VOLUME XXVI

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1925

NUMBER 49

Today, 10 Years Ago

Clarence E. Favre, Graduate Manager of Athletics, has just made a financial report on the athletic fund of the A. S. U. I., showing a substantial balance of $394.43. Expenditures for the football season totaled $5096.67 and the receipts were $5120.40. The largest receipt from a single game was $979.00 from the W. S. C. game and the smallest gate was $133 from the Gonzaga game. Included in the miscellaneous football expenses were such items as Geo. Varnell, referee Gonzaga game, $36.50; Dr. Carlthurs, medical services, $41.00; F. Turnbow, cleaning bleachers, $2.35; Ross Cartee, rubbing men, $17.25.

The movable schools of the University under the direction of Mr. C. D. Center are doing excellent work and having great success in southern and eastern Idaho. Prof. Heckman has been in the south visiting them.

Well we gave them a battle, one grand little battle and even if they did waltz away with the contest there will always be some consolation in the fact that the score at the end of the first half was Washington 14-Idaho 11. Savidge, University of Washington center and coach, and his crew pushed the final total up to 34-22 but they had to scrap for every point they made.

Mary McClenahan, Grace Darling, Margaret Rawlings, Edna Herrington and Olive Merrih entertained the girls of Ridenbaugh hall at a Valentine party Saturday evening. Games suitable for Valentine's day were played. Then the girls played charades until summoned to the dining room. After a dainty luncheon, the party closed with dancing of a rollicking Virginia Reel.

Miss Frinch will give one of her delightful readings at the next meeting of the T. W. C. A., February 24.

Saturday evening at Ridenbaugh hall Gamma Phi Beta held her annual banquet. Small red candles at each place spread a warm glow over the happy faces of the thirty-eight active and alumni gathered in honor of the initiates. When the punch was served Mrs. Clifford Edmundson, who acted as toastmaster, arose and introduced the toasts by members and alumni. The fifteen new members who so thoroughly enjoyed their first sorority banquet were: Nora Ashton, Angelina Burns, Evelyn Cox, Gladys Dittermore, Catherine Frantz, Gertrude Hays, Parmella Hays, Joyce Jennes, Gladys Johnson, Verna Johannesen, Rosmarie Mallon, Marjory McCrae, Tress McMahon, Carol Ryrle, and Loraine Selby.

On Friday the Short Aqs. will meet the local high school in Lewis court to contend for track honors. Just exactly what events there will be has not been decided, but there will not be a pole vault, javelin, discus, or hundred-yard dash.

VESPER TO BE GIVEN BY MUSIC SORORITY

Piano, Violin and Vocal Numbers Make up Program for Sunday

Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary musical sorority, will give a vesper recital in the university auditorium, Sunday, afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Sigma Alpha Iota was founded at Ann Arbor, Michigan, in the spring of 1903. Its aim was to gather together the most talented and earnest musicians on the campus, and in spirit of friendship to help one another in attaining the highest ideals in musical scholarship.

The Idaho group was granted a charter in April, 1924, and the members were initiated before the close of the school year.

The program for the Sunday Vesper is as follows:
1. Piano Solos.....Pauline Lawrence
Scenes From Childhood.....Schumann
1. About Strange Lands
2. Curious Story

CHICAGO ARTIST DISPLAYS WORKS OF OLD MASTERS

Haig Arklin Explains Merits of Famous Paintings; To Arouse Interest in Art Among Students is Lecturer's Object

America is in need of a deeper appreciation of art, having, ever since its discovery, concentrated on the material side of life, according to Haig Arklin of Chicago, artist, who was at the university Wednesday with a collection of copies of 20 paintings of European masters.

Mr. Arklin displayed the paintings before an audience of about 200, Wednesday afternoon, having made a short talk at the regular assembly earlier in the day. As each painting was shown, its merits were explained and a brief discussion of the painter taken up. An interesting feature of the paintings was two cheaper works which the artist termed "modern" as painted to attract the eyes of persons not educated in art, and with no underlying thought or emotion. These two paintings have been inserted as a contrast.

The paintings were made by Mr. Arklin himself about 10 years ago, from the originals in Europe. He has used them in Chautauqua lectures, but at present in his tour of the country lecturing to university, grade and high school students. Mr. Arklin is a native of Armenia.

