He says his material is faster and better than ever. L. H. Gregory, sports writer for the Portland Oregonian, on his recent tour of northwest colleges, found a splendid condition on the Idaho gridiron. There is a reason. Mathews tells his boys: "They don't make them any better than they grow in Idaho."

From the viewpoint of the out-state football fan Mathews and Idaho are psychologically at the bottom of the heap on account of the supposed poor showing against College of Idaho last Friday. That is not a bad place to be with a green team. When nobody is afraid of you that is the time to look out. But the college of Idaho is nobody's set-up and let us predict right now that this club is going to cut a wide swath in junior conference circles again this year. As for the Vandals at Eugene, this week we are not worrying nor is Coach Mathews. Idaho teams will play better against strong teams than they will against weaker ones.

High school football in the state is warming up and the biggest year in the history of the game seems just ahead. The teams in north Idaho are steadily improving, Lewiston's showing against Nampa last season demonstrating that. In the first big game of the north, Lewiston trimmed the veteran Kellogg eleven, 9 to 6, and started toward another state championship. Kellogg looks like the strongest in the panhandle, but Sandpoint, St. Maries and Coeur d'Alene will be contenders.

In Southeastern Idaho they figure Firth strong, as well as Pocatello. Rich Fox's eleven will be sent against Salt Lake Saturday as a starter. With Boise and Nampa opening the season with green elevens in the southwestern section it looks as if Caldwell will come into its own with its well-balanced and experienced eleven. A state championship game in the south seems imminent this season.

EIGHTEEN PICKED FOR DEBATE TRYOUTS

Twelve men and six women were chosen for the varsity debate teams from 34 candidates at the tryouts held last night. Judges were Dean Davis, Prof. J. G. Gill and Prof. Wm. Michael.

 The men picked were C. E. Kinney, A. H. Reading, Frank Wyman, Warren Montgomery, Edmund Becker, Dwight Disney, J. L. Simmons, Edwin Rule, Ben F. Mahoney, Herbert Wunderlich, Arthur Peavey, and G. H. Frieze. The successful women were Maurie Miller, Marjorie Simpson, Jean Collette, Helen Milliken, Dorothy Darling, and Marjorie Alberts.

Good Luck, Vandals
 The University of Idaho Vandals have left the campus to invade the camp of the "Webfooters." The Argonaut extends to the Vandal team and to Coach Mathews the hearty "good wishes and best of luck" of 1800 loyal Idaho students. The game will be hard, but just the same the famous Oregon jinx that was routed last season for the first time in years is a thing of the past. As has been said before, Idaho will ardently support the Vandals no matter how the score board reads; they will stand behind the team through victory or defeat.

Idaho's Sixth Sense
 How's your sixth "sense of good taste" coming along? Everybody's is doing fine on the campus.

The University of Idaho is attaining a real place in the sun as a center of cultural activities within the state. Students are enthusiastically supporting many such "finer things" on the campus which, as a result, have grown to enormously encouraging proportions.

Idaho's sixth "sense of good taste" is hitting on all six, according to Prexy Upham who pointed out many evidences of it in his opening address to the faculty this fall.

Look at the remarkable development of dramatics at Idaho within the last few years. Time was when a couple of hackneyed plays a term, presented under pitiful handicaps, was the extent of dramatics at Idaho.

Notice the broadening scope of the Artists' Course this year. Do you think such a thing would be possible if students and faculty didn't turn out to pack the auditorium at each appearance of an imported artist last year?

Consider the Art Exhibit of original paintings by contemporary American artists. Would anyone have been encouraged to bring such a thing here again this fall if a similar exhibit had not drawn hundreds of interested students, faculty members and townspeople last year?

Besides these there are literally dozens of fine courses and activities participated in by student and instructor alike on the Idaho campus which indicate clearly that the University of Idaho is developing its sixth "sense of good taste." Much more remains to be done to this end. Won't every Idaho man and woman give a hand?

Everybody likes a winner. One of the many reasons why the state university has grown by leaps and bounds the last few years. Idaho athletic teams are never beaten, no matter what the score at the end of the contest. Such an athletic psychology makes winners of the boys, both in athletic contests and in life. Give me a pipe
 . . . and
P. A.!

WHEN Comp. Lit. and Physics 3-B are crowding for attention; when I've just received an over-cut notice from the Dean; when my allowance is a month off and the stub of my check-book confesses a balance of $9.32, give me a pipe and Prince Albert. I want to be happy!

