"THE CHASTENING" MAINTAINS ARTIST-COURSE STANDARD

Tomorrow Night's Play Wins Praise of Dr. George Morey Miller

CAST HAS WIDE FAME

C. R. Kennedy and Wife Are Versatile Performers; Few Tickets Left

"The Chastening," which plays in the auditorium Wednesday night and its all star cast will afford a performance fully equal to the other numbers of the artist's course," says Dr. George Morey Miller. "Charles Rand Kennedy has achieved as much fame as any one man on the English speaking stage, and is not only a great dramatist but also an eminent actor and an equally eminent producer."

Charles Rand Kennedy is probably best known in this country for his acting in the play, "The Servant in the House." He is the author of nearly a score of plays, all of them noteworthy for depth of thought and feeling and for forceful symbolism, for playful humor and simple realism and for a method that will either stand the test of the rules of Aristotle or the requirements of the greatest modern producers.

Edith Wayne Matthison, Mrs. Kennedy in private life, is regarded on both sides of the Atlantic as one of the greatest artists of today. She seems equally gifted in tragedy and in comedy. Her voice and her diction afford a delight no other woman on the English speaking stage can give. She has played in every phase of the drama, from the drama of ancient Greece through the medieval miracle plays and moralities and Shakespeare to the best moderns.

Margaret Gage, who plays the part of the Boy, is a young artist of undoubted genius. She not only acts in perfect taste but has achieved distinction as a director in the Greek plays put on by the Kennedys.

VETERANS CAST IN SHAKESPEARE PLAY

Principal Men's Roles Taken By Students with Varied Stage Experiences

Principal men's parts in "Romeo and Juliet," announced for first performance on Wednesday of Junior week, will be taken by student actors who have had unusually varied experience with college dramatics. Kneeland Parker, who will play Romeo, is again in college after an absence of three semesters; consequently to many undergraduate students his work is unknown, but by upperclassmen he will be remembered as a thoroughly satisfying romantic actor.

BLUE BUCKET COPY IN PRINTER'S HANDS

Magazine on Sale Tuesday, March 30; Kioty Bill Appears

Blue Bucket copy has gone to press and the year's third edition will be on sale Tuesday, March 30, or Wednesday, according to Blaine Stubblefield, manager.

GIRLS' HOOP CONTEST SCHEDULE CHANGED

Final Play in Intra-mural Basketball Tournament Wednesday

On account of a conflict in dates with the Moroni Olesen players last Thursday, the schedule for the girls intra-mural basketball tournament has been changed. Pi Sigma Rho played the Town girls last night in the first game of the series, and Alpha Chi Omega played Kappa Alpha Theta.

OREGON MEN SEEK UNIVERSITY HEAD

Delegation Will Interview Dr. A. H. Upham on Possibilities for Job

Three representatives of the University of Oregon will visit President Upham, probably Wednesday or Thursday, to investigate his possibility as president of the university, according to word received from the coast. Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the department of education; Vernon H. Vawter of Medford and Judge G. F. Skipworth will look Doctor Upham over, it is understood. The men will visit five or six universities whose heads are possible timber for the Oregon institution. The University of Wyoming is the only other institution known to be stated for the visit.

That 25 colleges and universities in the United States, paying salaries of from $10,000 to $14,000 for presidents, either have vacancies at the present time, or have their presidencies filled, but temporarily, was an additional statement made. The salary provided for the president of the University of Oregon is $10,000 annually. The fact that the University of Oregon is in competition with 25 other institutions of higher learning for a president of first class proven ability, has, it was declared, made the task confronting the regents a most difficult one.

However, the statement was made that it is hoped the canvass to be made by Dean Sheldon, Judge Skipworth and Mr. Vawter will result in the selection of the type of man desired for the presidency of the University of Oregon to succeed the late Dr. Prince L. Campbell.

"Purple Pepsters" is the name of a new "pen" organization at Kansas State college.

O. A. C. Coach's Contract Renewed Oregon Agricultural College, Mar. 18.—(P. I. P.)—Paul J. Schissler, head football coach, has accepted a new five-year contract to coach the Aggies until 1931. His old contract expires in June, 1927.

Coach Schissler came to O. A. C. from the middle west with an enviable record. He took over the coaching position here when prospects were none too bright, and through ceaseless endeavor raised the Aggies from the bottom of the conference list to the top when they beat Washington last year for the northwest championship. This was the first time the Aggies had won the northwest championship since 1914.

COUNCIL CANCELS EASTER VACATION

Fear of Possible Spread of Spinal Meningitis Cause of Official Action

Cancellation of annual Easter vacation to keep students from going home and possibly bringing back spinal meningitis to the campus has been unanimously voted by the academic council of the university. To compensate loss of the regular vacation the council plans to arrange several half holidays. The President's announcement follows: "In view of the fact that cerebrospinal meningitis is rather prevalent throughout north Idaho and Washington, the university is asking the closest cooperation of all students in avoiding exposure to infection from this disease. We do not need to be reminded of the danger, the anxiety, and the general disturbance of all activities which even one case of meningitis among the students will produce."

"As a means of protection the Academic Council at a recent meeting voted unanimously to omit this spring the short Easter vacation we have observed in recent years, and urge upon the students that they avoid so far as possible all week-end visits home. To relieve the long, steady grind of an unbroken semester the Council will arrange for several half holidays between now and Commencement."

