With the opening of the third week of varsity practice the Idaho basketball squad has reached a pre-season size of 20 players and plans are being completed for the annual Christmas holiday barnstorming tour of eastern Washington and northern Idaho. Four 1925 lettermen are out in suit and two more are expected back by the end of the week.

Loss of Ralph Erickson, Pocatello, who received a broken leg in the Idaho-Creighton university football game last week, leaves center position on the Vandal hoop squad vacant with no first class performer to fill it. Erickson, playing a stellar game at center throughout the season, was one of the mainstays on the Idaho team last year. He played end on the Vandal football team this fall and had come through uninjured until the Creighton game. Erickson is a three-letter Idaho athlete, winning his third "T" on the Vandal baseball team as a pitcher of big league caliber.

Possible candidates for Erickson's place at center include Neal Nelson, Burley, who has played two years at guard; Walter Remer, Lewiston, a letter man of two years ago, who may be back in time to join the squad this month; and Herbert Canine, Moscow, and David Kyle, Kooskia, both of whom won numerals on the freshman team last year. Each of these first year men is tall and rangy and built for the position, but indications now are that Canine will play a better game at guard while Kyle must develop more speed and secure more experience before he will be able to step into Erickson's shoes.

Twelve games have been scheduled by Coach David MacMillan for the

INVITATIONS OUT FOR SENIOR BALL

Annual Formal Will Be Held at Blue Bucket Inn Next Friday Night

The annual senior formal dance will be held in the Blue Bucket Inn next Friday night, it has been announced by Ted Turner, Jr. The grand march has been scheduled to start at 8:30 o'clock, sharp. "Brick" Eldrod's players will furnish the music.

Patrons and patronesses, who will be in the receiving line, will be Permeal French, dean of women; Dean Ivan C. and Mrs. Crawford and Col. and Mrs. E. R. Chrisman and Martel Archibald, president of the class.

Invitations have been mailed each member of the class, and unless one is presented by each couple, it will not be admitted to the hall. A senior man may invite a lower class girl, and a senior girl may invite a man not in the senior class, but one member of the couple must belong to the class.

Dress will be formal for both men and women.

DISCUSSION GROUP PLANS BIG BANQUET

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. to Dine December 8 at Christian Church

Members of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. and those who have taken part in the discussion groups are to dine at a banquet Tuesday evening, December 8, at the Christian church.

Stunts, music and toasts will feature the program for the evening. The girls' orchestra, in charge of Elizabeth Curtis, will provide the music for the occasion, while a stunt under the leadership of Alice Stamm will be put on by the girls. Besides this there will be a special musical selection and an address by a notable speaker.

The banquet marks the close of the Bible discussion groups which have been held under the auspices of the two organizations for the past six weeks.

THESPIANS LABOR ON LATEST DRAMA

"Captain Applejack" is New Production; Will be Given After Christmas

'Tis a busy world. Anyone that doubts this, should take a few minutes off and wander over to the U-Hut, any afternoon. There the observer would find Prof. John Cushman, dexterously passing his knowledge of the art of Drama, on to a dozen or so of his protégés. In other words, a play is in the making, and will be completed, polished and ready for the public shortly after the holidays.

Walter Hackett's "Captain Applejack" has been chosen by Prof. Cushman. Those who have seen "Strangers of the Night," taken from this play and released a few years ago, will agree that this is a production par-excellence in every respect. The play is full of surprises throughout its three acts. The plot is cleverly developed, in an unusually striking manner. Most attention is being given to settings which are an important part of the play. The theme fairly teems with romance, adventure and mystery. Suave villains, pretty heroines play hide-and-go-seek with the brave hero. Not a weary moment is to be found.

The cast is composed of the best dramatic talent on the campus and most of them need no introduction: Bert Stone, Vernon Johnson, Harold Salsbury, Hosea Evans, Beardsley Merrill, Heaster Yost, Marie Johnson, Vivian Stone and Mary Kelly.

PEP BAND FEATURES ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Musical Numbers Are Well Received; Idaho Songs Draw Applause

The Idaho Pep Band entertained Wednesday morning in assembly with the program so successfully used on its recent tour of South Idaho. David Nyvall, Jr., instructor in the department of music, directed the band.

