Southern California scored first early in the opening period when they started a drive from the center of the field after an exchange of fumbles.

The day of the game was very warm for the Vandals who have been suffering through mud and rain in almost every game of the season.

A great deal of interest has been aroused over the mysteriousness of the get-together party of the English club Tuesday evening in the gymnasium, according to Warren Montgomery, president.

Fowls from the University of Idaho were entered for competition in production only and no special attention was paid to the standard type and color of the birds entered.

The birds were placed best for the type in the Rhode Island Red division, but were lacking slightly in desirable undercolor.

OWINGS SIXTH IN COAST SCORING

Vandals Fullback Scores 42 Points; Kelly Leads Conference Gridsters

Captain "Sody" Owings, Vandal fullback, placed sixth in individual scoring during the 1926 football season in the Pacific Coast conference, according to a report issued from San Francisco.

Owings scored a total of 42 points in conference games. "Wild Bill" Kelly, brilliant quarterback on the Montana eleven, took first honors in scoring with a total of 78 points.

Kelly scored three touchdowns and kicked one goal in last Friday's game to gain the lead over Morton Kaer, University of Southern California. Kaer ranks second with 66 points. Kaer was leading scorer of the 1925 season and of this season until last week.

Owings chalked up six touchdowns, kicked one field goal and converted three try for points for his total of 42 points. Meeker, midget W. S. C. quarterback, placed eighth with a total of 38 points.

FINAL GAME FOR CAPTAIN OWINGS

Idaho's Red-haired Fullback Finishes Three Successful Years Thursday

Captain "Sody" Owings, red-haired fullback on the Vandal squad, will on Thursday fight his last battle for Idaho, when he goes into the field against Creighton university at Omaha.

Owings has played brilliantly three years of varsity football at Idaho, and his spectacular 45-yard run last Saturday at U. S. C. for Idaho's only touchdown was probably the highest point of his football career.

"Sody" is the only man on the 1926 squad with two years of successful varsity experience. After his last game on Thanksgiving day, he will have earned three football "I" sweaters.

The loss of Owings will leave a hole hard to fill on the 1927 eleven. Owings has been the steady backfield man and this year has been the main power of the offense and defense.

TWENTY CAGEMEN TURN OUT MONDAY

Varsity Basketball Practice Officially Opened Monday; Six Lettermen Report

Basketball practice officially began Monday night with a turnout of 20 men. In the absence of David MacMillan, who has not returned from the U. S. C. game at Los Angeles, "Giff" Davidson, member of the freshman coaching staff, took charge.

The first practice was a short scrimmage between a few of the regulars and last year's frosh and other basketball aspirants.

When Coach MacMillan returns, basketball practice will begin in full strength in preparation for the Christmas vacation "barnstorming tour" and two pre-season games with Montana State college.

Conference games begin January 14, with a game with Montana at Moscow. Non-conference games have not as yet been scheduled, according to "Cap" Horton, graduate manager.

Table with columns: Date, Opponent, Place. Rows: January 14, Montana, Moscow; January 19, U. of Wash., Seattle; January 21, O. A. C., Corvallis; January 22, Oregon, Eugene; January 25, Oregon, Moscow; January 29, W. S. C., Moscow; February 11, U. of Wash., Moscow; February 14, O. A. C., Moscow; February 22, W. S. C., Pullman; February 26, Montana, Missoula.

VACATION STARTS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Ten Per Cent Cuts Will Be Effective; Many Will Go Home

Thanksgiving vacation will start after the last class Wednesday afternoon and will be closed with the first class Monday morning. It was announced Monday night by Ella Olesen, registrar.

This announcement came in the face of various rumors over the campus that the vacation would start after the last class Wednesday morning, to be resumed again Friday morning.

Ten per cent cuts will be effective at this time, said Miss Olesen. That is, students having an unexcused absence for their last classes before vacation, whether it be on Tuesday or Wednesday will have one tenth deducted from their possible grade.

The same holds true for unexcused absence from the first class after vacation, regardless of the day upon which the class falls.

