BAUGHMAN DEFEATS BUCHANAN FOR A. S. U. I. HEAD

JUNIOR MEN'S REPRESENTATIVE ON EXECUTIVE BOARD IS SELECTED PRESIDENT TO SUCCEED STROBECK

Harry Baughman, junior men's representative on the executive board, defeated Jess Buchanan, a member of the same body, for president of the A. S. U. I. in the general student body election Thursday afternoon.

Nine hundred and seventy-seven votes were cast. With the exception of the contest for president, associate editor of the Gem of the Mountains, yell king and junior men's representative on the executive board, the offices went uncontested.

GROUPS ARE FREED OF "GEM" SPACE FEE

Executive Board Handles Organization Question at Meeting

The question of paying for space in the annual for such organizations as the university orchestra, debate, play production, stock judging, and other campus groups was discussed at the executive board meeting Wednesday night.

After some discussion it was agreed that these bills should be paid directly to the individual departments would be by the A. S. U. I. as charging them are equivalent to putting money from one pocket to the other.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS GUESTS AT KID PARTY

A kid party for the high school senior girls was established as an annual event with the party given Tuesday evening, in Guild hall.

Student Reporters Barred

Reporters from the Daily Maroon, student paper of the University of Chicago, will be prohibited from attending meetings of the Student Council.

Sneaking Juniors Hunt For Sneaking Seniors Bent On Traditional Sneak

"These seniors are the dumbest things! They aren't awake to a thing going on in the world even that most concerned with themselves. Really something should be done about it!

GLEE CLUB SHORT ON GATE RECEIPTS

Trip Expenses Exceed $700; Late Season Blamed for Poor Crowds

With expenses in excess of $700, and box office receipts amounting to $360, the Glee club went behind $400 on its four day northern tour.

FIFTEEN SIGN FOR SUMMER ARMY CAMP

Restrict Entrance to Advanced Students; Others Drill Until May 17

Fifteen men from Idaho have signed up for R. O. T. C. advanced camp this summer at Camp Lewis, Washington.

In speaking of further drill this spring, Major Fuller said that the basics, the freshmen and sophomores, will continue drill until May 17.

Repeal of Law Allows Frats in Mississippi

UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI. (ew Student Service)—Greeks are no longer taboo in Mississippi.

Two fraternities have been reported as running subrosa for some time. The five year provision is designed to place all fraternities on an equal footing.

VANDAL DOUGHBOYS PLAY MARTIAL AIRS

R. O. T. C. Band Unit Featured in Wednesday Assembly

Thirty-five khaki-clad "doughboys" of Idaho's R. O. T. C. unit led by bandmaster Bert Nielsen of the U. S. Army, gave a concert at assembly Wednesday morning.

Every school year many future musicians of martial airs appear before Mr. Nielsen in trouts for positions in the military band.

A tradition of years' standing, that The Argonaut office is never bothered during class fights, was broken last night when half a dozen seniors interrupted the work on this issue.

FROSH GIRLS DEFEAT UPPERCLASS SQUAD

Two Games are Played on the Inter-Class Series

Sophomore girls triumphed over the upperclassmen, 19 to 12, in the first game of the interclass baseball tournament, Monday afternoon.

In the second game of the series the upperclassmen, 28 to 11.

BAD WEATHER DELAYS TENNIS

Idaho-Whitman Players Scheduled to Meet Here Soon

The present rain has caused a great delay in the tennis tournament but it is hoped that it can be taken up again soon, according to Bill Calloway, tennis manager.

There is an intercollegiate match scheduled with Whitman. The date has not been set for certain but it will probably be within the next two weeks.

MEETS SATURDAY TO PICK H. S. TEAMS

Coeur d'Alene, Lewiston and Caldwell Events Prior to State Tourney

Three sectional track meets will be held Saturday at Coeur d'Alene, Lewiston and Caldwell to select the high school trackmen who enter the state interscholastic meet here next Friday, May 14.

First and second place winners in the three meets will come to Moscow for the interscholastic. The southern teams probably will come direct from Caldwell to Moscow, to get acclimated to the track and weather conditions.

Medals Are On Display. The Moscow chamber of commerce is making a final drive to secure financial backing for the meet, and has supplemented its committee in charge of the affair.

Cups and medals for the team and individual winners have arrived and are on display in the window of a downtown jewelry store.

