Poor old Hugo Bezdeck! Hard luck, Oregon! Too bad, wearers of the emerald hue, but "Pink's" embattled warriors were on the smearing mood Monday night and that Eugene countenance happened to be squarely in the road. Just by way of casual comment the score was 24-22. The game was a genuine battle from the initial tip-off, with the lead doing a continual pendulum act, and it took all of Idaho's reserve kick to hoop the winning basket.

Judging by the large number of woe-be-gone looking Froshies on the campus this week, initiations are in progress. Upper classmen are noticeable, keeping vigilant eyes on those bashful youths, who desire to speak with their lady friends and there are startling rumors of the way in which the unoffending green-top has developed along the lines of music and poetry. Those, who have gone thru the pangs of initiation, may smile and flash their pins, but the others are and hoping for the best. Have mercy, still groping in the dark unknown, on the freshmen!

Professors Kostalek, Coolidge, Lewis and Black were dinner guests at Beta Theta Pi Wednesday evening.

On Wednesday evening Omega Pi entertained her members at a dinner party in honor of the fourth anniversary of the founding of the sorority. Omega Pi had as its first faculty member, Professor L. E. Gurney, formerly head of the Physics department at the University of Idaho, and through his efforts the sorority got the beautiful home they are now occupying. The residence is one of the finest on university hill and adjoins the property of Beta Theta Pi. Prof. C. L. von Ende is at the present time their faculty advisor and the patronesses are: Mrs. J. G. Griffith, Mrs. C. L. von Ende, and Mrs. S. E. Hutton. Ella Woods, '11, a charter member, is house mother of the sorority and last year the groups' scholarship average was 4.925.

The Sophomore class met last Tuesday and elected Chas. Gray president; Homer Huddelson, vice-president; Miss Mary Nodde, secretary; Jess Bidwell, treasurer. The executive committee will be composed of: Miss Marian Wiley, Herbert Samms and R. M. Montague.

The slinging at the Wednesday assembly took on a genuine burst of enthusiasm when "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" was sung. "Alma Mater Idaho," "Boola," and "America," were also part of the song service. Prof. C. E. Coolidge, of the College of Engineering gave a talk on, "The Idaho Spirit and the Spirit of Her Youth."

Yes, they've got a good basket ball team in that just-nine-miles-away place and they climbed on Idaho's scrappy aggregation Saturday night to the tune of 27 to 15. The Pullman bunch pranced into the lead early in the game and were never headed.

Judging from tobacco laden smoke from the north basement at certain hours of the day certain young gentlemen (?) are using the Ad. building to enjoy a "pill" in now and then. If you meet a Junior or a Senior or a lawyer with a guilty looking face, saturated with the smell of tobacco, sneaking up the basement stairway, by retracing his tracks you will know where to locate the smoke-room.

Frank Thomas, Otto Stillingier, Paul Amos, Chase Raney, and John Cramer were initiated into the Alpha Kappa Epsilon fraternity on Saturday night.

The Prohibition National Committee has issued a call for 3000 college men to volunteer in the war against John Barleycorn. Fifteen special secretaries are now travelling through the colleges of the country enlisting young men in the campaign.

Germany, it is estimated, has lost at least 20,000,000 gold marks through funds advanced by the ministry of posts on questionable securities.

IDAHO MATMEN TO MEET W. S. C. HERE SATURDAY

Cougar Frosh and Vandal Rooks to Tangle in Curtain Raiser; Many Co-eds Expect to Watch Sport

Vandals and Cougar bone crushers will sport their wares on an Idaho mat in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The first year grapplers from each school will put on a series of curtain-raiser bouts. This is the second match for the Idaho varsity matmen this season. The first was lost to the University of Oregon crew last Saturday.

This will be the first public appearance of the frosh wrestlers. There has been considerable competition for places on the squad, so much in fact that R. B. Ross, student coach has experienced some difficulty in picking men who will start. But whoever he choose, he said Thursday, fireworks can be expected, for he has a fast and tough gang.

A goodly sprinkling of co-eds will adorn the bleachers at the gym Saturday afternoon if wrestling grips the fairer sex at Idaho like it has all over the coast this season. More than 500 persons attended the meet at Oregon and a good share of those were women, the returning matmen say.

