemen.

Not the least attraction will be the many side shows and barkers. Snake charmers, hypnotists, sword swallowers, Dora the dancing girl, with the flexible muscles, Jo Jo the dog faced lad, and countless others of equal renown will be on hand to amuse the multitude the day of the big carnival. Professional barkers will be greatly in evidence with their line of new chatter and repartee. The least that can be done with the line of the barkers is to hang clothes on it.

JITNEY DANCE

Something which will make the campus shivers and former dance hall frequenters think they are again at the old "Bucket" will be the dance which will be put on at one end of Lewis court, running continuously. It will seem like home again, say the boys, to take part in a real jitney dance once more, and a chance to Notice Argonaut Reporters Hereafter copy must be in the news editors' drawer at the Argonaut office in the "U" hut by 4 o'clock on Monday afternoons. Only late news and emergency assignments will be accepted on Tuesday. This is necessitated by a re-organization of the printing whereby the type is set up completely on Monday evenings, and the Argonaut made-up on Tuesday nights rather than Wednesday morning. All work on the Argonaut at the Star-Mirror is done by special workers after regular hours and copy must be supplied regularly and on time.

ANNUAL STUNT FEST IS MUSICAL COMEDY

E. Gowanlock Is In Charge Of Arrangements

A musical comedy style with an abundance of stage lighting and elaborate scenery will render this year's stunt fest the crowning production of its kind in the opinion of E. J. Gowanlock. The select of the university musicians will comprise the special stunt fest orchestra.

May 9 has been set as the tentative date for the big fiesta, with the possibility of two nights being given over to the showing of this product of student wit and talent.

The manuscripts for the stunts are now in the hands of "Pinky" Gowanlock and together represent a well-rounded program replete with novelty which promises to be the spice of the skillfully balanced fest. The songs are nearing completion and interspersed between the stunts are expected to enhance the stunts with a rare zest.

SENIORS RE-STAGE BATTLE

The senior stunt, whose origination is attributed to the minds of Talbot Jennings, Florence Graves, and Louis Boas, calls for a modernized re-staging of the "Battle of Lexington" based on the Chronicles of America with apologies to the Kenworthy theatre. The plot has been completely renovated and graced with football and miscellaneous football vernacular.

Carl Feldman, Helen Grim, Leo Fleming, and Al Derr have produced a junior stunt entitled "A Frosh Bonfire" which holds super-surprise in store for a few faculty members at least. A realistic pep band, serpentine, and pajama parade are included in this number.

CHOICE SATIRE

"A Bit of Research," a clever satire on modern co-ed hair-cuts and masculine wearing apparel, is the creation of the animated imaginations and fertile minds of Blaine Stubblefield, Dudley Swin, Gordon Hockaday, and Emil Strobeck, in behalf of the sophomores. The plot is attacked from a weird angle, the scene being laid at the fictitious University of Alaska in 3001 A. D.

PRODUCE "KNOCKOUT"

The freshmen have come through with a novel program featuring an exclusive girls' jazz orchestra, and a play giving away sorority rushing secrets in a "knockout" style, according to the perpetrators, Dorothy Darling, Dick Dresser, "Bill" Calloway, and Margaret Cartwright.

Commencement Talks Scheduled for Profs

Thirty-seven Speeches On Faculty Schedule

Thirty-seven engagements for university faculty members as commencement speakers in Idaho High Schools in May, have been arranged or are now being arranged, according to announcement by Edward F. Mason, director of publications.

Speakers in southern Idaho this spring will be President A. H. Upham and Prof. Harrison C. Dale, head of the department of economics. President Upham will speak in King Hill May 12; Hagerman, May 13; Gooding, May 14; Lewiston, May 15; Firth, May 16; Melba, May 19; Interme-

R. O. T. C. UNIT STANDS INSPECTION TUESDAY

Examining Board From Washington Here

The University of Idaho R. O. T. C. regiment, comprising approximately 425 men, was given the annual spring inspection here Tuesday in a series of theoretical examinations and solutions of tactical problems lasting the entire day. The regiment was given the inspection by Lieutenant Colonel Herman Glade of the general staff of the army and Major Walton Goodwin of the cavalry.

With the inspecting board is Lieutenant W. Woodard who at this time is making the annual inspection for the Ninth Corp Area, in which the university is located.

In speaking of the inspection which is being given the local corps to determine whether or not the institution shall be given distinguished rating among similar institutions in the country, Col. Glade said:

GOOD SUPPORT

"The R. O. T. C. work here is being supported unusually well by the administration officers and faculty, and by the community in general, which is always a big factor in determining whether or not a unit shall be given distinguished rating. Of the 125 colleges and universities which maintain R. O. T. C. units, 60 are being inspected for distinguished rating, and of that number, 31 will be the maximum number to receive the honor."