"National Emblems" by Bagley, the first number, was played with a delicate skill and attention to detail.

Two Idaho songs, the "Alma Mater" and "Come Fellows," cleverly arranged by Mr. Nyvall were commendable. The "Alma Mater" with the varied treatment of low notes, was especially good.

A trio by the three cornetists, Woods, Woolworth, and Nunamaker was a feature of the waltz "Some-time" and the crowning number of the entire program. According to Mr. Nyvall this trio was most enthusiastically received throughout the tour.

The last number was Sousa's "Stars and Stripes," powerfully played. The band was repeatedly encored.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI INITIATES SEVEN

Honorary Business Fraternity Dines at Blue Bucket Tuesday

Alpha Kappa Psi, national honorary business fraternity, initiated seven members at a banquet at the Blue Bucket Inn Tuesday night.

The following men went through the ritual: Frank Williamson, Leslie Morgan, Howard Pickett, Leroy Long, Beardsley Merrill, Harold Tinker, Paul Atwood.

PRESS CLUB WILL PETITION CHARTER

Local Newspaper Men Will Seek Recognition of Sigma Delta Chi

The Press Club, an organization of professionally inclined newspapermen on the campus has adopted the name Delta Sigma, preparatory to petitioning Sigma Delta Chi, national newspaper professional journalistic fraternity for a charter. The Press Club was organized in 1923 by a small group of newspapermen and has functioned more or less actively since that time.

The group was reorganized in 1924 with eleven charter members, and at this time, wheels were set in motion for petitioning the national organization, although no actual steps were taken in that direction.

Requirements Rigid

Sigma Delta Chi is one of the strongest professional journalistic fraternities in the country and exacts rigid requirements from petitioners for a charter. The most outstanding of these is that all members of the petitioning group must sign a statement to the effect that they intend to follow the newspaper game as a profession. Another requirement is based on the type of journalistic department conducted by the university. The first moves toward getting a chapter of the national organization on the campus will be directed toward enlarging the size of the department of journalism at the University of Idaho. This will be a stupendous undertaking because of the limited number of students who have inclinations toward the professional newspaper field.

Works for University

The Press club has functioned for the university since its reorganization last year. One of its first pieces of work was the appointment of a service committee, whose duty was to lend itself to the support of worthy university projects needing publicity. This work has been carried out and as a result a great deal of publicity has been printed by papers in various parts of the state. Its latest successful undertaking was in connection with Homecoming day. The club has also accepted the responsibility of doing a portion of the publicity work for the debate season, with special emphasis on the Idaho-California debate at Boise and the Idaho-Gonzaga (Continued on page three)

IDAHOANS ADVISE "YES-NO" QUIZZES

Dr. C. C. Crawford and D. A. Reynaldo Compare Old and New Types

"Some Experimental Comparisons of True-False Tests and Traditional Examinations" is the title of an article by Dr. C. C. Crawford, of the school of education, and D. A. Reynaldo, instructor of Spanish, which appeared in the November issue of the School Review, publication of the University of Chicago. This experimental work in the false and true tests is only in its infancy and is opening up a field of study that is practically untouched, according to the authors.

The greatest difficulty with the new form of test, as brought out in the article, is getting it into use. Instructors lack faith in it and consequently they rely upon the long, traditional examination rather than take a chance on the new type of test.

Would Prove Value

The Idaho educators have undertaken to prove the value of the tests and to show how they are superior to the old traditional, examinations in many instances. By means of data and charts which they have gathered together they show how the test can be put to practical use in all classes. According to the article it is possible to compare the two types of test by two methods—one by comparison with the intelligence test scores; the other is by the experimental method.

Find Comparison

An interesting way to try the test, in comparison with others, is in language; the class is divided into two groups, one composed of the A and B students and the other the C, D, E, and F students. By the results the authors were able to compare the (Continued on page two)

SIX ARE QUALIFIED FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Half Dozen Candidates Are Passed by Committee on Rhodes Award

Six candidates for the 1926 Idaho Rhodes scholarship award have qualified, it was announced today by Dean Harrison C. Dale of the University school of business administration, chairman of the Rhodes Scholarship committee on selection.

