THIRTY-FIVE TO GO To Give Same Program as was Presented Here; Return April 30

University of Idaho Glee club will leave on a northern Idaho and eastern Washington tour Monday April 26, giving concerts at Coeur d'Alene, Spokane, Sandpoint, and Bonners Ferry and will return Friday, April 30.

The A. S. U. I. executive board has authorized the club to make this trip which will be the only one it will take this year because of the lateness of the season. The club will make its first stop in Coeur d'Alene April 26 and will give its concert at the high school. The next appearance will be in Spokane where concerts will be given at the North Central and Lewis and Clark high schools in the morning and another program at the Lewis and Clark auditorium the night of April 27. The Idaho Alumni association has made arrangements for the Glee club's stop in Spokane.

From Spokane the club will go to Bonners Ferry, from there to Sandpoint, and then back to Moscow.

The program which the Glee club will present at each stop on the itinerary is the same as was given here March 26 and 27 in the auditorium, consisting of solos, choruses, quartettes, and feature numbers.

This trip will mark the first appearance of the Idaho Glee club in Spokane and Manager Currie is confident that its appearance there will favorably advertise the University of Idaho. A special car will be chartered for the club and special rates are being given by the hotels in the towns where the club will stay overnight.

SEARCH FOR COACH TAKES ANGELL EAST

Faculty Athletic Head Devotes Three Weeks to Candidates

M. F. Angell, dean of the college of letters and science, and chairman of the faculty committee on athletics, left Spokane Sunday night for a tour of the middle west and east during which he will be on the lookout for a successor to Coach Robert L. Mathews. Although an important object of his trip concerns business relating to the letters and science college, Dean Angell intimated that he would interview several prospects for the position of athletic director.

IDAHO MAN INSANE IS SENT TO ASYLUM

F. Gordon Ellis, of Idaho Falls, a student at the University of Idaho, was committed to the Medical Lake, Wash., asylum Saturday by Whitman county officials at Colfax, after he had been arrested there on an insanity charge. Ellis was taken to Medical Lake Monday.

Ellis was a member of the junior class. His illness is said to have been diagnosed by physicians as a nervous breakdown, due to excessive studying while in attendance at the university. He has been in poor health for the past year.

The breakdown occurred while Ellis was accompanying a group of forestry students on a trip to Priest River, Idaho. On the return journey, Ellis got off the train at a junction near Colfax, and was later found in Colfax.

Physicians stated at Colfax that Ellis would probably be completely recovered after several months of rest and quiet.

FROSH BALL TEAM SLATE TWO GAMES

Will Play Lewis and Clark Friday, Cheney Saturday

The Vandal babe pill tossers, who have been giving the varsity nine plenty of opposition this season in practice games, open their season Friday, when they bump up against Lewis and Clark high school of Spokane. Saturday the Idaho frosh will play Cheney at Cheney.

Idaho's varsity baseball team defeated Cheney by a 6-2 count, and split a two game series with the Lewis and Clark Tigers, winning and losing by a single point margin. The Vandal yearlings will play a two game series with Washington State college frosh soon, but no date has yet been announced.

FOUR AMENDMENTS UP FOR THURSDAY

Vote on Proposed Changes in Argonaut and Athletic Manager System

Expression of student opinion through a vote on the four proposed amendments to the A. S. U. I. constitution will be had Thursday when the polls will be open in room 204 Ad building from 10:00 until 3:00. The first two amendments relate to The Argonaut and were introduced by The Argonaut board consisting of Emil Strobeck, Paul Stoffel, Wallace Brown and Bud Alford. They provide for a reduction in the manager's salary from 20 per cent of the advertising receipts over $1000 to 12 per cent; and a salary of three dollars per issue for the managing editor at the same time defining his duties to insure that no incumbent assumes a disinterested attitude.

The remaining two amendments provide a change in the system of athletic managers, and were recommended by a sub committee of the executive board. They provide for four sophomores, two-juniors and one senior to manage each sport with awards for the juniors.

ORATORICAL MEET HERE LATE IN MAY

Tryout to be Held on Friday April 30, to Choose Idaho Speakers

Tryouts to pick Idaho's representative for the Northwest oratorical contest, to be held at the University of Idaho late in May, will be held Friday, May 30, according to Prof. William Michael, debate coach. Entrants are required to give original speech of not over ten minutes on any subject. Tryouts will be held in room 204, Ad building.

A prize of $100 is given to the winner of the Northwest contest which includes contestants from the Universities of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. This oratorical meet has been an annual affair for the past eight years, the University of Oregon winning it last year.

NOTED LECTURER ON ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

"Spiritual Trend in Recent Science" Is Topic for Address.

J. Stitt Wilson, traveler, lecturer and social worker, speaks at the assembly Wednesday, and in the auditorium Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. Mr. Wilson is on a lecture tour through the colleges of the northwest. For seven years he has been speaking before college groups.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Wilson will hold personal conferences and interviews with students and faculty members. Tuesday evening he will meet with the christian leaders and workers of the campus. He will address the chamber of commerce meeting Wednesday noon.

"Spiritual Trend in Recent Science" is the topic for his address in the assembly. He probably will choose his subject for his other two addresses from the following topics: "Constructive Christian Democracy", "The Spiritual Core of History", "Creative Education: a Constructive Criticism."

Mrs. Wilson is accompanying him. They are traveling by auto, and will arrive in Moscow Tuesday.

