

PLANS COMPLETED FOR RECEPTION OF BASKETBALL TEAMS

Breakfast Thursday Morning At Blue Bucket Will Open Program

WILL TOUR CAMPUS Special Assembly Will Be Held for Visitors; Play Starts at 3:30 p. m.

Fraternity houses which will entertain members of the district basketball teams and their coaches, were allotted their guests by lot, at a meeting of Blue Key fraternity at a special meeting at the Phi Gamma Delta house Monday night. Sigma Alpha Epsilon will entertain Lewiston; Sigma Nu, Salmon; Sigma Chi, Sandpoint; Kappa Sigma, Pocatello; Sigma Pi Rho, Boise; Beta Theta Pi, Buhl and Phi Delta Theta, Midway.

Complete Plans

Final consideration of plans for entertainment of the guests was made at this meeting. The teams are expected to arrive in Moscow by Wednesday night, with Boise and Buhl arriving here this afternoon. On Thursday morning at 8 o'clock the teams will be the guests of Blue Key at a breakfast at the Blue Bucket Inn. Here coaches, faculty members and members of the University of Idaho athletic staff will talk to the boys.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock the teams and coaches will be taken on a tour of the campus. At 10 o'clock the special A. S. U. assembly has been called. The teams will attend this in a body. Here a varied program has been prepared. Alumni, faculty and students will talk; trophies to be awarded following the tournament will be on display; basketball and Argonaut awards will be presented. The pep band will play and John MacMurray, yell king, will lead the assemblage in yells. The assembly will be the formal opening of the tournament.

Play Starts

Play will start at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Two games will be played in the afternoon and two in the evening, the first starting at 7:30 o'clock. The first game will be started at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning and be followed by another in the morning. Two games starting at 2 o'clock, will be played in the afternoon and three games, starting at 7:30 o'clock, will be played in the evening. Two games, starting at 2:30 o'clock, will be played Saturday afternoon, with the final game, which will decide the championship, to be played at 7:30 o'clock.

Tickets for the tournament are selling for $1 for a season ticket and 50 cents for each set of two games. The sale is reported progressing favorably under the direction of the Intercollegiate Knights and the Spurs. Faculty tickets are being sold by Doctor Kostalack.

TWENTY-SIX AT KAPPA CONCLAVE

National Officers Here for Biennial Province Convention

Twenty-six members of chapters of Kappa Kappa Gamma in the northwest were guests of the Idaho chapter at the biennial convention of Iota province held here last week-end. Seven chapters and two alumni associations were represented.

Mrs. Harry Davenport of Spokane, was elected president of Iota province at the closing session Monday, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hopkins of Portland, was re-elected vice president. National officers present were: Miss Eleanor Bennett of Berkeley, Cal., National president and director of provinces; Miss Josephine Lewis of Seattle, national chairman of standards, and Mrs. Harold Baird of Montana, retiring province president.

The convention opened last Friday morning with meetings being held in the Idaho chapter house. Members of the convention were entertained by the Moscow alumni Friday at a buffet luncheon at the home of Mrs. M. P. Bailey. A formal dinner was held at the chapter house Saturday evening. At the close of the session Sunday the delegates were taken to view the Lewiston grade.

The following delegates from chapters in the province were present: Peggy Shoup and Lillian Shaw, University of Montana; Harriet Baird and Ruth Brownell, University of Washington; Marjorie Otis and Gladys Klinear, Oregon Agricultural college; Helen Webster, University of Oregon; Miss Theda Lomax and Eleanor Hyslop, Washington state college; Katherine Ripley and Betty Ruby, Whitman college.

Mrs. Frank Esagen was a delegate from the Boise alumni chapter and the following represented the chapter at Spokane: Mrs. George Hoffman, Agnes Wegner, Jessie Partridge, and Gertrude Skinner.

Miss Bennett left Monday afternoon for Pullman where she will inspect the chapter at Washington State.

Idaho Psychologist Believes Suppressed Desires of Youth Contributing Factor in Recent Nation-wide Student Suicide Wave

BY DR. J. W. BARTON
Head of Department of Psychology

The statement is made that more college students commit suicide now than formerly. I know no figures that substantiate or disprove this statement, that are sufficiently objective to make for verification. There can be little doubt of the truthfulness of the statement, that more college trained people kill themselves than has been the case in the past; but whether or not this means that a higher per cent are coming to their death by suicidal means is not clear. There are many times more students coming under the influence of colleges now than ever before. This might be the only factor of difference in the number of deaths by this means, unless we could add the one of the publicity of the cases that occur.