The winning candidate will be selected from this group on December 12 when the committee meets at the university.

Three of the candidates are now students in the university and one other is a 1925 graduate. The four, who were selected by the academic council of the university from a list of 13 applicants follows: Francis Eldridge, junior, Moscow; Edmund Becher, junior, Twin Falls; Wallace C. Brown, senior, Lewiston; Harold Wyman, graduate, Colfax, Wash.

John E. Raff of Pocatello and Wilbur R. Newman of Culesac are the other Idaho boys honored. Raff is a senior pre-medical student at Stanford university. He received his first year of training at the Idaho Technical Institute. Newman, who is now a senior in Whitman college, took two years of college work at the University of Idaho.

A Rhodes scholarship is awarded to each state two years out of three. It entitles the student selected to a three years residence at Oxford university, England, and carries with it an annual allowance of approximately $1750. The Rhodes scholarships were created by the late Cecil John Rhodes, British diamond mine owner in South Africa and former prime minister of Cape Colony. They are open to students of the British dominions and of the United States.

Dean Dale was recently appointed committee chairman by the American office of the Rhodes foundation to serve in the absence of President Alfred H. Upham. The other members are McKean F. Morrow, Boise attorney, Idaho and Worcester, '07, secretary; George H. Curtis, superintendent of the Arco public schools, Idaho and Worcester, '08; J. B. Harrison, professor of English at the University of Washington, Washington and Lincoln, '10; and F. E. Holman, Seattle attorney, Utah and Exeter, '08.

IDAHOANS SPEAK AT MINE MEETING

Gem State Day Observed at Annual Convention of Northwest Association

The mining industry of Idaho was represented Wednesday at the Northwestern Mining convention which is being held in Spokane. "Idaho Day" was observed on that day. It was devoted to a discussion of Idaho's mineral resources and the mining industry. Dean F. A. Thomson acted as chairman of the day.

Arthur M. Piper, member of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology, who spent the last field season in a geological study of the Silver City area discussed the district as one which has a probable future as well as a highly productive past.

Kirkham Speaks

Prof. Virgil R. D. Kirkham of the school of mines faculty, also a member of the Bureau of Mines staff, discussed the influence of glaciation on mining. The effect the action of glaciers have had on placer deposits, oil structures, and non-metallic deposits was pointed out by Professor Kirkham. This represents a new field of study, he said.

Others who were on the program for "Idaho Day" were A. T. Dunn, editor of the Wallace Miner, Robert N. Bell of Boise, former state mine inspector, and Ex-Governor Hawley of Boise, a pioneer in mining circles.

Former Inspector Here

Robert N. Bell, former state mine inspector, was in consultation with members of the school of mines staff this week. Mr. Bell was instrumental in attracting the attention of the Ford Motor company to Idaho mining, which resulted in their acquiring mining properties in Idaho.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETS FOR GLEEFUL MIXER

Third Year Group Entertained At a No-Date Get-Together

"Class Spirit" was the subject of an informal talk by Mr. Kirkham, faculty advisor of the junior class, at the Junior Mixer held Wednesday evening at the Blue Bucket Inn. Dean French also spoke on Junior Week, and Clair Reem discussed the plans for this year's Junior week, which is to be held April 5.

A clever program followed the talks. Ruth White and Marie Gillson gave a Spanish dance, and two solos were sung by Mary Murphy. Readings were given by Mary Kelly and Dorothy Howerton. Refreshments of salad, sandwiches and coffee were served cafeteria style. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing. Circle dances were popular, and every dance was a "tag." According to present plans another mixer will be given in the spring.

FRESHMAN GRANTED NUMERAL SWEATERS

Frosh Football Squad of 21 Members Given Awards; Show Varsity Material

Twenty-one freshman have won numerals by playing the required time on the 1925 yearling football squad, according to Coach David MacMillan. While there are no outstanding performers on the frosh squad this year the team as a whole displayed a good brand of first year football.

