

THE UNIVERSITY ARGONAUT

Today, 10 Years Ago

From The University Argonaut, May 7, 1915.

The preliminaries of Idaho's annual interscholastic track meet went off without a hitch Thursday afternoon. One record flitted to the land of whangdoodle when L. Schroeder, of Freser, tore off a leap of 20 feet, 9 1-2 inches in the broad jump. Graff of Coeur d'Alene tied the record of 5 3-5 in the 50 yard dash, and Thompson of Boise and Richmond, of Lapwal, equaled the 10 2-5 record for the 100.

The University is furnishing the following speakers for high school commencement exercises throughout the state: President Brannon, Professor Hulme, Dean Ayers, Prof. Lewis, Dean Eldridge, Prof. Collins, and Dean Iddings.

Mrs. Matt Foster, from Datoro, Washington, is now with the Delta Gamma's as house mother.

The Ridenbaugh Hall girls were the guests of the Misses Ayers Beamers, Herrington, McArthur, and Meacham at a May Day breakfast last Saturday morning. The girls wore light dresses, and in spite of the disagreeable weather, felt that May had come.

America's javelin king, the revered, respected, and honored Buck Phillips, and Captain Sam Morrison of Idaho's speedy track team left Tuesday to get into the big Pacific Coast Intercollegiate to be pulled off in San Francisco on May 8.

Velma Spaulding and Nenimah Nowlin attended the celebration of the opening of the canal at Lewiston, giving the banana belt city an open river to the sea.

Lorraine and Dorothy Selby have moved down to the Gamma Phi house for the rest of the semester.

Local merchants are advertising cool, well tailored Palm Beach suits from $8.00 to $10.00, and white duck pants at $1.25.

MAN WHO KNOWS PRINCES COMES TO OLD FOLKS FOR EXCITEMENT

How many persons saw a quiet, gray-eyed man, apparently early in his forties, walk down the walk leading to the ad building Wednesday and realized they were in close proximity of fame, or the clay with which fame is constructed? They should have for fame was in the air.

The University of Idaho, or rather a student at the university, whose name, by his own request, shall not be mentioned in this story, received a guest who is famous. This guest has seen every country on the globe, has hobbled with kings in Europe, rajahs in India, sikh in Morocco, shieks of the desert, emperors in Asia, sultans of Turkey, presidents of republics, the hoboes who wander back and forth across the United States, the lumberjacks and I. W. ws. who infest our Northwestern woods, striking coal miners and pro and con factions of the Ku Klux Klan who terrorized Herin, Ill., the panicky, joy crazed delegates at the last Republican national convention at St. Louis, the tenacious and resolute delegates to the Democratic national convention in Madison Square garden; in fact he has been everywhere and has done everything.

He has worked his way around the world in a tramp trading schooner, laden variously with hemp, coal, wheat, silks, lumber, tobacco and dyestuff. He occupied a suite next to that of the Prince of Wales on H. M. S. Rekonow when 'England's future king circled the globe. He sat in the front cockpit of the plane of Lieut. Lowell Smith, leader of the

OREGON AGGIES WIN FROM IDAHO

Vandals Smothered By Hits of Corvallis Nine; Score, 8-2

University of Idaho Vandals lost their third conference baseball game Tuesday when they were defeated by O. A. C., 8 to 2, on the Corvallis diamond. The Idaho players were only able to connect with the deliveries of Fred Tebb, O. A. C. pitching ace, four times for two runs. The Aggies got 12 hits off Erickson Idaho moundman, for eight runs. Both teams made three errors.

Idaho played Pacific university at Forest Grove, Oregon, and Whitman college at Walla Walla. The Vandals return to Moscow today to meet Washington, May 14.

GEM OF MOUNTAINS IS NEARLY PRINTED

Idaho's 1925 Annual Ready for Distribution About May 20

The 1925 edition of the Gem of the Mountains is on the press and will be ready for distribution sometime around the twentieth of this month according to Herbert E. Karlburg, associate editor, of the annual publication. Paul Harlan, editor-in-chief is in the south now at the printers arranging the make-up and making final plans before the book is bound.

