UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1925

NUMBER 44

Today, 10 Years Ago

President Brannon commended the students and faculty for their support of the Assembly Wednesday. The turnout was large. Professor E. M. Hulme spoke on the philosophy of human life and limitations of human reason.

Of necessity like all other such affairs in its general features the Informal given by Omega Pi at the K. of P. hall last Saturday was different. The little things making for pleasure were all provided for and lent a distinctive individuality to the occasion which will be long remembered. Punch was served tastefully by the Misses Josie Keane and Dorothy Parsons. Cones filled with ice cream were distributed and afforded a tempting refreshment.

The Y. W. girls held a candy sale in the Administration building Wednesday morning. The proceeds of $10.50 will go towards fitting up the Friday night the military ball was a thoro success. Loads of ever-green and a great deal of Fourth of July bunting made a low, dimly-lighted ceiling in place of the cavernous Gym. Someone with an ingenious mind hit upon the idea of having the orchestra play on the balcony, where it could not be seen or talked over by the dancers. Everyone seemed to enjoy it except the freshmen, who prespired wildly under uniforms that didn't fit, and fumbled at funeral white gloves. The grand march was led off by Major Carlson, and the march stunts soon turned into a good old two-step. Patrons and patronesses were: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Shattuck, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Livingstone, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lee, Lieut. and Mrs. F. J. Astermann, Miss French, Miss Stephens, Miss Silverson, and Dr. Brannon.

Lunches may be had at the University cafeteria in Ridenbaugh hall. An amendment has been proposed to the A. S. U. I. constitution to provide for an annual song and stunt fest. John McEvers is chairman of the committee in charge of the movement and they have worked out a definite plan for the contest. Each class is to enter a team, and the winner shall receive $50 and also have their name engraved on a cup to be appropriated for that purpose.

The Idaho basketball team returned from its long trip Sunday, after having played five games, four of which were lost to the other team, and one was taken from O. A. C. which is one of the strongest teams in the conference. Two games were lost to Whitman and the Washington State College.

RIFLE SHOOT ENDS; RESULTS FORWARDED

Charles Gregory Heads Idaho R. O. T. C. Marksmen; Announce Winners Soon

The final of the three stages of competition in the shooting match between all of the schools in the ninth area corp R. O. T. C. has been completed. The results of the Idaho R. O. T. C. unit have been forwarded to the headquarters at San Francisco and the winning team will be announced as soon as the results can be compiled.

Charles Gregory leads the Vandal marksmen of the first team with a score of 547 out of a possible 600. Norman Luevass and John Baird are second and third respectively with scores of 517 and 512. Each man was required to shoot ten rounds of ammunition in the four positions of firing. The grand total scored by each man of the first and second teams are as follows: Luevass, 517; Gregory 547; W. Crox 446; Arnett 490; Adams 480; Kester 459; Manning 489; Selby 495; Koelings 436; P. Crox 510; Hurtt 434; Greeing 444; Baird 512; Hedge 511; Howe 429. Second team: Boller 474; Hall 453; Parsons 462; Foss 495; Lawson 429; Dorey 425; Gribble 401; J. W. Davis 407; Stamm 483; Rolse 463; Randall 463; More 511; F. Fisher 364; and Thompson 375.

SPRING FOOTBALL WORKOUTS START WEEK FROM MONDAY

"Matty" Issues Call to Grid-ders to Limber up Muscles and Brush up Minds; Schedule is Again Tough

Candidates for the 1925 Vandal grid squad will be put through their first workout March 9, the date upon which spring practice will be started, it was announced here by R. L. Mathews, coach. Work during the next two weeks will consist of instruction in fundamentals of the game and some signal practice and for the most part will be light. The purpose of spring practice is to work out the kinks and brush up the football minds of the players.

The Vandals face a particularly hard schedule this coming year, although they will not have to make the trip to California, as they have had to do during the last three seasons. The University of Southern California, the only team in the south on Idaho's schedule, will come to Moscow for the first time in the history of athletic relations between the two schools. The Vandals will open the season against the College of Idaho eleven at Moscow, October 3. The Oregon Webfeet will come to Moscow the following Saturday, October 10. Oregon always has been one of the stiffest teams on the Idaho schedule and it will be particularly hard this season because of its position on the schedule.

W. S. C. Classic October 17
The annual Idaho classic with the Washington State college team will be played October 17, at Pullman. This is the one game Idahoans especially look forward to. The two teams have been bitter athletic, particularly football, rivals for the last 30 years. Idaho has won the last two games, but the Cougars have the majority of victories to their credit for the last 15 years. Before that time victories generally were evenly divided.

