UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1926

PEN SEAT SALE WEDNESDAY FOR PEP BAND SHOW

"Plus Fours" to be Presented Thursday and Friday Nights

MUSICAL REVUE

Original Music By Professor David Nyvall Feature of Annual Production

Tickets for "Plus Fours", 1926 Pep band show to be presented in the university auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings, November 18 and 19, will be on sale at Hodgkin's Drug store Wednesday morning, November 17, according to Sidney McClellan, dramatic manager for the A. S. U. I. Tickets will be 75 and 50 cents, the standard prices for A. S. U. I. dramatic productions.

Of unusual excellence this year is original music written for the show by Professor David Nyvall. These numbers will include a special feature, an opening men's chorus, "See Off", words by Ada Burke, a "Star Magic", words by Talbot Jennings, a musical setting for the mad pantomime, "The Prisoner and Jailer's Daughter," devised by John H. Cushman and Talbot Jennings, an old French-Canadian folk song with Miss Jennie Johnson as the lead singer, and a closing men's chorus, "Plus Fours", words by Ada Burke. In addition the Pep Band orchestra will give a concert of four numbers including "Alma Mater", "Irish March" from "Ruins of Urbino", by Beethoven, "Valencia", "The Captain", by Sousa.

A group of women dancers, trained by Miss Lillian Wirt, will appear in a time and eccentric dances. Lamont Canon and Guy Williams will be responsible for a banjo twosome. The median foursome, including Marie Hanson, Don Warner, Jean Collette, and Tom Aston, will ruff through the farces and will also interleave both the opening and closing routines. A fourth skit will be done by John Taylor, Smith-Miller, Ryle Davis, and Claire Gale.

Herbert Darling and Ann Dunston will have charge of properties and costumes. Miss Maude Garnett of the chorus, lighting by R. R. Patch, business management, Sidney McClellan. John H. Cushman will have general direction of the show, with sketches for the farces written or adapted by Talbot Jennings and Ada Burke.

SENIORS PLAN ANNUAL BALL

Invitations Will Be Mailed to Every Member of the Class

Plans are going ahead rapidly for the annual senior formal ball at the Blue Bucket Inn, December 3, it was announced Monday night by John Hamilton, class president.

Invitations soon will be mailed every member of the class. Under a rule of the class, only seniors receive these invitations, but each member of the class may invite a partner, whether he be from the senior or another class. That is, a senior man may invite a girl from any of the other of the senior class, it was explained. Any senior who does not receive his invitation should communicate with Miss Bernice Suppliger, Mr. Hamilton said.

The annual senior formal is an outgrowth from the traditional "senior buffet", discontinued last year. It is planned to make the formal ball the tradition, instead.

BENCH AND BAR ALL COLLEGE HOP SAT.

The annual Bench and Bar all-college dance will be given Saturday night at the Blue Bucket Inn. Ticket sale for the dance is in the hands of the members of the organization and is reported to be progressing rapidly. Music for the dance will be furnished by Beardslee Merrill's orchestra.

Should Rookesses Wear Symbolic Dress? Opinions Vary Greatly

Should freshman girls wear distinguishing dress, or should freshman boys be compelled to suffer alone? This question has been moot for some time. It is argued that girls have comparatively easy time of life while the men submit to the royal order of the paddie. There is a wide divergence of opinion on the subject, a survey has indicated.

When interviewed, some girls "blew up" while others gave careful consideration to the question. A few believed they would appreciate being sophomores if they were forced to graduate from a green ribbon or a green cap. Some girls had been informed by lofty upperclassman that the rook year is the happiest of their life. A girl spends at college, therefore she should have something which is significant of the joys and sorrows, thrills and heartaches, of that first year away from home. One rookess believes that frosh girls should wear green hose to attract more attention.

On the other hand, what sense is there in making a girl wear something green as a mark of submission, some argued. It was pointed out that it is not necessary for a freshman to wear a green ribbon to distinguish her from the other girls. "A freshman girl can always be recognized by the expression on her face, especially after the first six weeks of college life," one bright rookess suggested. "Think of the pro's being compelled to look at green all day. It would be extremely easy for them to see its complimentary color—red. Then, too, what would a man do when he tried to pick out a girl if they all looked alike? If freshman girls had to wear some similar article of dress there would not be enough variety, and variety is the spice of life."