The program of inspection began at eight o'clock in the morning, a conference with President A. H. Upham being held at 8:30, followed by an examination of senior officers in theoretical instruction at 9. A similar examination of juniors followed at 9:30, sophomore and freshmen divisions occupying the remainder of the morning, together with an inspection of facilities and equipment.

At 1:15, inspection and review of the regiment was gotten under way, including practical exercises and the solution of tactical problems by designated companies.

OFFICERS LEAVE

The reviewing officers will leave from here for Colorado, inspecting two institutions in that state, and from there they will inspect the University of Kansas for distinguished rating. There are no institutions in Montana, Wyoming, or Utah, which will be given inspection for distinguished rating this year, Col. Glade stated when questioned as to the possible number of units which will receive the honor rating by the war department.

Both the reviewing officers are from Washington, D. C., and are inspecting 19 institutions throughout the west for distinguished rating, beginning at Texas, and extending along the coast, the entire west and middle-west sections, with two institutions in California, two in Oregon and Washington, one in Idaho, and two in Colorado.

The reviewing staff was entertained at luncheon this noon at the Kappa Sigma fraternity house, of which organization Col. E. R. Chrisman, commandant of the local regiment, is a member.

ALUMNI COMMITTEE CHOSEN BY KJOSNESS

Organization To Assist In Raising Gym Fund

Representative alumni from every section of the state have been included by A. W. Kjosness in the appointment of a graduate committee from the University of Idaho to cooperate with the board of directors and the American Legion in the Idaho memorial building project now under way. The committee includes William E. Lee, Boise, chairman; J. W. Barber, Burley; R. D. Leeper, Lewiston; Virgil Samms, Boise; George E. Horton, Moscow; J. W. Thometz, Pocatello; Dr. J. R. Numbers, Maridian; H. B. Soulen, Jerome; James B. Goodman, Hailey; Ralph Preshears, Nampa; R. R. Richmond, Lapwai; E. J. Van Hoesen, Mesa; R. Beckwith, Mountain Home; Howard Staples, Murray; Dr. H. CHOICE MUSICAL REVUE SCHEDULED BY 'I' CLUB

Will Be Shown Following Spring Track Meet

A five act comedy revue with a cast selected from the entire university will be given in the evening following the interscholastic track meet, according to an announcement made today by "Syb" Kleffner, chairman of the committee of the "I" club, under whose supervision the revue is to be given.

The date of the meet at which the various high schools of the state will compete has not been definitely settled, but it will probably be between May 15 and May 17.

MUSICAL COMEDY

Arthur Guerin has been given the management of the revue, which will consist of four vaudeville acts and a one act musical comedy, "The Married Man, To-day and in 1950." The cast is already being selected.

The proceeds from the revue will be given to the athletic fund of the A. S. U. I. to aid the Idaho squad in completing its Coast conference schedule.

Dancing acts and new musical hits are billed for two of the acts, and a comedy monologue for the third. The musical comedy will have a cast of six girls and one man, according to Kleffner. The program is not however, definitely enough arranged to be given out as complete.

The revue is expected to be one of the liveliest of the season's entertainments, and the members of the "I" club are confident of a crowded house since the performance will serve also to furnish entertainment to the members of the high school track teams.

IDAHO OPENS SEASON AGAINST W. S. C. SQUAD

Seven Lettermen Promise Early Season Strength

With seven lettermen back in uniform and a record of smooth and snappy baseball in practice games, the Idaho Vandals open their 1924 schedule with two games against Washington State College, April 25 and 26. The first game will be played at Pullman, and the second on MacLean field in Moscow.

The pitching lineup includes "Bung" Snow of Boise, veteran Idaho moundsman, Arthur Golden of Boise, also a letterman, and Walter Fields of Caldwell, sensational twirler from last year's freshman team. Bob Fitzke, one of Idaho's most promising pitchers, will not be able to do any twirling until late in the season, owing to an injured shoulder hurt in football last fall.

Frank Kinnison of Payette has the catching position pretty well accounted for, although "Flip" Guerinella, letterman from last year is a strong contender. Oren Campbell of Portland, Oregon, has perhaps the preference at first base, while William Lansdon of Boise and "Bung" Snow of Boise are capable of filling in on short notice. Guy Wicks of Moscow, will probably hold down second, while Guerinella will alternate between this position and catching.

INFIELD STRONG

The third sack job is being handled by "Sib" Kleffner of Twin Falls, although Charles Lawson of Wilder, who held down third last year, can step into the position on a moment's notice. "Skip" Stivers of Moscow, is at his old position at shortstop. Stivers' fast field work and his keen batting eye will be a decided asset to the team.