Gonzaga will meet the Vandals at Moscow, October 24 and the Grizzlies from the University of Montana will appear at Moscow, November 7. The Oregon Aggies will meet Mathews' men at Boise November 21 in the annual game at the Capital city. An Armistice day game was not scheduled this year at the Vandals will meet the University of Montana four days before that date at Moscow and it would be impossible to get the team to Boise to be in condition for an Armistice day game.

HUNGERFORD GETS DEGREE OF DOCTOR

Plant Pathologist Completes Work With University of Wisconsin; Here 6 Years

Prof. Charles William Hungerford plant pathologist, University of Idaho experiment station and professor of plant pathology, college of agriculture, has been given a doctor's degree in agriculture, by the University of Wisconsin. Doctor Hungerford took his master's degree from Wisconsin in 1919.

Doctor Hungerford, who has been conducting official investigations in cereals for the United States department of agriculture, was called back to Washington, D. C., in connection with his field work. Upon his return he stopped at Madison, where he successfully took the examination for his doctor's degree.

Doctor Hungerford has been with the University experiment station for six years, having come here from Oregon Agricultural college. He was graduated from Upper Iowa university in 1910 with the degree of bachelor of science. For three years following his graduation he was superintendent of a high school in Houston, Texas. He returned to the University of Wisconsin in 1912, where he took the position of student assistant instructor in botany. He held this latter position for two years. He then was appointed assistant in plant pathology at that school. From 1915 to 1918, Doctor Hungerford was with the office of cereal investigations, United States department of agriculture. Much of his work with the University of Idaho experiment station has

SPALDING FETED BY LEGION POST

Noted Violinist Won Laurels in Italy During World War As Aviator

The local post of the American Legion gave a luncheon in honor of Albert Spalding when he arrived in Moscow today. Not all violinists are thus honored by Legion posts throughout the country, but Mr. Spalding happens to have served as an aviator in Italy with the A. E. F., and was decorated by the Italian government with the "Cross of the Crown of Italy," the highest honor ever conferred on a foreign born citizen. He was also decorated with the "Military Fatigue Ribbons" and was invited to dine with King Victor at his headquarters near the Italian front line trenches, and at the request of the queen mother of Italy gave a concert for the benefit of the Italian Red Cross under her distinguished patronage. Although Spalding is almost as well known in Paris, Berlin, or London as he is in his own country, he is essentially an American citizen of a rather fine type, and hence the local legion feels that it is honoring itself as much as its guest in giving this luncheon.

CHURCH OF L. D. S. WILL NOT ATTEMPT TO DIVIDE U. OF I.

Head of Mormon Schools Tells Moscow C. of C. That Establishment of Two Institutions Would Be Impractical

Idaho can not afford to maintain two institutions of higher education, and it will never be to the interest of the Church of the Latter Day Saints to endeavor to say, as an organization, what shall be done in state educational matters in Idaho, was, in effect the statement made by Dr. Adam Bennion, director of educational institutions for the Latter Day Saints church, in a talk before the Moscow chamber of commerce Wednesday noon. The statement was of particular interest at this time, following as it did the controversy in the Idaho legislature over the proposal to establish a four-year school at Pocatello, and later the effort to remove the college of agriculture from Moscow to the southeast Idaho city, and the suggestion by a number of newspapers that the Latter Day Saints were back of the movement as an organization.

Dr. Bennion, who was introduced by President A. H. Upham of the university, said that Idaho has her acute educational problems and that it was charged that his church had a hand in the matter. He said that some men who are members of the church were no doubt drawn into the fight because of their location and said that the southeast was probably doing the natural thing, but that the state could not afford to support two large institutions and that it would be edu-

FORENSIC FINALS SLATED TUESDAY

Delta Chi Meets S. A. E.; Consolidation of Idaho Counties To Be Argued

Resolved: "That the forty-four counties of Idaho should be consolidated into eleven governmental units or counties," will be the question for the final debate in the intramural league; which is scheduled for Tuesday March 3, in room 201 Ad building, at 7.30 p.m.

Fred Brabb and George Cromwell will uphold the affirmative for Delta chi against Lloyd Bertrand and Ben Mahoney who will present the negative arguments for Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The winning team will be awarded a cup to be presented by Theta Epsilon, honorary debate fraternity. The award will be made a part of the commencement exercises this year.

