FACE BURLESQUES HAVE HIGH PLACES IN PEPSTERS' SHOW

Takeoffs on Famous Works Promise Laughter In Coming Production

OLKSONG REVISED

Nyvall Writes Feature Waltz, Costumes and Settings Made to Order

Four farces, a ballad pantomime, a feature waltz, and a concert by the pep band will be the meat of the program in "Plus Fours", the annual pep show to be presented Thursday and Friday evenings, November 18 and 19, in the university auditorium under the direction of Prof. Fohn H. Shuman, head of the department of amatics.

The farces comprise "The Phantom of the Auditorium", a take-off on Lon Chaney's movie, "The Phantom of the Opera", starring among other characters Impromptu, the musical horse; "The Smell of the Yukon", a take-off popular Northwest Mounted Police fiction, supplying a cast of northern lights including a well-trained light-pack; "If Men Played Cards as Women Do" which needs no further explanation; "The First Mirror", wherein a cave-man and his family amuse themselves for the first time in a mirror.

The ballad pantomime, taken from an old French-Canadian folk-song, is "The Prisoner and the Jailer's Daughter" and set to original music by Professor Nyvall, will be perhaps the most unusual number of the evening. It tells of a prisoner loved by the jailer's daughter, who pleads in vain for the judge for his release. She herself then unlocks the prison doors and releases her lover, only to face a hangman coming to execute the prisoner. Music, pantomime, setting, costumes will make up an impressive ensemble for this ballad.

"Star Magic", the feature waltz written by Professor Nyvall, will be danced by Rachel Jenks and Maurice Kelly, with a dance interval by Ruthene. Appropriate settings and costumes will be provided for this number. The pep band under the direction of Mr. Nyvall presents a fifteen minute concert of stirring music. In addition there will be a banjo number by a group of banjo artists, a series of solo dances, and a men's chorus. Throughout the production comedians foursome will run riot, laughing off, searching for lost bowls, and getting in the rough. Seats will go on reserve next week, probably Wednesday, November 17.

CROSS COUNTRY RACE SATURDAY

Idaho Team Goes to Pullman to Compete With Washington State

Cross country race between Idaho and Washington State, will be run November 13 as a feature of the Homecoming game between W. S. C. and Oregon. Arrangements were completed last week between the athletic directors of the two schools, calling off the event for last Saturday at Moscow.

Originally scheduled for between halves of the Idaho-State game, the coaches agreed that the squads could be in better condition from the week's layover, and that the race should be run over the Pullman route, particularly since the Pacific Coast race last year was run over the Moscow route.

Coach Philbrook and the team went to Pullman and worked out on the course there Monday afternoon. The coach refused to predict the outcome of the meet except to state that it would be a tight race and that Idaho had a good chance of winning it. The Idaho men will need to place first, second, seventh, eighth, and thirteenth. Either school may end up with many runners as it wishes; first five finishing the course counting as the team.

NEW CHAPEL POLICY AT U.S.C.

An entirely new chapel policy for the University of Southern California has been put in effect this semester under the administration. Services are held five times a week, from 9:00 to 10:00 a.m. and during that period all classes will be dismissed. The assemblies will be of a devotional nature, and, contrary to previous regulations, are not compulsory. Several all-university assemblies, which are called throughout the semester by the president, will be held during the week, but not interfering with chapel.

HONOR SYSTEM IS ADOPTED AT U.S.C.

Student Executive Committee Approves New Plan for Classrooms

Southern California, Nov. 3 (PIP)—Regardless of the fact that a similar system has recently failed at the University of California, a plan for an "honor court" has been accepted and passed on by the student executive committee here and is now up for the approval of President Von Klein-Smidt.

Rules governing the action of the students in the classroom are provided by the "honor court", and the tentative system also provides that any student seeing another cheat in the classroom may turn in the student's name to the committee on a piece of paper signed by them, but that their name will not be divulged to anyone.

INTRAMURAL EVENT SATURDAY MORNING

Competition Keen In First Cross Country Run; Five Teams Entered

Competition will be keen in the intramural cross country race which will be staged Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, according to Coach George Philbrook, who is in charge. The running of this event will mark the first appearance of intramural cross country on the Idaho campus. Five groups on the campus have made entries of teams to run Saturday.

The Laidley hall team was considered the favorite, but now that LeBaron is unable to run, other teams are expected to give them a tight race, according to those in charge. Phi Delta Theta has five tentative entries for its team, including Frank Clich, Robert St. Clair, John Hamilton, Bill Calloway and Jay Christians. Sigma Chi is entering Bryce Morgan, while Homer Broch, Keith Paton, and George Beardmore will probably carry the colors for Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The Laidley hall team is composed of Griffen, Stowasser, and Torney Anderson. Joe Stover, James Hawkins, Percy Dunkle, and Maurice Muzzy will run for Tau Kappa Iota. A team is also being entered by Sigma Nu.