Candidates for "gardening jobs" in the outfield besides the two position men, Fitzke and Lawson, are Russell Melin of Bonners Ferry, Victor Cameron of Boise and John Vesser of Coeur d'Alene. Vesser is a letterman from last year, and Melin starred on the freshman team.

Owing to the lack of pre-season games, very little dope is available on comparative ratings of the conference teams. W. S. C. defeated Cheney Normal easily in a two-game series last week, and the Idaho squad has been making some fine practice showings, lately, so a battle royal is expected when the two teams meet in the opening game of the conference season.

ASSEMBLY NOTICE

Huntington Taylor of Coeur d'Alene, a member of the board of regents, will deliver the assembly address Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock. His subject will be based upon "Forest Protection Week," which is now being observed. Mr. Taylor was to have spoken in assembly today, but due to a conflict he was unable to fill his appointment until Friday.

GLEE CLUB PLEASURES NORTH IDAHO TOWNS

Home Concert To Be Given Saturday Night

After a successful tour of three north Idaho towns, the University of Idaho men's glee club returned last Saturday with a remarkable record of capacity houses and enthusiastic audiences. "Better than ever before" seems to be the consensus of opinion of these towns, everyone of which were unhesitating in their offers of tempting return contracts for next year.

"COWBOY JO"

Special features outside the usual line of glee club programs attracted much attention. "Cowboy Jo", with Paul Harlan and Van Peterson in the leading cowboy roles, was a particular favorite. "So This Is Venice," by Al Marineau also made a hit, as did "It ain't agoin' to rain no mo'" with original verses by Paul Harlan.

SOLOISTS STAR

Werner Ripplinger in violin and Al Marineau in trombone solos received strenuous applause, and piano selections by Miss Isabel Clark were important features of the program. Miss Clark was also accompanist in all the main glee club numbers.

The crack quartet went over big with its program of heavier numbers, and Henshel's "Morning Hymn" by the whole club was the favorite of the deeper classic selections. The whole program was balanced and blended unusually well with the quality and number of voices.

HAVE McADOO'S AUDIENCE

A special reception was given the club after its concert at Priest River, and in Coeur d'Alene the men sang before a large audience who had gathered to hear a speech by William G. McAdoo. "The boys made good," is the opinion of Warren Vickery, manager and member of the club, "and they are anxious to prove their merit to the campus next Saturday night in the university auditorium where they give a big concert as the grand closing event of "Junior week."

It is the honest opinion of those in a position to know that this year's glee club is one of the best Idaho has produced in many years, and in their estimation the club will appear in a program Saturday night that will be interesting, enjoyable, and vastly worth while to the whole campus and townspeople.

ENTER CONTEST

Immediately following its appearance Saturday night, the club departs for Portland where it will compete with six other universities and colleges of the Pacific Northwest in the first annual Pacific Coast glee club contest.

Erickson Chosen to Speak in Tri-State Oratorical Contest

Everett Erickson, of Spokane, Washington, was selected to represent the University of Idaho in the tri-state oratorical contest to be held next month at Portland, Oregon, from a group of four candidates Thursday evening. Mr. Erickson spoke upon the subject of "The War," delivering a forceful argument upon the subject in a general way.

Other speakers which entered the contest were Walsley Greathouse of Boise, Francis Wyman of Boise, and George Pierce of Lorenzo. The contest to be held in Portland will be between speakers from the Universities of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. The oratorical contest is an annual affair between the three institutions,

"WAYFARING MEN" MARKS OPENING OF JUNIOR PROM WEEK

Three Days of Unrivalled Gaiety and Social Splendor

Junior Week, hailed as the time of the greatest social events of the year will be ushered in this evening with the raising of the curtain in the opening scene of the university's all-college play, "Wayfaring Men," written by Talbot Jennings.

THE JUNIOR PROM

Following this on Friday evening will come the Junior Promenade. Space will not permit the telling of the wonderful treat in store for those attending this annual climax of the social year which promises this year, even more than in the past, to prove truly worthy of its reputation. New ideas have been worked out by the committees in charge and the results will undoubtedly be a surprise of a most wonderful nature to those attending, in the opinion of those who know.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening have been announced as Dr. and Mrs. Upham, Dean Permeal J. French, Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome J. Day. There will be fifteen dances on the program, the music being furnished by a five piece orchestra which is promised to be the best obtainable. Tickets may now be had of any member of the sales force at a charge of $1.50.