In speaking of the intra-mural debate, Warren Montgomery, intra-mural debate manager said, "We hope to have a good attendance at this debate, the question being one which every student should be interested in. The two teams competing for the final awards, are well matched and the arguments should be very well presented."

OREGON QUINTET DEFEATS IDAHO BY SHORT SCORE

Vandals and Webfeet Alternate Five Times for Lead in Heartbreaking Game; Lemon-Yellow Men Continue Race

Idaho sirens were silent last night while Oregon pushed the Vandal hoopsters aside and continued her heartbreaking race to tie Oregon Aggies for first place in the northern division of the Pacific coast conference. The score stood 26 to 24 at the close of the game, after Vandals and webfeet alternated five times to hold the lead and after the teams had struggled through one of the bitterest games either of them had seen during this season.

With the first whistle opening the game, the Webfeet put an outright defense around Idaho basket and sent Okerberg, center and Westergren on long dribbles to the far end of the floor where they were successful many times in converting for a field goal. Okerberg, long lank and blonde, who holds scoring honors for his team year, led it again in last night's game with a total of ten points; gleaned from three field goals and four free throws. He was by far the best man on the visiting quintet. Westergren, his opposite in stature seemed aided by the gods themselves when he started through the Vandal defense on his sensational dribbles. They were the greatest offensive players on the Lemon-Yellow quintet.

Idaho Men Shine
Nor were Idaho men out shadowed by the brilliance of the Oregon team. Nedros led the Vandals in scoring with three field goals and two free throws for eight points. Eddie played one of the best defensive games of his career, but was unable to connect with the loop with the long shots made necessary by the Oregon defense line. Time after time he received the ball just back of the foul line but was unable to toss it through the cage. Miles, also going good on his defensive game seemed a little upset in the first half. He was taken out to calm down in this session after he had caged one field goal. This goal

Vandal and Cougar Coaches to Battle In Basket Series

After having guided their respective teams through the season, each with varying degrees of success, Idaho and Washington State college athletic coaches will iron out their many differences through the medium of the inflated sphere, tiny hoops and hardwood floor in a two game basketball series. The first game will be played on the Idaho floor March 4 and the second at Pullman, March 11.

Idaho has announced a tentative lineup but the Cougar Pops have remained silent, probably with the intention of throwing a quintet of darkhorses in the field. The Vandals, seniors, boast of a neat aggregation, if past records mean anything. They haven't decided just which player will play what but all have been milling around the floor in their spare moments during the last week.

David MacMillan basketball coach stands out as the best bet, as lately he has been hovering around the Idaho varsity squad in their workouts and at their games and ought to have picked up a vast fund of the savoir faire necessary in the art of basket tossing. Already he is noted from the Mississippi throughout the east for a difficult shot caged in practice the other night.

Matty Reports
Bob Mathews, erstwhile mentor of all Vandal aggregations, is a football specialist, but he says he has picked up a goodly bit about the hoop game in his checkered career, which includes attendance at Notre Dame university, headquarters of the famous "Four Horsemen." As he is coaching this new team, it is difficult to say just where he will play but it is understood he has his eye on the thirff position.
Johnny Vesser, varsity wrestling coach claims he knows a little about

IDAHO MAT MEN TO END SEASON

Vandal Wrestlers Will Meet Huskies in Local Gymnasium Next Monday

Idaho Vandals and Washington Huskie matmen will tangle at Moscow next Monday in the Vandal's last conference meet. Thus far the Idahoans have met with disaster, having been defeated by the University of Oregon and twice by Washington State College. The Huskies have been defeated by the Oregon Aggies, who are doped to take the 1925 coast conference championship.

With the Washington aggregation comes Griffen, welterweight, considered the fastest man in his class on the coast. He was one of the two men who won their matches against O. A. C.

The following men probably will represent the Vandals: Bitner, 128 pounds; Ross, 135 pounds; Musser, 145 pounds; Edelblute, 158 pounds; and probably Bliss, 165 pounds. Bliss is now in the infirmary suffering from tonsillitis, but it is possible he may be discharged in time for the meet. Washington meets the Cougars from Washington State College Saturday night.

LITERARY GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS

Hockaday, Hawkins and Aspray Are Named to Fill Positions; New Pins Adopted

Election of officers, adoption of pins, and discussion of plans for a banquet comprised the business of the meeting of the Winged Helmet, honorary literary fraternity, held yesterday afternoon.

