What About It, Class of '29?

Two years ago, in accordance with an A. S. U. I. vote, a special assessment of ten dollars was paid by each student upon registration, this money to be applied toward building a new gymnasium. Last year the Freshman class voluntarily decided to pay the same amount and it was collected at the time of second semester registration. This year, nothing has been said by the class of '29 about contributing a like amount. If each entering student pays ten dollars, it is only a question of mathematics to tell when Idaho will have the much needed new gym. The state wide campaign to raise enough money to build a memorial gym at the University seems to have been permanently disabled and to have proven impractical as a means of getting a new gym within the next few years. But if the class of '29 and succeeding classes were to continue the precedent set by the two preceding classes, a sizable nucleus would result within a few years which would give optimistic hopes some basis of fact.

That Mysterious Championship Cup

When intra-mural sports wax hot and the championship in any tournament is closely contested, the thought uppermost in the minds of most contestants is "to win the cup." Annually the announcement is made that a trophy will be given to the winning team or teams. And, according to some, there used to be a real cup given. But now it seems that the winning aggregation have the privilege of buying themselves this emblem of championship. This seems to be a custom peculiar to Idaho. Other schools not only offer trophies to the winning teams in intra-mural sports, but more to the point, they actually give them. The Argonaut would like to see such a custom followed here. Just who would buy the cups, belts or other awards is an open question. If no other source was provided, the various teams in any league might contribute equally toward buying a suitable trophy.

REVIEW RECORDS OF IDAHO HIGH BASKET SQUADS

Pocatello Best in South; Many Crack Teams Fight For Hoop Honors in All Corners of State

Pocatello high, coached by Rich Fox, one of Idaho's premier basketball products, clearly demonstrated last week that it is the outstanding quintet of south Idaho, by swamping the Boise Braves, 49 to 13. It was the third loss for Boise on a trip through the central and southeastern districts, the Braves having previously been defeated by Filer, 19-18, and by Twin Falls, 26-21. It looks as if Pocatello might be 10 or 15 points better than other southern teams if comparative scores mean anything. Boise seems to be on a par with the clubs of the southwest.

Bulldogs Divide Series

The Nampa Bulldogs, which Boise was able to nose out by three points two weeks ago divided a hot two-game series with the crack Caldwell quintet last week, losing the first game 32 to 28 and winning on the Nampa floor 24 to 17. It begins to look as if the race in the southwest district will be a four-cornered affair with Caldwell, Nampa, Boise, and Welser as contenders. Whether Boise cops the district title or not it is assured of participation in the state meet, since the meet goes to the Boise floor this year. Other southwest scores of the week ending January 30 are: Welser 21, Payette 10; Meridian 18, Roswell 17; New Plymouth 16, Welser Institute 14; Parma 20, Fruitland 19.

Fight Looms

A four cornered fight also looms in the south central district with Filer, Gooding, Buhl, and Twin Falls as the participants. Before tournament time some of these teams may be classed out of the running and others may loom dangerous. The big game of the week was Filer's defeat of Buhl, 19 to 13, but the Filer supremacy was not decisive enough to mark the fast Buhl five out of the running. Two weeks ago Buhl nosed out a 19-18 victory over the fast Gooding quintet. Gooding looked classy last week in downing Shoshone 32 to 18. Twin Falls had its hands full with the Hollister club, winning by a single point, 20-19. Other results in this district: Jerome 22, Wendell 18; Eden 23, Shoshone 21.

Little is known of basketball in the Idaho Falls, Rexburg and Salmon City areas, the results being omitted from the leading dailies of the south.

Men say girls are curious but I'll bet ninety-nine out of a hundred men turn this paper upside down to read this.

Bulletin Board

Announcements, lost and found items, notices of club meetings, or similar short items will be run in this column if they are put in the Argonaut box under the bulletin board or placed to 109 Monday or Thursday nights.

THE BULLETIN BOARD COSMOPOLITAN CLUB TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the club Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the "U" hut. Arle J. Van der Staay of Holland, a member of the club, will speak.

REGISTRATION AND GRADES

No one who owes the University any money will be permitted to register until they have settled their accounts.