TEA DANCE

Although such an undertaking as the promenade is regarded as sufficient in the way of entertainment, in an effort to provide a fitting culmination for the activities of the week the Juniors have hit upon the novel plan of giving a tea dance. This will take place at Ridenbaugh hall, starting at 4:00 o'clock, Saturday afternoon and lasting until 8:00 p. m. that evening. The affair will be strictly informal and a very reasonable priced luncheon will be served at 6:00 o'clock. Tickets for the dance may be had for 75 cents per couple.

The men's glee club concert Saturday night will close the week's gaiety.

Election Returns

A. S. U. I. primary elections held last Thursday for the elimination of one candidate each from the nominees for vice-president and nominees for the junior men members of the executive board, leave as candidates in the final A. S. U. I. elections to be held May 1, Harold Cornellison and Errol Hillman for vice-president, and Chester Walsdorf, Harry Baughman, Martel Archibald, and Frank Tilm from whom the two junior men will be elected to the executive board.

The ballot count showed:

For vice-president
Harold Cornellison	369
Errol Hillman	250
J. Rasmussen	32
For Junior men representatives
Chester Walsdorf	371
Harry Baughman	336
Martel Archibald	272

SENIOR ANNOUNCEMENTS

Orders for graduation announcements will close promptly Thursday noon, according to Charles Preuss, chairman of the announcement committee, who asks that all remaining orders be placed immediately at the desk in the hall of the Ad building. The announcements will embody the finest in the printing art, bearing the Idaho crest in silver, and Waldorf Astor style engraving in the conventional size. The order goes to the Mason Engraving company of Seattle.

Junior Week

Junior week opens officially tonight with the initial presentation of "Wayfaring Men." Since junior week has received the approbation and recognition of the faculty and student executive board, it deserves proper and appropriate initiation into the ranks of Idaho traditions. And may that initiation be a memorable one!

Junior week need not be ushered in as a lamb in order to go out like a lion, or vica-versa; it should come in strong, and go out the same way. If junior week deserves to be an Idaho tradition, it deserves the unanimous support of the whole campus. This should not require any effort on the part of any student.

With such an admirable program as is planned for the week, no average, fun-loving human need hesitate to participate wholeheartedly for fear of not getting his money's worth. The quality of the entertainment scheduled is such that that much may assuredly be taken for granted.

"Wayfaring Men," with its wonderful settings and gorgeous scenery, its fitting costumes, and its remarkable cast; the Prom in all its memorable splendor; the glee club concert with its great promise of novelty and entertainment, all hold much in store for the student who seeks good measure for his time and money.

And such an auspicious occasion calls for appropriate dress by everybody. It is not snobbish or ridiculous to ask that everyone attending these festivities dress like he would if he were going to church or to a private party. Self interest should prompt every student to maintain that appearance consistent with the occasion. Not formal in the literal sense, but formal in the sense of being appropriate is the intention of those in charge of general arrangements for junior week.

"WAYFARING MEN" NOT TO REQUIRE "FORMAL"

Dean French Corrects The Rumor Which Has Caused Misapprehension

Misapprehension over the formality attending the showing in the University auditorium tonight and Thursday evenings of the all-college play "Wayfaring Men" has arisen upon the campus and a number of students have concluded that formal attire is necessary to attend the play. It has never been the intention of anyone connected with the play that such should be the case, and any such impressions should be quickly dispelled. It has been the desire of the committee in charge to bring home to the students of the university a realization of the true importance of the occasion of a first showing of a play written by an undergraduate student of the university which has been considered worthy of being given a first production by Idaho talent. It had been hoped that the students would consider the matter in that light, and attend the performances in that spirit. No attempt has ever been launched to make the affair one requiring formal attire. That statement was authorized last evening in a telephonic conversation with Dean Permeal French by an Argonaut staff member in an effort to trace down rumors to the contrary.

Tickets may still be had at Hodgins Drug store for the performance tonight and Thursday, a number of good seats still being left for both performances. All seats are being reserved, the majority selling for 50 cents, and a few choice seats for both nights being sold for 75 cents. Final rehearsals were held last night and Monday, and those who were allowed to witness that of last night report that the scenic effects, and general details of the play have been more lavishly developed than for any other all-college production in the history of the institution.

Student Art Work Displayed in Hall

Exhibitions from the architectural and fine arts department are now being displayed in the halls of the Administration building. Professor R. Weaver, head of the department, states that there will be a continuous display of work done by the students and other artists, and new problems will be put up as fast as they are turned out.