GIRLS PLEDGED BY TOWN GROUP

Daleth Teth Gimel Takes Twenty-eight; Plan Pledge Dance

Twenty-eight girls were pledged to Daleth Teth Gimel Wednesday night, at a meeting held in the Guild hall. After the pledging ceremony, Chang U Chang, a Chinese student at the university, gave an interpretive dance, of four parts, from a Chinese festival dance.

A dance for the pledges will be held this Wednesday evening.

The girls pledged are: Mary Hall, Marie Jungstrum, Jessica Luvas, Myrtle Rindy, Josephine Ross, Jenny Wood, Clarice Anderson, Viola Hough, Florence Oliver, Geanne Hurst, Mary Snow, Josephine Humphreys, Ruth Fanning, Galatha Carter, Lola Gamble, Martha Weidm, Thelma Parkins, Lydia Walker, Irene Erickson, Edythe Nelson, Ida Myklebust, Dorothy Keimholz, Anita Draper, Catherine Humsticker, Marian Schwarz, Louise Larson, and Mildred Axtell.

PIKE WILL EDIT IDAHO FORESTER

Associated Foresters Elect Editor and Manager for the Year

The Associated Foresters held a business meeting in Morrill hall Wednesday evening, electing the editor and business manager of the "Idaho Forester" for the current year.

Galen W. Pike was chosen editor and Robert Davis as business manager. A committee was appointed to select pictures and other improvements for the forest club room.

The annual Forester's smoker and the Foresters' banquet was also discussed and a committee appointed to arrange for these events.

The meeting ended with elder and doughnuts; an average of one-half gallon of elder being consumed per man. Everyone attended classes the following morning, so the meeting has been voted a complete success.

PROGRAM SALE BRINGS PROFIT

Blue Key Turns Over Surplus Funds to A. S. U. I. General Fund

Program sales for Idaho's annual Homecoming event netted $75.55, according to the official report to Blue Key of Edson Morris, chairman of the fraternity committee in charge of the programs.

Mr. Morris reported that the money had been deposited in the bank, ready to be turned over to the general fund of the A. S. U. I.

Final reports on all phases of the Homecoming participated in by the fraternity were tendered president Jess Buchanan at the regular business luncheon meeting of the fraternity at the Blue Bucket Inn Monday noon.

The fraternity voted to cooperate with Mrs. Warren Truitt, head of the Moscow Red Cross drive in the campaign on the campus. This action is dependent upon recognition of the drive by the A. S. U. I. executive board, which will be considered Tuesday night.

Under the tentative drive organization perfected by the fraternity, members will visit every group house in the campus for its contribution. Although no set amount has been fixed for each house's quota, but Mrs. Truitt announced that if $5.00 were forthcoming from each group of students' share in the drive would be completed.

FROSH HOOPSTERS TO REPORT NOV. 29

Basketball Practice Opens Officially Monday; No Coaches Selected

Freshman basketball aspirants will turn out for official practice on Monday, November 29, according to the latest dope from the athletic office.

As yet no frosh coach has been chosen by the university for basketball, but it is anticipated that the selection will be made in time for the new coach to take charge of the first practice.

The organization voted to send a telegram expressing Blue Key's confidence in the team to the Idaho Vandals, who will meet Creighton university Thursday afternoon.

IDAHO VANDALS MEET CREIGHTON IN FINAL GAME

Gem Staters Stand Good Chance to Win at Omaha

Thanksgiving Day Contest One of Big Attractions In Mid-west

Idaho Vandals will wind up their 1926 football campaign Thursday against the Creighton university eleven at Omaha, Nebraska. The game, marking one of the two mid-western invasions to be made by Pacific coast aggregations this year, will form the Thanksgiving day attraction in Omaha.

The Vandals approach their last appearance minus the services of Frank Powers, regular halfback. Powers sustained a badly cut eye in the University of Southern California game in Los Angeles Saturday and was unable to continue on the trip to Omaha.

He left for Moscow Monday after spending Sunday in the hospital. His absence from the lineup will be severely felt. He has been Erb's leading triple threat star this fall and has done most of the punting.

