Send Argonauts Home

Because so many Argonauts are sent home by individual students and because all parents ask that copies of the paper be sent to them The Argonaut is starting a campaign to have every student subscribe to The Argonaut for the rest of the year. A special rate of seventy-five cents is being made for the drive which will start the week of registration. The "Spurs" will have charge of the soliciting among students and faculty.

Another very important item is the fact that persons over the state will be able to follow the progress of things at the University if they get The Argonaut and there will be no chance for prejudiced individuals to distort facts to the detriment of the school. High hopes are held out for an increase of circulation sufficient to insure a "twice-a-week" policy for the remainder of the year. Last year was the first time this has been possible. So when you are asked to subscribe, do it because it will help you, your family and the University.

Movement for Student Government Not a Reflection on Administration

That the method of discipline whereby as much as possible is maintained is unsatisfactory is the chief thing shown by the present movement for student government. There are criticisms of actions of the discipline committee because, on the whole, most students do not know the facts of the case. Wherever the truth has been generally known the action of the discipline committee has been indorsed. Students show as strong and usually stronger condemnation of misdemeanors of fellow students than older people. But when they do not know what the charges are nor why certain actions were taken, the result is dissatisfaction.

The things underlying this movement are by no means limited to one cause or set of causes. Much dissatisfaction and "crabbing" is occasioned by the cut system in use at the University whereby a cut not excused by illness entails the loss of one-tenth of a credit. These things are not causing a student rebellion in any sense of the word. The whole movement is one of an attempt to remedy certain things which are felt to be unjust. The administration has shown a sincere attitude of fairness and has met the students more than half way. But there seems to be a misapprehension on the part of the administration that the attempt to secure student government is in some way a reflection on its policies. This is emphatically not in the mind of any undergraduate. Doctor Upham as the head of the institution has the sincere love and respect of every student.

Mantell in Lear

Do the students appreciate the efforts of the Public Events committee in securing for us the very best in music and art? We believe there is real appreciation of the high quality of entertainment brought to the University; but are we willing to make whatever small sacrifice may be necessary in time or money to give ourselves an opportunity only the greatest of our cities can afford? A conservative estimate would make the cost of good seats in a city to the five numbers of the Artist's Course and Mantell not less than $15.00. We can see them for $5.25.

No great actor like Mantell has ever visited the University. He is retiring from the stage, and we shall never have the chance to see him again. People who know say his "Lear" is one of the great triumphs of the stage. We owe it to our own self-respect to think up a mighty good apology if we don't go.

there were girls. He was the lone male among a table full of females. All were attempting to hear his stage-whispered comments on a magazine he held in his hand. It was a Kollegiate Komedy.

"What do you think of the modern student's taste—etc., etc., etc.," the reporter asked.

The reader continued his stage whisper. The reporter recited his question once more. Still the reader paid no attention. One of the listeners interrupted his third attempt.

"Aw, you can't fool us. They didn't write no stuff them days. Go back and tell your Greeks we're wise."

MILITARY WORK — GIVEN APPROVAL

National Association of Land Grant Colleges Stands Behind National Defense Act

Going on record as standing squarely and strongly behind the official military policy of the nation with regard to military training in the land grant colleges, of which the University of Idaho is one, the Association of Land Grant Colleges at its last annual meeting in Chicago outlined plans for the coming year.

Their report declares that they believe the National Defense act provides for a reasonable, democratic and efficient system of national defense, suitable for a nation which is resolved to maintain itself in security with the least possible disturbance of the industrial employment of its citizens.

They say, "We recognize the important function of the Land Grant Colleges in making the provision of the National Defense act effective. The keystone of that act is the constant maintenance of an adequate supply of reserve officers."

"Our institutions are the largest source of supply of reserve officers and the most economical means of supplying them. Better officer material does not exist than the student bodies of these colleges. They are prepared for their reserve commission with no interruption to their civic employments and with gain rather than loss to their educational development."

STANFORD STUDENTS BECOME ACQUAINTED

Men and Women Mix at Informal Dance; Student Cards are Required

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 25—(P. I. P.)—The "import" and all outside dates were taboo at the Toyon club informal, given January 22. This is an innovation on the campus, and was given for the purpose of getting Stanford men and women better acquainted.

Each woman attending the dance was required to present a student body card at the door. The president of the club had requested the campus women to regard any invitation which they may receive from a not too-well-known acquaintance in the spirit in which it is given.

Mrs. Helena R. Fisher of Fisher Millinery left Monday for the Coast Cities where she will buy a New and Complete line of Spring Millinery. Mrs. Fisher states that she will also put in some other good line for the coming season. Although the new line has not as yet been fully decided upon. But what ever it is the public can depend upon it being New, Complete, and up to the minute. Mrs. Fisher will be away about two weeks, and wishes to extend a cordial invitation to the public to come and inspect the new Hats on her return. adv.

After the dance
... a pipe and P. A.

WHEN you've kicked off the pumps and tossed the collar on the table, while the music is still singing in your brain and memories of one dancing deb in particular crowd your thoughts, fill your pipe with Prince Albert and light up. Make it a night of nights.

P. A. is so genuinely friendly. It hits your smoke-spot in deep center right off the bat. Doesn't bite your tongue or parch your throat, because the Prince Albert process said "nix on the rough stuff" at the very beginning. Just cool contentment in every perfect puff.

Don't put off till tomorrow what you can smoke today. Get a tidy red tin of P. A. now. Snap back the hinged lid and release that wonderful fragrance. Tamp a load into the bowl of your jimmy-pipe and light up. Now you've got it ... that taste. Say— isn't that the goods now?