Chapel Hill College Breaks Political Group

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA (New Student Service)—How to break up Tammany hall, that is the problem on many a campus.

As usual a "carefully nurtured" machine of the "usual Carolina type" had been oiled up and greased early in the year.

The politicians blundered however when they omitted from their conclaves an old line national fraternity.

As a political machine, the new steam roller "was a masterpiece."

Supporters were gathered by the hundreds, "almost overnight." The regular machine was beaten to a frazzle.

Mother's Day Custom Dates Back to Old English Gift Idea; Eagles Lodge Pushes It

The observance of Mother's day is really a very old custom, one that seems to have been brought over to this country from England.

LOSS OF SPRINTER WILL HURT IDAHO IN MONTANA MEET

Perrins, Star Runner, Hurts Leg; Cannot Take Part Saturday

COACH TAKES 13 MEN Distance Men and Weight Heavers May Offset the Dash Handicap

Idaho's track team left for the dual meet with Montana on Saturday in a crippled condition with Sam Perrins, premier sprinter, of the squad, nursing an injured leg muscle which will probably keep him out of competition for two weeks.

All of the other members of the squad are in good shape, but lack of substitutes will make Perrins' loss a material one.

Distance and Weights Better. The unexpected good showing of the distance men and continued improvement by the weight heavers, will offset the weakness in the dashes.

Clayton Pickett continues to hurt the javelin and discuss a greater distance each succeeding week.

Montana Strong in Northwest. Mitchell and Thompson are both shaving the seconds of their records in the high and low hurdles.

Montana has one of the strongest track teams in the northwest, centering its ability on Russell Sweet, wing-heeled sprinter.

Y. M. C. A. PICNIC IS ATTENDED BY MANY

Professor C. W. Chenoweth and Mike Snyder Principal Speakers

More than 25 Idaho men attended the joint Idaho and Washington State College picnic on the Pullman road last Wednesday.

Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, of the philosophy department of the University of Idaho, and Mike Snyder of W. S. C. were the two principal speakers of the evening.

In 1912, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, at its national convention in Cleveland, Ohio, passed a resolution which provided that every lodge in the jurisdiction should set aside one Sunday in the year as Mother's day.

Officially Recognized. Two years later, in 1914, Mothers' day was officially recognized by act of congress. Senator Thomas J. Heflin of Alabama fathered the bill which

All In Favor say "Aye."

With all the musical talent there is on the campus such as the Pep band, university orchestra and military band, it seems that something could be done toward a concert occasionally during these warm spring evenings. It might not be considered in keeping with artistic talents to play for an hour on the campus Friday or Sunday evenings but it would be an experiment worth trying.

If some campus musical group will agree to try the experiment, it will find the response instant and flattering. It seems to be a holdover from the old home town days that people enjoy the combination of warm spring evenings, music and a lawn. And the audience will not be too critical of the musical qualities of the offering. If the musicians merely want to practice and keep their lips in shape, they can find no more appreciated way to do it. Just to set a precedent and try an experiment, why not give it a try, Pep band?

Effect of Crowded Housing on Students.

The University of Oregon Daily Emerald comments as follows on the effect on studying, of crowded conditions in fraternity and sorority houses.

"Surely no one will deny that surroundings have an appreciable effect upon the mood of the average young man or woman. And when one contrasts the temptations for a studious evening in the average home with the attraction for study in the average fraternity house the difference is at once apparent. In one there is quiet and freedom from interruption. In the other there is noise, and constant interruptions from persons that apparently believe that brotherhood assumes an utter disregard for another's time and occupations.

"Some day fraternities will come to realize that the real function of a fraternal house is to provide a satisfactory place to study. When that time comes, the houses will be constructed with more attention to living quarters, and fraternities at the same time will pay more respect to the rights of peace, non-interruption and the pursuit of quietude. When that time comes one of the most legitimate objections to fraternities will have been withdrawn."

The Way of the Faculty is Hard

You will have to admit that our patrons and patronesses are an untiring lot of people who go here and there and the next place smilingly and continually. Every day or so, several clubs and societies announce their intention of having this or that affair and their announcement is concluded by a formidable list of professors' names.