Probably the most important contribution the freshman squad will make to the Idaho varsity next year will be in the person of Cecil Brown, Boise, a left-footed punter who has played a consistent game for the freshmen this fall. Other particularly promising frosh candidates for next year's varsity are Titus Cornell, Pocatello; Rodney Ross and Donald Axtell, Spokane; John Armitage, Nampa; and Ted Nelson, Moscow.

KNIGHTS PROMOTE NINETEEN PLEDGES

"Squardom" Conferred on Pares at Meeting of Interscholastic Knights

Nineteen Pages of the Interscholastic Knights entered the ranks as Squires last Wednesday evening at the regular meeting held at the U. Hut. Squire is the name that they carry until they are initiated as a Knight.

The Squires are Elmer Bergmund, Edward Bozarth, Lambert Cannon, Clair Cluster, Ted Duncan, Harold Dunn, Joe Garber, Phillip Leach, Thomas McMonigle, Henry Miller, Thelburne Moore, Albert Neighbor, Zolan Painter, Keith Parnell, Phil Quilliam, C. Sample, Vernon Sogard, Wilfred Stanley, and Paul Kitto.

FORESTERS TO MAKE THE ANNUAL SMOKER

Group Will Be Entertained By Fast Bouts and Musical Program

The annual "smoke" of the Associated Foresters will be held Saturday evening at the Gym, according to Eugene Phelps, committee chairman in charge.

The program, yet indefinite, includes some amateur boxing by some fast men of the Freshman and Sophomore classes, a few songs by a trio composed of "Spike" Gregory, Guy Williams, and Fred Allen.

"Polly" Lehrbas and his tumblers will stage an act, followed by a burlesque given by "Devil Dog" Hatch and "Doc" Hubert.

A skit by Allen Hatch will also be included in the program. The refreshments will include hot dogs and smokes.

A sensational Idaho football season has passed—moleskins have been packed away and 30 odd Vandal football warriors have broken training or are turning out for winter sports.

The Vandals have left a checkerboard record behind them in games won and lost and a solid monument to the famous "Idaho fight." With 8 new men in every lineup the Vandals were slated to finish hopelessly trodden in the cellar position but ended the season in a tie with Washington State college for fifth position. Idaho started the season with a rush, whipping the College of Idaho, Oregon and Washington States and leading the conference for the first month of play. A noted Pacific coast sport writer paid them the tribute:

"Idaho with eight new men in the regular lineup leads the coast procession to date, an exceptional feat of coaching and playing for a young and inexperienced team."

Meet First Setback

The Vandals met their first setback at Gonzaga—a blow hard on a green team and despite stubborn fighting spirit lost successively to Southern California, Montana, O. A. C. and Creighton. On the scoreboards this is an unimpressive record. At Idaho these defeats have a hidden tale of a relentless fighting spirit and a brilliant prospect for the future. A Portland paper said:

"While Southern California was overwhelmingly superior to Idaho at Moscow Friday, the score would have been much lower but for the fact that the Idaho team wouldn't admit it was licked.

"Instead of playing safe and making California take the kickoff and work all the way uptield to score after the first few touchdowns had demonstrated the Trojan strength, Idaho insisted on receiving. Idaho received every kickoff in a cocky determination, that even the beating she was getting (Continued on page three)

UNIVERSITY TO HAVE POSTAL SUBSTATION

New Branch Will be Placed in Science Hall or Ad Building

Authority to establish a postoffice substation at the University has been granted by the post office department, according to word just received by Homer E. Estes, Moscow postmaster, from Congressman Burton L. French.

The branch, it is expected, will be located either in the new Science hall or in the administration building. Details are to be worked out immediately and it is probable that the office will be opened within the next two months.

The station will be classified. A contract station would have been established by the government several years ago but since this would have thrown the entire expense upon the university, the plan was refused. As a classified station, clerks and equipment will be furnished by the government.

