VOLUME XXVII

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1926

NUMBER 41

IDAHO ENROLMENT LEAPS 12 PER CENT DURING LAST YEAR

Net Total Registration Jump From 2025 Students to 2272

ALL SCHOOLS GROW Education Leads With 47 Percent Gain; Men Far Outnumber Women

Net total enrollment of the University of Idaho for the official year ending March 20 increased approximately 12 percent, according to figures announced by Ella Olesen, registrar. At present there is a net total of 2272 students enrolled as compared with 2025 for this time last year. The figures include summer school and special students.

Greatest increase in net enrollment was made by the school of education. The school shows a 47 percent gain, with 382 students now enrolled as against 257 for last year. The college of letters and science ranks next with a present enrollment of 734 as compared with 663, including business, last year. The school of business and the college of engineering also show decided increases, 38 and 34 students respectively.

Men Overshadow Women The number of men actually enrolled in the university has increased more than has the number of women. At present there are 1226 men and 705 women, an increase of 165 and 92 respectively over last year's figures. Summer school enrollment increased from 202 a year ago last summer to 23 last semester. Non-resident students number 237 as compared with 182. Special course students totaled 123, a gain of ten.

The University now has nine schools and colleges, which in turn are made up of 38 departments.

Juniors Buy Tickets for Romeo and Juliet

Tickets for the first appearance of Romeo and Juliet, scheduled for April 7, were on sale yesterday and today in the Ad building hall, Juniors only being privileged to buy.

The tickets, sold to juniors constitute a reserved section, thus eliminating the necessity of changing them at Hodgins'. Tickets for the remainder of the student body will go on sale Saturday morning at Hodgins', said Clarence C. Olson, manager of dramatics.

The play will be repeated on the nights of April 15 and 16 in the University auditorium. A general admission fee of 50 and 75 cents is being charged.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE The Washington State glee club, while making its state tour, had heavy losses in a fire in a hotel in Mt. Vernon, Wash. Considerable clothing was lost by all the men, but all of the instruments were saved.

BRIGHT COSTUMES FOR COLLEGE PLAY

Olaf Fjelde and Group of Artists Design Scenery For Play

Setting and costume for the modernized version of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," to be presented by the A. S. U. I., as the 1926 all-college play in the university auditorium, April 7, 15 and 16, will be more elaborate and brightly colored than any yet devised for a dramatic production at the University of Idaho. The play is divided into sixteen scenes, calling for nine changes, which will be achieved through the use of the modern unit setting. This unit setting consists of a permanent background of three arches and two stairways. The scene changes will be made by inserting or removing panels, and by the use of colored lights.

The setting, planned by John H. Cushman, was drawn by Olaf Fjelde of the department of Architecture; the entire set was built in the university carpenter shop, and was painted by Harry Brenn of the class of '25. Draperies were made by C. W. Waldon, of Moscow, while the lighting will be directed by Jack Lieulian of Moscow. The costumes, which are unusually rich and varied, were made by Mrs. J. N. Nankervis of Moscow, assisted by the production staff for the play, Hester Yost, Eva Jane Wilson, Dorothy Darling, and Wayne Hertzka. Business management for the university production is in the hands of Clarence Olson, A. S. U. I. dramatic manager, while George Horton, graduate manager, is making arrangements for the production of the play in Spokane on April 8 before the Inland Empire Teacher's Association.

NO SHAVING AT U. OF NEVADA University of Nevada, March 29.—(P. I. P.)—Shaving has become taboo on the Nevada campus to prepare for the Whiskerine, a dance ending the annual junior week at the university.

SIDERS TO PRESENT VIEW OF SCOTLAND

Pocatello School Head to Speak at Friday Assembly

Walter R. Siders, superintendent of schools in Pocatello, who has lately returned from Edinburgh, Scotland, as one of the representatives of National Education association, will talk in assembly next Friday on his experiences while in Scotland, according to Dean F. A. Thomson.

This assembly will be at 10 o'clock Friday and will be the third of the week. The juniors will have the Wednesday assembly, and there will be a special nominating assembly Thursday afternoon.