If it is a fact that a higher percentage of college trained people kill themselves now than in the "good old days", and if this proportionate number exceeds that of other classes in a way differing from what has been the case heretofore, then there must be some cause for it. The implication, with many heads and outside of such institutions, is that something goes on in the colleges to produce this result. Is it possible that it could be due to conditions in other situations than that of the colleges?

Population Grows

It must not be forgotten that never before have we had as high proportion of the whole elementary school population entering college. Since this population differs in mental capacity and stability from imbecility and the worst types of potential insanity to genius and the highest sanity, it is difficult to see that those now attending college include many more of those down the gradation line toward mental deficiency. This factor alone could explain away any

TUITION COSTS CUT FOR SELF SUPPORTERS

GRINNELL, Iowa (IP)—A new scholarship loan plan has been announced by Grinnell college, by which self-supporting students will be required to pay only $325 of the normal $1000 tuition for the four years of their college courses. This amount will not have to be paid until the students have graduated, and the rest will be given the students as a scholarship gift which need not be returned. It is believed that such a plan is original with Grinnell.

BIG CROWD HEARS JOHN BLACKMORE

Noted Chicago Pianist Pleases Audience at Sunday Vesper

John J. Blackmore, eminent Chicago pianist and disciple of Tobias Matthay, gave a piano recital of unusual merit before an enthusiastic audience of approximately 700 in the university auditorium Sunday afternoon.

His program consisted of three parts. In the first group "Prelude and Fugue, G Major" by Beethoven and "Erwartung" by Mahler were given with artistic interpretation. "Sonata, F. Minor Op. 2 No. 1" by Beethoven was rhythmically fine and showed the interpreter's varied powers of technique. The two numbers by Brahms—"Intermezzo," G. Minor, Op. 119 and "Ballade," G. Minor, Op. 118 were played with forcefulness and great depth of feeling.

The second group of novel, modern numbers offered variation to the program. "Retour des Mutilles" by de Smetra especially pleased the audience. In "Cherry Ripe", a piquet little number by Cyril Scott, Mr. Blackmore proved himself a prophet of the modern school of composition. "Andalouza," by de Falla, "Brer Rabbit" by McDowell and "Prelude," B. Flat Major by Rachmaninoff were played in impeccable style.

In the last three pieces Mr. Blackmore again turned to the older classics. "Nocturne," E. Major, and "Impromptu," A. Flat Major by Chopin were played with the mastery touch of the educated pianist. "Venezia e Napoli" by Liszt with its rippling accompaniment was remarkable for its exquisite tonal qualities.

MAKES PLANS FOR JOINT BANQUET

Sigma Xi to Have Meeting With Pullman Club, April 5

Plans were outlined at a meeting of the Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity, for a joint banquet with the Sigma club of W. S. C., April 5, at a meeting of the fraternity at the university club last Monday evening. The banquet will be at the Blue Bucket and Dr. C. H. Chapp, president of the University of Montana, and formerly president of the Montana school of mines will address the group on the "relation of the igneous rocks to ore deposits."

G. L. A. Ruelhe, head of the department of bacteriology of the University of Idaho, was the principal speaker at the meeting. He gave an interesting discussion on the bacteria of the intestinal tract.

JUNIOR COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN NAMED

Phil Cox is Appointed General Chairman of Junior Prom

Phil Cox has been appointed general chairman of the Junior Prom, according to George Yost, president of the junior class in an announcement last night. The parade chairman appointed was Floyd Packer and Tess Burke was named chairman of entertainment at the junior cabaret. The talent at the junior committee will be song and stunt committee will be appointed some time this week according to Mr. Yost. All other committees have been previously appointed and arrangements are under way to make Junior week a complete success.

Sigma Nu's entry in the intramural basketball tournament slipped up on the Kappa Sigma team in a postponed game Monday afternoon, winning the game 35 to 21. Phi Delta Theta, Delta Chi and Phi Gamma Delta teams in the tournament won their games played the latter part of last week.