The object of the lectures is to arouse an interest in art among students and to lend appreciation of it. "America has never paid much attention to art," the lecturer said, after the exhibition. "The country has been new and problems of building up the nation have occupied attention of the whole people. This, has been accomplished, and now the United States is the leading nation of the world in industry and wealth."

There is great talent in the country the artist asserted, "but it is principally concentrated in industry and science. Now America has reached a point where art should be considered." It is in this work that Mr. Arklin is occupied.

"The average American, student or business man is thunderstruck when told that there are in the old world paintings just so big," the lecturer

CAMPUS PROBLEM DISCUSSIONS HELD

Y.M.C.A. Organizes Groups Among Houses to Study Present Conditions

Formation of many groups within house organizations on the university campus to discuss campus problems under the auspices of the Idaho Y. M. C. A., has been announced by George Oliver, "y" secretary. Already discussion groups have been organized among members of Tau Kappa Iota, Delta Chi and Beta Chi fraternities, and at Lindley hall. Groups are also being formed among town students by Prof. Longley, Robert Ward, and Walter Leith.

A leaders' training class for students who desire to take active part in these discussions on "Facing Campus Problems" has been started by Dean J. G. Eldridge, of the university department of modern languages. The class will meet Monday evenings.

Additional discussion groups are in the making in other house organizations on the campus, according to George Oliver, and soon it is expected to be able to organize extensively for a thorough study of the problems of campus life at Idaho and elsewhere.

The group organizations are an outgrowth of the conference meetings held by Sherwood Eddy when he visited the campus. Mr. Eddy started this important work of studying campus conditions and the Y. M. C. A., through its student members and Mr. Oliver, hope to carry it out.

Ray Curry, president of the Idaho Y. M. C. A., Delphin Reynaldo, and George Oliver went to Pullman recently to confer with the president of the Cosmopolitan club of W. S. C. on the work of a similar club here and also regarding the Y. M. C. A. discussion work now being planned.

SENIORS ELECT WILLIAMS PREXY

Margaret Springer, Ruth Hove, Paul Bieler, Get Other Offices

Lewis Williams, of Boise was elected president of the Senior class at the meeting held Tuesday night, receiving 65 votes to 41 cast for his opponent Maurice Greene, of Moscow.

Margaret Springer, also of Boise, was the choice for vice-president, polling 65 votes while her opponent, Carol Olson, of Mullan, received 36 counts. Ruth Hove, of Spokane, won the race for secretary, having 65 ballots against 38 cast for Janice Lowe, of Council. Paul Bieler, of Twin Falls, was unopposed for treasurer, and was given 72 honorary votes.

A committee was appointed to decide in what way the Senior class shall carry out the old Idaho tradition that each graduating class leave some gift for the University.

IDAHO MAY GET PHI BETA KAPPA HONOR SOCIETY

Senate Votes for Recognition of Scholastic Fraternity; Approval of General Council Necessary for Charter

Senators of Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest American Greek letter fraternity, have recommended that a chapter be granted the University of Idaho. This recommendation will be acted on by the meeting of the national council of Phi Beta Kappa next September. Idaho petitioners feel that this recommendation almost assures them the Phi Beta Kappa chapter.

This recommendation is taken by Idaho University people as a distinct recognition of the University's high scholastic standing. The Senators of Phi Beta Kappa are a conservative and distinguished body including in their membership former Secretary of State Chas. E. Hughes; and President Lowell of Harvard, Hibben of Princeton, Nielson of Smith, and Burge of Wisconsin.

Phi Beta Kappa was organized in 1776, only five months after the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and is recognized as being the organization of most influence as a reward for scholarship throughout the country.

Idaho has sought a Phi Beta Kappa chapter at intervals since 1912. Under a new plan for recommendation of members, adopted last year, new chapters were required to have the recommendation of the district organizations of the fraternity. The Alpha Society of the University of Idaho, which is the local honorary organization, obtained the recommendation and approval of the western section, on a basis of scholarship. Members of the western section are Stanford, Universities of California, Oregon, Washington and Colorado, Pomona, Whitman and Colorado college.

MINAS, EAGLESON GET COMMISSION

Receive Advancement at Completion of Advanced Course; Mike Tierney Also Slated for Position

Two commissions have been made in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps of the University of Idaho during the last week. Frank A. Minas and John W. Eagleson both of Boise have received commissions as Second Lieutenants. Minas held the office of Cadet Colonel and Eagleson the rank of First Lieutenant.

