ANCIENT RIVALRY TO VIE IN YELLS AT ANNUAL TILT

Idaho and W. S. C. Will Compete for Alumni Cup, Replacing the Harvard Trophy; Vandals Now Holders

Vandal rooters and those from Washington State college will compete this year for a trophy cup offered by the Alumni associations of the Washington institution and the University of Idaho. This prize will be awarded to the school whose rooters make the best showing in organized rooting at the annual Vandal-Cougar grid battle, in place of the Harvard cup, offered by the Harvard club, of Spokane. The trophy, called the "Alumni cup" will be held by the school winning it until the following fall, when it will be awarded following the annual clash. Idaho now holds the Harvard cup, by virtue of winning it for three consecutive seasons.

Yells, songs and sportsmanship at the contest will be the deciding factors in awarding the cup to the winning team.

Much Rivalry Shown.

Intense rivalry has grown between the teams of W. S. C. and Idaho and during the last few years this rivalry has spread to the fans that they have chosen to express their feelings in an organized way—thus the Harvard trophy was offered. It has not been decided just what method will be employed to decide the winner of the Alumni cup, but it is probable that each rooting section will be given a portion of the period at half-time to perform.

The fact that the Harvard trophy is no longer awarded, present indications have it, will not be a deterring factor upon the spirit of the fans as rooters from both institutions have been on their toes since the official opening of the school year.

YELL RALLY SET THURSDAY AT 4

Big Turnout Expected for First Official Open Practice Night

Idaho students will have an opportunity to cheer the Vandal grid-ders working for the opening Saturday of the 1924 season, Coach R. L. Mathews having consented to the holding of the first regular pep rally of the year on Mac Lean field Thursday afternoon promptly at 4 o'clock, according to announcements by "Yell King" Elrod.

This event had been planned for last Wednesday afternoon, but "Matty" called it off, owing to the short time for practice and necessity for work in secret. Candidates for yell duke will try out at the time, and the duke will be chosen by Mr. Elrod and two other upper classmen. Those having signified intention of trying out are "Bud" Melin, Richard Dresser, W. E. Calkins and "Whiskey" Nelson. Any sophomore or upper classman is eligible for the post.

"Let's all be out to give the boys a yell," said the yell-king. "They have been working hard and deserve a little encouragement in their daily grind. It is a sacrifice on the part of the coach to let us watch the squad for a while, and everyone should be at the field promptly at 4 o'clock so that we may take up as little time as possible."

Fusser's Guide to Help Find Co-eds; Gives Phone Numbers and Everything

Idaho's first "Fusser's Guide," a vest-pocket booklet containing the name, address, class, and phone number of every student in the university, will make its appearance on the campus about Oct. 20, according to Philip G. Christen who is publishing it in conjunction with Jess Buchanan. Mr. Christen went further to say that, inasmuch as President Upham has given those men the exclusive rights to its publication, this will be the only edition of a student directory on the campus this year.

In addition to the straight student directory, the booklet will contain a classification of students according to their classes. In this connection,

FORESTERS WILL HOLD ANNUAL DANCE IN GYM

The annual Forester's dance will be held in the gymnasium Saturday night, according to an announcement Tuesday. All students have been invited to attend.

Sophomores Adopt Powder Blue Jeans

"Sloppy Pants," featuring Levi and Strauss, will be the headliner of the Campus Tog show this week according to "Spike" Reem and Dick Dresser, local Beau Brummels. Absolutely the last word in the prevailing mode for men are the "Levis," officially adopted by the second year men. In the new shade of powder blue, the season's favorite, they are delightfully sloppy and are designed to cooperate with the garterless effect now in vogue.

Nauti-call is the only adequate characterization of these habiliments for the pedal extremities of the ruling class of '27. News from the University of California, W. S. C., and the University of Washington has it that similar dress has been adopted by the Eds of those institutions (following the precedent set by Idaho) and the fad bids fair to become a national custom.