The long suffering faculty members blessed by so many societies and organizations, never do receive the thanks that is their due. Year in and year out they attend dance after dance. The chairmen of the reception committees smile in a matter of course fashion as the patrons take their departure after an hour or so of handshaking and fragmentary conversation carried on to the rhythm of an eight piece dance orchestra.

At this time of the semester, when mid-terms, reports, papers and the final schedule have been blamed on the faculty, it is pleasant to recall the good deeds which can be laid at the professors' doors.—Daily Californian.

DIRECTIONS: If you still have your wrist watch start when second hand hits 60:
1. Write the day of the month here—and if any of your relatives died in jail place an X here.
2. Think of a number of four figures, divide it by the cost of that last date and the cost of the paint for the roof of the engineering building, and if you were vaccinated on your arm, spell your last name backwards and divide it by the result of your mathematical calculations.

3. Otherwise run around the room three times and add the total of the Idaho stock-judging contest victories.
4. Multiply the number of debates attended this year by the total packages of cigarettes your roommate has borrowed and write it down here.
5. If you are not making a hit with your prof, indicate your status by filling in the spaces here—ED.
6. If you like grand opera, and can appreciate the music of Scherscher-sky Rachminicof divide 40 by 3 and if the result is eleven tear this paper up and get a new one.

UNPOPULAR OPINION

Blaine Stubblefield

All we seniors graduating
Now are earnestly debating
What the prospects are for mating,
Bye and bye,
With the ones we fondly told
We shall love you till we are old
And the desert sands are cold.
(With a sigh)

Now we've got an education,
Got in debt to our relation,
Here's the end of this vacation,
Sure enough.
Now we've got to earn some money
For a woman known as "Honey"
And the prospect isn't funny;
No, it's tough.

Well, we do not mind confessing
That we've done a lot of messing;
Still, we're master hands in guessing
At our staff.
If we can produce the bacon
With the courses we have taken—
With all other means forsaken—
We can bluff.

WHAT WALT WHITMAN SAID

I wear my hat as I please indoors or out.

I say it is as great to be a woman as to be a man.

Have you heard that it was good to gain the day? I also say it is good to fall, battles are lost in the same spirit in which they are won.

Has any one supposed it lucky to be born? I hasten to inform him or her it is just as lucky to die, and I know it.

Why should I pray? Why should I venerate and be ceremonious?

The friendly and flowing savage, who is he? Is he walking for civilization, or past it and mastering it?

No shuttered room or school can commune with me, but roughs and little children better than they.

I too am not a bit tamed, I too, am untranslatable, I sound by barbaric yawn over the roofs of the world.

Now I re-examine philosophies and religions... They may prove well in lecture-rooms, yet not prove at all under the spacious clouds and along the landscape and flowing currents.

A lot of churches, sects, etc., the most dismal phantasms I know, usurp the name of religion. Conversation is a mass of badinage.

I tucked my trouser-ends in my boots and went and had a good time.

In literature, especially the poetic part of it... parcel of dandles and ennuyees, dapper little gentlemen from abroad, who flood us with their thin sentiment of parlors, parasols, piano songs, tinkling rhymes, the five-hundredth importation... chasing one aborted conceit after another, and forever occupied in dyspeptic amours with dyspeptic women.

Money making is our magician's serpent, remaining today sole master of the field. The best class we show, is but a mob of fashionably dressed speculators and vulgarians.

Allons! from all the formulae! From your formulae, O Bat-eyed and materialistic priests.

Safety-Valve Puritans and So-Forths may address their replies to Mr. Whitman. He's dead.

A new barnacle has fastened itself to the bottom of the old ship. We introduce the Blue Key with a hearty laugh.

Perhaps the Blue Key has something to do with that minor-walling dance music known as the blues.

"Party investigates range conditions," says The Argonaut; probably referring to the quiet groups around sorcery kitchen stoves on Sunday nights.

WHO'S WHO

M. F. Angell

(Don McCrea)

Many of our new students receive their first impressions of Idaho through Dean Angell, and it is useless to say that these impressions are the best. The poor freshman coming to college, oftentimes without friends and acquaintances, gets rid of that lonely feeling by his short talk with the Dean over his future courses.

Dean M. F. Angell has been at Idaho for thirteen years, and has established a reputation during that time that is enviable.