"The book this year will be much larger," states Karlburg. "Not only the actual number of pages will be greater but also each section, which will include more snapshots, larger accounts and very artistic art work. The athletic section is especially notable in this issue. Heretofore games that have been played at other universities and colleges have received only a small account, but this year every game is given an equally large write-up and the entire section has more action pictures than ever before."

The cover for this year's book is the same material as that of last year's. It will have a new design but will carry out the Vandal idea as the entire book does. All of the art work is entirely new. The scenic views are the work of Marian Featherston, and are views of the campus drawn from photographs.

"The humor section is not only larger but quite clever," continues Karlburg. "This section is better than it has ever been heretofore."

WORK, FUN, EATS AWAIT STUDENTS ON CAMPUS DAY

Annual Spring Fete to Feature "Peer Gynt" in Afternoon; Cleanup Program During Morning

A May pole dance, a military band concert, a presentation of "Peer Gynt" and an all-college dance at the Blue Bucket Inn are among the attractions of campus day, as announced today by the program committee. The morning will be spent in beautifying the campus and the afternoon will be devoted to celebrating the annual spring fete. Work assignments will be published in the Tuesday issue of The Argonaut.

The Military band concert which will be given on the university lawn from 1:30 to 2:30 will be followed by the Mortar Band procession and pleading. The May Day fete will begin at 2:45 and will include a May pole dance and an interpretation of "Peer Gynt" by Mrs. William Michael's dancing class.

A campus lunch, to which the public is invited, will be served on the Ridenbaugh hall lawn at 6:00 after which there will be community singing of Idaho songs. The day will be closed by an all-college dance which will be given in the Blue Bucket Inn.

GRADUATING MINERS START ANNUAL TRIP

Twelve Students With Dean Thomson and Prof. Kirkham Make Journey

Twelve graduating seniors in the school of mines left Moscow this morning with Dean F. A. Thompson and Prof. R. D. Kirkham on the annual field trip through northern Idaho and Montana.

Seniors making the trip are G. V. Larsen, A. B. Bagdasarian, C. Loken, Fritz McGonigle, A. J. Wahl, E. Joyce, J. D. Bullock, C. Saunders, A. Pena and E. A. Eastman.

The miners were entertained while in Spokane by the A. I. M. E. and A. S. C. E. at a noonday luncheon at the Davenport hotel, and late this afternoon left Spokane for Wallace, Idaho. The Helca mine, underground and surface plant at Burke, Idaho, will be inspected Saturday morning, and Sunday the men will visit the dredge of the Yukon Gold company at Murray.

Monday and Tuesday will be spent inspecting the Bunker Hill and Sullivan properties at Kellogg. Wednesday the party leaves for Butte, Montana, where copper and zinc mines and surface plants will be visited.

Thursday the miners will be in Anaconda, inspecting the copper plant, which is one of the largest in the world. The following Monday will be spent in East Helena, in the smelter. The next stop is at Great Falls where the engineers will inspect the Anaconda zinc plant and the copper refinery and at Shelby, where the Kevin Sunburst oil fields will be visited.

From Shelby the men will go to Sandpoint, to look over the Talache mine and surface plant. From Sandpoint the miners will return to Moscow, arriving here Saturday noon, May 23.

CURTAIN PRESENTS YEAR'S FINAL PLAY

"The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" On May 30

The Curtain, honorary dramatic fraternity, is presenting "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" on May 30 as its annual Commencement play. Like the popular "Everyman" which was presented last year it is a costume play of worthy literary style most appropriate for the crowning dramatic event of Commencement week.

From the cream of the dramatic material on the campus, the following have been selected in the cast: Bert Stone, Nampa; Sidney Yager, Boise; W. S. Stephens, Blackfoot; Vernon Johnson, Boise; Hosea Evans, Kellogg; Beardsley Merrill, Spokane; Sidney McClellan, Grace; Heister

FRESHMAN MILER WILL MEET STAR

University Freshman Holder of High School Mile Record, Will Race

Donald Cleaver, Caldwell, holder of the Idaho interscholastic record for the mile and a freshman at the University of Idaho, has been invited by University of Washington authorities to race Joie Ray, internationally famous miler and former holder of several distance championships, at the Seattle Relays, May 9. Cleaver's time for the mile is 4:37. Ray recently ran at the University of California, Berkeley and is on his way east.