But the question remains.

LAW FRATERNITY SELECTS JURIST

Judge F. S. Dietrich, Boise, Initiated By Phi Alpha Delta

Judge F. S. Dietrich, Boise, of the United States district court for Idaho, and one of the most noted federal jurists in the United States, was initiated into honorary membership into Phi Alpha Delta, at a meeting of the Idaho chapter, Friday night. With his initiation into this society, Judge Dietrich holds membership along with Chief Justice William Howard Taft, of the United States supreme court. The late President Warren G. Harding also was a member.

The initiation banquet of the society was held at the Blue Bucket Inn. Following this the group adjourned to the Sigma Chi house, where Judge Dietrich and Robert Shropshire were subjected to the ritualistic initiation ceremony of the order.

YEAR BOOK SALE STARTS NOV. 22

Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights Will Solicit Subscriptions

The sale of the Gem of the Mountains will begin November 22. The Spurs and the Intercollegiate Knights will solicit the group houses, the halls, and have booths on the first floor of the Administration building, for the convenience of the down town students. The sale ends December 19, and everybody who desires to get a copy of "The Gem" should do so now because no extra copies will be printed, according to Leland Chapman, editor. The quota is expected to be about 1200.

The shortest pugilistic match on record was that in which Battling Nelson knocked out William Rosser on April 2, 1902. Two seconds was all that was required for the Fighting Dane to turn the trick.

BUREAU LISTED 177 STUDENT JOBS

Twelve Men Have Been Given Permanent Employment

One hundred seventy-seven jobs have been handled through the employment bureau of the Y. M. C. A. since the beginning of the university year, according to a report by Bob Davidson, secretary. These jobs have been divided among 75 men and 12 women. Permanent employment, in the way of working for room and board, has been given to 12. Some of the men have had as high as 8 or 10 jobs.

Farm work heads the list with 68, the university employing 48, and 12 were given housework. Three students have accepted part time occupations as salesmen. Wages range from 35 to 50 cents an hour, Mr. Davidson said.

The secretary explained that work had slackened up lately. He said that he was making an effort to get employment for students who will stay in Moscow over Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The bureau uses a card index system whereby the number of hours that the student could work are recorded. A check up is made on all students who receive employment. In this way the bureau is enabled to give better service to employees and to students who wish to work.

OPERA STAR HOLDS IDAHO AUDIENCE

Mary Lewis Sings Varied Program as Second Artist Course Offering

Mary Lewis, orphan, Folies singer, Metropolitan Opera star and nationally famous soprano, held her audience spellbound last night while she took it through an unusual repertoire of national folk songs, opera selections, and heavier standards. She sang as the second number of the University artist's course in the auditorium.

Miss Lewis is a singer of great power, unusual range of ability and superb polish and stands easily as one of the greatest attractions ever brought here. Throughout her program the audience sat spellbound, breaking only to call for encores at the end of each song. She handled all of the heavier selections with the same ease that she distinguished herself with the lighter folk songs and won herself a place in the hearts of the student, faculty and townspeople audience from the first note.

Her program was varied, consisting of songs in French, German, Italian, and English. It included selections from two operas, one in the French and the other in English. It follows:

I. Deh vien non tardar, from Marriage of FigaroMozart

The second debate is between the Tau Kappa Iota negative and the Kappa Alpha Theta affirmative on "Resolved, that the 'Dutch Treat' should apply to all students, irrespective of sex."

The Beta Chi affirmative team is scheduled to debate the Alpha Chi negative on "Resolved, that all institutions of higher learning should abolish coeducation."

VANDAL HOOPMEN HOLD WORKOUTS

Six Lettermen Reporting for Practices; Two More After Football

With six lettermen practicing daily and a wealth of material on hand from last year's rook squad, University of Idaho hoopmen are facing the brightest prospects this year for a successful coast championship race of any since 1923, when they won the title. Although the official call was not sounded by Coach David McMillan until Monday, the lettermen, together with a number of other aspirants, have been practicing for more than a week.