SCHEDULE POSTED FOR TENNIS GAMES

Under the management of the athletic department, the tennis courts opposite Ridenbaugh hall are being improved and will be in good condition to be used by the students, and the participants of the tennis tournament, the first of next week.

The schedule for the tournament has been posted on the bulletin board in the Ad building, and the contestants are urged to arrange the hours for their individual games, so that the first round can be played off as soon as possible. Bill Calloway of the house is student manager of tennis and is promoting the tournament.

AG SCHOOL PLANS MINIATURE MODEL OF CHICAGO SHOW

"Little International" Livestock Display in Lewis Court April 30

PARADE IN MORNING Fitting, Judging, Showing of University Products are Main Events

Modeled directly after the Chicago International Livestock show, the school of agriculture of the university is putting on its annual "Little International" livestock show on Friday, April 30, in Lewis court. Fitting, judging, and showing of university livestock and poultry, dairy products, and grains are the main events on the program.

Outgrowth of "Ag Day" The "Little International" is the outgrowth of "Ag Day"—a day which has been set aside for all Ag students for judging contests since the beginning of the School of Agriculture at Idaho. In 1923 this event was enlarged to include the "Little International" and has been made an annual event ever since. Although diminished in proportion to the available resources here, the show contains all of the salient features of the real Chicago International Livestock exhibition. Only university livestock and products are used and, according to Willard Lamphere, manager, it has played an important part in the agricultural activities in the Inland Empire.

The most interesting part of the program is a big parade through town and across the campus showing off the university livestock and the Ag students. The remainder of the day's program is as follows:

The Program
Friday morning, competitive judging of all livestock and poultry; 11 o'clock, parade; noon, luncheon for Ag students and guests. Friday afternoon, judging dairy products and grains; evening, livestock show and awards for fitting, judging, and showing.

SOPH FROLIC TO BE ELABORATE AFFAIR

Extensive Decorations and Lighting, Features for Friday Dance

In the spring when the arboretum takes on a freshman hue and even the railroad ties become inviting, comes the Sophomore all-college frolic. "Breck" McCall, sophomore prexy, says that there is nothing that can keep this dance from being one of the most successful all-college affairs of the season.

Tickets went on sale Thursday night for the annual Sophomore frolic which will be held in the gymnasium next Friday night. Decorations will feature colors draped and arched from the ceiling to the floor and a novel system of lighting the gymnasium. Coming from somewhere outside of Moscow is a feature number the identity of which is planned to be a surprise. Music will be furnished by Merrill's orchestra.

"Judging from the sale of tickets," said McCall, "there will be an exceptionally good crowd." He said that this dance was not being put on to raise money because where $100 will be taken in from the sale of tickets, $200 will be spent for music, decorations, and programs.

George Yost, general committee chairman, urges all sophomores who are not in the R. O. T. C. unit which is being inspected Friday, to present themselves at the gymnasium and help put up the decorations.

PICNIC COMMENDED BY INDEPENDENTS

With ball games, races, horseshoe tournaments, and music, the Independents held their first get-together picnic at Luvaas grove last Sunday. All of the groups, Forney, Ridenbaugh, and Lindley halls, Jenkins cottage, Daleth Teth Gimel, and Tau Mem Aleph, were well represented.

The new Lindley hall chef, Mr. O'Rourke, served a picnic lunch for some 300 members of the independent group: Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kirkran, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wiler, Mrs. Jenkins, and Mrs. O'Neil were chaperones. It is the opinion of all who went that this picnic should become an annual affair.

IDAHO TAKES DUAL TRACK MEET FROM WHITMAN COLLEGE

Rain and Cold Cut Time in Speed Events Monday at Walla Walla

CONCEDE 2 EVENTS Clayton Pickett, Idaho, is High Man With 16 Points

Taking first place in every event except the pole vault and relay which were conceded by the Vandals, Idaho's track team scored a 96 to 35 victory over the Whitman squad at Walla Walla Monday. The records show no exceptionally good marks but as rain and wind were intermittent during the day and this was the first meet of the season, it was not expected that many records would be shattered.

Clayton Pickett was high point man with a first in the discus, shot put, javelin and a tie with Kyle, Mitchell, Briscoe, and Wagner for first in the high jump. Cleaver and Mooney took first and second respectively in the mile run in 4:40. The squad, consisting of 18 men, returned to Moscow late Monday night.

A summary of the events follows: 100 yard dash—Time, 10:4-10; Perrins, 1st; Thompson, 2nd; Frisque, 3rd. ## DR. HALL PICKED FOR OREGON PREXY

Upham Will Remain Here; Report Says He Withdrew Name

With the announcement from Eugene of the selection of Dr. Arnold B. Hall of the University of Wisconsin as president of the University of Oregon, rumors that President Upham may leave Idaho have been set at rest. The Portland Oregonian says that Doctor Upham withdrew his name from consideration several weeks ago, according to the following excerpt: "Alfred H. Upham, president of the University of Idaho, who had been mentioned prominently as one under consideration for the presidency, decided not to be a candidate for the position several weeks ago. It was announced."

Dr. Hall, professor of political science at the University of Wisconsin, and one of the foremost social scientists in the country, was the choice of the committee which was looking for a new president for Oregon. His work in political science is widely recognized, and he is a member of a number of survey boards and foundations and is kept constantly busy outside of his university work in the activities of these organizations. He is the author of "Outline of International Law," "Monroe Doctrine," "Popular Government," and numerous others.

