Today, World in Brief

Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, and Estella Taylor, motion picture actress, were married recently in San Diego. Both have been married before.

Women today are demanding all of the rights enjoyed by men and must expect to bear the law's penalties equally with men. They can no longer expect to secure leniency in court by hiding behind their age or their skirts, says federal Judge Bourquin of Montana.

Practical first aid use of the airplane is to be made in taking diphtheria serum from Fairbanks Alaska to the stricken city of Nome.

A Japanese basketball team from the Tokio Y. M. C. A. will invade the U. S. for the first time in athletic history when they play teams in the western states this month.

Under a recent ruling of the British air rules committee, aviators who persist in throwing bottles and refuse overboard will be liable to six months in prison or a fine of $1000.

China has withdrawn from the international opium conference in Geneva, being unwilling to stop the use of the smoking in their country. The delegates of the U. S. were severely criticized for not being willing to cooperate with the other nations in suppressing the drug traffic.

Almost a third of England's seventeen million working people are women. They are represented in every kind of work and outnumber the men in the professions.

One way of classifying a family is by finding out if its piano cost more than its automobile.

Thirty one countries have recently inquired for American products through the foreign trade envoys of the department of agriculture. They were largely for manufactured goods ranging from bathing suits to foods and canned milk. Great Britain, Germany, Holland, Egypt, France, Rumania, Italy, Ceylon and China were some of the countries anxious for American products.

Determined to maintain its lead as the worlds leading meat eating country, the U. S. slaughtered 1,000,000 more meat animals in 1924 than in 1923. Slaughter of 79,432,640 cattle, sheep, goats, and swine was reported. While 500,000 fewer swine were killed the slaughter of cattle, calves, and sheep increased 500,000.

Wyoming is considering the passage of a bill making a second violation of the manufacturing, selling, or giving of intoxicating liquors a felony, punishable by fine and imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

RAEDER SCORES PLANT DISEASES

Experiment Station Expert Addresses Farmers' Institutes in South

In addresses by J. M. Raeder, assistant plant pathologist, University of Idaho experiment station at the farmers' institutes on the Buhl and Hansen sections Feb. 12 and 13, on diseases of plant life, particular stress is being placed on the Colorado potato beetle, discovered last summer. Mr. Raeder was invited to speak by the International Harvester company which is sponsoring institutes at both places. He will speak at Hansen Feb. 12 and at Buhl the day following.

The Colorado potato beetle the eradication of which has been undertaken by the experiment station, was found in several Idaho fields last summer and immediate steps were taken to stop its spread to other fields. If it gets a hold in the potato fields of the southern sections of the state, the farmers of the section will lose heavily, according to authorities of the experiment station, who have requested that any suspicious looking insects, of a species not known to the finder, be sent to Claude Wakeland, experiment station entomologist at Parma, for examination.

INTRA-MURAL DEBATE SEMI-FINALS TONIGHT

Kappa Sigs Meet Delta Chis; S. A. E. Faces Sig Pi Rhos

Semi-Finals in the intra-mural debate league will close with two debates tonight, in room 201 Ad. building, at 7:30.

Kappa Sigma will present the affirmative and Delta Chi the negative of the question, Resolved: "That the jet Russia." Sigma Alpha Epsilon affirmative will clash with the Pi Sigma Rho negative team on the question, Resolved: "That the University of Idaho should adopt the 'pass and fail' system."

The winners of these two debates will compete for the intra-mural cup being offered to the team winning the series, by the Theta Upsilon honorary debate fraternity.

R. O. T. C. Ball Feb. 20

The R. O. T. C. Ball at the Blue Bucket Inn Friday February 20 is for R. O. T. C. officers and graduates only with the exception of those who have invitations. Officers are expected to come in uniform.

IDAHO WILL MEET GRIZZLY AND HUSKY TEAMS THIS WEEK

Outcome is Uncertain After Vandal Record Made During Conference Tour of Coast

Idaho Vandals have two Pacific coast conference basketball games starting them in the face after they get rested from their recent tour of the coast. The University of Montana, who gave the Vandals their second conference whipping, will play here next Thursday night and the Washington Huskies, who fell before MacMillan's men, will be here on the Saturday following.

