

FOURTEEN GIVEN PERFECT GRADES IN FALL SEMESTER

Ten Women on List; Juniors Head Classes With Six

Two Are Freshmen

One Student Out of 137 Is Given "Straight A" Ranking

Fourteen University of Idaho students received exclusively perfect grades, the highest scholastic mark given, during the first semester of the 1926-27 school year, according to announcement by Miss Ella Oleson, registrar. Ten of the fourteen are women. The junior class leads in the number of representatives with six, the seniors and sophomores each have three, and the freshmen have two.

According to the methods of grading used at the university "straight A's" indicate a technically perfect scholastic ranking for the semester. Each of the 14 is one student out of 137 to attain the honor, figuring on the basis of the total number actually studying in the university.

IDAHO DEBATERS HAVING SUCCESS ON COAST TOUR

Three Meets Concluded So Far With Vandal Forensic Representatives Coming Out Ahead, Says Report

Idaho's varsity debate team, which is at present on a coast trip, has met successfully every school it has contested against, according to word received here.

Reed's college, with whom Idaho debated first, had an audience decision debate. In this manner the opinion of the audience is taken before and after the debate. The winning team is the one which changes favorably the greater number of opinions. The final count showed much change in favor of Idaho and a close majority for Reed's college.

St. Ignatius was the second school which the team met. This was a non-decision debate. The San Francisco papers praised the merits of the Idaho debaters as being superior to those of St. Ignatius.

VARSITY ATHLETES CAN TAKE PART IN ONLY TWO SPORTS

Cocher Erb Rules Against Excess of Athletic Activity

WEARS THE MEN OUT

New System Will Be Started With Fall Semester, It Is Announced

The University of Idaho athletes of hereafter will be allowed to participate in only two branches of major athletics in one year, according to a dictum issued by Charles Erb, football coach and director of athletics. The new ruling will go into effect next September with the opening of the fall semester.

Cocher Erb explained that men who are allowed to participate in more than two branches generally wear themselves out physically and are on a ragged edge when they are graduated from the university. He pointed out further that scholastic standing, the main object of the student's mission, is injured by too much participation in athletics.

Exceptions Possible

An exception may be allowed in case an athlete has an extraordinary strong physique and is above the average in scholastic ability. Then, by special permission of Coach Erb, he may participate in three branches.

The rule was made not because any men have been injured by over participation, but because of the possibility of injury presented, with several of the best athletes now in school attempting to win letters in more than two branches. "Three-letter men" now in school must choose the two branches of sport in which they will participate by next fall, the coach has ruled. The choice will be left entirely to the athlete.

"Supernatural" Interfered

"Smiling Bob" Fitzke and other Idaho men who have made more than two letters in recent years were "supernatural" in a sense, it is inferred when it is pointed out that Fitzke had gone into professional football, baseball, and basketball and had made available records in each branch. The ordinary athlete, however, the coach cannot stand up under the grueling strain demanded of participants in nearly every branch of major varsity intercollegiate athletic competition. Rather than to injure possibilities of success of his "boys" later in life, Coach Erb has chosen to dispense with their services on all but two of his teams.

Two men are now rated above the "two-letter" status at Idaho. They are Ralph Erickson, Pocatello, and Glenn Jacoby, Bonners Ferry, both of whom have letters in football, basketball and baseball. Neal Nelson, Burley, who was graduated last spring and is now football coach at Lewis and Clark high school, Spokane, won letters in football, basketball and track.

SCHOOLS EXCHANGE ACTORS FOR PLAYS

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (IP)—Smith college has received from Amherst college a request for an interchange of actors in dramatic productions presented in the two institutions. The request was made in order that Amherst productions would not have to feature men in women's parts, and vice versa. Under the suggested plan, plays in which the visiting actors take part would be presented on both campuses.

Criticism On Part Of Parents Should Not Deter Instructor

If classroom work is presented to enlighten a student along any particular line, criticism on the part of parents should not deter the instructor in his purpose, declared Prof. C. W. Chenoweth in connection with a news dispatch from the University of Washington dealing with the virtual suspension of an instructor in the department of English. The university authorities have placed C. W. Chambers on probation for permitting the use of Berttram Russells "What I Believe" in freshman classes. Objection raised by students' parents was the reason given by the university authorities for their action.