FIRST YEAR FOR COURSE
"This is the first year that such a course has been offered," said Professor Weaver. "The work being done is of high quality, and it is mainly an indication of how rapidly students may develop in this line of work. This is part of the system of teaching architectural design."
The work now on display is a part of the first year's work of the four-year course offered.
SUPERIOR WORK
The artistic water-color exhibition is by Halsey Davidson who is a draftsman in the university architect's office, and the two drawings showing the steamboat "Lewiston" preparing to leave her dock, and the Lewiston Hotel as seen from under the bridge are especially interesting on account of their local color. Both were made in one day while Mr. Davidson was visiting Lewiston.
The "Grain Elevator" was done by the student as he sat on the bridge over Paradise Creek. Its object is to show that Western things can be presented in an artistic manner. There is that characteristic of utility about it, yet the elements of beauty, interesting form, and differences of light and shade all go to make it the artistic representation that it is.

STUDENT EXHIBITION SOON
Towards the end of the year, Professor Weaver will have an individual student's exhibition of the work done by that student for the whole year. It will be interesting to note the rapid growth expressed in the work shown. As Professor Weaver says, "Drawing is not so hard to learn as people think. It is all in wanting to do it, and the results come with an earnest desire."

Kioty's Old Man Gets Out of Jail

Dear Ma,
Well ma, pa got out of jail in Spokane and he come through here in his Packard, so I went over to Pullman in it with some fellows and when the Pullman boys seen my Packard they ask me would I pledge them so I let one of the fraternities screw their pin on me that night and then I brought it back and put it on my trophy board. Pa said he is going to make a new batch and load it into the Packard and take us and it to Yellowstone Park when college is out. Pa wouldn't give me no money as he said they fined him 2 thousand $'s and he didn't have none left so ma will you send me a '00 seeds as I need a new wheel base for the old Chalmers. I am in politics now as I went to assembly and nominated a fellow which wasn't in the combination and caused me some excitement. Ma I wisht you would send me a fone message from Wild Cow postoffice that you are dieing as I want a leave of absence,
Your Kioty.

Agee, Oakley; and L. A. Thomas, Lewisville.

The majority of these committee members are also ex-service men, and therefore will be able to carry on their work in cooperation with their local legion posts as well as with former student and various civic organizations. All of them have been prominent since graduation in affairs of their own communities, and will undertake to present the matter of the Idaho memorial from the alumni standpoint to the people of the state. Organization of the alumni for this purpose will be completed at the annual alumni day held at the university during commencement week in June.

MANY TENNIS ARTISTS INDULGE IN TOURNEY

Twenty-five candidates are participating in the college tennis tournament now in progress and the varsity team will be selected in the finals on May 3, according to Charles Preuss, tennis manager.

VARSTY MATERIAL
Clyde Richards '25 is the only varsity letterman back on the job and is assured of the privilege of wielding the racket again this year for the university. "Bud" Melin, "Johnny" Wagner, and Clifford Coons represent the most promising material from last year's freshman racket artists.

L. D. Jacks, the Lewiston Normal tennis champion, is now enrolled in the university as a senior and is being relied upon to chalk up a good many sets to Idaho's credit.

CO-ED PROSPECTS
For the co-ed team, Margaret Blackinger and Mary Huston are seen as the most likely aspirants from the senior class, with "Bea" Hunter, '25, exhibiting neat form and Evangeline Bennett, '26, displaying marked accuracy so as to distinguish them as varsity material.

MATCHES SCHEDULED
The season will open on May 16-17 when a dual match with Whitman for men and women will be staged on the Idaho courts. The second meet with W. S. C. will take place on May 24 following the initial meet at Pullman on the preceding Wednesday.

May 31 is the date set for the triangular tennis matches at Walla Walla in which Washington State, Whitman, and Idaho will compete. Last year Idaho lost to Whitman and tied and won against W. S. C.

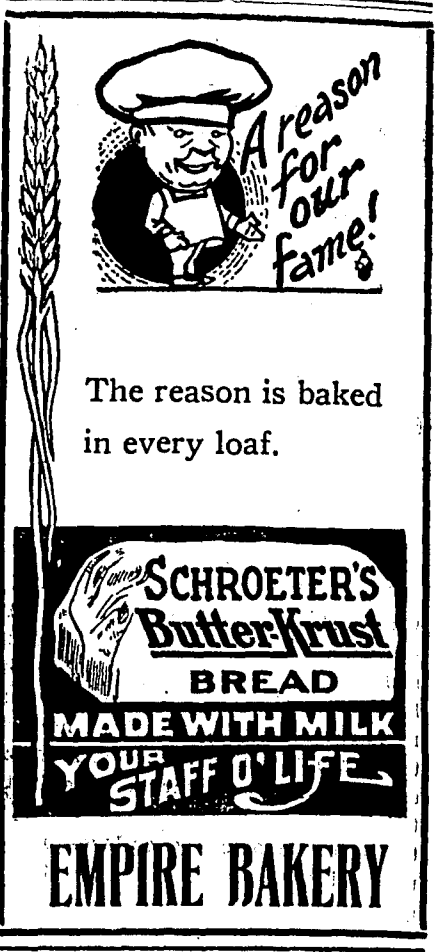

A practice match has been tentatively scheduled with Lewiston Normal for men and women on May 10, preparatory to inter-collegiate participation.