PROFS LIKE TENNIS; BIG TOURNAMENT ON

A great deal of interest is being manifested by the participants of the faculty tennis tournament which has nearly finished one round, and there is some talk that the winners of the tournament will play the winners of the student tournament, according to Dr. M. A. Larson, president of the faculty tennis club.

Although most of the 25 contestants are still on the first or second round, H. L. Axtell, A. P. Ludberg, F. W. Candee, Joyce, and A. W. Fahrenwald, faculty speed-merchants with the racquet, have entered into the third round.

The other faculty members playing are: King, Stevens, Dailey, Merrill, Kirkham, Barton, Shoonover, Ellis, Parkhurst, Fuller, Snyder, Easley, Whitehead, Reynaldo, Larsen, Carter, Horton, Hohl, Gersting, Jensen, Armstrong, and Wade.

ENTERTAIN WOMEN ATHLETES AT TEA

W. A. A. Conducts Visitors on Sight-Seeing Tour.

Delegates to the athletic conference of American college women which met at W. S. C. last Thursday, Friday and Saturday were entertained by the Idaho Woman's Athletic association at a tea given at Forney hall Saturday afternoon. Blue and gold, the W. A. A. colors were used in the rooms and the same scheme was carried out in menu. Bernice Kendall and Helen Coon entertained with a dance. After the tea the Spurs conducted the visitors around the campus. The delegates left Pullman at noon and were taken on a sightseeing trip to Lewiston.

IDAHO SOLDIERS NEAR INSPECTION

Distinguished Rating is the Goal of the Military Department

The Idaho R. O. T. C. unit of approximately 510 students will turn out Friday, for an all-day drill and inspection. Lieut. Col. Lewis Brown, president of the war department board, will inspect the unit and determine whether Idaho will be given "distinguished" rating. Theoretical inspection will take place in the morning, and the practical inspection in the afternoon. It is not probable that the unit will put on a mock battle. The inspection will deal mostly with drill work.

For the last month the Idaho unit has undergone a strenuous work-out. Drilling both from 7 to 8 in the morning and again at regular assigned hours, the officers hope to have the unit in trim.

Another inspection will take place May 17 when the commander of the Ninth Corps area will visit the Idaho campus. Each school with an R. O. T. C. unit has an annual inspection each year by the area corp officers.

IDAHO GRADS BUSY IN SEATTLE FIELD

Make Names In Church, Business and Medical Lines; Plan Club

(Special to the Argonaut)

Seattle, Washington, April 12.—That Idaho university alumni are active in Seattle is shown by newspaper accounts here. Among those in print recently is the Reverend Joseph Adams, pastor of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church. A brilliant sermon from this man, a graduate of Idaho in the class of 1910, was given big headlines and a full column quotation in the Post-Intelligencer. Rev. Adams stated that American home life has broken down and that the home has become a boarding house, with little opportunity therein for the deeper things by which men live.

The versatility of Moscow graduates is indicated here in the fields of business, dentistry, medicine, public health and in other lines. Dr. Frank Woods, class of 1911, a former resident of Grangeville, has a large practice as a dentist and has just finished Men's Business club, one of the live luncheon organizations of Seattle with a membership of over 300 men.

Three in Medical Field. In medicine Ted Watts, a sheepskin carrier from Idaho, later at Rush Medical, who is located in the 18-story Medical-Dental Building, has developed into an internal medicine practitioner, with a real reputation. Dr. Watts has been active in the affairs of the King County Medical society, having acted as secretary of that organization for many years.

Boise has given to Seattle one of its sons, Harold G. King, who received his college training at the University of Idaho, completing in medicine in Iowa. While King has only been in practice for a short time he appears to be building rapidly. In the public health field is Robert O. Jones, who was in office two terms as secretary of state in Idaho after completing his B. A. course at the university. Jones lectures on health topics over the state and has a reputation as an organizer. He recently projected himself on the front page by attacking Rupert Hughes, the novelist, for his assault on the life and morals of George Washington.

Plans will be laid here soon for the formation of a University of Idaho club.

Idaho-W. S. C. Frosh Track Meet Two freshman track meets have been arranged between the Idaho and W. S. C. yearling tracksters, according to David MacMillan, athletic director. No dates have been agreed upon as yet.

University of California For putting on a real boat race in the making of the photoplay, "Brown of Harvard," produced by the Metro-Goldwyn company, the first and second varsity crews were paid $750.

RALLY IN EIGHTH BRINGS VICTORY TO IDAHO SWATSTERS

Erickson, Vandal Hurler, Fans 13 Gonzaga Batsmen; Flaherty Fans Two

SCORE TIED IN SIXTH Hits and Runs Galore Feature Sensational Last Inning Comeback

The Vandals rallied in the eighth to break away from a tie at two and defeat Gonzaga, 7 to 2, in the first of a two game series on MacLean field Monday afternoon. The second game will be played this afternoon.

Play was even in the first three periods. In the fourth, Bill Lansdon, playing first, got on first on a single, advanced to second on Cameron's single, advanced to third on a passed ball at home and scored on Simmons' bingle for the opening score. A near score followed in the same period when Cameron was out sliding home. Gonzaga's first score came in the fifth inning, when Teeter and Burke came home on Hawkins' overthrow at first. Erickson Fans 13

Ralph Erickson, in the box for Idaho, fanned 13 Gonzaga batsmen and allowed five hits. Flaherty, Gonzaga moundsman, struck out three Idahoans and allowed nine Idaho hits. Hitting features of the game were a triple by Luce, Gonzaga backstop, and doubles by Sullivan, Idaho catcher, and Flaherty, Erickson passed two men on balls. Errors were frequent in Gonzaga's play, five being chalked up. Idaho was credited with two errors.