Vandal backers who have seen the 1925-27 crew in action and who have studied this year's basketball situation have hoped that MacMillan's men stand well to duplicate the performance of 1923 when Al Fox and his quintet of luminaries took the coast title from the University of California. Oregon, who also lays claim to championship possibilities this year, is looked upon to be Idaho's chief contender for the laurel crown next spring.

The six letter men practicing now will be augmented by two more who will report at the close of the football season, bringing the grand total of recognized veterans to eight. Those who are working now are Eddie Nedros and Johnny Miles, two of the high scorers of the conference last year; for forwards; Ralph Erickson and Walter Remer, centers; George Green and Arthur Dayald, guards. Glenn Jacoby, guard, and Herbert Canine, will

VANDALS OFF TO MEET U. S. C. AND NEBRASKA TEAMS

Twenty Gridsters Leave Monday With Coach Erb for Final Games

MAKE 5000-MILE JAUNT

Play Southern California Saturday at Los Angeles; Creighton Thanksgiving

Twenty Vandals left last night for Los Angeles where on Saturday they will meet the U. S. C. Trojans in a battle that will call for all the reserve power that the Idaho team can muster. This game is predicted by Coach Charley Erb as the toughest assignment of the season.

The trip which the team began Monday night will last two weeks, the first stop being Los Angeles and from there they will board the train for Omaha where on Thanksgiving day they will take on Creighton university's eleven. The squad will arrive in Los Angeles Thursday evening or Friday morning with the prospect of securing a 24 hour rest before the "big game." Entertainment for the Idaho men is planned by the recently formed "Idaho club" of Los Angeles, according to Fred Graf, a member of the organization who attended the W. S. C. Idaho homecoming game.

Men in Condition

With the exception of George Hjort, hefty guard, Erb's first string will be in good condition for the Trojan battle. Hjort is suffering with a sprained elbow from an injury received in the W. S. C. contest. John Bauer, who has been alternating with Hjort at the running guard position, will take his place.

Otherwise, the squad is in excellent shape. Leonard Beal, 190 pound end, is still suffering from an injured wrist but is expected to perform without serious difficulty. After a week of rest, the team has entirely recovered from the effects of the hardfought Oregon Aggie and W. S. C. struggles and is anxious to get into action once more.

The lineup which will start against the Trojans will be as follows: Diehl and Beal, ends; Dewey and Gartin, tackles; Brimhall and Bauer, guards; Bliss, center; Jacoby, quarterback; Burgher and Powers, halfbacks; and Owings, fullback.

U. S. C. has met but one defeat this season. (Continued on page 4)

CLUB DISCUSSES IDEALS OF U. S.

Foreign Students Hear of Meaning of American Traditions

American life and ideals were discussed at the Cosmopolitan club meeting last Saturday evening in the U. S. C. American members of the group put on a program wherein they sought to correct some of the false impressions that the foreigner might have concerning American life and traditions.

Helen Dalton spoke on the "American Ideal", Florence Anderson, "American Religion", and Clarence Jenks and Ray Dewey on the meaning of the holidays. Carol DuBois read three American poems. Mark Keith favored the group with a trombone solo. A quartet, composed of Basil Burton, Murtha Cline, Herbert LaRue, and Gilbert Schumann, sang. Mrs. Edder Burton accompanied them.

The club has been invited by the King Heralds' missionary society of the Methodist church to a dinner next Sunday, November 21, at 12:30 o'clock. It is to be at the church parlors and a special will be had in the afternoon.

Howard F. Whitney is the first native-born American to be elected to the Rules of Golf committee of the Royal and Ancient club.

Mysterious Green Tree Gardles Call Many "Official" Explanations

What are those brilliant green circles found around trees on the campus? For years this has presented an eminent problem. What are they? What caused them? How about it, etc.?

Their presence is charged to a multitude of reasons, an Argonaut reporter found.

Some blame the gardner, some the sprinklers, some old mother nature, and some frosh are convinced they are some kind of a women's symbol. Others avoid them as something hallowed, mysterious or supernatural as if a sign "Beware" is posted about their outer premises. Explanation lies perhaps in the first version; or maybe it's the last. The feminine sex stoutly deny any connection, the frosh loudly maintain that they are not implicated and always refer the problem to their seniors.