VANDALS TO MAKE 5,000-MILE TRIP

Idaho Gridsters Laying Off U. S. C. Game At Los Angeles

With a 5,000 mile road trip and two hard games intervening before the end of the season, the Idaho Vandal football squad is enjoying its first "off week" since workouts began on September 15. The rest is a well deserved one. Idaho has played six tough games in a row and the last two, with the Oregon Aggies and W. S. C., have been particularly grueling.

The lull will not be an extended one, however, as Coach Charley Erb plans to let his men take things comparatively easy for a few days following the Homecoming game, but he will begin driving them at full speed again later in the week in preparation for the University of Southern California game in Los Angeles on November 20. From Los Angeles the Vandals will make a flying jump to Omaha, Neb., to meet the Creighton university eleven on Thanksgiving day.

Vandal fans are hoping that the widely known Los Angeles brand of weather will be on hand for the U. S. C. contest. The Idaho team has shown itself to be much stronger on a dry field this year than in the mud. The Vandals won two of the three games played on fast fields and they outplayed the Oregon Aggies in the other. Their mud battling record is just the reverse. They lost to Washington and to W. S. C. and were tied by the relatively weak Montana State aggregation. Idaho partisans are not expecting a victory over the powerful Trojans but they are hoping that with weather conditions favorable, the sons of Troy will have to extend themselves to the limit.

PACIFIC COAST RIFLE LEAGUE PROPOSED

University of Washington, Seattle, Nov. 5.—Leadership of U. of W. men as national champions in rifle shooting and interest in the sport here has led the National Rifle association to propose the organization of a Pacific Coast rifle league in which smaller institutions such as the college of Puget Sound would be eligible for membership. The national association has formally offered Washington the sponsorship of the league, which would be under N. R. A. supervision.

IDAHO WILL HAVE BEAUTY CONTEST

Students to Elect the Most Beautiful Women on Campus

Idaho's beauties for the 1926-27 Gem of the Mountains will be selected by a process of student body nomination and election, announced Leland Chapman, editor of the year-book. Every student will have an opportunity to make a nomination for his choice of feminine beauty on the campus.

"By this process," the editor said, "we will be sure to find out what is the consensus of opinion concerning the matter. The students will make the selection and those chosen will be sent to the photographer for special sittings."

A ballot box will be placed in the main hall of the Ad building Wednesday morning of next week, and students will be at liberty to make nominations any time between then and Nov. 22 the closing date for nominations. Nomination coupons may be found in The Argonaut in the next Tuesday's issue. The names of the nominees will be published in The Argonaut soon. A poster containing rules concerning nominations will be placed on the bulletin board in the Ad building the same time that the ballot box is set up.

Last year the women whose pictures were selected to make up the beauty section were chosen by the editor. In that the annual is to represent student life in all its activities, it is thought that it will be more appropriate and create more genuine interest to make the beauty section a selection chosen by the whole student body, Mr. Chapman said.

MILITARY REVIEW STAGED THURSDAY

Armistice Day Program Included Cadet Corps Parade and Dances

Review of the University of Idaho R. O. T. C. corps, a matinee dance fostered by the Mortar Board, and an evening dance in the gymnasium, given by the Forty and Eight of the American Legion, were the main activities on the Idaho campus during Armistice day.

Some students took advantage of the holiday to study for Friday quizzes, others made up late work, while others, believing that holidays are things to be observed, just loafed about or took in one or both of the all-college dances.

The divisions of the R. O. T. C. unit started organizing at 1:15 o'clock in the afternoon. In spite of a drizzling rain a fairly large crowd of students and visitors turned out to see the corps march in review before a staff of commissioned officers. Music by the 45-piece military band helped to make the Armistice day ceremony more impressive.

The Mortar Board dance in the afternoon attracted a number of students to the Blue Bucket where they not only enjoyed dancing, but were served refreshments at any time of their choosing during the afternoon.

The Forty and Eight evening dance in the gymnasium completed the Armistice day program for Idaho students. A portion of the proceeds from the American Legion dance is to be turned over to University of Idaho authorities to be used in the Memorial gym building fund.

WOMEN NAME NEW YELL QUEEN

Rose Preuss Will Act for Remainder of School Year

Rose Preuss was elected official women's yell queen at a meeting of the Women's League held Tuesday. Miss Preuss will act in that capacity for the remainder of the school year. A committee was appointed by president Alma Baker to work on a revision of the constitution which is to be presented to the organization for approval at the next meeting. The members of the committee are: Mary Morris, Kerube Steensland, and Arda Claire.

After the formal meeting Dean Permeal French gave a short talk. She stressed the importance of each young woman studying and analyzing herself and placing the proper estimate on her personality. Miss French brought out the thought that that refinement in thinking brings refinement of action and person.