JUNIORS PROMISE RED HOT ASSEMBLY

Music, Dancing, and Readings in Next Wednesday's Program

Under the direction of Sid McClellan and Dick Dresser, the junior class will put on their annual assembly next Wednesday morning at the usual hour in which the class will feature music, dancing, and readings.

One of the numbers, a junior quartet composed of Norman Luvaas, Spike Gregory, Albert Swanson and Sammy Perrins, will sing popular and semi-classical selections. Ruth White will put on a solo dance after which Miss White, Marie Gilson, Gwen Moser and Bernice Suppliger, will entertain with ensemble dancing and singing. An all-junior orchestra will close the program with several popular numbers.

Dick Dresser, junior prexy, asks the Administration building so they can march in the auditorium in a that all juniors meet in room 204 of that body. He says that there will be a section reserved for them, and so that they may be distinguished from other students, they will be furnished with ribbons.

SQUADS DISREGARD SNOW, RAIN, OR WIND

Spring Training Progresses; Teams Are In Good Shape for Meet

Outdoor spring athletic training is progressing full speed despite nightly barrages of rain, sunshine, snow, wind and all other items of Palouse weather. Both the track and baseball squads are approaching their first official competition, the tracksters in the coming intramural and inter-class meets, and the ball players in the practice series the next weekend with the Lewis and Clark high school of Spokane.

Trackmen have been slightly hampered in their training by the absence of Coach R. L. Mathews. They have been pacing through their regular workouts however, with Jay Thompson in charge of the dash and hurdle men and Art Mathews directing the distance runners. The intra-mural meet was tentatively scheduled for this Saturday, but because of the absence of Coach Mathews, is has been postponed until next Saturday, April 10. The entire squad should be in condition for close matches by that date.

The Vandal ball tossers are showing expected form and are centering their efforts on getting in trim for the Lewis and Clark nine next week-end. Several stiff practices with the freshmen have whetted this week's training menu.

CAXTON HAS COPY FOR IDAHO ANNUAL

Karlburg is Called to Caxton's to Read Proof, on Yearbook

With two-thirds of the copy in the hands of the Caxton Printers of Caldwell, the work on the "Gem of the Mountains" has progressed so rapidly that the editor-in-chief Herbert E. Karlburg has been called to the publishers to read the proof and inspect the work. He will return the latter part of the week. Few of the many features of this year's book will be revealed, but will be saved as a surprise for the reader when he first opens the book of the Vandals. The work this year is of high class, declares a member of the staff, and features are well executed. The books are a more intimate revelation of campus life, and centered around local activities.

No more copies have been printed than have already been ordered, with the exception of 100, which have been purchased by the administration to send to high schools.

Albert "Bud" Alford, '28, was elected staff representative on the Argonaut board at a staff meeting Wednesday afternoon. He succeeds Fred Sherman, who has withdrawn from active work on the paper. Alford has been handling sports for The Argonaut.

BIG PARADE WILL BE FIRST STUNT OF JUNIOR WEEK

Procession of Hard Timers Will March Over Campus Tuesday

PARTY IS PRIVATE Prize is to be Presented to Girl Garbed in Tackiest Costume

Junior week will be ushered in Tuesday evening with a riotous burst of color, noise, and splendor by the Junior parade, entertainment, and party. The parade will cover the entire campus before the public eye, but the entertainment and party will be for juniors only.

The procession will start from in front of the Ad building at 8:30 o'clock and the line of march will be led by Dick Dresser, junior president, and "Spike" Reem, general chairman of the junior week committee, riding in an open carriage, drawn by a team of four prancing horses. Second in line, will be the 45 piece symphony marine band of the junior class and behind it the remaining male members of the class in group formation. This last group will be dressed in distinctive "hard times" costumes.

The junior girls will remain at their respective houses and dormitories and will join the parade as it stops at each residence. The symphony band will join the march at 7 o'clock at the campus steps. All juniors will be required to walk in the parade, and a vigilance committee has been appointed to enforce this ruling.

To Close Doors The junior party and entertainment will be held behind closed doors at the Blue Bucket Inn, and the parade will break up at the doors of that establishment. A lavish entertainment of dancing, singing, speaking, and a genuine "hard times" party will be awaiting the classmen here.