Cleaver, although a freshman, took the mile run in the interclass and intra-mural track meets here recently. He is running in top form and should better his record time at Seattle, Saturday.

MATTY AND CREW LEAVE FOR RELAYS

Cleaver, Frosh Miler, Invited to Race Joie Ray, Famous Distance Man

Ten University of Idaho Vandals, Coach R. L. Mathews, and Donald Cleaver, freshman miler, left Thursday afternoon for Seattle, where they will compete in the annual Seattle relays, Saturday. Cleaver went on the invitation of the University of Washington to race Joie Ray, internationally famous miler and former holder of several distance records.

The ten men who will be entered in the regular events at the carnival are Errol Hillman, Arthur Mathews, Arthur Sowder, and Lewis Williams, distances; Neal Nelson, pentathlon; Martel Archabal, shorter distances; J. Thompson, Gifford Davison, Stanley MacDowell and Henry Powers, sprinters.

Track and field talent from nearly every college and university on the Pacific coast will have men entered in the annual relays, which is a regular conference meet.

Donald Cleaver, the Caldwell first year man who has been chosen to race Ray, has a notable record to his credit. In addition to trotting the mile in four minutes and 37 seconds for the state high school record last year, he hit the tape ahead of Sowder and other veterans at the intra-mural meet held here recently. He is going in top form and might lower his record time in the Seattle competition Saturday. The men probably will return Sunday morning.

2000 RESIDENT STUDENTS U. AIM

A. S. U. I. Plans Booklet to Be Sent To All Parts of State

Two thousand regularly enrolled resident students at the University of Idaho next year is the goal set by the new student committee recently appointed by Leo Fleming, Burke, president of the associated students of the university, according to Emil Strobeck, Twin Falls, chairman of the committee. Other members on the committee are Ted Turner, Caldwell, and George Elrod, Pocatello.

Plans were made for the preparation of a handbook of facts about the University of Idaho, its courses, and opportunities at a meeting Tuesday of the committee, with Edward F. Mason, director of publicity, Dr. A. H. Upham, president of the university and student presidents of the various fraternities, sororities and group houses on the campus. Presentation of these facts about the University of Idaho will be made to students in their group houses next week, and later, to chairmen of various towns and county student organizations.

Activity of the new student committee will be handled throughout the summer by Ted Turner, field secretary, who will visit all sections of the state in the interests of the new student drive.

The booklet, "Facts about Idaho" to be compiled soon, will give much information about the various colleges and schools of the university, size, rank and attainment of the faculty, the athletic standing of the university in football, baseball, track and basketball, and an interesting resume of student life at Idaho. These will be presented in a clear light, expected to impress prospective students with the opportunities offered at the University of Idaho.

STROBECK NEW STUDENT BODY HEAD; FEW ELECTORS TURN OUT TO POLLS CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS PASS

Annual A. S. U. I. Election Goes Off Quietly, Without Upset of Previously Mixed Dope; Sidney Yager is Named Vice President Stoffel Managing Editor Argonaut

Emil Strobeck, of Twin Falls, was elected president of the T. S. U. I. yesterday in what was probably the quietest general election yet held at the University. Except for a single office there was only one ticket nominated, and the nominees were opposed by practically no "sticker" candidates. Strobeck received 530 of the 611 votes cast, and Sidney Yager polled 531 ballots for the position of vice-president. Phoebe Sheldon was elected secretary with 523 votes.

LEITHE BROADCASTS FOR SEATTLE RADIO

Erick Leithe, former University of Idaho student, is broadcasting piano solo numbers from Seattle on May 16. Leithe left school at the beginning of the second semester and is now in the employ of the Pacific Telephone company at Seattle. He won fame as a piano player at the university having played with various camp orchestras, as accompanist to the Idaho glee club, and with Mann Brothers orchestra, of Lewiston.

Paul Stoffel, received a plurality of 413 votes to 166 over George Burroughs in the only contested position, for the managing editorship of The Argonaut.