GROUP DEBATES POSTPONED AGAIN

Intramural Forensic Manager Is Away on Trip

For the second time within a week the intramural debates have been postponed. They were scheduled for Thursday evening, but had to be postponed until later. Herbert Wunderlich, intramural debate manager, is with the varsity debate squad in Vancouver. The dates will be announced later.

OPERA STAR WILL APPEAR MONDAY

Mary Lewis Is Second Member of University Artist Course

The second number of the 1926-27 university artist's course will be given Monday evening, November 15, when Mary Lewis, Metropolitan Opera star, will sing in the auditorium.

Miss Lewis, first a singer in an Arkansas church choir, then a member of Zeigfeld Folies, first sang in opera in the United States at the Metropolitan Opera in New York in 1925, winning an ovation as Mimi in Puccini's opera, "La Boheme." Since that time she has included in her repertory at least 15 major parts. Her favorite role, she has said, is "Thais."

Although Miss Lewis is confident that the most important chapters of her life are still unwritten, nevertheless her 26 years make a fascinating story, as she retells it.

"I was adopted by a minister and his wife when I was 8 years old," she said, "but I'm afraid she didn't like the Irish in me, for she spanked me every single day until I was 15, when I ran away."

"I was taken in by another family living in Little Rock. They were the ones who first suggested the idea of my singing in opera. When they found that I had some musical talent, especially in singing, they gave me every encouragement, and told me that if I planned to make singing my career I should have no ultimate goal but the highest—the opera stage."

"For two or three years I sang in the choir, then joined a road show, got a job in the Folies, and after a year or two of hard struggle made my way to the goal of my ambition."

IDAHO GRADS IN STATE EDUCATION

Twenty-three Now Filling Superintendencies In Accredited Schools

Twenty-three graduates of the university of Idaho are filling superintendencies in accredited schools of Idaho, according to a survey just completed by the placement bureau at the university. During the last year five Idaho men have been promoted from the principalship of high schools to superintendency of the schools in which they were working, the survey sets forth.

The superintendency of the Deary schools which has been filled for three years by William C. Carpenter, an Idaho graduate, is now held by Harold Salisbury, Meridian, who received his diploma last year. Mr. Carpenter resigned because of ill health.

Several alumni who were elected to such positions, but refused to accept them, report that their salaries were increased as a result of the placement service efforts to place them elsewhere.

CALIFORNIA PRESS CLUB WILL MEET

Southern California, Nov. 3 (PIP)—Press Clubs of the University of Southern California and the Southern Branch will meet together for the first time this year. Talks will be given by the editors of both dailies as well as by the presidents of the organizations, but most of the evening will be social in nature. It is planned to make this an annual affair, the meeting to be held alternately at the two universities.

SNYDER AND COLE ADDRESS Y.M.C.A.

Banquet Is Planned for November 23 at Blue Bucket

George Cole, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Mike Snyder, mayor of Pullman, and professor of engineering at W. S. C., addressed the Y. M. C. A. meeting held Wednesday at the University hut. Mayor Snyder and Mr. Cole each presented a different aspect of the subject—"A College Man's Religion."

Following the meeting a few rounds of amateur boxing were staged. The annual Y. M. C. A. banquet, which will be held Tuesday, November 23 at the Blue Bucket Inn will take the place of the next regular meeting.

COSMOPOLITES WILL DISCUSS TRADITIONS

Refreshments and Music On Program for Saturday Meet

"American Traditions and customs" will be discussed at the Cosmopolitan club meeting next Saturday, November 13, in the U-hut, according to Gopal Signh Khalsa, vice president. The program will be put on by the American students who are members of the organization. There will also be special music and refreshments. It is the plan of the group to have the different nationalities, represented on the campus put on programs. Anyone who wishes to attend these meetings has been invited.

ANNUAL PHOTOS SHOULD BE TAKEN

Year Book Staff Wants to Mount Pictures Next Month

Students are urged to have their pictures for the Gem of the Mountains taken during November, according to Leland Chapman, editor. It is the desire of the staff to start mounting the pictures within the next month. In that the photographers will be busy with their Christmas trade next month, students should make a special effort to make appointment with a photographer some time during November. The staff is doing everything in its power to get what work that can be done now so as to avoid the hectic rushes that are usually associated with annuals in the late spring.

START BASKETBALL PRACTICE NOV. 22

Eight Lettermen From Last Year On Deck for Workouts

Basketball practice will begin Monday, November 22, according to David McMillan, director of physical education and basketball coach. The prospects of a coast championship team this year are especially favorable with six lettermen back to start working out and two other basketball lettermen who will turn out when the football season is over.

The six men who will be on deck at the beginning of practice are Ralph Erickson, center, Johnny Miles and Ed Nedros, forwards; George Green and Art Dawald, guards; and Walter Remer, center. Glenn Jacoby and Herbert Canine, two basketball men on the football squad, will turn out at the end of the grid season.

