INJURED VANDAL SQUAD PREPARING FOR COYOTE PACK

Seven Idaho First String Players Reported On Crippled List

POWERS OUT OF GAME

Washington Game Shows Vandals Have Strength Despite Score

Charley Erb's Vandal eleven now has seven men on the injured list and as a result, the game with the College of Idaho next Saturday looms as even a more difficult obstacle than it had been doped, and the Coyotes were never figured as easy marks. Idaho emerged from the Washington game with seven first string men crippled and it seems likely that none of them will get back in the lineup before the O. A. C. tilt on October 30.

Frank Powers, quarterback, was injured and had to be taken out of the game in the fourth quarter of the Seattle game. According to Erb, he will probably be out of the game for three weeks. The loss of Powers will be a severe blow to the Vandals, as he was the heavy man of the backfield, calling signals, doing most of the punting, passing, and considerable ball carrying. John Bauer and Lylo Stark were also hurt in the game and it is not likely that Bauer will be able to play for at least two weeks. Chuck Diehl, Darwin Burgher, and Chuck Martin are still out of the game, and although they will not take part in the College of Idaho contest, will undoubtedly be in condition to strengthen Idaho's line when the Vandals go to Portland to play Oregon Agricultural college October 30.

Vandals Powerful
Although Idaho suffered a defeat by a score of 26 to 0, the fact that the older and more experienced team of the University of Washington was held scoreless in the second and third quarters indicates that Idaho has a powerful team. Coach Bagshaw has been with the Huskies for five years and has most of his regular eleven back this year. Charley Erb has coached the Vandals for a bare three weeks and has had a team almost entirely made up of new men.

According to Coach Erb, the score of the Seattle game should have been 3 to 0, but for the fact that in the

FORMER STUDENT WRITES ARTICLES

E. G. Blackburn, ex-1927, Gets Accounts in the "Financial World"

Edmund G. Blackburn former student in the School of Business administration, has two leading articles in the "Financial World" of September 14 and September 18. The first of these is entitled "Appraising the Insurance Stocks," and the second, "Bank Stocks Are They Still Attractive." Blackburn left school but would have been graduated in 1927. In the first of these articles Blackburn points out that the investing public is giving increased attention to the insurance stocks, but that lack of familiarity with the manner in which these issues should be evaluated has acted as a drawback in popularizing them. Such stocks, he says, sell on a relatively low yield basis but their record of extra cash and stock dividends gives this group an attractiveness that has been too little noticed. In analyzing the financial strength of a particular company, Blackburn draws attention to the following ratios: surplus should be twice capital, earnings should indicate a constant upward trend, income from investments should be at least one and one-half times dividend requirements, net premiums should not be substantially more than twice capital and surplus.

In the second article, dealing with the attractiveness of bank stocks as an investment, Blackburn points out the general downward tendency in interest rates which many leading economists regard as a definite trend, and how it has its effect on the investment status of the shares of banks and trust companies. The decline in the price of capital, according to Blackburn, will render it unlikely that banks can in the future earn so great a percentage of returns as in the past. This does not mean that bank shares are losing their fundamental soundness but rather that the phenomenal increase in the value of such shares that has marked the past twenty five years will gradually be less pronounced as time goes on.

Blackburn, who is now with Moody's Investors service, New York City, was prominent in Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business organization on the campus. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. The "Financial World" is a Wall street publication, issued weekly and devoted to investment matters.

DR. TROMANHAUSER ADDRESSES CLUB

Cosmopolitan Group Hears Talk at Saturday Session

Dr. Tromanhauser of the romance language department, spoke on "Why We Need a Cosmopolitan Club", to an audience of about sixty people at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club, Saturday evening at the University Hut.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN NOVEMBER 5

First Intramural Distance Run in History of School; Five Teams Needed

The first intramural cross country run in the history of the university will be held November 5, according to Coach Philbrook, track mentor. Entries of at least five teams of three men each must be in the athletic office by October 25. Each group house is expected to enter a team, and any other men's group on the campus that can get up three men to run will be entitled to compete.