The program will be started by dancing numbers given by Ruth White and a bevy of junior dancing girls, including Gwendolyn Moser, Bernice Suppliger, and Marie Gilson. Several readings will be given by Mary Kelly and songs by the junior quartet, composed of Messrs. Luvaas, Allen, Perrins and Swanson.

The dancing folio, bannered as the "Junior Tacky party," will last the rest of the evening until 11:30 o'clock, with an intermission for supper at 10 o'clock. During the intermission, Frank Clegg, master of ceremonies, will present a prize to the boy and girl garbed in the tackiest costumes. The prize is unknown, but campus rumor is that it is being imported from across the Moscow mountains.

Credit will be given for the extra time, and for inspection day. Military classes will be dismissed for an equal number of hours in May and June to make up for the extra time now, said Major F. R. MATHEWS SILENT ON EASTERN OFFER

Coach Will Return From St. Louis This Week

The silence which has surrounded the negotiations of Coach R. L. Mathews with St. Louis university for the athletic directorship of that school has not been broken. Coach Mathews is now speeding westward on a trans-continental train and is expected in Moscow this week end.

Coach Mathews spent nearly a week on the St. Louis campus, presumably dickered with the university officials for the proffered position. The St. Louis officials declined to make a statement of the outcome of the negotiations when "Matty" left Wednesday night.

Speculation is rife on the Idaho campus as to whether Mathews will go to the eastern school. Members of the athletic department and close friends of Coach Mathews disclaim any knowledge of his future plans. A consensus of undergraduate opinion would indicate that Matty will leave, providing the St. Louis offer is sufficiently attractive.

St. Louis university is one of the largest Catholic institutions in the country and ranks next to Notre Dame in the mid-west. The university has eight degree granting schools and a preparatory academy. It was founded in 1818, and is advertised as the oldest university west of the Mississippi river.

The student body numbers almost 2,500, and is composed exclusively of men. The administration of the university is in the hands of the Jesuit body of the Roman Catholic church.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR SENIOR SNEAK

At a meeting of the senior class last night, the members voted to share equally all the expenses for the senior sneak, their pictures in the annual, and the gift to the university. The costs will be taken from the senior's general deposit. Definite plans were made for the immediate appearance of seniors in their traditional costumes.

Helen Wood, chairman of senior song, Sidney Yager, chairman of gifts, Blaine Stubblefield chairman of senior stunt, made reports.

MOSCOW RIFLE TEAM LOSES TO U. I. SQUAD

Class to Share Equally Expenses; Costume Appearance Ready

The University Rifle team defeated the Moscow Rifle team last night by a score of 1328 to 1215. Of the University team, Otto Huetner shot the highest score making 195 points out of a possible 200. Captain John Powell of the town team made the best score for the losers, with 189 points out of a possible 200.

This match was fired from the prone, and sitting positions and the score, fired from these positions, by the university men will be counted against the University of Texas, with whom Idaho shoots a match today.

VANDAL COEDS TO DEFEND FAST AGE

Outcome of Modern Youth Topic for Triangular Debate Tuesday

Whether the much discussed freedom and madness of modern youth is leading to heaven, or vice versa, will be settled by the co-eds of the Universities of Idaho and Washington and Whitman college next Tuesday, night, when the girls' debating teams of these institutions meet in their annual triangular match. The formal question is: "Resolved, that the present increased freedom permitted youth is tending toward a higher type of personality and character."

Modern youth will be staunchly supported by the Idaho affirmative team at Moscow against the Whitman negative. The Vandal team will be composed of Marjorie Albertson and Maurita Miller. The old fashioned viewpoint, that present day modes of life and living are leading to ultimate ruin, will be sustained by Helen Milliken and Marjorie Simpson, the Idaho negative squad, against the University of Washington affirmative at Seattle.

The Whitman affirmative and Washington negative teams will talk at Walla Walla, completing the three cornered circuit.

The debate at Idaho will be held in the university auditorium, starting at 8:15 o'clock.

START BUILDING NEW DORM MAY 1

Site Near Forney Hall; Prof. Lange Directs Designing

Construction on the new dormitory for women, to be located near Forney hall, may be started by May 1, according to L. F. Parsons, executive secretary. Every effort is being made to rush the project and it is expected to have the building ready for occupation by next fall. Prof. David Lange, university architect, has charge of designing the building.