The Vandals will be wrestling under good old Moscow weather Saturday and they are expected to show a real brand of grappling against the Cougars. They were handicapped, they said, by the low altitude of the Web-foot state in the other meet.

The following men probably will go on for the varsity:
"Bud" Bliss, 178 pounds; Edelblute, 161 pounds; R. B. Ross, 141 pounds; Powers, 133 pounds; and Bitner, 123 pounds.

The lineup of the Frosh squad which will grapple with the Cougar Babes as a preliminary at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and their weight classes, have been announced as follows: Bradley, 125; Harkness, 135; Crox, 145; McCall, 158; and Cromwell, 175.

BATTLE FOR TITLE ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Pi Sigma Rho and S. A. E.'s Meet to Decide Debate Championship

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will meet Pi Sigma Rho in the finals of the intramural debate contest, according to results of the semi-finals held Tuesday night.

Pi Sigma Rho defeated Lindley Hall and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, won from Delta Gamma in the semifinals.

Georgia Little and Doris Squibb presented the negative for Pi Sigma Rho with Sidney McClellan and George Christenson upholding the affirmative for Lindley Hall, on the question resolved that the Prohibition Amendment should be repealed. In the second debate, Ben MaHony and Lloyd Bertrand composed the negative team for Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Mary Leute and Marjorie Simpson the affirmative team for Delta Gamma on the question Resolved—That Congress by a two-thirds vote should over-rule the Supreme court decisions. Both debates were well presented and showed marked improvement over the earlier debates of the season.

Randolph Jenness, formerly connected with the University Press service, is assistant editor of the Des Moines Capital, he told Edward F. Mason, director of publications. In a recent letter, he expressed the hope that he would be able to renew acquaintances on the Idaho campus soon.

SOPHS SPREAD STUFF IN NEW CLASS GARB

Numerals Vests Blossom Out on Second-year Men Today

Think of it! This morning, Friday the thirteenth, more than 75 sophomore men deliberately cut the bottoms off their coats so there would be no deception, threw out their chests, showed their hands deep into their trousers pockets, and marched grandly about the campus displaying their brand new black and white vests.

The vests arrived yesterday, and before nightfall Prexy Reem had distributed them all to eager classmen for the great blowout this morning. The vest is a becoming garment in black with white border and a white '27 on the lower left-hand pocket.

Commenting on the new sophomore garb, President Reem said that he hoped it would prove popular enough to go down in the annals of Idaho traditions as a permanent fixture. And they look swell enough to, at that.

JAZZ BAND, SUED, FEATURES U. MAN

Al Marineau Playing in Orchestra With R. Pollock, Defendant in Odd Case

Ralph Pollock's orchestra, now in its sixth week at the Liberty theatre in Spokane is featuring two trombone solos played by Al Marineau in his week's program. Marineau, former leader of the Idaho Pep band joined the Pollock organization two weeks ago.

National prominence has been accorded Pollocks' orchestra during its stay in Spokane as a result of a $10,000 damage suit filed against the leader, who has been featuring selections from famous operas in fox trot tempos. A well-known Inland Empire musician was reported to have sponsored the suit.

Regardless of the outcome of the expected battle in Spokane courts over the charges against Pollock, his orchestra has been reaping countrywide publicity since the bill was filed. Associated Press wires carried the story of the odd suit onto the front pages of newspapers throughout the nation.

Marineau features an interesting phase of the dispute is that Marineau and his trombone are featured in an operatic selection this week which is being played in dance time. The number is from "Aida" and recent advertisements in Spokane papers stated that "despite protests, Mr. Pollock and his orchestra will continue to play "Aida" in fox trot tempo."

Pollock's band was organized in Denver and is composed entirely of college men. Pollock, who has the distinction of having made records with Marion Harris and Margaret Young, is at present negotiating for a New York engagement for his orchestra in a huge stage production. In addition to their stage performance the musicians will furnish dance music at a New York supper-club.

Marineau was in his junior year at the university and played at the Davenport hotel with Mel Butler's band during the summer months last season. While in school he was retained as an instructor of brass instruments on the University faculty.