M. F. Angell was born in Delaware, Wisconsin, in 1878. He attended the University of Wisconsin and received from that institution three degrees: the B. S. in 1902; the M. A. in 1905; the Ph.D. in 1911. In 1903 he married Miss Mary Alta Gilbert of Darlen, Wisconsin. He was professor of physics and mathematics at the university of New Mexico for two years, and during the years 1906-13 was professor of physics and electrical engineering and dean. He came to Idaho in 1913 and has been professor of physics since that time. In 1921 he was made dean of the college of letters and science, the largest college in our university. He is a member of Sigma Xi and of the American Physical Society.

During the last three years he has taken a very active interest in Pacific coast athletics, being president of the Pacific coast conference for two seasons.

The Safety Valve

To The Editor: As I look back over my first year's work in the college of engineering I feel that I have been offered the utmost in every course taken, except English. This subject is, unquestionably, one of the most valuable Freshman courses offered, and could be made one of the most worthwhile by the proper presentation of the subject. However, as it is presented at present, only a student of journalism, or one who intends to become an author or poet, can gain full value from it.

If the present Freshman course in English was revised and divided into the following three branches it would assume an immediate and far more definite value than it has: or ever will have under the present system. There would be one branch where those students who expect to major in English could learn the rudiments of the flowery style and easy flow of words that they will perfect in their advanced classes.

For the business school, law school, and similar branches of study there would be another branch of first year English. This branch would give them the basic knowledge of the type of English which such people use in everyday life, and which they would learn more of in their advanced classes.

The third branch would be for the engineer, the forester, and the agriculture student. Since these three take all their English in the first year, the course would have to be efficiently designed and taught. It, of course, would have to deal with the type of English which such people use. Concise and grammatical reports, statements, and letters would be the aim of the course.

These revisions would make the course one sought after and liked instead of one to be evaded and despised by the majority.

H. S. Riesbol.

Pick a pipe and pack it with good old P. A.

TALK about "alliteration's artful aid" . . . the printer certainly raided the "p" box that trip. But let that go! The advice is just as serious and sound as though it were couched in the careful diction of an English prof.

Just get yourself a jimmy-pipe and fill the bowl to the brim with Prince Albert. Light up, and let the first fragrant whiff tell you that no other tobacco is like P. A.—or can be! Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A. has everything a fellow ever wished for in a smoke.

P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat. The Prince Albert process settled that in P. A.'s freshman year. Get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today. The first load-up will tell you why pipes are so fashionable among young men today.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Though we sometimes doubt if spring is really here, when the icy blasts accost us and winter coats are still indispensable, still we can be reassured if only by the steady stream of hikers, who make their way to Moscow Mountain of Genesee Ridge. So, if on Sunday morning you would like to get a date for that afternoon, don't be so indiscreet as to call at her house, she will of course not be there but up in the pines.

Wednesday night dinner guests of Beta Theta Pi were: the Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Mitchell, the Rev. and Mrs. N. M. Jones, the Rev. and Mrs. Wayne S. Snoddy, Paul Hull and Miss Mary Lou Ford. Housemothers present were: Mrs. Ida Everly of Alpha Chi, Mrs. Alyce Terry of Kappa Alpha Theta, and Mrs. George Reed of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The Young Woman's Christian Association held a very interesting meeting at the U Hut last Thursday. The topic of the meeting was Seabeck, where the summer convention will be held. Dorothy McLeod, Helen Smith, and Frances Emerson were guests from the W. S. C. organization to talk on this subject.

At a meeting of Sigma Alpha Iota on Wednesday evening Goldie Smith, Dorothy Whitenack and Alice Ross were pledged to become members. After the pledge service the chapter enjoyed a short musical entertainment, after which dainty refreshments were served.

Dinner guests of Beta Theta Pi Tuesday evening were: Dr. Harry Elmhous, John Middleton, Dr. C. C. Crawford, who gave a very interesting talk about the University of Idaho, and Judge Wortell of Boise.

Guests of Beta Theta Pi this week were: Gus Irving, Art Guerin, Thurlyn Shrontz, W. W. Green, Dr. and Mrs. Bryant of Colfax, and Jim Kockaday who has been in the hospital there since Christmas.

Dinner guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma Tuesday were: H. Carlburg, C. Olsen, M. Zerner, G. Young, F. Allen, C. Disney, H. Hall, G. Kelly, G. Yost, G. Grees.