This year's schedule will consist of all conference games. Prior to the regular season, two games will be played with Montana State college. These will probably be played before the Christmas vacation. At Moscow, the Vandals will play Whitman, Oregon, O. A. C., University of Montana, University of Washington, W. S. C., and Gonzaga. An equal number of games will be played away from home.

ROOKS POINT TO MONTANA GAME

Freshmen Doped to Win From Grizzly Cubs on Saturday Afternoon

After the 9 to 7 setback of a week ago today by the W. S. C. frosh, the Vandal rooks have been working daily to be in shape to meet the freshman team of the University of Montana on MacLean field Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Montana team has shown nothing exceptional this season, having been defeated by the W. S. C. frosh 26 to 3. Montana State college freshman held the Missoula rooks to a tie score, but the Montana State yearlings have gained a reputation this season of being one of the best frosh teams that the college at Bozeman has ever produced. From the comparative scores, tomorrow's game should be an easy Idaho victory, but upsets in dope occur frequently as shown by the result of the Idaho-W. S. C. frosh game.

So far this year, the speedy eleven of the Vandal babes has suffered but two defeats. The first at Ellensburg, Wash., where a heavy normal school squad made the only touchdown of the game by a blocked punt. The second was last Friday at Pullman. That game would have been a 7 to 7 tie except for a wild pass from center, giving W. S. C. two points on a safety.

Before the W. S. C. frosh game there was a possibility of Idaho's rook eleven making the trip to Portland to play the Oregon frosh, but, according to "Syb" Kleffner, frosh coach, this game has been called off.

Frank Tatum, a man who has been a substitute guard during the season probably will get into Saturday's game.

GIRLS WILL CHOOSE TEAMS ON FRIDAY

First and Second Selections Will Be Announced

Members for girls volley ball teams will be chosen Friday of this week. There will be first and second teams for all classes except seniors which will have only a first team. Next Monday and Tuesday will be used for practices for the chosen teams and the class tournaments will begin Wednesday. Competition for the championship will be keen as some of the classes have material to insure strong teams.

VANDALS AT WORK FOLLOWING RESPIRE IN TRAINING RULES

Team Points to Game With U. S. C. Trojans at Los Angeles, Nov. 20

FACING LONG TRIP Squad to Make Trip Still in Doubt, Says Coach

Charles Erb

After a brief rest following the Homecoming game with Washington State college, the Idaho Varsity eleven are again working out regularly in preparation for two long trips and two hard games. The Vandals will leave Moscow next Tuesday evening for Los Angeles where on the following Saturday they meet the University of Southern California Trojans in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Two days of rest were on this week's program. Coach Charley Erb declared Monday a holiday, and Saturday the team goes to Pullman to watch the Cougars and the Oregon Webfoots tangle. A light practice was held Thursday under the direction of the assistant coaches, in Erb's absence.

The two games left on the schedule one at Los Angeles, and the other at Omaha, Nebraska, will undoubtedly be the hardest of the season. The U. S. C. Trojans are the ones most feared. Last year they walked all around Idaho, winning, 52 to 7; and Coach Jones has a more powerful outfit this fall, but Coach Erb and the squad feel confident that no repetition of the 1925 calamity is anywhere near possible. Judging from the spirit shown thus far this season by the Vandals, the Trojans will have to expend every ounce of their strength to win.

Immediately after the Los Angeles fracas the team will leave for Omaha, Nebraska, where it meets Creighton university on Thanksgiving day. With less than a week to recuperate from the season's toughest game, the Vandals will meet a powerful eastern aggregation for the last game of the season.

Coach Erb has not yet announced who will make the trip for the Vandals. It is expected that the same men who made the Portland trip will be not definitely known. It goes to Los Angeles and Omaha, but it is not definitely known.

WORK PROGRESSES ON WOMEN'S DORM

Brick Work is Finished; Shingling and Glass Work Started

Work on the new women's dormitory is progressing rapidly, according to the Colonial Construction company, contractors. The brick laying is finished and the shingling and glass work is being started. The shingles are copper clad.

The new dormitory will be named in honor of Mary S. Hays of Boise, who was a member of the board of regents of the university of Idaho for several years.

The new dormitory will accommodate 133 girls, according to the plans of David Lange, architect to the university. Two girls will be put in each study room and the building will have six sleeping porches. Three rooms on each floor will contain the plumbing fixtures. The approximate cost of the building will be between $800 and $900 per student.

One of the important features of the new structure is that the large living room and dining room, unobstructed by columns, may be converted into one room for social purposes.

On the first floor will be the kitchen. The front part will provide quarters for the house matron and a reception room. The floors of the structure and the two stairways are of reinforced concrete.

In the basement will be a general laundry, a private laundry for girls, shower room, trunk room, four rooms and a bath for the employees of the hall, boiler room, and other facilities. The exterior of the building is in the collegiate tudor type of architecture. It is the intention to have a court between the new dormitory and Forney hall laid out in conformity with the type of architecture shown in the buildings.