FROSH TO HEAR GOOD SPEAKERS

Series of Lectures Will Acquaint Yearlings With Wide Range of Information

Nine lectures, to be given at intervals between now and the last of January, will be given for freshmen to cover a wide field and have for their purpose the instruction of the incoming student on how to better assimilate the University this year. Subjects will include his collegiate work.

The lecture subjects have been announced as follows:

- "The Challenge of a College Career," President A. H. Upham, September 30;
- "Methods of Study," Professor C. C. Crawford of the School of Education, two lectures, October 7 and October 21;
- "Use of the Library," M. Belle Sweet, librarian, November 4;
- Idaho and the University," President Upham, November 18;
- "Courtesy and Good Behavior," Permeal J. French, dean of women, December 2;
- "The College Student's Religion," Dean R. M. Davis of the college of law, December 16;
- "The Choice of a Vocation," Professor J. W. Barton, head of the psychology department, January 6;
- "College Education and Citizenship," Professor H. C. Dale, head of the department of economics and political science.

PEP BAND ANNOUNCES COMPLETE PERSONAL

Following the tryouts Friday the following men were picked for the pep band and will make the trip to Spokane Friday: Al Marineau, leader and trombone, Coeur d'Alene, Cliff Reem, manager and alto, Sandpoint; trombones, Glenn Hopkins, Spokane, Fairly Walrath, Orifino; Ross Woods, Coeur d'Alene; Lloyd Bertrand, Kellogg; drums, James Kieldson, Boise, Phil Samms, Pocatelle.

Clarinets, Charles and Fred Moll, Kansas City, Fred Kling, Lewiston; Eugene Beebe, Gooding; trombones; Howard Taylor, Coeur d'Alene; Arlie Moe, Kellogg; Roland Swanson, Coeur d'Alene; baritone, Walford Renshaw, Kamiah; alto, Robert Weller, Spokane, bass, Robert Reed, Coeur d'Alene.

Fusser's Guide to Help Find Co-eds; Gives Phone Numbers and Everything

Mr. Christen stated, it is very important that the various houses send in the cards issued by the Registrar giving the correct addresses of all house members.

At the end of next week a list will be posted on the bulletin board with the address of every student and an open space for corrections. Everyone, including faculty members, will have the opportunity to correct all wrong addresses before the list goes into the booklet.

Mr. Christen urged that everyone watch for the appearance of this list, and then send the necessary corrections. The "Fusser's Guide" will sell on the campus for 25 cents.

CENTER POSITION GIVES NO WORRY

Stephens and York Prove Good Material for Pivotal Place

Although the Vandals will feel the loss of "Dusty" Kline, center, the team is not so bad off as it would seem, according to a survey of the material on hand for the keystone position on the 1924 grid squad. Kline has proved one of the outstanding pivots in the Pacific Coast and Northwest conference in his performances during his career at Idaho. He was barred this year because of the conference eligibility rule. Coach "Matty" Mathews started out the fall's grind with three letter men missing and Kline, because of his uncanny ability to snap the ball back to the quarter, connected with his ability to hold up his end in the forward wall will be missed most of all.

Ray Stephens, a guard and substitute center last fall, was the only letterman in sight for the position. Abe Goff, who had been working with Kline during their seasons together, was graduated last spring. Therefore, two of the three men lost were Matty's centers, yet he is not looking upon the pivot position as a source of worry.

Coming to Front.