Gordon Hockaday is president, Ruth Hawkins as vice-president and Ruth Aspray as Secretary-Treasurer, were elected to succeed Blaine Stubblefield, Ruth Hawkins and Betty Mount of last semester.

Little Vandal helmets with two gold wings and a white "I" were chosen for pins. Plans for a banquet to be given at the Blue Bucket next Thursday night at 6 o'clock, were made. George Morey Miller and J. Stanton McLaughlin are to be guests.

UNIVERSITY WORK EXTENDS OVER 99 CENTERS OF STATE

Research and Field Service Activities of School Cover Many Industries, Survey Map Shows

Ninety-nine centers of service by the University of Idaho throughout the state, conducted in addition to all its campus work, are shown on a map recently prepared to illustrate the activities of 1923-1924, as follows:

Agricultural experimentation..... 8
Agricultural extension..... 19
Extension schools..... 16
Bilster rust control..... 20
Woodlot and windbreak studies .....

State bureau of mines..... 22

Total ..... 99

Agricultural Experiment

Four substitution farms of the agricultural experiment station are located with reference to regional problems, as follows:

Aberdeen substitution, 80 acres.

Caldwell substitution, 320 acres.

High altitude substitution at Felt, 200 acres.

Sandpoint substitution, 170 acres.

Temporary field stations are also located at convenient points for solution of particular problems. Such field stations are these:

Parma: Entomological investigations, primarily with alfalfa weevil and the snowy tree cricket.

Emmett, Twin Falls, Post Falls and Lewiston: Entomological investigations with leaf roller.

Lewiston: Studies of tomato and vegetable production under irrigation and the investigation of tomato blight.

Parma, Ashton, Aberdeen, Twin Falls, Winchester, Coeur d'Alene, Hayden Lake and Sandpoint: Experiments in control of potato diseases.

Coeur d'Alene and Lewiston: Tests with orchard fertilizers.

Bonner and Boundary counties: Peat soil studies.

Winchester: Experiments with soil and crops for cut-over sections.

The experiment station mailing list contains the following names: residents of Idaho, 10,789; residents of other states, 3,540; foreign, 177.

Extension Work Widespread

In extension work in 1924 county agents and club agents conducted 7368 farm and home demonstrations, involving the use of 45,475 acres of farm land, 38,659 head of livestock

LOW BIRTH RATE OF EDUCATED DEPLORED

Future of America Imperiled Students Should Marry, Speaker Declared

"The future of America is imperiled by the fact that foreigners coming here multiply nearly seven times as fast as does the best blood which built the United States," declared Dr. Adam S. Bennion, superintendent of Latter Day Saints schools at regular student assembly Wednesday morning. Dr. Bennion also said that, in view of this fact, the raising of children by college graduates was a duty to society.

Doctor Bennion spoke on the fitting a university man should have for life after graduation. He said, "When you put out into the sea of life, you should have a following of certain vessels if you are to be successfully. Among these vessels some of the most important are: Workmanship! There is no substitute for work. This ship is not very appealing, but it is necessary. You should work at that for which you are best fitted. Friendship is another vessel which you should have in your fleet. The greatest figures of history have practically all had great friendships, with one or more persons, while some of the greatest failures have lacked friendships. Courtship is another ship which should be in the fleet. The birthrate in the upper classes, and the tendency of university students to avoid matrimony is deplorable. You should cultivate ability to stand hardship. Worship is the flagship of the whole fleet. It is a ship which has fallen into disuse, but it is necessary if you are to sail the

Idaho-Oregon

As a rule basketball games are played with the outcome solely in view; they are played to win. . . . But when you see a game that makes you laugh and cry and forget the hard seats and cramped positions in your breathless enthusiasm; and makes ten fighting, sweating, panting players forget the score and lose sight of the outcome in their wild desire to get that ball . . . then you have one game in a hundred, one which will go down in the annals of campus history in big letters.

In one of the finest, cleanest, hardest games ever fought on an Idaho floor, Oregon won last night. And to Referee Robert Morris, to the Idaho students, to Yell King Elrod, as well as to the opposing teams, is due much credit for the handling of the whole game.

Oregon has a splendid team. Her men demonstrated a brand of ball surpassing anything on the Idaho floor yet this season. Her defensive work was well-nigh perfect; and her basket-shooting excellent.

Many will think Idaho played better ball against Washington, mainly because Idaho won that game. But it is indeed questionable. Last night the Vandals played with a keen, heady abandon that came near being Oregon's undoing. Idaho certainly has the stuff. She was defeated, but licked? Not on your life!

