

THE UNIVERSITY ARGONAUT

VOLUME XXVI

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1925

NUMBER 90

Today, 10 Years Ago

From The University Argonaut,
Jan. 8, 1915.

"All hail to Stanley Brown, grid-iron leader for 1915!" Stanley Brown, of Palouse, Washington, veteran half and fullback for three years on Idaho's team, was elected captain for his final year of football at the annual banquet held at the dormitory.

Brown is a scrapper par excellence himself and all of his friends believe that he will lead a winning Vandal eleven over the prostrate carcasses of Pullman, Oregon, O. A. C. and the rest of the mob next fall.

Speeches were made at the banquet by the captain-elect, retiring captain "Buck" Phillips, of Lewiston, Coach Griffith, and President Melvin A. Brannon.

The new debating society organized last autumn has received the name of Sphinx Forensic club. Sphinx seems to be especially appropriate since the new society has risen from the ashes of Idaho's former debating clubs.

The constitution of the club provides for the election of officers every month. At the last meeting H. Ison was elected president; Willard McDowell, vice president; and Oscar Johnson, secretary.

The Casino is advertising a special week-end movie feature, Dustin Farnum in "The Virginian."

The Idaho glee club has just returned from a successful tour of Lewiston where music fans encored every stunt that was pulled off in the banana belt city. Among the selections which registered hits were "The Bubble," "My Little Pickin'ny," and the Mulligan Mucketeers." The university quartette composed of Messrs. Humphries, Stone, Gerlough, and Buffington, was called back four times after cutting loose with "Tipperary." Mr. John Brigham got off well in "La Carmena."

Professor Vincent of the horticultural department of the university has arranged a series of discussions for the Fruitgrowers Day, January 25. Among the speakers will be Fred Veatch of Moscow, a practical vinegar manufacturer and orchardist.

Dean French has not returned from her vacation trip and it has been said that she has sent word ahead that she expects every girl to do her best.

Prof. Soulen will talk before the Lewiston high school and the Normal school assemblies next week. Saturday he will speak to the trustees of Clearwater county at Orofino.

Miss Alma Barger, ex-16, of Cambridge, is visiting at the Omega Pi house this week.

Mr. Samuel Morrison, business manager of the 1916 Gem of the Mountains, has signed the contract for the engraving work for that publication with the Northern Engraving company of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Badly Mixed.

An Arkansas printer mixed a marriage notice and a grocer's advertisement so that it read as follows: "Mr. John Brown and Ida Gray were united in the holy sauerkraut by the quart or barrel. Mr. Brown is a well known codfish at 10 cents per pound, while the bride, Miss Brown, has some nice pigs feet which will be sold cheaper than any in town."—Ex.

HUMOR FEATURES IN NEW BLUE BUCKET; MAGAZINE IMPROVED

Next Issue Different From Previous Publications; Size Has Been Increased, Allowing More Room for Stories, Wit and Cartoons

College humor—that vivid and carefree wit which has been pronounced the best in the world by several popular magazines—will be the feature of the next issue of the Blue Bucket which will make its appearance on the campus next week according to members of the staff. Cartoons by well known university artists will also appear along with short stories, skits, editorials, and several selections of modern campus poetry.

The coming number of the Blue Bucket will be different than the preceding issues in several ways; the magazine will be larger having been increased to 9 by 12 inches, jokes and humorous contributions will be given considerable space, and it will be made more representative of the spirit of the campus.

"We hope to make the Blue Bucket better and more popular than ever before," said Ruth Hawkins, editor, when interviewed, "I think that the addition of a humor section will make the magazine a better seller on the campus and throughout the state."

Everyone has heard of the three-mile limit but few of us know exactly what "The Three-Year Limit" is. That is the title of the short story by Ruth Hawkins that is coming out in the next issue. It is a story of an alumnus who returned to the Alma Mater for a visit upon which his trials and tribulations began.

"The Diary of Sally Pepp" is a clever and an intriguing account of a co-ed's life at Idaho to which the author would not sign her name. "A Knight's Mistake" by Gordon Hockaday is a burlesque with the scene laid in the days when knight-hood and many other things were in flower.

In addition to these there will be "The Idaho Primer" which is a first course in reading for freshmen and contributions by Blaine Stubblefield, Wallace Brown, Charlotte Jones and others. The exact date upon which the Blue Bucket will appear will be announced later.