Wallace York, an understudy last year, but without the experience necessary to get into the varsity crowd, is coming to the front and at present there is strong competition between him and Stephens for the position. Stephens, with a twenty-pound weight advantage, and more experience, now appears to be slightly the favorite, but by mid-season York is expected to have gained the neces-

INLAND TO RUN SPECIAL TRAIN

Rooters Who Attend Idaho-Gonzaga Contest at Spokane Will Get Reduced Rates

Enthusiasm for the Idaho-Gonzaga football game in Spokane next Saturday is waxing unusually warm among local gridiron fans and University of Idaho undergraduate students. Definite plans have been launched to secure a special train over the Inland Empire system to accommodate the crowd which it is expected will descend on Spokane for the day, in an effort to repay to some extent the way in which Spokane sportsmen followed their team here last year some 3000 strong. Special rates for the train of $4.00 a round trip have been announced, and a canvass is being made to determine what time will be most satisfactory to all concerned for the train to leave Moscow.

The special train being arranged will return from Spokane Saturday night, officials stated today. For those who may wish to remain later, however, it was stated that the mid-night "paper" train will be held until after twelve o'clock, enabling those who wish to attend the dance being planned in Spokane, to do so and still return to Moscow the same day.

In the meantime Coach R. L. Mathews is putting his football squad through final practices in preparation for the formidable array of gridiron talent Gonzaga is expected to put into the field in an effort to bring her first appearance under Northwest conference colors to a victorious close. Scrimmage work is now constituting a majority of the Vandals' workouts, and with the team now in good physical condition and weather ideal for intensive training, everything points to a well balanced eleven to represent Idaho at Spokane next Saturday.

MINAS HEADS BOARD FOR NEXT ELECTION

Frank Minas was named chairman of a board to supervise the forthcoming election of the secretary of the A. S. U. L. at a meeting of that body recently. The place of secretary was thrown open by the resignation of Hollene Haller. The other members of the election board were named as follows: Margaret Carter, Evangeline Bennett, Doris Mount, Paul Harlan and Maurice Greene.

IDAHO STUDENTS FORM G. O. P. CLUB

Paul Harlan Named Acting Chairman; Extensive Program Outlined for Year

Preliminary steps for the installation of a Republican club among students, to be associated with the Republican national committee, through John Hamlin, director of the college bureau, were taken here last weekend. The movement was started last year when the national committee established a department for educational work among college students.

Paul Harlan is acting chairman of the Idaho club and will be supported by an executive committee of students. Plans are outlined by the committee for a strong advisory board of Republican men and arrangements are being made to cooperate with the state Republican central committee, through J. S. Heckathorne, Latah county chairman.

Program Outlined.

In organizing a general program for clubs in western colleges this year, which calls for the installation of more than 20 clubs, Jason C. McCune, Pacific coast representative of the college bureau, says:

"The Republican club of the University of Idaho is organized for serious study of current conditions, party planks and ideals. Students will hear state and national speakers."

Other addresses will be made in meetings to be held downtown by the Republican committeemen before the state election this fall. The club will carry its activities throughout the year. More than 200 colleges have organized clubs. Last spring clubs were installed at the University of Washington and Washington State College, as well as in all state coast colleges.

WILL FEATURE ON ARTISTS' COURSE

Albert Spaulding, Violinist, and Reginald Werranrath, Baritone, are Booked Here

The San Carlo Opera company, to stage a production yet to be named, will be a feature number on the annual artists course this year, according to E. Orlo Bangs, head of the music department.

Other numbers on the program for the year will include Albert Spaulding, a violinist of national reputation, to appear in February and Reginald Werranrath, considered in musical circles to be one of the finest baritones in the United States.

"The artists' course is an annual affair and each year some of the outstanding talent in the dramatic and musical world is offered students of the University of Idaho," said Professor Bangs.

NEW FACULTY MEN LAUD IDAHO SPIRIT

"All students of the university seem to be one big family," said Clinton F. Wells, instructor in economics who came here this year from the University of Chicago.

"There seems to be a desire among the students to help the instructors. I notice this particularly in the quiz sections and in the advanced classes. It is the advanced classes which really count, for the freshmen are apt to follow the example of the upper classmen. The speaking on the campus impressed me."

Wilde Likes Assemblies.