Authorization of the culmination of efforts by Estes and university has been extended to

Basketball

The Vandal basketball squad has begun its preparatory work for the 1925-26 season and never in the history of the University of Idaho has the prospect been better or the outlook rosier. The Idaho team is practically the same as that of last year and is composed of men, nearly all of them sophomores and juniors, who have a brilliant athletic future before them—they are men who will make basketball history for Idaho. Idaho had a strong team and made a creditable showing last year even though most of the men were without experience. Idaho has something besides a good turnout of varsity material to brighten basketball prospects—she has Coach David MacMillan, the best mentor on the Pacific coast.

Idaho will have a good team this season, one that every loyal student will claim and support with pride. Let's all get behind the Vandals and help them to start the basketball year with a bang. Let's talk basketball, live basketball, until we get back the old Idaho spirit and fight.

Examinations

The twelve weeks examinations are upon us and the sounds of fearful wailings are heard from all parts of the campus. The examination period to most students, seem to descend upon us and to envelope us as imperceptible and as inevitable as death, and to many it will mean the same thing. Despite the disfavor for the examinations, in the mind of the undergraduate, their worth can be plainly seen. Examinations act as a measuring stick for both the student and the faculty member. The student as well as the professor should know from time to time, by some definite means, just what his rating in the class is and how he is progressing with the course.

The grades given for this twelve weeks period will have an important part in determining the semester's work and that consideration leads one to see the value of having one's work in good shape and in passing successfully through the period of examinations.

World News

Choice Bits Condensed for Argonaut Readers

Sleep Is Intoxication.

That sleep is the result of intoxication is the theory advanced by scientists, after extensive experiments on the subject. By cultivating your habits they claim that you may be able to greatly lessen the time so spent.

The scientists say that the intoxication is caused by the storing up of the poisons of the human system during the time you are awake and that the sleep cures this just as sleep detoxifies the drunken man.

Sleep has not only length but depth—thus you might be able, through force of habit, to obtain one hundred units of sleep in one half the time required by others.

If these experiments prove out the greatest problem of the student is solved—and the midnight oil can go on burning.

Texas to Have Battle

Miriam A. Ferguson, governor of the Lone Star state, refused to call a special session of the state legislature as was demanded in a petition signed by fifty legislators.

If they assemble it will be without the consent of the governor, and she is a fighter—so she says. The political opponents of Miriam and Jim are seeking to pull the woman governor off from her throne.

Meanwhile, Jim insists in referring to "we" when speaking of the governorship, but he would have the people believe that he is merely sticking up for his wife. The question is: Is he supposed to do this?

The answer will be determined by the legislature when it meets.

Dawes Support in Senate Fight

Dawes' attack against filibusterers in the senate received a push when two senators, Doneen and McKinley, voted as favoring his plan at a recent meeting in Chicago.

The vice-president has warned all the senators who did not support him would not be elected. He does not intend to waste time arguing with the senate but he intends to go direct to the constituents.

"In four years the senate has given the vice-president 12 1/2 minutes, while they have spent hours talking about a cure for rheumatism. They passed 100 bills in 100 minutes—not time enough to read their titles," the vice is quoted as having said.

Castle for Ex-Kaiser

A beautiful castle awaits William Hohenzollern in Frankfurt should he decide to return, according to a bill to be introduced in the diet. Other clauses in the bill, which the Hohenzollerns have agreed to accept, provides for a cash payment of $7,150,000 and the restoration of three palaces and property of the former ruler.

The bill was prepared by the finance ministry.

Leviathan, huge United States liner, broke its former record in crossing the Atlantic in 5 days, 6 hours and 26 minutes at an average speed of 24.28 knots or 27.92 miles an hour. Its record for the voyage was 5 days, 7 hours, and 20 minutes.

Tiger of France Wants to Die

Suffering from a cold, Georges Clemenceau is again sick in bed after recovering from a severe attack of grip scarcely a week ago. He caught cold while riding in his limousine with his old chauffeur.

It makes no difference to him whether or not he dies from a cold or something else. He said, "I am getting too old and would like to see the end come any day."

Borah Rides World Court

William E. Borah, senator from Idaho, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, has accused the president of the Princeton university and his colleagues of trying to lead the United States into a league of nations, by means of the world court trail.