In addition to the cross country run there will be shorter races for other entrants. The half-mile, one mile and two mile runs are included in the event. There is just one restriction besides the intramural rules previously formulated and that is that no man shall be allowed to enter this event if he has won a letter in the half, mile, or two mile races. Intramural cross country is a new thing at Idaho and will be continued as an annual event if it is successful this year. It is for the purpose of developing future varsity material for distance running.

The polling places will be designated by signs on the bulletin board. Charles Kincaid, chairman of the election committee, will supervise the election.

Burton L. Moore, now acting managing editor of The Argonaut is the only candidate nominated for the position of managing editor and George Young, former Argonaut issue editor, unopposed for associate editorship of the Gem of the Mountains. The proposed amendment to the constitution provides for the selection of a senior athletic manager by a committee composed of the executive board, retiring senior manager, athletic coach and trainer. It also provides that there shall be eight sophomore managers for each branch of athletics and four junior managers. The senior manager will be chosen from the junior managers.

EIGHT COLLEGES TO FORM LEAGUE

Northern and Southern California Schools Organize Baseball Competition

University of California, October 18—PIP—An intercollegiate baseball league to consist of eight university and college teams in California, is practically assured for the ensuing season, according to Coach Carl Zembloch, University of California diamond mentor.

The proposed league will consist of a northern and southern section. St. Mary's, Santa Clara and California will compete for the northern championship, while Occidental, Pomona, the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles will compose the southern section. Zambloch further added that a championship series with the winners of each section competing would climax the season's games.

The Bruin coach pointed out that in the past, college baseball has suffered due to the fact that they have been forced to meet semi-pro and professional nines, and it is with this in mind that the proposed league is being worked out.

The proposition was first brought to light when Coach Zambloch placed his plans before the Athletic Council at the Berkeley institution, which, in turn is to be followed by a meeting of delegates from all schools included in the conference, to be held in the near future.

Providing the plans meet with the approval of the other universities the league will be inaugurated during the 1927 season.

DISCIPLINE BODY HOLDS DISCUSSION ON EGG THROWERS

Committee Will Investigate Further Into Charge of Rowdysism

TOWNSPEOPLE IRATE

Owner of Show Demands Payment From Three Men Now on Trial

Fate of three university students, who are alleged to have thrown eggs at a traveling musical comedy at the Kenworthy theater last Thursday evening lies in the hands of the discipline committee of the university, following action taken by Milburn Kenworthy and several townspeople, the following day. The names of the students have been withheld pending decision.

The missiles aimed apparently at the members of the troupe struck the ceiling of the building, and the contents splattered the clothing of the audience below. The one egg which reached the stage, struck the scenery, doing damage which may amount to more than a thousand dollars, according to the proprietor of the theater.

The attack came without provocation, and according to members of the audience, the show which was showing for the first time in Moscow was making a fit with the students and townspeople alike.

"The company which was showing for the first time in Moscow, has cancelled its contract for the Moscow territory," said Mr. Kenworthy, owner of the theater.

The matter was placed together with the names of the offenders in the hands of the discipline committee of the university. At a meeting Monday afternoon the committee took the matter under advisement pending further consideration.

"The boys will either pay for the damage or else suffer the consequences," according to Mr. Kenworthy. "Not only was the scenery ruined, but cleaning bills for the members of the audience alone will come to a considerable sum."

"I have been on the stage for 25 years," said one member of the troupe, "and I have never received such treatment in any part of the country. This is the first time we have ever shown in Moscow and we were apparently making quite a hit. Never again for me."

FOUR IDAHO TEAMS JUDGE AT PORTLAND

Will Leave October 28 On Special Train With Football Squad

Four judging teams from the University of Idaho will leave October 28 for Portland, where they will take part in the Portland International Livestock show, which will be held from October 31 to November 6. The teams will leave by special train which will carry the Vandal football team to Portland for the O. A. C. game and also the W. S. C. agricultural judging teams to the Portland show.