"You could put four University of Utah assemblies in one here at Idaho, while an Idaho assembly is as large as the average assembly at the University of California, where there are more than 10,000 students," declared Willard J. Wilde, new instructor in accounting who came here from the University of California at Berkeley.

"I believe this attendance at assemblies goes hand in hand with the custom of speaking on the campus. When I first came here so many students spoke to me that I felt embarrassed, but now I have fallen in line with the custom and like it greatly. You can build up such spirit only when you get the students together, listening to the same speeches. Singing and the assemblies also does much in building up this spirit of..."

FACULTY TO APPEAR IN ANNUAL MUSIC PROGRAM

The annual faculty recital will be given in the auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock. The program will feature Isabel Clark, Margaret Armstrong, David Nyvall, Carl Claus and E. Orlo Bangs. The public has been invited.

Bob Fitzke's Picture Adorns Magazine Cover

Memories of bygone university football days are recalled by the coverage of the September issue of Athletic World, a national all-sport magazine, for adorning it is the characteristic kicking pose of Paul F. (Bom) Fitzke, whose high-powered boot helped the Vandals immensely in seasons past. Few, however, other than Idaho fans will recognize the chapter reproduced on the cover page, for there is no mention made of who he is or on what gridiron he has just made his mighty kick. But those of Idaho need not glance twice—the gritted teeth and mighty clenched extended fists and right foot lifted high have not been forgotten.

Fitzke is not with the Vandals this season, having had his three years of allotted participation. He went to Cleveland late in the summer at the call of Tris Speaker, who desired to give him a tryout on the pitching staff of the Cleveland American club.

RELIGION IS NOT NEGLECTED

Eighty-five Per Cent of Students Give Church Preference in Annual Census

Eighty-five per cent of the student body of the University are either church members or have signified a church preference, according to the annual religious census. At the close of the two days of registration 837 were listed as church members, while 345 gave some church preference.

This leaves but 221 out of a total enrollment of 1403 without any church preference or membership. Late registrations have numbered slightly more than 100, and of this number the 85 per cent division has been maintained.

Twenty-one church denominations are represented, with census totals as follows:

- Advent, 2; Baptist, 59; Brethren, 2; Catholic, 100; Christian, 117; Christian Science, 40; Community, 1; Congregational, 58; Episcopal, 133; Jewish, 2; Latter Day Saints, 64; Methodist, 301; Mennonite, 2; Mohammedan, 1; Nazarene, 2; Presbyterian, 248; Quaker, 1; Orthodox, 1; Salvation Army, 1; Unitarian, 4.

WASHINGTON CLUB TO MEET

The Washington club will hold its first meeting of the term on Wednesday evening, November 1, 1924, at 7:30, in room 217 of the Administration Building.

All students from the State of Washington automatically become members.

DELTA CHI VISITS CAMPUS

Samson A. Lindauer of Los Angeles, member of the Executive Board of the Delta Chi Fraternity, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Kappa Delta Fraternity. While here he made plans for the installation of the Idaho Chapter which will probably come in the near future. Mr. Lindauer expressed himself as much pleased with the situation at Idaho and felt that at the present time Idaho was the only institution of the intermountain country which justified a chapter of Delta Chi.

Coyote is Un-Collegiate, Uses Brains; Has no Support and is Fired from Hotel

Dear Ma,
Well Ma I got into a good humor again and me and the rest of the chapter went to Spokane with a liberty bond which one of the fellows sent him and then we stayed at the Davenport and used it all up. And then Ma I went down the street and seen a old fellow which looked as happy as a bride makin' her first trip to the butcher shop and when I ask him what ailed him he says he inherited a roll of jack and is going down to buy him a new pakard. So then a idea struck me and I run down to the pakard garage and ask them would they give me half of the commiss on if I would persuade my uncle to lay a