INTRAMURAL LEAGUE BASKETBALL STARTS

Six Fast Games Played In Opening Contests of Campus Series

The 1925 season for the intramural basket tossers was formally opened Monday night when the Sigma Chi quintet nosed out the Elwatas five in the University gym. The game was fast and from the start, it was a battle royal. The Sigma Chi team seemed to get better, and in a final spurt, came up from behind in a spectacular rally which was only stopped by the final gun. Powers was easily the luminary of the game, while Henry, clever Elwatas forward, was the shining light for the losers. A fair crowd of boosters from the respective houses cheered and rooted their teams which were:

Substitutions: Elwatas, Phelps for Fox. Sigma Chi, Dayton for Dechambeau, Williams for York; Dechambeau for Dayton. Referee, J. Thomas. Sigma Nu got off to a flying start in their league Wednesday night, drubbing the Phi Gamma Delta team 20 to 11. The game was devoid of features, other than the rough play, and the Sigma Nu quintet took an early lead which they never relinquished.

JUNIOR PROM MADE STRICTLY FORMAL FROSH ARE BARRED

A new ruling that may become an Idaho tradition was established last night by the action of the Junior class when they voted to prohibit members of the freshman class from attending the Junior Prom, annual formal dance given in the spring. In the past the bids were open to members of all classes but the coming Prom will be for the three upper classes only and will be strictly formal, according to Blaine Stubblefield, Junior president.

An elaborate "Junior Week," which will include the Prom, a varsity play or musical comedy, and a carnival-cabaret dance to be given on the Saturday following the Prom, was planned at the meeting. The committee in charge of the second annual Junior week is as follows: Everett Erickson, general chairman, Don McCrea, Bob Quarles, Blaine Stubblefield, Mildred Pierson, Gordon Hockaday, Bert Stone, Opal Hunt, Anna Marie Leithe, and Martel Archibald.

Special efforts are to be made to bring members of the alumni back to the campus, according to members of the Junior class, and work of the various committees in charge of different parts of the week's entertainment will be started immediately.

VANDALS TO MEET GONZAGA SATURDAY

Rook Quintet Will Meet Kellogg High School Five In Preliminary

University of Idaho hoopsters will meet Gonzaga university Saturday night in the second northwest conference game of the season. The freshmen will meet Kellogg high school quintet as a preliminary to the main game.

Doping is a little difficult for the Idaho-Gonzaga game, as the Bulldogs have not appeared in a conference game this season and little is known of their real strength. On the other hand, Idaho has met and defeated Whitman college. The play in that game, although comparatively tame and without feature, showed that the Vandals have the making of a fast team for conference competition this year. Their play Monday night was well balanced and they showed remarkable teamwork for players starting the season. But the Bulldogs have earned the reputation of always having a good quintet, so everything can be expected Saturday night.

Kellogg high school five will meet the Moscow high school tonight in a game postponed from Thursday night on account of the Coyote-Freshman contest.

No additional charge will be made for the two contests Saturday night and A. S. U. I. tickets will admit. The preliminary game has been scheduled to start sharp at 7 o'clock and the Vandal-Bulldog melee at 8 o'clock.

WASHINGTON CLUB WILL GIVE DANCE

The Washington club will entertain Tuesday evening, January 15, at a "visitor's dance," to be given at the Gamma Phi Beta house. Every member of the Washington club will invite a guest from outside his home state, and it will be the first time outside students have been entertained at a club affair.

George Jennings, chairman of the committee in charge, has arranged a feature program supplementary to the dancing. Ethel Lafferty will give a dance. Alene Honeywell a reading. Burdette Wilkinson a saxophone solo and Mary Mabel Morris a piano solo. Light refreshments will be served and music will be furnished by an orchestra of club members.

OFFICERS TO DINE

Cadet officers of the R. O. T. C. and reserve officers will hold a banquet in the Blue Bucket Inn next Thursday, at 6:30 o'clock, it was announced yesterday. Musical numbers and speeches are included in the program. Leo Fleming, cadet major, and Robert Quarles, cadet captain, are in charge.

IDAHO MEN ATTEND WESTERN AMERICA RELIGIOUS MEETING

Delegates From the U. S., Canada, Mexico, and Hawaii Present; Convention Discusses Social and Church Problems.

Men from 42 colleges and universities of Western United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii, including delegates from the University of Idaho, attended the Western America Student Convention at Asilomar, California, during Christmas vacation, according to George Oliver, student religious secretary, who was a delegate.