"If this instructor was merely trying to make his students familiar with a certain line of material," said Professor Chenoweth, "with the intention of creating within those students an intelligent attitude toward that material the motive which prompted the penalty placed upon him is to be vigorously commended and strenuously opposed by all persons of enlightenment. But on the other hand if the penalty was imposed for a lack of intelligent handling of the material, it becomes a question of the competency of the instructor to do the work for which he is employed, and on this question an outsider can have nothing to say."

NEW CONSTITUTION, BY-LAWS WILL BE SUBMITTED IN MAY

Committee Changes Plan of Revising A. S. U. I. Code

REGENTS TO APPROVE

Vote for Changes of Amendment Would Be Increased

An entirely new constitution, together with a book of by-laws, will be presented to the student body for acceptance or rejection in the general election this spring, it has been announced by Harry Baughman, chairman of the constitutional revision committee. According to the first plan, the revisions would be placed before the students as one large amendment; but this idea was abandoned.

Under the new plan, the constitution and by-laws will be drawn up in complete form and then submitted to the board of regents of the university for its approval before they will be given to the student vote.

The new document will not be fundamentally different from the one now in effect, with the exception that "seasonal" provisions or those which are subjected to amendment almost with the change of seasons, will be contained in a set of by-laws, leaving only the fundamental provisions in the constitution.

Probably the most radical change to be made, according to a committee announcement is the proposed change in amendment requirements. Under the constitution as it now stands 10 votes, or even less, are sufficient to amend. It will be recommended by the committee that the first amendment can be made effective 20 percent of the student body must vote. A two-thirds majority of these votes will be required. This, it is believed, will eliminate those amendments not generally desired by the student body and will require an issue to have a large following before it can be made into an amendment to the constitution. Provision for amending the by-laws has not yet been considered.

WOMEN SEEK MORE REPRESENTATION ON EXECUTIVE BOARD

Plan Would Make President A. W. U. I. Member Governing Body

OFFICERS HOLD BACK

New Constitution Committee Probably Will Consider New Scheme

Plans of women students seeking additional representation for their sex in student government received an initial jolt last Wednesday night when the executive board frowned upon the idea when it was presented by Josephine Keane, junior class representative on the board. The women are working to create a seat on the executive board for the president of the A. W. U. I.

It was suggested by the board that a representative appear before the committee now revising the constitution and state her case to that body. It is probable that when this committee meets next Monday afternoon that this will be done.

Insignificant representation for women students exists under the present system, it is argued by the proponents of the new idea. As a second point it is claimed that as president of the women's organization the president would be more in touch with the affairs of her sex and thus could represent them better than is now the case.

In refutation of the argument presented by the board that an additional vote to the vote of that body would seriously disturb the quorum regulation, and in general would make more intricate the functioning of the board, it has been suggested in some circles that the position of one of the women members of the board be turned over to the president of the A. W. U. I. It was asserted strongly by some women that the underlying intent of this movement was not to obtain greater representation in student government but to obtain a member who is more in a position to be conversant with the needs of the female portion of the student body.

The board seemed agreeable to allowing the president of the women's board to become a member of the board, with the right of discussion but not of vote. It was pointed out that such a move would enable the board to become well informed on any subject pertaining to women whenever such action came before it. Proponents of the new executive board position point out that Idaho is one of two state universities in the northwest where the head of the women's organization is not a member of the board, and that there is a definite trend among the students of the other school to fall into line.

If the matter is accepted by the committee revising the constitution, it will be incorporated into the new document and placed before the student body at the general election in May. The constitution then must be approved by the board of regents of the university before it can become effective.

BASEBALL STARTS WHEN FIELD DRIES

Outlook Bright With Veteran Pitchers Ready to Don Uniforms

Baseball practice will open for the Vandal nine as soon as the weather permits, and from present indications that day is not far off. Last year's varsity batteries are beginning to toss the pill about Lewis court, waiting until old Sol gets the ground well dried. The veteran hurling staff is composed of Lief Erickson and Gene Stockdale, while on the receiving line are "Pat" Howerton and "Red" Sullivan.

The outlook for the season is very bright. With the return of the majority of last year's players and the material that remains from the rookie squad of '26, Ficke, Lawrence, Grabner and Cheyne, stars of the past, freshmen are expected to make some of the old hands get down and dig in order to hold their positions. Two new recruits of no mean ability from the Idaho Tech, Sammy Peterson and "Red" Goodman, are expected to be seen this season on the Idaho diamond.