Harry Baughman received 513 votes for senior man on the executive board and Marshal Blair 492 counts for the same office, two being elected. Francis McKee and George Austin, who were elected junior men on the executive board, received 510 and 490 votes respectively. Marie Hogenson was elected senior woman on the executive board with 529 votes and Kerube Steensland junior woman with 510.

CLARK AND CLAU PLEASE IN RECITAL

Annual Piano and Violin Program Wednesday Attended by Many

(By J. Stanton McLaughlin)

Miss Isabel Clark and Mr. Carl Claus, accompanied by Mr. David Nyvall, Jr., all of the department of music at the university, appeared in a joint recital of piano and violin music at the auditorium, Wednesday evening. Both musicians delighted a moderate-sized audience by a program made up of interesting numbers from both the classical and the more modern schools. Both have developed in artistry since they were last heard. Mr. Nyvall played accompaniments that were a delight to hear. Miss Clark's most ambitious number was the first movement of the "Concerto in A. Minor," by Schumann. This concerto is decidedly "tricky," because it demands controlled technique in order to maintain the pure lyricism of several of its passages. A descending passage of brilliant chords introduces the first theme.

For the other editorships Clair Killoran received 544 votes as associate editor of the Gem of the Mountains, Ruth Aspray 529 as editor of the Blue Bucket, and Margaret Kinyon 527 as associate editor of the same publication.

Sidney McClellan was elected assistant manager of dramatics with 532 counts, and Lawrence Peterson manager of the stock judging teams with 534. George Elrod was re-elected yell king with 523 votes.

In the voting for the Campus Day pageant honors Louisa Martin received 542 ballots for may queen, Ruth Faulkner 525 for maid of honor, and Beatrice McDonald 524 for page.

The polls were open from one until three o'clock in the main hall of the Administration building. The special election board comprised: Emmett Kinney, chairman; "Little" Green, Harry Brenn, Mary Dunn, Evangeline Bennett and Margaret Carter.

NOTICE

Announcement of all student work projects will appear in The Argonaut Tuesday, according to Harold Cornelison, generalissimo.

GREAT PREDICTIONS ARE MADE FOR SONG AND STUNT FESTIVAL

How the university should be run will no longer be a mystery after the annual song and stunt fest in the auditorium tonight and Saturday, if predictions of the "stunts" are true. Burlesque seems to occupy the center of the stage, but other features will also enter. In addition to a "stunt" each class will present an original song. Class members have discussed their offerings, lifting, somewhat, the veil of secrecy, and have spoken as follows:

SENIORS BURLESQUE CARMEN CLAIM NEW BRAND OF ART!

A burlesque on the opera Carmen is the seniors' occasion for taking a series of resounding smacks at members of the faculty and student body. The piece seems to be a cross between light comedy and musical comedy. It may be a new brand of art. At any rate it will be interesting to see what the seniors make of it. A take off on Carmen should leave the author quite at liberty, since no one understood the words of the opera and few the music.

The authors refused to let their names be published. No doubt this will have the same effect that a ban upon a book has. Everyone wants to read it; ergo, these authors are banned, therefore their works must be a ball of fire.

E. J. I. STUDENT DREAMS HE'S PRES.

SENATOR IS MADE JACKASS

"If I were President," junior one-act play, is a story about a student who dreamed he was president of the university. His troubles began at once, but he was master of the situation until Senator Mainstreet and his wife came in to see their son Charlie. The Senator is typical in that he is a scheming crude politician and that

HOORAY LEGISLATURE WILL SEE CAMPUS; SOLONS TO APPEAR

A "Legislative view of the University of Idaho" will be presented by the sophomore class in the annual song and stunt fest. The skit will portray prominent members of the state legislature by local characters. Several devices will be used to show the legislatures how the university is run. The stunt in itself will show the broad scope of university training as well as the work of the various departments.

FRESHMEN WILL CONDUCT TRIP THROUGH RADIOLAND

The Freshmen are taking the audiences on a trip through "Radioland" as their offering for the stunt fest. Chairman John Graham of the stunt committee has not divulged how much the trip will include but hinted that a real radio concert will be part of the program. Those taking part in the Frosh stunt are: Mary Burke, Ella Mae Farmin, Ethel Lafferty, Helen Blackinger, Arnold Calvert, Beardsley Merrill, Herman Welker, and John Grahom. The other members of the Frosh stunt committee are Ella Mae Farmin and Avery Peterson.

