ACADEMIC COUNCIL NAMES CANDIDATES FOR RHODES HONOR

Merrill, Brown, Buchanan, and Wunderlich Nominated for Oxford Scholarship

MANY APPLICANTS Committee to Make Appointment December 11 of Student to Represent Idaho

Beardslee, Bliss Merrill, Spokane; Wallace Cable, Brown, Lewiston; Jess Buchanan, Moscow, and Herbert John Wunderlich, St. Maries, were nominated Thursday afternoon by the academic council as candidates for the Rhodes Scholarship from the University of Idaho.

These nominations were made after careful investigation and consideration of the several applicants, according to Dean H. C. Dale. They are selected on a basis of literary, scholastic ability and attainments; qualities of manhood, character, public spirit, and leadership; physical strength, as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

These nominations will be submitted to a state Rhodes Scholarship committee which consists of McKeen Morrow, state Rhodes scholarship secretary; President A. H. Upham, George Curtis, and two other former Rhodes scholars to be chosen by the present members. This committee will meet in Boise, December 11, consider the nominations submitted and to make an actual appointment of the student to represent Idaho at Oxford.

Other Schools Represented

Two candidates will be nominated from the College of Idaho, and two from Gooding college, which will be considered by this state committee together with the four nominees from the University of Idaho. Other names may appear before the committee of Idaho men who are attending colleges outside of the state, and who receive the endorsement of their respective institutions as worthy of consideration by the Rhodes committee.

No restriction is placed upon Rhodes scholar's choice of studies. He may read for the Oxford B. A. in any of the final Honor schools, enter for one of the so-called Diploma courses in special subjects, or, if qualified by previous training, may be admitted to read for advanced degrees such as the B. Sc., B. Lit., B. L., or Ph. D. "Honor Schools" are established in the following subjects, any one of which can be studied exclusively: Literae humaniores, mathematics, physics, chemistry, animal physiology, zoology, botany, ecology, astronomy, engineering, science, jurisprudence, modern history, theology, oriental subjects, English language and literature, philosophy, politics and economics, and one modern language.

"Everything indicates that Idaho Y. W. C. A. will have a big year. So far the girls have responded well and we expect a large number to join the organization during the drive," said Mildred Perry Wednesday.

Each house has a chairman to care for the new members in her group. The Chairmen are:

Pledging will be finished the latter part of this month, and all girls interested in the society will meet October 19 in room 816 Ad building at 7:30 o'clock.

A room is being arranged in the old Kappa Alpha Theta annex, for the distribution of the town girls' Argonauts, and a bulletin board for announcements will be installed. Members of Tau Mem Aleph are giving a dance for members of Daeth Teth Gimel the evening of October 22.

HOME-COMING DAY PLANS UNDER WAY

Campus Prepares for 10,000 Visitors for Idaho-W. S. C. Football Classic

Plans are being made for the University of Idaho's annual Homecoming celebration November 6, at which it is expected that 10,000 visitors will be on the campus. The feature attraction of the day will be the football classic with Washington State college, the Vandals' oldest rival.

Arrangements for the university's part in the celebration have been delegated to the Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity on the campus. Committees have been appointed which will begin work at once to draw one of the largest crowds in the history of the school on the campus on that day.

Ancient Rivalry

The football game will be the expression of an athletic rivalry between the two institutions—which has only nine miles apart—which has existed for more than 30 years of bitter competition. For many years the Washington Cougars carried the Idaho has been triumphant. The closeness of last year's score 7 to 6, has intensified the rivalry between the teams and students. The war cry of Cougar supporters is "Beat Idaho." This has not gone without a response from Idahoans and as a result one of the bitterest football classics of the long series probably will be played on November 6.

Tentative Program

A tentative program of the day includes the traditional "mixer" in the university gymnasium, the annual athletic ball, a formal, and other features to be announced. Posters announcing the event have been sent to every alumnus of the school, and these, according to George Horton, graduate manager, are exected to help bring in the 10,000 persons expected here on that date.

Following tradition, each group house will be decorated in the spirit of the time. For the best decorated house the student body offers a loving cup award. Competition is exceptionally keen this year and it is believed that the campus will be more colorful than ever before.

Townspeople as well as students have entered into the spirit of Homecoming and have also appointed committees.

SECURE MARONI OLSEN PLAYERS

Sign Company for Series of Plays Again This Year

The Moscow Business and Professional Women's club has again secured the Moroni Olsen players for this season, according to an announcement by the club recently. Tickets will be placed on sale soon.