Idaho will be represented by a stock judging team, a dairy cattle judging team, a grain judging team and a dairy products judging team. All teams will have three men with the exception of the cattle judging team which will have five members.

The teams will be composed of almost new material," said C. H. Hickman coach of the teams. "Under the rulings of the shows members of the teams from institutions of the northwest may judge at but one contest. Accordingly all members of last year's show are ineligible this year."

"Work on the judging teams is going steadily forward at the present time, and announcement of the teams will not be made public until the day before the teams leave for the show. Competition is at the present time the keenest for several years, and it would be impossible to choose the teams now."

"In past years Idaho has always made a most favorable presentation at the show and in all probability the team this year will give some real competition for the other colleges of the northwest. Other colleges that will be entered include: Washington State college, University of Montana, Oregon Agricultural college, University of Oregon, and possibly several other Californian universities."

"A special rate of one way fare for round trip has been obtained for both judging and football teams, and fare and one-third rates for regular passenger service may be effected, according to the agent for the Union Pacific company who was in Moscow Monday."

Rowdyism

Three students have been called to task by the faculty discipline committee for bombarding an itinerant musical comedy troupe with stale and extremely odiferous eggs. One set of scenery was ruined, and several suits of clothes, worn by persons in the front rows, were soiled. And several hundred persons from Moscow and the players of the troupe have formed an excellent but bad impression of the student body. The show troupe has cancelled its contract in Moscow.

The actions of these three men are not representative of the spirit of the student body. A feeling of resentment spread over the campus immediately after the news became general. It was felt that the spirit of rowdyism, repulsive to most students, had again appeared with the subsequent feeling that demonstrations of this sort have no place here.

The discipline committee of the university has the matter under advisement; pending further investigation. It is hoped that this body will reflect the opinion of the student body in general when this decision is made. And it seems probable that it will not overlook the fact that it is dealing with a matter which has aroused the disgust of the students.

Persons do not carry eggs to a theater, as a general rule, unless the intention is to throw them. Thus it seems logical to argue that had Galli-Curci been singing the same thing would have happened.

The merits of the show cannot be produced as a defense argument. Had it been the poorest troupe on the road, an egg bombardment could not be considered as an excuse to waive the first element of courtesy. Because things of that sort aren't done. It is cheap and extremely small town stuff.

There is a decided tendency, not only in this school, but in others throughout the country, to weed out the undesirable element which filters in with the legitimate students. It seems that here is an indication of that lower element.

The discipline committee should demand the immediate expulsion of these three men if they are found guilty. It would receive the whole hearted approval of not only the students but of the townspeople as well.

Intra-mural Debate

Several group houses which earlier promised to enter teams in the intra-mural debate tournament now under way have failed to produce teams when their contests were scheduled. As a result, defaults have been entered against them and they have been eliminated from the tournament.

Failures of this sort should not happen. There are no reasons for them. If a house promises to enter contestants, it should see to it that debaters appear when they are scheduled. Intra-mural debate or any other activity cannot flourish here if this attitude is taken. If greater interest is not shown, then the idea should be dropped as a failure here. And action of this sort is not desired.

Flivvering Through College

Parents of students attending the University of Oregon have been asked to eliminate automobiles from the equipment of the man or woman attending that institution. Studies have been pursued and it has been found that at Oregon automobiles are a detriment to studying, they cultivate habits of laziness and break down the desired democratic spirit.

The question is under discussion on the Idaho campus, not, however, in a serious tone. It has been selected by intra-mural debate groups and yet has not become a critical point. Probably it never will be: but perhaps a word or two regarding it will not be out of place.