IDAHO CO-EDS WIN FROM GRIZZLY TEAM

National Shoot Next Week Will End Vandals' Intercollegiate Season

Idaho co-ed sharpshooters won from the University of Montana, 465 to 452. Gertrude Gould won first place for Idaho with 96 counters out of a possible 100. Hazel Roe tied for second place with K. O. Donnell, Montana, with 95. Marjion White scored third with 92. Helen Austin and Josephine Keane each scored 91.

Next week the girls fire in the national match which is sponsored by the Dot and Circle, a girls athletic society of Northwestern university. This match ends the season for the team.

ALL-STARS TRAMP ON VANDAL ELEVEN

Matty Outgenerals Regulars—Coaches Get Breaks and Convert

Gridiron stars of bygone days trod triumphantly again Friday afternoon when Coach R. L. Mathews' all-star football team defeated the University of Idaho Vandals 10 to 0. The game was slow and marred by frequent fumbles, stalling, and ill completed plays.

The all-stars completely outshone the varsity in aggressiveness and taking advantage of opportune breaks. They scored a well-earned touchdown in the third quarter and a field goal in the last period. The varsity never came within striking distance of its opponent's goal.

The brilliant feature of the game was the determined assault by the coaches in the third quarter which carried the ball half the length of the field for a touchdown. A forward pass, Mathews to Cameron, netted 22 yards. Bucklin drove for eight and a second pass, Mathews to Cameron, again gave 8 yards to the 22 yard line. A cut-back by Cameron put the ball on the 4 yard line and Bucklin carried it over.

Fumble Gives Score A fumbled kick by Gamble, Vandal halfback, which the stars recovered on the Idaho 6 yard mark, paved the way for the second score. The stars failed in three attempts to gain through the Vandal line but a drop kick by "Dusty" Kline went straight over the cross bar for a field goal. A frantic last minute thrust by the varsity was cut short by the gun with the ball on the all star's 15 yard line. Kline led this a tack single-handed, hitting the ends, alternately for gains of from 6 to 15 yards. Neil Irving, Vandal halfback of 22, whose name is recorded in "Believe it or Not" for his feat of never missing a try for point after a touchdown in his college career, added one more goal to his record by converting the kick after the all-star touchdown. Coach Mathews failed to make any spectacular runs, but made up for this deficiency by a steady barrage of verbal fireworks.

DEANS OF WOMEN DISCUSS CONDITIONS

Interesting Topics are Brought up At Conference

Southern California, March 19.—(P. I. P.)—The annual conference of the National Dean of Women held at Washington, D. C., brought up some interesting topics regarding college women, according to Dean Mary Sinclair Crawford who recently returned from the East.

Extra curricular activity was proposed as the solution for helping develop women's judgment parallel with rising independence in social life. It was also noticed that a tendency for more outdoor life brought about additional problems, but that from the health viewpoint it had its compensations.

S. A. E.'S DEFEAT BETAS FOR CUP

Win 27-16 In Final Tilt; Banquet Will Be Held Friday

Final Standings	W.	L.	Pct.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	6	0	1.000

Phi Gamma Delta	0	2	.000
Sigma Pi Rho	0	2	.000

Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated Beta Theta Pi 27-16 in the final game of the intra-mural basketball series last night. Taking the lead at the start of play, the Butterflies were never headed. By half time they had rolled their total to 14, with the Betas counting 4. High calibre playing marked the champions hip tilt. The Betas and S. A. E.'s furnished pen bands for the occasion and more interest was displayed in the game than has been shown previously during the entire season.

Beta Theta Pi is entertaining the S. A. E. hoopers, including coaches Erickson and Jacoby, at a dinner Friday night.

Summary	Beta Theta Pi	Bucklin
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	G	Irving
Cheyne	G	Smith
Peterson	C	Neilson

U. S. C. Proposes New Plan to Have Staffs Pick Editors

University of Southern California, Mar. 18.—(P. I. P.)—Four constitutional amendments affecting the method by which the editors of the Daily Trojan and El Rodeo Annual are chosen were proposed at a meeting of the executive committee. The new plan provides that editors of these publications and their business managers be nominated on the basis of past experience by members of their staffs, names of candidates to be submitted to the students in the May elections.

FORESTRY STUDENTS ACTIVE IN RESEARCH

Six Upperclassmen Investigate Requirements for Graduation

Five experiments, from which realization of significant data is hoped, have been started by six juniors and seniors in the Idaho school of forestry. Their investigations as material for these which constitute part of the graduation requirements.

Walter Field, a senior, is working on a problem involving determination of the inflammability and after-glow of different sound woods of various moisture content. I. S. Doyle, also a senior, is using wood rot instead of sound woods in a similar way. A preliminary study of the shrinkage of various species of composite woods is being undertaken by D. B. Huntington, senior. Walter Crumston, senior, is studying the rate of absorption of liquids by woods of different species during soaking. A study of relative moisture content of logs when transported by river and by rail has been commenced by W. E. Beals and R. H. Davis, juniors. These three problems take up matters of importance in the commercial cutting, transportation, and treatment of timber.

ROBT. L. MATHEWS MAY LEAVE IDAHO FOR EASTERN POST

"Matty" Is Considering Athletic Directorship of St. Louis University

DICKERING IN EAST

Says He Has Reached No Decision; Coast Papers Deplore Change

The University of Idaho may next year be without the services of its athletic director and football coach, Robert L. Mathews. Coach Mathews is now in St. Louis conferring with officials of St. Louis university regarding the proffered position as athletic director of that institution. Coach Mathews left Moscow Friday night for the east, being granted a leave of absence by the university to make the trip. Commenting on the move in a long distance telephone interview with the Associated Press he said:

"I was approached by St. Louis authorities about a month ago. They are looking for a coach and athletic director and I told them that naturally I am always interested in any new proposition in which I think I will better myself. I have reached no decision, but have their offer under consideration."