Removable deficiencies which must be attended to before February 27, will be posted Monday.

All grades of E, F or other marks having a bearing on registration will be in the hands of the registration officers and the deans at the time of registration.

All entering students and those who did not take the test last semester will be required to take the uniform English test Monday at 1:30 in room 311, Ad building.

No grades will be given out by the Registrar's office until they are mailed, which will be in about two weeks.

ACTIVITY CARDS FOR GEM

It is essential, according to Jack Mix, business manager of The Gem, that all upper classmen fill out activity cards at the time of registration. These cards can be gotten at the entrance to the library.

PRE-MEDS AND PRE-NURSING

Dr. Wodsedalek, dean of the graduate school, has announced that all pre-med and pre-nursing students will register Monday and all graduate students Tuesday.

SHUCKS!

(Item from The Viola Times)
Most of us have been enjoying spare-ribs and back bones of late as there were seven families butchered in the neighborhood the past week.

Today, ladies and gentlemen, we wish to award the rubber hamburger to Henrietta Distemper for being the most popular girl on the Idaho campus. Miss Distemper asks us to announce that her popularity is due to Piccolo Music Company's book, "How to Play the Musical Saw in Four Lessons." She is now in great demand at every social gathering and many admiring eyes are turned on her as she gracefully plays the handsome instrument.

- Our platform:
1. Sotter floors for skating rinks.
 2. A more wide-spread study of aesthetic dancing for the benefit of rotogravure sections.
 3. More stringent pruning of budding poets.
 4. New curtains for the practice rooms in the music hall.
 5. Bird's-eye-maple piano benches for the seven benches therein.

When it's a rainy night—and with three crafty bridge players your luck is running wild—have a Camel!

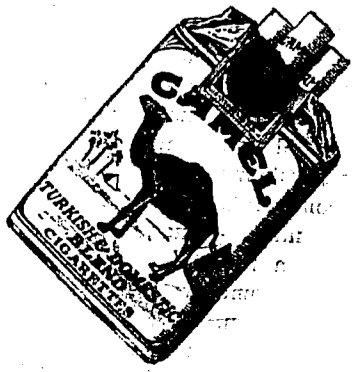

WHEN the dark skies are pouring rain outside. And fickle fate deals you hands at bridge that you play with consummate skill—have a Camel!

For Camel is the silent partner that helps every deserving player win his game. Camels never hurt or tire the taste, never leave a trace of cigarette after-taste. Regardless of the gold you spend, you'll never get choicer tobaccos than those rolled into Camels.

So this evening as you ply your unerring skill, evoke then the mellowest fragrance that ever came from a cigarette.
Have a Camel!

Camels represent the utmost in cigarette quality. The choicest of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are blended into Camels by master blenders and the finest of French cigarette paper is made especially for them. Into this one brand is concentrated all of the knowledge, all of the skill of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

SOCIETY TAKES BACK SEAT DURING "EXAMS"

One absorbing topic has prevailed over the campus for a week. Charles-tons, weather, even spring clothes have been barred as dinner table conversations in favor of that broad subject "Exams." All manner of exams—big ones, little ones, snaps and terrors. They have left us in tears, in smiles, with relieved feelings and with "that tired feeling," but the chief fact is that they have left us, so on with the dance.

LEAD OLD FRIENDS MEET AGAIN

Eugene C. Zackman, editor of the Argonaut two years ago, and now a member of the Kansas City Journal staff is the author of the story given below. Zackman's word picture of the meeting of Dr. Cook, self-headed North Pole discoverer, and Captain Ronald Amundsen; is one of the most interesting feature stories of the year. The story, written by Zackman, and published in almost every leading daily paper in the United States, follows:

Phi Beta Phi pledges entertained with an informal dance at the house last Saturday night. Three program dances followed the Valentine special which was the occasion for distributing Valentine programs. The guests were: Messrs. George Burroughs, Leonard Harmon, Frank Neal, Charles Diehl, Vic Monaghan, Louis Soderberg, Ray Stevens, James Cox, Charles Heitman, Lucien Oliver, Paul Rudy, Bat Cummings, Pat Steiner and Eugene Dahlky.