This new dormitory, which will house approximately 125 girls, will be the third on the Idaho campus. Ridenbaugh hall was dedicated in 1902, and was the only girls' hall until in the spring of 1923 when the Mary E. Forney hall was completed. Center cottage was annexed as a women's residence house in 1921. Ridenbaugh hall takes care of 75 girls and Forney houses 120. Center cottage has recently been taken over by the Omega Alpha sorority.

A fourteen-story student building is being constructed on the campus of Columbia university. It will accommodate 5000 students.

"Nine women out of ten go to college to find a husband," said a professor of psychology at Deaver University.

MALE ELITE CASTS DISCRETION TO WIND TO COME TO BAKING

Fifty Already Have Offered Themselves to Sacrifices to Gridiron

150 WILL APPEAR Delta Sigma Uplifters Satisfied With Trend of Affairs

When the mail truck completed its last trip today to the campus headquarters of Delta Sigma, it is expected that more than one-fourth of the university and Moscow male 400 will have cast discretion to the Palouse winds; and pledged themselves as sacrifices to the cause of the gridiron. Approximately 50 men had become unwitting heroes at the last report this morning, and with the deadline on receipt of acceptances set for tomorrow, the Gridironers expected to spend most of this afternoon opening mail.

The reckless 100 odd, once having pledged themselves, will be bound to appear for whatever notice the fraternity's reporters may have found to be their due. The honor in this case amounts to checks for $1.75, and it is expected to be blinding.

Uplifters Satisfied Reports said to have come from the official Delta Sigma spokesman, indicate that President W. C. Brown and his band of community uplifters are exceedingly well satisfied with the trend of affairs. Already, according to rumor, the Gridiron itself has been heated to such a temperature that, as a safety measure it will be poured into 100 or so specially prepared thermos bottles for storage until the night of the banquet when it will be molded into shape at white heat. The devils, otherwise reporters, of Delta Sigma plan to spend much of the remaining time sharpening the prongs of forks which will be used as supplementary means of torture.

Accumulating Material Further red hot material, in the form of misdemeanors and faux pas committed by the unfortunate elite during the last year is still being accumulated, however, and none that it is possible to ferret out, will be overlooked. Delta Sigma, according to its spokesman, desires to make the first lesson so impressive that the community will reap a really material benefit thereby.

All invitations that were received on or before Tuesday of this week must be in the hands of the hosts by tomorrow evening in order to receive consideration, according to authorized statements bearing the official stamp of the Gridiron. According to custom, invitations must at least be answered if the person involved would ever receive another. If he is unable to present, it is expected that an excellent excuse accompany his reply. Flat refusals and flat excuses will place the names of their authors on a permanent blacklist. This precaution, it is explained, is taken to guard against inadvertent admittance in the future of the thin-skinned and fearful.

Whether the much discussed freedom and madness of modern youth is leading to heaven, or vice versa, will be settled by the co-eds of the Universities of Idaho and Washington and Whitman college next Tuesday, night, when the girls' debating teams of these institutions meet in their annual triangular match. The formal question is: "Resolved, that the present increased freedom permitted youth is tending toward a higher type of personality and character."

Modern youth will be staunchly supported by the Idaho affirmative team at Moscow against the Whitman negative. The Vandal team will be composed of Marjorie Albertson and Maurita Miller. The old fashioned viewpoint, that present day modes of life and living are leading to ultimate ruin, will be sustained by Helen Milliken and Marjorie Simpson, the Idaho negative squad, against the University of Washington affirmative at Seattle.

BOARD SUGGESTS HOLIDAY APRIL 8

Proposed Design for Argonaut Awards Rejected; Moe Election Confirmed

Thursday morning, April 8, probably will be declared a holiday, following a recommendation of the executive board of the A. S. U. I. to the academic council Wednesday night. This is in line with the idea proposed by the council to compensate the students for the rest taken from them when the annual spring vacation was cancelled. It is probable that two more half holidays will be granted some time later in the spring.