Coach Mathews' negotiations for the St. Louis position came like a bolt out of the blue sky to most Idaho supporters. Earlier in the year there were rumors that he was considering another position, but as these proved to be groundless it was generally assumed that he would be at Idaho next fall. He has been working on a yearly contract basis since coming to Idaho.

Negotiations Surprise Idahoans The St. Louis university position is a desirable one. Formerly the St. Louis athletic teams were rated as among the strongest of the non-conference colleges in the mid-west. They have fallen down considerably in prestige in the last three or four years, especially this fall under the mentorship of Don Savage. Savage's resignation has left vacant the office which the St. Louis university officials are bidding Mathews.

The possibility of Coach Mathews' leaving Idaho has raised considerable comment in the papers of the north-west, all of which express hope that he will stay with the Vandals. A Lewiston Tribune sports writer says in part: "Here is hoping Matty decides to stay with us for a few years longer. Idaho can not hope to hold a man of the calibre of Mathews for many years. The available coaching material for a man to replace him is very scarce, as witness the difficulty Washington State had in securing a coach. And the Cougars have succeeded in getting about the one real man available in the west. It would be a serious blow to Idaho football and athletics for Mathews to leave at the present time."

W. S. C. APPOINTS TWO NEW COACHES

"Babe" Hollingsbery and "Buck" Bailey Are Chosen

Washington State college—Pullman—After nearly three months' search for a football coaching staff, the athletic council of Washington State college tonight announced the appointment of Orin E. (Babe) Hollingsbery, coach of the Olympic Athletic club of San Francisco, as head football coach. "Buck" Bailey, Hollingsbery's assistant at the Olympic club, was signed as assistant to the new W. S. C. coach. Salary agreements were not announced. The contracts were for one year.

Both Hollingsbery and Bailey will arrive on the W. S. C. campus April 1, when spring football training will start for six weeks.

The selection of these two western men will mark the end of an 11-year reign of the Warner system of football at W. S. C. under Indian stars of the Carlisle school. Hollingsbery and Bailey are both western men, know Pacific coast football and are thoroughly familiar with the Pacific coast teams.

For the last three years Hollingsbery has coached the Olympic club teams. Last season the Olympic club eleven defeated the University of California and Stanford eleven. During the season the Olympic club won 11 games.

STUDENTS WILL HEAR OF Y. M. C. A. SUMMER CAMP

"Sabbath" is the topic for the Y. M. C. A. meeting next Tuesday evening in the U-hall. A delegation from W. S. C. will be present. There will be slides and a lecture on Sabbath. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. The time has been advanced to 7 o'clock.

LANGE WILL START DESIGNS AT ONCE

Construction May be Commenced Next Summer on Women's Quarters; Will Use Up Old Fund

Authorization for construction of a $100,000 women's dormitory was made by the executive committee of the state board of education in session here Thursday. Prof. David C. Lange, university architect will be instructed immediately to prepare plans for the edifice so actual construction may be started at once. It is possible that blue prints and other incidentals may be taken care of in order to start work on the building this summer, said President A. H. Upham.

The building will follow the same unit plan as Forney hall, which was constructed with funds raised by the University Building Association of Moscow two years ago. At this time the association, composed of Moscow business men agreed to contract for bonds to the sum of $200,000 to be used in constructing Forney hall and another dormitory as soon as need for it was felt.

Will Rent Building The university, on its part, agreed to turn over the profits from the building, coming in the form of rentals, and this will be applied to retire the principal and pay interest charges. The terms of the contract between the building association and the university are that the university will rent the dormitory for 20 years, during which time it is probable that the indebtedness will be wiped out. Under this plan the students will virtually pay for the building, without obligating the state administration.

The need for the new building has been felt here during the last year. It is estimated that with the percentage of increase in enrollment that has held during the last few years, 1,000 or more girls will require housing for quarters. If the sophomore pledging system proposed by the Mortar board society is adopted, an additional 125 or 150 girls will be placed in a similar position, it was explained.

The board of regents of the University of Minnesota has entered the fight to restrict industrial expansion near the university.

DEFAULTS FEATURE FORENSIC SERIES

Two Teams Forfeit Thursday Contests for Third Round of Tourney

Kappa Kappa Gamma forfeited to Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Sigma to Phi Delta Theta last night in the third round of the intra-mural debate series.

On March 15, Lindley hall defeated Ridenbaugh on the question, Resolved: That women should not hold public executive offices. The Lindley team upheld the affirmative side of the question. On March 18, Sigma Nu, affirmative, outtalked the Phi Gamma Delta team on the question, Resolved: That military training at Idaho should be compulsory. On the same night, the Pi Sigma Rho's, affirmative, won from Omega Alpha on the question, Resolved: That undergraduates should not become engaged to marry.

The schedule and questions are: March 23—Sigma Alpha Epsilon, affirmative, vs. Beta Theta Pi, negative. Resolved: That the United States government should conscript money as well as men in case of war." and Delta Chi, affirmative, vs. Sigma Chi, negative. Resolved: That there should be local politics on the Idaho campus."