No advertising of the players has been done while university artist tickets were on sale, a representative of the club said Thursday.

The players met an enthusiastic reception at the hands of Moscow audiences in their plays here last year, and according to pre-season announcements from training headquarters at Ogden, Utah, still better plays will be presented during the coming season.

IDENTOGRAPH PICTURES ARE RETURNED FROM EAST

The identograph pictures, taken during registration week, are now finished and in the registrar's office. The pictures are very clear with practically all of those taken, being good pictures. They are to be distributed to the deans of the various schools within the next few days and not until then can the success of the idea be judged, according to Miss Olsen, registrar.

The object of the identographs is to make it possible for the deans to identify the various students as the occasion demands. This method has been necessitated by the growth of the university.

A copy of each picture is also attached to the matriculation card of each student for purposes of identification and one used for alumni records.

DRAMATIC CLASSES TO PRESENT PLAYS

Three One-act Productions Will Be Given October 21 and 22

Three one-act plays, the first to be offered to Moscow audiences in two years, will be given at the university auditorium two nights next week as the first of a series of monthly dramatic productions by classes in play production at the institution. They will be given Thursday and Friday evenings, October 21 and 22.

The three plays to be given are "Goldilocks," by Edward Knoblock; "In the Darkness," by Dap Toheroh; and "Happiness," by Hartley Maners. The first two are being produced by Prof. J. H. Cushman, head of the dramatics department, while Miss Marie Gauer, assistant in the department, is directing the third.

An unusually good array of talent is available in play production classes this year, Prof. Cushman said Thursday, and seven plays are now in rehearsal for future production. Fifty-five students are enrolled in courses offered by the department, including a goodly number having had one or more year's experience in university dramatics.

It is the plan of Mr. Cushman to present plays once each month, giving each student an opportunity of appearing in public as often as possible. There will be no admission for those at the university next week, he announced.

SPECIAL LEAVES FRIDAY EVENING

One Hundred and Fifty Idaho Rooters Will be Aboard Train to Seattle

One hundred and fifty students, accompanied by the Pep band, will leave the Northern Pacific at 7 o'clock tonight for Seattle, where they will root for Idaho in the Vandal-Husky football contest Saturday afternoon. The special will leave Seattle at midnight Saturday night and arrive in Moscow about noon on Sunday.

Assurance that the special would be run was announced by Blue Key, which took over responsibility of ticket sale on the campus. The fraternity divided itself into an emergency committee and units visited every group house on the campus, where war-time "four minute talks" were given in favor of the special before midnight Monday night sufficient pledges had been received to assure the train.

Two tourist and two standard Pullmans, an observation car and two chafers cars probably will be included in the special, which was ordered Wednesday morning. A baggage car will be cleared and included in the train for dancing purposes. The Pep band has agreed to furnish music Friday night.

Chaperones named by the administration, will accompany the students. John McMurray, yell king, will be aboard the train. He has requested that every rooter provide himself with an "I" cap, to be worn both before and during the game at Seattle. The Idaho delegation will be seated in a special section, from which Idaho spirit will be dispensed via organized rooting.

Second Series Will Be Held in Room 207, Ad Building

Three inter-mural debates will be held Monday evening, room 207 Ad. building at 7:30 o'clock. At this time the Delta Chis, (affirmative) will debate the Forney hall team (negative) on "Resolved that smoking is an undignified and injurious habit for American women."

The same evening the Pi Sigma Rhos (affirmative) will debate the Sigma Pi Rhos (negative) on "Resolved that all undergraduates on the campus should be prohibited the use of automobiles or anything pertaining to four-wheel, self-locomoted vehicles, during the school year."

Also the Pi Beta Phis, (affirmative) will debate the Beta Theta Pis, (negative), on "Resolved that it would be advisable for each social fraternity house on the campus to house a house-mother."

Rules are the same: Two persons on each team, five minutes constructive and three minutes rebuttal speeches. Failure to appear amounts to an elimination.

WHITMAN TO DEBATE AUSTRALIAN TEAM

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 14—PIP—The debate team of Whitman College will meet the team representing the University of Sydney, Australia. The debate will be held in the college chapel on the evening of October 18. The English system of debate will be used with the decision being given by the audience, on the Idaho campus to attend.