Fill-in practice matches will be arranged with faculty players. NEED IMPROVED COURTS
That Idaho is badly in need of concrete or asphalt courts is the opinion expressed by Charles Preuss, tennis manager, who points out that clay makes a poor court especially under Idaho weather conditions and that the brevity of our season constitutes an added handicap in competition with coast teams.

Four Professors Take State Speaking Trips

Four University of Idaho professors will leave within the next day or two upon speaking tours of the state in connection with the observance of "Idaho College" week, April 21 to 27. Those who will take part in the week's program as University of Idaho representatives are Dean M. F. Angell of the college of letters and science, who will speak in the Boise valley district; Dean J. G. Eldridge, dean of the university faculty, who is scheduled to appear in the Twin Falls district; Professor Virgil R. D. Kirkham, of the school of mines and geology, to deliver a series of lectures in the southeastern part of the state, and Dr. J. E. Wodsedalek, head of the department of zoology, who is to speak in the panhandle of the state. Dean J. F. Messenger will also speak next Thursday night at Pottlatch relative to the same subject.

MANY GRADS CHOOSE TEACHING POSITIONS

Leads Occupation List of Idaho Alumni

More Idaho graduates are engaged in the teaching profession than in any other occupation, according to a recent tabulation of Idaho alumni by occupation.

Of a total of 1232 graduates, 263 are in some department of education, 172 are homemakers, 83 are in some phase of business, 73 are lawyers, 72 are farmers or agricultural experts, 61 are civil, electrical, or mechanical engineers, and 55 are in the mining industry. Two hundred are unclassified and the rest are scattered through the occupations of medicine, ministry, journalism, science, forestry, and military and navy.

Sixteen graduates are now in the medical profession and 18 are engaged in some phase of forestry. Ten are in the ministry and 17 are in the army or navy. Twelve are bankers, five accountants, four stenographers, and seven are in the telephone, telegraph or radio service. Five are authors or journalists, six real estate men, 49 are working in commercial or industrial enterprises, and 12 are doing welfare work. Thirty-nine are deceased.

Of the 263 doing educational work, 25 are college and university professors, 13 are superintendents of schools, 15 are principals of schools and high schools, 89 are high school teachers, and 20 are graduate students.

Engineers' Magazine To Be Issued May 7

"The Idaho Engineer," official organ of the Associated Engineers, went to press at 10:00 o'clock, April 22, and is expected to be on sale by May 7. The Lewiston Tribune is doing the printing.

The magazine features the prominent engineering projects throughout the state. It contains articles that are of special interest to the undergraduate and alumni engineers as well as campus activities that are of general interest to all. While it is primarily a technical magazine, the editors have tried to make it a work of literary excellence.

"The Idaho Engineer" is entirely an Idaho product, the majority of the composition being that of students and alumni. Many cuts add to the value and attractiveness of the publication.

show the stuff which made them the talk of the town.

The regulation bouncer will be there to see that no one uses the strangle hold, and others not found in Mrs. Hoyt's book of etiquette. The above mentioned bouncer will be hand picked and not for his intellectual strength. To see the gent who will act in that capacity will be worth the price of admission, is the claim.

CHOICE ORCHESTRA

A six piece orchestra, the best to be had in the Inland Empire, will provide the stimulus for the hoof beating and floor massaging. The orchestra will put on some new novelty stuff never before seen in this part of the country. It has some trio stuff worked up which has been going big all over the country—piano, cornet, and cuspidor. All of the boys in the orchestra double on other instruments, and the piano player in particular eats in front of a mirror thereby doubling the number of dishes.

A GRATIFYING SHOW

This carnival will fill the void so noticeable since the last carnival was here in 1921, the year Al Kinney shot pins at the man's balloons. Since that time no company would venture in here, but now the Ag club has stepped in and will fill the breach, making the old timers feel at home and college what it should be.

This will be the first time an entertainment of this kind has ever been attempted by university organizations. The Ag club is the same club that put on the "Little Livestock" show which met with such enthusiastic success recently.