"Idaho Mine" is the song which the Freshmen will present in the song fest. Ethel Lafferty is chairman of the song committee composed of Betty Franks, Helen Blackinger and Marion Fleming.

Officers, A. S. U. I., 1926-27

Student body elections closed yesterday uneventfully. For the first time in many, many moons only one complete ticket was in the field. This situation has been characterized by influential men on the campus as "funny." And certainly things aren't as satisfactory as they appear on the surface. However, for this year it is a welcome relief from the excessively rotten mess of last spring.

At all events, The Argonaut believes the list of incoming officers was well-chosen; and welcomes the thusly honored Idaho students to their new posts with congratulations and well-wishes.

Too Bad

It's just too bad the editor thinks, that when, out of four classes of two to four hundred members each, not even enough students will turn out at the appointed time to practice the several class songs necessary for the stunt fest. Class spirit and Alma Mater loyalty have, indeed, sunk to a pathetically low ebb when this sad state of affairs ensues.

Time is precious this month, to be sure, but when twenty or thirty students cannot, by hook or crook, be recruited for a couple of song practices, something is wrong; and it isn't with the harrassed writers and staggers of the stunt fest skits and songs. Popularity of the annual stunt fest makes its importance unquestionable. . . . Shall it be allowed to suffer because everybody is "too busy?"

In Memoriam

"There is a grave in Scyros, amid the white and pinkish marble of the isle, the wild thyme and the poppies, near the green and blue waters: There Rupert Brooke is buried." Ten years ago Rupert Brooke died—"died for England on the day of St. Michael and St. George." He was the young Keats of the twentieth century, beloved by his countrymen and the whole world for the splendid eagerness of his early poems.

And then came 1914, and a martial note crept into the sonnets of that dark year: "Blow out, you bugles, over the rich Dead! . . . These laid the world away; poured out the red sweet wine of youth." Before another year was out, Rupert Brooke had joined that legion. He died happily, thinking that "Honor had come back, as King, to earth."

"Would he think that now, after ten years; he who was so brave, and honest in his thinking? Would he again give up that glorious promise of later years, of poems unwritten, and of work undone? Was that happy, costly sacrifice in vain?"

It was not. For the greatest beauty in living and the greatest passion for life for him came within those few months before, "death found him, long before he'd tired . . ." Those sonnets, written while he was training, between the Antwerp expedition and sailing for the Aegean, are among the finest utterances of English poetry concerning the Great War. Rupert Brooke's sun set early, but a new star now shines in the English heavens.

Exploiting the Athlete

Times has changed. The day was when the big football star, the stellar basketball dribbler, and the baseball pitching ace at college were merely campus heroes and the idols of alumni. So usually when they were graduated they entered the work of the world, and made way for the next hero. But now, with football holding the prominent place it does in the public eye and basketball and collegiate baseball making rapid strides toward universal popularity, the hey-day of the college athlete does not end with his graduation or his leaving school.

Witness the announcement this spring that the famous "Four Horsemen of Notre Dame," assisted by Jimmy Conzelman of the wartime Great Lakes training school football eleven, are said to have contracted for a vaudeville tour this summer. There seems to be a growing tendency to exploit famous men of the gridiron by mercenary interests.

This announcement and the following comment by Lawrence Perry appeared in a recent issue of the Denver Post:

"This is a tendency which requires watching. Inherently there is no harm Messrs. Layden, Crowley, Miller and Stuhldreher strutting their hour upon the boards, if this is really their intention. It is a respectable way of earning a living or eking out an income, even granting that our institutions of higher learning receive endowments from state governments and philanthropists for other purposes."

CLARK, CLAU RECITAL

This works into an interesting melody treated first in C major and later reappearing in A major before the cadenza, which the movement ends in the original key, A minor. Miss Clark played the colorful passage work very effectively, at all times making the melody sing out above the restlessly moving accompaniment. Her interpretation of the A flat major interlude was delightful. Her tone quality was rich and sustained, yet at all times beautifully colored.