Darwin Burgher, star of the Trojan contest and chief forward pass hurler in the backfield, was also taken from Saturday's game with an injury, but he is expected to be in condition to play Thursday. No other serious hurts were suffered in the gruelling Trojan contest and the team should be in fairly good condition for its final stand, considering the stress of the long road trip.

There is little material upon which to dope the relative strength of the two teams. Creighton, however, has a good record and has held some of the leading mid-western teams to close scores. Last year the Blue Jays defeated the Vandals 34 to 19 in one of the most spectacular struggles of the season.

The Vandals piled up a commanding lead at the start of the game, but the Omaha eleven ploughed through on breaks and straight football for five touchdowns.

The probable lineup for the Creighton game will be: ends, Beall and Diehl; tackles, Gartin and Dewey; guards, Hutchinson and Brimhall; center, Bliss; quarterback, Jacoby; halfbacks, Burgher and Perrins; and fullback, Owings.

A. S. U. I. HEAD IN HOSPITAL

Harry Baughman Operated Upon for Acute Appendicitis Friday

The condition of Harry Baughman, president of the A. S. U. I., who was operated upon for acute appendicitis at Grinnell hospital Friday morning, was pronounced favorable Monday night.

Mr. Baughman was attacked suddenly by the malady and surgeons expressed following the operation that had not surgical attention been rendered when it was, Mr. Baughman would have been in an extremely dangerous condition.

Although he may not entertain visitors for a couple of days, attaches at the hospital pronounced Mr. Baughman's condition very favorable.

FROSH CAPS BELIEVED STOLEN

ARE RETURNED, IS STATED

Twenty official "I" caps, which were alleged to have been stolen during the last football game of this year, the Idaho-Washington State college game, November 6, have been returned, according to an announcement issued by Miss Blomquist, assistant dean of women. These caps may be had by the owners by their calling at the office of Dean Blomquist, she stated.

Methodist Missionary Society Gives Thanksgiving Program

King Heralds, a missionary society of the Methodist church, entertained members of the Cosmopolitan club at a dinner in the church parlors last Sunday.

James Allen, in behalf of the society, welcomed the guests, and Gilbert Schumann, president of the club, responded. The members of the church society sang two songs and Alice Ludberg talked on the first Thanksgiving. Prof. C. W. Chenoweth addressed the group and the meeting closed with the singing of "America".

This Contest

The editor of the Gem of the Mountains has announced that six Idaho women, whose pictures will be printed in the year book for a special art section, will be selected by a vote of students here. Although this idea suggests a contest of a type not favored under circumstances general here, two objectionable features have been avoided. It is not a beauty contest, nor is it a popularity contest. Rather it depends upon the ability of a candidate to secure backers of sufficient numbers to overcome, in votes, the backers of other candidates. And although there are certain objectionable elements in a contest of this kind, several apparent evils have been avoided.

A beauty contest, where pulchritude is judged by experts trained in recognition of womanly beauty, may be desirable; and a woman favored by the choice of such experts may feel her share of honor. But a woman named by the ballot of laymen, such selection to be made on a basis of beauty, can feel no honor. For beauty gives way to politics and the winner of this contest must look to politics to thank instead of beauty. Such are the aspects of a beauty contest of this nature.

A popularity contest does not truly select the most popular girl. As a matter of fact, popularity enters into only a very small phase. Votes necessary for election are not obtained on a basis of popularity, but through the clever manipulation of politics. And who would be honored by such a selection?

It is good that neither the popularity nor beauty element enters into this contest.

Tagore Breathes Again

Sir Rabindranath Tagore, Indian poet and philosopher, claims the United States is so unfriendly toward Indian students and teachers that it is almost impossible for them to live in this country. It is almost unbelievable that a man who is recognized in this country by many authorities as a profound student and analytic thinker should make the statement credited to him by the United Press. It is unbelievable, also, that this great man supplemented such a statement by one to the effect "the unpleasant souvenirs of my last visit" make it improbable that he will visit the United States at the close of his present European tour.