Two years of training in the basic course is required of every student enrolled in the university. After this is completed the student may enroll for an additional two years in the advance course. When this is finished a commission is made in the Reserve Officers Corps.

Michael J. Tierney of Moscow, class of '24 appeared before the examining board Feb. 5 at Fort George Wright and took the preliminary examination for a commission of Second Lieutenant in the regular army. He will appear again on June 25 for the final examination. During his last year at the university he held the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

VANDALS TAKE REVENGE FROM GRIZZLY FIVE

Idaho Defeats Montana, 41 to 16, Last Night; Play Fast and Rough; Erickson High Scorer; Rooks Defeat Lewiston Normal

Idaho Vandals took sweet revenge last night when they tramped roughshod over the Montana Grizzlies, 41 to 16. The Vandals lost their first game to Montana. MacMillan's men took the lead early in the first period and maintained it throughout. G. Dalberg, Montana forward, looped a field goal near the middle of the first half, tying the score at seven. This was the closest Montana came to taking the lead. The score at half time was 18 to 9, for Idaho.

Throughout the first period the Vandals seemed laboring under a good bit of old-fashioned stage fright, and as a result, threw wild, muffed the ball and were unable to find the hoop in their many attempts. In the second period, however, from the opening whistle, they started out with their old stride and soon had the Grizzlies hopelessly buried.

Erickson High Scorer.
Erickson, Vandal center and high point man, played some spectacular ball during the first period, when he looped three field goals in quick succession. Long, inaccurate shots featured the Montana player's work during the first half. When they came out in the last half, they confined themselves to short passes to the basket, but were unable to take the bottom from the basket.

Roughness marked the contest, especially on the part of Sweet, Montana left forward. He missed one point of being taken from the game on personal fouls. Play in general seemed rough, due probably to the intense playing and lightning speed of both aggregations.

Vandals Work Smooth
Although the Vandals were unable to find the basket effectively in the first minutes of the game, they obtained floor superiority and maintained it throughout. They followed their shots and a man was always waiting in an open spot to receive his pass.

The Grizzlies went wild in the last half. Time after time they would dribble the ball from the far end of the court only to stop a score by a

LOST MAN FOUND; BETAS WILL BUILD

Seven Months' Search Ends and Ground to Be Broken Next Month

After a seven-months search for Nels Tidemann, old Moscow resident who disappeared from here 12 years ago and was reported dead, in order to clear title to a lot near the University of Idaho campus, the missing man has been found, the title cleared, and Beta Theta Pi fraternity will begin work on its new house to be built on the lot early next month, according to officers of the fraternity.

The new house, which will cost approximately $50,000 will be built at the corner of Idaho and Elm streets in Moscow. It is to be constructed of red brick with cast stone trimmings and pillars in the popular Tudor-Gothic architectural style.

Building of the house was scheduled to begin last June, but was held up because of faulty title to the lots on which it was to be built. The strange circumstances surrounding the disappearance of Nels Tidemann, owner of the lots, who had been declared dead by relatives and by the Latah county courts and his property sold, and his subsequent discovery by officers of the fraternity seeking to clear the title, living in Ponca, Neb., reads like fiction.

After the courts had declared Tidemann dead and had quieted the title to his property against all relatives the abstract to the lots purchased by the fraternity was sent to a guarantee title company. This company refused to guarantee the title unless an affidavit was furnished to prove Tidemann dead. Relatives of the missing

STIVERS TRAINS WITH SAN FRANCISCO SEALS

Vandal Athlete Trys Out for Coast League Berth

Vernon "Skippy" Stivers, stellar Idaho football player, has left for San Francisco to begin spring training in the camp of the San Francisco baseball club. Stivers signed a contract to play with the Seals last fall while he was in California with the Idaho football team. His baseball experience is varied as he has played two years on the Idaho varsity team and has spent his summer working with inland empire teams around Spokane.

Stivers, who holds down shortstop is an all-around baseball player. Last year he stood around the top in the Idaho varsity batting average, and last summer he held batting honors for the Coeur d'Alene club, with whom he played that season.

GRAPPLERS FACE COUGAR MATMEN IN PULLMAN LAIR

Saturday Contest to Give Varsity Squad Chance to Come Back; First Year Men Also Battle Again

University of Idaho mat men, both varsity and freshmen, will meet the wrestlers from Washington State College Saturday night at Pullman. This will be the second meeting of these teams, the first being last Saturday, when the Idaho varsity men were defeated, 46 to 20 and the first year men from Idaho were victorious, 53 to 32.