The board rejected the proposed design for pin awards for members of The Argonaut staff and turned the matter over to George Horton, graduate manager, for investigation. Mr. Horton was instructed to call for several designs from manufacturers. These will be submitted to the board for action. It was felt by the board that the design submitted by the Argonaut staff was too elaborate and not in fitting with the conventional activity awards.

Election of Sven Moe, former director of the Pep band, as manager to succeed Cliff Reem, was approved by the board. Mr. Reem was declared ineligible by the action of the board because of scholastic standing.

The board approved the suggestion of the management of the Glee club that it make a short tour of northern Idaho just as soon as health conditions in that part of the state make a tour possible. An advance man, probably a member of the faculty, will be sent out as soon as the board feels that one can be sent without danger of coming in contact with spinal meningitis.

Awards for members of the basketball squad and agricultural judging teams, were approved.

Mary Elizabeth Ridenbaugh

With the passing of Mary Elizabeth Ridenbaugh, the University of Idaho has lost one of its most distinguished supporters and the state of Idaho has lost one of its most prominent citizens. Mrs. Ridenbaugh, one of Idaho's first regents, social leader and prominent political personage, succumbed at a Portland sanitarium recently, where she went from Boise for medical treatment.

Persons informed in political circles say that it was through the untiring efforts of Mrs. Ridenbaugh that the appropriation for the first women's dormitory at the University of Idaho was obtained. In honor of its sponsor, the dormitory was named Ridenbaugh hall. Until a few months before her death Mrs. Ridenbaugh was always identified with any movement which meant the advance of the university.

Aside from her work for the university, Mrs. Ridenbaugh was active in other branches. She served on the Idaho board for the World's Columbia exposition at Chicago and was resident hostess at the Idaho building at the Panama Pacific International exposition at San Francisco in 1915.

It is fitting that the memory of Mrs. Ridenbaugh should receive the reverence of every student, faculty member or other person who loves the University of Idaho.

Must We Moan In Vain?

No action has been taken on The Argonaut's hint that Idaho's tennis courts aren't all they might be. From present indications there will be none in the near future. In the meantime 500 Idaho undergraduates clamor, crowd and try in vain to get needed exercise and enjoyment on half a dozen antiquated courts. At the same time 24 athletes play baseball nightly on a wide, leveled portion of MacLean field, using costly equipment paid for at the student's expense. The Argonaut has no complaint about its baseball team, nor about the expense of its maintenance; but it does deplore the injustice of the budgeting of the A. S. U. I. funds which unshamefully curtail the pleasures of many for the benefit of the few.

The Idaho catalogue contains flowery phrases about the facilities for caring for the needs of the undergraduates. And it can justly boast most of its equipment, fine dormitories, halls, laboratories, auditoriums, football fields, etc. But the paper covers of the catalogue must burn with shame over the words describing "7 modern tennis courts, adequate to handle all the students and faculty players." Not only are the few present courts entirely unable to handle the demand for their use, but these few courts are kept in a deplorable condition. The three on Blake avenue are the worst eye sores on the campus, fences swaying like the cattle pens of a long mortgaged farm, and shreds of playing lines scattered over a soft dirt surface.

The student body has not hesitated in taking up the complaint. But how long will it be before the proper officials take action?

Don't Monkey With the Machinery

A student newspaper is supposed to present campus happenings in as impartial a way as possible. The news columns are expected to be free of any prejudicial or biased attitude on any event or situation. The Argonaut holds no brief for any individual interests nor does it seek to injure anyone. But to judge from the wailings of the people whose interests are dealt with, the sole purpose of the editors is to hand someone a "dirty deal" and "bury" a story on the back page. If a story is judged to have insufficient news value to receive front page lead space, the paper is promptly charged with unfairness.

Aside from the strictly news columns, the editorials offer the best means of calling forth condemnation. It is the privilege of a paper, the same as an individual, to make fair comment and criticism in its editorial column. Yet many seem imbued with the belief that if something good cannot be said editorially, the paper should maintain silence. The ideal of the editorial column of the college paper is to arouse intelligent discussion of every topic, and to aid in the betterment of the conditions of the students and the college. The college paper which sings a continual poen of praise or becomes an enlarged official bulletin board, can contribute little to the college welfare. If this paper offends any, they have the privilege of saying so through its column. But the editors reserve the right to treat all news as they see fit. After all, the paper is their responsibility and they cannot permit dictation from everyone as to its policies.