MANAGING EDITOR WILL BE ELECTED

Constitutional Amendment Will be Voted at Special Election Tuesday

Managing editor for The Argonaut will be elected and a new amendment providing for the athletic managerial system will be voted to the A. S. U. I. constitution, at a special election called for Tuesday. The hours of the election are from 10 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It will be under the supervision of the A. S. U. I. election committee, of which Charles Kincaid is chairman.

Burton Moore, now acting managing editor of The Argonaut, has been nominated for candidacy for managing editor by the Argonaut board, according to provision of the constitution. The position will be uncontested.

George Young, former Argonaut issue editor, has been nominated by the Gen. of the Mountains board for associate editor of the year book, and will be voted upon Tuesday. He is running alone for the position, also. The amendment to the constitution provided for the selection of a senior athletic manager by a committee composed of the executive board, retiring senior manager, athletic coach and trainer. It also provides that there shall be eight sophomore managers for each branch of athletics and four junior managers. From the junior managers, the senior manager will be selected.

"I" CLUB BANS HIGH SCHOOL SWEATERS

Vetoed Wearing of Stripes On Other Than Idaho Athletic Jerseys

High school sweaters bearing letters or stripes shall not be worn on the campus, was the substance of a motion carried by the members of the "I" club at a meeting Tuesday night, according to Ralph Erickson, president.

"Previously the tradition has been that high school sweaters with the letters removed were allowed on the campus, but in the last few years, sweaters with the stripes on the sleeve, especially red sweaters, have become so numerous on the campus that it is difficult for a casual observer to distinguish the Idaho sweater from the one possessed by the former high school athlete," said the president of the club. The rule will go into effect Monday, October 18, and will be enforced by the "I" men. Anyone caught violating the rule will be treated to a dip in the "university drink" located in front of the Ad building.

In an interview with Coach Charlie Erb, the football mentor expressed his approval of the new rule passed by the "I" club. He inferred that it was getting a step further from high school "stuff." Certain members of the athletic organization suggest that those wishing to continue wearing their sweaters have them dyed so the stripes no longer show.

PHI CHI THETA NAMES PLEDGES

National Business Woman's Honorary Fraternity Selects 10 New Members

Phi Chi Theta, national business women's honorary fraternity, selected its pledges Sunday, October 10. Pledges from the school of business were chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, and other excellent qualities.

The pledges are Miss Ellen Rierson, graduate of Idaho and a present member of the faculty in the school of business; Edith Larson, Anne Mortenson, Mildred Perry, Patsey Payne, Inez Azcuenaga, Elizabeth Poultin, Dorothy Virts, Marion Dick and Bernece Simons.

Regular meetings will be held throughout the year, according to Pearl Cordray, president. One of the two meetings to be held each month will be a luncheon at the Blue Bucket.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB TO MEET SATURDAY

Dr. Tromhanauer Will Address the Organization, It is Announced

Dr. Henrietta Tromhanauer, associate professor of modern languages of the University of Idaho, will address the Cosmopolitan club next Saturday evening, October 16, at 7:30 o'clock on "Why We Should Have a Cosmopolitan club", according to Gopal Singh Khalsa, vice president.

There will be music by Elsa Elsing. A social hour will be held after the regular meeting.

Officers of the club urge all foreign students and any others who are especially interested in the foreigners decision being given by the audience, on the Idaho campus to attend.

Y. W. C. A. ENTERTAINS AT COLLEGE MIXER

Program of Music and Stunts for All University Girls

Y. W. C. A. entertained at a mixer for all university girls last Tuesday evening at Forney hall. One hundred and thirty girls were present and were entertained by stunts from the different organizations. Music was furnished by the Y. W. C. A. orchestra which is composed of Lucile Hadlock, Lucile Barber, Elizabeth Curtis and Endi Wilson. Stunts were put on by Pi Beta Phi and Daeth Teth Gimbel. Barbara Rugg and Helen McConnell gave a feature dance and Georgietta Miller a toe dance. Lucile Barber played a violin solo and Violet Spurgeon (and Marion Howerton) each gave a reading.

BOARD LISTENS TO PROFIT ARGUMENTS

Receipts From Pep Band Show Should be Credited to Drama, Cushman Says

Credit for profits from the annual Pep band show, around which there has been considerable discussion this year, came in for a major portion of discussion at the regular meeting of the executive board Tuesday night. Representatives from the department of dramatics did much of the work. John Cushman, through a representative, asked that the dramatic department be given credit for the receipts in order that deficiencies in the department will be taken care of in budget figuring. It was expressed, however, that the apportioning of the money to the Pep band would not meet objection.