March 24—Tau Kappa Iota, affirmative, vs. Beta Chi, negative. Resolved: That the United States should retract from the World Court," and Daleth Teit Gimel, affirmative, vs. Forney hall, negative. Resolved: That the new or fall system of grading should be adopted in our university."

March 25—Delta Gamma, affirmative, vs. Gamma Phi Beta, negative. Resolved: That we should adopt the honor system at Idaho," and Tau Mem Aleph, affirmative, vs. Sigma Pi Kho, negative. Resolved: That the law requiring the reading of the Bible in our public schools should be repealed."

March 29—Kappa Alpha Theta, affirmative, vs. Alpha Tau Omega, negative. Resolved: That congressmen should cast their votes on national questions irrespective of public opinion at home," and Pi Beta Phi, affirmative, vs. Phi Gamma Delta, negative. Resolved: That the United States should not become a world power."

Waiting—?

With a representation from the University of Oregon coming here tomorrow to confer with Dr. Upham and their mission avowedly the search for a suitable president for the Oregon school, the Idaho students are having some uneasy moments. What if he should be offered enough inducement to leave Idaho? Where would Idaho get another man of his calibre? And what would the university be without Prexy?

There is nothing definite to indicate that this may happen—but it is far from improbable. If the president should have an opportunity to better himself it is unreasonable to suppose that he would not take advantage of it. But all Idaho hopes that he will not see it that way. Until some definite announcement is forthcoming to the effect that he is going to stay, there will be much anxiety at the university.

No Vacation

The academic council has decided that there will be no spring vacation. Much weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth has resulted but to no avail. The reason given for this action is that the authorities wish to prevent an influx of any more diseases with the returning students. Experience has shown that after every vacation when the students return from various parts of the state, there is always a choice assortment of sickness prevalent on the campus.

And anyway, the five day respite from studies only serves to get schedules and studies in a muddle, causes students to lose several nights sleep, and the benefits of so short a vacation are not readily apparent. Some, who have made plans for the customary Easter vacation, will be disappointed, but no particular harm is apt to result if they make different plans. And besides, they will have had all the fun of anticipation.

LENGTH OF MAN'S TROUSERS NOTICED FIRST BY CO-EDS

(By Betty Mount)
Explanatory: This article deals with women's opinion of men. Next week it will express men's opinion of women.

"Neatness" is the only point on which the women agree at all when it comes to men, according to the responses given to the question, "What do you notice first about a man?" These responses were obtained by interviewing 25 representative Idaho women. Aside from this one quality the answers are as varied as the speakers.

"The length of his trousers—I always notice that first about a man. Nothing makes or mars a man for me like the presence or absence of an inch or two on the bottom of his trousers." Trousers come in for a good deal of attention. Apparently, for some, the measure of a man's sophistication may be had by the cut of his trousers. "His baggy trousers, his collegiate ties, and whether his hair is curly or not"—this is the complex mixture offered by one bright eyed co-ed.

Collar Must Fit
"The fit of his collar impresses me first of all—if it rolls up at the edges, I stop there." "I notice shirts first—much can be gleaned from the kind of a shirt a man wears—if his mother picks them out?—then he is ruled out automatically!" These remarks from two who seem to find that shirts and collars are a good index to taste. Ties come in for attention from others. "Do his eyes and ties match?"

Kioty's Lingo Is Imitated After Many Attempts

The author of Kioty Bill has submitted the following letter, by Miss Janet Hawkins, as the most successful attempt, so far, to imitate the Salmon Bar lingo.

Dear Ma,
Well ma, we had a grand opera here last week. They covered up all the windows so as nobody could look in from the outside and save there money. It was a grecian comedy called Rigoletow. The band that they brought wasn't the least bit jazzy, but this Rigoletow was wrote during the age of Chawsser who was a dramatist of the fifth century and probably wouldn't be very Jjazzy (Rigoletow, not Chawsser) Well ma, you when I was a frosh but I couldn't understand more than half of the opera. Grecian dialog has a peculiar accent and they run their words together. Hot dog, ma, the heroine was sure pertty. Her sweetie was one of them eastern devils that desert women and he was making love to another girl. The heroine was

—if so take him away; I can't bear any more." This from a decided young freshman. "I always notice ties, they are so enlightening," but this cryptic remark was all that could be gathered from the home-ec girl; she would not enlarge on the statement.

Fas'idiousness an Asset
"Fas'idiousness is what I look for—as expressed in attention to detail. I don't care whether his suit is the latest cut or not but I do insist that the suit show signs of having encountered an iron recently." This opinion came appropriately from a neat little slip of a girl and it came emphatically.

"A knowing air—that's the first thing I register concerning a man. If he has it I proceed to the details; if he hasn't I cease. With details, I think the mouth comes first—including teeth." The speaker quite epitomized this knowing air.

"A man's carriage and his walk—these are the first things I notice about a man. If he moves as a unit I'm quite impressed."
"Friendliness is what I notice about a man, whether he goes about like he were of the campus rather than above or below it," and just the opposite from another girl, "Alloofness appeals of me primarily. I like a detached air about a man."

Women seem to be interested in the general effect of a man, and each in a different aspect of this general effect.

heart broke and she finally got stabed in the end. Then her old man was pertty sore. The climax come when the heroine wasn't dead after all but jumped up and bowed. Gosh, ma, it was sure a rair piece of grand opera.
Your son,
Kioty.

