THRILLS AND JOY HOLD SWAY WITH AGGIES TOMORROW

"Phat" Steven's Yellow Dog Saloon Will Be Drawing Card

REVELRY UNTIL 11:55

Music, Gypsy Fortune Tellers, and Kewpie Booths To Furnish Amusement

If the sheriff stays out of town, the much heralded Ag carnival will be given tomorrow night at the gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock.

"Only one thing can cause a further postponement of the carnival," says Lew Raeder, manager. "We no longer fear meningitis, but if the Wampus Cat, one of our main attractions, dies, we'll have to call the affair off until another cat can be captured. Strange as it may seem, the Wampus Cat unlike other felines, doesn't fight beneath bedroom windows at night. Some claim it is because the cat has no head. Zoologists insist that it is because we keep it penned up. Anyway a rarity that it is, the Wampus Cat is just one of the headliners."

"Other drawing cards will be "Phat" Steven's famous Yellow Dog saloon. "Phat" in person, will dispense the best contraband smuggled across the border since Volstead slipped his joker in the deck.

"Beguiling Kewpie dolls, blondes, brunettes, and all those in between will be given away at the turn of a wheel. In the lower end of the gym, we will live again the thrills of a real Slippery Gulch dance hall with a rather subdued light in corners for those who feel the cosmic urge. Beardsley Merrill's orchestra will furnish music so entrancing that all thoughts of the present exams will be lost. Gypsy girls with their tales of romance and fortune telling booths. These and many other features combine to make this carnival the loudest and funniest of all foregoing attempts."

Permission has been granted by Dean French to continue gaily until 11:55 o'clock Saturday night.

JUNIORS ARRANGE FIVE-DAY PROGRAM

Mixer Set for First Night; Prom and Cabaret Features

Starting with a parade Tuesday evening, April 6, followed by a Junior class mixer, the five day program arranged for Junior week will include the all college play, "Romeo and Juliet" and Junior assembly Wednesday, Junior prom Friday, and the Junior cabaret on Saturday, according to Clair Reem, general chairman. Committees in charge of each event have been working on plans for more than a month and promise the most elaborate festival ever staged by third year students.

The parade on the opening day at 6:30, headed by a Junior band, will be followed at 7:30 with a no date, exclusive Junior mixer at the Blue Bucket. Monte Pringle, chairman of the mixer committee, has arranged a program of dancing, readings, music and a feed.

Stunts Planned for Assembly The Junior assembly Wednesday is in charge of Sidney McClellan and will feature song and dance numbers, music by a Junior orchestra and quartet and several skits by members of the class.

Wednesday night at 8 o'clock the all university play, "Romeo and Juliet" will be presented under the direction of Prof. John H. Cushman. A special section of the auditorium is to be reserved for members of the class of '27.

Only 125 couples will be admitted to the prom which is to be held at the gymnasium Friday night. The prom, which is to be strictly formal, will be in charge of Clair Killoran.

The closing event of the week will be the Junior cabaret which will be given in the Blue Bucket under the supervision of Paul Atwood. The attendance is to be limited to 75 couples and the program will consist of some Spokane talent as well as music and dancing by members of the class.

W. S. C. FRATERNITY EDITS SPOKANE DAILY

Journalistic Group Publishes Four Editions on Saturday

Ten members of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalistic fraternity at Washington State college edited and published four editions of the Spokane Press, at Spokane Saturday. The journalists had full charge of all editions, writing all news, editorials, and feature stories. The editorial column was written by the college students.

After completion of the day's editing and work, the efforts of the members of the fraternity were criticized and reviewed by active members of the Press news staff. Each individual was given special instruction and direction in the criticism.

ELECT GOODING MAN. PRESIDENT OF Y.M.C.A.

Vote for President Unanimous; Other Officers Closely Contested

James Cromwell of Gooding was elected president of the Y. M. C. A. at an election last Tuesday evening in the "U" hut. Other officers elected were: vice president, Neil Jones, Moscow; secretary, Clarence Jenks, Kamiah; and treasurer, Irving Selby, Moscow. Retiring officers are Leslie Hedge, president, James Cromwell, vice-president, Francis Eldridge, secretary and James Allen, treasurer.