In the first place, despite survey results to the contrary, owning an automobile at school will not cause these dreadful situations found by parents and investigators at the University of Oregon. Having the opportunity of driving a car will not cultivate laziness, snobbery and the other things attributed to this element. There must be other factors. If the student is inclined to work, an automobile will not break down this inclination; he'll work anyway. If he isn't inclined that way, then not owning an automobile will not be an inducement to study. A composite picture of a bad student, not considering even technical intellectual capacity, will show many things, the greatest of which is not the fact that he owns an automobile. This should be obvious to persons close to a student body.

This wail which has gone up all over the country is pure blow.

FORMER STUDENT SEEKING OFFICE

F. E. Lukens, Author of Textbook Used Here, Visits Campus

Fred E. Lukens, Republican nominee for secretary of state, spent Sunday and Monday in Moscow on Congressman Burton L. French. Mr. Lukens is accompanying the Idaho United States representative on a speaking tour of the northern section, and together they went to Kendrick late Monday afternoon for a political meeting there Monday night. Mr. Lukens graduated from the university with the class of 1908. For six years he was superintendent of schools at Pottlatch, 1909 to 1915, and then was superintendent at St. Maries. The following four years he spent in Grangeville as head of the schools there, going to Boise in the secretary of state's office in 1922.

"It is peculiar, that Mr. French and myself should be going around together now, for he was my first teacher in Kendrick. And I was one of Mr. French's first pupils," Mr. Lukens said. "They will continue to be Pan-handle of the state this week, when Mr. Lukens will return to his home in Grangeville, and Mr. French will spend the final days before the election in his own county, delivering addresses in Moscow and other towns."

WILL PRESENT PLAY

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 14—PIP—"Captain Applejack", a comedy, has been selected by the sophomore class as their annual production. The play will be given some time in November. It is a story of buccaneer pirate ships and Russian spies and the cast has promised the audience lots of action and thrills.

SQUARE PEGS

Twenty per cent of us are morons, say the great students of the human mind. Fifty-seven per cent are of the mechanical type, which does our building and, in a more skilled sense, our surgery. Five per cent are the purely mental, who delight in the statistical and abstract operations of the mind. Eighteen per cent, the remainder, belong to the spiritual type, and include playwrights, writers, inventors and men of vision.

There are, of course, overlappings in these great general classifications. The business executive, for instance, may be a queer blend of the mechanical and the spiritual.

But just now America's youth are flooding into the schools. They go into the grades to learn the Rule of Three, with its modern institutions. They have little thought of the future. They go into the high schools, and in the high school period personal characteristics, which may be more intensely developed in later life, have their preliminary identification. They go into the colleges, and today, with 1 per cent of her population in universities and colleges, America has more of her youth receiving higher education than any other nation in history.

Thousands of our college students have no definite notion of life work. A man who might become a great lawyer becomes a grain dealer. A man who might be a successful mechanic either with trowel or scalpel gets to be a mediocre author.

The point is that our educational system ought to include accurate and wise analysts of type who can help boys and girls choose the kind of life work for which they are best adapted. The further point is that since our educational system and our civilization have not yet reached a level of such supreme wisdom, the high school period is by far the most important time of life to begin thinking about a calling.

It would save the never-ending disappointment of square pegs in round holes. It would contribute to a new human efficiency and happiness and lessen human wastage, just to know the type to which inscrutable Providence has assigned us.—Oregon Journal.

CUPID ENSNARES FORMER STUDES

Chapman-Fitzke; Agnew-York, and Parker-Vohs Marriages Announced

Three marriages in which five of the principal characters were former University of Idaho students, took place last week, according to news reaching the campus over the week-end.

Miss Corrine Chapman of Boise, freshman here last year, was married to Fitzke, former Idaho athlete, at Boise the early part of last week, according to announcements received here.

Appearing under the Boise date line in the Spokesman Review is the announcement of the marriage of Dale Vohs, former Vandal football star, and Miss Lucille Parker of Payette. It seems that this announcement is somewhat late, due to the fact that in the story it states that the couple was married July 24. Vohs is now high school coach at LaSalle, Ind.