Miss Clark's second group began with a Mozart "Fantasy in D Minor," played in true classical style. The "C Sharp Minor Waltz" responded to her poetic handling of it. Her performance of that number was one of the most pleasing that has been played for some time. "The Lark," by Glinka-Balakirew, and "Theme and Variations," by Paderewski, closed this group. The latter selections gave Miss Clark a chance to demonstrate further her fine combination of tone control and accurate technique. At an encore she played Debussy's "Little Shepherd."

Mr. Claus began his first group with two classical numbers, Handel's "Larghetto" and Beethoven's "Romance in F Major," which were played with restraint and great purity of tone. In "Canzonetta" in D. Ambroiso, Mr. Claus demonstrated his power to control dynamics in tone, so that he made the number at once piquant and wistful. The rhapsodic "Gypsy Airs" by Sarasate, ended the group. In this there was brilliant playing and somber playing, and splendid allegro ending, all demanding rare artistry and all yielding gratefully to Mr. Claus's treatment.

His second group included the colorful "Hymn to the Sun" by Rimsky-Korsakov, a "Mazurka," by Wieniaswaki, and "Slavonic Dance," by Dvorak-Kreisler. Saint-Saems' "The Swan" was played exquisitely. The program was concluded with Mr. Nyvall's interesting composition, "Danse Paratique." This is a brilliant number, and yet one that does not lose its grace and movement because of elaborate treatment.

The accompaniments were all played by Mr. Nyvall. He was successful in handling the orchestra arrangement for second piano in the concerto. With Mr. Claus, his playing was at all times typical of the best accompanying. And finally, in his "Danse Paratique," he gave the audience a new and interesting violin number.

coast, at Bremerton, Washington. Many students who have never been to the coast are planning to take this opportunity to visit the many points of interest there."

"D. R. Malhotra, who will receive his master's degree in forestry this year, plans to attend the convention before returning to his home in India. A. Pena, who graduates from the school of mines this year, also expects to be at the conference before he returns to Bolivia, South America."

Convention Biggest Ever

Advance plans of the convention indicate that it will be the biggest and finest ever staged at Seaback. Twenty-five colleges will be represented there, and reservations have already been made in one of the cottages for the 40 Idaho delegates. Several students expect to drive their cars to the conference, taking their friends with them.

"Students are coming more and more to recognize the importance of the Y. M. C. A.," said Mr. Oliver. "Of course we are a rather young organization here on the campus, but student membership and interest is steadily increasing. We feel sure that the Seaback conference will find Idaho well represented."

University students are showing a great deal of interest in the Y. M. C. A. student conference at Seaback, Washington, June 23 to July 3, according to G. L. Oliver, secretary in charge of the university Y. M. C. A. "We anticipate very little difficulty in sending our quota of 40 men to the conference," said Mr. Oliver. NORTHERN STUDENT PUBLICATIONS WIN

Wallace and Salmon Papers Awarded Prizes by Pepper Box in Statewide Contest

Out of 45 high schools in Idaho Wallace and Salmon won the two loving cups offered by the "Pepper Box," Boise high school paper, according to the announcement in the Idaho School Editor, Wa-Hi-Booster, monthly high school paper of Wallace was awarded first prize in the improvement contest, while Salmon won first in the column-writing contest.

The Wallace paper, of which Warren Gochenour is editor is a three column paper, cramped for space, but in spite of this handicap they have shown more improvement than any other paper in the state. The judges of this contest were E. F. McDermott, former news editor of the Idaho Daily Statesman, Boise; H. A. Lawson, editor of the Evening Capital News, Boise; and Miss Edith Mason, faculty advisor of the Pepper Box.

In the column-writing contest, Salmon submitted 460 column inches the Salmon paper are Elizabeth printed in the Idaho Recorder and the Salmon Herald, Boise was second with 257 inches in the Evening Capital News under the heading of "Boise High School Notes. The editors of

Smith and Clarice Benjamin. The contest was sponsored by Nathan Scott, business manager and Miss Edith Mason, faculty advisor, of the Pepper Box. Edward F. Mason, head of the publicity department of the university directed the contest. The Idaho School Editor which has been published eight times during the year published its last issue for the year on May 1.