The freshmen started the afternoon Saturday by winning four out of the five matches with the Cougar Cubs. McCall, Idaho 158 pounder, forfeited to Scheinost after the latter had obtained the first fall, for the only Idaho defeat. The varsity grapplers started out strong, but weakened in the latter rounds, as a result, the Cougars left the gymnasium with every contest. The Vandals were defeated also in their first match of the year at Eugene against the University of Oregon.

Ross To Coach
The Vandals are being coached by R. B. Ross, who also grapples on the varsity squad in the 145 pound class.

Ross has directed practice since the resignation of Frank Kinnison. The student coach got his first mat training at Purdue university, where he won his numeral on the freshman squad. He entered the University of Idaho for his sophomore year, and his now a junior. Until Saturday, when he lost to Dunbar, he had lost but one other match, and that to Robin Reed who surprised the wrestling world by going through the Olympic games without being defeated and emerged

TYPING CLASSES SHOW INCREASE

New System Devised Last Semester May Be Used Permanently, Instructor Says

There has been a marked increase in the enrollment in the typewriting department this school year in comparison with last term. At the beginning of this school term there were four typing classes and with the demand for secretarial work it was deemed necessary to add another class at the beginning of the semester.

Within the last year there has been a decided change in the methods of teaching typewriting. At the beginning of the fall term the class was given more practical exercises, and spent less time on memorizing the keyboard. This plan devised by Dr. J. H. Barton head of the psychology department and Barbara Gamwell, head of the typewriting department, it is evident that as shown from the successful results of the new system, it will become permanent, said Miss Gamwell.

Miss Gamwell intends to compare the results of the two plans used in the typewriting department heretofore and the plan in use now for her master's thesis.

The course in typewriting in the University of Idaho is primarily for those who are secretarial majors in the department of business.

11 MORE TEACHERS NEEDED TO KEEP UP WITH ENROLMENT

"But Where Would I Put Their Desks?" Asks Upham, Without Mentioning Class Room Problem

Eleven new faculty members are needed by the university now to keep up with the growth of the institution in the last four years, according to President A. H. Upham. In these four years the student body has grown by 871 students.

In 1923, five instructors were added to the staff, while in 1924 four instructors (representing the full time of three and a half persons) withdrew and were not replaced at all.

It is on account of this economy that courses in philosophy are not being offered at the university this year. When Prof. C. W. Chenoweth obtained a year's leave of absence to continue his studies at Harvard, no effort was made to fill his place, so the department is left without a head until his return.

President Upham has a list showing the eleven additions that should be made to the faculty.

"But where would I put their office desks?" he asked an interviewer, without raising the question where their classes would be held. There are no more hall spaces that can be converted into rooms like those now occupied by Professors Taylor, Axteel, Church and Brosnan.

Since Dean Angell and others of his department dug out basement space for physics laboratories, there is no more room under the Administration building. Reports have been current of a new use to be made of the room under the president's office that is used alternately by the publication office as a mailing room and by the military department as a shooting gallery, and in between times by the janitor as a storage room.

"Steady increase in enrollment during a biennium with practically no increase in faculty can mean but one thing: larger classes," says the president's biennial report. When many classes had already been strained beyond the limits of effective teaching this new load can have but one meaning: poorer instruction. Some subjects can be presented satisfactorily with large lecture classes and smaller quiz groups. Some in-

SEMI-FINALS END IN HOUSE DEBATES

Delta Chi and S. A. E. Teams Remain in Race for Cup; Finals March 3

S. A. E. and Delta Chi remain in the contest for the cup offered by Theta Epsilon, honorary forensic fraternity, after the semi-finals of intra-mural debates by reason of their victories over Pi Sigma Rho and Kappa Sigma respectively. Ben Mahoney and Roy Berrland for S. A. E. successfully upheld the affirmative of the question, "Resolved that the University of Idaho should adopt the pass and fail system of grading" against Georgia Little and Doris Squibb, proponents of the negative for Pi Sigma Rho. The decision was two to one for the affirmative.

Thursday, two days after this debate, Delta Chi and Kappa Sigma clashed on the question, "Resolved that the United States should recognize Soviet Russia." Clarence Brabb and Fred Cromwell, upholding the negative for Delta Chi were awarded a two to one decision. Phillip Alexander and E. G. Blackburn, argued for Kappa Sigma.