Professor Kirkham might expound some long and exasperating theory, blaming the phenomena to the trees, coupled with the action of the sun or maybe the moon, as is his custom with such things. Who knows, that may be the logical solution. The moon, that wondrous body that acts so strongly on sitting, strolling and even standing couples, could easily accomplish a little thing like growing green circles.

Some of the more dignified seniors steadily maintain that the extent of the circle signifies the size of a frosh's head and the small pipe-like tree the flat surface indicates the content of those domes. One especially brilliant "king of the walk" vows that the color of the circle in question, GREEN, is to remind the frosh of forgotten headgear.

Freshmen shrink from it, sophomores are yet too immature to comprehend it, juniors ignore it, and seniors mix their own budding ideas with Professor Kirkham's and maintain silence. At any rate, snow has been the savior, and the riddle remains.

The Honor System

Despite opposition from all sides, more specifically from many members of college faculties, the honor system among college students seems to hold a quasi-important place among the problems confronting students and teachers. An Oregon Agricultural college student, who, by the way, is a member of the editorial staff of the daily student paper, believes there is merit in the proposition and so argues. He sees in the idea a means of creating initiative and lessening cheating in examinations. In his own words:

"After a time in life one ceases to seek the silver lining that is presumed to lie beneath even the darkest of clouds and merely sees the dull gray of actuality. So in the existence of the honor system at O. A. C. there has come that attitude on the part of many students and outsiders. "It is to be conceded that there is cheating at O. A. C., but then, there is cheating everywhere in life. No college is free from it. To paraphrase, a certain rather well known saying, all the people cheat some of the time, and some of the people cheat all of the time, but not all of the people cheat all of the time.

"The business of the honor system is to minimize cheating, and at the same time substitute self-initiative on the part of the students for blind obedience to authority. It would be folly, indeed, for any person or group of persons to presume that they could completely reform this rather staid and set old world.

"The honor system is lessening cheating at O. A. C. In the four years that the honor code has been in existence on the campus, conditions have improved very much. The moral fiber of the student body has been strengthened and integrity has been placed on a higher level. There are still those incorrigibles who cheat but the honor system watches those along the border line and bolsters up the faltering ones, at the same time seeking to weed out the incurables.

"The honor system has failed in some institutions, notably Western Reserve and the University of Southern California. At the University of California it is experiencing difficulty. The critical world promptly seizes upon these failures and brands them as typical of the system. Why not look around and note the schools in which the system is successful? Then give some favorable criticism.

"It is a trait belonging back in the dark ages of primitive mankind to jump on the underdog as soon as he shows even the faintest sign of weakness instead of aiding him and encouraging him. The honor system is a comparatively new effort in education and deserves support, not opposition, in its endeavor to ameliorate the old evils of more or less ineffective faculty supervision."

The idea apparently met the disapproval of the editor of the town newspaper, to whom the argument was submitted in the form of a letter. This editor exclaimed:

"All of which sounds fine and noble, but we happened to be with a group of seven college professors not long ago and every single one of them said the honor system was the bunk. We have had the same statement from as many more separately. It is a nice little Pollyanna theory, but that is the best thing that can be said of it."

Two types of leaders predominated, military and political. Few women were mentioned. "The investigation revealed an insufficient and warped set of standards," said Professor Williams. "The children selected their leaders on the basis of notoriety rather than for sounder qualifications. No single factor is responsible, but the deficiency should be met. Schools and homes should co-operate to remedy an unwholesome trend."—Portland News.

U. OF W. GETS GIFT FROM TELEPHONE CO. Engineering Department Given $3,000 Telephone Testing Apparatus

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—Telephone testing apparatus costing eight thousand dollars, donated by the American Telephone and Telegraph company recently, is being installed in the engineering department of the University of Washington. "Within five years the telephone company will have to double its engineering staff, according to present figures," said Dean C. E. Magnusson, of the electrical engineering college. "By means of this new equipment students can get the basic fundamentals of engineering law. The telephone company's point of view concurs with what we are to offer at the University along engineering lines." A telephone transmission line, an oscillator and an impedance bridge are included in the gift. With this equipment laboratory work will be greatly enlarged.