Although attendance at the election was small, there was considerable spirit shown at the meeting. Cromwell was elected almost unanimously, the vote being 10 for Cromwell and 1 for Francis Eldridge. The real fight centered around the vice-presidency, Jones running first with 5 votes, James Allen 4, and George Ross 2. The vote for the other officers was as follows: secretary, Jenks, 8; Levi Frost, 3; treasurer, Irving Selby, 7; Wayne Snook, 4.

The four officers elected will attend the officers training conference in Portland March 27 to 28. The officers of all the student Y. M. C. A. organizations are supposed to attend this conference.

Installation services will be held soon after the Easter vacation. It is planned to have a banquet at this affair.

VANDALS TO SHOOT IN NATIONAL MATCH

Rifle Team to Compete in Hearst Trophy Match April 6

The University of Idaho men's rifle team has been selected to represent the ninth corps area in the national rifle match with the corps areas of the United States. Each year a certain number of R. O. T. C. units are named to shoot, in the ninth corps area match which was fired recently, Idaho's score has not been received, but it was high enough to give the Vandal sharpshooters the opportunity of shooting in the national contest.

In addition to the national match, the rifle team has three other contests, firing against the University of Delaware, March 26, against the Moscow rifle club, April 1, and in the Hearst trophy match, April 6.

All members of the rifle team are urged by Lieutenant Chas. H. Hart, Jr., to be out for the firing on the time schedule.

The following is the schedule of the matches and the hour that Lewis court will be open for the firing.

First stage (national match—prone and sitting)—Tuesday, March 23, and Wednesday, March 24, 1 to 5 p. m.; 7 to 9 p. m.

WEATHER DELAYS TENNIS ENTRANTS

Candidates Increased to 50 When 25 New Aspirants Sign Up

Increasing interest in the tennis tournament has resulted in the signing up of 25 more candidates, making the total number of entries 50.

The recent rain has put the courts out of playing condition and has delayed the first round of the meet. As soon as the weather clears up the first match will be played. It is necessary that everyone desiring to enter the tournament should sign up by the end of the week, so that the entries can be paired off for the first round of the meet.

The list of fifty entries includes: B. Merrill, W. Calloway, A. Fowler, K. Ross, G. Elrod, G. Harding, C. Jones, W. Drysdale, L. Cannon, H. Newhouse, T. Madden, G. Cornell, H. Swanson, J. Wagner, W. Walmsley, D. Falesis, G. Benson, J. Paisley, C. Gardner, M. McAllister, P. Quilliam, H. Spance, E. Dohrkey, V. Estes, W. Stanley and A. Jensen.

REPORTERS SCHOOL TO BE FEATURED AT GRIDIRON BANQUET

Faculty Members and Moscow Business Men to Be Guests

DEVELOP NEWS SHARK

Fraternity to Withhold Details of Roasting from Public

Approximately 150 men—faculty members, Moscow business and professional men, students, and a few guests from out of town—have been invited to attend a gridiron banquet, modeled after the affair which the Washington, D.C. Press club has made internationally famous to be given April 13 by Delta Sigma, formerly the University Press club. The guests are selected primarily because of prominence and susceptibility to "roasting." The first banquet will take the form of a "School for Cub Reporters," according to announcement.

To Hunt for News Sharks "Statistics show," say the invitations, "that out of a population of some 4,000 to 6,000 such as we have here, there are fully 1500 who feel the writer's urge. At least one-tenth of these, or about 150, need only the panning they would get from a hard-boiled city editor to boil them down into expert news-gatherers, and out of the whole group we expect to garner one premier newspaperman."

"Accordingly we shall put on, on Tuesday, April 13, in the Blue Bucket on the Gridiron, a 'School for Reporters,' in three takes, as follows: How to Take a Joke; How to Take Dinner; How to Take it Easy."

Gridiron banquets are now staged at most of the largest universities and colleges of the country. All are patterned after the Washington Press club affair, where all notables from President Coolidge down are good-naturedly raked over the coals by the scribes. An unwritten law of the banquets is that intimate details of the roasting are withheld from the public eye. None of the program except that which is given out by the guests themselves, goes beyond the banquet walls.

Art Mathews and Don Cleaver have been covering the distance events in true Paavo Nurmi style and will probably wear the Vandal colors in the half mile, mile and two mile races. In the high hurdles, Bus Canine, Jack Mitchell, and Powers are clearing the sticks ahead of the other contenders and Mitchell and Thompson are doing noteworthy work in the low hurdles.