The first two games on the Idaho schedule have been announced for April 15 and 16 at Walla Walla, where the Vandals are booked to meet the Whitman Missionaries.

I. will handle the business end.

Committee will be named immediately by the executive board to handle the student end of the production. Now that responsibility is definitely fixed, actual work will be started immediately.

Fears that a similar pageant at Lewiston, first announced to be held on a date nearing that upon which the Idaho pageant was to be held, have been put at rest by an announcement from Lewiston that the pageant there would not be held until later in the summer.

CHINESE VERNACULAR IS LECTURE SUBJECT

Mrs. Sargeant Talks to Women's League on Oriental Language

Mrs. M. Sargeant of the foreign language department, spoke Tuesday to the members of the Women's League on the subject of "The New Chinese Vernacular." This topic was chosen because of the coming visit of Dr. Frederick Starr of Chicago university to Idaho the latter part of this month. He will speak to university audiences on some phase of "this same topic at that time.

Mrs. Sargeant brought out the facts that a vernacular language in China would mean much to the development of that country and to the advantage of other countries. The extreme difficulty of mastering the native language has been a tremendous handicap to China in past years. Only a very small percentage of the population in that country knows the language. A more common tongue will make communication easier and hence swifter advancement for China.

WOMEN'S REPRESENTATION

WOMEN students are seeking to make the president of the A. W. U. I. a full member of the executive board with voting power. They claim that under this arrangement legislation pertaining directly to women can be enacted upon wisely by the board, whereas under the existing system it cannot be expected that the men members can be in as close touch with strictly women activities on the campus. There undoubtedly is a lot of truth in this.

But there is an Ethiopian in the fuel heap: In past elections and in meetings of the A. S. U. I., of which the women are a component part, the turnout has been small. One amendment to the constitution was passed with only 39 votes being cast. Something is wrong somewhere. Is it the lack of female support, or does the blame lie with the men? Opponents of student body government even point to facts in triumph such as these, declaring that they indicate the failure of the system now in use. It is food for thought.

The women are not accused here. The blame may be with them or it may rest with the men. Again it may rest with both the men and the women. To clear themselves of any possibility of accusation, women supporting this new move should turn out a 100 per cent vote. Whether the executive board approves the proposition or not, the women can be victorious if they will get out and vote. The whole thing rests in their own hands.

STALLING

WHEN a puglist, battered, wobbly, defeated, can no longer stand up and trade punches with his opponent, he prays for the bell and stalls.

When a basketball team finds itself ahead by a couple of points with only a few seconds to play—it stalls.

When a professor has talked too fast and exhausted his stock of lecture notes and still the bell hasn't rung—he stalls.

Some profs are so good at it that their class scarcely realizes that they are no longer saying much of anything.

Others, visibly betray their consternation as they arrive at the end of their last card with five minutes still to go.

But they are all game to the last. To dismiss the class and allow their hurried disciples time for a few extra drags on a cigarette would be most unpedagogical. So they stagger on, rehearsing previous remarks, improvising like a member of the Wisconsin player who has forgotten his lines.

The class folds up its notebooks, wriggles into fur coats, hauls out compact to inspect noses for signs of shininess, studies watches hopefully. No one is listening, and the prof knows it, but his reputation for inexhaustibility of wisdom is at stake.

Many of the more enlightened members of the Wisconsin faculty realize it is only an act of charity to dismiss the class and have it over with. They can make it up on some other occasion when they have more to say.

Any seeker after wisdom who has been kept listening in his 9 o'clock class in Bascom until he has just one and one half minutes in which to make his ten o'clock in Ag hall, realizes how well they can make it up on some other occasion.—Daily Cardinal.

A GOOD RULING

IDAHO athletes will be allowed to participate in only two branches of major intercollegiate athletics, according to a dictum announced by Coach Charlie Erb. This law will go into effect next fall.

Coach Erb explains his stand on the fact that if a man is allowed to exercise his full talent in an athletic way by participating in three or four branches of varsity competition, he becomes tired and doesn't reach his expected level in scholarship. The man who expends all his energy on the athletic field leaves the university tired and worn out, unable to get a fair start in the bigger battle of life that awaits him.

The coach undoubtedly is right. The glamor and plaudits of athletic competition is strong, as it should be, and it unquestionably spurs the man on to greater efforts. Sometimes the effort is greater than the physical body can stand. That has happened at Idaho. And for that reason the coach is right. His provision by which a man of extraordinary physical powers and higher than ordinary scholastic ability can participate in more than one branch, is wise. But these endowments should be checked carefully by the coach before the permission is given.