Selection of Great Men by Youngsters Surprises Educators

BERKELEY, CAL.—Buffalo Bill, Lenin, Charles Chaplin, Helen Wills, Shakespeare, Henry Ford, Napoleon, Sousa, Red Grange, John Paul Jones—they are all in the same class with the youngsters of America, according to results of a questionnaire sent out by the education department of the University of California. Prof. L. A. Williams asked 3500 junior and senior high school children each to name 25 of the greatest leaders of any age and to give the reasons for their greatness. The weird results gave the educators a jolt. Here were some of the answers:

Rockefeller—a leader of oil stations.
Macaroni—invented the radio.
Abe Lincoln—because he was simple.

Mozart—because he started from little and kept it up.
Woodrow Wilson—he signed the contract for the World War.
Walter Rilly—night.

Burbank—invented the potato and changed plants into anything.
Coolidge—sees that people do right and leads them into prohibition.
Jean of Arc—was a lady with a heart.

Teddy Roosevelt—he was a sickly young man; after taking up gym in the country he became stronger and the president.
Longfellow—polite.
Jefferson—was the first president—free love.

STUDENTS MAKING USE NATATORIUM

Classes in Swimming Are Practically All Fully Open Hours Given

Students are taking advantage of the course in swimming at the natatorium, according to David MacMillan, physical director. An intramural swimming meet is being planned for this semester, probably in January. Another one will be held in the spring. Women's classes are almost capacity in size. More interest is being shown in the classes than in swimming during the open hours. This is thought to be because many students are not familiar with the natatorium and do not know that it is free for their use certain hours of the week.

The open hours for men are 11:00 to 11:45 o'clock Tuesdays; 10:00 to 11:30 o'clock Thursdays; 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock Fridays.

The open hours for women are: 10 o'clock to 12 noon Mondays; 10 to 11 o'clock Tuesdays; 11:00 to 11:45 o'clock Wednesdays. The natatorium is open for all students from 2:00 to 5:30 o'clock Mondays; 4:00 to 5:30 o'clock Tuesdays; 4:00 to 5:30 o'clock Thursdays and Fridays; and on Saturdays from 9:15 to 11:30 o'clock, and 1:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Former Student in Hotel Work

Manager of Spokane Hostelry and Leo Fleming Visit Here Monday

Harry Goetz, manager of the Coeur d'Alene hotel, Spokane, and Leo Fleming, former student body president at the University of Idaho, who is now in the auditing department of the hotel and coffee shop, were in Moscow Monday, having attended the Oregon-W. S. C. Homecoming day game at Pullman Saturday.

Mr. Fleming spent two years in Florida after leaving the university. He was associated for a year as business secretary to Dr. Morris Tallman, formerly of Boise and who now owns one of the largest private hospitals in Florida at Coral Gables. Later he was with a surgical supply house at Miami.

"While Florida papers are minimizing the results of the hurricane August 29, it was very serious," said Mr. Fleming. "Business depression hit the area long before the disaster, however; and since last July paper is the medium of exchange; note are given in payment of the majority of salaries."

Record Crowd at U. W. Homecoming

Colorful Lights, Flags and Pep Paraphernalia Galore for Old Grads

University of Washington, Seattle, Nov. 6—"Welcome Home!" Blazing signs, arch-spanned streets, colored lights, flags, pennants and pep paraphernalia galore, and a reception that has seldom been equalled in the history of the institution, were on hand for the grads who returned to Washington.

The decorations were featured by a huge football goal, which spanned the streets at the entrance of the fraternity district. Immediately behind the goal was a scoreboard, upon which the numbers of returning alumni were tallied. The scoreboard carried as its motif of football eight feet high, supported on each side by football players, one representing a Bear player and the other a husky. Suspended from an arch on individual footfalls were scores of previous Washington—California football games.

Washington's reorganized roster band was in evidence at the game Saturday. Stunts, carried out with purple and gold stunts were pulled off between halves.

Oxford Conduct Rules Attacked

Student Paper Flays Regulations; Calls College Detective Academy

A fiery attack is made against drastic conduct rules just issued to Oxford students; in "Isis," a student paper which declares that the college is becoming a Pinkerton detective academy and students are regarded by the faculty as mere children.

The new rules prohibit undergraduates from going to races, hanging about bars or theaters, acting as chairmen at open air political meetings, and giving public dances.

Undergraduates cannot hire an automobile for longer than an hour, nor travel more than five miles from Oxford without special permission.