The rally was started early in the eighth, when Lansdon, leadoff man, went to first when Teeter, at third, muffed his blow. He was advanced to second on Cameron's single. Simmons bunted successfully, advancing Lansdon to third and Cameron to second. Lansdon scored on Lough's long single. With the bases full, Flaherty hit Hawkins with a pitched ball. Hawkins went to first and Cameron scored on the play; and the bases still were full. Sullivan, catcher, drove a long double into the outer gardens, scoring Lough and Simmons and advancing Hawkins to third. Erickson bunted, scoring Hawkins for the fifth and final score of the inning, which was the most sensational ever played on the Idaho diamond.

Vandals Show Form The game showed the Vandals in a good light, with reasonable prospects for a winning season. Hitting showed considerable improvement over earlier practice games.

The score by innings follows:
Idaho .....000 101 05x..... 7 9 2
Gonzaga .....000 020 000..... 2 5 5
Umpire—Morris Kilne.

THETAS GIVE PLAN FOR $35,000 HOME

Construction New Sorority House to Start Late in Spring; Present Site

Construction of the new $35,000 home of Kappa Alpha Theta, women's national social fraternity, will be started as soon as plans are completed, it has been announced. Whitehouse and Price, Spokane, who planned the new Beta Theta Pi house, are the architects.

The new home, which will be of the Italian Renaissance type of architecture, will house approximately 32 girls. It will be built on the site of the present house, at the corner of Deakin and University avenues. The present building was purchased by the group nine years ago, three years before a national charter was granted. Construction will likely get under way in late spring or early summer. It is planned that the structure will be ready for use when school opens in September.

The building committee is composed of Mildred Warnke, Burley; Ruth Chapman, Blackfoot; and Elizabeth Reid and Constance Elder, Coeur d'Alene.

Ar Argonaut April 30 Featuring the Little International Livestock show to be held April 30 and detailing the more important accomplishments of the Ag school, the annual Ag edition of The Argonaut will be edited by members of the department April 30. Dan Shamberger has been named editor for this issue and will announce his staff soon.

The University of Texas has inaugurated a plan by which the field judges and timekeepers at the big track meet will be entirely chosen from the ranks of those who have won varsity letter awards through athletic ability.

Prexy To Stay On the Job Here

That President Upham will stay at Idaho in preference to going to Oregon, as indicated by recent news from Eugene, is reassuring to Idaho students, faculty and alumni. Under his guidance the university has progressed a great deal in the last five years, and his loss at this time would have been a hard blow. Since it was announced that Dr. Upham might be a candidate for the University of Oregon presidency, much concern has been expressed by everyone connected with the school and also Moscow business men and interested people from all parts of the state.

Idaho is now in a transition period. The change from a small, second rate school, to a class A university has been wrought mostly within the last five years. This period has been one of expansion and consolidation of added branches. The task facing the executive head of this university is at present one which will tax the powers of as good an executive as Dr. Upham has shown himself to be. The Argonaut is glad he is going to stay with Idaho.

Do Dancers Prefer "Jazzy" Music?

Much has been said as to the apparent preference of students for jazz music of the wailing fox trot variety for dances and entertainment. And it has seemed that orchestras were thus catering to a general demand for these cacophonous blues because they rarely played anything else. Recent observations, however, indicate that a few more waltzes and fewer "blues" would be highly acceptable to most dancers. About twice during the ordinary evening's program of dance music, Idaho orchestras so far forget themselves as to play a charming, rhythmical waltz piece. The applause and encores which follow these rare occurrences apparently have no meaning for the musicians for they immediately repent their generosity and blare forth with innumerable "hot mama" numbers. It almost seems that local dispensers of melody are not abreast of the current taste in dance music.

With an increasing population, the highest educational opportunities can not be granted to all, say President Ray Lyman Wilbur in a special symposium on Remaking the College published as a supplement to The New Republic for April 14, nor is it desirable to do so. The variability in human qualities is great, and high intellectual capacity is not common enough to expect that many will profit by advanced university work. The development of the Junior College, permitting a stopping place for students at the end of the sophomore year of college work, will take care of the largest burden of students. Universities will more and more come to limit themselves to students beyond that period and to exact a higher quality of work from them.

The Safety Valve

Our R. O. T. C. Attention! Twelve hundred heels snap together with one movement, six hundred backs straighten, and twelve hundred eyes are straight to the front. A word of command and six hundred men swing into line with a firm and steady tread. Six hundred men all in step, all alive, are a wonderful sight, but alas! not at Idaho. At Idaho it is: Attention! and six hundred students—not men—drag themselves to an upright position, rifles held anyway in their clumsy paws. A command, and out they step, not with pride, but as if they were killing them to move even in that shuffling walk. To them a rifle is a miniature cannon. To them a uniform is a monkey suit. To be sure a monkey would never be seen in one, not if he saw one of these cadets first.

It is truly amazing how these great big men from the wide open spaces can stand around a couple of hours with nine pounds of wood and steel in their hands and then come out utterly fagged. What would they do if they had to really drill for one hour? And then to show that this Herculean toil means nothing to their hardy spirits, they hold consolation meetings for hours to deval the unkind fates that sent them out into a hard world filled with guns and cruel army officers. How nice it would be if they could go back to mamma again for sympathy. How it hurts their tender feelings to have an officer bawl at them. They have never taken orders before, so they find it hard to do so now.