RIVAL COACHES IN SATURDAY'S GAME WERE TEAMMATES

R. L. "Matty" Mathews, Idaho Vandals, and Charles E. Dorais, Gonzaga Bulldogs Played on same Team at Notre Dame Years Ago

Teammates at Notre Dame seasons ago, Coach "Matty" Mathews, Idaho and Coach Charles E. Dorais, Gonzaga, will lead their respective teams against each other Saturday at Spokane in one of the hardest battles arranged on either the Bulldog's or the Vandals' schedules. For Coach Dorais it will be the first time he has led a team against another squad in the Northwest conference, and for Coach Mathews it will be the curtain raiser for the Vandal's third year in the Pacific Coast conference.

The Idaho-Gonzaga game in the past always has been a thriller, particularly last season. The Bulldog eleven came to Moscow backed by a large delegation of Spokane rooters, only to have Idaho unleash its bewildering aerial attack and win by a brace of touchdowns. Gonzaga, dope has it, is specializing again this year in the juggling game and should put up a gruelling struggle Saturday.

The Bulldog-Vandal rivalry, which is strengthened by several years of stiff competition, promises to attract a large backing, not only from students at Idaho and at Spokane but from backers of the respective teams throughout the Inland empire.

When Mathews first came to Idaho he met Coach Dorais, who greeted him with the question: "What kind of football are you going to turn out at Idaho this year?" Characteristic of his sphinx-like attitude toward matters football, Matty replied: "Watch me and find out." This is the attitude adopted by Mathews this season and all his practises of late have been closed to spectators. Followers of the game expect a great treat when Matty does open up against the Bulldogs Saturday.

IDAHO "KNIGHTS" ANNOUNCE "PAGES"

Fifteen Candidates Picked For Ball and Chain Men; Officers Elected

Fifteen candidates for pages in the Idaho Ball and Chain chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights were announced Monday night, and officers for the ensuing year were elected.

Martel Archibald was chosen honorable duke to fill the unexpired term of the national honorable duke Fields who resigned because of heavy duties of his national office. Harry Paulson was chosen royal scribe, and Everett Erickson, manager and chancellor of the exchequer. The other offices had previously been filled.

According to a new national ruling, the new prospects will serve a three months page-ship, at the termination of which period they will become pledged as squires. After serving for three months as squires, they will become members in the realms of knighthood.

The university chapter of the Knights announces the following candidates for pages: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kenneth Edwards; Sigma Chi, George Burroughs, sophomore, Floyd

IGNORANCE ISN'T BLISS; IT'S BLISTERS!

What with books, and board, and bunk (meaning sleeping quarters, of course) costing as much as they do, many students will watch, with fear and apprehension, their rapidly dwindling pocketbooks.

But ignorance isn't bliss; it's blisters—painful, broken blisters on the horny hands of toilers who pay this as the price of an uneducated mind and an untrained body.

WHAT'S YOUR OPINION ON STUDENT AFFAIRS?

We've warned you before that campus life is no Utopian dream. Find anything wrong with it yet? Like to voice a protest? A suggestion? Well, here is your opportunity.

Mail or hand your suggestions, criticisms, ideas, etc., and ad infinitum, to the Argonaut for publication in its "Student Opinion" column, which will be conducted as an "idea exchange" for the campus.

By virtue of its democratic organization, the A. S. U. I. can only function properly when every member is free to voice his opinion on all campus questions. The "Student Opinion" column offers that opportunity.

Sign your name to each contribution; but only initials will be published.

"HELLO"

Prexy Upham has often said: "Idaho, despite her rapid growth, has always managed to remain a big, democratic family." And we want to keep the campus that way.

Right now the old Idaho "Hello" is one of our most precious and venerable traditions. We want all freshmen to get it, to feel its significance, and to use it everywhere on the campus.

And we look forward to carrying this congenial and altogether pleasant campus habit into the future, even when Idaho attains the size of a "larger" university. Pass it along, then hand it down.