Women cannot enter men's rooms, and vice versa, without special leave. Men students are also prohibited from taking girls on boat or car rides without the dean's approval.

Oxford Forbids Plus Fours

Servants Cannot Give Food to Students Wearing Blacklisted Attire

Oxford bags and plus-fours are now forbidden in the dining halls in all the colleges of Oxford University, England, states a press report from that university.

The notices posted in the halls read: "Gentlemen are reminded that they are not allowed to dine in this hall wearing what are vulgarly known as plus-fours and Oxford bags, or any other unseemly or improper article of dress."

Servants are instructed not to give food to undergraduates clad in the blacklisted attire.

Student Opinion

To the editor: Idaho is young. Traditions are in the making. Why not add another to the list? Men, do you know only the girls in one house, or do you have a wide circle of acquaintances? Girls, how about you? Most of you know only the men in one group. Is this in keeping with the democratic spirit that we Idahoans pride ourselves on having? How could we overcome it, you ask. Here is a suggestion. Why don't women's group houses set aside one night each fall to entertain the men? The men let the women go through their houses the night before the W. S. C. game; and this is one time when the girls see the inside, at least, of the fraternity houses and the hall. Why not let the men go through the women's houses? One night in the fall could be devoted to this visit to the houses, and the halls. If each group stayed just fifteen minutes and then went on to the next house it could be done easily. Sort of a progressive dance, don't you see? Dance

FACILITIES That Assure Satisfaction Merely assembling materials and putting the machinery to work for manufacturing explosives is comparatively easy. However, to produce, out of hand, those intangible and wholly indispensable facilities representing the constant efforts of many years, is a most difficult accomplishment. The experiences acquired in a century and a quarter of explosive manufacturing and the observations of explosives experts have provided the du Pont Company with adequate facilities to cope with the present demands for explosives. With its plants strategically located and sufficient production assured, du Pont explosives can be specified with entire confidence as to prompt deliveries and satisfactory performances. "The Blasters' Handbook" is an authoritative work on the selection and application of explosives to industrial operations. Leading technical institutions throughout the country have placed this handbook in the hands of their instructors and students. You need this handbook. Write for it NOW! It's FREE.

SOCIETY

Barn dances and costumes appropriate to such occasions characterized the social events of the past week end. The various events of the week seem to center around this idea. With the approach of Thanksgiving, however, a new interest will be taken, and the holiday season will soon be in full swing. The appearance of Mary Lewis Monday night on the Artist's course begins a week which promises to be rather crowded. The Pep Band show on Thursday and Friday nights will serve as the feature attraction of the week.

U. S. C. BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTED

Veterans Turning Out for Workouts; Wealth of Material On Hand

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, Nov. 10.—PIP—Taking no chances of having a squad of raw recruits to face experienced varsities, Coach Les Turner is starting basketball practice this week in the hope of stealing a march while the dew is still wet on the casabas. With the exception of Captain Laraneta, Hibbs, McCaslin, and Badgro, who are serving on the football team, there has been a full turnout.

Some of the other veterans on hand are Bruner, Wheeler, the Ouedermullen brothers, Coffey, McHaffie, Lewis, and Bevington. Besides these men comes the announcement that Charlie Bone, star of the 1922 varsity, will be back. Some outstanding players have also been uncovered from last year's frosh, including Helston, Moore, Thomas, Marshall, Saveren, Ferris, Denney, McCaslin, Wilson, and Taylor.

CLAIR REEM WILL GO TO A. T. O. CONGRESS

YEARLINGS TAKE FINAL GRID GAME

Defeated Montana Frosh Saturday 23 to 6 on Muddy Field

Ending the 1926 season in a 23-6 victory over Montana University frosh, the freshman squad put away their opponents for another year. The game was played in a sea of mud and the field was swept by many icy blasts of wind which caused the players and spectators much discomfort. Owing to the condition of the field, the game was marred by many tumbles, one of which resulted in a 60-yard run and touchdown by a Montana back.