Idaho's delegates were Ray Currie, Francis Coyle, Elmer Holbrook, Francis Eldridge, Levi Frost, Vernon Otter, Leslie Hedge, James Cromwell and George Oliver.

This was the first time for four years that representatives from the University of Idaho have attended such a meeting, Mr. Oliver said. About 500 men in all, representing 21 nationalities, were at the meeting.

The convention was the first of its kind, in which students from all the western coast and Hawaii have met at one time.

The conference was for men only, but joint committees of the Y. M. C. A., under auspices of which the Asilomar meeting was held, and the Y. W. C. A. talked over plans for a meeting for both college men and women for the near future.

The meeting was intended to afford opportunity through fellowship, forums, reports and addresses, to discuss major problems of social and religious nature of the west coast.

Relationship of nations of the Pacific basin was taken up. University problems were also under discussion.

Another aspect of the meeting, according to Mr. Oliver, was a challenge to students to invest their lives through the church and other agencies to meet needs of the coast and to maintain spiritual conceptions of life. Considerable time was spent in bible study, and recreation had its part.

SCHOOL VS. POLITICS DISCUSSED BY DALE

Economics Department Head Believes Idaho University Safe From Interference

Freedom from political interference is partially assured the University of Idaho by constitutional provision and laws enacted at that time, it was averred by Prof. H. C. Dale, head of the economics department, in an address at the regular assembly Wednesday.

Privately endowed institutions are exempt from tamperings of politicians, the speaker asserted, but operation of many state universities have been seriously impaired by politics. The recent episode in Kansas, involving dismissal of Dr. E. H. Lindley, former president of the University of Idaho, was given as an example of such upheavals.

Provision for the continuance of Idaho's university is made in the state constitution, the speaker pointed out. The most important governing body is the board of regents, which consists of five persons, one being appointed each year. As the term of a governor, who appoints the members, is only two years, any one executive cannot seriously interfere with the university's administration, Mr. Dale pointed out. The legislature and the governor, however, do have some control over the institution, mostly in providing funds for its operation.

Another factor in government of the university, is the A. S. U. I. according to Professor Dale. The student body can exert a great influence directly and indirectly, through expression of opinion. It is just that the students should have a voice in the control of the school, the speaker averred, because they represent customers, rather than beneficiaries.

Leo Fleming, president of the A. S. U. I., presided at the assembly, which was considered as a meeting of the associated students.

WISE MEN PONDER ON GNASHING OF MASCULINE TEETH

And it came to pass that there was a weeping and a wailing and a gnashing of teeth and sundry masculine voices raised high in protest. From the highways and the byways comes the sound of lamentation and sorrow and the King called together his wise men to find out what the matter was.

"And why do all men cry out and beat their heads on the sidewalks?" asked the King.

The wise men shook their heads in sadness for they knew not the answer; all save one, who was a fairly intelligent wise man.

"Forsooth," said he, "The Co-eds have postponed the Women's League Dance indefinitely."

"Ye Gods," bespake the King, what beeth the reason for this dastardly act?"

And again the wise men pondered then one recalled, "They sayeth a game of ball and baskets 'interfereth.'"

But the astronomer, who had not planned to attend came forward saying, "I see by the stars that the pedal extremities of certain damsels are of exceedingly low temperature—The game will be over by 8:30."

"CARMEN" WILL BE STELLAR OFFERING

San Carlo Company Presents a Metropolitan Production on January 15

The San Carlo Opera company, which comes to Moscow January 15, presenting "Carmen," the most colorful opera in their repertoire, comes here enroute from the Metropolitan engagement, where its appearance at the Jolson theatre marked its eighth annual New York season. This company is now embarking on its regular yearly visit to the Pacific coast, singing in nearly every city in this country and southern Canada, and traveling many thousands of miles.

A company of leading artists, several of them new and many of them old favorites, will appear here. And a special pleasure is planned for Moscow music-lovers in the casting of Mme. Stella DeMette, the internationally famous mezzo-soprano, in the title role of "Carmen." This artist's rendition of the Gypsy girl smuggler is one of the most realistic presentations on the operatic stage.

The company will bring all the special scenic and orchestral equipment used in the New York season, and local patrons will have an opportunity of hearing the best traveling operatic organization under the most favorable circumstances. New scenic equipment has been provided for the production, and new lighting effects, and nothing has been overlooked to make the rendition of "Carmen" the finest that has ever been heard here.