Walter York and Miss Francis Agnew, both of Boise and former students here, were married at Boise last week. The couple were in Moscow Sunday on a short visit.

Student Opinion.

There are many girls on the campus who would like to learn more about the great American game of football. They know little of the game, and so cannot appreciate, enjoy, or enthusiastically support the game as they should. This is not a desirable state to find fair students in. This is an educational institution. Why cannot the co-eds be taught something about the game?

Traditions say that an Idaho man should never go to an athletic contest with a co-ed, but tradition should not be the cause of the ladies remaining in ignorance and darkness. Why cannot tradition be left aside for a specified game or two to allow the co-ed to sit with someone who could impart to her some of his—none too thorough—knowledge of the game.

The "I" men enforce all traditions, and, therefore, it should fall to them as upholders of tradition and participants of athletics, to say whether this tradition should be set aside for a specified game or two, or not.

"I" men, think this over. Do you not think that the co-eds should be delivered from their present predicament; that they would be even better and more ardent supporters of the game if they only had a little more of a solution worthy of your immediate attention.—M. M. M.

Mrs. William Peterson of Eugene, Ore., is visiting Moscow friends. Mrs. Peterson formerly lived here.

Wednesday evening Ella Waldrop, Doris Fouch, and Ruth Adolph were dinner guests at Forney hall.

Mr. F. B. Ellsworth, of San Leandro, California, was a house guest of Beta Theta Pi over the week end.

Mrs. R. H. Hall, of Coeur d'Alene, was a dinner guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Saturday evening.

Professor and Mrs. T. S. Kerr and Helen Kerr were Sunday dinner guests of Pi Sigma Rho.

Mrs. M. L. Sargent and Miss Bernice McCoy were Sunday dinner guests at the Pi Beta Phi house.

Moscow Train Hits Auto Bus In Colfax

Colfax—A serious accident was narrowly averted Saturday at the south end crossing of the O-W. R. & N. railroad due to the presence of mind of Engineer Otto J. Piper in applying emergency brakes when the Spokane-Lewiston stage collided with the engine of the incoming Moscow-Colfax special No. 379.

The stage, with 15 passengers, under control of Driver McKee, was eastbound to Lewiston. McKee could not see the incoming train, due to a blind crossing, hidden by high buildings. Due to the slowness of the moving train and the quickness with which the stage was stopped, only the front fender, front light and radiator were damaged, tying up traffic for 20 minutes.

ABSENTEE VOTER MAY PICK CHOICE

Ballots Now Ready at Courthouse for Those Unable to Be in Own Precinct

With several applications for absentee ballots at the auditor's office, clerks will be ready Tuesday to supply ballots to those who care to vote prior to the election in case they will be out of their precincts November 2; according to Harry Thatcher, county auditor.

"The process itself is very simple," Mr. Thatcher said, "and requires but signature of the voter to an affidavit and filling out the ballot to complete the job. In fact the process is more simple and shorter than the usual process at the polls."

"The voter must first obtain an affidavit and must be sworn to, stating that the voter will either be unable to vote at the appointed day by absence or by physical inability. Then he is given the regulation ballot and when filled out, the voting process is completed. The entire process is carried out at the office of the county auditor at the court house."

Absentee voting for the primary election proved more popular this summer than for many years, more than 70 applying for ballots prior to the elections. There are always more for the general election, the records show and the total of two years ago is expected surpassed.

HONOR SYSTEM FAILS SAYS CAL. FACULTY

Police Work Does Not Appeal Committees Feel

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, October 14 (P. I. P.)—The honor system has been declared a failure by several of the prominent faculty members and at present student and faculty committees are hard at work on the problem. The main flaw observed has been the difficulty in getting students to report violations of the code. The faculty, on the other hand, does not greatly relish the idea of going back to police work.

One suggestion was that students should use text notebooks as much as they see fit during examinations, but to give them questions so designed as to test their ability to apply, use and reason out facts learned during the course, and within the specified time. Thus looking up answers would entail too great a waste of time.