His first statement doesn't seem to be borne out by facts. On the other hand, taking the University of Idaho for instance, there is an increase of students from India over the enrollment last year. And, although facts are not at hand, it is believed that such is the case throughout the west, where the recognition of the more or less mythical "Asiatic peril" is at its peak. And, it seems, that students from India are accepted at this school and at others on the Pacific coast in the same light as students from any other country. Therefore, Sir Rabindranath, thinker that he is, should at least be curbed a little by facts and not allow his imagination to get the better of facts.

As to his second statement: It behoves a great man to accept expressed disbelief in his own pet theories and other twaddle as the rightful prerogative of a thinking people; most certainly, as a great man, he shouldn't get into a huff and refuse to play in our yard if we can't see logic in all that he professes to believe. Besides, who cares if he doesn't come here? He would be only another actor in the glorified vaudeville made popular here by the recent visits of European crowned heads and others.

An Honor Deserved

"Pop" Warner, dean of western football mentors, is through in the west, with the fulfillment of the last phase of his three-fold ambition. He signed a five-year contract with the Stanford Cardinals to study western football, to defeat the mighty California eleven, and to win a coast conference championship. He did all three of these things; and now Pittsburgh is claiming him as her own.

The great mentor of the Cardinal eleven has turned in his resignation to take effect at the close of this year. He has finished a five-year contract: two by proxy and three by person. And Pittsburgh wants him to return to the place he held from 1915 until 1924. There his team was always in the running and everybody liked the grizzled "Pop". Since he left for the west to study the football world, says the Portland News, the quality of football has fallen and the gates have gone with it. Pittsburgh has a stadium seating 70,000 people and since Warner departed the largest crowd it has seated has been 39,000. He was a drawing factor in the east in the same way he was out here. And Pittsburgh wants him back to fill up the empty seats. The west will miss him.

Stanford brought Warner west to beat Andy Smith and his famous Golden Bears. Since "Pop" has been on the job in person, the wishes of the Cardinal backers have been answered. In his first year his team tied the Bears, 20 to 20. In his second year he beat Smith, 26 to 14, and lost the coast championship in 1925 after a terrific struggle with the Washington Huskies, which ended, 13 to 0, for Washington.

This year he is all but crowned coast champion. It is a fitting honor and "Pop" is deserving of it.

BASKETBALL GAINS INTEREST AT O.A.C.

Only Two Lettermen Report; Orange Cagemen Getting Into Shape

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 20—With the football season just about to make its official fade-out, basketball is rapidly gaining the attention of sport fans at O. A. C. Orange cagemen are gradually rounding into condition and will be near mid-season form by the time of the annual invasion into California.

Coach Bob Hager's Orangemen have already tasted their first victory of the season when they walloped the Checkerboards of Portland by the score of 30 to 15 last week.

Only two lettermen from last year have reported to the Aggie coach, and Bill Burr of Roseburg, both these are Captain Ray Graap of Port-guards. Several substitutes and grads from last season's rook squad are on hand to fill the places left vacant by Loris Baker, Jim Pinkerton, and Fred Diwocky, who were graduated.

Some of the men trying out for cabsa honors are Carl Aase, Astoria; Jack Savory, Fresno, Cal.; Don Hartung, Eugene; Bunny Butler, Corvallis; Hubert Mathews, Tillamook; Orrie Shreeve, Dallas; Frank Paterson, Salem; Duncan Wilson, Aberdeen, Wash.; Gene Duncan, Portland; Harold Price, Corvallis; Ted Butts, Albany; Bayard Sager, Pendleton; and Marvin Fisher, New Pine Creek.

Here is the itinerary of the California barnstorming trip: The Aggies meet Auburn Guts at Auburn, December 20; Ambler's Athletic club of Stockton, December 21; Y. M. I. of San Francisco, December 22; Olympic club, also of San Francisco, December 23. The team will leave San Francisco on the S. S. Harvard December 24, and play Pacific coast club of Long Beach December 27. Hollywood Athletic club will furnish the opposition December 28; Southern Branch University of California at Los Angeles, December 29; Alhambra Athletic club December 30; and Whittier college December 31. The team will leave Los Angeles by steamer Yale New Year's day for San Francisco and return home from there by railroad.

