DRIVE FOR FUNDS FOR WAR MEMORIAL TO START TUESDAY

Workers Are Optimistic; Political Parties Indorse Proposed Gymnasium and Armory; Drive Manager Gives Statement.

Optimism prevails among workers who will Tuesday, Armistice day, unite in a drive to raise $250,000 for construction of a gymnasium-armory at the university as a memorial to the Idaho citizens who died in the Spanish-American and World wars. Those in charge hope to raise the entire fund in one day, and the campaign has been worked out so that every person in the state will have an opportunity to aid in building the memorial.

Idaho is one of the first states to develop the idea of an all state memorial, according to Paul Davis of Boise, campaign director. Speaking of the reason for having funds raised by contributions, Mr. Davis said, "If the memorial were erected by appropriation from the state legislature, the element of idealism would be taken away. It is a greater pride that this gift should be a voluntary contribution from the people in appreciation of those boys who offered up their lives."

"The memorial will be located at the university, because this is the most representative institution in the state," Mr. Davis asserted, in instructions to workers. "It is the gathering place of young Idaho from

DATE DEADLINE ON SATURDAY NIGHTS SET UP TILL 11:30

On with the dance another half hour, Idaho students are chanting, for the deadline on dates for Saturday nights has been extended until 11:30 o'clock according to a ruling announced at a meeting of the Associated Women Students of the university Wednesday afternoon.

Doors will not be closed until 11:45 o'clock on nights of all college dances, so students will have a few minutes more to chin over the ice cream dishes, after the movie.

There will still be foot races up the hill Friday nights, for excuses will still be in order after 11 o'clock on the sixth day of the week.

IDAHO CLUB FORMED AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Formation in Washington, D. C., of an Idaho club composed of graduates and former students and faculty members of the University of Idaho is announced in a letter from Prof. Earl C. Arnold of George Washington university, who was formerly a member of the Idaho law faculty. The club held its first meeting election night to hear the returns.

FAMOUS PICTURES ON EXHIBIT TODAY

Valuable Collection Being Shown in New Science Hall By English Club

Pictures valued at approximately $50,000 will comprise the collection which will be exhibited here this week by the English club of the University of Idaho. The exhibit contains 42 pictures by the better known contemporary American artists and was chosen as the 1923 winter exhibit of the Metropolitan museum, New York. The exhibit, as it will appear at the University of Idaho, is the same which was hung at New York.

The most expensive work in the collection is John F. Carlson's "Silent Places," a winter landscape scene. This picture is said by people who profess to be authorities on art to be one of the most remarkable pictures in American contemporary art. Mr. Carlson, registered in the artists' directory as a landscape painter and a teacher, was born in Sweden in 1875. His most noted paintings, however, were done in America and he claims Woodstock, N. Y., as his permanent residence. He is a member of the famous Sal-

Gertrude Shepherd, president of the fraternity, has announced that in the near future a bronze tablet will be placed in the lower hall of the Administration building, with the names of the Sophomore women receiving the highest scholastic average for each year in the Economics department. Alene Long holds the honor for this year.

Issac C. Burroughs, Poughkeepsie, New York and Ralph S. Space, Weippe, have been appointed associate editors of the Idaho Forester, the annual publication of the Associated Foresters, according to announcement by Arthur M. Sowder, editor.

Orin S. Gudmundsen, Moscow, has been appointed to assist Arlie W. Toole, business manager, and with C. W. Watson, assistant professor of silviculture, as faculty adviser, the staff for this year's edition is complete and the work of getting the booklet out will soon be under way.

