Sportsmanship

The entire student body of the University is commended upon the fine brand of sportsmanship that was displayed at the Idaho-W. S. C. game. Every Idaho man and woman was a true and an ardent Vandal booster, supporting the team at all times with undeniable fervor. The stunt was a credit to the student body and winning the cup demonstrated Idaho superiority in more fields than one. Our Idaho spirit and our sportsmanship are things that we may regard with pride. If Idaho had lost the game there would have been no wails, no protests, no alibis. Can that be said of all the other colleges and universities in the northwest?

Cougar Meat

A horde of Vandals, destruction bent, swooped down upon the camp of the Cougars and after a glorious and nerve-racking battle, emerged victorious and undaunted—such is the story of the annual Idaho-W. S. C. football classic. The best team won; the team that was coached to play for the breaks; the Vandals who are versed in the art of intelligent football and who fight just as hard and persistently whether ahead of the game or behind. Congratulations are due to Coach Robert Lee Mathews who has transformed a group of inexperienced players into a squad of hard-hitting and awe-inspiring veterans. Once more we say: the Vandals have started the triumphal march toward the Pacific coast championship and woe be unto those who offer them resistance.

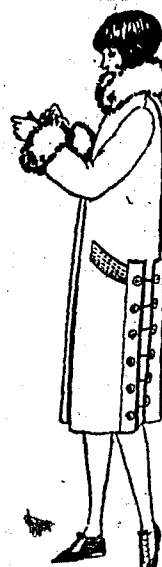

Reggie Comes to Scoff, Remains to Praise

"This fine-art stuff is fine enough for these long-faced, temperamental guys, but for me. . . Gosh, no!" And your Reggie, the Kollegiate Kampus boy, threw up his hands in holy horror at the mere mention of Art Exhibits or Artists' Courses. . . And yet, do you know that this same sweet, sophisticated boy was curiously impelled to stop at the Pi Sigma Rho house yesterday where members of the Sketch Club, student architects' society, were unpacking the paintings to compose the annual Art Exhibit opening at the Pi Sig house tomorrow afternoon. Reggie watched, at first with condescending attention and then with genuine interest, as the 40 original oil paintings were carefully taken from their huge boxes and stood along the walls. They were pretty things, these paintings, with their great variety of scenes and portraits. Reggie didn't know a thing about art or its appreciation (he would have scoffed had you accused him of it), yet he liked to look at these canvasses . . . and he did, for a long time. How remarkable that men could daub oil paints on a piece of white tending and achieve such an effect! And how queer that some of the paintings should appear so messy at close range and yet assume such beautiful proportions when viewed from a distance. Reggie carefully studied several of the paintings from different positions for a long time, and then he walked slowly home, thinking . . . That night he rang up the girl and said, excitedly: "Gee whizz! Sheba, let's go to the Art Exhibit tomorrow afternoon. . . the paintings are wonderful!"

CREIGHTON'S

VANDALS SCORE THIRD VICTORY OVER W. S. C.

ter the beginning of the second quarter. The Cougars were held in mid-field and punted 55 yards. Young recovering for W. S. C. on the Idaho 21 yard mark. Meeker dropped back and booted the ball over for 3 points. Late in the same quarter the Cougars took the ball on downs on the Idaho 40-yard line. Kramer ripped off 18 yards on a reverse play and Meeker kicked another goal from this position.

Just before the end of the half Reget dropped kicked from the 45 yard line and the ball missed clearing the cross-bar by inches. The second half was barely started when Nelson made his sensational pick-up of a Cougar fumble and a dash for a touchdown. Bill Kramer, Cougar half, missed a bad pass from center and the ball went rolling back toward the sidelines. Nelson dived into the heap of pursuing players, wiggled free and was off for the Cougar goal with the pigskin under his arm. Reget kicked goal and the Vandals had the lead.

Start Rally
 Just before the finish the Cougars started a desperate rally for a touchdown. Interspersing line bucks with passes they took the ball to the Idaho 40 yard line. Here Cameron, Idaho back, intercepted a pass, but dropped it and Washington recovered on Idaho's 28 yard line.

Two line plays put the ball in the center of the gridiron, just right for a place kick. Only a few seconds remained and both teams knew it was going to be the winning or losing play for Washington State. Little "Butch" Meeker again called for the ball and got off his kick, but three Idaho men were on top of the ball and it bounded back harmlessly to the ground. Idaho's charging line had saved the game and Washington State's last chance was gone. The game ended after Idaho had run one play.

Society

"To the victor belongs the spoils," they tell us, but to the victor also belongs the exhilaration of victory. It is no wonder that the Idaho campus has, the past week end, been a scene of rejoicing. The athletic ball, the pep rally, and all the attendant functions that tradition has set before the W. S. C. game were marked by an unusual spirit of enthusiasm. The many visitors from various parts of the state had occasion to remark that such functions tended to make one wish that "those dear old college days" could last forever.

The Athletic ball given Saturday evening, October 17, served as a fitting climax to a game that held moments of breathless suspense till the final gun. The gymnasium was transformed by means of an artificial ceiling, composed of red and white streamers draped from an enormous block I. Goal posts wrapped with the colors of both teams gave the appropriate motif, and flood lights of various shades were used effectively. The receiving line was headed by Coach and Mrs. Mathews, followed by Ray Stephens, president of the I club. Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. D. MacMillan, Mr. and Mrs. R. Neldig, and Dean Premar French. Undoubtedly the dance, which is traditionally given by the I club was the best and most enjoyable function that has been given in years.