The final contest between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Chi will be held Tuesday March 3.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Stuff of Men

Idaho men are never licked! . . . They win games, they lose them; but they play 'em every minute. That's the very essence of Idaho, the university. The Vandals' game last night was typical, not the score necessarily, but the playing of the Idaho team and the support of its students. If every Idaho institution could lay claims to such sterling principles as motivate the student body of its state university, what a happy thing it would be.

But the Vandals' test supreme comes tomorrow night when they tangle with the Washington Huskies. Idaho has won one game with Washington by one point in a five-minute extra period. This game tomorrow night will demand all Idaho has got . . . and here's where her team and her students come in: to deliver that additional something over and above what is absolutely demanded.

Campus Jobs Tabooed

If Yale graduates could have their college life all over again, a large majority of them would favor entering just as little as possible into the extra-curricular campus activities. This is the opinion expressed editorially in a recent issue of the Yale Alumni Weekly when commenting on an avowed policy of the Yale News for "less unintelligent extra-curriculum activities." The Alumni Weekly continues:

"Most of us, could we return to college, would do a great deal more studying than we did—that goes without saying. Many others would do a good more intelligent "loafing" than they were able to when a dozen organized interests hammering at their doors constantly made any sort of idleness—intelligent or otherwise—impossible. Practically all of us, we think, would insist on less effort spent on "extra-curriculum" matters that later on seem, after all, of very little importance indeed.

"Most of us would open our minds a bit more to the intellectual interests of the place and give ourselves a little more chance to enjoy life and get something permanent out of it, while it was going by so very rapidly. Trying for all sorts of campus jobs for the sake of the titles doesn't belong to that category.

"There are important undergraduate things to be done outside of the classroom, the library, and the social life that clusters about one's college room fireside. Of course. But the less these stand in the way of living the real life of the place, in one's circle of friends, among one's books, on the athletic fields, the better.

"There is a large proportion of campus competition into which many men go (and for which they are not particularly fitted) not for personal interest in the work or pleasure in doing it, but for the imagined glory of winning another job with its attendant charm to hang on an already overburdened watch chain, and which get nowhere in the long run."

Pass In Review

"Spring has come" for the military department at least, because yesterday the Idaho cadets celebrated the glorious morning with the first spring parade and review. With the military band out in action producing some rousing martial airs, the two battalions of the university passed in review in fine shape considering their months indoors and inaction as far as parades are concerned.

It's a great sight: watching the cadets maneuver on the campus and it smacks of olden times in bygone years when students used to line the walks and campus edges to see the boys in action.

It's a fine opportunity to grab a few minutes recess and a few cubic feet of good spring air out on the campus while the R. O. T. C. passes and repasses in review. And surely it should be an incentive for the students and officers of the military department to develop their parades to a high point of perfection.

VANDALS DEFEAT GRIZZLIES

throw which went wild of the hoop. It was due partly to this that the Vandals' score mounted to th heights it did.

Rooks Defeat Lewiston.

The Vandal rooks walloped the Lewiston Normal five, 41 to 18, in the curtain raiser contest. The score at half time was 20 to 18 for the freshmen.

"Bus" Canine, Idaho guard, was the outstanding performer on his team, both from a standpoint of scoring and all around playing. He shared honors with Eddie Byer, forward. Glenn Jacoby, regular guard, warmed the bench on the sidelines with a huge bandage plastered over his nose.

The Summary

The summary for the Idaho-Montana game follow:

TENNIS PLANS GET START AT MEETING

Local Tournament be Followed by Meets With W. S. C. and Whitman

More than 20 racket wielders including the men of the varsity tennis squad attended the first meeting of tennis men in the Ad building Monday.

A tournament open to all university students will be held as soon as the courts can be put in condition. The five highest ranking men will be chosen for teams.

John Wagner is the only letter man to return this year.

Russell Melin, Clifford Coons and Litter Spence promising members of the squad of last year and with Wagner will serve as a nucleus around which the new team will be built. Several men were lost by graduation including Clyde Richards, Charles Preus and George Gahan.

A wealth of material is on hand for the freshmen squad, among the candidates are several men who played on high school teams and were winners of sectional tournaments. The freshman squad will be built around Beardsley Merrill, Charles Carney, Allen Fowler, Kenneth Edwards, Harold Tinker and Glenn Edmunds.