SWIMMING CONTEST PLANNED FOR GIRLS

225 Men, Women, and Faculty Are Registered for Courses
With the third week of scheduled swimming classes there are 150 girls, 64 men, and 15 faculty members registered for the course. More petitions for registration are being received every day, said Gale Mix, athletic manager.
There will be a girls' swimming contest sometime soon, according to Miss Elsie Jacobson, director of women's athletics. A call for turnouts of tentenders will be made immediately.

U. W. DAILY "CRITIC-ORIALS" GET WIDESPREAD NOTICE

First college paper west of the Mississippi to print a student critique of courses—that is the distinction claimed by the University of Washington Daily. The Daily has also coined a name for these course surveys, "Crit-ic-Orials." The idea was well received by all the professors except one. "The comments are interesting and true," remarked George Lindberg, instructor of the sociology course criticized, "whether the students are competent to judge the courses in the University should not matter. They are the ones that take them and their opinions are worth a lot to the faculty."—New Student.

War Memories Come to Kioty When Army Prepares for Parade

Dear ma,
Now then we are going to have a military parade here purty soon and the army is getting ready for inspection. The most comical thing it seems to me is a army of college boys marching around with guns which if any of them should go off would scare them stiff. And they will haf to act like they was in a war for this inspection. Last year I seen a beavo general walk up to a private that was running through the arboretum and say to him: "Now you are dead. You was killed when we captured this hill. And then he said to another fellow which was a beavo captain, "You have lost another man."
But all of this reminds me of the real thing. Once I seen a real cock-of-the-walk general with four stars on each shoulder. He was a straight eight. He walked with his chest out and his chin in like as if he was Julius Ceezer. And he had a strap under his chin to hold his hat on. Ever time I seen that fellow with that strap under his chin I thought of the crupper on old Nig's harness.

Well, them was the days. I remember a girl come out to camp to see the aeroplanes once, and she says to me, "My but a aeroplanes engine must git hot, because look what a big fan it has on it." And then I laughed and so did every one else laugh. Well ma, that was a hell of a war, but it was all we had.

FASHION NOTES FOR MEN
I wonder if, by any chance, You've read a poem called "Spring—Pants?"
I never have, and so tonight Upon this theme I thought I'd write. They say that girls are fond of clothes.
'Tis true, no doubt, but goodness knows One need not cast a fleeting glance To see that boys just dote on pants! Sometimes they're wide, sometimes they're slim, The sleek variety had a trim Of buttons up and down the seam—
"Oh, Lord, they were a perfect scream!"
The corduroys are quite all right, (I like them best when they are white), And the grey ones, too, are nice and neat,
—All winter covered up their feet. The kind that now the boys affect, Through which their manly calves project,
Were built at first for golfers' need, And suited them quite well indeed. Now golf links we have nowhere near (No chance to get them, so I hear), But neither garments of this kind The boys must have—they're of one mind.
So, like the rose, by other name, Golf trousers to the Campus came; And the chappies to their classes prance,
In what some "Rough Necks" call "Bobbled Pants!"
Add to the picture flaring ties— (Some of them most wreck one's eyes), And then the socks of every hue— Well, the girls all like it, so they do!

Cub Finds Freshmen Alert When Greeted With Idaho "Hello"

The "Hello" spirit that is one of Idaho's most famous traditions is being neglected, according to a careful survey made this week by an Argonaut representative. Traditional campus law holds that students say Hello in passing and that freshmen always speak first. The reporter laments report that upperclassmen, the men in soiled cords, and the dignified (if there is such a creation) fall miserably in maintaining the greeting rule, while the frosh in the green cap wears the smile and says the "Hello!" with the same smile.
One hundred students met in passing to and from classes were subjects for the hello test made by The Argonaut scribe. In his report, 54 of 55 freshmen spoken to answered the greeting; 7 of 12 sophomores returned "Hello"; 9 out of 18 juniors, exactly one-half, kept closed lips when hailed with the traditional greeting; and 10 of 15 stately seniors, the so-called upholders of college traditions, manifested muteness when spoken to by the cub.