Clayton Pickett, two-year veteran, is hovering above all contenders in the weights, and may be a one man team in the shot put, discus and javelin throws. Pickett is also a valuable man in the jumping division and will apparently link with Bus Canine in the high jump. John Wagner, Jay Thompson, and Perrins have all been leaping good distances in the broad jump.

MacDonald and Eddie Nedros have both been clearing the bar over the 11 foot mark in the pole vault, and will probably increase this height several units by meet time.

The track men will get their first in the intra-mural meet, scheduled for either April 3 or 10.

EUROPEAN TROUBLE ASSEMBLY SUBJECT

Dr. C. U. Clark Says German Men Are Out of Work

"Countries of central Europe and their conditions" was the topic of Dr. Charles Upson Clark, at Wednesday's assembly.

That much of the economic troubles of central Europe is caused by the division of the two great empires, Germany and Austria-Hungary, into the present time small countries, is the opinion of Doctor Clark. Each of these have a protective tariff, whereas there were very small tariffs or none at all in the former regimes. This has caused much trouble on the part of the industrial interests of these countries. Germany now has one million men out of work. With this condition, Germany cannot make her payments under the Dawes plan. If this should happen, the whole matter of reparations would have to be reopened.

The central European countries are dependent on other nations for their trade, as nine-tenths of the people are farmers. This leaves all the trade for the commercial races, the Turks, the Jews, the Greeks, and the Armenians. The Armenians are the most aggressive, and this accounts for some of the unpopularity of this race in the east.

Much of the hard feelings between these countries is caused by intolerance on the part of the two former empires. Doctor Clark told of a boy who was expelled from his own tongue, and whose people were imprisoned for his joining the Rumanian instead of the Austrian army. Such intolerance of language is not the case in the United States, he said. The Arizona state legislature has both English and Spanish spoken, and no one is the worse for it.

The Idaho negative debate team will meet W. S. C. this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Pullman, and the affirmative will debate with the W. S. C. negative here tonight at 8 o'clock, on the subject, Resolved: That the 18th amendment should be so modified as to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

Sidney McClellan, Arthur Peavey, and Dwight Disney will represent the Idaho affirmative and G. H. Freese, A. H. Reading, and Edmund Becher will represent the negative side at Pullman.

The winners of both debates will be decided by audience decisions.

TRACK MEN BURN SOD IN WORKOUTS

Veterans Show Regular Form; New Aspirants Are Strong Contenders

Idaho track men are shooting ahead at a rapid pace in their spring training and outstanding men are already cropping up in the various events. Team places will not be assured for several weeks yet, and a big squad is furnishing hot competition for each possible berth.

Perrins and Jay Thompson, the latter a 1925 letterman, have been showing their heels to the rest of the sprinters and are outstanding men for the 100 and 220 yards dashes. They have also been displaying fairly good speed in the quarter mile.

Calvert and Otto Huefner have been clipping the 440 in the best time to date and look like good prospects for the quarter teams.

Art Mathews and Don Cleaver have been covering the distance events in true Paavo Nurmi style and will probably wear the Vandal colors in the half mile, mile and two mile races. In the high hurdles, Bus Canine, Jack Mitchell, and Powers are clearing the sticks ahead of the other contenders and Mitchell and Thompson are doing noteworthy work in the low hurdles.

MacDonald and Eddie Nedros have both been clearing the bar over the 11 foot mark in the pole vault, and will probably increase this height several units by meet time.

The track men will get their first in the intra-mural meet, scheduled for either April 3 or 10.

Personal Items Valued by Campus Statistician

Approximate values of personal properties belonging to students of the University of Idaho has been estimated at a high figure, according to a campus statistician. The compiler of facts and figures has prepared a series of articles detailing the actual worth of every personal item, from overcoats and halpains to watch-chains. In fact, nothing has been omitted that has any value.

According to the budding statistician, more than two months have been spent in preparation before estimates and all totals of valuations of co-eds' and collegiates' personal properties. The total wealth of the Idaho campus is beyond a figure imagined by many. Careful and conservative observations, requiring much time and energy, have been made. For example the author of the articles knows the exact number of fur coats on the campus, their value, and what each coat is worth now. Campus jitneys, slickers, top-coats, galoshes—even the lowly garter will be included in the estimate.