PAULSON ELECTED TO HEAD KNIGHTS

At the annual election for honorable duke of the Intercollegiate Knights, Harry Paulson was elected. He will take the pace of Martel Archibald, whose term expired at the end of the second semester "Bill" Caloway was elected to the position of royal scribe to fill the vacancy made through the election of Harry Paulson as Honorable duke. Plans were discussed for the grand convention of the organization which is to be held here in late spring.

FROSH MEET MONDAY

There will be a meeting of the freshmen class in the Auditorium, Monday night at 8 o'clock. This meeting will be held to elect officers for the spring semester. It will be one of the biggest meetings of the year for the freshmen and all of them are urged to be out for it, according to the president.

VANDALS AT ODDS WITH LUCK IN COAST CAMPAIGN

Idaho Hoopsters Drop Two of Four Contests; Huskies and Willamette are Victims; Aggies and Whitman Win

Idaho Vandals have lost two rounds and won two in their scheduled six round tilt with the hoop aggregations of the coast. Washington Huskies, considered one of the slickest quintets in the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference, napped while Idaho overcame an eight-point lead and won their biggest game after an extra five minute period when the gun had cracked on a tie. Willamette university furnished the Vandals the other victory. The Vandals dropped the other two games, to Whitman and the Oregon Aggies.

The Washington game played Monday night was by far the fastest game of the trio played by the Vandals on their tour. The Huskies led at halftime, 19 to 13. They kept up the pace early in the second half and hardly before the ball had been tossed between the centers, had chased the score 21 to 13. The Vandals broke loose then, and, after 10 minutes of furious playing, tied the score.

Huskies Come Back
The Huskies then came out of their corner, and after a whiff of smelling salts, tore into the Vandals defense and hooped two more baskets in double quick time. Then the Vandals strutted their stuff. Nelson led off by hooping a long field goal from

BISHOP DISCUSSES PROBLEMS FACING MODERN YOUTH

The Rt. Rev. Edward Cross Tells Students the Questions Confronting Younger Generation; "Life Outlook" is Subject

"Our outlook on life" was the subject of the ringing address delivered to the University students in their auditorium assembly Wednesday morning by the Rt. Rev. Edward Cross, bishop of the Spokane district of the Episcopal church.

Bishop Cross spoke convincingly and at length on the questions confronting the younger generation today. He took the stand that modern youth is careless in its attitude toward and respect of the older and more mature teachings of literature and religion. The modern youth, he declared, is egotistic, will not listen to the teachings of authorities of the time, and it is so much influenced by modern writers that he goes so far as to express and believe their theories of life, and condemn certain sound ones in the Bible.

Bishop Cross went on to say that all modern writers take a pessimistic view of life, and the modern young

WAGNER NAMED JUNIOR PREXY

Budge, Leithe, McCrea, Elected to Other Offices; Class Bars Freshmen

John Wagner was elected president of the junior class at a meeting held last night, finishing with a substantial lead of 93 to 45 over his opponent Ray Stephens. Ora Budge won the contest for vice-president from Josephine Keane by the slim margin of 71 votes to 60. Anna Marie Leithe was unopposed in the balloting for class secretary, polling 123 votes, while Don McCrea was elected class treasurer, with an impressive 110 to 38 vote over his opponent, DeVaut Jordan.

The Junior class then went on record when they decided to exclude freshman boys from the Junior Prom, but allow freshman girls to attend the affair, by this decision the class indicated that they were only upholding two Idaho traditions; one that every person attending the Prom must wear evening clothes, and the other, that freshman boys are not allowed to wear formal evening clothes at any all-college affair.

WHITWORTH LOSES 46-29 TO FRESHMEN

Vandal Babes Drub Spokane Team in Snappy, But Unsensational Game

Passing superiority throughout the entire game gave the freshmen basket ball squad a 46-29 victory over the tossers from Whitworth college, Spokane, in a snappy but unsensational game in the University gymnasium Thursday night.

In basket shooting, the teams appeared about equal, but lack of an adequate defense by Whitworth left frequent openings for the Baby Vandal's forward. Defense of the frosh was better than that of the visitors, but neither team was strong in this part of the game. The true merit of the contest lay in apparent desire on the part of both sides to keep things moving, so there were few dull moments.