TOTAL OF 1400 SAW "PLUS FOURS"

Pep Band Show Set Attendance Record for Student Productions

"Plus Fours", which was presented in the university auditorium, Thursday and Friday nights, November 18 and 19, was attended by the largest crowd and returned the greatest income of any previous student performance, it was announced by George Horton, graduate manager of student activities. Approximately fourteen hundred seats were sold for "Plus Fours", yielding a gross income of about $850, making it financially the most successful of any university performance. The expenses of the production have not yet been checked, but they will not be heavy and will leave a good profit to the A. S. U. I., it was stated. This money will be credited to the Pep band budget.

UNCIVILIZED

An ancient ape, once on a time Disliked exceedingly to climb, And so he picked him out a tree And said "Now this belongs to me, I have a hunch that monkeys are mutts, And I can make them gather nuts, And bring the bulk of them to me By claiming title to this tree." He took a green leaf and a read, And wrote himself a title deed, Proclaiming, pompously and slow; "All monkeys by these presents know." Next morning, when the monkeys came To gather nuts, he made his claim; "All monkeys climbing on this tree, Must bring their gathered nuts to me, Cracking the same on equal shares, The meats are mine, the shells are theirs".

"By what right" they cried amazed, Thinking the ape was surely crazed. "By this," he answered, "if you'll read You'll find it is a title deed, Made in precise and formal shape And sworn before a fellow ape Exactly on the legal plan Used by the wondrous creature, man In London, Tokio, New York, Glenagary, Kalamazoo, and Cork. Unless my deed is recognized, It proves you quite uncivilized". "But," said one monkey, you'll agree It was not you who made this tree". "Nor", said the ape, serene and bland "Does any owner make his land, Yet it, and all of its hereditaments Are his, and figure in the rents." The puzzled monkeys sat about, They could not make the question out. Plainly, by precedent and law The ape's procedure showed no flaw; And yet, no matter what he said, The stomach still denied the head. Up spoke one sprightly monkey then,

"Monkeys are monkeys, men are men. The ape should try his legal capers On man, who may respect his papers. We don't know deeds, we do know nuts And spite of 'ands' and 'ifs' and 'buts' We know who gathers and unmeats 'em".

By monkey practice also eats 'em. So tell the ape and his flunkies No man tricks can be played on monkeys".

Thus apes still climb to get their food Since monkey minds are crass and crude And monkeys all so ill-advised, Still eat their nuts uncivilized—E. V. C.

Student Opinion

The intramural debate manager exults in being able to state that the forensic contents of our groups have never been more successful in numbers of attendants and in favorable comments of critics than in the present contest.

The former is evidenced by the unprecedented fact of appreciative audiences, which have often packed rooms 206 to overflowing. Importations of chairs have often been necessary. But with this advance over past years, should we stop anywhere short of a packed auditorium capacity? No; for it is my hope that we may foster this germ of "reasoning studentia" to the point where it must express itself in cogency other than in the class-room, as contrasted with the incessant twattle of nonsense found so currently. The triviality of questions has been disdained by some, yet the size of the assemblages has more than offset this discrepancy in forensic aim, for it is at least a constructive situation of possible development.

The latter is evidenced by comment of faculty judges and faculty auditors. The following faculty members have officiated at our debates: Coach Davidson, Dr. Tromanhauser, Prof. Howe, Talbot Jennings, Dr. Larson, Dr. Barton, Prof. Keir, Prof. Gersting, Prof. Harris, Dr. Church, and Prof. Meeham. Every judge has commented favorably on the organization of the debates. One, after auditing a recent contest, declared that he wouldn't miss another debate. Such comment more than offsets the exertion expended by those concerned.

Now we have but five teams as "runner-ups": Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, Ridenbaugh Hall, Alpha Chi, and Tau Kappa Iota. Let's all continue the interest and support which has thus far been shown toward intramural debate contests.