Starting with a defeat at the hands of the Whitman college Missionaries on their first night out the Vandals ran into a succession of bad luck on the tour and emerged with one victory out of two Coast conference games played. The Vandals came from behind the Washington quintet and defeated them by a one-point margin for their only conference victory. The Oregon Aggies and the University of Oregon each registered a victory over the travelers.

Vandals Lose to Whitman

In the Northwest Conference and non-conference games the Vandals fared a little better. Although they started badly with the Whitman crowd, they plowed through in the

STUDENT TRAINING MEET DATE FIXED

George Cole, state student secretary of the Washington Y. M. C. A. has completed arrangements for the student Officer's Training Conference to be held at Moscow in March on the 21 and 22. This conference will draw "Y" officers from the following institutions: Washington State college, Whitman college, Spokane college, Whitworth college, Lewiston State normal, and Cheney normal.

In addition to the representatives from these schools, Gale Seaman, recent Pacific Coast Regional Secretary of the student Y. M. C. A.; W. W. Dillon, the Oregon-Idaho executive secretary, and George Cole, state student secretary for Washington, will be present.

FOREST PICTURES ON DISPLAY IN MORRILL

Sixteen Enlarged Photos On Inland Empire Loaned by Forest Service

The United States Forest service has made a temporary loan to the school of forestry of the University of Idaho of sixteen enlarged forestry photographs, taken at various places in the Inland empire. Some show the noted "Z" canyon of the Clarksfork river near Metaline, Wash., others feature logging operations as carried on in the Inland empire, and still others are scenic views of a few of the lakes of the Inland empire—such as Priest Lake, Hayden lake and Turquoise lake. These are on display in the hall to the third floor of Morrill Hall.

(Montana's games not counted in opponents' column.)

In a battle which will decide the leadership of the northern section of the Pacific Coast basketball conference for a period of at least seven days, two Oregon teams are to clash Friday night. This game takes the Oregon Agricultural college team to Eugene, Ore. to meet the University of Oregon. In a previous game between the two, Oregon won by three points, a margin determined more by breaks in the game than by superior playing. One other Pacific Coast game between University of Washington and Washington State college, in which Washington is easily the favorite, is also scheduled Friday.

Although Oregon has slightly the edge in the O. A. C. game due to her previous victory and to her record of three games in four won, the odds appear against her for taking championship honors of the northern section of the conference. In this matter of ultimate leadership, O. A. C.

CHIMES ASSEMBLY FEATURE THIS WEEK

English Club Initiates Project and Makes First Contribution for Plans

Chimes for the University of Idaho will be the subject of an address by President Upham in general assembly at ten o'clock Wednesday morning in the auditorium. Several attempts have been made in the past to start a fund for the purchase and installation of chimes, but the pressing need for other improvements has always defeated the efforts of those who started them.

With the English club initiating the movement and making the first contribution, the cooperativeness of the student body beginning in "Chimes Assembly" Wednesday morning, and the certainty of attracting the interest of the faculty, alumni and other friends of the university, it is hoped that the fund can be well begun by the close of the school year.

The committee working on the project believes that before the close of 1925-26, chimes, peeling from the tower of the Administration building, will strike the hour, sound the battle call of the Vandals and announce the events of academic life as they should be heard.

The committee in charge of the chimes campaign consists of: Dr. G. M. Miller, Louis Martin, Blaine Stubblefield, Leo Fleming, Everett Erickson, Charlotte Jones, Margaret Schick and Mary Lute. Other members will be added as they are needed.

Chimes to Cost $6000

A complete set of chimes, consisting of ten tones, installed, will cost approximately $6,000, according to a salesman who recently visited the campus. More tones may be added at $500 each. The striking mechanism will be connected to the clock so that

Wind, Spring, Mud; Kioty Protests at Zephyrs and Ooze

Dear Ma,
Well ma, spring has come at last but Moscow is the muddiest town in the world ma. The streets is rivers of mud which runs down the hills if they are very steep like so much flap jack batter. Just to illustrate why I seen a fellow going along the street with just his head and shoulders sticking out over the mud and I says to him, pardner do you need help and he replied and says, he says no I'm on a horse. So if you want to find mud that is only ankle deep why you have go to be standing on your head in it. Pretty soon why the wind will start to blow in this country. It blows so hard the boys has to keep cotton stuffed in their saxofones and musical instruments to keep them from playing all the time. I bet you that a fellow could put sails on a hob sled load of brick and make forty miles a hour on dry dirt. The geologists says that these here Palouse-hills was deposited here-by-the-wind blowing dust from the Columbia basin, but I don't see how none of it ever got stopped here. Well so long ma.