Vandals Meet Webfooters in Game Which Jumped Into Prominence in Coast Conference When the Lumberjacks Beat Washington Last Week—Idaho Is Pointed for Crucial Contest

From a game that was listed as of secondary importance when Idaho lost to Stanford, the Ore-Idaho battle here Saturday has jumped to major importance in the northern end of the Coast conference. It is all because Oregon, contrary to prognostications, upset the "purple tornado" of Washington, touted to be conqueror of California, at Eugene 7 to 3. The day before, Idaho proved conclusively to the conference that the disheartening 3 to 0 defeat by Stanford had not broken her spirit, for she snowed the Oregon Aggies beneath a 22 to 0 score, and on a wet field at that.

From the cellar, Oregon has jumped to the place where she is turning aside the elevens rated as outstanding championship possibilities. The games of the last week-end have landed Idaho in third place, with Stanford and California tied for first.

Idaho Come Back.

After the Stanford game, Idaho's players determined to go through the remainder of the season without a defeat. The figures at Corvallis, 428 yards gained to 222, show that the determination was not a mere boast. If weather conditions are right, Idaho will continue her terrific onslaught against Oregon, and indications are that it will be before a mighty crowd, for Idaho is not so far down in this coast conference race after all.

Idaho's schedule is not so bad now, for she has a couple of weeks rest after the Oregon game. But up to now it has been a terrific grind, six games in as many weeks.

This year is the first in many that Oregon has come to Moscow. Generally the game has been at Portland or Eugene.

There will be plenty of football in the Inland Empire this week-end, for today the Oregon Aggies invade Pullman to play Washington State. The visitors to that game will stay over and attend the Moscow game the following day.

Although Washington plays California at Seattle Saturday, the Idaho-Oregon game will be the headliner in the north.

PLAYS GOOD BALL

J. PLUVIUS FAILS TO SCARE ROOTERS

Large Crowd Expected At Idaho-Oregon Grid Battle Saturday Afternoon

Despite every indication for rain, a good crowd will watch the Idaho-Oregon grid game Saturday afternoon, it is indicated by advance ticket sales. The attendance of Oregon rooters is expected to be exceptionally large, according to A. H. Knudsen, graduate manager of athletics, who is conducting the ticket sale. Two weeks ago one group of Oregonians wired for a single block of 300 tickets. A section of the east bleachers has been reserved.

Many persons from Corvallis who will attend the Aggie-Cougar contest this afternoon at Pullman will see the game here Saturday. The Aggie team probably will be on the sidelines when the game starts, as they have made Moscow their headquarters for the last few days.

The Idaho rooting section will be in the west bleachers. It was announced Thursday by Mr. Knudsen. Already boosters from various sections of Idaho have been flocking to Moscow for the battle, which is expected to be one of the most bitterly contested of any ever played on MacLean field. The Lemon-Yellow squad was scheduled to arrive on a train shortly before noon today.

FROSH-IDAHO TECH SLATED FOR BOISE

Vandal Babes Tangle With Powerful Tech Tigers at Boise Saturday

A well-balanced Freshman football squad will attempt to break the terrific scoring record of the Idaho Technical Institute eleven, developed at the Pocatello institution by Coach R. F. Hutchinson, old-time Princeton star, when these teams meet tomorrow. The yearling squad MacMillan. This will be the first time the Tech and freshmen have played and the second time a university football team has met the southern school. Years ago, when Idaho was far from her present football plane, a varsity eleven stopped off at Pocatello on the way to Salt Lake City to play the University of Utah and defeated the Tech by a convincing score. That game has been the only one played so far.

Tech Unscored Upon.

So far the Tech has not been scored on, while the freshmen have a record marred by but one touchdown—that by Cheney Normal. The Pocatello school goes to Boise fresh from a 47 to 0 walloping of the Brigham Young college eleven of Utah. In that contest the Tech displayed a terrific drive and was able to gain at will, in addition to possessing defensive strength that held the invaders to a scant two dozen yards from scrim-

Break That Jinx Tomorrow!

Idaho meets Oregon on Mac Lean field tomorrow. Oregon, the old Idaho jinx, the one team which has defeated or tied the Vandals in most of the sixteen games played since 1901. The Lemon-yellow Web-footers; they shall not pass; neither shall they make yardage by scrimmage. Idaho must break the jinx tomorrow.