Power to you, Beavers, in your scrappy fight for championship colors.

"Leaders" Who Follow

Much rumor is rife today concerning the number of students who are careless about their actions and attitudes on the campuses of American colleges and universities. It is implied that a general hostility to authority and a laxness in moral habits are becoming prevalent. In many instances it is charged that the honeyed phrase about the college student being superior mentally to the average is going to his head; and so he is striking blindly ahead, under the insane impression that his way cannot but be right.

Much of this rumor is, of course, unjustified; but there is a significant number who do indulge in practices which are anything but a compliment to the younger generation. Among these are many would-be college leaders either as active participants or as conformists.

There are campus organizations in American colleges whose purpose should be to foster a better sort of law-abiding spirit. Instead they are frequently most prominent in the promotion of these questionably-good activities. So often campus "leaders" are followers of the mob and exhibit either a surprising lack of responsibility or an unforgivable misunderstanding of their positions on the campus.

If these "leaders who follow" have designs on campus political jobs their actions perhaps can be justified by their fear of popular opinion. If they are underclassmen they may be afraid that those whose influence is essential to their advancement will think they lack courage. But in those who have already attained their ambitions, the conformist attitude is incomprehensible. They live down to the level, instead of attempting in their own way to raise the general level of intelligence.

Until prominent students and their influential organizations take a definite stand on the right side of the fence, in spite of the popular attitude, these damaging rumors with what basis of fact they do have will persist.

Albert Spalding

Albert Spalding, American artist premier, appears tonight in the university auditorium in the second great number of the Artist's course. To everyone who heard and saw Carmen produced by the San Carlo Opera company last month a deep significance will attach to the program tonight. For the high intrinsic worth of that splendid production will give rise to expectation of much from Mr. Spalding. And surely no one will be disappointed.

Albert Spalding is one of the great American violinists. His genius is as great as it is remarkable. His powers of delicate expression are undeniably fine. He is wonderfully worth while. He is a great artist.

W. S. C. Saturday and Monday

The final act of 1925 conference basketball is ready to appear. Teams are pretty definitely placed in the championship race. The end is near. Idaho will not win this year; but she has made splendid progress for an eminently successful record next season. During the last few games, the Vandals have truly come into their own. They have been playing championship basketball.

And last night was just another example of their fine development in the hands of Coach MacMillan. Those boys can play ball. Saturday and Monday will witness Idaho's last games of the season. Although they are not of great conference significance, nevertheless, Idaho students are looking forward to them with no little zest and anticipation. For they are with Washington State College.

Idaho will be favored in these two games because of her better conference showing, but allowance must be made for the traditional Idaho-W. S. C. rivalry. It will be increasingly hard for Idaho students to observe their fine sportsmanship spirit during these two games. But that must be done.

On the Idaho floor Saturday and on the W. S. C. floor Monday, every evidence of courtesy and fair treatment must be shown the Cougar team and its supporters. Remember: Idaho is playing those games and not the college or her students at Pullman.

SIGMA CHI WINS BY FAST SPURT

Sigma Pi Rho Team Is Defeated by 12 to 24 Score in Intra-Mural Game

Sigma Chi came from behind in the second half and defeated Sigma Pi Rho team, 24-12. Playing with a crippled team, the Sigma Chi five showed a second half spurt that put them into the lead and easily won the game. Score at the half was 2-6. Early in the first half, the Sigma Pi Rho's took the lead and held the Sigma Chi's to the lone field goal, by Powers.

Playing without Wither regular guard, Sigma Chi seemed lost and did not gain momentum until the third quarter. Taking the ball from the tipoff, Dayton looped two counters in quick succession. G. Johnson playing his first game in this intra-mural series, repeatedly made long shots count.

One third of all points scored were credited to Johnson. Dayton and Powers were second in scoring, making six points each, and executing some nice floor work. D. King also was going good scoring six points. There was the usual handful of spectators present, and they were rewarded, for their loyalty, as the game was all that could be expected in speed and clean playing.

SUMMARY

SOCIETY

This is a society column. One glance at the heading would convince even the most skeptic of that. But the amount of material which is available most of the time makes one furiously wonder just what there is about the simple events of the daily lives of college students that so much reticence is necessary. Are you ashamed to make the names of your dinner guests public? When your mother visited you, did she steal the silverware? When you left town, did you have some dark, malevolent design? If not, why not tell the college world what you've been doing, even if you have to write it up yourself?