I am not a cadet in this corps. I took my training with more boys whose spirit was poor as it was, would shame those who call themselves men. I wonder what Idaho service men think of them. I wonder what excuse there is for the difference between this attitude and the glorious spirit of war days. Then the uniform was a distinction and it took a man to fill it. Perhaps that's why our students never button their blouses except at drill.

It certainly is right that soldiers should be machines, obedient to their officers. Heaven help them if they—I judge by the present specimens—ever try to use their own judgment. It is a real art to know where to plant the point of a bayonet, a painful art. If it were not for that art we should probably be studying German now. However, if our mental geni would rather learn that art at the last minute, calamity howlers like myself must subside.

At Boise High School there is a picture of the University Student Regiment. It was hung up to serve as an inspiration to the cadets there. They must go and look at that long line of men standing so stiff and straight and thereby glean some hope that they may be such soldiers themselves someday. I wonder if it would not be wise for the War Department to hang a picture of B. H. S. R. O. T. C. in the Gym?

—Nathan L. Scott, '29.

Now that all the student opinions are pouring into The Argonaut editor's desk with increasing regularity on all the subjects under the sun, why doesn't some one write an opinion on why all the sorority and fraternity houses on the Idaho campus serve at every evening dinner roast beef, mashed potatoes and brown gravy.

Two thousand, nine hundred and eighty-three "beyond the pale" milk cows suffer annually to the great cause of "roastbeef" on the university campus. The slogan "Bull" for the Idaho students apparently is not far-fetched, because after the eternal feed of the bovine's fetlock nightly for nine months of the year, the decision that they are full of it is inescapable.—H. N. P.

Sanford University Before a student can have a canoe on the lake, he must be able to swim 20 yards on the surface and 40 yards under water and dive for a weight.

Washington State College Sigma Delta Chi annually entertains guests from the faculty, student body, and town at a gridiron banquet.

Stanford University A chess club at Stanford meets twice a week and will compete with University of California, April 8.

UNPOPULAR OPINION

Blaine Stubblefield

I am growing much disgusted With the fried and hard becrusted Stale and sticky, stogy, stuff We have to eat; With the variegated mixtures And the fancy cooking fixtures, And the tough and stretchy linges They call meat. There are pies in leather casings, Done with decorated facings, That would constipate the devil, Should he take life. They are full of bitter cherries, Or domestic huckleberries— Well, it really doesn't matter How they make it. I must not neglect to mention That most popular invention— Breakfast dishes known as cereals And mush, Mixed with milk of weakly texture; As I eat it, I conjecture, It's a subject for a lecture— That it's slush. Salads made of boiled potatoes, Plates of dingy red tomatoes, Bowls of soup that very much Resemble rain; Every place I go a-dining I get these for stomach lining; It's no wonder I'm repining Now in pain. As I sit here idly versing I am pleasantly rehearsing All the good things I shall eat In future life; When I own a patent toaster, Coffee urn, and fireless roaster, Shiny silver, painted china, And a wife.

According to The Argonaut's "Who's Who," a couple of issues back, President Upham is only 39 years old. Furthermore, he took a B. A. degree from Miami at the early age of ten. The Argonaut should be more careful. Undergraduates aspiring to be college presidents are doubtless much discouraged now, finding themselves so far under the President's record.

Don McCrea, head-lined as a campus gentleman defining an ideal co-ed, says, "She must not only be as perfect and beautiful as a Madonna, but as truthful and faithful as an Ingersoll." Pretty high standard, that, for women. Also, about the movement—

Campus Katie says: All picnics should have been postponed on Moscow Mountain. Think of going away over there to postpone something.

These "Who's Who" are fascinating. I always liked the intense, deeply connotative, colorful, and original style in which "Who's Who" is written. In fact, I have often thrown my geometry book aside and reveled in "Who's Who". Those interviews are the laziest things I have noticed lately. Why interview an interesting person, and then put it in this dry and crackling language? Better stories than those already published could be written about hod carriers, or horse jockeys.

James K. Allen, '28, writing in last week's Safety Valve, came very near saying something. This beardless youth has got a touch of the cock-and-bells spirit of college Prussianism with its tin jewelry and scare-crow outfits, and he doesn't like it. Imagine anyone laughing at our war department! Let him be suppressed at once, for I was just going to write on that subject myself.

Last week I happened to mention in this column, the rather speedy character of the Mercury for May. By some chance, I got my copy before they were suppressed, and it appears that I was the only one who did. As near as I can tell, seventeen college aesthetes have called at my humble quarters to borrow this juicy gem. I will repeat that it is not fit for any one under thirty five to read and also wish to announce that I will rent my famous copy at one dollar an hour.

Campus Fire Success Kioty Bill Advises Blaze for Assembly

Dear Ma, Well Ma, the committee on public events finally put on an event that got a crowd. After Moscow has been trying for years to stage a successful fire, why the campus puts one on that takes effect. Seeing what splendid action resulted from this event, why the committee should announce a fire for next assembly.

The only hitch in this one-act fire was that the "I" men never paddled them that come with dates. They were plenty of enthusiasm but no undue excitement. I seen one old lady running across the campus pasture trying to untie her apron as she went.

Like at all events why some fellows stood up in front and some dum bells started in to clap before it was time or else got up and went home before it was over. Kioty.