As this is the first event of the NATIONAL Y. M. C. A. LEADER TO VISIT U.

Francis P. Miller to Meet Idaho Organizations Monday

Francis P. Miller, associate international student secretary of the Y. M. C. A., with headquarters in New York, will visit the University of Idaho next Monday, it was announced by George Oliver, student religious secretary. Mr. Miller is being brought here by the Y. M. C. A. and will be entertained by that organization.

Students are invited to have personal interviews with the visitor to discuss campus problems. Mr. Miller probably will address a joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the science hall. He is also expected to meet with some group houses, but details have not been worked out.

The Y. M. C. A. secretary is on a trip through the northwest and down the Pacific coast, following attendance at the Western American Student Convention in California during vacation, in which he took an important part.

FRESHMEN TAKE FIRST CAGE GAME FROM COYOTES

Rookies Start Show and End With 23 to 22 Victory Over College of Idaho Hoopsters; Byer High Point Man.

Vandal rooks defeated the College of Idaho hoopsters 23 to 22, in a game made spectacular by three brilliant spurts which brought the freshmen from the bottom to the top, Thursday night in the Idaho gymnasium. The freshman, apparently overcome by stage fright in the first half, shot wild and were erratic in their teamwork and the collegians piled up a 9 to 1 score with alarming ease. The first half closed with the Coyotes leading, 15 to 9. The southern Idahoans were held at that point while the frosh opened their first real offensive and before long the score was tied at 15. The Coyotes were the next to spurt and the score mounted to 18, then to 19. The freshmen then opened and tied the score at 19. Byer, former Boise high school star and high point man for the game then caged a field goal, breaking the tie. Caldwell tossed another field goal for their two last points and the freshmen scored with a field goal and a free throw.

Byer High Scorer. Byer, at forward, was pulled in the first period, after he had caged one field goal. He was thrown back in for Roise in the second half at left forward and caged two more field goals for high score for the rookies. Rowland, who converted four field goals for the visitors, did all his work in the first session. He was credited with only one free throw in the final period. He played consistent ball, however, only he seemed to have fallen in line with the rest of the Coyotes in missing the cage in the final frame.

Jacoby, right guard and Canine, who started at center were perhaps the outstanding all around players for the freshmen, although they were surpassed in scoring by Byer. Their fort was bringing the ball from the far end of the floor and placing it within scoring distance for their teammates.

Personal fouls were frequent on both sides, although few of the charity tries for a goal were completed.

MAT EQUIPMENT TO ARRIVE SOON

Coach Kinnison Calls for Rookie Candidates; First Match February 7

New equipment, including tights, chocs and gymnasium apparatus has been ordered and will arrive here soon for the use of candidates for Vandal varsity and rookie wrestling squads. It has been announced by Coach Frank Kinnison. Thus far candidates have been forced to work in whatever nondescript garments they could find.

Workouts for positions on the varsity squad have been in progress for several weeks now and the aspirants are getting into the pink of condition for the Pacific Coast conference season, which opens for Idaho with the match with the University of Oregon, at Eugene, February 7. The following other meets have been scheduled: Washington State college at Moscow, February 14; Washington State college at Pullman, February 27; and the University of Washington at Moscow, February 28. Efforts are being made to schedule a contest with Gonzaga university squad at Spokane.

Candidates for positions on the freshman team will start in earnest work next Monday night and will workout in the annex to the gymnasium each Tuesday and Thursday night thereafter. Coach Kinnison has made a call for men in every division, saying that the turnout of first year men this year is far below normal.

Insufficient mat room is given as a reason for the separate practicing time for the varsity and rook squads. Later, said Coach Kinnison, both teams will be weeded of the less promising material and candidates for both teams will work together.

Dawdling Eight-o'clockers.

Collier's tells of a traveler in the Philippines who was awakened one morning by a boy standing near and speaking in a low voice. When asked why he didn't call louder so as to awaken the sleeping man promptly, the boy replied: "Your soul leave body when sleep. Maybe I call too loud, you wake too quick, your soul no come back before you wake."

Is that the way these eight o'clock students figure who muffle their alarm clocks and request doting freshmen to wake them carefully at 7:50 a. m.?

Basketball

Basketball, with a crash of cheers and a roll of Pep band drums, is here again. Once more the packed gymnasium, the glaring lights, the panting players, and the crowd with parted lips and straining eyes watching them. And at this stage of the season, indications point to a big measure of success for Idaho's quintet.