There are three meets arranged for the varsity squad but none have been booked for the frosh. The varsity will meet Washington State college and Whitman at Walla Walla in a triangular meet. A dual meet is also scheduled with Whitman at Walla Walla and with Washington State college at Pullman.

Athletes who participate in organized games have a better record in academic work than those who prefer to sit upon the bleachers, according to statistics recently compiled by Martin Kemp, professor of psychology in the College of Wooster, Ohio. The football men ranked below the general average for scholarship of the athletes but above the general average of the nonathletes.

FIRE DESTROYS W. S. C. FRATERNITY HOME

The Washington State college Psi Nu Sigma fraternity house, 1709 Ruby street, was gutted by fire Tuesday, February 17. It is estimated that the loss to the house and contents will run into the thousands of dollars.

The fire started on the third floor of unknown origin. When discovered it had broken through the roof and had gained much headway when the city and college fire department arrived. Most of the furniture on the first floor was saved, the greater part of the loss in contents being personal effects of students. The fire attracted a throng of students and townspeople.

Another start in the direction of Spring! For the second of third time, the vernal equinox has put its best foot foremost and has the entire student body rooting on the side lines, and hoping that it is not another false start. Tiny patches of green on brown hillsides, small boys playing marbles, larger boys playing baseball, serenades, the impulse to go to school without a coat, the even more urgent impulse to stay away from classes altogether—all of these combined tend to prove that the ground-hog was not shadowless in vain, and that spring has come, leaving winter far behind!

UNIVERSITY FUNDS MAY BE HELD UP

Legislature Resolves Not to Make Appropriations Until Accounting is Made

No funds for the University of Idaho will be appropriated for the coming two years until the state board of education rescinds its resolution of October, 1920, in which it held it had full jurisdiction over university funds and did not have to report to the state board of examiners, and accounts for all money expended since that time. This is provided in a resolution passed yesterday by the house of representatives of the state legislature, according to an item in the Spokane Chronicle.

Notice of the resolution has been given to the university. The resolution was passed after a sharp debate. The author of the resolution, Majority Leader Hall, holds it to be a friendly act to straighten out the endowment fund of the university. The resolution seeks to require the education board to render an accounting of the federal funds, and if this is done, the biennial appropriation will be made. When the board of education adopted its resolution in 1920 stating that neither the state board of examiners nor any other body had the right to a voice in the management of funds accruing to the university, a friendly suit was instituted to test the resolution. The state supreme court upheld the board of education.

University Avenue A Mecca for Candy and Gum Wrappers

Some dumbbell who had more time than money or brains once remarked that the person who could find some use for discarded tin cans could be not only a great benefactor but a millionaire. As far as is known this person has never been found, but if he should and could manage to make use of candy and gum wrappers instead of tin cans he could find his fortune along University avenue in front of the Oriole's Nest and the Campus Inn. He might also be able to pick up a couple grand in Dean Eldridge's back yard.

During the busy part of the day a stranger traveling along University avenue in the opposite direction to that being taken by the "motley rabble" in their journey to and from the institution of learning, must feel much as the doughboy did when he first went over the Top into No Mans' Land. He finds himself attacked and bombarded by wadded tin foil wrappers and is forced to find cover until the onward rushing students have passed. Then and not until then can he fare forth in safety. And, should he chance to glance around him, he will find the battle field deserted but covered with Baffle Bar wrappers gum containers and cough drop boxes.

If every community had a university avenue as Moscow has, and should William J. Wrigley chance to survey them he would immediately order all billboards and magazine advertisements discontinued because of there being an excess of publicity.

It is generally admitted that one of the greatest features of modern advertising is to keep the name of the firm before the eyes of the public, but billboards would be unnecessary with this ultra-modern form of advertising. At that Dean Eldridge should object to the city council against the use of his back yard as a place for posting advertisements.

STUDENTS ASK FOR COMMERCIAL ZONE

Seep to Keep Campus District Free From Business Enterprises

It is the hope of the inter-fraternity council of the University of Idaho that the district contiguous to the campus, where the fraternity houses are situated, and where plans are under way for the construction of at least two more group houses during the coming year, may be kept as free as possible from the encroachment of business houses. To this end, the council had a representative F. L. Covey make an appeal to the Moscow chamber of commerce at the weekly luncheon last week at the Moscow Hotel, asking that the organization use its influence with the city council to have a zoning law enacted. The representative of the council stated that two buildings had been erected in the university district the past year which are housing commercial enterprises, and that while it is realized that they must remain, it is the desire to prevent others from building. He said that the council wishes to suggest that business houses be barred in the district south and west of the Northern Pacific tracks. A committee consisting of Abe Goff, A. H. Oversmith and R. R. Sherfy was appointed.