The first of this series of stories will appear in Tuesday's issue of the Argonaut.

IS THERE A SUPREME BEING, DEATH, HELL?

Prof. Chenoweth Replies Yes, Says God No Creation of Man

(Watson Humphrey '29)

Arising from the recent arrest of Anthony Bimba, a Lithuanian Soviet, under a 219 year old statute because in a speech given at Brookton, Massachusetts, he said, "There is no God," comes the question, "Is there a God, and do college students believe that there exists such a being?"

In discussing the question, Professor C. W. Chenoweth, head of the philosophy department, made the following comments in answer to questions: "Did Man create God, or did God create Man?"

He said, "Voltaire said that if God created man, man returned the compliment. So far as I am concerned 'In the beginning was God' explains my attitude. I am sure that neither God nor man is a fiction. They are both realities and the beginning for both goes back so far that I hesitate to pronounce any judgment. Man creates his ideas of God, but he does not create God who is the ultimate reality."

"What do you think of the Supreme Being?"

"The Supreme Being is the unity of all of the rest. He is the essential condition of all existence. We create our misunderstandings of God."

Explains Students' Attitude "What is the attitude of college students on religion?"

"So far as there is religion among college people it is more intelligent in the long run. College does not disinterest young people in the church."

"What is sin?"

"Any man who has violated his conscience has committed a sin. Any man who knowingly or unknowingly violates the law of life is suffering the penalty now and will for all eternity."

"Is there a Hell?"

"Hell is a condition of wrong adjustments to life processes. To go off onto a tangent to the ways of life is Hell. Man fixes his directions here and follows them through infinity."

"What is the function of death?"

"The whole evolutionary process has been aimed at producing a perfect humanity. Death is the agency by which the imperfect is removed. When the perfect man arrives he will not be subject to death."

GLADIATORS PRIMED FOR OPENING GUN

Mathews Certain Coaches and All-Stars Will Defeat Vandals in First Football Game of Year

The curtain goes up on the 1926 football season this afternoon when the University of Idaho Vandals and Coach R. L. Mathews' aggregation of scintillating all-stars clash on MacLean field at 4 o'clock. The game has a triple drawing attraction which is expected to fill the bleachers to capacity—the first football game to be played anywhere in the United States this year; an only chance to see Coach Mathews and a host of nationally famous grid stars play in a real game and an excellent preview of the team which will represent Idaho in conference circles next fall.

All of the excitement and interest which accompanies a college game has been aroused in the affair. Both teams are in rare form, and Coach Mathews, confident of victory, has made the prediction that:

"I am certain one of my teams will win tomorrow's game, but I expect a hard battle."

The all-stars are stars in name and playing ability. Their team roster bristles with names famous in the gridiron world. Robert L. Mathews, all-American quarterback at Notre Dame; Ray Neidig, all-Missouri valley conference guard at Cornell college, Major Fuller, two year star at West Point, Coach David MacMillan, famous tackle at Oberlin college, and a long list of ex-Vandal players who have won fame on the Pacific coast.

Team Shows Form Two weeks of intensive practice has put the coach's team in old time form. There will be nothing old time in their playing style however, for they have developed an entirely new offensive system which they assert will make present football methods obsolete. Coach Mathews has refused to give any hint of the nature of this novel attack but it is rumored that it involves a wide range of tricky, freak formations intended to baffle the varsity defense.

The lineup of the all-stars has not been announced, but it will be chosen from the following: ends, Coach MacMillan, Major F. R. Fuller, Neal Nelson; tackles, Ray Stephens, Ted Bucklin, "Dusty" Kline, Ray Neidig; guards, Orvil Jones, "Fat" Stephens, Abe Goff; center, Wallie York; backs, R. L. Mathews, Neil Irving, Henry Canine, Vic Cameron, Giff Davison, and Bill Frazier of the Moscow high school.

In Good Condition A month of spring training, including two weeks of scrimmage, finds the varsity in rock hard condition. These Vandal men say they are not frightened by claims of a new offensive system from a bunch of "has-beens," and hint that the laurels of the all-stars rest more on reputation than ability.