SOCIETY

Thanksgiving forms the motif for all of the social events of this week. Age old traditions of steaming dinners and sumptuous feasts call to mind the delights to be enjoyed. The campus itself will not be altogether deserted, and for those who are not fortunate enough to be able to celebrate the day at home there will be many compensating joys. The annual house party of the Kappa Sigma fraternity will be undoubtedly the largest event, and many other parties are anticipated.

Forney hall entertained Saturday evening at an informal dance. Patronesses were: Miss Permeal French, Mrs. Louise Blomquist, and Mrs. Richardson. ## Absent Minded Prof. Carries Bathing Suit

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 20—The absent-minded professor who has been the butt of countless jokes has been discovered in real life on the Oregon Agricultural college campus. He is C. J. McIntosh, professor of industrial editing.

One fair morning Professor McIntosh draped what he thought was an overcoat over his arm. Although the sun was shining, he was taking no chances, knowing the Oregon climate. Upon arriving at his classroom he discovered that instead of an overcoat he was carrying a one-piece bathing suit.

"Not a bad idea at that for these rainy days", giggled a pretty co-ed. News, Portland, Oregon.

MUSEUM GETS STUDENT RELICS

Oldest Slicker, Mammoth's Tooth and Early Bible are Curiosities

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, SEATTLE—PIP—The ancestor of the slicker, made by Alaska Indians from the intestines of the seal and covered with embroidery of beads and wool, is one of a group of gifts received by the state museum on the campus from Mrs. John A. Priest of Coupeville, during the summer.

The real name of this early slicker is the parka. The specimen given the museum is a very elaborately made one, and was probably worn on very special occasions. A two-foot model of an Eskimo kayak, or skin canoe, with three paddlers, wearing perfectly-made little parkas was also in the group.

A third specimen is a fossilized mammoth's tooth, found at the bottom of a twenty-five foot well at San de Fuca, Island county, twenty-five years ago.

An old German Bible, printed in Nuremberg in 1755, from a translation made by Martin Luther in 1522, was given to the museum by the heirs of J. E. Gilbert. The Bible came into the possession of Mr. Gilbert's father, Henry Gilbert, in Pennsylvania, in the latter part of the eighteenth century. It came west to Ohio by wagon, and went through Texas and California with the Gilbert family before it finally arrived in Seattle.—U. of W. Daily.

The schedule for the season, which begins in the early spring, has not yet been arranged, with the exception that two matches with W. S. C. are certain.

The price paid for this wether, which was fed and exhibited by the University of Idaho, was 60 cents a pound, live weight.

"We are presenting this lamb so that your children will have the opportunity of eating some grand champion meat", read the letter accompanying the gift, "and we hope that it will assist in making champions of them."—Oregonian.

THREE TEAMS IN DEBATE CONTESTS

Ridenbaugh, S. A. E. and T. K. I. Enter Intramural Semi-finals

Ridenbaugh hall, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Tau Kappa Iota debate teams remain as contenders for the Theta Epsilon intramural debate trophy as the result of debates Monday night. The Ridenbaugh hall team won a unanimous decision, over the A. T. O. debaters Monday night, while the Tau Kappa Iota squad won its way to the semi-finals by defeating the Alpha Chi Omega team. The semi-finals will be held Tuesday evening November 30, it was announced.

The Ridenbaugh hall team, composed of Charlotte Smith and Myrna Adams, defended the position of co-education on the grounds that "since the episode of the glove, lions den and the gallant recovery—women have been an inspiration to men." The A. T. O. team, including Russell Randall and Robert Beasley, maintained that "since our leading universities haven't this intermingling of sex, hence we should not."

In the second debate of the evening, the Tau Kappa Iota team, composed of Harry Schuttler and "Butch" Slaughter, won its victory over the Alpha Chi Omega negative team, made up of M. Gelsendorfer and D. Fredrickson, on the question of "Dutch Treating."