THREE TEAMS TIE FOR LEAGUE LEAD

Phi Deltis Hold Top Position in "A" Division of Intra-Mural Hoop Series

League A	Points
Phi Delta Theta	800
Kappa Sigma	750
Beta Theta Pi	666
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	333
Sigma Nu	250
Phi Gamma Delta	000

League B	Points
Lindley Hall	800
Delta Chi	800
Sigma Chi	800
Tau Kappa Iota	333
Elwetats	250
Beta Chi	000
Sigma Phi Rho	000

Phi Delta Theta still holds its lead of "A" league, while three teams, Lindley Hall, Delta Chi and Sigma Chi are in a triple tie for leadership of "B" league in the intra-mural basketball series. Each of the leaders are credited with a percentage of .300.

The Phi Deltis have defeated the Kappa Sigs, the Kappa Sigs have defeated the Betas and the Betas have defeated the Phi Deltis. If the Betas defeat Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the Phi Gamma Deltas, and the Kappa Sigs defeat the Fijis, there is a possibility of a triple tie in "A" league.

The following games remain in the leagues:
League "A"
Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Gamma Delta, Feb. 18, 9 p. m.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Beta Theta Pi, Feb. 19, 6 p. m.
Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Gamma Delta, Feb. 21, 2 p. m.
S. A. E. vs. Sigma Nus, Feb. 23, 6 p. m.
League "B"
Beta Chi vs. Sigma Phi Rho, Feb. 18, 6 p. m.

Program Delights Capacity Audience At Sunday Musical

Displaying a marked degree of talent and finish, the music department entertained with a Sunday Vesper musical to a full assembly of appreciative listeners.

The men's Glee club was well received with its clever interpretations of "My Lady Chloe" by Clough-Leighter, "Heaven, Heaven" by Burleigh, and "Lo How a Sose" by Praetorius.

Miss Throckmorton sang "Fairy Tales" by Wolff, and on "Irish Love Song" by Lang, with a sweet tone quality which bespeaks much promise.

Interesting piano numbers of Bach's Two and Three Part Inventions, No's 4 and 13, were given by Miss Lemmer and Professor David Nyvall; Miss Lemmer playing the Bach number, as written by that composer, and Professor Nyvall giving his own original interpretation of it, then combining the two in duet form, producing an unusual and wholly satisfying result.

ALFORD HEADS FROSH FOR SPRING SEMESTER

Merrill, Tolman and Payne Win Out in Last Night's Election

Albert Alford, of Lewiston, won the race for the president of the freshmen class at the election last night in the auditorium by 60 votes. Alford polled 192 votes and Arnold Calvert, also of Lewiston, polled 132. The race for vice president was not so spirited. Both of the candidates are from Spokane and Beardsley Merrill won over his opponent Luxie Walker by a vote of 208 to 117.

Dorothy Tolman, of Boise, won the office of secretary by a vote of 180 to 136 from her nearest opponent Hazel Stillman, of Lewiston, who received 136 votes. Ethel Lafferty, of Spokane was the third candidate for secretary, with eight votes.

Lulu Payne, of Idaho Falls defeated Herbert Canine, of Burley for treasurer of the first year class. Miss Payne and Mr. Canine received 180 and 135 votes respectively.

The freshmen class also voted to award emblems to the members of the frosh football squad.

FORMER STUDENTS ACHIEVE SUCCESS IN CHOSEN WORK

University Graduates Hold Responsible Positions in Many Parts of World, Argonaut Survey Shows

Former students of the University of Idaho are achieving a marked degree of success in their chosen occupations, according to a survey just conducted by The Argonaut. Although more than half the graduates have chosen fields in Idaho, many of them have branched out and at the present time are holding positions in nearly every part of the world. Files in the offices of the heads of departments contain letters from graduates who have carried the name of the university into nearly every field of human activity.