And it will be no snap, that game. True, Oregon started the season in the cellar and was doped to stay there. True, the Webfooters win over Washington was mainly on a fluke; but, fluke or no fluke, they held the Huskies to a solitary field goal. That's football!

All Idaho must beware of overconfidence. Tomorrow's game will be a tough one. Oregon has felt the intoxication of an unexpected victory; she will fight. Coach Mathews and his illustrious Vandals will be in the battle with everything they've got.

Can the students do otherwise? Remember that second line of defense in the bleachers, united and solidly behind the team. Oregon is sending a host of supporters. Idaho will have the west bleachers; they must be filled to overflowing. And watch for the yell leaders' notice of a pep rally.

Mathews' System Praised by L. A. Paper

In a discussion of the relative merits of a large football squad with a wealth of experienced material and a small individually-trained squad of stars, the Los Angeles Examiner, in a sports column, points to Coach R. L. Mathews and his Idaho Vandals as an example of the latter system.

"For the last three years," says the clipping, "Coach Mathews and his Vandals have stormed up and down the coast scaring the daylight out of the best teams in the west, beating most of them and playing astounding football—and all this with a squad of eighteen to twenty men!" "The Idaho mentor, in the first place, is an exceptionally fine coach. He has an advantage of drawing his players from a region where 'men are men' and all that stuff. They aren't necessarily big but they are strong, hard and matured.

"He picked out a small squad and within a few weeks narrows it down to eighteen or twenty men. Then he concentrates on these players and doesn't waste time on a whole flock of them. Having only a few men, he teaches them fundamental football, and he has developed a style of play that isn't likely to bring on injuries—a wide open game.

"For the defense, he relies on his team's well-drilled knowledge of basic football and their fighting spirit. He puts lots of time developing a topnotch punter. The result is a team that is universally feared and respected."

Armistice Day

Remember: the least that Idaho students can do for the memorial armory-gym drive is to show their appreciation by attending the special memorial assembly next Tuesday. 100 per cent strong.

An unusual program is planned, and everybody will be expected to participate. We need that armory-gymnasium; so let's tell the world. And write a letter home today, telling the folks about the drive, its necessity, and the wonderful combination of memorial and practical building it plans.

Other features of Armistice day observance include an R. O. T. C. military review in the morning on the campus, and the excusing of all university classes for the day.

Thanks. "I" Men and Lawyers

Initiative: doing the right thing at the right time without being told. And the lawyers and "I" men, who have assumed the role of traffic cops directing the streams of students up and down the main stairs, demonstrated a brand of initiative which is indeed commendable.

The Argonaut appreciates the way students have taken hold of the new traffic regulations and are enforcing them. Make those regulations habitual, and they will stick.

Visitors Tomorrow

Thousands of visitors will gather tomorrow to see the Idaho-Oregon battle. But that won't be all they will see. Consciously or not, every one of these strangers will notice Idaho students and their manner of conduct in the bleachers and on the campus.

So do not forget; they are watching us. And the impression we give will linger when these visitors are back home telling colorful stories of the great game and of Idaho's conduct there.

Every courtesy, every thoughtful act, every plan of entertainment are due our visitors from us as hosts tomorrow at the great game.

Vandal Sportsmanship

We are Idaho students out there in the bleachers. And as such we stand for fair play and emulation of Idaho's true spirit throughout the game.

We'll follow our yell leaders in the second line of defense behind our Vandals; and we'll do the square thing by our opponents.

Punts and Passes

By Slim Pickens

The first touchdown made in the game Saturday with O. A. C. was made in four plays, a minute and a half after the game started. This is perhaps the fastest time a touchdown has been made this year in the west.

Timeout had to be called several times for players who couldn't swim and sank for the third time.

Johnny Vesser said it was the first time in his career that irrigation ditches were used for chalk marks.