The varsity eleven will be chosen from the following: ends, Drury, Huefner, Burgher, Ross and Randall; tackles, Diehl, Garlin, Cornell and Harris; guards, Thomas, Stark, Nielson, Axtell, Spence, and Rafter; centers, Bower, Bliss, and Smith; half-back, Duff, Jacoby, Norman, Brown, Gallagher, and Gamble; fullbacks, Hughes, Owings, Baird, and Gregory and quarterbacks, Reget and Cheyne.

The game has been advanced from Saturday to Friday and the starting hour set at 4 o'clock so that college business men may attend. Admission charges will be 25 cents and the proceeds will be used to buy medals for the Idaho interscholastic track meet to be held here in May. A. S. U. I. tickets will not be honored at the gate.

Fulton Gale, principal of the Moscow high school, will referee and Bobby Lough, Moscow basketball coach, will umpire.

WOMEN MUST SET CAMPUS STANDARDS

Doctor Tromanhauser Addresses Y. W. C. A. on College Girls' Place

"The College Girl's Place" on the Campus" was the theme of Dr. Henrietta Tromanhauser's talk at the Y. W. C. A. meeting held Tuesday evening.

"Girls set the standards for everyone else on the campus," Dr. Tromanhauser said, "so it is up to the girls to set good standards."

Mabel Basset gave a reading, and Y. W. C. A. songs were sung.

The election of officers will be some time next week, Mildred Perry announced. Sarana Williams was in charge of the meeting.

How Shall We Advertise Idaho to Idahoans?

This is the season when the university's best advertisers, the students should be letting prospective students over the state know what Idaho offers for them. Publicity—that is the one thing this school needs to get the recognition and interest it deserves. Idaho's scholastic standing is beyond question, research facilities are ample, the curricula offers nearly everything anyone might want. The essential thing is to let the world know about it.

Washington state college is following a policy of publicity that cannot but help its constant growth. It has a radio broadcasting station which sends out college news, discussions of agricultural and marketing problems, the story of athletic games, and concerts by school musicians. Both its men's and women's glee clubs go for tours over the state with high class programs. Several picked students follow these organizations and talk to high school seniors and other prospective students about the college they represent.

If what Idaho has were exploited so that high school students throughout the state were acquainted with their university, its growth and improvement would be even faster and more satisfying than it has been. Other schools do much advertising of the kinds mentioned and Idaho must do more to compete. Students from other states come to Idaho because of its superiority in many fields. Any institution which has something worth while to offer must advertise. Idaho's athletic teams, Pep band and stock judging teams have received much state and national publicity. If other departments and activities could be advertised as thoroughly by some such means as a radio station, the school's biggest problem, the gaining of recognition in this state, would solve itself.

An Aquatic Meet for Eds and Co-eds

Thus far nothing has been said about holding inter-class, intra-mural or inter-collegiate swimming meets now that the university has a pool. From the number of fans using the Nat during open hours and the number of proficient swimmers who display their wares, it seems that enough interest would be aroused by an aquatic meet to make it worth while. True, there are not many diving facilities but that is a small matter. The chief thing is that any competition which makes for group or individual rivalry in a healthy, athletic way stops just that much rivalry in less beneficial ways. Agitation is going on in most Pacific coast schools now to make swimming a minor sport. Nearly all of them are going in for intra-mural swimming. And another point is that there is no reason for girls' groups not competing in such a sport.

Annual Ag Fair Tomorrow Night

More than a month of intensive work has been put forth to make the Ag fair a success tomorrow night. Members of the Ag school have put forth every effort to make this affair live up to the reputation of precious affairs of its kind. Ag fairs in former years have been well received and as the money realized is used toward paying the expenses of stock judging teams, the fairs are well worth student support.

The Safety Valve

To the Editor:
How much funnier unconscious humor is! The "Co-ed Argonaut" seemed almost devoid of jokes until I read the glad paean in praise of notable women graduates and found in the list that husky Phi Delt and second Rhodes scholar to Oxford, Carol Howe Foster, former consul at Vienna. It is all right for women to tog out in men's attire, but I draw the line at draping skirts about our University heroes of the past.
Mournfully yours for the rights of man,
Old Timer.