More than sixty university students and a number of faculty members and townspeople were present Tuesday evening at a banquet at Forney hall given in honor of Dr. Adam Bennion, head of the Mormon educational system, and Brigham Young, president of the northwestern division of the Mormon church. Besides the guests and students, the following were present: Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. H. Melgard, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Parsons, Dean and Mrs. R. M. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Laney, Dean Permeal French, Professor and Mrs. G. L. Luke, Dean and Mrs. F. G. Miller, and Dean and Mrs. J. F. Messenger.

Dinner guests of Pi Beta Phi Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Butterfield.

Thursday dinner guests were Misses Jensen, Ellis Cowgill, and Zudrele.

Blister Rust Control.

The school of forestry cooperating with state and federal agencies in the control of white pine blister rust has done work of special importance this biennium. This menace to the white pine forests of Idaho was first discovered in the west in 1920. Being a new problem here, it was necessary to obtain considerable data on the extent of the infected area, to conduct scientific investigations on the life history of the disease, and work out methods for its control. It was essential that this information be collected in the shortest possible time in order that the control program might be started without undue delay. Furthermore, the very nature of the disease made it necessary to obtain the closest cooperation between the various federal, state and private agencies. The University of Idaho, through its school of forestry, played a leading part in this work. During the past biennium, Dr. Henry Schmitz of the forest school faculty, has had general charge of the cooperative work on the control of this disease in the state.

At the request of the Western White Pine Blister Rust Conference an investigation was begun during the biennium on the rate of growth of the white pine remaining on an area after logging. The results of this investigation when completed will be a very important factor in determining how large an expenditure may be incurred in protecting these future stands against white pine blister rust. The School of Forestry, cooperating with the Office of White Pine Blister Rust Control, U. S. Department of Agriculture, has also conducted two school campaigns during which literature and descriptive material were sent to every public and high school teacher of the state to arouse in presenting the blister rust situation to the pupils.

Full study of adaptability of different species of trees for growth in different localities has been made in every county of the state since 1922 and complete data have been compiled.

Woodlot measurements were made in Ada, Boise, Canyon, Twin Falls, Gooding, Jerome and Elmore counties; rate-of-growth studies in Latah and Benewah; and yield studies on burns in Shoshone county.

In eradication of black currants, to control blister rust, in 1924 the work covered Adams, Washington, Valley, Lemhi, Gem, Boise, Clark, Fremont, Butte, and other Idaho counties and a check of work already done in Lewis, Nez Perce, Bonner, Boundary and part of Idaho.

State Bureau of Mines

Six years of work on the state bureau of mines and geology, which works in close cooperation with the school of mines, were reviewed in a recent publication. The following studies were reported:

Topographic: Seven Devils mining district; He Devil quadrangle; Heath quadrangle; St. Maries-Clearwater rivers region.

Geologic, metalliferous: Seven Devils and adjacent districts; Umpleby-Livingston reconnaissance; Alturas quadrangle; North Central Idaho; Mineral and Cuddy mountain districts; reported occurrence of platinum; copper deposits near Salmon City; Halley district; ore deposit about Lake Pend d'Oreille; western Boundary county; Boise Basin.

Geologic, non-metalliferous: clay deposits of Idaho; south-central and southwestern Idaho; oil possibilities of southeastern Idaho; oil possibilities of Bonneville, Bingham and Caribou counties; oil possibilities of Power and Oneida counties; coal in Teton county; eastern Bear Lake county.

Artesian water: Goose creek basin; Pahsimeroi valley; Bruneau river basin; Camas prairie; municipal water supply at Moscow.

Metallurgical: Coeur d'Alene district.

Other public and cooperative service of the university has included the work of the road materials laboratory and a certain amount of public health service. Correspondence students also have been taking university courses in all parts of the state.

the loop game, as he played end under Mathews on the grid squad. In addition to that, he has wrestled some, which goes to say he should make a whale of a defensive player. The art of throwing the ball through the basket is a little hard but with a little practice he thinks he can fill the bill.

Next on the program is Ray Neldig whose claim to fame is that he assisted Matty in putting out the 1924 grid aggregation. Ray is a prof in ag chemistry by birth, so should be well versed in the science of playing the court game.

Dusty Kline, who also is an assistant football coach, as well as part-time mentor for the rock basket shooters played some basket ball in a town called Plainsfield, N. J. He has brushed up a bit on the game since coming to Idaho, where they play real basketball, so he feels qualified to uphold the honor of the silver and the gold against the Cougar sires.