GIRLS TO HAVE TURN AT DATING EXPENSES

U. of W. Women Will Buy the Tickets for Men January 14

University of Washington, Nov. 5.—Unfortunate men, who have borne the heavy dating expense for these many months, will be given a chance to collect, for January 14 marks the girl's turn to get the tickets, hire the buggy and buy the popcorn. The occasion is the evening of the "Tolo club dance, when each maiden shall bring the man of her choice, whether the blue-eyed boy that sits two seats over or the one she met at "his" formal - - or maybe the old standby.

A Motion Before the House

Idaho is probably the most democratic university west of the Mississippi. Its students are democratic as its curricula. Its traditions are centered around democracy. Everything is working toward that end so far as the student body as a whole is concerned.

But there is one exception, it seems. The fraternities and sororities have not pushed the opportunity of getting acquainted as far as they are able. From time to time there have been movements toward this idea, that is, the idea, for instance, of exchanging dinner guests among the freshman class and the fraternities trading guests with the sororities. But none of these have been sustained.

Wednesday night three fraternities were hosts at dances. And a casual guest, at one time in the evening, would have been unable to tell whether he was at one house or the other, if he depended upon the faces he saw on the dance floor for information. Members of one fraternity with their partners were rubbing shoulders with members of the other two. And all were having a good time, it seemed. After a dance the entire attendance would be changed; and the same scene would be repeated at one of the other host fraternities.

This seems an excellent idea, this fraternizing of groups at informal dances. The idea of the exposed latch string has the earmarks of being tremendous power in effecting further democratic socialization on this campus. At least it wouldn't do a lasting harm to give it a trial.

It seems right that the following motion is in order: Upperclass members of one fraternity having an informal dance should exchange courtesies with another fraternity, similiary occupied, the exchange to be absolutely informal, but limited to upperclassmen. Is there a second to this motion?

Western Beauty

Who is the most beautiful girl at the University of Idaho; or the ten most beautiful women? The editor of the Gem of the Mountains has asked this question, preparatory to launching a campaign which will end in the choice of these by the ballot of the student body.

It is the editor's plan to include in this year's annual pictures of several of the most beautiful women now attending the university. A series of elimination contests will cut down the nominations, which will be made by the student body without restriction. A final grand election will determine which of these will have special art photographs taken for use in the yearbook.

An idea of this sort is a good one. Western beauty is a much talked of thing in places other than the west. Eastern rotogravure sections, each year, carry page after page of western pulchritude, as exemplified by the college woman west of the Mississippi river. This indicates a true appreciation of beauty as we know it in everyday life "out here". And by its commonness, this same beauty is commonplace. If any move can further that appreciation in the place most of American beauty is found—in the west—then let that move have a good support.

Armistice Day

Eight short years ago yesterday the civilized world was rocked by the greatest turmoil of exaltation that it has ever known. Four years of bloodletting by almost every civilized nation of the universe was stopped as if by magic. And four years of pent up joyousness was vented in a single night and a day. The force of this unleashed emotion shook the world with a tremor, not unlike that one which precipitated the greatest clash of arms the world has ever known. Staid folks, both winners and losers in the struggle, became insane for the time. Mature conventionalities were forgotten for the moment and childish, primitive instincts for expression of uncontrollable joy held sway. Insanity ruled the world over. Shouting, laughing, wild parading, idiotic gibbering, infantile demonstrations prevailed. Sidewalks, where wood was used in the construction; outbuildings, and in fact every other available inflammable material, was heaped at street intersections and burned. Damage was high because of these demonstrations.

The world was celebrating Armistice day, November 11, 1918, a date which celebrants declared would never be forgotten, would always hold the place in the minds of the American people, at least, that July Fourth, or in the minds of the Christian world that does Christmas.

And it is only eight short years since that time. But Armistice day has lost ground terribly in those years. America, noted for its tendency to forget quickly, has almost forgotten what that day means. This we must conclude by interest in demonstrations held in memory of that day. Were it not for the American Legion and similar bodies, whose memberships are composed of men who were released from struggle on that day, it is probable that Armistice day would not receive the mention that it does. And this is only eight years after those documents were signed. What will be the attitude in eight more years, if interest declines as it has during the last eight years? It shames one almost to think of it.

And it shouldn't be this way. America, at least, should forever hold that day great. It commemorates the order to cease firing in the struggle over which civilization still bows its head in shame for the millions of men who lost their lives.

In the universities of the land, where the youth of the nation is congregated, should the real meaning of November 11 be held, and celebrated. Here are the men of tomorrow, those who will be responsible if in their time another such outburst against civilized law is averted or fostered. We who are here now should forever keep faith with the spontaneous feeling of those who suffered for four years, that such a thing should never occur again.

LAURA'S LOVE LORNS

Dear Laura: The Phi Delt went over to the Delta Chi house and danced, and the Sigma Chi and Phi Delta went up to the Sigma Nu house and danced, in fact they all just breezed in at most any fraternity dance last night, and gee, this thing has to be put an end to.