Sunday evening luncheon guest: Celeste Harley.

The pledges of Phi Beta Phi entertained at an informal house dance at the chapter house, January 31st. The guests were: George Burroughs, Ray Stevens, Frank Neal, Charles Heitman, Leonard Harmon, Bob Cummins, James Cox, Lewis Soderberg, Paul Rudy, Charles Diehl, Vic Monaghan, Pat Steiner, Lou Oliver and Charles Dahlky.

The sophomores of the Alpha Chi Omega house entertained Gertrude Maloney with a dinner at the Blue Buckle, Thursday, January 4. Miss Maloney will attend the University of Montana next quarter.

Alpha Chi Omega pledges entertained Gertrude Maloney with a surprise party Thursday evening, February 4. Miss Maloney will not be in school next semester so it was a farewell party for her.

H. M. Carter, superintendent of schools at Weiser who is on the campus working for his masters degree, was a dinner guest of Phi Delta Theta Tuesday evening.

Dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta for Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ware of Coeur d'Alene and Eugene Ware, Helen Thomas, Ethel Povey and Marie Johnson.

Carl Clare of Chewelah, Wash., was a luncheon guest of Alpha Tau Omega Wednesday.

Forney hall guests for the week were: John Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Jennings, Mrs. Chase, Mildred Archibald, Estelle Pickrell and Katherine Johnston.

Kappa Sigma dinner guests Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Latham Moore, Edwin Bozart, Gordon Bozart, Hartley Kester and Mr. Wetham.

Wednesday dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta were Mr. Robert Elder of Coeur d'Alene, Ruth Zornes, and Mr. Carter.

This giant hydro-electric unit weighs 750 tons and consists of a vertical shaft hydraulic turbine attached to an electric generator delivering 52,000 kilowatts at 12,000 volts.

Bigger Generators—Cheaper Electricity

A 70,000 horsepower hydro-electric unit recently installed at Niagara Falls utilizes the same amount of water as seven former 5,000-horsepower units, yet does the work of fourteen such units. And it saves 700,000 tons of coal yearly for the nation.

As more and still more uses are found for electricity, larger and more economical generators are installed. At the power plant, as well as at the consumer's end, important changes and startling developments have steadily reduced the cost of electricity for light, power, and heat.

And wherever electricity has blazed its trail—in towns, cities, industrial centers, and rural communities—comfort and progress have come to stay.

Generating and distributing electricity concern the technical student. But electricity's application in the betterment of industry, the professions, and home life concerns every educated person. Cheap electricity means many startling achievements today, but countless and unbelievable possibilities tomorrow.

The General Electric Company, as of December 3, 1924, had 37,716 stockholders, of whom 45 per cent were women. The average number of common shares held by stockholders was 55. In ownership, policies, past and present activities, G-E is unselfishly dedicated to the cause of electrical progress.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

ORCHESTRA TO GIVE A SPECIAL CONCERT

Organization, With Variety of Instruments, to Entertain Soon

The University Orchestra under the direction of Prof. Carl Claus is preparing a special concert to be given during the second week of February.

The orchestra has grown rapidly during the past year and a half. This year it has a wide variety of instruments and some very able musicians. In addition to the concert there will be several solos which will be announced next week.

FORMER IDAHO MAN PRAISED AS SINGER

Eastern Newspaper Lauds Alfred Brigham's Musical Abilities

Alfred Brigham, former University of Idaho student now in his third year of study at the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, is doing much credit to his training. Mr. Brigham was a student at Idaho from 1918 until 1923 when he was awarded a degree in agriculture. His home is in Genesee. The following is an article used to advertise Brigham for his concert work in New York state:

"Nature blessed Mr. Brigham with an exceptional voice. Its power and beauty won recognition first during his solo work with the glee club of the university. Coming east to study some time after graduation from Idaho, Mr. Brigham revealed in his musical interpretation the virility of a man bred on mountain and prairie, with an artistic sensitiveness born of contact with the lights and shadows of life. At the Ithaca Conservatory of music, Mr. Brigham will be remembered long for his contributions to the life and artistry of the school. Star pupil of John Quine and of Bert Rogers Lyon, winner of the Andreas Dipple Operatic Scholarship, member of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia fraternity, he is of superlative credit to his alma mater. Audiences like Alfred Brigham because of his pleasant approach and his ability to sing many kinds of songs. In oratorio numbers, operatic selections, folk songs or ballads of simple homely life, the singer is thoroughly at home, and the magnetism of his interpretation reaches the hearts of widely varied listeners. This son of the Golden West is in truth an artist. Through his art he is the interpreter of life's cloud and sunshine and all the delicate rainbow tints that lie between. He is a musical friend."