"Saturday" bath is no mystery say the Vandals, after playing in the showers last Friday.

Doctor Miller says that if a fellow announces his intention of setting the world on fire no one gives him a match.

The University of California and Stanford have severed all athletic relations with the University of Southern California after this football season. The Vandals announce they are ready to tackle all three teams on successive Saturdays "catch as can" catch style.

Some Definitions of the Sport Game.
 Pole Vault—Where you keep your records.
 High Jump—When your wife is chasing you.
 Sprint—When you're late for an eight o'clock.
 Gridiron—A heavy missile hurled from the spouse's forepaw.

Idaho has never defeated Oregon. Several times the Vandals have had superior teams, but the jinx has always held, and Idaho has had to be content with a tie. Saturday we can turn out and see our brilliant team break this jinx, but it will take every loyal Idaho man and woman there to do it. The Lemon team started the season with a mediocre showing and every one was confident that the Web-Footers would be the easiest team in the conference to play. The Oregonians, however, have showed improved form each week and will be no easy combination to bowl over. The Vandals realize that they will have to fight to win tomorrow and if every student turns out and roots for the team, victory, after twenty years of playing should be ours.

The Oregon aggregation clearly outplayed the University of Washington combination last Saturday. But their victory will add to Idaho's glory, for when the score comes through at the end of the game it will be so impressive that there will be no doubt as to Idaho's prowess over all conference teams.

Matty has ordered diving suits so if the field is wet, no Vandal will be sunk.

SOCIETY

The group of national church workers who are on the campus this week have been directly responsible for a large part of the mid-week social activities. A dinner at the Blue Bucket on Tuesday night, and dinners at the various churches on Wednesday, have helped to introduce the representatives here to the students and faculty. Many of the women are house guests of sororities, and they have all been entertained at dinner, breakfast, and lunch by various organizations. Other dinner guests this week have been few, because it seemed to be more necessary that the students meet this group of religious workers than that they entertain campus celebrities.

One of the prettiest informal dances of the year was that given by Forney Hall last Saturday evening. The decorations were of autumn leaves, and English ivy, converting the huge room into a sylvan scene. Punch was served during the evening from an ivy-covered booth.

Patrons and patronesses were: Dean Permeal French, Mrs. L. Blomquist, Mr. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Gale, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart. Other guests were: M. Archibald, W. Johnson, O. Logan, R. Some of his most famous paintings are: "Woods in Winter," in the Corcoran gallery, Washington, D. Exhibit is Unique.
The exhibit is unique in that it is lacking in marines. Practically the only sea view is a serene bit of blue sea and sky with quiet ships at anchor. It is not the type of picture which most persons recall as being marine—a surf breaking over the rocks or a vast expanse of water, deep in color. It is called "A Gallant Day" and is the work of Charles A. Ebert, Lyme, Conn.

Haley Levers' "Old House and Fishing Boats" smacks of the sea, although it is not called a marine. It is in quite a different style from many pictures shown in this section of the country and is one of the outstanding pictures of the collection. "Dream City" by Mary Fairchild, has been called the best painting by a woman. It is truly a marvelous canvass, done in a highly decorative manner.

The exhibit is to be placed in the east wing of the new science hall, and Moscow and university patrons are asked to use the east entrance of the new building.

CAMPUS DEBATERS HOLD FIRST CLASH

Delta Gamma and Lindley Hall Victors in First Intramural Series

Inter mural debates got under way Tuesday night with Delta Gamma defeating Sigma Chi and Lindley hall winning from Phi Gamma Delta, in room 217, Administration building, other contests will be held this week.

The second series of debates will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30, in room 217 Administration building, under the auspices of the Theta Upsilon honorary forensic fraternity.

Phi Sigma Rho will uphold the affirmative against the Elwetos on the question, Resolved: That the University of Idaho Should Adopt the Honor System in All Examinations. In the second debate Beta Chi will maintain the affirmative and the Delta Chi the negative on the question, Resolved. That the University of Idaho Should Establish a University Cooperative Book Store.