Reed College Badminton is a new game at Reed college. It is similar to tennis, but is played with a shuttle cock and special two-foot rackets weighing six ounces.

In 1868 the university offered 18 courses. An $2 page booklet is required to announce the courses for this semester.

CONTROL

Chemical control is superseding rule-of-thumb methods in industry. When the first du Pont powder was made—nearly a century and a quarter ago—chemistry was not an exact science. Today, the chemical engineer with the vast resources of modern science at his disposal controls production from raw material to finished product.

To chemical control, through research and experiment, is due that unvarying quality which makes the "Du Pont Oval" a symbol of excellence everywhere.

Under the du Pont name is published a practical and authoritative work—the "Blasters' Handbook." It is being used by instructors and students in many of our leading technical institutions throughout the country. A copy of the "Blasters' Handbook" will be sent free upon request.

NEBRASKA U. TAKES STEPS TO MAKE MILITARY OPTIONAL

NEBRASKA UNIVERSITY. (By New Student Service)—Students, citizens, and pastors met recently in a Lincoln, (Nebraska) hotel to consider ways and means of placing before the state legislature a bill to make military training optional at Nebraska university. A state executive committee was formed to place the question before the voters at the next election by means of the initiative. It is estimated that approximately 35,000 signers to petitions requesting that it be placed on the ballot are needed. No difficulty is anticipated in getting these names.

Members of the citizens executive committee condemned compulsory R. O. T. C. chiefly because they consider it conscription in time of peace, and because they believe it is un-American in principle.

A student committee is also being organized to promote the movement on the university campus.

To reduce the number of illiterates before the 1930 census, a four-year intensive campaign against illiteracy is to be sponsored by the United States interior department, bureau of education.

MANY TOPICS COVERED IN CURRENT EVENTS CONTEST

NEW YORK.—(By New Student Service)—What in the past year's news was the Karolyi affair? The Gobi Desert Expedition? The Riff War? These questions and others will be asked in the New York Times Current Events Contest to be conducted in eastern colleges. Prizes of $250 and a gold medal will be given in each college.

News events of the past year will be covered in the contest. However, because of the short notice given for the first, it was decided to examine students only on events occurring between Oct. 1, 1925 and May 1, 1926. The contests will be held at Cornell, Columbia University, the University of Chicago, the United States Military Academy, Harvard, the University of Michigan, the United States Naval Academy, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Virginia and Yale.

University of Oregon. One sophomore and two freshmen journalism students successfully put out an edition of the Ashland Tidings, spring vacation.

Interfraternal contests will be a feature of the Oregon song week which opened yesterday on the campus.

Fashion Hints

PRINTS ARE SMART
One piece frocks are printed or plain, in transparent or heavy materials. In the printed crepe, foulard, tulle, and voile, the dot, plaid, and floral design are most seen. Black and white, red and white, and green and white are popular, though riotous color is also used. Some dresses are very attractive with printed shoulders and skirts, and plain bodices. Silk twill, satin, especially crepe satin and taffeta, are used for more formal frocks. Street dresses are of rep, broadcloth, crepe, and kasha. Plaid taffeta is important with almost all of these, as well as shantung and tussau. Chinese silks, on the order of pongee, but much, much heavier, are very good in sport clothes.

TWO PIECE FROCKS
Far more numerous than the one-piece frocks for sports are the two-piece models. They are usually of the hip-length variety and straight in silhouette, though willfulness introduced into the skirts through pleats. All sorts are used—very fine, elaborate, kick, and box pleats.

All of these jumper frocks have long sleeves. Usually they are straight or fitted, or they blouse at the bottom over a tight cuff. A variety of materials or combinations of materials are used. Some are made all in wool, some in a combination of jersey jumper and wool skirt, some with sweater top, and in addition there are jumpers in shantung, tub silk, silk crepes, and combinations of these.

Time was when sports costumes were always in one color trimmed with another. Now, many of the smartest sports costumes have the blouse in one color and the skirt in another in such smart combinations as green and white, blue and white, or orange and tan.—Vogue

FIRE IN AD BUILDING BASEMENT CAUSES SLIGHT DAMAGE

A fire of unknown origin caused damage estimated at $300.00 to the mechanic's laboratory in the basement of the Administration building early Saturday afternoon. The fire burned out the wood work of one window and destroyed a few tools in the shop before it was put out. The fire started under a bench in the shop, it was reported, but a number of men were working in the shop at the time and it was soon discovered and the alarm turned in.

Considerable smoke was given off by the fire, some of it getting into the university library, which is on the floor immediately above the shop. When the smoke cleared out work was continued in the shop.

DEAN UPHOLDS POWDER PUFF
EMPORIA, Kan.—Maude E. Minrow, dean of women at the state teachers' college, considers the use of cosmetics by women students as important, at least to the extent that they should not be denied this privilege as pledges by their sorority sisters.

Consequently, while fraternity pledges are counting the number of paving bricks in a block, wearing straw hats and going sockless during "hell week," the sorority pledges show no effects of initiation, at least in public.

When some sorority pledges appeared without cosmetics, sans curl in their hair, and bright ribbons and adornments for their coiffure, the dean issued a decree that all sororities should not require pledges to appear in such an unusual and unladylike manner. Those who had not asked this of their pledges were complimented by the dean.

Harvard University will from now on allow but one thousand men to enter the university each year. Anyone with conditions against him will be barred.

More than 20 engineering students of Princeton university, went on a two-day cruise on a United States naval destroyer, spring vacation.