INDIVIDUALISM

Robert Frost, famous American poet, believes in more individualistic education for the colleges. Speaking before college men recently, he told the following story about Conrad Aiken, another poet. Aiken, assigned to interpret something, from some French dramatist, went home and became so much interested in doing it that he did not return to class for three weeks. By that time, however, he had done the entire play in verse. Commenting on the fact that the man was penalized in the matter of cuts, Frost said, "If a man did that for me, I'd give him 'A' in every course." —Rochester Campus

CAMPUS KATIE

ALACK, THE BRANCH GETS ENGINEERING SCHOOL

IDAHO goes into MOURNING; she has lost HER engineering school AND its all the fault OF THE CIVIL engineers! WHAT have they done YOU ask? That's just IT they haven't done anything AS the following item will SHOW.

SPRIG HAS CUB! CHEERIO! CHEERIO! CHEERIO! SPRIG HAS CUB! HOW DO WE KNOW? HOW DO WE KNOW? HOW DO WE KNOW?

Dean Crawford: The civil engineers at Idaho have been surveying your campus for twelve years and haven't it surveyed yet. The men whom we sent from the Tech to investigate this situation have returned with unlimited evidence to show that your engineers are still attempting to get the angle of the arcotum and the height of the A. T. O. yard above sea level, in fact our men brought back photographs of some of your students in action.

One of the best of these photographs was an enlargement of Jess Everett Buchanan with his transit sighted on the door leading from Dean Crawford's office in an attempt to get a view of Ora Eudge on her way home from work.

Another splendid photographic proof was a snap shot of John Vernon Otter as he was adjusting his transit for a view of the Ad building clock. John as at home and the picture was taken from his bedroom window. Mr. Otter did not know whether it was time for class or not, and was making use of his civil engineering transit to determine this information.

A DREAM

I'd love to be an artist,
And transpose
Upon my gleaming canvas
Purest rose;
Colors of the sunsets golden glow,
And all the sparkling glory here
Below.
I'd try to paint the radiance of a smile;
The tender beauty of a mother's kiss,
And happiness would bless me every hour
Could I do this.

And if I were an artist
I'd delight
In painting all the splendid things
Of right.
I'd seek the gladness of the fairest flowers;
And leave out all the sad and lonely hours.
I'd ignore all the sorrow and the pain;
The misery of the lovers' parting kiss,
And happiness would pave my way
In life
Could I do this. —Patsy Calhoun.

OFFICER MAY LOSE JOB FOR TALKING

Reserve Officer Speaks Against Compulsory Military

COLUMBUS, Ohio—(IP)—Recommendation of the discharge of Capt. Donald Timmerman from the Officers' Reserve Corps at Ohio State University because of a speech made against compulsory military training by him before a meeting of the Anti-Optional Drill League, January 13, has been made by Colonel A. M. Shipp, commander of the department of military science. The recommendation was made "for the good of the service."
Captain Timmerman, who is a chaplain in the R. O. T. C., said in his speech that the only reason he remained in the corps is because he wants to help keep the fellows clean in case there is another war. He declared that the government in time of war did not appreciate those who had taken the R. O. T. C. training.
Almost simultaneously Captain Timmerman was dropped from membership in Scabbard and Blade for the same speech.

The first days of March have made us believe that spring has really come. This fact coupled with a glance at the brilliant line of social functions ahead on the calendar certainly turns the feminine head to thoughts of shopping. ## THREE FIRED FOR QUESTIONS THEFT

Football Man in Group Expelled From Virginia Institution

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., (IP)—Three students, one of them a varsity football player, have been definitely suspended from the University of West Virginia in connection with the theft of questions prepared for final examinations at the end of the last semester.

The person who stole the questions has as yet been undeciphered, but those who it is known secured copies of the questions were asked to leave the university. The questions were offered for sale, it is understood, at from three to five dollars a sheet. The theft was discovered when the professor from whose office the questions had been taken received a telephone call from an unknown source, informing him of the theft. He prepared a new set of questions for the examination.

SOCIOLOGIST HELPS MAKE CONSTITUTION

Ohio State Man's Hobby is Helping Revolutionists

COLUMBUS, Ohio (IP)—Dr. Herbert A. Miller, professor of sociology at Ohio State University, has had more to do with twenty-odd revolutions of the world since 1910 than any other living human being, according to the Ohio State Lantern.