Coach MacMillan has some very promising combinations on his squad of Vandal basketballers. The men themselves are feeling the Idaho spirit of fight. It's high time, then, that Idaho's students took notice of what it's all about; it's time they should step into the breach behind their Vandals with all the pep, enthusiasm and support they are capable of and start them off right.

The Victory Complex

How about the old victory complex permeating the campus system for the next few months: how about working up the old Idaho "win" spirit; and how about giving all we've got at the gym to-morrow night when Idaho plays Gonzaga! In no other university sport is there more opportunity for concentrated and successful cheering than at basketball games.

The crowd is conveniently packed (for the yell leader at least), so that every ounce of lung power can be utilized. Well then, why not? So tomorrow night, take your eyes and mind off the game for a minute whenever the yell leader appears and give him all your support. . . . Raise the roof; we'll soon have a new gym anyway.

Welcome, Bulldogs

All Idaho is glad to hear your growl again, and to watch your fine basketball machine on our home floor. Your hoop season is opening tomorrow night and, while there will be no hard feelings if you win, we're going to do everything in our power to prevent you.

This fall we played you to a tie on the gridiron; this second contest will not result that way. Idaho knows how its Vandals will fight; we're waiting to see what your Bulldogs will do, and we know the best team will win.

Ten Years Ago Today

People are always interested in what others, in similar positions, have done in years gone by. So The Argonaut, believing that Idaho students and Alumni will be interested in knowing what was being done and said on the campus ten years ago, introduce in this issue a column culled from the files of its issues a decade ago.

The items appearing in this column will be taken from the old issues with practically no changes, and will be presented with no explanations unless absolutely necessary. Albert Alford has charge of the column.

Student Opinion

While the University is clamoring for money to erect buildings, and increase the faculty, to make allowances for a big increase in the Idaho student body they are criminally neglecting the most simple protection to the life and limb of the students now enrolled in the university. Idaho has neglected her fight against her oldest foe, Dame Nature, who has coated the walks of the campus with a most beautiful, but treacherous sheet of ice. As a sequence to the ice covered walks many Idaho students have received falls, in too many instances of a serious nature. Why can't the powers that be of the University spend a little time, effort, and money to counteract the icy menace? It would be a simple matter to spread a few ashes from the heating plant on the sidewalks and once more make the University byways safe for mankind. Rumor has it that even Prexy Upham has been a victim of the demon ice, so let us pray for action, because "them walks sure am hell." —W. G. S.

Flunkitis—Flunkitis is the old yet ever new disease to which almost every student on the campus sooner or later falls victim. In fact there is an epidemic during every exam season. Any student will assure you in the best of faith that he's just on the narrow edge of flunking. This is the first symptom of the disease. He further adds that after the next quiz he is planning to pack his trunk and take the first train home. He never studies a bit and never knows a thing in any of his classes, he says. If the truth were told, this same student is the personification of industry. When the next quiz comes he probably will get an "A" Then why does he talk of flunking? The reason is that he must be in fashion. In student circles a reputation for studying is in extremely poor taste. No matter how much time you devote to it, you must give out the impression that you are anything but intellectual. Why a student should feel obliged to advertise himself as a numbskull in a society which supposedly is interested in education is somewhat of a mystery, but the fad probably originated in an attempt on the part of students to appear modest.

A series of tests to determine the influence of tobacco smoking on the mental efficiency were carried out by Prof. Carl L. Hull, of the University of Wisconsin. The two most significant tests, from an intellectual standpoint, were complex mental addition and note learning. The evidence of the effects of smoking on the ordinary routine thinking is favorable to tobacco. Results in the case of note learning are unfavorable to tobacco.

For once, why can't the student body show a bit of cooperative spirit and render a great assistance to the staff of the Gem of the Mountains getting subscriptions in on time. Just for once!

The annual staff is in for the devil of a lot of work. As has been announced on varied occasions, they must tell the printers by the fifteenth of this month how many copies to run off, and only a meagre scattering of subscriptions have been received. Oh! yes, "They can count on me—Ken knows that," but "that" is an old story. When the order for a certain number goes in before the subscriptions come across, one of two things happen. Either there are a lot of books without students to cherish them, or a lot of vacant spaces in memory libraries about 1930.