ENGLISH CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN ACTORS

Artist Course Players Will be Guests At Reception Wednesday.

Members of the English club who have paid their dues are privileged to attend the reception for Charles Rann Kennedy, Edith Wynne Mathison, and o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to W. C. Brown, president. Mr. Kennedy and his cast will appear in "The Chastening" Wednesday evening in the auditorium.
Mr. Kennedy and his wife, Miss Mathison, are internationally known dramatists and their presentation tomorrow is a part of the artists' course to which student tickets will be accepted for admission.
All English club members have been urged to attend the reception.

UNPOPULAR OPINION

Blaine Stubblefield

Idaho now has something under a hundred organizations, graduating down from the student body itself to such gajamattas as the Washington club. It is safe to say that not more than half of these have any excuse for existence at all.

College organizations may be classified as social, honorary, and something else that is neither social nor honorary—groups of self-styled superior individuals. The last two are, almost without exception, as worthless as the buttons on a coat sleeve. Their principal functions are collecting dues and wasting hundreds of hours in "meetings."

The worst feature of the "superior" groups is that they make individual accomplishment a means rather than an end. Students are led to believe that their achievements will be measured by the number of badges, beauty pins, ribbons, and other such clap-trap displayed on the abdomen. Nothing could be more false or ridiculous. Work done for any other reason than for the sake of the work itself is pure monkeyshine.

Who organizes the superior cliques? Certainly not those who have already won distinction; they don't need anything of the kind—they don't want it. They sail under their own canvas.

We Americans crawl prostrate before gold coin, heroes and all kinds of voodoo. Get yourself a dark room, a few Circian signals, a smudge to make a slow-lifting smoke, a talismanic title—and then mount your throne, pronounce your incantation, and—Presto! you have a room full of suckers clamoring to pay their dues.

We all want to be "in" something. The fetish holds us fast. We all want to be like somebody else—to make our manners, feelings and our thoughts like those of others. We are doing away with the individual. Probably not once in a college generation will you see a man that has the power to unshackle himself and stand alone.

Of course you will say that this is all destructive rant—that it is carried too far. Perhaps it is. Nevertheless, it is not a bad subject to think about.

Just to be a little more pleasant.—Did you go to the Ag carnival? Phat Stevens' yellow dog was cross-eyed, and a lead pipe took the place of a brass rail, but all in all, he ran a tough joint.

OROFINO CLUB AIDS LOAN FUND
The university today received a check for $70 from the Idaho club of Orofino to be added to the student loan fund, according to L. F. Parsons, executive secretary. Leslie E. Eddie is president of the club and Jessie R. Grigson is secretary and treasurer.

HE probably will not tell you that clean, neat, typewritten work brings better marks—but it does—and the reason is obvious. It relieves him of that tedious task of deciphering longhand, and keeps him in perfect "reading humor". Then too, you'll find the New Remington Portable a great time-saver in compiling notes and keeping up with your correspondence. Students prefer the New Remington Portable because it is the lightest, smallest, and most compact of all standard keyboard portables. It fits in a case only four inches high and can be tucked away in a desk drawer or bookcase when not in use. ## AG STUDENTS STAGED WILD WEST CARNIVAL

More Than 200 Couples Entertained at Dance and Saloon

Ag students staged their annual Ag Carnival last Saturday evening in the gymnasium. Approximately 200 couples danced to the tune of Beardsley Merrill's orchestra. Bogus money passed freely across the bar at the "Yellow Dog Saloon." Ice cream sold for five dollars per cone. The "Fat" man, the roulette wheels, the fortune tellers, added color to the scene.

CALIFORNIA BUYING IDAHO DAIRY CATTLE

Atkeson Points Out Advantages of Southern Market

California is becoming a dependable market for Idaho dairy cows, it is pointed out by F. W. Atkeson, dairy husbandryman for the University of Idaho. In two or three districts in south Idaho buyers have been stationed almost continuously and the animals are being shipped directly or indirectly to California.

"The present situation is a very desirable one for the Idaho dairy industry," says Professor Atkeson. "With cheap feeds southern Idaho can grow cattle more economically than many other sections. The state is a very logical dairy state and the wholesale dispersal of cattle is certainly not to be encouraged. The whole milk market of California, however, may be taken care of, and the sale of surplus cattle will yield a welcome income."

FORESTRY WEEK STARTS APRIL 18

Dean F. G. Miller is State Forest Week Chairman; H. S. Essay Contest

Five committees to handle the Idaho observance of American Forest Week, April 18 to 24, have been appointed by F. G. Miller, dean of the University of Idaho school of forestry, and state Forest Week chairman. Twenty persons, including forestry school faculty, will serve.

The purpose of the observance is two-fold: to impress Idaho citizens with the economic importance of Idaho's forest resources, and to explain the actual working of the new Idaho forestry law, enacted recently.

"Do you know that more than two-fifths of the entire state of Idaho, approximately 23,000,000 acres, is forested?" asks a bulletin issued by the general committee. "Idaho's lumber industry is one of the most important in the state, paying out annually more than $22,000,000 for wages and supplies. The value of state owned timber is conservatively placed at $30,000,000.

"The greatest menace to forests is fire, and the fire hazard in Idaho is greater than in any other state."