Among them are the American consul to Vienna; a captain in the air service at Washington, D. C., a commander in the navy who is now an assistant secretary of the navy; a national bank examiner; missionaries in India, China, Africa, South America, Mexico and other parts of the world; army officers in rank of colonel down; physicians, surgeons and medical specialists.

MORTAR BOARD HOP MONDAY AFTERNOON

Matinee Dance to Celebrate Washington's Birthday

Matinee dances are coming in again with the advent of the Mortar Board hop at the Blue Bucket Inn Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Washington's birthday will be marked by tickets in the form of bright red hatchets.

"Because of this day being declared a holiday," said Margaret Springer, president of the society, "a great many students undoubtedly will plan on going; and since we have been compelled to limit the sale of tickets, it is advisable for all students intending to go to purchase theirs early." The tickets will go on sale tomorrow morning at 9:30 in front of the bulletin board in the Ad building.

RESERVED SEAT SALE
Student reserved seats for the Montana basketball game, Thursday, February 19th, will be placed on sale in the Ad building Wednesday morning at 9:00 a. m. Limit is two to a person.
Also the tickets for the Washington game Saturday night will be placed on sale Friday morning at 9:00 a. m.

Arthur Soward, Art Mathews, Errol Hillman, Guy Penwell and Lewis Williams.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTED

Forney Hall Heads List in Number of Turnout; Group Games Soon

Girls' basketball practice for the house tournament began this week with a comparatively large turnout. Margaret Carter, manager of girls' basketball, urges that all girls' organizations make it a point to be represented at these practices in order that the tournament may be made all the more interesting. The players for the class tournament will be chosen from the number making the best showing in the house tournament.

Forney Hall leads all other organizations in the number of girls represented at practice thus far.

Names of those who have reported for practice according to group divisions are:

Forney Hall—D. Manning, H. Swart, P. Clarke, H. Roe, J. Gives, K. Healy, S. Felt, E. Shirley, E. Huston, A. Bowdish, M. Griffith, H. Edwards, E. Milender, E. Byrant, G. Smith, C. Morris, L. Truman, G. Groefsema, F. Hauser, L. Walker, M. Wein, M. Stockton I. Loken.

CLUB LAYS PLANS FOR BIG DINNER

Cosmopolitans to Have Banquet In Pullman With W. S. C. Group At Early Date

Plans for a joint banquet with the club at Pullman are being made by the Cosmopolitan club, an organization of foreign students registered in the university. As yet no definite date has been set, but the banquet will be held at Washington State college and a similar one will be held here later in the spring. The entertainment will consist of music and talks on the various countries of the world and will be furnished by the members of the two clubs.

The Cosmopolitan club is petitioning the national organization of that name for a chapter on the Idaho campus. The object of the club is to establish a better relationship between the students of the various countries, enroll in the university, and the American students as well.

The meetings of the club are held in the "U" hut and after the business has been tended to the club has some form of entertainment including talks by natives of various countries. This affords the members of the club an opportunity to get first

Non-Conformists

The old adage that minorities are generally more nearly right than majorities is probably true. But it is not because they are minorities that they are more nearly right. It is because being a part of one requires real intelligent discrimination. Non-conformity demands continual explanation and defense of position. The man who refuses to comply with standards and conventions because he sees their fallacies and is trying to eliminate them always has the burden of proof upon him. To society the majority is always right.

It's no fun, this being continually at variance with the majority; and the only consolation for the non-conformist seems to lie in his own positive belief that he knows better, and so cannot comfortably conform. When the ideas of a few are balanced over against those of the majority they must be carefully worked out and intelligent if they are to prevail or even deserve defense. So the members of a minority must be individually capable of intelligent discrimination, else they can do no good.

If a man lacks this supreme requisite he would better join the majority. He is far safer there. Joining a minority is like getting married or successfully predicting the outcome of a basketball game: it is not to be entered into or done "unreservedly or lightly; but reverently, discreetly, advisedly, soberly, and in the fear of God."

Idaho-Montana, Thursday

Idaho entertains Montana at basketball in the university gymnasium Thursday night at seven-thirty. This is the second and last conference game between the Vandals and the Grizzlies. Montana won the first by some half dozen points on her own floor.