You see this is the reason. My Phi Delt beau saw me at the Sigma Chi dance with my Sigma Chi beau, and my roommate's Sigma Nu "steady" saw her at the Phi Delt dance with her Phi Delt "part-timer", and there is just H..... popping today, and me and my roomie have been plucking frat pins off our dressing table pin cushions all morning and handing them back.

So, goodness, we just BEG you to have something done about this new custom that is starting because me and my roomie has only got 5 frat pins left between us, and one of them is a Delta Chi pin with a set out, that we was going to give back anyway. Please help us. "Worried Wanda"

Under the Wheels of 3 Loaded Buses Parker Duofold Again Defies Breakage

This test was made with sanction and cooperation of the Yellow Truck and Coach Mfg. Co. (subsidiary of the General Motors Corp.) makers of the three double-deck passenger buses that ran over the Parker Duofold Pen.

While Fifth Ave. Crowds Marvel AGAIN Parker Duofold's new Perma-nite barrel has withstood a test that well astounds the world. First hurled from a 25-story hotel to cement without damage; then dropped 3000 ft. from an aeroplane and picked up unbroken; now run over by three New York buses filled with 67 passengers each. This weight of more than 11 tons per bus failed to break the pen barrel. And in this test, as in the two others, when the cap was removed from this black-tipped lacquer-red beauty the Duofold point wrote perfectly. A point guaranteed 25 years not only for mechanical perfection but for wear!

Select your style of point and size of barrel at any first rate pen counter. But look with caution for the imprint of the originator, "Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD." Carry the genuine—win the world's respect.

PROHIBITION IDEA LACKS PRINCIPLE, CANADIANS SAY

British Columbians Win Decision Over Idaho Debaters

SUCCESS IS DISTANT

Injurious Effect of Alcohol Argument of Local Representatives

(By George Young)
Arguing that prohibition is wrong in principle, the University of British Columbia, Canada, negative team, defeated the Idaho debaters by a 2 to 1 score in an interesting clash of wits Wednesday night in the university auditorium.

"Prohibition, national or international, can never be a success because it is wrong in principle," said William Masterson, the first British Columbia speaker, who was the outstanding debater of the evening. "Temperance has principle—it is self-imposed, it is self-enforced; prohibition is imposed by others and is enforced by the policeman's club," he continued. "We are more American than we are British, and surely when prohibition falls in the United States, it could never succeed in Canada," Masterson declared.

Explains Logic

Warren Montgomery, second affirmative speaker, nearly saved the day for Idaho in his brilliant rebuttal by explaining the logic of prohibition. Everyone admits that alcohol is injurious to the individual, hence society, he said. There is only one way to control the use of alcohol and that is through legislation, he continued. George Freese, first speaker of the affirmative, clearly brought out that prohibition is comparatively a new thing, and yet like a ship at the making. Thus, he argued, prohibition is still undergoing a great trial, as other amendments have done in the past, that have been made for the benefit of humanity.

Douglas Telford, second British Columbia speaker, spent his time presenting statistics to show that the United States has reduced neither drunkenness or crime since prohibition was put into effect.

Proceeding the debate, a piano solo was played by Josephine Harlan. Immediately after the debate, while the judges were making their decisions, Warler Riplinger contributed a vocal solo. Musical selections, said Edmund T. Becher, debate manager, will be given as a part of the program at all varsity debates for the ensuing year.

The Debate, which was one of the best ever heard in the University of Idaho auditorium, in the estimation of the audience, was the first one of the year, and the first debate to be given since Prof. H. Carter Davidson has taken charge of coaching the team. Much credit is deserving to Mr. Davidson for the well organized manner in which Idaho's men presented their arguments.

SURVEY GIVES FAILURE CAUSE

Life on Campus Costs Jobs for Many Prospective Teachers

Five major causes hold seniors and graduates from placing as instructors in Idaho schools, according to a survey completed by Miss Gertrude McCoy, in charge of the University of Idaho placement bureau. Miss McCoy has spent considerable time on this survey, in an effort to find why the few graduates of the school of education fail to place in schools after they have received their diplomas. The survey shows that the reason lies within the elect of the student himself. The reasons follow:

- Failure of the student to do a high standard of work during his four years' residence on the campus.
- Improper conduct during their time on the campus, thus making it impossible for the instructors to vouch for them from the standpoint of character.
- Restricted courses.
- Late registration.
- Untidy and incorrect letters of application.

CHURCH WORKERS FORM SOCIETY

Methodist Supporters Would Cooperate Through Wesley Foundation

The Methodist Wesley club held its first banquet at the Methodist church Tuesday night. Toasts and appropriate vocal selections were given for the gathering, numbering over a hundred. The purpose of the banquet was to stimulate interest and form a definite organization that will be an active religious group on the campus this year. The banquet was a complete success with an unusually large attendance, according to James Allen, toastmaster.