Dirt Can't Hide From The Hoover

Deeply embedded in the nap of your rugs, dirt hides! It can only be beaten out! You can prove this.* Thus, to keep your rugs immaculate you need a Hoover, for The Hoover BEATS... as it Sweeps, as it Cleans. And with remarkably efficient cleaning attachments you can do the rest of your household cleaning with ease and comfort, quickly, dustlessly. Just phone us and we will gladly deliver a Hoover complete for Only Six Dollars and Twenty-Five Cents Down!

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

*To prove rugs need beating

Turn over a corner of a rug. With the handle of an ordinary table knife, or something of equal weight, give the under or warp side 15 to 25 sharp taps and watch the dirt dance out from the nap depths onto a piece of paper; feel the destructive character of it. This is the dirt only beating will dislodge. Correctly cleaned by a Hoover, embedded dirt is thus vibrated to the surface by the rapid, gentle tapping of the Hoover brush, as powerful suction lifts the rug from the floor and draws all the dirt into the dust-tight bag.

STUDENTS VOTE 4 AMENDMENTS

A.S.U.I. Constitution Changed by Unanimous Ballot at Annual Election

Four amendments to the A. S. U. I. constitution were passed by student electors in the general election Thursday.

The name, The University Argonaut, for twenty-five years the official title of the student publication, was changed to The Argonaut by the overwhelming vote of 465 to 58. The amendment was proposed by Wallace C. Brown, editor of the paper, who argued that the word "university" in the masthead was not a specific designating term since it might apply to any university in the United States, that it took up space without adding materially to the beauty of the paper and that it was contrary to the custom of other college publications who use short and snappy mastheads.

The second amendment was proposed by Fred Taylor, business manager of The Argonaut. It provides, in effect, that any student serving on the staff for three semesters, shall, with the consent of the editor or manager, be granted a pin to be selected by The Argonaut board. This amendment drew a vote of 437 to 76.

Assistant business managers who heretofore have been paid 50 cents an hour for their services on the paper, will not be paid and instead a number of underclass assistant managers will be appointed under the terms of the third amendment, which was proposed by Fred Taylor also. This carried by a vote of 457 to 47.

The fourth amendment, providing for the appointment of an assistant debate manager, was proposed by Francis McKee, debate manager. Under the terms of the amendment, the assistant manager shall be elected by the students who have participated in one or more inter-collegiate debates for the year. This proposition was carried by a vote of 485 to 20.

ORDER CAPT. LLOYD TO OKLAHOMA POST

R.O.T.C. Officer Completes Three and One-half Years' Service Here

Claudius L. Lloyd of the university R. O. T. C. unit is relieved from his present assignment at the university at the termination of the school year. He will report for duty at Fort Sill, Oklahoma not later than June 13 according to a special order from the War department.

Captain Lloyd has applied for a 50 day leave of absence and will leave Saturday to visit his parents in Baltimore, Maryland. The Captain's departure marks his third and one-half year of service at the university.

He entered the service of the United States army in 1916. At the declaration of war his regiment was one of the first to go across. He was engaged in several major battles and was cited for bravery. Capt. B. B. Bain and Lieut. Charles F. Hart Jr., also of the university military unit together with Capt. Lloyd were in the same regiment overseas and were very close friends. During the year 1922 Captain Lloyd was transferred to the university.

"I certainly hate to leave the university," said Captain Lloyd. "In all my experience I have never had the opportunity to work with a finer group of men than I have had here. I would like to remain but the army is my profession and I must enter different fields of experience. At Fort Sill I will have an opportunity to take the course in firing and musketry which will be much to my advantage. I shall never forget the days spent here and will always remember my pleasant friendship formed at the university."

SLAMS AT FACULTY STIR KNOX COLLEGE

Idaho Drops Slugfest, 3-8; Defeat is Third in Succession

Knox college is engaged in a heated student war, the center of which is Miss Natalie Giddings of Galesburg, editor of the Knox college Student. When members of the Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity burned 800 copies of the fraternity's special "gridiron" number of the paper over protests of Marland Wolf, chapter president and editor of the special number, Miss Giddings ordered the issue reprinted and distributed. Slams against faculty members and students had been the cause of the destruction.