We all intend to subscribe, any possible exceptions probably aren't reading the school's paper anyway. But somehow, we can't bring ourselves to sign up so early in the game. Now don't say you can't find anyone to give your money to—only show it to any Spur or Knight, there's one in every house or hall, also in town, and watch jump.

Let's have a little practical Christianity and turn that devil into only a little imp.

No, I must admit, I haven't given them my two dollars yet, but I will have by the time this comes out — unless I forget.—F. B.

Galoshes Prove Big Handicap for Kioty; Means Loss of Girl

Dear Ma, Well ma Im mad, yes I am very mad as oscar Wild would say but no fooling I am mad as a fellow which wears them big loose galoshes has took my girl 2 different places once to see Monty Blew and once to a dance which was give by my faternity as he is a brother of mine now what do you think of that ma. think of a girl going with a fellow that wears them things flopping around like that. I have heard of fellows trying to imitate heros and fighters and athletes and business hounds and knights and sheeks but I never did hear of men trying to imitate womin. Say ma they have to walk with their feet spread apart like a horse that interferes and go along flop flop flop. They look like a old percheron mare fifth four or five pounds of hair on their fetlocks. Crying all night—and all day too— I bet them fellows carries a doreen in their pocket, next thing you know they will be carrying a little hangerchief in their hand with perfume on it. Gee whiz, I aint going to wear no such junk even if that girl never does like me no more. besides I seen a girl today that said she never liked men with galoshes on no way. Gee whiz ma.

SOCIETY

Now that vacation is a thing of the already distant past, we are again confronted with a round of dinner guests and dances. The sorority exchange dinners on Tuesday bid fair to be both successful and enjoyable as far as every one is concerned. Regular guest night continues to be in vogue. And with the Associated Women's dance, and the big carnival dance to look forward to, we can not feel that college has re-started in vain!

Student Manager To Wear Carnation for Unknown Co-Ed

"—And I'll wear a pink carnation at the game tomorrow night."

Thus promised Idaho's illustrious senior student manager to the bold but anonymous co-ed who phoned him last night for a date to the co-ed Associated Women's dance which had already been postponed.

"Hello," said Floyd in answer to the ring.

"Oh, I couldn't guess in a million years."

"Why yes, I'm just dying to go. I'd love to."

"Where do I live? Why, way across town; on the road to Moscow mountain."

"No, I never use a taxi going home. . . yes, it would be great after the dance going back in the moonlight."

"No, I can't be there Saturday night, even if you call with a taxi. I've got to sell tickets at the game in the gym."

"Fine! You'll call there at nine o'clock, then?"

"How'll you know me? Don't you already?"

"Oh, I see. . . Well, I'll wear a pink carnation at the game; how's that? Shall I wear a tax?"

IDAHO ENGINEERS HONOR CRAWFORD

Professor Ivan C. Crawford, dean of the college of engineering of the University of Idaho and head of the department of civil engineering, has been invited to speak before the annual convention of the Idaho chapter of the American Engineering association, which meets at Twin Falls January 16 and 17.

Dean Crawford will speak before the association upon the relationship of the college of engineering with the engineering development of the Idaho, he stated today.

The annual convention of the engineering association draws a large number of professional engineers from over the entire state, and many of the big problems of state industrial and engineering development of Idaho are discussed by leaders in their particular lines. Last year's convention was held at Pocatello, at which Dean Crawford was one of the principal speakers.

OHIO STATE FROSH ATHLETE ONE-LEGGED

John M. Benton, a freshman at Ohio State University, participates in nine athletic sports in spite of the fact that he has only one leg.

Benton, whose home is in Fort Thomas, Ky., was born with one leg. He attended preparatory school at Ohio Military Institute where he won letters in two sports, playing tackle on the football team and guard on the basketball quintet.

He also holds a medal for second place in the half mile swim and he also pole vaults, roller skates, wrestles, boxes, and plays baseball.

And in reply to short dresses, the eyes have it.

in three attempts. Canine dropped in three free throws for the freshmen, while Kyle and Jacoby scored one each.

Hoshaw Injured. Hoshaw, brilliant Coyote center, one of the strongest cogs in the collegians' machine, was taken from the game after he was injured with only three minutes to play.