Dinner guests of Gamma Phi Beta on Saturday were: Miss Edith Larson, and Miss Harriet Larson of Missoula, Montana.

Thursday dinner guests of Tau Kappa Iota were: Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Toole, Martha Boswell, Eva Hampton, and Helen Buckingham.

Boyd Cornelson, Lewiston, was a Tuesday evening dinner guest of Sigma Nu.

Dean F. A. Thompson was a dinner guest of Sigma Pi Rho Wednesday evening.

Dinner guests of Pi Beta Phi Thursday were: Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Lewis, and Miss Millie Minger.

Dinner guests of Sigma Pi Rho were Dean and Mrs. Thompson on Wednesday evening.

One of the most popular customs has been that of sending letters to be delivered to mother on Mother's day. The wearing of a flower, a carnation, in honor of "Mother" is another way of observing the day. This charming method of paying tribute to mother is almost universally practiced.

Last Year's Services

On Mothers' day, May 10, 1925, the American War Mothers had charge of the exercises at the tomb of the unknown soldier, at Arlington national cemetery. As a tribute to his efforts and to the Eagles, Frank E. Hering, a former national president of the fraternity, was invited to deliver an oration. In introducing him, Mrs. H. H. McClure, the National War Mother, stated to the distinguished assemblage that the Fraternal Order of Eagles was "the first organization to conduct a national campaign for the observance of Mothers' day, and Mr. Hering, as spokesman for the fraternity in those early years, deserves the credit of being called "the father of Mothers' day."

The national organization of War Mothers has again been requested by the government to take charge of services at the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington cemetery this year.

Spirit of Arlington

"We would like to carry the spirit of the Arlington service into every community throughout the land," said Mrs. I. T. Fairweather, Shoshone County War Mother yesterday. "Mother" is a sacred name—"The Home" is literally the bed-rock of our republic's greatness.

"We as War Mothers are trying to do all we possibly can for the sick and disabled ex-service men who served their country and for whom the war is not yet ended. Our funds are limited and we ask the busy public to stop long enough to buy a carnation on sale by the War Mothers Saturday, May 8. They will know when wearing it that they are not only honoring the memory of Mother, but that they are helping in the work of the War Mothers are doing among the ex-service men.

"In Denver, Colorado, is situated the Fitzsimmons government hospital where ex-service men are being taken care of by the government. This is the largest government hospital in the United States. In many cases the relatives of these men could come only for a day as they had only money enough for the railroad fare. The War Mothers have built, however, and are maintaining a home, near this hospital where the wives and mothers may stay while visiting their loved ones. It is but a short walk from the hospital and many a lad's last days are made happy by mother's presence."

Fashion Hints

After Dame Fashion's little fling at many and varied colors she has again become subdued to the extent of composing her summer wardrobe of white, cream, gray, and the ever popular summer shade of light green. She cuts these demure colored fabrics in an equally demure mode. The "Robe de Style" is the most recognized informal and tea wear. The usual sophistication shows itself after strictly tailored for street and the eight o'clock. A little taffeta dance frock of cream would delight any cooed for the numerous informals still left this season. A wide band of black chiffon around the bottom of the skirt and an equally wide and fluffy fishu tied around the neck, wired hips, and tiny sleeves should satisfy the demands of the most fastidious. A posagey of real pansties or violets fastened a little to one side of the neck would offer a fitting climax to this course.

Of the 546 students who flunked out of Syracuse University at the end of the first half of the college year, 128 were freshmen.

AILSHIE TALKS TO LAW SCHOOL MEET

Recent Lecture Is First of Series Sponsored by Bar Association

Ex-Justice J. F. Ailshie, for 12 years member of the supreme court of Idaho, spoke to the members of the law school recently on the method of taking an appeal to the supreme court. The ex-justice gave instruction calculated to inform the embryo lawyers as to the usual mistakes made by practicing attorneys.

Last Monday, the ex-justice Worstell, formerly probate judge at Wallace, but for many years a member of the Industrial Accident Board of Idaho, outlined to the law students the practice before this board, the duty of which is to administer the Workmen's Compensation law of the state.

These are the first of a series of lectures arranged for the Idaho law students by the State Bar association to bring some outstanding specialists in the legal profession before the law students at Idaho. These talks are designed to weld together the law school and the organized bar of the state.