AUTO BUILDING IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Loss of Wednesday Morning Blaze is Estimated at $15,000; Little Insurance

The frame building occupied by the Auto Sales & Service company, Nelson Brothers proprietors, at Main and Sixth, was almost totally destroyed by fire at 2:30 Wednesday morning, together with several automobiles stored in the building, and tools and equipment. The fire entails considerable loss to the firm and to some of the owners of cars which were stored.

The fire, occurring at an hour when few people were abroad, had gained considerable headway before it was discovered. It was seen by an employee at the Mark P. Miller Milling company mill, who turned in the alarm. The fire department responded promptly, but found the building a mass of flames. The fire was extinguished, however, before the building collapsed. The fire appeared to have started in the rear of the building where the shop operated by Jack Collins, was situated. There was a stove in this part of the building and the floor was well soaked with oil from long usage as an automobile shop. It was apparent that the fire started in the floor.

There was no insurance on the building. The stock and fixtures were partially covered by insurance, and two new Chevrolet cars owned by the company were insured. One of these cars was practically destroyed and the other had the top burned off. Jerry Gelwick's sedan, which was stored in the building, was practically destroyed. It was insured for $1500. A Studebaker touring car 1923 model, owned by A. J. Simonson, is also a wreck and was not insured. A truck belonging to W. A. Lauder was damaged to some extent. It was not insured. The shop outfit is owned by Jack Collins, and was damaged to the extent of about $700, without insurance.

The Nelson Brothers are uncertain yet as to what they will do, but will probably, erect a brick structure on the lot, which is one of the choicest locations in the city. In the mean time they will endeavor to secure temporary quarters where they may carry on business. The fire is a heavy loss, coming as it does, at the opening of the automobile season.

Mr. Collins will reopen the shop within a few days in the rear of the Butterfield building, occupied by the Wallace Tire Shop and the Moscow Radiator Shop.

GRAPPLERS FACE COUGARS

world's champion in the lightweight division.

Several good men have been unearthed in the two matches the Vandals have had this year. The most promising of these seems to be "Boots" Edelblute, Rathdrum, who wrestles in the 178 pound class. "Boots" has a peculiar style. He steps to the center of the mat, his hands on his knees and in this position he watches his opponent until the first move is made. Then he springs, in much the same manner that a cat pounces upon a mouse. From then on he is all action. He doesn't depend much on scientific skill, but his fort seems to be in wearing his opponent down. Bitner, Vandal 128 pounds is another who produces a brand of wrestling one likes to see. He isn't as fast as a man of his left is expected to be but eh worms into a position and if he gets his hold he sticks; but if he misses, he seems to be able to worm out of his opponent's clutches with surprising ease.

The Vandals have one more match after the Saturday contest, and that with the University of Washington at Moscow, February 28.

There is a reason why! The Idaho Barber Shop.

man, when asked for such a proof, stated that they thought he might be alive.

Then began the search by Francis Jenkins of the University of Idaho, faculty advisor of Beta Theta Pi, for the missing man if alive or proof of his death if dead. The first clue led to Kansas where it was learned Tidemann had worked on a farm immediately after leaving Moscow. Finally he was traced to government service work during the war, and then to Colorado, and from there to the oil fields of Texas and Oklahoma. Here the clues were lost until word came from a boyhood friend stating that Tidemann had visited him recently and was now a salesman for a wholesale grocery house in Chicago.

The wholesale grocery concern was found and it furnished the searchers with a list of customers to whom Tidemann had sold goods. These customers were scattered over Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska. Finally, after exhaustive correspondence and telegrams, a letter was received which solved the mystery. It was written by Tidemann to a customer and at the bottom was written in pencil: "My

English Model Suits —The Leader With Young Men!

That much-desired "atmosphere" which young men demand in their Suits characterizes this particular model and gives it an unquestionable pre-eminence. The semi-straight back of the coat which has no vent, the semi-blunt vest and the straight hanging trousers makes it distinctively the leading style for Spring. Furthermore, its easy fitting lines make it decidedly smart.