Professor W. M. Michael, varsity debate coach, in speaking of the meeting said, "This first series of debates have proven the fact that Idaho students are interested in this forensic activity. The evident interest manifested in these first debates is particularly gratifying, in that it casts its shadow as an indicator of a promising future for intramural debate activity."

every nook of the state at a time in their lives when the fires of loyalty, state pride and love of country burn with a clear, steady flame."

The memorial will be in the form of a combined gymnasium and armory, according to those directing the drive, because such a memorial would foster building up of strong men, and would aid in training students in the fundamentals of national defense. It is also expected that such a type of memorial would be most effective in attracting residents of the state, as well as sight seers.

The proposed memorial has the endorsement of political parties of the state. Governor C. C. Moore said, "A memorial of this kind cannot fail to be an inspiration to thousands of young men and women of the state who year after year enter the portals of the institution."

John McMurray, republican state chairman has said, "Remember, these heroes did not wait, they responded instantly. Won't you be equally prompt in remembering them?" Les Dillingham, democratic state chairman, made the appeal. "This is a real opportunity for every Idaho citizen to render real service and show his appreciation of those who served with the colors." C. W. Booth, progressive state chairman, said, "Let's all put our shoulders to the wheel and spread the gospel that the memorial is to be dedicated and used by a grateful state as a living tribute to the men of Idaho who served and died for liberty."

Unqualified endorsement of the project was given by each of these parties in resolutions at their state conventions.

Idaho students showed that they were back of the movement, when they started the raising of money. In the spring of 1923, the A. S. U. I. voted to have each student enrolling in 1923 pay $5 a semester toward the fund, and this was done. An assembly with a combined memorial assembly and Armistice day program will be held in the Auditorium Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

the game. Had it been played two weeks ago, money would have been all for Idaho, but since Oregon whipped the Huskies last Saturday, Vandal backers have lowered their tone. And, added to Oregon's sensational defeat of Washington, is the famous jinx Oregon has held over Idaho during the last 10 or 15 years. Although seemingly childish to consider a jinx in the doping of a football game, Idaho backers have religiously expected one whenever the Vandals have faced Oregon on a gridiron; and they have seldom gone unrewarded.

To do their part in running the jinx down his hole, or wherever jinxes stay when they're not on duty, Idaho students gathered in front of the "F" bench this afternoon and threatened him with their songs and yells. The potential rooters are convinced that Mr. Jinx is a myth, but they have prepared a barrage of noise if he does make his appearance when red meets lemon-yellow Saturday afternoon.

FROSH TEAM LEAVES

The Tech coach has the advantage over the freshmen in that he can talk in terms of "veteran" material, while in freshmen athletics the men play but a year and they step along to the varsity. Coach Dave MacMillan, who has been developing good first-year teams at Idaho for many years, believes he has one of his finest squads this fall. He has plenty of material and it possesses speed, but the fact that the Tech is yet to be scored on must be taken into consideration.

The Boise game will be a good advance agent for the Idaho-Nevada game on Thanksgiving day.

Men making the trip are Herbert Canine, Moscow; Kenneth Deans, Dresden, N. Y.; Lyell Stark, Hagerman; Ralph Hamilton, Kamlah; Charles Gregory, Chicago; Andrew Brandt, Nampa; Orval Chaney, Middleton; Richard Thomas, Walla Walla; Rex Wendle, Sandpoint; Franklin Robinson, Boise; Arnold Calvert, Lewiston; Wilfred Walmesley, Parma; Clint Duff, Plainfield, N. J.; A O'Donnell, Portland, Ore.; Hugh Hughes, Los Angeles; Troy Moore, Buhl; Glenn Jacoby, Bonners Ferry; and Howard Ball. The men are in charge of Coach David MacMillan.