SNOOK AND BOWEN WIN POSTER PRIZES

Colorful "Maying" Designs Please Judges—Fjelde Approves Work

Judging the nine posters submitted Friday in the "Maying" poster contest, on design, character, coloring, and poster quality, the first prize was awarded to Wayne Snook, and the second prize to Hal Bowen. As described by Olaf Fjelde, the first prize poster has coloring appropriate to spring, has a good design, and is in character with the event, and the different coloring given the various groups of lettering leads one to read all of it, and is better in this respect than others which employed several lines of printing of the same coloring and lettering, which gives a monotonous surface and is not as easily read.

According to Mr. Fjelde, not as many posters were turned in as might have been wished for, but the showing was good considering the fact that they were due just during the 12 weeks examinations. He says that the jury, consisting of Miss Grace Zuidrele, Miss Ruth Jacobson, and himself, felt very well pleased with the character of the work and the interest displayed by the contestants.

IDAHO NINE SPLITS SERIES AT GONZAGA

Erickson Whiffs 14 in First Game; Bonehead Ball Loses Second

Idaho played its usual 50-50 brand of baseball against Gonzaga university at Spokane, winning the first game Tuesday in brilliant style, 7 to 6, but losing the second encounter 12 to 1.

The first game was a neck-and-neck battle, with the Bulldogs holding a two run lead three times, only to have the Vandals tie it each occasion and win in the last inning. Gonzaga led 6-4 at the eighth, but Idaho tied the score in its half of the inning. In the last of the ninth Howerton made first on a free pass, was sacrificed to second by Erickson, and came in on Lehrbas' double. "Lief" Erickson fired airtight ball, allowing 7 scattered hits, fanning 14 batsmen and walking none.

Game Played in Rain

The game was played in a stiff rain and wind storm, and play was stopped for 20 minutes in the second inning, to allow an exceptionally heavy downpour to pass.

Idaho outbit the Bulldogs in the Wednesday tilt but bonehead base running kept the Vandals from the home plate. Gonzaga started its scoring in the first inning when Hunton stole home base while Howerton and Coach MacMillan were conferring on the base lines. Lehrbas brought in the sole Idaho run in the fifth frame, when he singled and scored while succeeding batsmen were being forced out at second.

Lehrbas was the batting hero of the series, making 2 double base hits in the first game and 3 hits in 4 times at the plate in the second.

First game:

Gonzaga	130	251	00x	12	10	3

Batteries: Stockdale and Howerton, Sullivan; Dwyer and Luce.

THETAS ARGUE NOT ENGAGE TO MARRY

Delta Gamma Loses; Others Forfeit in Intra-Mural Series

Arguing that the college undergraduate should not become engaged to marry, Delta Gamma affirmative speakers were defeated by the Kappa Alpha Theta negative speakers last Tuesday evening in the semi-finals of the intramural debate series.

Ruth Galligan and Mildred Dingle represented Delta Gamma, Beulah Brown and Elsie Potter represented Kappa Alpha Theta.

Two Matches Forfeited

Sigma Chi forfeited to Tau Kappa Iota, and Daleth Teth Gimmel forfeited to Tau Mem Aleph the same evening.

"Resolved: that churches in the United States are no longer justified in sending missionaries abroad," will be one of the subjects for the next intramural debates to be held Monday, May 17. Sigma Alpha Epsilon speakers will represent the negative side.

To Talk on Evolution

Monday evening Tau Mem Aleph affirmative will debate with Tau Kappa Iota, negative, on the subject, "Resolved: that evolution should not be offered as a regular course in our secondary schools and universities."

The first debate of the evening will start promptly at 7 o'clock, in room 207, Ad building, according to Lael Simmons, manager of intramural debate.

The winners of these debates will debate for the intra-mural championship the following Friday evening. The subject will be announced after the Monday, May 17 debates.

DEFENSE OF NECKING GETS STAFF IN BAD AT PACIFIC U

FOREST GROVE, Ore., May 5. An article entitled "In Defense of Necking," published today in the Pacific University Index, campus weekly, caused the expulsion from college of Virgil Green Lily, editor of the paper, and Webster Wertz, staff reporter, suspension of the assistant editor, dismissal of the paper's staff and suppression of the edition containing the offending article.

The article was declared by college officials to be destructive to morals and indecent. Necking, it was explained, is the collegiate for the old-fashioned term "spoofing."