Miss Bernice Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Day of this city, whose marriage to James Fuller Maloney of Juneau, Alaska, will take place in the near future, has been the motif of a great many delightful functions the past week. Miss Jo Brown of Wallace entertained at a dinner dance last week, and Mrs. Richard Noftger, also of Wallace entertained. The Misses Florence, Myra and Iris Armbruster of Moscow were hostesses Monday at dinner. Misses Dorothy and Helen Parsons entertained at luncheon on Monday also. Miss Mary Williamson was hostess at an attractive dinner, Mrs. B. P. Griffith, a luncheon Tuesday. Miss Mae Mathieu entertained with a kitchen shower, and on Wednesday the Hi Yu club will have a luncheon in honor of the bride at the home of Mrs. Frank David. Thursday evening Mrs. Chas. Butterfield will entertain at dinner. Mrs. Lieutenant Hart, at luncheon. Mrs. Day will give a supper Sunday night in honor of the Seattle guests, and Monday next. Miss French will give a luncheon dance. Mrs. Curtis Richards of Lewiston will entertain at a luncheon Tuesday, and Tuesday evening the wedding party will be the guests of Mrs. Day.

Dinner guests at Pi Sigma Rho house were as follows Sunday, Dean and Mrs. Davis, Tuesday, Mrs. Frost of Spokane, and Mrs. Galt of Portland.

Delta Gamma dinner guests Wednesday were: Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield, Mr. and Mrs. Bangs, and Mrs. Griffith.

Saturday, Miss Ruth Brody, Bonners Ferry.

Phi Delta Theta dinner guests Thursday were: Otto Leushal, Potlatch, W. V. Leonard, George McDonald. Friday, Monk West, C. Y. Creelman. Sunday, Mrs. F. S. Stone and Miss Vivian Stone.

Dinner guests at the Gamma Phi Beta house were: Miss Pauline Ware, Tom Madden, Floyd Marchesi, and Charles Simmons.

Week end guests at the Pi Sigma Rho house were: Mrs. Reed, Grangeville, and Mrs. Decker, Kooskia.

Week end guests of Kappa Sigma were Horton W. McCallie, Ralph Jacobs, Edgerton Hogle, Douglas Gray, Homer Miller, Patrick Shine, Joseph Cogan, Ralph Schetzle, Aster Seeborg.

VANDALS PREPARE TO MEET GONZAGA

Practice Resumed Following Victory Over W. S. C., Tough Game Expected

With Washington State college safely trimmed for another season, the Vandals are now looking towards Gonzaga university at Spokane, who they play Saturday.

Practice was resumed last evening with the second and third string varyingly battling the freshman squad. Coach Mathews allowed the men who played against W. S. C. another night of rest.

Clint Duff, halfback, and "Sody" Owings, fullback the only men injured in the W. S. C. battle are out of suits but will be in shape for the Gonzaga game. Both received hip bruises.

The Vandals are expecting anything but an easy game with the Spokane school. Gonzaga got off to a slow start, but their veteran eleven is slowly rounding into form.

"We will have a tough battle to beat Gonzaga," is the only comment of Coach R. L. Mathews.

The Bulldog game will mark the mid-way point in the hardest part of Idaho's schedule. Five games in as many weeks is the luck of the Vandal crew. First came Oregon and Washington State, and now Gonzaga, U. S. C. and Montana before Idaho gets a breathing spell.

BOHMAN OFFERS $10,000 FOR SON

Former Idaho Student Reported Lost Off Alaska Coast; Hope Abandoned

Reward of $10,000 for the finding of Ernest Bohman, former Idaho student who was reported lost off the coast of Alaska, has been offered by Ole Bohman, of Troy, his father, according to a message received today. The youth volunteered to start overland for Nome after the ship upon which he was sailing was blown on the beach. He was never seen again and radio messages from Nome indicated that all efforts to locate the missing boy had been futile and expressed the fear that he had been drowned and that his body had been swept to sea.

A radio dispatch stated: "After a nine-day search we find that Bohman was drowned while crossing Tishu river. The body was probably swept out to sea. We will discontinue search pending further advices. The Rev. Mr. Hoyer on way to Seattle."

"Ernest Bohman was a member of the crew of the Ariel, a mission boat under command of Rev. Mr. Hoyer which had distributed a load of clothing and supplies to natives on the northern Siberian coast. It was wrecked September 26 on the coast of Alaska. The crew of six men clung to wreckage and were swept ashore, and as they were suffering from cold and hunger, Bohman started out alone for Nome, to get help.

The following day, Glandsberg, another member of the party, followed reaching Nome in three days. No trace of Bohman could be found.

ORGANIZE LAW STUDENTS MONDAY

Arthur Peavy, Twin Falls, President; Hear Talks by Faculty Members

Organization of pre-legal students of the university was perfected at a meeting of all students enrolled in preparatory law work held Wednesday night in the law library. The meeting was called to order by Dean Robert McNair Davis of the College of Law and was well attended.

The group was addressed by members of the law faculty concerning the nature of the work for which men are now preparing and plans for the work of the organization were discussed. The seriousness of the study of the law and the necessity of a liberal education in connection therewith was brought out by the several speakers. The workings of the honor system in the law school and the nature of the Bench and Bar society were explained by a representative of that organization.

An election of officers to serve during the semester was then conducted and the following were elected: Arthur Peavy, Twin Falls, president; Herbert Wanderlick, Spokane, vice-president; and Fisher Ellsworth, San Leandro, Cal., secretary.

President Peavy has called a meeting for the evening of November 18 in room 206 of the Administration building at which time it is hoped that all students now enrolled in pre-legal work or anticipating the study of law will be present.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.
"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.
"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Work out knowledge of this labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M.I.T.
"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insupportable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.
"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort. Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.