COLLEGE COMIC IS SUPPRESSED

Harvard Lampoon Called for "Obscene" Cover and Drawings

New York—N. S. N. S.—The Harvard Lampoon is the second college comic to be suppressed in Boston during the last month.

The Literary Digest parody was swiftly pounced upon by the police department of Boston and Cambridge on the morning that it appeared, Friday, April 18, and all copies on newsstands confiscated. Two violations of the law were charged: First, the improper display of the American flag on the front cover, second, for the display of an obscene picture on the outside.

The Lampoon parody closely resembled the Literary Digest, so closely that the police in their raid took copies of the original Digest from a newsstand. The picture on the cover was a parody of Washington Crossing the Delaware. One of the men in the boat is feeding sugar cakes to a polar bear; another is reading the Boston Transcript; while Washington stands in the center of the boat with his little hatchet in one hand. Floating on a cake of ice in the distance is a sign, WELCOME TO TRENTON, Board of Trade. The flag flying on the boat constitutes the alleged obscuration. The title of the picture was "Sit Down, You're Rocking the Boat."

The "obscene" picture is a painting by Manet which hangs in the Luxembourg. Lampoon officials were apprised of the suppression when two police captains entered the Lampoon building and forbade further sales and threatened confiscation of the issue. The members of the Lampoon board rushed out to the newsstands and gathered in as many copies as possible before the police could act. Most of the copies were saved.

Police Search
The police conducted a thorough search for the paper. One of the newsstand proprietors declared that the agent raided his place with the thoroughness of prohibition agents.

The raid started at 10:30 Friday morning. By 11:30 the Lampoon sold for $1.00, and hour later $2.50 and by the evening the price had gone up to $8.00.

Both faculty and students at Harvard are indignant over the action of the police. Floods of legal advice are pouring in to the Lampoon office. There is a possibility of a law suit.

Professor Felix Frankfurter, Byrne Professor of Administrative Law advised as follows:

"It is the old story of police interference where the police have no right to interfere. Pretending to be patriotic and vigilant, the authorities merely have shown themselves to be ridiculous and meddling. The play of the human spirit and freedom of thought even of foolish thought, cannot be left in the hands of those whose business it is to protect life and property and maintain order. The human mind is not meant for the safe-keeping of the police."

"I cannot believe that the Lampoon will not contest this action of the police authorities in the courts."

Professor Zechariah Chafee made the following statement, pointing out the futility of the police action.

"I think it is absurd to suppress caricatures of well known pictures. I do not see any reason for suppressing the magazine for the cover, if the flag appears in the original. The picture on the inside is no more indecent than the original painting, by Manet, which has doubtless been frequently reproduced without objection. It would be well worth while to get a counsel and fight the matter out."

IDDINGS IS SPEAKER IN SOUTHERN IDAHO

Dean E. J. Iddings, of the college of agriculture, arrived at home Wednesday evening from a twelve days, trip over the state during which he visited the various experiment stations, and was also the speaker at a number of meetings.

At Twin Falls the dean was the speaker at the Bean Growers association, one of the successful cooperative organizations in the west. The members of the association grew and marketed fifteen million pounds of beans last season, and a heavy crop is anticipated in the district this year, with a large acreage.

Tuesday evening the dean delivered an address before the Presbyterian Brotherhood at Caldwell.

Water conditions are apparently about normal in south Idaho this season and crop prospects are good.

CURTAIN PRESENTS PLAY

Yost, Boise; Marie Hogenson, Burley; and Cleo DeWitt, Twin Falls.

J. H. Cushman, director of dramatics, is the general director of the play and Walter Garrett, of Wallace, is business manager. Professor David Nyvall, of the music department, is collaborating with Mr. Cushman in composing a musical score for the play, and will play some of his compositions himself during the progress of the farce. There are a number of singing and dancing parts in the production as well as the straight acting.

Coming as it does on the eve of the graduating exercises a special effort is being made to bring back a large number of alumni to witness "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife." A state-wide publicity campaign for the play is being conducted by the Press club.