The board took the matter under consideration for action, probably at the next meeting.

The Blue Key fraternity was awarded responsibility for exploitation of Homecoming following request presented by Jess Buchanan, president of the organization. Mr. Buchanan announced that the club had considered the possibility of putting the celebration over and felt that it could successfully exploit it.

The publication of the Homecoming programs was awarded to Blue Key, following a request submitted by Mac Hardwick. The work last year was done by sub-contract from the Inter-collegiate Knights.

The proposed student directory will be printed by Blue Key, it was voted by the board, following the offer of the fraternity to do the work, presented by Charles Kincaid, a member. Active work on the directory will be started immediately, Mr. Kincaid announced, following the decision of the board. It is expected that it will be placed on sale within the next two weeks.

Peddlers Not Wanted

The practice of peddling in fraternity houses and dormitories is growing rapidly, despite the fact that it is a thing which should receive the censorship of students. Almost every week a peddler of some sort visits the campus and carries away with him money which rightfully should be left in Moscow.

Moscow business men are deserving of the full hearted support of every student at Idaho. These men are behind the university, both in spirit and with money, when the latter is asked. They have guaranteed financial success to interscholastic track meets, gone over the top in the Memorial drive fund, they give advertising to the ever-increasing list of student publications and they have never failed when a request is made. They should be supported.

The money expended with peddlers goes out of Moscow, as a general rule. Besides this objectionable feature, the practice is bad from an ethical standpoint. Peddlers visiting fraternity houses and dormitories are good salesmen. They must be held to their jobs. They sell products to students when the latter cannot readily afford them. And this is not fair to local business men, who do not use these methods.

There are, of course, official fraternity jewelers, whose activities have no competition here. This request does not concern them. But tobacco salesmen, men and women's clothing peddlers, suit sellers and the whole tribe should not be allowed on the campus.

High School Stuff

The "I" club has ruled against ex-high school students wearing interscholastic sweaters which resemble the varsity "I". The club has gone so far as to prohibit high school athletes from wearing them on the campus. Whether or not this action of the club is drastic, former athletes should not wear red sweaters similar to those worn by men who have won the official recognition of the A. S. U. I.

If any man has a sweater of this sort, and many sweaters are purchased because of their resemblance to the "I" sweater, he should have it dyed or otherwise changed. There is no rule, excepting that of the big stick, which is questionable, that could prevent the wearing of these. But the student himself should take it upon himself to do away with this practice.

The "I" sweater represents a great deal of hard work on the part of the wearer. It means long hours of training of the most rigid sort. It means that the wearer has excelled, played a better game than the men who contested his right to win the award. It carries a certain deserved prestige that should not be lessened by men who have not yet won this award, but who have done their work in high school.

There is a definite move in every college in the land to drop the high school attitude just as soon as matriculation into college is affected. There is a vast chasm between university and high school life. This should be recognized with regard to the wearing of the high school award.

PLEASE

Approximately 150 Idaho students leave tonight for Seattle to watch the Vandals and the Huskies battle for football supremacy. These students are going as representatives of the University of Idaho, and will be judged as such by students of the coast institution, as well as citizens of Seattle.

It will be the height of bad taste, as well as terribly damaging to the university, if some over-zealous rooter plies himself with that forbidden but convivial nut brown beverage and then sets about to shout the praises of Idaho about the streets of Seattle. If some student feels this overpowering urge, for heaven's sake, prevail upon him to hide his "I" cap and shout the praises of John Barleycorn instead.

Your blood is 90 per cent water, your bones nearly 50 per cent, and your brains nearly 85 per cent, according to one zealous statistician. Yet, we think, two ounces of moonshine of the brand distilled by local distillers, will strongly dilute your entire contents.

U. OF W. TO HAVE NEW LIBRARY UNIT

First Part Now Opened to Students; One of Largest in Nation

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, October 14—With the opening of the first unit of Washington's long-awaited library comes a step in the spiritual growth of the university incomparable in its significance to any event of recent years. Until workmen complete the interior of the building, only two reading rooms, each accomodating 175 readers, will be available. Reserve text books are on hand in the new structure, while a gigantic stock room which will contain 750,000 volumes will be erected.

When the great reading room is finished, critics declare Washington will have the most beautiful reading room on the continent housed in one of the largest American university libraries. Two hundred and thirty-six feet from apse to apse will be the length of the room. The walls come together in a great gothic arch with a peak 73 feet from the floor. From baseboard to baseboard the width is 47 feet. It is planned that 500 readers can be seated in the main room.