Although this game will not count for Idaho, should she win, in Pacific Coast conference standings, it will however serve as a pointer for the great battle next Saturday when the Vandals face the Washington Huskies again, this time on the Idaho floor.

But Idaho needs to win this Montana game. Coach MacMillan's men have just returned from their conference trip, a trip not altogether disastrous to Idaho for she completely took the wind out of the Huskies' sails at Seattle, 30 to 29, in an extra-period game a week ago yesterday.

Idaho students must get into the running next Thursday night. The Vandals face two hard games with conference leaders this season: Washington next Saturday, and Oregon the following Thursday. For these games all Idaho must be out to support. The whole yell staff will be needed; and the very roof must be raised by deafening cheers for, "On Old Idaho!"

The Montana game is an opener for a hard series of games on the home floor. Let's everybody be out to brush up on cheering and to get used to the seats and to absorb huge amounts of fight spirit.

Leisure Time, and the "Sophisticates"

In these days, following the opening of the semester, many students will find less studying necessary and, consequently, more time on their hands. Now, for conscience sake at least, it must here be asked: Why slight studies now, even if you are not forced to study; is that the only reason for studying?

But, inasmuch as students do not study as much as they should when semester exams are not impending to force them to, the next best thing is to ask: Why not put this additional leisure time on things interesting and entertaining . . . as well as useful and instructive?

The fascination of good books is universal among people who can read and feel. And particularly among young people the authors composing the "modern sophisticates" are always favorites. To the modern youth who reads or thinks at all, the names, George Bernard Shaw, Carl Van Vechen, Edna St. Vincent Millay, J. Anker Larsen, Nathalie Crane and H. L. Mencken should bear some significance at least and, better, a great deal of meaning.

Most of these authors are to be found on the English club book shelf. How about that leisure time right now; shall you throw it away like a stick or like a boomerang which will sometime return to bear fruit?

Ad Building Chimes

The English club is sponsoring a movement to secure a set of chimes to be placed in the tower of the Ad building. Obviously, if the thing is to go through, it will need the assistance and support of every other organization on the campus. At any rate, presentation of the project and discussion of it will be made in assembly Wednesday.

The first step, then, is to get the dope on the proposition, think it over, and then voice an opinion. So watch for the announcement in assembly, and then chime in your support: for the proposition, as presented so far, is deserving of it.

PROGRAM DELIGHTS

 "Christ in Flanders" by Ward-Stephens, were given with well-trained assurance. The last numbers were those of the String Quartet, which made its initial appearance this season with an "andante" by Dittersdorf, "Drink To Me only With Thine Eyes" arranged by Pochon, and a "Minuet" by Mozart.

The work of this group was distinguished by its artistic manner of interpretation and tone quality, which lent an air of professional achievement to its efforts.

O. A. C. OREGON BATTLE

seems to have the best chance.

Oregon Leads

By winning two games apiece, one each from Idaho and W. S. C., and by unexpected victory over University of Washington, Oregon and O. A. C. have taken first and second places in conference standing and have ousted Washington, probably permanently, from the race for championship honors. Idaho's spectacular victory over Washington ended 30 to 29 after a 28-28 tie at the end of the second half necessitated an extra five-minute period.

Oregon is leading the northern section conference standings by a one-game margin over O. A. C. which may be wiped out Friday.

In this game Oregon has the advantage of playing on her own floor and also she has won most of her games by far greater margins than has her state rival. Oregon has averaged 32 points in her four conference games, while O. A. C. has barely managed 22.

On the other hand the Oregon Aggies have played seven conference games and are pointed for the Oregon game tomorrow as it is their last one of the season. Then too, the Aggies seem to have a better individual scoring machine as indicated by conference individuals high point score standings in which "Red" Ridings, O. A. C. forward holds first place with 63 points to his credit. Robert Hesketh, Washington forward, and Ted Illman, Montana center, are tied for second place with 46 points. Gratton Hale, Washington guard, and R. C. Okerberg, Oregon center, are tied for fourth place with 40 counters.

SOCIETY

The most exciting time in the freshman's school year is, undoubtedly, the period of initiation, the culmination of which is marked by his proud appearance on the campus with a shiny new fraternity pin.