Last on the list is Al Knudson, "Knute" for short, who spends his spare time managing Idaho student body affairs. His real vocation is coaching however, as he is assistant to Matty in all his various branches of endeavor.

The proceeds of the coaches' bat-ties will go toward the purchase of trophies for the Idaho interscholastic basketball meet, which will be held here later this spring. Yes there will be a small admission charge, two bits a head probably.

FILIPINO DADS APPRECIATIVE

Write Y. M. C. A. Secretary Regarding Work on U. Campus

George Oliver, student secretary and Y. M. C. A. worker on the University of Idaho campus, recently received letters from the Philippine Islands from the fathers of Philippine boys who are attending school at the University of Idaho, expressing words of greeting and their interest in the Y. M. C. A. work here.

Two of these fathers, Mr. Dalmonte, father of Leonardo Dalmonte, who is a senior at the university and who is to take a medical course, and Mr. Sajor, father of Valentin Sajor, another student, each sent generous gifts of money to assist in the Y. M. C. A. work on the University of Idaho campus.

The letters and the gifts are much appreciated from the fathers of these boys who are here with us.

and 233 farm buildings. They supervised 55 pest and disease control campaigns, securing the cooperation of 12,015 farmers and covering 1,066,667 acres of land and 71,193 head of livestock. Co-operative campaigns for control of rodent pests were conducted in 38 Idaho counties in 1924.

Extension workers helped to bring into existence 39 cooperative marketing and breed associations, looking to the solution of marketing and production problems by cooperative effort. Members in these associations totaled 2,513. In addition county agents and club agents helped keep alive 22 cooperative marketing associations organized previous to 1924. These associations have 1,547 members.

Extension offices are maintained as follows:

Moscow: director and secretary of extension division; northern district home demonstration and club agents.

Boise: state leaders in county agent club work and home demonstration work; statewide specialists in horticulture, dairying, animal husbandry, clothing, agronomy, entomology, pure seed and rodent control; southwestern district home demonstration agent.

Pocatello: southeastern district home demonstration agent and club agent.

Minidoka: south central district home demonstration agent.

Gooding: south central district club agent.

Counties also have had their own agents as follows:

County agricultural agents: Boundary, Kootenai, Latah, Gem, Camas, Blaine, Gooding, Twin Falls, Cassia, Power, Bingham, Bannock, Oneida,

DELTA MU CHI TO MAKE DEBUT

New Honorary De Molay Fraternity Will Take Its Place on Idaho Campus

A new national honorary fraternity will be duly installed on the campus by the middle of next month if the plans of the Pullman chapter of Delta Mu Chi, honorary De Molay fraternity, which is the mother and only chapter in existence at present go through. Word has been received by the Idaho chapter, which was granted a charter last December that the Pullman chapter has set a definite date for the installation. The date set is March 19.

The chapter on the Idaho campus will take action next week to secure faculty recognition so as to be in readiness for the installing team when they arrive. It is also formulating plans for some form of entertainment to be given the ones that will be here from Washington State college. Although nothing definite has been done as yet it is expected that an informal banquet and a program for the evening will comprise the entertainment.

The Idaho chapter which was organized under the name of the De Molay club of the University of Idaho, does not include all of the De Molay that are attending the University but a large number will be taken in as charter members.

All members of some chapter of De Molay and all those who have been members but have become too old and been given a majority certificate that are in good standing are eligible for membership in Delta Mu Chi.

DELTA CHI DOWNS HALL HOOPSTERS

Lindley Quintet Leads at Half But Is Beaten 21 to 14 in Fast Game

Delta Chi downed Lindley Hall in a decisive battle Tuesday night by a score of 21 to 14. The game was a fight from start to finish. Lindley Hall led in the first half with the score 9 to 8. In the second half Delta Chi came back strong and managed to get the lead. At no time in the game was there any assurance who would win. Hesslin and Funk did most of the scoring for the Hall. Buchholz was high point man for Delta Chi. Both teams played fast and clean. Harry Reget officiated as referee.

This game was played as a result of the tie when Lindley Hall was defeated by Sigma Chi, leaving Delta Chi, Sigma Chi and Lindley Hall on equal standing. Delta Chi next plays Sigma Chi and should she win she will head the list in League B. Both Delta Chi and Lindley Hall showed "faster stuff" than they have shown before. Should Sigma Chi win in the next game with Delta Chi the entanglement for championship of League B will again be complicated.