Freshmen players took the lead in the early stages, and retained it. During the first half, it looked as if Whitworth could win, and the period ended 19 to 11. In the second part of the game, however, the freshmen begin to get through the visitors more regularly, and the points piled up.

Clever shooting of Davis for Whitworth was a feature of the game. Davis was only in the fracas about 10 minutes, being substituted for Boppell who was removed because of fouls, but in that time he slipped in four field goals. Bell, Whitworth center, completed five field goals.

For the freshmen, Beyer, left forward, was outstanding, with six field goals and five completed free shots out of seven attempts. Canine also did good work although not in the entire game, and tallied four times. Jacoby made four goals.

- Frosh (46) Whitworth (29)
Beyer (17) L. F. McKenzie (4)
Daweld (2) R. F. Abbeal (5)
Kyle C. Bell (11)
Jacoby (9) L. G. Boppell
Cheney R. G. Malanya (1)
Substitutions: Frosh—Canine (10) for Kyle; Wendell for Cheney; Randall (2) for Canine; Roise (3) for Daweld; Armubsted (1) for Wendell. Whitworth—Davis (8) for Boppell. Referee, Reget. Score, Laird Melrea.

FEB. 15 FINAL DATE TO FILE FOR DEGREES

February fifteenth has been set as the last day for seniors to file their application for a degree. Those who do not make known their intention to the registrar by that day will not receive their degree at commencement next June.

According to Ella Olesen, registrar, 35 masters degrees and 200 bachelor degrees are to be given. This total is the largest in the history of the school and may prove to be greater than that.

DRAWINGS DISPLAYED

Interesting charcoal drawing displays by the freshmen class and unique interpretations of cathedrals by the sophomore class in the department of architectural design are now on exhibition in the science building. The display will be open to the public for another week during the hours from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

VANDAL MEN WIN IN DEBATE AGAINST WASHINGTON HERE

Affirmative Gets 2 to 1 Decision in One Leg of Washington - Oregon-Idaho Triangular

Declaring that, "Ever since the Dredd Scott decision conditions in the United States have not favored the handing down of supreme court decisions off-setting laws made for the good of the American commonwealth," H. Francis McKee opened the guns for the Idaho affirmative in its debate with Washington held last night, which Idaho won by a 2 to 1 decision. Quoting Theodore Roosevelt and maintaining that state rights are no longer possible since we must face conditions from a wholly national standpoint, McKee drove home point after point favoring the question; which was, Resolved: That Congress Should Have the Power by a Two-thirds Majority to Overrule Decisions of the Supreme Court.

In commenting on the Dredd Scott decision, McKee said, "We are not arguing against the validity of the decision, but against the principle which allowed such a decision and merged us into a four-year civil war. Direct election of senators, woman suffrage, and many other much-needed legislation has taken years to put over simply because of the intervention by the supreme court. We propose a simple amendment to do away with the red tape of the present system by which congress by a two-thirds majority, can overrule the decisions of the supreme court.

Maintaining that the supreme court is composed of the highest type of men procurable and that congressmen are not as competent, Harold Morfitt took the stand against the question for the negative team of Washington. "The question," declared Mr. Morfitt, "is which is better able to interpret the constitution of the United States, the supreme court

February 12, 1809

Five-score and fifteen years ago a certain baby boy celebrated his first birthday. Millions of other baby boys did the same thing in that same year, but because Abraham Lincoln has since so nobly served his countrymen, so eternally endeared himself in their hearts, so unselfishly laid his life on the altar of loyalty and progress . . . America and all the world honors the memory of his birthday, February 12.

There are men in every generation who are destined to point the way of progress. They put into actual words and practice the principles and truths of life which the rest of the world can only realize to the extent of emulation and imitation. They are the authors of the "grand style" in life and of living.

It is not alone the evil that men do that lives after them. It is the sum-total of their contribution to the world, good or bad. And Lincoln, the man and the leader, has permanently taken his place among the great world leaders of all time.

Vandals Hit Their Stride

Idaho's basketball Vandals seem to have hit their stride. Setting off on a coast conference tour of six games in a week including three with the Pacific coast conference leaders, MacMillan's team has won two games in three. The one against Washington was important enough to spoil the chances, temporarily at least, of the Huskies for conference leadership.