Various houses this week were busied with initiations and initiation banquets, among which were Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Beta Theta Pi. The Gamma Phi Betas also entertained at an initiation dance after the banquet Saturday evening.

An informal dance was held at the Beta house Friday evening, while Kappa Alpha Theta entertained at a dance Saturday evening at the Blue Bucket Inn.

The Gamma Phi Beta initiation banquet was held Saturday, February 14, at the chapter house. The tables were charmingly decorated in pink with the pink carnation as the main motif. About fifty-six members were present.

After the dinner the initiation dance was held, at which there were approximately forty-five couples. Among the guests were the Messers, G. Walker, B. Bliss, D. McCrea, P. Alexander, G. Davison, F. Moll, B. Bitner, K. Marchesi, G. Baker, V. Strobeck, H. Gault, W. McCrea, V. Stivers, W. Larsen, F. Packer, F. Marchesi, R. Whitaker, R. Ostrander, C. Bohlscheid, H. Reget, S. Cram, J. Graham, R. Dunn, G. Paulson, J. Burnett, H. Pelan, S. Stockdale, L. Humphrey, W. Barclay, P. Horne, L. Randall, A. Calvert, H. White, D. DuSault, R. Everley, E. Ellis, S. McLaughlin, G. Wicks. Out-of-town guests were: Miss Grace Lowe and Messers. E. Waldorf and D. Ross, all of Pullman.

IDAHO CONFERENCE GAMES

remaining games. They defeated Pacific university, Multnomah Athletic club at Portland and Willamette university.

Although the Bruins from Montana are keeping their percentage record separate from the other clubs in the conference, they bid fair to be near the top of the column when the season is closed. What appeared to be a mediocre team before the season was opened, turned out to be a whirlwind before it had gone very far, and as a result Idaho has some tall stepping to do Thursday night if another black mark isn't added to the string it is now carrying.

Nedros Going Good
 Eddie Nedros, fast and accurate forward, has been going strong during this last tour and it will be in a great part due to him if the Montana machine is repulsed. John Miles who has been running Eddie a close race for all-around playing honors this season, is another who may be looked to for some real basketball. Neal Nelson, better known this season to Idaho fans as a center, has been transferred to a guard position and is making a better name for himself there than he did at the tipoff. Erickson, has been thrown in to take Nelson's place.

Dopsters are a little skeptical over the Washington game Saturday night. A perusal of the records of the first game fail to show traces of luck in the Idaho victory, but prognosticators balk when they recall Idaho's record and the dope mixed before the game. As a matter of fact, the Vandals were figured to be in for a nice whaling when they met the Huskies.

Successful Men and Women Write Out Their Ideas

At College At Home In Business

Remington Portable

Combine the habit of research, which you are forming now, with a little imagination, and you've started something.

From the time you are in college and as long as you live, your success in life and business will depend upon your ability to work out ideas. Outline your ideas, write your papers and lecture notes, your themes and your letters, on a Remington Portable. A few days' practice and it's faster than long hand.

The Remington Portable has the four-row keyboard—like the big machines. It fits in a case only four inches high. You can use it on your lap, if you wish, for it carries its table on its back.

Price, complete with case, $60. Easy payment terms if desired the hour, half hour, and quarter will sound, each time with the West Minister call. An electric key board connected with the striking mechanism, upon which the Idaho songs or any air may be played, is to be placed where convenient to operate. Any number of key boards may be added at the rate of $165. It is customary to place them in the president's office, in the gymnasium, on the athletic field, in the auditorium etc.

It is believed that the need for chimes as a vital factor in university atmosphere is keenly felt at Idaho, and that a constructive interest in them will soon be aroused in this community and throughout the state.

FORMER STUDENTS SUCCESSFUL

representative of the Christian Science Monitor, one is the manager of a producing oil well in Montana; a recent graduate has been named professor of business administration in the Alaska territorial college; another is instructor of commercial subjects in the Pocatello high school; another is the principal of the Kellogg high school; another is the district agent and assistant manager of the Texas Oil company, Twin Falls another is the assistant cashier of a bank at Potlatch; another is making an exhaustive survey with a view to forecasting the telephone wants of San Francisco in 1945, for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. Most of these are recent graduates, as the four year curriculum in business is new.