The sociologist has just recently returned from Mexico where he was leader of a group of 300 Americans studying conditions there.

The University of Wisconsin has abandoned afternoon classes during summer sessions. A new schedule of five forenoon hours, running from 7:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., to go into effect in 1927 summer session was adopted by the University faculty at its last meeting.

A radio correspondence course on "The Study of the Novel" is being planned by the extension division of the University of Nebraska.

ONLY ONE COLLEGE IN U. S. USES "YELLOW" AS OFFICIAL COLOR

Rochester, N. Y. (IP)—The University of Rochester is the only university or college in the United States or Canada, according to the Rochester Campus, which has only yellow for its official color.

Forty-six colleges use some shade of yellow in combination with some other hue as their official colors, many of which conceal the xanthic element under the names of maize, lemon, buff, canary, cream or gold.

The Campus goes on to say: "Environment has influenced the choice of some colleges to a shade of yellow in their escutcheon. Ottawa University takes its particular hue from the surrounding Kansas topography with the naming of 'wheat yellow' and black as its college colors. Likewise, the University of Chicago employed yellow as its official color during the early regime of Coach Alonzo Stagg, to conform to the color on the meadows on which the college stood. This color was abandoned, however, due to the derogatory connotation connected with the term. "Blue and white is the most popular combination used by colleges, sixty using this color scheme. The most popular single color is red, or one of its shades, as: crimson, maroon, scarlet, cardinal, garnet, rose, cherry, magenta, carmelian, pink, and wine. No less than 211 colleges employ some one of these shades in their crests."

STUDENT PETITION FAVORS CHINESE

Oberlin Students Ask Congress to Change Attitude Toward Chinese

OBERLIN, Ohio (IP)—Fifty per cent of the students and faculty of Oberlin College have signed a petition to Congress asking that the policy of this government in China be changed, and that our traditional friendship with that nation be undisturbed.

The petition, which was sent to Senator William Borah, Congressman Martin L. Day and President Coolidge, read as follows:

"To the Congress of the United States: "Being aware of the present important crisis in China and feeling the need of immediate action, we, the undersigned students and faculty of Oberlin College, petition that:

"1. Provisional agreements should be made indicating America's willingness to enter into relations with China that are wholly on an equal and reciprocal basis and to draw up new treaties on this basis as soon as some government is established which will be able to speak for the whole of China."
"2. The government reconsider its present policy of sending military and naval forces to China since these actions, which are destroying America's traditional friendship, must inevitably produce serious misunderstandings."

COLLEGE EDITORS SIDE WITH KNOTT

OBERLIN, Ohio, (IP)—College editors throughout the United States and Canada, while deploring the personal element in the controversy, have taken the side of Leonard L. Knott, editor of the Independent Manitoba student, who recently was discharged as editor of the Manitoban, official student paper of the University of Manitoba, by the student council of that institution. The comments vary from mild suggestions that Knott was too "hot headed" but was mistreated by the council to declarations that the only thing for the council to do is to reappoint him as the editor of the Manitoban.

THIRTY-SIX EXPELLED FROM STATE SCHOOL

Minnesota Students Will Take Action in Court Against Ruling

Minneapolis, Minn.—Thirty-six University of Minnesota students will take into court a protest against military training.

The students who were expelled from the University for being absent from drill and members of the Minnesota legislature are among those interested in determining whether adherence to the R. O. T. C. rule is mandatory.

Legal action is planned for sometime this month. The University of Minnesota ruling against which the students have been aroused is:

"Any student who is registered for military drill and who is reported as failing to attend will be dropped from the University for the balance of the quarter."

Following a statement on the floor of the Minnesota state senate by Senator Frank A. Day, Fairmont, and others, that compulsory drill had no good effects but inculated a spirit of "militarism," the American Civil Liberties Union has offered its assistance to the students expelled.

However, students in a secret meeting held Wednesday night denied any affiliation with the union.

Names of the students who attended were guarded.

The only statement from Major Bernard Lentz, University R. O. T. C. commander, was that the recent court action was "the attitude of a radical group."

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR NEW HEATING PLANT ON CAMPUS

Seventy-five Thousand Dollars to Be Spent on Building

SITE NOT SELECTED Dean Crawford and Prof. Gauss Study Engineering Problems Involved

Plans for building a new heating plant here, which was authorized by a $75,000 appropriation of the state legislature, are already under way, said L. F. Parsons, executive secretary of the university. Actual work will not commence for some little time as a suitable site has not yet been obtained.