SAY:

D'you ever notice the appalling jamb of traffic in the lower hall and on the main stairs of the Ad building after classes in mornings? It's caused partly by failure of students to follow ordinary traffic rules, but mainly by certain careless individuals who insist on "parking" in the exact center of the traffic stream for "cozy talks" and hall dates.

Now it might be possible to rope off parking space for these "hall-room" boys and girls, and it has been suggested that they take their important conferences outside. But at all events, everyone will admit that, with 800 freshmen swarming to 8 o'clocks, there should be as few as possible cross-currents in the early-morning traffic stream.

It might be opportune now to suggest one-way traffic on the stairs and in the halls of the Ad building. If such rules are now in force, they are not being enforced; for witness the main stairs any morning at 9:52.

HOME ECONOMIC CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Home Economics club, member of the State Federation of Women's clubs, selected delegates to the convention of that organization at Moscow October 8, 9 and 10, at a meeting at the university last week. Those selected were:

Gladys Perry, president of the club; Alma McDougall and Florence Stone, seniors; Millie McCoy, and Marion Featherstone, juniors; June Davis, sophomore and Alice Melgard, freshman.

Mary Williamson was elected treasurer to take the post of Frances Kerr, who did not return to school this year. The club has charge of the co-ed prom and plans for this were discussed and committees appointed.

SOCIETY

The fall and winter season of fraternity dances and church socials is on. From now on there will be a scramble for dates that will not conflict with some other activity that is going on the same night.

The house was cleared for dancing, the only decorations being baskets and bouquets of autumn flowers. Music for the evening was furnished by one of the college orchestras.

The guests were: Dean and Mrs. Ivan C. ## CHURCHES WELCOME INCOMING STUDENTS

Music, Dancing, Refreshments Feature Eight Socials Friday Night

University students are welcomed to churches for which they had expressed preference, at socials at eight leading Moscow churches Friday night. Short programs, get-acquainted sessions, dancing and refreshments predominated.

Nearly 250 students gathered at Epworth hall for the annual Methodist church reception, where, after an hour of mixing, a brief program of readings and musical numbers was given. Games, stunts and more music followed, the reception ending with refreshments.

The Guild hall of the Episcopal church was the scene of another reception combined with a short business meeting of the Episcopal club presided over by Harold Wyman, president. A program was followed by dancing and refreshments.

Members of the Lutheran league of Our Savior's Lutheran church greeted new students at a reception in the church parlors. A pantomime, vocal and instrumental numbers, readings and short talks made up the program and games and refreshments followed.

College Songs are Featured.
College songs and refreshments featured a social at the Baptist church. A program was given for the new students in the church auditorium and welcoming addresses were delivered. University songs were sung as students gathered at the Presbyterian church. Later, two short plays were given in the church auditorium. Refreshments followed.

A home like reception was given at the Christian church, and talks were interspersed with musical numbers, the evening ending with a supper.

The Holy Trinity Catholic church greeted its students with a reception at the Blue Bucket under auspices of the De Smet club. Dancing and lunch were features of the evening. One hundred fifty attended.

Seventy students were present at a social in the First Lutheran church parsonage, given by the pastor, the Rev. A. Andre and Mrs. Andre. Vocal and instrumental solos and a supper constituted the program.

STANFORD WORRIED OVER IDAHO GAME

Crimson Warriors Expect Battle Royal at Rose City, October 25

Stanford is looking for as tough a grid battle as it has ever gone through, when it meets Matty's Vandals at Portland October 25, according to Glenn (Pop) Warner, in a formal statement on the game issued recently.

"Idaho played as nifty football as any team on the coast a year ago and in fact was the best in a passing game. While Stanford beat Idaho last season, it took Andy Kerr's best efforts of the year to do it and Stanford is looking for a very tough contest when the two get together at Portland late next month."