Diehl kicked off for Idaho to Montana's twenty-yard line. Montana ran the ball back ten yards where Bill Kershnik tackled the runner. After a few slippery attempts to advance the ball, Montana punted out of bounds on the 52-yard line. On the first play Kershnik made ten yards off tackle. Then Munden made eight yards, Munden completed a ten-yard pass to Nelson, placing the ball on Montana's 25-yard line. Three line smashes gained five yards. Bill Kershnik then packed the ball through the line and printed the remaining twenty yards to the goal line for the first score of the game. Munden kicked the goal.

Hult Fumbles
Montana kicked off and Hult fumbled on the first play and recovered. Munden immediately got off a 65-yard punt which went out of bounds on Montana's five-yard line. After several attempts to gain through the frosh line Montana punted out of bounds on their 25-yard line. Kershnik made ten yards off tackle. Hult and Munden made four yards each and Hult went over on the third attempt for another score. Munden's kick brought the score up to 14-0 in favor of the frosh.

The frosh kicked off and the Montana safety was tackled behind his own goal line, for a safety which gave the frosh two points, bringing the total score to 16-0 against Montana. At this stage of the game the spectators got a thrill when Munden tumbled into the arms of Hori, Montana's right halfback, who immediately started an uninterrupted 52-yard run for a touchdown. They failed to kick goal. The score at the end of the first quarter was 18-6 in favor of the Idaho yearlings.

Second Quarter Slow
The second quarter was a seesaw affair with both teams fighting the mud. Both teams endeavored to break away but couldn't do anything on the field of mud. With seven minutes to go Montana got away a three-yard punt which went out of bounds on her own 20-yard line. At this point Price went in for Hult and immediately scored a touchdown over right tackle. Munden kicked the goal. The score read 23-6 in favor of the frosh and remained so the rest of the game.

Coach Kletfner made several substitutions just before the end of the first half. Tatum for Juono; Christians for Fromme; Berg for Diehl; Norby for Kershnik; Nieman for Munden; and Judevine for Barrett.

The second half was entirely void of excitement both teams making many fumbles. The frosh often worked the ball down the field only to have the slippery pigskin get away from them and be recovered by Montana. Montana never threatened during the entire second half. Their punting was weak and their line was completely outplayed.

This game winds up the season for the fast Baby Vandal eleven. The frosh squad has turned in a record of four victories out of six games played.

The starting lineup for Saturday's game was:

Montana	Idaho
Cumie	RE Barrett
Carrno	RT Kirkpatrick
Smith	RG Juono
Ryan	C Fromme
Clark	LG Lelsler
Blackford	LT Diehl
Keyes	LE Carney
Linville	Q Nelson
Hori	RH Munden
Webster	LH Hult
Humble	FB Kershnik

OREGON TEAMS SEEK NEW NAME
University of Oregon Students Conduct Contest

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 12—There's more in a name than Shakespeare thought, Oregon students believe.

For weeks the Oregon Daily Emerald, student newspaper, has been conducting a contest to get a new name for Oregon athletic teams. More than 500 names have been submitted to replace the old cognomen of Webfoots, which, the sports writers declare, is meaningless. While no definite date has been set, the contest is expected to end in a few days.

STANFORD WANTS TO PLAN WOMEN'S LODGE

Plans are under way for a Stanford women's lodge to be located at Searsville lake. The money for the construction of the lodge will be raised either by assessment or by campus drives and the issue will be decided upon at a meeting of W. A. A. women at Searsville lake today.

report immediately after the close of the football season. In addition to these men, MacMillan can look to Darwin Burgher, another football man, for a forward. Burgher weighs nearly 200 pounds and is fast, shifty and a good floor man. Probably several other good men, members of the last year's squad, will report in a day or so, but information is not forthcoming on these.

Have Good Material
Dave MacMillan, considered the father of the Idaho style of basketball offense and defense, which has been widely copied, has little to say regarding the probable outcome of this year's championship race. He refuses to predict a championship team, although when prospects for the forthcoming season are mentioned, his face brightens, and once he said: "Well, we've got a sweet bunch of material on hand; watch us."

The main schedule of the season will consist wholly of conference games with Oregon, Whitman, O. A. C., Washington, Washington State, Montana and non-conference games with Gonzaga. The Vandals will meet the Montana State college squad in a two-game series, probably before Christmas, with the remainder of the big games after vacation. The usual pre-season "try-out" tour will be taken again this year, during the Christmas holidays.

year, Stanford Cardinals nosed them out of the conference finals by a score of 13 to 12, and on Armistice day they defeated O. A. C. 17 to 7. Morton Kaer, Trojan quarterback, is recognized as one of the possibilities for an all-Pacific coast position.