Senator Borah is in favor of the world court as soon as it is disjoined from the league and he believes that the senate's work in the next session will be breaking the tie between the league of nations and world court.

Rabbit Shoots Hunter

Rabbits are becoming excellent shots and the day is rapidly approaching when man will have to flee from their deadly aim according to a recent incident.

A Frenchman captured a rabbit in a snare and in the act of taking hold of it laid down his shot gun. The hare escaped his grasp and bounded upon the shot gun trigger. The gun exploded and the full charge struck the hunter in the back, so injuring him that he was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Florida Storm Great

Four dead and eighteen more or less seriously injured was the toll taken by a ravaging storm at Tampa, Florida. The property loss runs into millions of dollars and communication is cut off between the coast cities.

At Miami the streets were under water for days and all the city traffic was cut off for hours as the result of the greatest rainfall in the history of Florida. The precipitation was between 11 and 12 inches, besting the former record of 9.76 by two inches.

WILL ENTERTAIN TWO RIVAL TEAMS

Vandal and Cougar Squads to Be Guests of Moscow Lodge

The football teams of the University of Idaho and the Washington State college will be the guests of the Elks at an entertainment to be given soon.

At a recent meeting of Moscow lodge No. 249, which comprises members from Pullman, Colfax, Moscow, and this portion of the country, it was decided to entertain the two teams. This sets a precedent over the entertainment which has been given each year by the Elks for the Vandals.

"A committee is to meet soon," said George E. Horton, "and plans will then be made for the entertainment."

The date probably will be set some time after the holidays, and after the Cougars have returned from their Christmas game with the University of Hawaii at Honolulu.

Two Grads Honored

Two Idaho graduates of the class of '23, William Parks and Paul Ellis, have been pledged to Nu Sigma Nu, national honorary medical fraternity, at the University of Oregon Medical school, according to word received here today. Ray Allumbaugh of the class of '25 and Charles Preuss, '24 are members of Nu Sigma Nu and are sophomores at the Portland school.

Oregon Agricultural College boasts of a 15-year-old freshman woman who is not only carrying her studies at a high average, but is earning part of her college expenses on the outside.

value of the false and true test in comparison with other forms of examination.

Another example given is that of dividing a psychology class into two groups—note taking and non-note taking. Both the true—false and the old traditional tests are given, reversing the order each day, and in this way one is able to determine the experimental coefficient or value of both tests.

The significant thought brought out in the article is that the true-false tests are being used more and more every day, and that they are considered better for testing than the old type of examinations along most lines.

The Thanksgiving spirit remains in spite of the twelve weeks exams descending upon us. The Juniors declared their independence by holding a mid-week mixer and many groups are planning to make the week-end lively with their parties. Indeed, the social calendar promises plenty to keep all busy until the Christmas holidays.

The Juniors staged a merry "get-together" at the Blue Bucket Inn, Wednesday night. A program was presented in which Ruth White and Marie Gillson danced a Spanish number, Mary Kelly and Dorothy Howerton gave clever readings, and Mary Murphy sang. Refreshments were served after which the crowd enjoyed dancing.

Pi Beta Gamma held initiation for its pledges at the home of Dean H. C. Dale, Tuesday. After the services the new initiates entertained with a clever stunt which was followed by refreshments. Those present were: Dean and Mrs. H. C. Fashion Hints Fashion's favorite in dainty accessories is the hair ribbon. No co-ed's coiffure is complete without a narrow ribbon bound around her head and tied in a jaunty bow on top. Ribbons are popular for both sport and evening wear, and are suitable for bobbed and unbobbed hair. If the ribbon is wrapped securely over the ears it effectively prevents the earache so frequently caused from listening to class lectures. It also adds a youthful charm to every costume, and often detracts years from the appearance of the wearer. The fashionable co-ed will choose her hair ribbon to match the days of the week, wearing indigo blue for Blue Monday or salmon pink for Friday.

GRID MEN DISCARD MOLESKINS; SEASON CLOSED

couldn't quell, to break through at some point and score.