When your personal appearance is at stake visit The "IDAHO" BARBER SHOP.

Vital Questions

Do you know that 85% of all we learn is through the eye?

Then do you realize how essential it is that these invaluable organs should be properly cared for?

If you do not wear glasses, have your eyes examined, without delay. If you do use glasses, have your eyes examined periodically—at least once a year.

Our examination is modernly scientific. We guarantee satisfaction, and we do not prescribe glasses unless they are positively essential.

Seventy-five girls reported for volleyball practise for the first week. Of this number twenty-four are freshmen, thirty-three sophomores, eleven juniors and seven seniors. Indications are that there will be strong class teams to compete in the tournament which will be played shortly before Thanksgiving.

The old plan of house tournaments has been done away with and only class teams are chosen. It is urged that more upperclassmen report for practises in order to make more competition for places on the class team. Two new courts have been made in Lewis court, north of the gymnasium, and practices are at 4:08 o'clock every afternoon.

The class in practical gymnastics will learn the game of soccer football under the direction of Miss Wright. Any girls outside of the class who are interested in learning the game may report with the class on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10:00 o'clock. Although it is not a recognized sport for which points are given by W. A. A. everyone is urged to come out for the enjoyment of the sport.

Everybody will be there—Andy Gump and Min, Napoleon and the Empress Josephine, Douglas Fairbanks, and Mary Pickford, Martha and George Washington, besides all the ghosts, devils, and witches that usually haunt Hallowe'en parties. Prizes will be given for the best costumed couples. During the evening the various halls and sorority houses will present stunts.

The following committees have been chosen: Gwendolyn Griffith, program; Alice Melgard, floor; Lillian Dietelthorn, tickets; Sara Sumson, advertising; Ella Walldrop, music; Dorothy Howerton, stunt; Helen Hunter, decoration; Cleo Miller, candy; Meroe Corneilson, refreshments.

gest organizations on the campus. Mrs. Louise Blomquist, acting dean of women, pleaded with the women to set a definite goal and follow paths leading to this. She declared that inasmuch as the four years of college life is the last formative stage, the most must be made of the opportunities which present themselves. In school habits are formed which last throughout life.

"Learn to live and learn now," she said. "Keep your mind clean, have ideals and standards and live by them. Get into activities that mean the most to you. Don't be afraid to try, even though you fail."

The social committee for the league was appointed as follows:

PRESIDENT McVEY QUESTIONS MODERN EDUCATION VALUE.

Can Education Absorb and Clarify Knowledge Rapidly Enough? He Asks

TALKS AT ASSEMBLY

Pictures Himself to Audience as "Puzzled Philosopher" on Problem

"Can education absorb and clarify learning and knowledge rapidly and thoroughly enough to adapt the modern student for rapidly changing conditions of the present day?" was the question propounded by Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, before the general assembly Wednesday morning. In asking a multitude of questions of his audience he pictured himself as a "puzzled philosopher".

"Is education wise and far-seeing enough to bring about through studies, a balance and symmetry of the connection of religion and science in such a way as to show the deep-seated common connection between the two?" the president asked.

Advance of Science

"Will science and its advances during the past 35 years so affect man as to cause him to use his acquired knowledge in a wise and constructive manner? Or can science and religion, which many of us feel are of such different courses, be accepted in such a manner to combine the two and show the supernatural which we call God?"

"All of this depends on the youth of today, and whether he has developed an inquiring mind; whether he has been given in his education a background of social life, and whether with all these he is prepared to go out into the world ready to judge great problems of the day in a correct manner."

Dr. McVey pleaded that those who were to educate be of the highest quality, because the failure of the teacher to teach would lead to "science overwhelming, religion failing and inspiration for modern problems and advance lost forever to humanity."

Youth Must Respond

"In continuing my stand as a "puzzled philosopher", I might propound hundreds of questions which can only be answered by waiting for youth to respond in later years," he said. "Can claims of science that synthetic food will soon prevail be true? Time alone can tell. It is interesting to speculate and then wonder if the educational facilities of today and the best of teachers can promote the proper learning to mould the students to fit the ever-changing conditions of the world."

Dr. McVey has been the president of the University of Kentucky for the past nine years and prior to his connection with that institution was president of the University of North Dakota. He was introduced to the assembly by President A. H. Upham.