With four of the five regularly playing Vandals on the squad doing their first bit for Idaho's varsity, Coach MacMillan has indeed grabbed the psychological instant for his comeback. At the very moment when coast critics and the teams themselves were relegating the Vandals to a cellar position in conference standings, Idaho slips up from behind two conference defeats to win from one of the conference leaders.

As The Argonaut has said before: Idaho's basketball Vandals have the stuff; it only wants the time and the opportunity to bring it out.

Tonight Idaho plays the last great Pacific coast conference game on her trip. Oregon is now runner-up for top position in the standings by virtue of her defeat of the W. S. C. Cougars, O. A. C.'s win over Idaho and Washington's defeat at the hands of Idaho.

If Idaho wins from Oregon . . .

Varsity Wrestling Meet Tomorrow

Idaho wrestling Vandals meet the Washington State college grapplers in the university gym tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Idaho's wrestlers compose an unusually strong varsity lineup this year, despite their defeat by the Oregon matmen last week. The Idaho squad has been training and working out rigorously for the last week, and will be in excellent shape for this first meet on the home mat.

Without doubt wrestling is one of the hardest and least appreciated major sports at Idaho. The general attitude in the past has frowned upon the attendance at wrestling meets of all but men. And even then, the home meets have been scheduled at unearthly hours and sandwiched in between other important events, so that wrestling has not received the support it deserves as a major sport.

The Argonaut is all for a more favorable campus attitude and greater student support of wrestling if it is to remain a major sport.

Varsity Debate

Idaho varsity debate is another campus activity which, in past years, has occupied a cellar position in the distribution of student support. Not so to-day, however. The fine lineup of meets that Mr. Michael, debate coach, has scheduled so far this season has given an impetus to debate popularity which will undoubtedly boost that deserving activity several notches above the plane occupied in the past.

Intra-mural debate, the Oxford meet at Boise, and the Women's varsity no-decision meets have all united to carry debate colors at Idaho higher and higher. Last night the Idaho-Washington-Oregon men's triangular staged a fine meet in the auditorium when Idaho met Washington and won a two-to-one decision.

Debate is interesting, filled with valuable current discussions of national and international problems, and thoroughly worth while to every Idaho student. Let's have more of 'em and attend more of 'em.

Student Opinion

What is the value of an Alma Mater hymn? Is its aim to pep up a team before it goes forth to battle—or rather is it an expression of loyalty and devotion to the university you are a part of, and to which you solemnly stand allegiance to?

ed to the school is lacking in pep, should try to feel the sincerity and power of the words, the poise and depth of feeling in the music, and the wonderful strength which lies in it when sung in unison by the whole assembly body. Then they would know why big universities have their Alma Mater hymn; why they cherish it above their rally songs; and what it means to those who have finished. Sturdy memories lie in the spirit of our Alma Mater.

LEGION TO HONOR NOTED VIOLINIST

Plans are now being made by the Moscow American Legion to meet Albert Spalding, world renowned American violinist who will appear here February 27, in the university auditorium, and to entertain him with an informal luncheon at the Moscow hotel, according to Commander Ellis of the Dudley Loomis Post No. 6. Albert Spalding is an ex-sevice man, distinguished as an aviator with the A. E. F. in Italy, and was decorated by the Italian government with the "Cross of the Crown of Italy," the highest honor every conferred on a foreign born citizen.

Oregon university is to adopt psychology intelligence tests for all freshmen this coming fall. They will be grouped according to results shown in this test, though such a grouping will not, of course, be final.

BISHOP DISCUSSES

man and woman reflect this attitude. This unfavorable outlook on life is at least partly caused by the low and undermined physical condition of the average person today. The hurry and speed of modern living runs down the body and its influence on the mind results in a depressed and gloomy attitude.

This condition is further aggravated by the demoralizing effect of those people in the world who have not retained their honor and virtue. Among them are influential ones who are supremely pessimistic because they have surrendered their character and vacated their integrity.