Trouble's a bubble, they say. And I can prove it . . . with my jimmy-pipe and P. A. Just never was a friend like Prince Albert. Cool and sweet and soothing, P. A.'s true-blue smoke zooms up the stem, knocking troubles for a row of test-tubes.

Never a tongue-bite or throat-parch. Just cool contentment, no matter how hard you hit it up. Give me a grate fire to chase the chill of winter nights, an easy chair and my jimmy-pipe packed with P. A. Nearby, a tidy red tin for frequent refills. I know, Brother, I know!

PRINCE ALBERT
 —no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Look at the U. S. revenue stamp—there are TWO full ounces in every tin.

Tennis Players Ready For Fall Tournament

Final arrangements for the annual fall tennis tournament for men are rapidly being completed. Up to Thursday night approximately 20 students had announced their intentions of entering and at least 20 more are expected to sign up before the drawing starts Friday. On account of changeable weather, those in charge of the tournament are making all possible haste with their arrangements in order that the first matches may be played next Monday, October 12th.

The tournament will be staged on the courts immediately behind the Administration building. These courts are being repaired at the present time under the direction of the athletic manager, and will be ready for use by the time play begins Monday. No student will be allowed to play on them previous to the tournament. The courts in front of Ridenbaugh hall have been reserved as practice courts. "It's a great aid to scholastic efficiency"

ONE professor makes this remark, and countless others are saying the same thing. They know the value of a typewriter as a time-saver, as a means of compiling data, and as a help in the expression of thought. Then too, it frees the "prof" from that tedious task of deciphering longhand, and keeps him in perfect "reading humor." And perfect "reading humor" tends to mean better marks.

PUBLISH WORK OF IDAHO STUDENTS

Writers Receive National Recognition of Their Stories and Poems

Three short stories and a poem, written by Idaho students and published last year in Idaho's magazine, "The Blue Bucket," either have appeared or received honorable mention in books of best college short stories of anthologies of the year published by the Stratford company of Boston, according to letters received from the company.

"Foam Flowers," by Ruth Aspray, a senior and present editor of The Blue Bucket, and "The Wheels Grind On," by Ruth Hawkins, '25, and former editor of Idaho's magazine, both have been accepted and are to be published in the Stratford book, "Best College Short Stories."

"Shadows," by Blaine Stubblefield, and "To a Runner in the Winds," by W. C. Brown, both received honorable mention, the one in the "Best Short Stories," and the other in the "Anthology of College Verse" for this year.

This national recognition of Idaho student writers is indeed commendable and is a creditable reflection upon the University of Idaho and upon The Blue Bucket which calls forth such worthy literary material, in the opinion of many who are appreciative of such efforts of Idaho students.

ASSOCIATED MINERS ELECT PRESIDENT

Joseph Skidmore, senior in the school of Mines was elected president of the Associated Miners at a meeting held Wednesday evening to fill the vacancy left by "Dad" Charles Hausen who did not return to school. Noman White was elected vice-president to relieve Skidmore of his former office.

The last business meeting of the group called last spring was for election of officers. The following men were elected at that time: "Dad" Charles Hausen, president; Joseph Skidmore, vice-president; Thomas Helt, secretary; and Otto Huefner, treasurer.

The organization has formulated plans to promote the welfare of the University, and to further the prosperity of the School of Mines. One of the means of doing this is the arranging of talks to be given by prominent mining men of the state.

STUDENTS GIVE GRIDDERS SENDOFF FOR OREGON MIX

Students of the University turned out en masse Thursday evening to give the Vandals a loud and enthusiastic send off on their departure to Eugene to play the University of Oregon for their initial football game on foreign territory.

Under the leadership of "Brick" Elrod, yell king, and Leroy Freeman, yell duke, Idaho songs were sung and yells given. The Pep Band livened the send off up considerably by playing a few snappy selections and all the students joined in on "On Old Idaho" as the train pulled out of the yards.

High Price of Dogs Due to Pedigrees

"More dogs per dog," the slogan of food dispensers, at the university of Oregon, has recently resulted in a material drop in the high price of hamburgers. Reports are that students at the university of Oregon receive two hamburgers for fifteen cents, while students on the Idaho campus pay fifteen cents for one hamburger. According to investigations, however, the price of hamburgers in Moscow is not due to any lack in the supply of canines, but rather to the fact that the local dispensers desire to furnish Idaho students with the finest pedigreed hamburgers.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M.I.T.

"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort. Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.