Plans are being made by the committees in charge to send speakers into high schools throughout the state for special "Forestry Week" programs. Three cash prizes of $15, $10, and $5 will be awarded to any three of three best essays written by any Idaho high school students on the subject: "The relation of forestry to the farm." Judges will be Prof. H. I. Nettleton, Idaho school of forestry; Prof. George Sulerad, Idaho college of agriculture, and Mrs. T. A. Seely of the English department. The prizes are donated by the North Idaho Forestry association.

GLEE CLUB WILL PUT ON VARIED PROGRAM

Concert Will Be Given Two Nights; Free to Students

With the help of four members of the faculty, Miss Cowan, Prof. John Cushman, Maud Garnet, and Talbot Jennings, the Idaho Glee club will put on a varied program, free to college students Friday and Saturday nights in the university auditorium.

That the concerts to be given will be the best in years, is the statement of the former managers, Harry Bronn and Robert Cummins. "You have the best program I have heard," said Bronn, after attending a rehearsal. "here'd you get all the dope?"

Miss Cowan of the Physical Training department is directing the dances and some of the "crazy" numbers. Mr. Cushman of the English department is working on the lighting effects and is directing features. Miss Garnet of the music department is coaching the male quartet, and Talbot Jennings also of the English department is working on some clever ideas.

"We can promise the crowd many surprises, a lot of fun, and some real harmony," says manager Ray Currie. "Come expecting anything and everything."

The male quartet has a surprise, a musical comedy, that has taken the crowd by storm in colleges in the East, according to Miss Garnet.

DRAW FOR TENNIS MATCH THIS WEEK

Will Post Tournament Pairings Friday or Saturday

The drawings for the coming tennis tournament will be made early this week, according to William Calloway, senior tennis manager. The list will be posted on the bulletin board Friday or Saturday.

Owing to the recent erratic weather the courts have been put out of playing condition, but Manager Calloway announces that they will be ready for playing before the first round of the tournament.

BEGINNERS TO GIVE FOUR ONE-ACT PLAYS

Four one-act will be given in the U-Hut by Professor Cushman's beginning class in dramatics Thursday evening at 6:45 o'clock. No admission will be charged and the whole campus and Moscow townspeople are invited.

U. OF W. TRIES TO IMPROVE STATUS OF GOLF SWIMMING

University of Washington, Seattle, March 19—(P. I. P.)—An attempt to place swimming and golf on a firmer basis in the University of Washington is being made by the Minor W club. Lack of a nearby tank has greatly handicapped aquatic events here, but local swimmers are looking forward to a swimming tank in the new athletic pavilion.

Recent university golf teams have secured marked success in competition, but the golfers are attempting to eliminate the greens fee that is now charged for practice on the local course.

CAMPUS DAY PLAN BE PUBLISHED SOON

Generalissimo Yager Preparing For Annual Cleanup Drive

Plans for 1934 campus day are under way and will be announced late next week, according to Generalissimo Sidney Yager, vice president of the student body. Complete information regarding the day's program will be given.

Every student should ascertain his assigned duty from the schedule, which will appear in the Argonaut, and get ready for duty, according to Mr. Yager. Disasters suffer in the hands of the "I" men.

FROSH WILL MIX AT GYM TONIGHT

Furnish Their Own Music; Dancing from 7:00 Until 9:00

Every frosh is expected to turn out tomorrow night at the gymnasium for the "All-Frosh" Mixer, according to Rose Regan, chairman of the dance committee. No dates will be allowed going to the party, but according to the chairman, it is immaterial who takes who home. Dancing will begin at 7 o'clock and last until 9 o'clock. Music will be furnished by an orchestra made up of frosh only who will take turns playing.

Feature numbers will be given by Estelle Piskrell, Helen Wann, and Paul Kitto. Ice cream cones will be served for refreshments. There will be a general admission charge of 10 cents.

Irving Smith, frosh prexy, says that he would like to see all of the freshman class there in order to get acquainted and to get organized.

STUDENTS ENTER TROPHY CONTEST

250 Try for Bronze Bust of Washington; Already At Work

Two hundred and fifty-five students will compete for the bronze bust of George Washington in the third annual American History Trophy Essay contest, sponsored by the Idaho chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, it has been announced by Prof. C. J. Brosnan, of the American history department. Lists of suggested topics have been handed competing students, and in many cases, actual research in preparation of these has been started, according to Mr. Brosnan.

"The contest has been on for two years," said Mr. Brosnan, "but preliminary interest on the contest is much keener than ever before. Many of the contestants who were awarded places last year are competing again this year and it is possible that some excellent historical essays will result.

The grand trophy, which is awarded to the social group making the highest number of points, is now in possession of Sigma Chi, where it was placed last year when Lew Williams took first place in the contest last year. Marjorie Simpson, Delta Gamma, took first place for 1924. Other winners for last year were May Alvord, Delta Gamma, second place, and Lucretia Foster, Pi Beta Phi, third place.

The main trophy is a bust of George Washington, designed and executed by Bianchini, the noted Italian sculptor. The name of the fraternity or group to which the winner of the trophy belongs, is engraved annually on the pedestal of the bust. Announcements of the winners of the prize is a feature at Commencement.

WORLD TOUR PAYS EXPENSES

The Y. W. C. A. trip around the world Friday was as exciting as advertised. There were four groups which left Forney hall and voyaged to the four ports, Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Sigma Rho, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Ridenbaugh hall.

"We accomplished our aim," said Mildred Perry. "We made enough to send a delegate to Seabeck this summer."

A freshman edition of the Daily Palo Alto, at Stanford, will be written by freshmen members of the staff and printed in green ink. The editor is responsible for the edition.