With but three teams remaining in the contest the selection of the teams to debate next was made by lot with the Ridenbaugh hall and Sigma Alpha Epsilon teams picked. The semi-final debate between these teams will be held Tuesday evening in room 296 Ad building. The squad winning the debate will meet the Tau Kappa Iota debaters in the finals.

The question to be debated in the semi-finals is "Resolved, that a national cabinet office known as the secretary of education should be created to have control over primary, secondary and higher education of the states." The hall will take the affirmative side while the S. A. E. men will debate the negative side of the question.

COLLEGIATES SAY DATING IS NECKING

Modern Men Rude in Stag Line and Public Eating Places

All ye who are men, prepare to hear the worst. Your souls have been bared that all may see, while the veil of secrecy that protected you from the caustic comments of the self-styled superior sex, has been rent aside by the power of the pen.

Chi Kappa Alpha, an organization of Presbyterian campus women, is responsible for the latest outbreak against the essential goodness of man. In a paper directed chiefly to Kohnonia, a similar organization of young men, they begin their tirade with the following terrific wallop to the chin: "This treatise purports not to criticize men harshly and unjustly, but only to reveal unto them the astounding, heart-breaking, and illusion-shattering fact that they are not, in the eyes of the feminine world, the heroes they think they are."

Man Like Chameleon
With this auspicious beginning, they proceed to the sordid details themselves. Briefly, man is an egotistical, domineering, blank-faced, chameleon-like species of humanity. Courtesy is almost, unknown to them, and complete extinction of the knowledge seems to be just around the corner.

The charge that men are like chameleons—"those animals which are always changing color"—they seek to justify because, "they (the men) have most decided views on how their sisters should act, but other girls who behave according to these standards don't seem to appeal." Moreover, they "admit they don't approve of girls' smoking, yet it is noticed that they have a proclivity for those who do."

The stag line came in for a good share of the bitter denunciation, partly because it was a stag line, and partly because of its alleged discourtesy to the dancers. "On the street, "Men don't even tip their hats any more," and their manners in public eating places are, well, simply awful.

The paper ends with a literary flourish purporting to be a parody on "Hamlet." It seems that the young women of today are continually up against the question, "To neck, or not to neck." Man is cruel and unjust for he has made it necessary for the girl to decide, "Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to participate in the whims and fancies of the age, or, to take arms against this giddiness of youth, and by opposing, lose your chances for dates."

It is rumored that the men are not entirely defenseless, and that, within a short time, the coeds shall receive as good as they sent.—Emerald.

U.S.C. AGOG OVER NOTRE DAME GAME

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, Nov. 20.—PIP—The campus here is all agog over the Notre Dame contest only a few weeks distant. While the variety is experimenting with devious ways of poking a snag in the Notre Dame shift, the rest of the student body is busy buying tickets and hatching plans for a mammoth homecoming affair to take place on the same date. The program will largely be given at the local Shrine Temple and will include a procession of floats, a huge rally, dinners, dances, and a smoker at the new Elk's club.

ENDS GRID CAREER

Captain "Sody" Owings ends his brilliant football career for the Idaho Vandals in the last game of the season, Turkey day against Creighton university. ### INSTALL CHURCH BULLETIN BOARD

Ten Local Organizations and Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Represented

Ten local churches and the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. are represented on the new church bulletin board placed on the east side of the corridor near the president's office in the Administration building Monday morning.

The board was put up by the ministerial association, which is composed of the ministers of the city churches and was designed by Olaf Fjelde, formerly of the university architectural department. Roy G. A. Peterson, of Our Saviour's Lutheran church, was chairman of the committee. The board, of oak, is divided into three parts, two smaller, with the names of three churches each, and a larger, with six names. The names and addresses are in brass plates, above which is the bulletin space.

Churches represented besides the two Christian associations are: Church of Nazarene, Third and Almond streets; First Baptist church, First and Jackson streets; Presbyterian church, Fourth and Van Buren streets; Our Saviour's Lutheran church, Sixth and Jefferson streets; First Lutheran church, Second and Van Buren streets; First Methodist