SPALDING'S VIOLIN TO SOUND FRIDAY

Second Number on Artists Course to Be Given in University Auditorium

Regarding Albert Spalding who plays at the University, February twenty-seventh, one Paris paper of May the sixth 1924 said:

"The playing of the violinist Spalding is supple, his bow attack impeccable, and this gives to the listener an impression of absolute security in phrasing as in the passage work of the most difficulties; his vigor stands in place of effects of sweetness. Few artists can plunge with so much assurance into the Devil's Thrill of Tartini; his interpretation is dazzling. The concerto in D by Mozart was rendered by him with great purity of style and in his own suite "Etchings" resembled in form a series of every modern improvisations. Mr. Spalding was sparkling with fantasy."

When Mr. Spalding plays in Moscow he will be accompanied by Andre Benoit, one of the few great accompanists of the day. The two men have been unseparable for a number of years and not a little of the success of the Spalding concerts is due to the faultless accompanying of Mr. Benoit.

STUDENTS ARE NOT SUPPORTING ANNUAL

"Subscriptions are not coming in as fast as they should," states Ken Anderson, advertising manager for the Gem of the Mountains. "As yet the number of subscriptions is far below the number of books that have been contracted for with the printer."

Advertising is reported to be coming in according to schedule and already more space has been sold than was sold for the entire book last year. No advertising has been obtained from Moscow yet, but that is being canvassed this week.

The editorial staff is busy and has made great headway in that department of the publication. Some of the copy is in the hands of the printers now and they have started work on the book. The engraving work is being done and indications show that the Gem of the Mountains, which is scheduled to appear on the campus sometime in May, should be distributed on time.

PINE PEST WORK TO BE CONTINUED

Blister Rust Control Eradication Will be Pushed by Forest Department

White pine blister rust control, work will be continued this summer and camps will be established for this work in the Priest Lake region, it was announced from the office of Dean F. G. Miller, of the school of forestry.

Last year approximately 30 men were selected from the University of Idaho and these men generally "made good." This year approximately forty men will be taken from the university. Any student interested in this type of work should call at the office of Dr. Henry Schmitz of the school of forestry, Room 31, Morrill Hall, any afternoon after four o'clock this week and fill out an application blank.

"We are particularly anxious," said Dr. Schmitz Monday "to line up about forty good University of Idaho men for this work. The Idaho men last year made a record for themselves and we want to perpetuate the idea that no better men are available anywhere than those available at this institution. The work although hard, is interesting and the surroundings and environment are the best. These camps are made up of almost entirely university men from Idaho, Montana, Washington State college, and the University of Washington. I am certain that any man who does not mind hard work, who likes the woods and who appreciates association with college men, will enjoy himself immensely on this job."

CAMP LEWIS AGAIN TRAINING QUARTERS

Student Encampment Begins June 12 and Extends to July 23
R. O. T. C. Camp will be held again this year at Camp Lewis, Washington. It will start June 12 and extend to July 23, according to Capt. Claudius Lloyd of the Idaho military department. The camp is composed of the students of the military departments of all schools of the ninth corps area.
Last year 54 Idaho men attended camp and it is expected that the enrollment this year will be greatly increased, and that more than 100 Idaho men will attend. At the present time 40 students in the advanced course and seven of the basic course have declared their intentions of attending camp. The camp is primarily for students in the advanced course but a certain number of those enrolled in the basic course are allowed to attend. This number is five per cent of the total number enrolled in the department during the month of February. This will allow for 25 basic course men from the university.

"Dashing Valentinos singing to the tune of a Spanish guitar, and whispering to their lady-loves through latticed windows, exist only in fiction," said Professor Edward Maslin Hulme of the history department of Stanford university in a talk on "Spain and Spaniards" Jan. 29—From The Daily Palo Alto, California.

This year's graduating class will be the largest in the history of the institution. Although the exact number is not available, indications from petitions in the registrar's office are that 200 bachelors' degrees will be awarded and 35 masters' degrees. Last year's class, which was the largest up to that time, totaled 187, including graduate degrees.

11 MORE TEACHERS

structors are fully capable of holding the interest of large numbers of students in the lecture room. But undoubtedly the University of Idaho cannot hope to maintain the high standards of the past few years unless immediate steps are taken to increase the teaching staff commensurate with the constantly increasing burden of students."