For the guidance and assistance to those who honestly desire to find the answer to the world muddle, Bishop near the center of the floor and Miles followed with two more, giving Idaho a two-point lead. Just before the gun announced the end of the game, Anderson, Husky captain delayed the Vandal victory by hooping a field goal and tying the score. This necessitated an extra five minute period. As this session started, Nelson was fouled by Hale. The Vandal guard scored on the free throw, bringing Idaho once more to the lead. Hale spoiled things by dribbling the full length of the floor and converting a difficult field goal, spinning the Huskies once more to the lead. Miles, eagle-eyed Idaho forward messed up a nice Washington victory by stopping a dribble in the middle of the floor and slamming the ball basketward. It dropped through the hoop, carrying an Idaho victory with it.

TWIN FALLS CLUB WIRES PROTESTS

Live Campus Organization Telegraphs Idaho State Legislators to Oppose Bills

An enthusiastic group of students from Twin Falls county met Wednesday night at the Kappa house to discuss plans for the new student campaign that will be carried on this summer and to devise means of acquainting more high school students with the advantages of attending the university.

A report of the dance given by the club to high school students during the holidays was given by Jack Phipps, chairman, who reported that the dance was successful, with a large turnout of university alumni present students and high school seniors. As this dance was given to acquaint the high school seniors with the university and with the students already in attendance, it was in the form of a mixer, similar to the Idaho mixers held on the campus each fall.

In order to show the legislators from Twin Falls county that they are opposed to the pending bills to remove the agriculture college and the redistricting of the Board of Regents the club decided to send telegrams to the representatives from Twin Falls county urging them to vote against these bills and to lend their support in any activity to defeat them.

It was voted that the next meeting be a social one with friends invited as guests, time and place to be announced later.

ECONOMIC BULLETIN RAPIDLY EXPANDING

The growing popularity of the Idaho economic bulletin is shown by a letter received by Prof. H. C. Dale, director of the business curriculum. In speaking of the bulletin Prof. Dale said that he had a letter from a man in Pocatello whom he had never of giving the following comment—"It is with interest that I look forward to the Idaho economic bulletin published by your department. I 'devour' them each month."

"A special number of the Idaho Economic Bulletin will come out shortly containing all of the final examination questions of the courses in business said Prof. Dale. The purpose of these is to give an idea of the high quality of instruction and the vigorous standards set by the business curriculum."

This is the third year of the publication of the Idaho economic bulletin which is edited by Prof. Dale, assisted by a staff made up of members of the department. The circulation now numbers over two thousand copies per month.

so by the supreme court, it is impossible to overrule it by a legislative act. A constitutional amendment by a simpler process is impossible; it could only be done by a higher power than the supreme court.

The constitution divides our government into three parts and these act as a check on each other. To give congress such a new power would be to offset the very fundamental idea of the constitution."

Warren Montgomery, second Idaho speaker, opened by saying that we are debating from the standpoint of the people and not of the benefit to states or governments. "Our opponents say congress has made mistakes," he said, "I will show that the supreme court is tarred with the same brush." And Montgomery cited several cases where the court seemed entirely in the wrong. "The only place to look for benefits from the powers of the constitution is to interpret them in the light of present conditions, and not those of a century ago when it was written."

Elwood Hutchison, second negative speaker, said that congress was not strong enough nor high enough in elgal understanding to decide the constitutionality of an act. "It would be unwise and inexpedient to do away with the powers of the supreme court by delegating these in this manner to congress," he declared. The supreme court today is composed of the highest type of men and we defy you to cite one case of inattention to duty by a member. Congress has several times shown itself and incapable of passing truly good laws. And in each case where congress has attempted to usurp the powers of the people, the supreme court has upheld the American citizens constitutional rights."

Seven-minute rebuttals were given all four debaters. These summed up the arguments already presented and drove home important points.

President A. H. Upham presided as chairman of the debate; and the judges were M. L. Dagey, professor of speech education at W. S. C., E. D. Lewis, professor of English at the Lewiston State normal, and C. H. Woody, professor of American history at W. S. C. An audience that nearly half-filled the auditorium heard the debate with much apparent interest.

A report by telephone late last night stated that the Idaho negative team which met Oregon at Eugene lost the debate by a 3 to 0 decision.