UNPOPULAR OPINION

Blaine Stubblefield

I went up to Mr. S. K.'s office in the Friendly City, found the door guard off duty, and got in. His coat was off and he was grinning over a fragment which he was dictating to a typewriter. He didn't ask me how I came up or make any comment on the spring weather. He said someone used to send him the Argonaut; that he liked it. I think it would be good business for the Argonaut manager to put S. K. on the mailing list again. Make it a tradition, say. It is about time we had a new tradition, anyway. Well, he gave me these comments, which had come in his mail.

APPLAUSE CARD

Hobble, Gobble, Razzle Dazzle
Sis Boom Ah!
U. of I. English Club—
Rah! Rah! Rah!

Dear S. K. I would like to be advised whether the University is teaching the use of the singular verb with plural subject, or if this is merely an idiosyncrasy of the more cultured English club.

—B. Y.

Or maybe its college slang—the kids did fairly well at that.
Note: Exceptions sustained. I would suggest to this critic that he use the apostrophe in "H's." He'll learn that when he starts to high school, though. No hurry.

Another one: Dear S. K. All us Kansans enjoyed Idaho's—we couldn't have done it better our selves. But what we want to know is: Did you deliver that speech? And did you give them value received?
Polly P T K O.

Dear S. K. The column conducted by the University of Idaho English club was all good, but the unsigned verses and the contribution by Tess were, it seemed to me, especially appropriate and provocative of laughs.
Wayne B. Wheeler.

Dear S. K. Naturally, as a student of W. S. C., the U. of I.'s most bitter rival, I was very critical of their Facetious Fragments. I tried to be charitable as well, but one thing I could not abide: Oxford may have education, but it makes a sad effort at a triole.

In the interest of poetic form and its appreciation, I must protest against such a mistake as appearance in your column.

Poetically,
Drap Loo.

Note: The error in Loo's last sentence is not typographical. I advise this critic to get his or her pail and go milk the cows. Meanwhile, I shall write Oxford that W. S. C. has some hot fertilizer on triolets.

I think the English club's column in the Spokesman was almost as silly as the base comments. S. K. got a bum deal, but it was his own fault: he saw the copy before he came down to entertain us. English club wit once a year won't hurt the Spokesman much, though, and S. K. is going to keep on coming.

SO'S YOUR OLD MAN

This city fellow, in contrast with his country cousin from W. S. See, is supposed to be sick as they come, always ready to put something over on somebody else and never have anyone put anything over him. He's supposed to be fast as they come, a regular bear with the women. He's supposed to be rakish as they come, fearing nothing, drinking anything, and wearing everything under the sun. YEAH, HE'S SUPPOSED TO.

Rigoletto

(A Review)

(By Prof. E. Orlo Bangs)
Yesterday afternoon after a long wait, the performance did not begin until 3:30. Moscow and the university had its second operatic thrill. The trunks and scenery arrived on the N. P. train on which the company should have arrived at noon but which was late and the audience was sitting patiently in their seats in the auditorium long before the truck loads of trunks and scenery arrived on the hill. However the hoped for thrill kept the packed house in a patient mood and everyone was more than repaid when the orchestra "sounded off."

The performance this year was much better sung than that of last year. Mr. Peroni is a better disciplinarian and conductor than the director of a year ago. His chorus and orchestra sang and played with an admirable ensemble and were at all times under control. The principle singers, Miss Luchese as Gilda, Mr. Tafura as the Duke, and Mr. Ghirardini as Rigoletto, all sang exceptionally well. Miss Luchese's light clear soprano was always more than pleasing and her "Caro Nome" was beautifully sung. Mr. Ghirardini was more than adequate as the hunchback while Mr. Tafura was a typical Italian tenor with plenty of "ping" in his top voice to give the punch to "La Donne Mobile" and the quartet. Incidentally the minor parts were surprisingly well done, De Biasi having a resonant bass voice for the part of Sparafucile, and Bernice Schalkler showed a good alto. The tunefulness of the opera and its excellent rendition more than made up for the shortcomings in scenery and setting.

GIRLS TENNIS TO HAVE NEW SYSTEM

Plans for the girls' tennis tournament are now rapidly taking form, according to Miss Rose Preuss, manager of girls' tennis. The girls will be arranged according to classes this year, and will be given numbers corresponding to the order in which they sign for tennis. Each girl will be allowed to challenge a girl with a number one or two places above her, thus working up to the highest number in her own class.