Engineers Recognized

Graduates of the school of engineering also have received recognition throughout the nation. Many of them are holding important positions with governmental agencies, educational and industrial institutions, some of them as follows: Head of the department of mechanical engineering, University of Wisconsin; research chemist, fixed nitrogen research laboratory, departments of war and agriculture, Washington D. C.; United States Reclamation service engineer; terminal engineer for the city of Chicago; United States surveyor general for Idaho; production manager for the Todd ship yards, Tacoma; purchasing agent for Companhia de Brazil; general superintendent of mines for the Replogle Steel company and the Empress Steel and Iron company; drainage engineer, U. S. department of agriculture; computer, pilot engineer and accountant, Oregon Short Line R. R. Co.; materials engineer U. S. Bureau of Public roads, Ogden, Utah; engineer Western Electric company, Chicago; test engineer, General Electric company, Schenectady, N. Y.; assistant examiner, U. S. patent office.

Services in Demand

Services of graduates from the University of Idaho School of Mines are in demand and to date the majority of the graduates are holding responsible positions with mining concerns all over the world. Among the most prominent of these positions are a mill superintendent of the Hecla Mining company, Butte; a mill superintendent of the Alaska Juneau Gold Mining company; an assistant general manager of the Premier Mining company, Hyder, B. C.; the manager of four great enterprises owned by the Anaconda Copper Mining company, who has charge of a smelter in Utah; a refinery and factory at East Chicago, Ind.; railway in Utah and a mine in California. Another graduate is the secretary and manager of the Hecla Mining company. Many others are consulting engineers and experts on minerals and oil. One graduate has been awarded an honorary master's degree in recognition of his work in the metallurgy of zinc.

Ag Graduates Succeed

Of the graduates from the University of Idaho college of agriculture, 28 are teaching in agricultural schools; 19 are doing college, experiment station and extension service work; 11 are agriculturists or specialists for commercial concerns; 6 are with the United States department of agriculture; 6 are taking graduate study in agriculture; 3 are with the state department of agriculture; 3 with the United States veterans' bureau; eight in agricultural business enterprises; and forty-two are in farming or livestock production for themselves or managing for others. In addition to the foregoing, students who have been graduated from the school have tackled agricultural problems in the state and have succeeded to an astonishing degree. Approximately 87 per cent of agricultural graduates are now following agricultural pursuits.

Are Leaders

Statistics show that graduates of the college are leaders in agricultural research, education and public service in numerous important positions all over the world. One is a missionary in Africa; two are representatives of the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' association; one is a horticulturist for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company and another for a Nashville development company; another is a field representative of a New York marketing concern.

By far the largest number of Idaho graduates go out each year into the field of education and many of them find there their life work. Among these are the assistant dean of the medical school, University of Oklahoma; professor of law at George Washington university; professor of biology at Antioch college; the Idaho state superintendent of public instruction, and three former state superintendents; supervisors of home economics in Spokane public schools; dean of girls, North Central high school, Spokane; assistant director of research, St. Paul public school system; and director of the Oregon Institute of Technology at Portland.

Sent To India

Although the school of forestry is comparatively young at the University of Idaho, graduates from this department are achieving success in many parts of the world. One graduate is the technical forest advisor for the state of Gwalior, India; another is the woods superintendent of the Fruitgrowers' Supply company, of California; another is forester for the same concern; one graduate is chemist for the National Lumber and Creosote company, Houston, Tex.; another is land agent for the Potlatch Lumber company; another is in the Idaho Legislature as chairman of the committee on forests and forestry in the house of representatives. Another is a logging engineer for the Clearwater Lumber company, Orofino.

In the law and judiciary, among Idaho alumni, are supreme court justice, an assistant United States district attorney, several prosecuting attorneys each biennium, corporation counsel for the Idaho Power company a judge of the district court in North Dakota, a member of congress, a law examiner for the general land office department of the interior, a professor of law at George Washington university, the legal adviser for the prohibition enforcement director for Idaho, an attorney for the Interstate Commerce commission and a member of the State Bar commission. Statistics show that a majority of the graduates of the University of Idaho are following the vocations for which they studied while at school.