Three years ago Idaho was little known in Coast conference grid circles, her activity having been confined to teams of the Northwest. Two years ago, when the Vandals played their first game in the Coast conference, they went to Los Angeles for a scheduled game with the University of Southern California. The gritty invaders made such an impression on the California players and fans that a second game was scheduled with Southern California, as was one with Stanford.

Idaho was checked by a lack of reserve material and was given a lacing that will be remembered for years to come. Idaho will meet both of those elevens this year and a duplication, so far as scrappiness is concerned, is expected. Little dope has been mixed this early in the season as to the probable outcome of the contests, but everybody knows a bitter struggle is slated. Declaring that Idaho's performance in the past season justifies his decision, Elmer Henderson has picked the Vandals as one of the hardest hitting and all around playing machines in the coast conference.

SOPHOMORES ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Clair Reem of Everett, Wash., was chosen president of the sophomore class Friday night, winning over Tarry Poulson of Boise by a small majority. Howard Gault of Buell won over Mildred Warnke of Burley for vice-president, Camille Collins of Wallace defeated Murvia Murphy for secretary, and Edward Schuttler was victorious over George Klaison for treasurer. Walter Tucker acted as temporary chairman and Doris Squibb, secretary of the class last year, read the minutes of the previous meeting. The motion was put and carried adopting "Levis", a brand of bibbles overalls, as the official garb of the second year men. The fair sex refrained from definite action along that line. About two hundred sophomores were present but the election went off smoothly.

INLAND TO RUN SPECIAL.

Announcement was made today by the Inland Electric railroad that a special train to the Idaho-Gonzaga game will leave Moscow at 8:30 Saturday morning. A special round trip fare of $4. will be in effect starting Friday. It will be possible to return on the regular train Saturday afternoon or on the paper special which will leave Spokane at 12:30 Saturday night.

We attended assembly the other day, and heard President Upham talk on school spirit. We also heard some splendid piano renditions by a new member of the faculty. When Mr. Nyvall began his first selection, we were surprised and shocked to hear a co-ed sitting near us exclaim in a disgusted voice, "I don't call that music." She opened her note-book and began writing a belated French lesson; others around her were also studying, we noticed, regardless of the music.

We began to wonder just why students come to the university. Surely college people should appreciate good music if anyone should, but they all do not seem to. A month ago we were in a small Montana town when we found ourselves in the home of a family none of the members of which had had any college training. They had a piano and kept begging us to play, which we did to the best of our ability. Our audience were much more appreciative of our feeble efforts than some of the student audience were the other day of the much worthier performance of Mr. Nyvall. Such incidents make us wonder just how much value university training has. Perhaps it cannot benefit a certain type of person anyway.

This might seem a diversion from the subject of society, but upon looking up the matter in Webster we found that one of the meanings of society is a body of persons united, and certainly assembly is a united body of persons, if anything is. We knew; we had been there. We had heard "Here we have Idaho" on the lips of faculty, seniors, freshmen, everyone. We had also tried to get out of the auditorium quickly, and had had proved to us the fact that assembly certainly is a united body.

FIGURES DETAIL GOOD PROGRESS OF UNIVERSITY

Enrollment Will Reach 3000 Students Within Next 10 Years, Conservative Estimates Say; Increase Has Been Steady

Starting in the fall of 1892, the year the institution was founded, with six students in actual college work and 129 enrolled in the preparatory division, the University of Idaho enrollment has reached upwards of 2000 students for the year just started. It is estimated in figures compiled in the office of Ella L. Olesen, registrar, that 2150 students will have enrolled by the end of the present school year. That means that an average increase of more than 60 students each year. Some years there were more, and, during the Spanish-American and the World wars, there were natural decreases. The curve on the chart compiled for the president of the university shows a consistent upward trend, with the two exceptions. The gross enrollment at the university since the school year of 1912-13, when the summer school as a permanent institution was started has been considerably above that of other years preceding and the years between 1916 and 1919, when summer sessions were closed on account of the World war.