About April 10, the four highest girls in each class will practice for a week. At the end of that time an intra-class tournament will be held in a round-robin style. Four players will constitute each team. A committee of judges probably including Miss Jacobson, girls' gymnastium instructor, and the boys' tennis manager, will choose the four girls standing highest in the class tournaments to represent Idaho in the annual games with Whitman, about May 1.

The last date on which girls wishing to play tennis may sign is Tuesday, March 23. Playing will start Wednesday March 24.

"THE CHASTENING" HERE WEDNESDAY

Single Tickets Will Go on Sale Saturday

The public events committee at the university has announced that the single seat sale for "The Chastening," in which Charles Rann Kennedy and Edith Wynne Matthison will appear at the university next Wednesday night, March 24, in the fourth number of the artist course, will begin at Hodgins' drug store on Saturday at 9 o'clock. The price will be $1.25.

"The Chastening," the committee announces, has already been pronounced by competent judges, Kennedy's masterpiece. Amazingly original, it possesses the comedy and humanity of "The Servant in the House," the profound emotional appeal of "The Terrible Meek," with the cleansing and sublimity of both those plays. Dealing with a simple domestic situation, common to every home in the world, it is the play, par excellence, of family life, where in every parent, every child, may see himself written large, his problems probed to the depths, interpreted, "sanctified and lifted to the height where they belong." The smaller communities of this country are constantly complaining that no good drama reaches them until well worn-out, and even then with but indifferent companies to present it. Here is a play first-hand, written for these very communities by a master of the craft, with an all-star cast, including Edith Wynne Matthison.

BASEBALL TOSSERS NEAR PLAYING FORM

Pitching Force Looks Strong —First Games Scheduled April 9 and 10

Although the spring training season is but 10 days old, Coach David MacMillan's varsity baseball tossers are coveting in near playing form and training has progressed so far that the squad has been cut to a working force of 24 men. Despite a heavy balance of green material in the varsity ranks, campus dopsters still foresee a strong Vandal nine for the opening of the conference season in mid-April.

A tentative infield combination and pitching staff has already manifested itself, but the lineup for the outer gardens remains a tangled puzzle. Contenders are numerous, however, and Coach MacMillan will probably unearth the desired players before training progresses many more days.

Hurlers Strong

"Lit" Erickson, Walter Fields and Eugene Stockdale are giving every promise of forming one of the strongest pitching staffs in the conference. Erickson and Fields are tried veterans on the Vandal squad, and they should be in better form than ever this season. Stockdale is a find, but not an unheralded one, for he has burnt up the south Idaho circuits the past two years with the Idaho Tech team. He is a portside, tall and husky, and is reported to have a sizzling fast delivery which equals that of Erickson. Several other men have potential possibilities as pitchers, including Elliott, Richardson, Bob Lough and Frank Powers.

Impromptu practice games have brought to light one infield combination which appears a prudent bet for the regular lineup. This has lined up with Leonard Beall, first base, Irving Campbell, second, "Polly" Lehrbas, short, and Carl Murray on third. These men will have to hustle to keep even tentative berths however, for there is plenty of fast competition for the inner positions, some of the leading contenders being Bill Lansdon, 1925 letterman, Lefebvre and Burns. Pat Howerton has been working as catcher with the named infield lineup, but is being hard pressed for his post by Wilfred Walmaley, husky gridiron performer and "Red" Sullivan.

Competition Possible

There is a deluge of outfield prospects and it looks like a free-for-all race before the permanent fielders are selected. Vic Cameron is the only letterman in the throng, some of the other aspirants being Neal Nelson, Bob Lough, Frank Powers, Jim Simmons, Nye, Greeling, Herman Welker and Andy Hawkins.

Batting practice has been the essential part of training to date, intermingled with a few "choose up" practice skirmishes. Coach MacMillan is not at all pessimistic about the batting strength of his recruits, despite the fact that the team lost most of its heavy hitters by graduation.

"I expect the team's batting strength to be equal to, if not above that of the 1925 team," is the Vandal mentor's comment.

Sore arms and lame muscles, commonplace events in the usual spring training camp, have been missing so far and every squad member is in comparatively good condition. The team has been able to work outside regularly until the rain of this week drove them into Lewis court.

The squad will go under fire for the first time April 9 and 10, when it plays a practice series with the Lewis and Clark high school of Spokane at Moscow.