At Boise the Vandals outplayed O. A. C., northwest champions, in every phase of the game, but lost on some unlucky breaks. All through the season these fiery Vandals lacked consistently in only one thing—experience.

The Prospectus

Five lettermen will be missing on the Vandal squad when it reports for practice next spring and one or two graduating players. Offsetting this loss will be nearly 30 men who have had first-team and first-squad experience this season.
Ray Stephens, center, Ted Bucklin, tackle, Giff Davidson, half, Vic Cameron, half, and Neal Nelson, end—the surviving veterans of the famous teams of '23 and '24 played their last game for Idaho at Creighton. With the possible exception of O. Jones, guard, and W. York, center, who may graduate, every man on the first squad will be back for another season.
Wallie York and Bud Bliss will be eligible for Ray Stephens' center position. At tackle will be Gartin and Diehl, two stonewall units in this season's defense. Dean, Hutchinson and Bower. "Chick" Terry, two-year veteran, Walmsley, a powerful half-back who has made an equally good linesman, Thomas, Lindberg, and possibly Jones will be available at guard. Erickson, "Bus" Canine, Beall, Moore and McDowell will provide powerful end material.
More than a dozen backfield men will return. The sensational Reget and Powers, both accurate passers and fair passers, Jacoby and Cooper will be candidates for quarter. Red O'Donnell, Duff, "Hank" Canine, Edleblute and Thompson are returning halfbacks. Baird, a powerful reserve back, "Sody" Owings, a 2-year man who plunged his way to fame against O. A. C., and Hughes will be the array for fullback.

POLO GAINS HOLD AS COLLEGE SPORT

Football Followers Busily Engaged in Picking All-American Teams

Polo is rapidly gaining hold as a college sport. The University of Arizona recently recognized it as a major sport.

Football followers are now engaged in their great indoor sport—picking "all-star" all-coast, all-western, all-American and every kind of mythical team.

Rockne has already selected his mid-western team and Warner will announce his Pacific coast aggregation this week-end.

Ernie Nevers, captain, fullback, and the greatest player that ever wore a Stanford football uniform, has been granted a leave of absence from the fall semester class work by the committee on registration.

California still holds the edge on the northwest as a whole in football despite the fact that the University of Washington has won the coast championship.

Ted Bucklin, veteran Vandal tackle and fullback, has been placed at tackle on the second all-coast team selected by the sport writers of the Universal Service.

Elmer Tesreau, Washington, has been placed at fullback on the all-American team picked by Charles Crowley, former Notre Dame star and on the coaching staff at Columbia university.

The most unusual selection of an all-American is that of Charles Parker of the New York World. He put "Red" Grange on his third team.

W. S. C. STUDENTS STAGE WALKOUT

Twenty-five Hundred Skip Classes to Celebrate Victory Over U. S. C.

The entire student body of the Washington State college turned out yesterday to give the Cougars, who returned victor over the University of Southern California football team, a thundering welcome.

At a mass meeting of which Harry Bohlke was chairman, the students voted to stage a "walk-out"—the pleas of vice-president Waller and W. C. Kreugel, auditor of the college, were of no avail.

The reason the administration frowned on any demonstration or class-cutting was due to the condition of the finances of the school, dependent on the action of the legislature in the near future, it was stated.

MOSCOW HI SCHOOL NAMES LOUGH COACH

Although he is attending the university at present, Mr. Lough has had considerable experience as a coach, and was mentor for the fast Culldesac quintet three years ago when it made a strong bid for the championship of the state.

SPORTS AT IDAHO by LES ROBINSON.

The football supremacy of the state of Idaho lies between Kellogg, champion of the north and Firth, south Idaho title holder. These teams play for the championship Friday on the Kellogg field.

Kellogg won the right to meet Firth after once getting entirely out of the race by dropping the first game of the season to Lewiston, 9 to 6.

Except for the titular clash the 1925 football season is over in Idaho. Outside of the sectional championships last week, the biggest game was the Boise-Pocatello engagement, which spilled a little dope.

Work is under way on a new $200,000 gymnasium at Illinois Wesleyan.