Several interesting talks were given. Dean J. F. Messenger spoke on "Who we are" and brought out the great problems of the future that are facing the present generation. Prof. C. W. Chenoweth spoke on "What we are here for" and clearly presented his issues, showing that we had a definite contribution to life and must strive hard to make the best of the imminent problems. Dean M. F. Angell spoke on "What we are going to do about it" and emphasized that we must knuckle down to our jobs. Professor Magnusen gave several clever Scandinavian talks that were received with applause. Prof. E. O. Bangs gave several vocal selections.

O. A. C. Freshmen Girls Must Wear Badge of State

Henceforth no freshman will boldly date a senior woman when he believes he is taking out a freshman girl, for at the freshman meeting in Villard Tuesday, the class voted as a means of self-protection for its men to require freshmen girls to wear some kind of emblem. One timid freshman girl asked if the emblem had to be worn daily but Alonzo Jasmn, president of the freshman class, said cruelly "Why not? We do" or words to that effect. A committee will be appointed later in the week to decide upon the emblem. It will probably be a ribbon of some sort, shade presumably green.

Hugh Biggs complimented the freshman class on its ability to resent insults but asked that their spirit be directed in the proper channels and that no more deprecations be committed on the O. A. C. campus regarding injuries received.

"Remember, at all times who you are and what you stand for," he said, "and I think all our difficulties will be settled."

The class also voted upon and decided to have a freshman rooting section at the Oregon-O. A. C. game.

The process of cleaning up the butts after the Homecoming bonfire will take place immediately—The Barometer.

GIRLS TO START RIFLE PRACTICE

Idaho Team Accepts Several Challenges from Other Universities

Rifle practice for the girl's team will start Monday Nov. 15 and will be held every Monday and Thursday from 1:30 to 4:00 o'clock at Lewis court, the first building north of the gymnasium. If any girl can not report for practice during those hours, she must arrange with Josephine Keane, rifle captain, to practice at some other time, it was announced.

With 10 new guns in the military department and much promising material the Idaho team should make even better records than last year, Miss Keane said. Any one making the first team receives 100 W. A. A. points. Fifty points are given to second team members.

Several challenges have been received from other universities. The first match will be shot with the University of Montana, December 4 to 10. This match was won last year by Idaho by fifteen points.

SOPHOMORE POSTER OF '19 IS REVISED

Hated Ultimatum Against Fresh Started Again at Washington

University of Washington, Seattle, Nov. 5—Cause of war and strife, the hated ultimatum, in short, the Sophomore Poster of 1919 is back. Reinforced, it in some way has found its way back to the campus, and it is rumored that the old tradition of the sophomore class will be revived. For many years it was a tradition at Washington for the reigning sophomore class to place this poster in a conspicuous place on the campus on a certain day during the fall quarter. It was the duty of the fresh class of that year to tear down or in some way gain possession of the hated placard and of the sophomores to prevent such a move throughout the day. The last day it was posted was November 18, 1919. It is expected that on November 18, 1926, another freshman will again remove the placard.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE SPONSORS REVUE

Nine Acts of Vaudeville on W. S. C. Bill for November 20

Nine acts, all of them containing syncopating jazz, dancing, mystery, singing, or other features, will comprise the annual All-College Revue to be given Friday night, Nov. 20, at Washington State college. The performance will be given in two complete shows, one at 7:00 and the other at 9:30.

The revue is being sponsored by Woman's league for the purpose of raising funds for a Woman's building to be erected on the State College campus. The acts were chosen from some 25 entrants in initial tryouts and they represent some of the best talent obtainable at the college.

Tickets for the revue will go on sale Saturday, and out of town people may obtain them by writing or phoning for reservations.

'BRUINS' IS NEW ATHLETIC TITLE

Change of Name Is Voted By University of California Students

The official athletic totem of the University of California, Southern branch, has been changed from "Grizzly" to "Bruin," as a result of the unanimous vote of approval of the associated student council.

The name was offered to the executive committee by Robert McCarthy, student president of the California university at Berkeley; and came as a bombshell, as it was unthought of that they would be willing to share the name which they have held so long. It is hailed by the southern branch students as another illustration of the splendid spirit of brotherhood that exists between the two components of the state university.

FRESH ENROLLMENT SHOWS BIGGEST GAIN

Total of 8078 in First Year Class at University of Washington

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Nov. 5, PIP.—Outstanding in the official census of the present enrollment at the university is the huge increase in the registration of the freshman class and of the entire student body. The enrollment of freshmen has increased from 2324 last year to 3072, a total increase of 32 percent, while the university registration exceeds last year's by 702, bringing the entire enrollment up to 6861, the highest in history. The college of liberal arts leads in enrollment, with 2897, while business administration is second with 1078. The college of fisheries, with a total enrollment of 73, showed the greatest gain, when its enrollment increased 33 percent.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS ENGLISH CLUB MIXER

Members Must Pay Dues If They Are To Be Admitted

A 100-percent attendance of the English club is desired at the get-together party, November 23, according to Carol DuBois, chairman of the entertainment committee. November 19 was formerly set as the date, but had to be changed. The meeting place has not been definitely decided.