The tryouts will be based on seven minute speeches on any subject the student may choose, the oration being written after the contestant is chosen.

INITIATION HELD BY BUSINESS SORORITY

Seven Are Taken Into Phi Beta Gamma at Meeting February 9

Phi Beta Gamma, honorary fraternity for women majoring in the school for business held their annual initiation services on the evening of February 9. The membership for this group is based on high standards of scholarship attained. The following were initiated: Mary Paisley, Alene Long, Dorothy Helm, Marie Hogenson, Mrs. Hemmert, Ellen Hove and Blanche Boyer. After the regular initiation a banquet was given at the Blue Bucket in honor of the new initiates. Speeches were given on business subjects during the dinner. Mrs. Dale, Mrs. Schoonover and Miss Gamwell were the honorary members present.

The aim of the fraternity is to secure the national Gamma Epsilon Phi, well known business women's fraternity. However at the present time emphasis is being placed on earning enough money to engrave on the bronze tablet which is for that purpose, the name of the sophomore girl who has the highest scholastic average.

Doctor Bennion paid tribute to President A. H. Upham with the statement that the university is "presided over by a man who grows into great things." Countries develop to be like the men to whom their attention is directed. America has become a great nation through patterning after such men as Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt, the speaker claimed. The University of Idaho has a great president to be shaped after.

by the way, tied the score at seven. He was thrown back in again for the second half and his sure eye accounted for four points, all via the free throw route.

Erickson, Idaho's offensive center, confined himself almost wholly to the defense, and consequently he was credited with only three points at the end of the game. But it was through his lightning speed and determined defense that many potential Oregon scores fizzled.

Greene Goes Good

Although Greene played one of his best games last night, he was unable to break through the Webfeet's defense. He was credited with two free throws. Greene was like the proverbial streak of greased lightning, however, on the defense. If he was held from scoring by the Oregon defense he accounted for many smashups of Oregon scores.

Nelson also showed the results of Oregon guarding. He converted only one field goal although he brought the ball to the foul line time after time, only to find impenetrable mass of Oregon players in formation before the basket. His tally came just before the game ended the first half, after he had broke away from a mass at the foul line.

Idaho drew first blood when Nedros dropped a free throw on Gowans' personal foul. Gowans fouled again and Erickson dropped in the second score for Idaho. Oregon opened then, when Hobson emerged from a midfloor mill and dropped the ball into the cage for a field goal. This tied the score at two. Miles fouled and Okerberg broke the tie with his free throw.

Westergren fattened the Webfeet's lead with a neat field goal after he got away from a scramble near the Vandals' goal. In less than a minute Nedros retaliated with afield basket and in another minute tied the score with a free throw, made possible by Jost's foul. Hobson broke lose then and after dribbling the full length of the floor looped a field goal giving Oregon a two point lead. Miles started with the ball rolling again when he threw the score into a tie at seven with another field goal.

A difficult shot from the sidelines by Westergren brought the Oregon quintet into the lead with a field goal. A moment later he tallied with another field goal. At this point, Gunther was thrown in for Jost and Jost moved into Okerberg's position at center. Nelson scored his field goal and the gun ended the half, with the score 11 to 9 for Oregon.

Hobson Breaks through

Hobson brought the Oregon score to 13 when he broke through and dropped a field goal through the basket. The Vandals moved forward with one point when Miles was successful in his try after Westergren's foul.

Miles brought the score to 14 to 13 for Oregon when he caged a long throw from the center of the floor. This was one of the most spectacular shots of the game. Greene tied the score when the third foul was called on Jost. Then Erickson fouled and the following free throw threw Oregon once more in the lead. Then Oregon started to salt the game away. Gowans and Okerberg each dropped a field goal through the circle, bringing the score to 19 to 14 against the Vandals. Following a conference called by the Gem Staters, Gowans fouled and Miles realized two points on as many free throws. Okerberg came back with a free throw when Greene fouled, throwing the Vandals under a three point lead. Nedros helped the Idahoans along with a long shot from the center of the floor. Jost fouled for the fourth time and was taken from the game. Nelson failed to convert on the free throw. Gilrod fouled and Nedros brought the score to the last tie, at 22, Okerberg broke the tie with a field goal, trying for which he was fouled by Nelson. The link center converted one of the brace of attempts at a free throw. Nedros registered the last Idaho score when he completed a field goal. In a moment he fouled and Okerberg got the last score of the game, bringing the score to 26 to 24 for the Webfeet.