HIGH TRACK STARS TO COMPETE HERE FOR STATE TITLE

More Than Fifty Men Will Be Contestants in Big Meet

DATED FOR MAY 14

Medals and Cups Ordered; Lewiston and Boise Show Strength

Idaho will be host to more than half a hundred high school track stars Friday, May 14, when the annual state interscholastic track and field meet is held on McLean field. The meet comes back to Moscow after an interval of a year, it being held at Pocatello last season.

District meets will be held May 1 in southern Idaho and May 7 in the north. The winners in the south Idaho district meet at Caldwell in an all-south Idaho meet May 7 under the auspices of the College of Idaho. First and second place winners in this meet will come to Moscow.

Make Preparations

Extensive preparations are being made for the state meet here, it being the only high school event of importance since the 1926 state basketball tournament. Medals and cups for the winners have already been ordered, funds being procured from the benefit varsity-all star football game last month. The Moscow chamber of commerce has appointed a special committee to handle all business arrangements for the event.

Lewiston Has Strong Team

The probable winner of the state title is yet a matter of conjecture. Lewiston high school, always a consistent contender, is expected to have a powerful team after a lapse of several years. Its strength will center around "Bobby" Potter, winged-heeled colored sprinter and hurdle man. Boise showed unheralded speed in the triangular meet last week and with Caldwell and Nampa, doubling the score on its opponents. Sandpoint should have a clear path in the weight events with De Mers, who shattered all javelin records last season, throwing the weights in polished style.

GIRL SWIMMERS TRAIN FOR MEET

Erickson, Vice-President, Will Be Master of Ceremonies

With the choosing of the girls' swimming squads Wednesday, practice for the girls' tank tournament will start definitely. About 35 girls have been turning out for the general practice, which has been in progress for two weeks. Each squad will be composed of 10 girls. From these squads the teams of girls will be chosen. Practice is held every Tuesday night. From 7:30 to 8:30, carring strokes and turns are practiced, and from 8:30 to 9:00 diving instruction is given. According to Miss Elsie Jacobsen, who is directing the swimming, there are very good prospects in diving.

The tournament, which will probably be held the last week in May, will be by classes. Girls who make the class teams will receive 100 points for W. A. A. After the tournament, there will be a course of instruction offered in Red Cross life-saving. Girls who pass in this course will receive life-saving medals, and recommendation in the work.

Girls' swimming, which is an innovation this year in sports, is proving popular, according to the amount of interest shown.

KNIGHTS TO INSTALL CHAPTER AT LOGAN

Erickson, Vice-President, Will Be Master of Ceremonies

The national order of Intercollegiate Knights has just voted favorably on a petition for a chapter from the Beta club of Utah Agricultural college at Logan, Utah. Everett R. Erickson, national vice-president, and Homer Manley of Pullman, national treasurer, will leave April 28 to install the chapter at Logan, which will be known as the Beta Knights of Intercollegiate Knights and will be the seventh chapter of the fraternity. Installation will be on April 30 and May 1. Erickson will be master of ceremonies.

According to Erickson, conditions are becoming favorable for the extension of the Knights into the larger eastern schools. He says that the Knights will have a convention May 7 and 8 at Seattle and at that meeting eastern expansion will be taken up. Manley and Erickson are planning an inspection of the Ball and Chain chapter at Idaho and the Cougar chapter at W. S. C. this week.

Six Initiated by Xi Sigma Pi

Xi Sigma Pi, national honorary forestry fraternity, held its initiation last Friday afternoon. The ceremony took place in the Arboretum, under a very forest-like atmosphere. Following the initiation, a banquet was given at the Blue Bucket Inn, in honor of the initiates. The new members are: Charles E. Fox, Carl A. Gustafson, Henry C. Hoffman, Wallace M. Saling, Wilfred F. Beales, and Jackson W. Space.

Cincinnati University

The only violator of the honor system found at examinations was expelled.

Columbia University

The new student hall is named in honor of the first chief justice of the United States, John Jay, of the class of 1764.

SPOKANE MAN AFTER IDAHO COACHING JOB

M. J. Pecarovich of Spokane Interviewed by Angell

M. J. Pecarovich, former Gonzaga university star athlete and for two years assistant varsity coach to Charles E. (Gus) Dorias at Gonzaga and also coach of the Gonzaga high school, is being considered as a possible successor to R. L. Mathews as football coach at the University of Idaho.

Dean M. F. Angell, chairman of the board which will make recommendation for the new football coach to President A. H. Upham, has gone on a trip east to confer with several men regarding the coaching position and he conferred with Pecarovich in Spokane Saturday night.

Dean Angell refused to comment regarding the football coaching situation, other than to say that Pecarovich was among a number whose names have been placed before the board.

No action will be taken by the board until after Dean Angell's return from the east.

RIFLE TEAM CLOSSES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Scores 7330 in National Meet Fires in 10-Contests This Year

Idaho Men's Rifle team scored 7330 out of a possible 8000 in the national rifle match last week, closing the 1926 season. In the first stage the Vandal riflemen scored 1886; the second stage, 1847; third, 1675; fourth, 1922.

The team engaged in 10 matches during the year. Two of these—the national and the William Hearst trophy match—were against all of the R. O. T. C. units of the United States. It won two of its seven matches with other universities and colleges and won a fifth place in the Ninth Corps area match. One university failed to make a return score, and the scores of the national and the William Hearst trophy matches have been sent in.