IDAHO SHEEP MEN BID HIGH FOR CHOICE RAMS

Ogden—The general over supply of range rams in the western sheep states was reflected at Ogden's first attempt at a range ram sale. Though prices on the pens going under the auctioneer's hammer were somewhat below expectations the management felt their initial efforts had been successful.

Many of the rams passing over the auction block were picked up by Idaho breeders. The top price, $60 each, was paid by J. T. Edwards, Idaho Falls. Michael Barclay, Blackfoot, paid the next top price, $50.

Moscow Music club will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Robert McNair Davis. Miss Jennie Johnson will give a lecture recital.

"LEAP METER" GAGES JUMPING ABILITY

Students' Physical Condition Tested By New Invention

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, OREGON—A man's jumping ability determines fairly accurately his general physical condition, according to a publication of gymnasium test records issued by Dean John F. Bovard and Frank W. Cozens of the school of physical education of the University of Oregon.

The student is asked to jump as many times and as high as he can in fifteen seconds. A "leap meter" an invention of Professor Sargent of Harvard, gages his motor ability. Height has no bearing on a man's jumping ability, so the short man suffers no handicap in this respect. Evidence presented by Dr. Martin of Stanford, showed that the strength of any one set of muscles indicates the muscular condition throughout.

POLITICAL SCIENTIST BACK FROM EUROPE

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 14—PIP—Prof. Chester C. Maxey, head of the Political Science department of Whitman college, returned recently from an extended tour through Europe where he and fifty-three other political scientists went as guests of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The party was accepted as having semi-official positions wherever they went and thus gained a more intimate survey of the European situation. In Paris they gathered information to be used in a further study of governmental systems.

The 25-Year Parker Duofold Point

Lifelong Wear Combined with Writing Excellence

In a Non-Breakable Barrel Dropped 3000 Feet

PUT the Parker Duofold point under a magnifying glass and you'll see this. The two nibs are extra strong because made of extra thick gold, so skillfully tempered that they do not have to bind together for support, each is self-supporting. Thus a thin film of ink instantly forms in the channel between these nibs—ready to flow the instant the point touches paper. To write, you do not have to shake a Parker Duofold or spring the nibs apart. The Parker writes immediately by its own weight alone—without pressure, without effort.

A point tipped with an extra large pellet of pure native iridium that defies a generation of wear.

And we can guarantee it for 25 years not only for mechanical perfection but for wear!

VANDALS SUFFER 26-0 DEFEAT AT HANDS OF HUSKIES

Idaho Holds Washington Scoreless in Second and Third Periods

DEFENSE IS STRONG

Vandals Unable to Pierce Husky Line for Substantial Gains

Idaho's Vandals went down to defeat 26 to 0 Saturday in the game against the University of Washington eleven, but carried away the honor of holding the Seattle eleven scoreless for the second and third quarters of the play. Deprived by injuries of four of the first string players, the Vandals demonstrated that even though they were a new team and had a new coach, they had the Idaho fighting spirit.

Idaho kicked off at the starting signal and lost 35 yards on an exchange of punts. The wind favored the punting of the Huskies, carrying one kick 60 yards. The Vandals immediately took the defensive and held the heavier Washington squad to one touchdown during that period.

Brilliant Defense

During the second quarter, Idaho showed brilliant defensive work, but were unable to make yardage against the Washington line. The Huskies threatened to score, but were held on Idaho's 16 yard line and attempted a place kick which went wild. "Sody" Owens made a spectacular play by intercepting a Washington pass, and it looked for a moment as if Idaho was on the way to a touchdown, but Owens was forced out of bounds on his own 45 yard line. The rest of the half consisted of Idaho's holding the Huskies on the Vandal side of the field. The half ended with the score 7 to 0 in favor of Washington.

In the third period the Huskies battered the Idaho line for consistent gains, but could not score. Washington continued to gain yardage by exchanging punts, but the Vandal line would stiffen whenever the Huskies threatened to cross the goal line.