Old "Sol" Shines on Campus; Students Long for Spring

Old "Sol" came forth Wednesday with such force and amplitude, that half the students on the campus were stricken with the dreaded but delightful disease of "spring fever." The ——— dragged the music box out on the front porch, so as to bask in the first real sunshine of the season, and to listen to the charms of dreamy melodies and jazz ditties at the same time. One fair co-ed said (for all co-eds are fair on such a day) "What dreamy sunshine! And I am confined with tests, etc."

It was only a little more than two weeks ago, that Moscow got the first touch of noticeable winter weather. "We like the flurries," said one, "I hope it snows a foot," said another. Then two weeks followed in which there was winter and snow, in which there was warmth and thaw, in which there was wind and there was no wind. It appears that winter and spring are carrying on an immortal combat, and that "winter with waning forces, strikes to the rugged mountain slopes." (Someone ask Prof. Cushman what that line was extracted from).

However, the weather predictors say, that it would be poor policy for anyone to get excited when "Sol" makes his first appearance with profusion of sunshine, to throw away their overcoats and other "heavies," for winter is still to be dealt with.

FORMER IDAHO STUDENTS MARRIED AT SPOKANE

Miss Nathalie Tecklenberg, of Wallace, was married at Spokane recently to Emory T. Knudson, a prominent Coeur d'Alene attorney.

Mrs. Knudson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tecklenberg, of Wallace, attended the University of Idaho and is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority. She graduated from the Wallace high school and for a number of years had been prominent in Wallace musical circles. She is a talented vocalist.

Mr. Knudson is a graduate of the Coeur d'Alene high school and the University of Idaho and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

The young couple will be at home in Coeur d'Alene after a brief honeymoon trip.

ELDRIDGE APPEARS IN RADIO PROGRAM

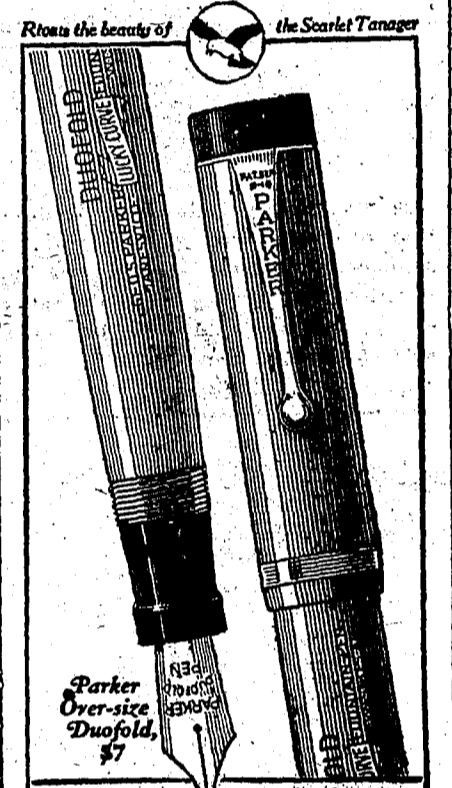

Former Idaho Student Member of Yale Band

Robert Eldridge, Idaho graduate of the class of 1923, and who is attending Yale University, will appear in a radio broadcasting program with the Yale band in a notable program with the New York Philharmonic orchestra and celebrated opera stars on February 10, according to an announcement received here. The band is also making a record for the Victor company.

Eldridge is in his third year at Yale and is working for a Ph. D. degree in chemistry. He has been a member of the Yale 30-piece band for three years. While a student at the University of Idaho he was a member of the Pep Band.

He is the son of Dean J. G. Eldridge.