SEABECK ATTRACTS 9 IDAHO STUDENTS

Others Plan to Make Summer Trip; Francis Eldridge Heads Committee

Nine men have signed up to attend the Intercollegiate student conference, June 12 to 21, according to the "Seabeck barometer" in George Oliver's office in the "U" hut. Other students have signified their intention of signing in a few days.

"On what basis is a man going to select his wife? is one of the most frequently asked questions at Seabeck," said George Cole, Y. M. C. A. secretary of Washington, who visited the Idaho campus last week in the interests of the Seabeck conference.

"Is there a better way of settling international disputes than by fighting? Are the principles laid down by Jesus Christ applicable to modern life? Are we going to Christianize the economic process of the world? Do races have inherent rights or are they subordinate to other races?—these are the four major problems discussed at Seabeck."

Ten men went to Seabeck last year, President A. H. Upham, being one of the members of the delegation and a faculty member. This year's quota is 15, but it is quite probable the delegates from Idaho will exceed that number. Those who have signed for Seabeck are as follows: George Oliver, George Waters, Irving Selby, James Cromwell, Neil Jones, Clarence Jenks, John Settle, Theodore Kellburg and Ray Yost.

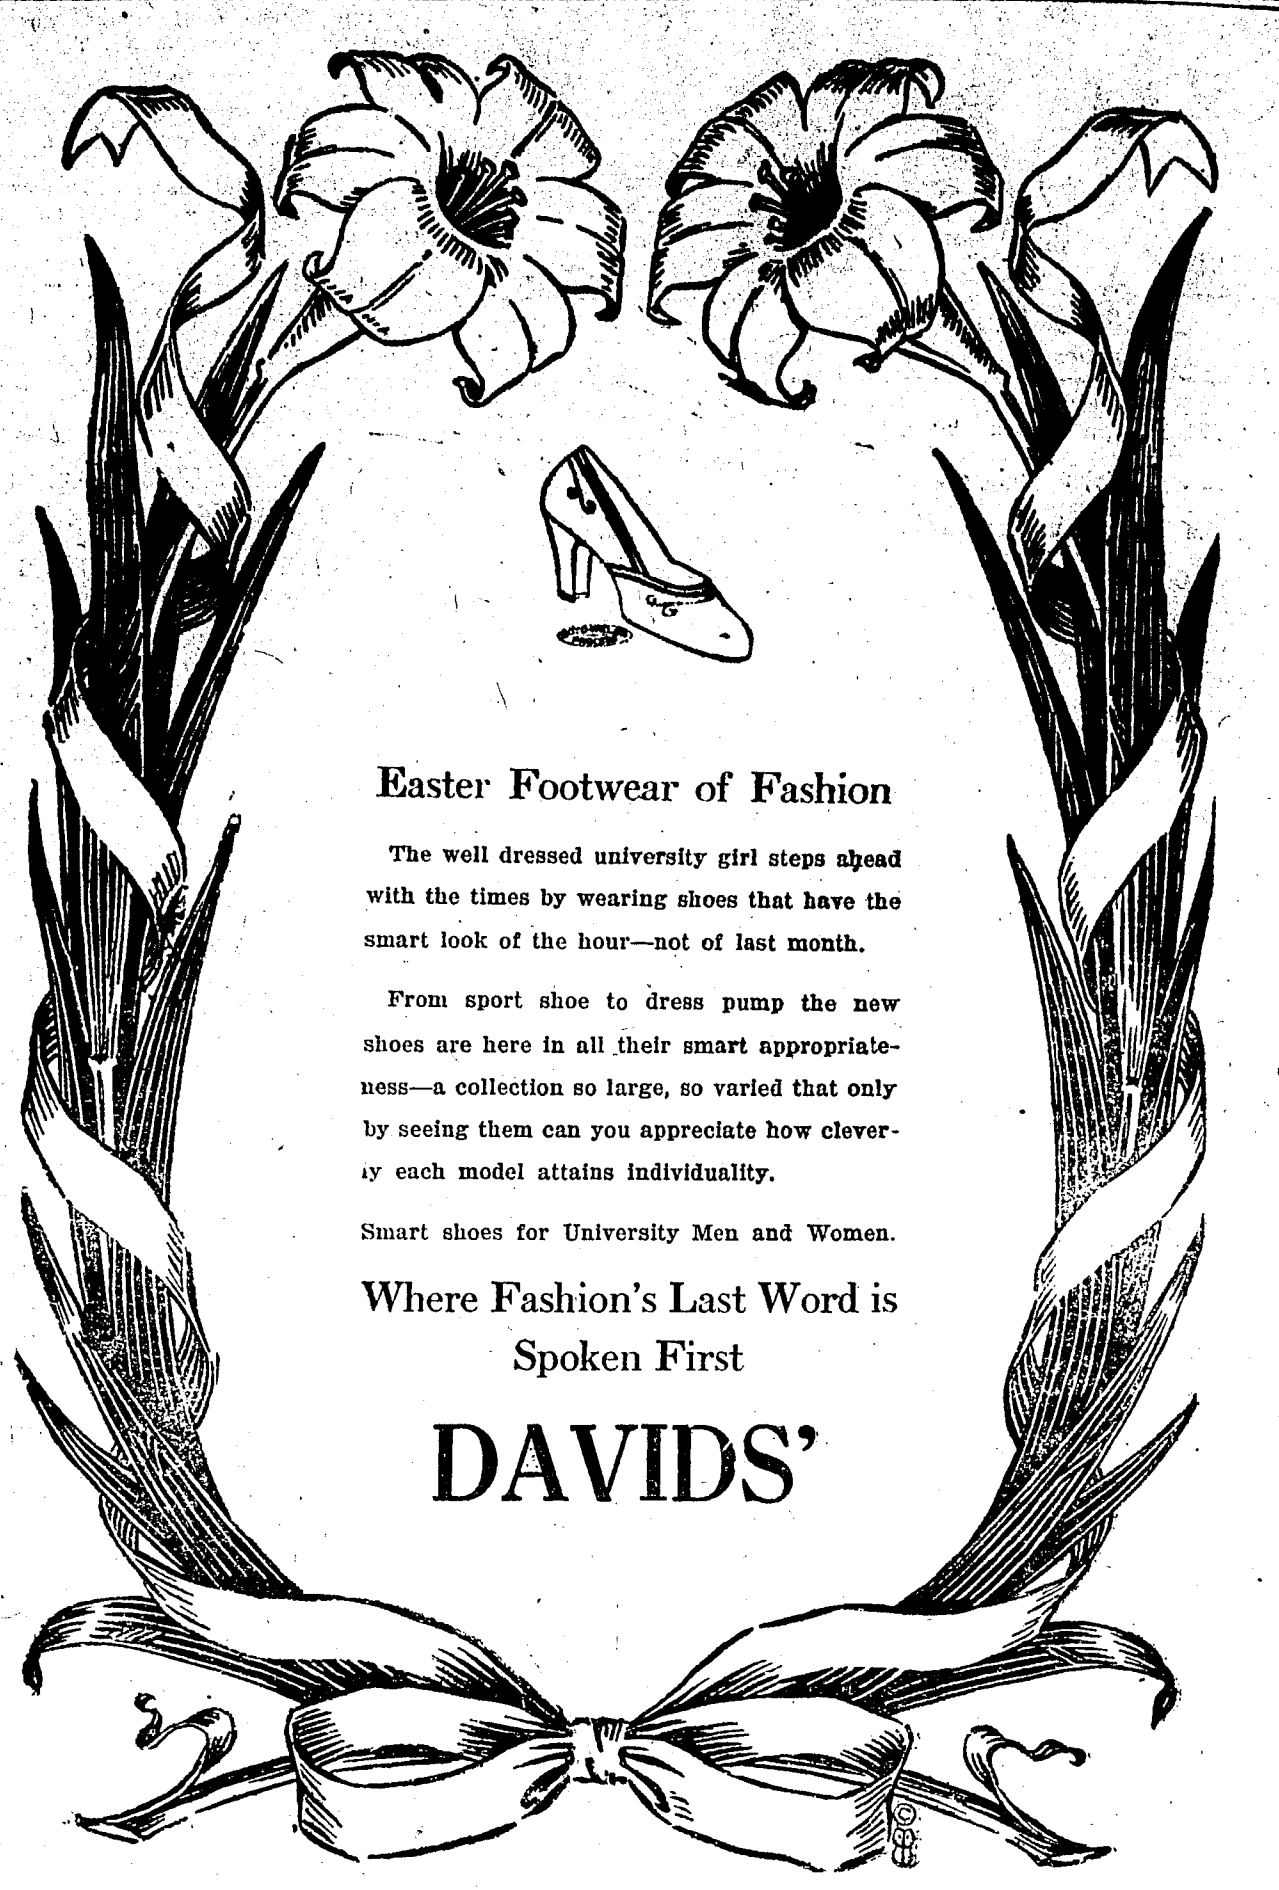

Francis Eldridge is chairman of the Seabeck committee. Any one interested in the conference should see Mr. Eldridge or George Oliver in the "U" hut.

ROMEO AND JULIET