BASKETBALL CROWN GOES TO LEWISTON

Winners Get Four Men on All-State Team; Bacharach High Man

(By Les Robinson)

Another state basketball championship is over, a new champion wears the crown, and high schools in the state are settling back to normal and to interest in other athletic endeavors, except of course the champion Lewiston team, which is making preparations to attend the national meet at Chicago. "Babe" Brown's Lewiston Bengals swept through the state tourney in impressive fashion, and spilled considerable dope along the way. The final contest was expected to be a real battle between the two northern teams, and many fans thought Lewiston was weakening, from the deliberate way in which the team worked against Filer. But the Bengals let out all their speed and fury against the Panhandles, and handed this team its worst defeat of the year, 40 to 20. There was no stopping Lewiston's offensive combination, Barton, White, and Bacharach. These boys scored, it seemed, at will, with the aid of a dazzling floor play that had Sandpoint completely bewildered.

Pick All-State Team

Lewiston's brilliant play through the meet enabled the team to land four men on the two all-state teams, selected by Homer Huddleson, referee, Virgil Samma, Boise, and the writer. White and Bacharach, the Lewiston forwards, looked the peer of all offensive and scoring men. White's reputation had gone before him and every team concentrated its defense on him so Bacharach got loose for baskets, leading the meet with 70 points in the four games he played. Despite the fact that White worked against the all-state guards, Thomas and Eckholm, in the Pocatello and Sandpoint games, he was fourth scoring man with 51 points in four and a half games. Atkinson, Filer's sharpshooting guard, was third high scorer of the meet with 56 points and he was given a forward position above Bacharach because Filer just had to have a representative for the great showing it had made.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Beta Theta Pi hoopers won their way to the final game of the intra-mural basketball series, by winning games this week. Alpha Tau Omega fell before the onslaught of the Butterflies, 25-7, in the first contest Monday night and Sigma Nu lost to the Beta Devil Dogs in the second. The score was 33 to 12.

The final game of the tournament will be played Monday night at 8 o'clock in the university gym. The S. A. E. five undefeated throughout the season and looming largest as cup contenders before this week's play, were partially eclipsed by the startling comeback of the Betas, leaving the result of the final game in doubt.

CALL FOR PITCHERS AT U. W.

University of Washington, Seattle, March 18—(P. I. P.)—Six veterans reported with a host of new pitchers and coaches in response to Coach Tubby Graves first call for battery aspirants Monday. "Lefty" Jones, Elmer Tesreau, and Harold Shidler are the experienced fingers upon whom Coach Graves will rely this year, while Captain "Beaver" Walby, Orin Matlock, and Ken McKenzie will be on the receiving end.

The initial turnout of infielders and outfielders has been moved back to March 20. The first conference game will be in Seattle on May 7, when the University of Oregon comes north for a two game series.

MEMORIAL DRIVE STARTS APRIL 24

Latah County Goes "Over the Top" With Quota

Plans have been completed to launch on April 24, a statewide campaign for funds to erect a $250,000 Idaho war memorial building on the campus at the University of Idaho, at Moscow, it is announced here today. I. E. Kockwell of Bellevue, former member of the state board of education, has been named executive chairman of the drive. The campaign will end May 1. Intensive efforts will be put forth in all counties, except Kootenai, Clearwater, Latah and Shoshone, which have already gone over the top.

The campaign for the memorial building, which will be in the nature of a gymnasium and armory on the university campus, was inaugurated in the fall of 1924, but was only carried to a conclusion in a few of the counties, of which Latah was one, this county subscribing more than its quota in a whirlwind campaign.

N. A. A. WRESTLING MATCHES AT O. A. C.

Oregon Agricultural College, Mar. 19—(P. I. P.)—The national amateur athletic wrestling tournament will be here April 15, 16, and 17. The tournament is attracting a great deal of interest in wrestling circles and entries are being received from all parts of the country.

The Olamhoma Aggies, last year national champions, will send 16 men. Five of them are national champions and 3 are Olympic men. Ames, Cornell, and Princeton are sending a diversified team under one manager.

Other colleges and athletic clubs entering teams are University of Washington, University of Idaho, University of Oregon, Washington State college, Multnomah Amateur athletic club, and Los Angeles Amateur Athletic club.