Society

The convention of province Lambda of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was held at the chapter house of Idaho Alpha, Friday and Saturday, April 18 and 19. Official delegates to the convention were F. E. LaBonte and J. C. Patterson, Jr., Montana State College; J. W. Lewis, University of Washington; Abbie Burrows and O. T. Rohwer, Washington State College; H. L. Boyles and Max Pierce, Oregon Agricultural College; Benjamin Reed, University of Oregon; and H. L. Powell and W. S. Greathouse of Idaho.

Reno Banks of Spokane, was elected province archon. Other officers are David MacMillan, of Moscow, H. S. George of Portland, and H. C. Davis, of Spokane.

The next convention of the province will be held at the chapter home of Montana Alpha at Montana State College, Bozeman.

Messrs. O. K. Moe and R. S. Smith of the University of Montana were week-end guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

A. A. Sargent, '23, is a visitor at the Elwetast house for a few days.

Misses Gladys Ewaas and Janet Chalmers of Alpha Sigma chapter in Pullman spent the week-end at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta during the week were C. Diehl, V. Vang, A. Golden, R. Stewart, D. Swim, C. Gartin, Sidney Yager, and E. Leithe.

Sigma Nu dinner guests were Mrs. Blomquist, and the Misses Viola Creswell, Norma Barnes, Rhea Softe, Ruth Zornes, Grace Hagan, and Doris Squibb.

a prize of $100 being offered the winner. The Idaho speaker for the past two years has taken the contest and Mr. Erickson, well known in dramatic and debate circles here, is said to have an excellent chance of winning this year.

Professor William Michaels, instructor in public speaking and debate, acted as judge of the contest here.

Latin in High Schools Favorite of Languages

More students are studying Latin in the high schools of Idaho than all other foreign languages combined, according to a recent investigation by Mrs. M. L. Sargent, professor of Romance languages at the university. French and Spanish classes lead in enrollment at the university and other higher institutions of learning in the state, with Latin, German and Greek following in order.

More than 6,000 students, including duplications, are taking foreign language courses in Idaho. Of this number 3149 are taking Latin, 1963 Spanish, 1132 French, 105 German, and 38 Greek.

Latin and Spanish seem to be making the most headway in the high schools, and it is also noted that German is making a slow return. According to a report on the investigation, the study of Latin is advocated because it seems to furnish a better foundation for a foreign language in college than any of the modern languages.

Sigma Nu Tracksters Take Intramural Cup

Elwetast and S. A. E.'s Tie For Second Place

The annual intra-mural track meet was run off last Saturday on the athletic field. The field was in good shape, and the weather was not bad. The time on all events was with held from the public.

The Sigma Nus won first place and the Elwetast and S. A. E.'s were tied for second place. The Sigma Chis were a close fourth.

The Sigma Nus, with their exceptional track ability were easily entitled to first place. Pickett of the Elwetast was high point man of the meet with 20 points to his credit.

In every event competition was very keen, and it was difficult to tell who would come out with the highest number of points.

The following is an unofficial result of the meet:

First place, Sigma Nu, 24 points; second place, Elwetast, 23 points; third place, S.A.E. 23 points; fourth place, Sigma Chi, 22 1-2 points; fifth, Betas, 16 1-2 points.

Lantern Slides Show

Views of University

Slides showing the picturesque side of university life at Idaho, which were specially prepared by Elmer Wyland, chairman of the Twin Falls county club, were used by Dean J. G. Eldridge to supplement his talk on "There's A College in Idaho For You" given at Twin Falls today before the 1200 students of the junior and senior high schools there, and subsequent talks at Kimberly, Filer, and Buhl.

These slides, which represent the latest innovation in the student campaign, feature the collegiate life here in views of the stately Administration building, the palatial Forney hall, the campus at large, with its rolling lawns and select shrubbery and ornamental trees, the luxuriant university gardens, and the unique arboretum, and other scenic spots attractive to students. For high school sport fans, included in the slides are an extraordinary photo of Idaho's initial touchdown against W. S. C. last fall, and action pictures from the Gonzaga victory.

SHOW HOUSES

A large display poster of the living accommodations at Idaho, also prepared by Mr. Wyland, was sent to be exhibited in the high schools of the county. It bears pictures of the commodious dormitories and the cozy inviting sorority and fraternity houses, all with their suggestion of academic luxury.

Although designed at the instance of the Twin Falls county club, the pictorial equipment supplied Dean Eldridge is being used by him in all the counties included in his itinerary.

HOLD COMMEMORATION OF SPANISH WAR CALL

Students Observing 26th Anniversary of Mobilization

Today the University of Idaho student body will commemorate the twenty-sixth anniversary of President McKinley's call for volunteers in the war against Spain, which was promptly answered in Idaho by the formation of the First Idaho infantry, wherein company "D" was largely made up of university undergraduates. The Idaho troops took no part in the operations in Cuba but were sent by way of San Francisco to the Philippines, where they later went into action against the native insurgents.