Score Second Time

In the first few minutes of the last quarter, Washington, by means of line plunges and passes, scored the second touchdown of the game. The try for goal failed, making the score 13 to 0 against Idaho. Idaho elected to kick against the wind. Brilliant runs by the Husky backfield then followed and battered down the Vandal line. Two more touchdowns were made by the Washington eleven, the last score being made in the last minute of play by the Washington quarterback. The game ended with the score 26 to 0 in favor of the Huskies.

Washington made 14 first downs to Idaho's two and the Husky line bucks and end runs totalled 305 yards and the Vandals 60. The Vandals suffered just one penalty of five yards and Washington's penalties totalled 45 yards.

The line up follows:
Wash. (26) Position Idaho (0)
Schuh L.E. Hallows
Wilson L.T. Hutchinson

CALIFORNIA STADIUM WILL BE ENLARGED

University of California, Oct. 18—PIP—Approximately five thousand additional seats will be built at the California Memorial Stadium. Construction is to start immediately, according to a statement issued by Luther A. Nichols, Graduate Manager, of the University of California. The extra seats will be ready in time for the Stanford-California Big Game on November 20. In the event that they are needed, two thousand of them can be completed and made available for the Southern California game on October 23.

Construction of the new bleachers will raise the seating capacity of the Memorial Stadium to approximately 78,000. Designed with a super-safety margin, the bleachers will be of heavy wooden portable type and will be erected upon a specially reinforced concrete bed along the eastern rimway of the stadium, immediately adjoining the present seats.

NEVADA TO DEBATE AUSTRALIAN TEAM

University of Nevada, October 18—PIP—Resolved: that it is for the best interests of the United States that we adopt the British form of cabinet government. This is the question which the varsity debating team will contest with the Australian team on December 1, on this campus.

The Australian team is touring the United States with debates scheduled with thirty of the most important universities of the country.

Spirits Will Walk Through Parties On All Hallowe'en Eve

Watch your step or the witches will get you! This is the time of the harvest moon when churchyards yawn and spirits walk abroad. If some one soaps your windows, don't think that the fraternalists have just thought of something else for their pledge to do—it is only Hallowe'en. Goblins with Jack-o'-lanterns, and witches with their broomsticks will soon be very much in evidence, for it is whispered that they are coming out early this year to haunt the elder peas. Soon the fun of bobbing for apples will begin.

Several organizations expect to hobnob with the spooks in the near future. The Sigma Alpha Epsilons are having an informal Hallowe'en dance October 30. The Pre-nurses will be entertained by Miss Mary Deuel and Miss Andrews at the infirmary October 28. The Co-ed prom, which is one of the outstanding social functions of the Hallowe'en season, will be given Saturday.

INTRA-MURAL DEBATE TO BE INAUGURATED

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, October 18—PIP—For the purpose of increasing interest in debate on the campus, the public speaking department is planning to inaugurate a system of intra-mural debate. An exceptional opportunity for freshmen and women is open this year because of the small number of last year's varsity squad intending to turn out. A special incentive is offered freshmen who make the squad, in the silver loving cup given for four year's debate.

RUSHING SYSTEMS WEATHER ATTACK

Rumpus Follows Trojan Editors Criticism of Customs

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, October 14 (P. I. P.)—Fraternity and sorority rushing procedure on the local campus is being attacked on all fronts, even by the main parties interested. Following some pointed criticism by George Jordan, editor of the Trojan, the Pan-Hellenic council met yesterday and it was disclosed that a majority of the sororities were not following the rushing rules to the letter. The Inter-Fraternity Council will meet tonight to devise a set of rushing rules.

Hitherto the main feature in Greek circles at Southern California has been the lax rushing restrictions laid down by the men, and the great overwhelming amount of legislation dictated by the women, a maze of laws that even go so far as to contradict their own statements.