Greatest Increase in 2nd Year.
The greatest percentage of increase that the school has known came at the enrollment for the second year of its existence when, the chart shows, there was more than 100 per cent increase in the enrollment for actual college work. The enrollment for summer school did not keep up the percentage mark in the second year.

During the years of 1898-99, when the Spanish-American war called many students to the colors, the total gross enrollment, including preparatory and special students, was 186 students. The gross enrollment for the year preceding was 248 students. The registration swelled for the next year, as students returned to school immediately after the war was over. For the year of 1899-00, the figures jumped to 424. That year a summer school session was held, but the permanent establishment was delayed until 1912.

The enrollment for 1916, the year preceding United States' entry into the world conflict was, 1043. But during the following year when practically every eligible man on the campus went to the colors, the registration dropped 594, a little more than half of the year preceding. Summer school sessions were discontinued during the war.

Large Enrollment.
The largest enrollment the school had ever experienced up to that time, 1339 students, was recorded in the following year. That included men who enlisted in the Student's Army Training Corps. When the S. A. T. C. was demobilized in the year following the registration dropped to 1045.

Since that time, however, the enrollment has been steadily increasing. Figures show that in the following year the enrollment again jumped to above 1300 to 1303. For the years that followed, up to the present time, there has been an approximate increase of 200 students each year. For last year, the grand total enrollment was 1941.

Using figures in past years, it is conservatively estimated that the enrollment of the school will exceed 3000 before 10 years have elapsed.

RELIGIOUS PLANS SOON MATERIALIZE

Student Cooperation Needed If New Organization Is To Succeed

Plans for completing the religious organization started on the campus last spring were laid at a meeting last week at the U hut, attended by representatives from nearly all the men's residences on the campus and by the president of the A. S. U. I.

Loren Messenger of Moscow was elected chairman of the executive committee; Bert Stone of Nampa, treasurer; Herman Swanson of Spokane, Ray Currie of Spokane and Frank Wyman of Boise completing the committee.

"We are gratified, though not surprised," said a statement issued by the committee last night, "to learn from university records that 1182 of the 1403 students that registered in the first two days express a church preference, and that 837 are actually church members.

"Of these 837 we wish especially to ask two questions:

"Shall Idaho ever again be known the Pacific coast, if not in the entire as the only university of its size on United States, not to have its own religious organization with a paid worker?"

"Second: Shall we remain content to have all our religious activity promoted for us by someone down town?"

Moscow Churches Help.
"We have appreciated everything the Moscow churches have done on our behalf, and we expect to continue to cooperate with them, but we believe it is time we took a little responsibility on ourselves. In athletics, in the publishing business, in the promotion of all our business activities, we are able to hold up our heads and act. In matters of the spirit we feel we should do likewise.

"Plans were well under way last spring, justifying us in employing George Oliver as director of this work. Students already have felt the benefit of his presence in the employment office and he is needed here to direct the other activities of our organization. The bringing of certain great, nationally-known speakers to the campus is part of the program. These things do not take care of themselves.

"Shall we become self supporting in this matter or shall we continue to await missionary activity on our behalf?"

Interests of women as well as of men are to be promoted under these plans. Rose Preuss, president of the Y. W. C. A., has expressed much interest in the proposal on behalf of the girls.

the passing in even the hardest contest. Stephens weighs 180 while York records but 160, but in scrimmage York holds his own well against the heavier but less shifty candidates sent against him.

It must be recognized, however, that Kline will be missed during the first few games, until the new men become accustomed to working in heavy action. But before the season gets far advanced both Stephens and York are expected to be playing good football. Another possibility upon whom Coach Mathews looks with favor is Bud Bliss, a new man. Bliss weighs 165, and is a hard-driving man in the line. If he comes through Idaho will be well fixed for centers, both this season and for several seasons to come, for York and Bliss both the starting out their first whirl at