It is planned to build the new plant at a point that can be reached by a spur track from the railroad. At the present time the university is paying $3000 a year in lease charges on coal. Mr. Parsons said a spur track to the heating plant would mean the elimination of this item of expense. Dean I. C. Crawford and Prof. H. F. Gauss of the college of engineering are making a study of the engineering problems connected with the new plant. The new heating installation will embody the use of the very latest and most modern equipment on the market. It is planned to house the steam laboratory of the college of engineering in the same building. Two of the four boilers now in use eventually will be moved to the new plant along with such other equipment that can be used. The other two boilers now in service have been in continuous use for approximately 15 years and it is doubtful whether or not they can be utilized, Mr. Parsons brought out.

WOMEN DEBATE WITH UTAH U.

Gainful Occupation for Women Is Not Harmful, Idaho Argues

The women's negative debate team of the University of Idaho met the University of Utah's team in a non-decisional debate Wednesday evening, March 2, in the auditorium. The question discussed was: Resolved, "that women should be employed outside of the home." Idaho's team composed of Maurita Miller, first speaker, and Lola Gamble, second speaker, maintained that gainful occupation outside of the home is no serious effect upon the home and family unit. Utah's affirmative team, composed of Miss Clark and Miss Smith, argued that continued occupation outside of the home will tend to destroy the value of the future American home. Dean Ferment French presided at the debate. Preceding the debate Dorothy Whitbeck, student of the music department, played a piano solo.

STATE HOOP TEAMS WILL GET AWARDS

Three Cups and Nine Gold Basketballs Have Been Purchased

Three cups and nine miniature gold basketballs have been purchased by the athletic department of the university for awards at the State basketball tournament here March 10, 11, and 12. The winning team will receive the largest cup and its squad coach will receive the gold basketball. A cup will be given to the team taking second place and another will be awarded the team showing the best sportsmanship throughout the tourney. The awards have been purchased at a total cost of approximately $200 to be paid for partly by the receipts from the receipts from the recent Idaho and Washington State college coaches' basketball mix. Winners of the southern districts will not be decided until next Saturday night when the winners of tournaments at Boise, Buhl, Pocatello and Rexburg will be decided. From the Salmon district, Salmon City will be the representative to the state meet here. Mackay was defeated in the smallest district tourney in the state wherein the Salmon City boys and Mackay were the only entrants. "Dope is uncertain about any of the coming meets, but it is expected that Boise and either Filer or Rupert will be the representatives from the southwestern and south central sections. Pocatello is counted on to carry away the honors in its district, but it is rumored that Weston has another team of championship material. Practically all of the high schools of the larger towns around Rexburg have been eliminated from entering teams in the district meets and the race is expected to be between Sugar City and Driggs. Tournament trophies will be on exhibition at assembly March 4.

IDAHO CHEMISTS' WORK PUBLISHED

L. C. Cady and W. H. Cone Honored by Journal of Chemical Society

The Journal of the American Chemical Society has recently published the results of the latest efforts in research work by W. H. Cone and L. C. Cady, two members of the chemistry department. In their latest experiment, Cone and Cady have improved on the method for determining the endpoint in zinc ore analysis. According to L. C. Cady it should speed up the methods now in use as it cuts in half the time formerly required. At present they are working on a similar method to improve the existing means of securing a lead analysis. It is hoped that another month will see the conclusion of the research, and the publication of the results. Twenty-eight girls of Wellesley College have volunteered for service on the campus police force.

State Law Requires 15 Education Credits to Teach in Idaho

Fifteen credits in education are required in the qualifications for persons who wish to teach in the high schools of Idaho, according to an announcement by Miss Bernice McCoy, director of the placement bureau. This requirement is made by the state law. Only one of Idaho's neighboring states requires more education credits than Idaho. Oregon requires 18; Montana and Utah, 15; and Washington, 12. Western colleges demand more credits than do the middle western states, Miss McCoy said.

BETAS DEFEAT S.A.E. TO LEAD B LEAGUE

Sigma Chi's Win From A. T. O., Sigma Nu From Lindley Hall

Table with columns: League, Team, Won, Lost, Pct., Pts. Rows include Sigma Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Tau Kappa Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Pi Rho, Beta Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Kappa Sigma, Lindley Hall, Delta Chi, Tau Kappa Iota.