WORLD CHAMP MAY APPEAR AT U. OF W.
UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, March 22, (PIP)—Belief that Charles Hoff, world's champion pole vaulter will appear at the relay carnival at the University of Washington, May 1, was strengthened last week when Norwegian authorities extended his American leave until July 15.
At the same time the foreign relations committee of the National Amateur athletic association wired Roscoe Torrance, assistant graduate manager that permission will be given Hoff to come to Seattle to show his wares. Word is expected from the Norwegian star within a few days.

Mississippi Students Petition for Veto of Anti-Evolution Bill

All the south has gone fundamentalist. Some of the universities are among forces which have held up the tide of frantic law making. In Mississippi, whose legislature recently passed an anti-evolution bill, the students at the State University sent a petition to Governor Whitfield. An excerpt follows:
"A great blow will be struck to man's insatiable search after truth should the anti-evolution bill become a law. To us at the University it would be the gravest of injustices. Men of ambition imbued with the spirit of service, would in many instances be literally driven out of the University to secure their education elsewhere. For the sake of the University and particularly for those students of medicine who would be denied instruction in certain essential courses, and for the sake of our God given right to seek the truth, we petition you to affix your veto to this most unfortunate piece of legislation, the anti-evolution bill."
At Wake Forest college in North Carolina the student paper publishes some amusingly illiterate letters from an anti-evolutionist with the appeal "to those anti-evolutionists who are resorting to the uneducated for their following to cease their agitation before the entire class has become crazed on the subject of evolution."—New Student.

Fashion Hints

LINKS AND CHAINS
That used-to-be fashionable brooch and bar-pin are again fastening themselves onto the mode, but with what a difference! The cameo brooch, so indispensable in a lady's wardrobe, invariably topped a row of buttons fastening snugly to the neck; now, the bar-pin must be pinned with the most careful effect of carelessness and jauntiness.
Pearls have become so necessary that they are worn, for every hour, morning, noon, and night. They are even suitable for sport or street wear. That antiquated fashion of wearing four or five graduated strings to the waist is gaining favor, and the single strand of choker beads looks flimsy among the heavier strands.
Give the co-ed her choice of jewelry, and she is very apt to pick a bracelet. Slave bracelets, brilliant gemmed links for formal ensemble, massive gold and simple silver chains for sport, are a la mode. Fastened by this fad are heavy, clumsy-looking necklaces of gold.
Earrings are longer and more conspicuous. If the bob is brief with the ear showing, dangling earrings add chic by way of contrast.
Quantity, not quality, holds true. The fad is for cheap jewelry. For such small compensation the resigned race of fathers, the purse-holders, may be thankful.

U. W. CREW TO POUGHKEEPSIE
UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, March 26.—Washington's varsity crew will row at Poughkeepsie on June 26 regardless of the outcome of the California race, Darwin Meisner, graduate manager, has announced. Complaints from eastern colleges that Washington is afraid to send her crew to the Hudson if it has been defeated, prompted the action, Meisner said. One, and possibly two, crews will be sent to the intercollegiate regatta, even if defeated by the Golden Bears next month.

TWO U. OF C. UNIVERSITIES MAY GET NEW NAMES
University of California, March 26 (PIP)—Berkeley University of California and "Los Angeles University of California" have been proposed as new names for the University of California and Southern Branch of the University, respectively, by a graduate of the class of 1907, now in New York. These suggestions were made, it is said, because of the confusion that exists between various California educational institutions. Those that are causing the confusion are: California Institute of Technology,

Lindley Hall, affirmative, will debate Tau Men Alpha, negative, on the question Resolved: That a single house legislature should be instituted in the state government of Idaho.

The schedule for the rest of the week is:

April 6.—Phi Sigma Rho, affirmative, vs. Delta Gamma, negative. Resolved: That a lawful means of birth control would be for the good of the nation.

April 12.—Tau Kappa Iota vs. Phi Beta Phi. Resolved: That the habitual criminal and persons found to be non-compos mentis should be sterilized.