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

FROSH ARE TIPPED BY POTLATCH CLUB

Game is Furious With Rook Showing Fine Basketball

Idaho's freshmen played a superlative brand of basketball against the Potlatch Athletic club last Thursday, but lost the furious game, 23 to 22. A Potlatch field goal in the last 27 seconds of play took an apparent victory from Idaho.

Potlatch led the Vandal Rooks 16-13 at half time. Idaho jumped into a narrow lead at the start of the second period, which it held until the last-second Potlatch rally.

The Frosh lineup was Bergher and Swedland, forwards; Collins, center; Hall and Edmunson, guards. Substitutions, Judevine for Swedland, Aspray for Edmunson.

The Frosh management is dickering with the Lewiston State normal team for a game Saturday, January 30.

WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM TO MEET COUGARS

First Co-Ed Shoot of Year Scheduled for Thursday

Idaho's W. A. A. rifle team will cross rifles with Washington State co-eds in the first intercollegiate women's shoot of the season, according to an announcement made today.

Twenty girls have been selected for the Idaho team. Practices have been held for several weeks. In the final trials for positions Josephine Keane was high point girl.

All members of the Idaho team have been requested to report at Lewis Court Thursday afternoon to have their pictures taken. This includes all the girls on the squad.

BULLETIN BOARD IDLERS VANISH

Lazy Sign Readers Give Way to Worried Students Thinking of Finals

The exclusive crowd which used to gather around the bulletin board to read the "Lost—business end of a fountain pen" ads, has gone—not forever, but at least until after exams. It has been replaced by a horde of worried looking students vigorously copying exam schedules on stray sheets of paper in their notebooks. Neither are the gay coeds who used to loiter in the library or hover by the dictionary while they gazed over the interesting occupants of the library, to be seen. In their place are sedate and preoccupied girls with large notebooks and textbooks of assorted colors.

So pronounced is this revival of learning taking place within the walls of our fair university, that several students have been observed carrying portable typewriters to school, and an ambitious coed is reducing by studying in the library during the lunch hour. So much industry has caused anxiety among the university faculty, who have ordered, according to recent reports, an extra supply of 16-page blue books in order to relieve the situation.

O. A. C. and HUSKIES PREPARE FOR GAME

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis—After bowling over Montana, the first conference obstacle, by the score of 31 to 19, the Oregon Aggies are now pointed toward their game with the University of Washington here, January 29.

Washington beat the Montana Grizzlies 28 to 19. Judging from figures the game here should be a thriller. Washington and the Aggies are entering the race this year with practically new teams, each represented by only one veteran.

The probable starting lineup for the Aggies against Washington will be Baker and Diwoy, forwards; Burr and Graap, guards; and Pinkerton, center.

Terrific Snowball Battle Started by Luckless Sigma Chi

An unidentified man once said, "With snow comes snowballs, skis, bobsleds, toboggans, and disaster."

Such was the case the other day when a certain Sigma Chi thoughtlessly skied into Beta territory. The Betas were sore (afraid) at such merry-making, and did waft fierce, fiery frozen snowballs at the luckless lad. He screamed in terror for his brothers who promptly attempted to assault and batter the Betas. A fierce fight ensued, nor to this day is it known what magic the Betas used to cause an unfriendly Sigma's snowball to exterminate a window in the castle of Delta Gamma.

Now forthwith to this scene of battle came inquisitive Phi Deltis, and fain would they jest on the aim of Beta and Sigma Chi. When the window was blotted out the lazy spectators did fill the ether with air waves signifying great mirth. In so doing the antagonism of both Beta and Sigma was aroused. Whereupon enemies became allies, filtering Phi Deltis through a cloud of snowballs. Pitiful cries failed to soften the wrath of Sigma-Beta, and with roaring and gnashing of feet, Delta sought protection behind a barrage of snowballs of their own making and thereupon the battle raged.

TEACHERS REQUIRED TO SIGN FOR JOBS

Schools of Idaho Eager to Employ Graduates

All students who expect to teach next year should register in the Placement Service department, which is under the direction of Miss Bernice McCoy, immediately after second semester registration, it has been announced. The superintendent of the various schools throughout the state will start sending in calls for teachers from March 1. The department will put forth every effort to ascertain all probable vacancies before calls begin to come in. There is every indication that Idaho schools are eager to employ university trained teachers.

The department has placed three university students for next semester; Mildred Pearson, Ashton, English and Dramatics; May Alvord, Thatcher, commercial work; and Amy Barstad, Santa. There are many calls for English and Latin teachers and also for general science teachers. It is a comparatively easy matter to fill English positions but not the Latin. The same is true of general science. Many students are able to teach one or two sciences but can not qualify for general science.

HEARSE DELIVERS BIDS FOR BANQUET

Sigma Delta Chi Employs Gloomy Trappings for Funfest

STATE COLLEGE OF WASHINGTON, Pullman, Jan. 25—(P. I. P.)—Sadness and gloom of a doubtful quality pervaded the campus early one morning while the invitations to the annual Sigma Delta Chi "Gridiron Banquet" were being delivered. The banquet was held Saturday, with Stoddard King, Spokane columnist as "roastmaster."

At the start of the noon hour a handsome hearse moved from its shed drawn by two trustworthy steeds from the Veterinary Department, which had purchased them for purpose of study, and began a staid progress toward the lower part of the campus. In advance of the hearse were two splendid war horses hung with glittering trappings of pure iron, slightly rusted. These charges carried two of the chief mourners who directed the line of march. The trappings of the team that "drafted" the hearse were the finest obtainable and cost $4.23.

It was in this way that the invitations to the Gridiron Banquet were delivered to the prominent fraternity men of the campus.