FOURTH U. OF W. STUDES EARN WAY

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—University statistics for 1925-26 show that 25 percent of students attending the University of Washington are entirely self-supporting. The most common occupations include clerking and office work, with music coming in a close second. Girls are not content with orchestra work alone, as is shown, as they must teach music as well. Such odd occupations as posing for art classes, selling carnies and saxophones, coloring Christmas cards, are done by students earning their way.

Shall Women Smoke? Sure, Says Women; Not Mine, Says Man

"Well, of course, I don't smoke but I think that it is all right," say the women. "Sure, it is all right for the girls to smoke. Go right ahead. But I don't want my girl or my sister to smoke", comes back the mere male. This is the consensus of opinion among the students of the campus on the subject of smoking.

Now from this broad-minded viewpoint any girl may smoke. The matter of smoking is merely a consideration of environment and personal opinion, an Argonaut investigator found. "The old time-worn arguments against it have lost weight in the last few years. For example, the preservation of the double standard is useless for that disappeared with the World war. The argument concerning the physical injury involved is also weak in consideration of the other things that are done."

VIRGINIA GRID TEAM PLAYS BAREFOOTED

Eleven Has One Shoe Which Is Used for Kicks

The Presbyterian Orphanage of Lynchburg, Virginia, claims the only barefoot football grid team in the world. Just how effective they are against opponents who simply play football and make the ridiculous mistake of wearing shoes on the gridiron is shown by their season's score. They have already played six games and have amassed a total of 113 points to nothing by their foes.

For the entire eleven, there is but one shoe. That is donned by the quarterback for kicks. When the play is finished, off comes the shoe. The boys play without shoes from their own choice to increase their speed. The orphanage "shoeless wonders" have created quite a stir in Virginia football circles this year.

U. OF W. PLANS TWO NEW STRUCTURES

Athletic Pavilion and Union Building Will Be Erected Soon

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—PIP—Realization of Washington's dream of a union building and athletic pavilion began here when the Associated Students' building committee began the work of preparing for the two edifices which are to meet the student body's urgent needs. Acting upon data collected by faculty members of the building committee in a tour of the United States, the committee is definitely planning an athletic pavilion. That both a union building and athletic pavilion are to be built as soon as satisfactory plans can be agreed upon, is the intention of the committees.

STUDENTS WILL SELECT BEAUTIES

Everyone Should Nominate a Beautiful Woman, Say Editors

Nominations for Idaho's beauties, to be selected for the Gem of the Mountains by student vote, will begin tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. A ballot box will be placed near the bulletin board in the main hall of the Ad building, according to Clair Reem, business manager of the annual. Nomination blanks may be found in any edition of this issue of The Argonaut.

As many nominations as possible are desired in this contest, according to Mr. Reem, and those having the highest vote will run in the next election, which will be held before Christmas vacation.

Nominations will remain open till Monday night, November 22, and the list of the nominees will be published in The Argonaut the following day in the Tuesday edition.

With the beauty section of the annual symbolic of the students' ideas of feminine attractiveness, that division of the year book should have added interest to each purchaser, and it should be truly representative of the university's most beautiful women, or "our Miss Idaho", said Leland Chapman, editor.

COUGARS WIN CROSS COUNTRY

Washington State college won over Idaho in the cross country meet Friday at Pullman by 30 to 24.

Divine fought hard with Mathews to nose him out for second place.

Donald Cleaver, Idaho, took first in the meet. Arthur Mathews, Idaho, ran neck and neck with Divine, the pride of W. S. C., who was setting the pace. Mathews sprinted about 300 yards before the finish. If he had saved his speed until the last 150 or 200 yards he would likely have finished second place, is the opinion of Coach George Philbrook.

The finish of Divine and Mathews was the most beautiful he had ever seen, declared Coach Philbrook. This is the first year for the other three men on the team: Raymond Chisholm, Carl Aschenbrenner, and Willard Klingler, Idaho, who show much promise for middle distance runs next spring.