Benvolio, has appeared so far in "The Romantic Age" and in "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife". Mr. Merrill has two more years in college dramatics. The role of Paris in "Romeo and Juliet" will be taken by Sydney McClellan, who had the lead in "The Romantic Age" last year. Vernon Johnson as Tybalt, and Hosea Evans as Samson, both played character parts in "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" and "Captain Applejack" but they reached their high-water mark in college dramatics as the comedians in the 1925 Pep Band show. "The Tea Hawks." Talbot Jennings, who as an undergraduate played in Little Theatre plays and in Curtain readings, will take the part of Capulet, while the part of Escalus, prince of Verona, will be taken by Abe Goff, '24, who took the lead in the 1923 all-college play, "It", which was also presented in Spokane. Harold Salisbury will play a double role in Romeo and Juliet—that of Peter and the apothecary of Mantua. Mr. Salisbury has appeared in summer school plays and in "Captain Applejack" gave a delightful interpretation of the old butler.

With Romeo and Mercutio, the most important part in Romeo and Juliet is that of Friar Laurence, which will be done by Cameron King, '24, now in graduate work at the university. Mr. King played in the all-college play, "Clarence," several years ago; in "Wayfaring Men" he took the part of the old voyageur and in "Everyman" he gave a singularly impressive performance as Riches. Everett Erickson, who will play Balthasar, has taken parts in several Little Theatre productions, in the Pep Band shows, in Curtain readings, and in "Everyman." From the elementary class in play production will come Tom Madden as Gregory, Rex Alcorn as Abram, John Blair as Montague, and Clair Gale and Wayne Hertzka as kinsmen of the Capulet.