Lily and Wertz were to have graduated this spring. Both have been prominent on the Pacific campus. Wertz is a theological student preparing for the ministry.

"The article was originally published in the University of Indiana Vagabond and came to us through the Intercollegiate News association," Lilly said. "It was used to fill out space and we had no idea it would be taken the way it was. It is presumably a humorous satirical article upon present-day campus conditions, not particularly local. It had no peculiar application to the campus of Pacific university."

"PROBATION" LIST PLANNED IN FALL

H. S. Grads with Low Grades Will Have Names Posted

A "probation" list, containing the names of those entering freshmen who present less than 10 of their required high school credits with grades not at least one point above passing, will be published next fall and will be available to fraternity and sorority groups. This plan was explained to the interfraternity council at a meeting Thursday night by Dr. A. H. Upham.

It has been found from experience, Dr. Upham said, that 90 per cent of students entering the university with more than five of the required 15 high school credits below a "C" grade, do not stay in college after the third semester. It is proposed to make the names of such students available to fraternity and sorority groups at the time of rushing.

This means that entering students must have at least 10 units one point above passing to keep off the list. A tentative schedule of rushing rules for next year was adopted at the council meeting and will be announced soon.

54 REGISTER FOR CAMPFIRE COURSE

Janet McKellar, Secretary Trains Girls for Group Guardianships

Fifty-four girls are registered in the camp fire course given by Miss Janet McKellar, associate field secretary of campfire from the national headquarters in New York.

The course is to acquaint girls with campfire, its purpose, ideas, ideals, and relationship to girls' life. At the end of the course, Friday, the girls will receive certificates which will entitle them to organize or take charge of any campfire group.

Lectures and handcraft work are included in the course. Tooling leather, beading, basketry, stenciling, painting, wood blocking, and weaving are among the handcraft work. The girls are taught to make accounting books, for recording honors, and to make their ceremonial gowns and headbands.

The weather made it impossible to have the outdoor meeting planned for Thursday afternoon, when there was to have been a lecture and demonstration in camp craft.

Miss McKellar met with high school girls Thursday morning. She will spend two days lecturing to and instructing campfire guardians of Moscow.

IDAHO GRADS WIN BALLOON CONTESTS

Capt. Hawthorne Grey Will Represent United States in Belgium

Two Idaho alumni, Capt. Hawthorne Grey, '14, and Capt. Laurence Stone, '16, were winners in a national balloon contest at Little Rock, Ark., last week. Captain Grey will represent the United States in the Gordon Bennett cup race in Belgium next month.

The names of the old grads who have made good in the "lighter than air" field are known by Earl David, Moscow business man and Idaho graduate. Grey was a baseball player of note during his college career and Stone managed the glee club in his four college years.

In the national contest, Captain Grey, as pilot of the S-23, won second place by maneuvering his balloon for a distance of 636 miles.

Saw Service in War

Grey and Stone entered the balloon service through strange circumstances, according to Mr. David. Grey was a member of the Idaho National guard in 1915 and served on the Mexican border during the raids of the Mexican bandit, Pancho Villa. After several years in the National Guard, he was transferred to the balloon service through selection. Captain Grey is ranked among the leading balloonists of the nation by his victory in the contest.

Stone entered service in the United States army by volunteering at the beginning of the World war and was transferred to the "lighter than air" department when that branch of national service was in the experimental stages. Stone's transfer was one of the few in many years to be made, as his original enlistment was in the marine department.

Columbia's varsity debaters have won two decisions in defending the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That compulsory enrollment in the Reserve Officers' Training corps in American colleges should be abolished."

The Harvard "Lampoon," said to have been the oldest college humor magazine, has suspended publication for an indefinite period because of lack of funds.

Experience—

In no industry is experience in manufacture more essential than in the production of explosives. Physical control of the product is paramount.

DuPont has made explosives continuously for 123 years—originating or developing nearly every great forward step in explosives manufacture in this country.

Ability derived from long experience has enabled DuPont to serve industrial needs and even to anticipate those needs by originating new methods, new processes and new products.

The most efficient methods of employing modern explosives may be found in the "Blasters' Handbook"—a practical and authoritative work now being used by instructors and students in many of the leading technical institutions throughout the country. It will be sent free upon request.