Of the two systems now in vogue, that of the men seems to function better. Although following no specific rules, there is a spirit of cooperation that is noticeable, and about the only law that has been deemed necessary was that regarding the breaking of the pledgeship so that no man doing this would be eligible for another fraternity for a full semester following the one in which he was pledged. Ergo, there have been fewer violations because there are hardly any to violate.

An effort is being made by both groups to preserve the spirit of amity now existing between the fraternities in general and at the same time figure a working set of laws that will be fair to all concerned, including the rushees themselves.

TRACK WORK STARTS SANS BUD HAUSER

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, Oct. 18—PIP—Although the 1937 track season is still far distant, Coach Dean Cromwell has already started his performers to work again on the cinder-path. Among the old-timers reporting for practice are Les Hellman, Bob Servin, Morrison Hunt, Ward Young, Jeffery Smith, Willard Brown, and Vose Adams. Cliff Reynolds is working out on the high sticks, but as yet no prospect is tackling the lows. The loss of Captain Bud Hauser should be balanced by the addition of Charlie Borah, now the national hundred yard champion.

ROOKS TO BE TAUGHT WASHINGTON YELLS

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—PIP—Continuing a plan originally sponsored last fall, freshman R. O. T. C. cadets will be instructed for a week in organized college yelling under the supervision of varsity yell leaders. The first 15 minutes of each drill period will be devoted to teaching the rookies the important yells, while on the last day of the week the entire corps will hold a final practice in the stadium. This unit formation will also serve to give the local R. O. T. C. officials an idea of the size of the beginners' unit.

WOMEN'S HALL OPENED

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 14—PIP—Prentiss Hall, the new women's dormitory, was officially opened at the beginning of the school year. The building is of the latest fireproof structure and is copied after the late New England design. The section plan is used, each section being given over to the exclusive use of a sorority. This plan is being used also in the men's dormitory.

PORTLAND SPECIAL BEING CONSIDERED

Seattle Train Success, With Nearly 150 Rooters Making the Trip

One hundred and thirty-six Vandal rooters returned late Sunday afternoon from Seattle, where amidst rain and mud they watched the weakened Idaho gridsters undergo defeat at the hands of the University of Washington Huskies.

The total from the Palouse regions was swelled to nearly 150 with 10 picked up after the train left Moscow. The special pulled out at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening and arrived at the coast city before noon Saturday, leaving Seattle early Sunday morning.

Possibility of a special train to the contest with Oregon Agricultural college, at Portland, October 30, is rumored about town and the university, with even larger far reductions for the second trip than that to Seattle.

The game will be held at the same time as the Portland Livestock show and reduced fares for the northwest-ern states is already under way for the latter event. The regular fare to Portland is $13.65, and if the special is sent to the Oregon game, half fare for round trip will at least be assured, it is said.

"There may be some difficulty in getting a sufficient number of passengers from the university to make the half fare rate possible," said D. House, Moscow agent for the Union Pacific Railway company. "There is a movement on foot at the present time to provide a special car to carry the Idaho and W. S. C. stock judges to the Portland show. At least a hundred students will be necessary to secure the special train and if a sufficient number apply there should be little difficulty in obtaining the train."

TUTOR SYSTEM MAY BE USED FOR GROUPS

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, October 18—PIP—Adoption of the English tutor system for group living on the campus is being considered by Dean Karl T. Maugh and President von Kleinsmid. Their plan is to secure a number of buildings adjacent to the campus housing groups of men each under the supervision of some instructor. The scheme involved is about the same as that now being used at Oxford, where there are twelve such colleges with the same studies going on in each of the twelve. An integral part of this plan is the New Student Union which is to form a central organization and meeting place.

Last quarter the Vandals chose to receive the kickoff, giving the Huskies 35 yards to march for a touchdown instead of a possible 80 yards had Washington received.

Coyotes Strong

Last year when the College of Idaho squad came to Moscow for the first grid game of the season, the Vandals were given a real football contest, winning by the small margin of 16 to 14. This year, the Caldwell team is practically intact.