Mystery surrounds the nature of the program that is to be given at the social. Members of the committee absolutely refuse to give out any information, but all say that it is going to be full of pep and vim.

Thirty-five students have thus far paid their dues, according to a report by Mary Kelly, treasurer. The dues must be paid if admittance is to be gained to this event.

Bankruptcy; Brave Spirits Essentials of 'Dutch Treat'

The "Dutch Treat" is a comparatively new reaction found occasionally among city newsboys, "poor working girls" and college students. For the complete reaction the necessary elements are: two or more financially embarrassed people, a mutual desire for nourishment, and on the part of one member of the group, a brave spirit.

The process consists of mixing the brave spirit with the desire for nourishment and adding the resulting mixture to the group. The result is explosive and sounds like this: "Let's go Dutch." A second after this another sound occurs: "OK." The effect is immediate and is called "the Dutch treat."

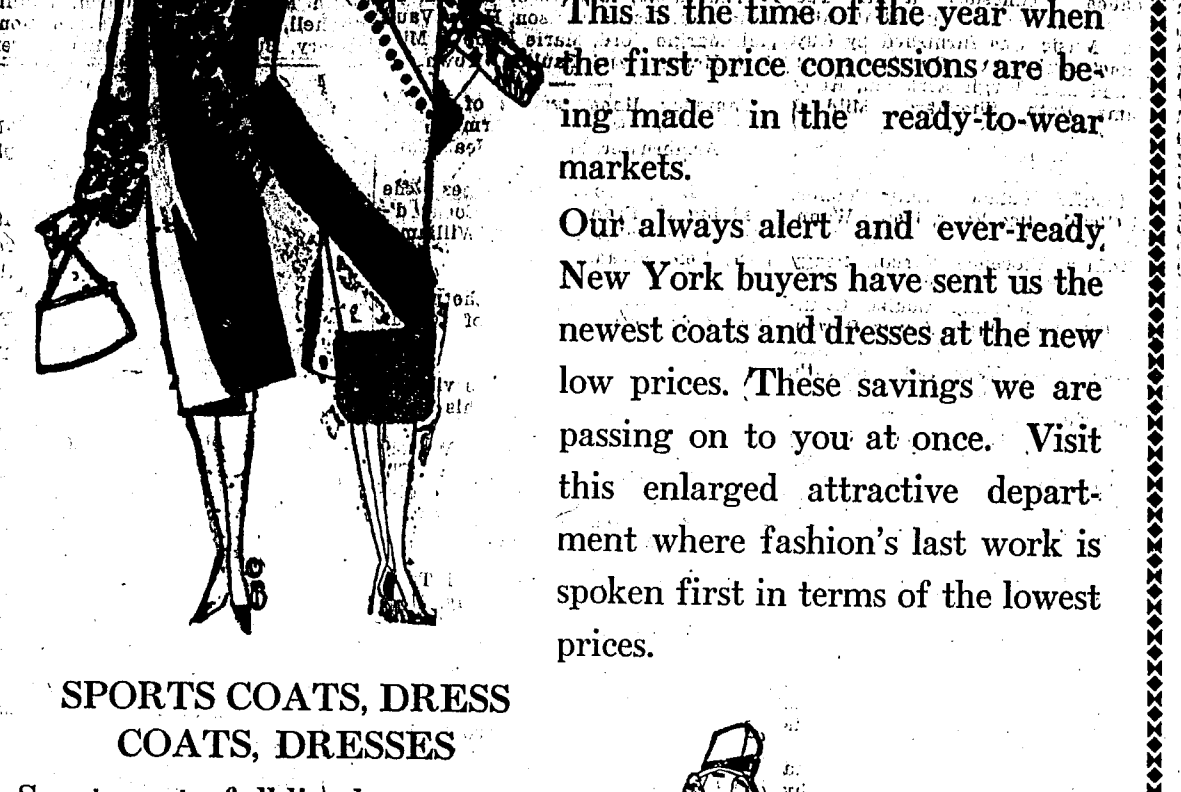

The reaction works quite successfully among groups of either men or women but when the two groups mix there seems to be a startling lack of the brave spirit, which is absolutely essential.

The feminine scientists of the age are encouraging attempts for reaction. They are very anxious that it should become a natural action and the amount of brave spirit necessary be lessened. The attitude of the present group of college students will have a marked effect upon the growth of the reaction thruout the country.

There is one group of people upon whom the reaction fails to operate. The scientist who can bring this group to function with the rest will be welcomed to our circle with open arms. His work is difficult though for there seems to be no lack of necessary elements in the opposing faction. The brave spirit, the desire for nourishment and the lack of money all are there but still no reaction. These