Sigma Chi, affirmative, vs. Phi Delta Theta, negative. Resolved: That student self-government should be instituted at Idaho.

The debates will be held in room 207 at 7 o'clock.

"Great interest has been manifested in intra-mural debate this year," said Simmons. "Last week the debate room was crowded, many people had to stand up. We hope that as much interest will be shown for the next debates."

BAR STANDARDS HELD TO BE LOW

Faculty Law Members Address Pre-Legal Students

The fact that the requirements for admission to the bar in the United States is lower than that of any other civilized country was brought out by Professor J. J. Gill, of the law department, addressing the members of the pre-legal students last evening in the Ad building. Professor Gill also traced the history of the bar throughout the various countries.

Dean Robert McNair Davis spoke on the responsibility of the lawyer to society. Profs. Silas Harris and M. H. Merrill also gave short addresses.

"It was the best meeting of the year," said Arthur Peavy, president of the organization, in commenting on the gathering.

Idaho Dopes Well Against W. S. C.; No Decision Affair

The Idaho Vandal affirmative debate team upheld the Volstead prohibition amendment in an impressive fashion yesterday afternoon against the attack of the Washington State college negative squad in the lecture room at the Science hall. The match had been announced as a no-decision affair.

The Idaho team was composed of Dwight Disney, Sidney McClellan and Arthur Peavy. They presented a volley of substantial facts, supporting the prohibition laws, in a forceful and clear manner. Only a small crowd witnessed the match.

The Idaho team composed of C. G. Freese, Alvin Reading and Edmund Becher met the W. S. C. affirmative team on the same question at Pullman.

New Rule at Pittsburg Leaves Transferred Athletes Out

Pittsburg, Pa.—Athletes who have ever competed on a varsity squad at another university will be barred from representing the University of Pittsburg on a varsity or freshman squad after September 1, 1926, according to a rule just passed by the local athletic council. This will not apply to students at present enrolled in the university. The exact wording of the new restriction is as follows:

"Any student who transfers from another college or university which grants degrees, and who has represented that institution in varsity athletics, shall be ineligible to compete in any branch of sport as a member of the varsity or freshman team."

The transfer rule has been under consideration at the local University for some time, and its adoption places the Panther eligibility code on a par with any of the larger schools in the East and West. The one-year residence and three-year competition rules have been in effect for the past 10 years.

BUREAU GETS JOBS FOR TEACHERS

Bernice McCoy Explains Policy of Placement Department

(By Burdette Belknap)

Two hundred seniors, 21 sophomores and juniors, 20 alumni, and 12 outsiders are now registered in the placement service department, according to figures from Miss Bernice McCoy, head of the department.

There have been a few scattering calls from some of the smaller schools but the larger ones will not make application until about the middle of this month. There will be a peak during the spring or pre-commencement season, which lasts from the middle of May to the middle of June. After this is a lull, continuing through July. Then comes a second peak which lasts through all the month of August. This is caused by so many resignations, the applicants either having received better positions or made other plans.

The department is not in a position at present to give a report as to how many applications will be accepted according to Miss McCoy, but it is her opinion that a very comprehensive report can be made in a few weeks, showing just what the department is accomplishing. At present those in the office do not have time to check from day to day what they have done. This was evidenced by the hustle and bustle about the place and clearly showed that the placement service is doing a rushing business.

"Our policy," states Miss McCoy, "consists of an endeavor to obtain better positions for our alumni than they have had in the past, and place our seniors in the positions left vacant by them. This makes a promotion scheme that is highly desirable.

The sophomores and juniors are restricted to grade school jobs. The University of Nevada issues junior high school certificates to its juniors, but the feasibility of this plan for Idaho can hardly be determined at this time. The surprisingly small number of sophomore and junior applicants is attributed by Miss McCoy to better economic conditions throughout the state. More people seem to be able to continue their studies the remainder of the four years and are then capable of getting an accredited high school position.

There are one hundred and eight accredited high schools in the state of Idaho and the university is supplying teachers for about one fourth of the positions in these schools. A few calls have been received from nearby schools in eastern Washington. This shows an interest outside the state.

"However," says Miss McCoy, "our duty is primarily in serving Idaho and after that we can consider the interests of outsiders."