Takes Fifth Place

Idaho won fifth place in the Ninth Corps area match. This entitled it to enter the national. O. A. C. first team won first place with 5583 points out of a possible 8000; University of California (southern branch), 5467; California Institute of Technology, 5446; University of Idaho, 5416, and O. A. C. (second team) 5388. O. A. C. were the champions last year. There were 18 colleges and universities in competition.

ONE-ARMED TENNIS STAR ON U. C. TEAM

A one-armed tennis player will compete against Stanford for the University of California in the intercollegiate varsity matches here at the Berkeley Tennis Club Saturday a. m.

John Rizzo is the name of the student who has battled to third place in rankings of the Bruin net team, overcoming the handicap of but one good arm. Although only a sophomore and with not quite a year of varsity competition behind him, Rizzo has bested two of last year's letter men and has demonstrated his right to play one of the three singles matches and to take part in one of the two doubles matches.

Evolving a method of serving that allows him to throw the ball with his right hand at the same time that he holds the racket with that member, the sophomore prodigy seldom misses getting over a fast accurately placed curve. In general court work and speed he does not lag far behind Ed Chandler, captain of the California team and national intercollegiate singles champion.

Rizzo is registered from San Francisco. While a boy he played in the Golden Gate Park tournaments there, and was runner-up to Cranston Holman, present Stanford tennis champion.

HIGH SCHOOLS WILL MISS R. L. MATHEWS

Sport Writer Praises Former Coach; Comments on Baseball, Track

(By Les Robinson)

Idaho athletics received a severe blow this last week in the resignation of Coach Robert L. Mathews as director of University athletics. It was evident last season that Idaho could not hold such a man as Mathews long. Matty did wonders for Idaho athletics, bringing the football teams up to a par with the best on the Pacific coast, and establishing a graduate coaching system in the high schools of the state that is just beginning to bear fruit in superior athletic material for the university and secondary colleges of the state. Mathews cleared up the eligibility situation of Idaho athletics and established a spirit of sportsmanship, enthusiasm and fight on the Idaho campus which had been lacking. But the impress of such a man will last for a long time, and the state may be fortunate enough to find a coach who will carry on where Matty left off.

High schools of the state are into track and baseball up to their ears. Although the national has a feeble hold in many of the schools it is gaining in popularity and before many years district and state championships may be possible. As yet baseball does not pay among the high schools and until it does, it cannot get very far. This is also a drawback in track, but the district and state interest. The fact that the university is working out a plan to guarantee railway expenses for the state track meet should enhance interest and prove welcome news to the high schools of the state. Heretofore the expenses of teams have been prorated from the receipts. The athletes will be boarded and roomed at the fraternities as in the past.

H. S. Stars Not Apparent

Prospects in track are dim at this time. It is known that a number of the star performers in the 1925 meet have graduated, including the Twin Falls stars, Timm and Alvord. The north still has its crack javelin thrower and weight man, Demers of Sandpoint, while the northern sprinter and hurdler, Potter of Lewiston, will be in the running again, and he is a very likely winner in hurdle and sprint events. District meets are set for May 1 and May 8, while the state event come off the middle of the month. Inter-school dual and sectional meets will be under way during the coming weeks and the results of these should reveal state possibilities.

Lewiston Returns from Meet

The state champion Lewiston basketball squad returned last week from Chicago where it made a good showing despite the fact it failed to win a single game. By district comparison the Idaho champs were only 11 points under the national titlists from Fitchburg, Mass. Lewiston lost to Pine Bluff, Arkansas, 25 to 24, in an extra period game. After winning a couple of games Pine Bluff lost to San Antonio, Texas, 26 to 22. Then the Texas team lost to Salem, S. D., 22 to 15, and Salem tied Fitchburg, 18-all and lost out by a single point, 18 to 17. Coach Brown and the Lewiston players feel that had fate tipped the count in their favor in the first contest, they might have gone a long way at Chicago. With seven of the nine players back again next season, Lewiston feels it has a good chance for another state title, and a real chance at Chicago, should it get another try.

Denver U. Head "Cans" Liberal Minded Profs For Tainting Minds

DENVER, COLO.—(By New Student News Service)—Denver University held two liberal progressive professors. They have been dismissed. Says the chancellor, Heber Rice Harper, "they have been released for inefficiency in teaching and for the expression of opinions harmful to the University and its administration."

Say the students. "They have been discharged because of their avowed liberal views, and because such views were opposed to those of the administration and of its financial backers." Grove Samuel Dwo and Carroll M. Hildebrand are the professors in question. Their suspension has aroused a vigorous protest among a large number of students who have been circulating petitions and mailing up flaming, indignant handbills and posters.

"Who is the power behind the throne?" demand the posters, "where is freedom of speech and democracy for all instructors?" An informal mass meeting reiterated the questions. Chancellor Harper tried to explain.

Professor Dow, of the sociology department, declared the chancellor, lecturing in the classroom as a good pedagogue should, actually used the "forum method" of discussion and worse still actually took his pupils on visits to the various social centers and institutions to see conditions as they existed in Denver. This practice continued the good chancellor, and the Rocky Mountain News backed him up, of sending "immature students" to the very heart of Denver's social institutions is an "unwise practice", and a "practice not to be endured." And so professor Dow was released. As for professor Hildebrand—er—well, that was a purely financial matter, said the chancellor, and anyway students are obviously not competent judges of what is pedagogically sound.

But the students remain unsatisfied, and it is rumored that the Association of College Professors may take a hand in the matter.