Two university students lost their lives in the first expeditionary force sent overseas by the United States. A monument on the university campus stands in perpetual memory of the Idaho dead, while the names of all the university Spanish-American volunteers are graven on a bronze tablet in the hall of the administration building.

Of special interest to university students in this commemoration is the fact that Colonel E. R. Chrisman, commandant of cadets was commandant in 1898, and was called for duty in Cuba at that time. Colonel Chrisman took part in the major engagements on Cuban soil, serving with distinction at the battle of San Juan hill. After the war Lieutenant Chrisman continued his army service in posts far remote from Idaho. He retained, however, an affectionate interest in the university, and sent his son and daughter thousands of miles across the continent to become students at the institution which he served in '98. Twenty years later he was reclaimed by a new generation and is once again on duty at the old post.

It is hoped by the students that within a year the memorial and relics of the Spanish-American war will be enshrined in the Idaho memorial building, which will be dedicated to the veterans of that conflict as well as those of the war against Germany.

CAMPUS VISITOR SAYS IDAHO IS BEST EVER

County Chairmen To Hold Banquet Soon

"Idaho students do not boost their own university is the opinion that prominent men express after visiting the campus. This was brought home the other day more forcibly than before when Dr. R. A. Parrot of Twin Falls stopped over to visit with his daughter Edna," stated Emil Stroebeck, chairman of the student campaign.

"When Dr. Parrot visited the campus, he said, 'Why you students don't boost your university enough. I am surprised at the wonderful institution built here and wish that every parent in the state could visit the campus. When I go home, I am going to be the biggest booster for the university that you have. I am going to tell everyone I meet what a great place it is here and when I talk before the chamber of commerce and the Kiwanis club, I am not going to let Dr. McAttee, who was up here last winter, outdo me in telling about the fine things of the University of Idaho.'

"You can count on me to tell every parent who has children up here that they certainly are well taken care of and that they are going to the only university in the country for their education."

COMPLIMENTS SPIRIT

"I have visited many schools in the west and east and find the spirit better here than any place. This is the only campus in the country where they have been able to make that greeting of 'Hello' stick, and to make one feel at home. I almost feel like a student myself when I get on the campus and am greeted with your 'Hello.'

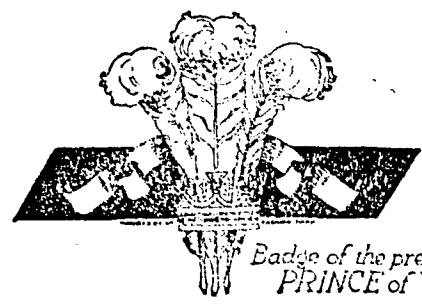

"If strangers coming on the campus can get enthusiastic over the university, I think that it is time for the students to go out and talk it to high school students this summer and induce them to come up her," continued Mr. Stroebeck.

EXPECT BIG INCREASE

County chairmen are earnestly continuing with the program calling for the circulation of letters and general distribution of Idaho propaganda. The student body in general is catching the spirit of the big campaign, and a material increase in enrollment next fall is anticipated by the administration providing the students maintain their present endeavor.

CHAIRMEN'S BANQUET

Further plans will be inaugurated for the coming season at the county chairmen's banquet to be held Tuesday evening at Forney hall. Dean Permeal French, who is very enthusiastic over the campaign, will be a guest of honor. Entertainment including dancing will top off the evening's program.

DAVIDS'

"Style Leaders"

Jefferson county students, long before the present student campaign was started, held a banquet at the Varsity to consider plans and means for inducing more students to come up here next fall.

Under the inspiration and guidance of Miss June Andrews, resident nurse, and Miss Elmira Jones, every student enrolled from Jefferson county was in attendance and were enthusiastic over possibility of making Jefferson county one hundred percent strong here next year.

TO HOLD PICNIC

A picnic of Jefferson county students was arranged to be held sometime before school is out, and meetings were suggested whereby the plans for the coming summer could be successfully carried through. It is planned to have each student visit every community in Jefferson county and talk over the university with the 1924 high school graduates and interest them in Idaho. Students who have gone to other schools will receive plenty of news of Idaho and will be urged to transfer here this fall.

That this is the kind of spirit that will put the new student campaign across, is the belief of those in charge of the campaign. Such cooperation and enthusiasm will result in a material increase in enrollment, and will make for a bigger, stronger, better Idaho; the kind of an Idaho that will make us all proud of it, according to the campaign general chairman.