Beta Theta Pi assumed the leadership in B league by defeating the Sigma Alpha Epsilon "Butterflies" in the quarter game with S. A. E. leading general season, last Wednesday night. The contest began with Cheyne, and Lawrence and Crom retaliated with a free throw and a field goal respectively and the score remained at this position until Cheyne found the hoop for another goal. The end of the quarter came with S. A. E. leading 10-6. In the second frame the Sig Alphas failed to register while Beta Theta Pi accounted for five tallies putting them in the lead at the half 11-10.

While the whole game was fast and furious the third quarter was perhaps the best stanza of the fray. The lead swung back and forth between the teams. Each point carried great importance and the players were fighting to the best of their ability. S. A. E. took the lead at the third quarter 15-16 and maintained it until Wagner converted a foul for the Beta's tying the score at 16 all. The Butterflies tossed another long shot and resumed the lead until two accurate shots by the Beta, quintet found the net and the game was won. By failing to convert free throws, Sigma Alpha Epsilon lost the opportunity of making five additional points which might have spelled victory.

Cheyne and Hames scored high for the S. A. E. and Crom and Lawrence were best for the Beta's, the first three men scoring six points each and the latter accounting for seven giving him high point honors. Sigma Chi's Win Alpha Tau Omega was defeated at the hands of the undefeated Sigma Chi quintet, Tuesday night, by a 28 to 11 score. Sigma Chi was going in usual form and took the lead at the start. The A. T. O.'s played good basketball all through but were unable to solve the fast passing of the Sigma Chi five. Eddie Beyer and Bill Kerschnek performed best for the winners with Ashenbrenner and Hjort putting up the best exhibition for the A. T. O's.

Scorers of the second game of the evening were kept busy tallying the baskets of the victorious Sigma Nu team, when it swamped Lindley hall, 33-21. Frazier, of the Sigma Nu's was high point man with 13 markers, and Cheyne was close runner up with 12 points. Griffith and Pette worked best for their quintet, scoring a large majority of Lindley hall's total. Phi's Nose Out Beta Chi's In a fast, hard-fought contest Wednesday evening the Phi Gamma Delta five nosed out Beta Chi by one basket, the final score being 18-16. The Phi's were leading by a comfortable margin in the initial period, but a rally by the Beta Chi's in the first minutes of the third quarter brought matters to an even footing and the outcome was in doubt. Albertson and Miller starred for the Beta Chi outfit. The floor work of Roseland was also a feature. Hutchinson and Judy performed well for the Phi's.

John J. Blackmore of Chicago, the well-known disciple of the incomparable Tobias Matthay, will give a complimentary concert recital in the auditorium Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Blackmore's long years of study with the great teachers and virtuos, both of Europe and America, has peculiarly fitted him to introduce this work, as his views are broad and eclectic.

While in Moscow, Mr. Blackmore will conduct a class in piano playing for Prof. David Nyvall either Saturday or Monday and will give a lecture to music students. Mr. Blackmore's program for Moscow is as follows: 1. Prelude and Fugue—G Major: Bach. 2. Eroica Durch dein Gute—Bach: Rummel (Chorale Prelude). 3. Sonata—F minor—Op. 2—No. 1. 4. KLEFFNER GETS BASEBALL OFFER

May Sign With Twin Falls Entry in Utah-Idaho League

Sylvester "Syb" Kleffner, Twin Falls, may play with the Twin Falls entry in the Utah-Idaho league this summer, it is indicated by an announcement from league headquarters at Salt Lake. Kleffner, who is now athletic director at the Lewiston high school has been mailed a contract for him to sign to play with the Bruins. If he accepts he will hold down a position in the infield, probably at shortstop or at second. "Rosy" Rosenberg, who played the inner garden last year, has been offered a contract and if he accepts he probably will return to his old position, throwing Kleffner on second base. Kleffner played three years of baseball at Idaho, together with three years of football. He was graduated with the class of 1925. He directed athletics at Rupert high school for the year of 1925-1926. He coached freshman football here last fall. The Utah-Idaho league is the nearest approach to "the big time" in baseball in this section of the country insofar as it is sponsored by the Coast league. Several players in the U-I league went directly to the coast when the season closed last year.

It has been estimated that a ton of candy is consumed each week by the sweet-toothed women at the University of Southern California. The Student Council at Tulane University sponsored a boat dance at which only students of that university were admitted.