The summary follows:

Frosh (23). College of Ida. (22).
Byer..... R.F.Lowell
Roise..... L.F.Rowland
Canine..... C.Hoshaw
Jacoby..... L.G.Robinson
Dean..... L. G.Hostetler

LAWYERS-AGS BASKETBALL

Dangerous doh's is afoot. . . next Friday night. For it is announced that the mighty Bar-risters is to meet the equally mighty Farmers in a battle to death on the gym floor.
The basketball game has been called for 7:30, and dope from the Lawyers' and The Ags' camps indicates a real contest.
No laurel crown has yet been announced for the winners, but undoubtedly some good one will be forthcoming.
Team lineups, officials, and police protection will be announced in the next issue of The Argonaut.

Most anybody will admit he's good; the trouble comes in getting the other fellow to admit it.

CONFERENCE OPENS; NOW IN FULL SWING

Dopesters Favor Oregon Aggies as Strong Contenders; Idaho Rated High

With the Vandals' victory over the Whitman college hoopsters Monday night, the northwest basketball conference was started in full swing. And so far, considering a host of barnstorming contests played by conference teams during the winter vacation, everything points to a season filled with brilliant and spectacular basketball. The next conference game will be between Idaho and Gonzaga in the Idaho gymnasium next Saturday night.

Although many stars who helped to bring Idaho to the fore in conference basketball last season have been lost by graduation, everything points to a good year for the Vandals. They closed a nine-game barnstorming tour December 31 by losing to the North Dakota Aggies, 33 to 30. David MacMillan, Idaho mentor, used this as a final test for his many candidates for berths on the varsity squad and as a result practically every candidate was given a chance to show his stuff. Then the Vandals started in earnest and took every one of the next eight games by good score. The last game of the barnstorming tour was lost to the Spokane Amateur Athletic club, 29 to 27.

Oregon Aggies Good.

Perhaps Idaho's strongest competition for coast hoop honors this season will come from the Oregon Aggies. They have just returned from a successful invasion of California and have been pronounced to be in midseason form by those who have seen them play. Carlos Steele, flashy guard who plays about the same brand of basketball as did Al Fox, forward on the three Idaho teams previous to this year, is going better this year than last. He is a flash. Although built rather heavy and close to the ground, he covers nearly every portion of the floor with ease. In addition to this his aim for the basket is sure. Washington and Oregon have been displaying rather good basketball in pre-season games and it is expected they will step out before the season is very old and show some fast basketball.

Montana is pretty much of an unknown quantity the hoop sport this year. Although the school hasn't shown much in practice games this season many authorities are wondering just what it holds up its sleeve. Montana occupies a rather unique position in the coast conference this year. At the meeting last spring, Oregon and O. A. C. protested that it was unfair for Oregon to have to send a team into Montana for competition. The protest was considered and a resolution passed which will permit Montana games to be ignored in computing percentages unless Montana displays championship abilities.

EINSTEIN THEORY IS BEING TESTED

New York, N. S. N. S.—Two weeks will be needed by Professors Albert A. Michelson and Henry G. Gale of the University of Chicago to test the Einstein theory of relativity by means of their elaborate apparatus which is nearing completion at Clearing, Ill.

On Oct. 17, they began observations. The apparatus consists of a rectangle of water pipe 1,800 feet long by 1,200 feet wide; an arc light which will flash two beams of light around the pipe in opposite directions; sets of mirrors to relay the light beams around the pipe, and an air pump to create a vacuum in the pipe.

According to the Einstein Theory of relativity, one beam should travel around the circuit in slightly less time than the other.

CARMAN STELLAR OPERA

1925 University Artist Course, the others being Albert Spaulding, the greatest violinist America has ever produced, and Reinald Werrenrath, than whom there is perhaps no better known American singer. None but course tickets have so far been sold.

Following its traditional manner, Moscow has been unusually slow in subscribing, and although this is the best course the university has ever offered, local people still seem to be uncertain whether the numbers, one and all, are deserving of their patronage. Spokane people who heard the San Carlo production of "Carmen" last year pronounced it the best offering the company had. Spokane people welcome the San Carlo company every year and make an event of their appearance and the Spokane public has the reputation of being a discriminating one in musical matters.

Moscow people who come to hear Carmen a week from Thursday will certainly not be disappointed. The opera has some well known and engaging tunes, quite a bit of lively dancing, is sung by a company of excellent singers and accompanied by a much better orchestra than Moscow is accustomed to hear. After the tenth no more course tickets will be sold.

IT IS ESSENTIAL

Co-operation from the Moscow business men is necessary for the best U. of I. results.

ALSO

Your full cooperation with the Moscow business houses is equally necessary.

We appreciate your cooperation, your faithful patronage.