All games for this week have been postponed because of the state basketball tournament which will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to Gale Mix, manager. The games scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were called off because high school teams that will compete in tournament will want the floor for practice.

Phi Delta Theta sprung a surprise Thursday night by defeating the strong Tau Mem Aleph quintet, runners up in A league thus far this season. From beginning to end the game was nip and tuck, the victor not being able to pick until the last bell. The 28-20 triumph for the Phi Deltas gives them a former trip on second place in the league. If T. M. A. had won the game they would have again been just beneath Sigma Chi.

In two extra five minute periods Delta Chi gained a one point lead to defeat Kappa Sigma 25-24. As the score shows the game was a battle all through. The Kappa Sigmas were touted to win by a large margin, but the Delta Chis realizing the odds against them, played and fought a hard game.

Fijis Defeat Sigma Pi Rho

The only game Friday night was between Sigma Pi Rho and Phi Gamma Delta in which the Fijis were the victors 14-10. The first half was one sided with the Fijis gaining a large lead but the second half Evans and Nims of Sigma Pi Rho, staged a scoring rally, and with the support of their teammates came within two baskets of winning the score. Judy and Stollman performed best for the Fijis.

At 1 o'clock, Saturday, the Beta's swamped Tau Kappa Iota under a flashy exhibition of accurate shots, by a 52 to 12 score. The T. K. I's fought well but were not able to keep up with the fast pace set by the Beta five. Crom, Beta forward, was leading scorer with 12 points.

FRATERNITY TALK SCHEDULED BY "Y"

Dr. Miller Will Discuss Present System Wednesday Evening

Dr. George Morey Miller, head of the English department, is to be the speaker at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock. His subject will be "The College Fraternity System—Good or Evil?"

There will be an open forum discussion of fraternity problems after the address. Many of the fraternities are planning on having representatives from their houses present to carry on the discussion. The meeting is open to all students and will be held at the "Y" hut.

COACHES TO STAGE SECOND STRUGGLE FOR TROPHY FUND

Bad Blood Will Figure in Second Clash in Gym Here

GAME SET WEDNESDAY

Idaho Lineup Will Feature Greatest Galaxy of Hoop Performers

Sez Mix to "Buck Bailey, sez he: 'You gotta dig back of hologna, get off my feet!'"

Sez Bailey to Coach Mix, sez he: "We do that, you little shrimp, over at Wash Street!"

It will be a grudge battle, this affair between the athletic mentors of Vandal and those of Cougar. War will be declared promptly, at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the Idaho gymnasium.

Blood Is Bad

A recent battle between these two teams, which started, peacefully enough, to raise funds to give trophies to winners in the interscholastic basketball tournament, which opens here Thursday afternoon, has spilled blood.

Washington State lays its recent defeat to the absence of "Babe" Hollingberry, who publicity writers say is spending the winter selling gasoline from a station in California. "Buck" Bailey, rawboned understudy, took exception when Coach Mix branded Bailey's explanation as appeasement of the vilest mixture. Mix, whose mosquito-like playing in the first encounter nearly sent Bailey to the showers, has groomed himself for the coming fray. Throwing discretion to the winds, he has armed the scorer, an Idahoan, with a hot full of blocks, to be used if "Buck" gets rough. So, all in all, the mix promises to be interesting.

The Lineup

Coach MacMillan, Coach Erb, Coach Mix, Coach Hulbert, Coach Vess, Coach Sowder, Coach Lonnie Woods, Coach Fred Skogg and Coach Captain Bryan will uphold Idaho's end of the argument. Coaches Ankhorn, Bailey, Argon, Bohler and Schladmann will invade the Idaho camp.

This embroglio, as the first, will be tussled in the interest of trophy money for the winners of the interscholastic basketball tournament.

Coach MacMillan, backed by consultation with the other coaches, recognizing the need of a big turnout for this game, has decreed that there will be no "Y" men with paddles in the rooting sections, and dates may be brought to the game. It is expected that this departure from the usual Idaho custom will attract several new faces to the gymnasium.

GOLD BASKETBALLS TO BE GIVEN CHAMPS

Athletic Department to Present Awards to Winners of State Tournament

Gold basketballs will be awarded to members of the state championship basketball team and its coach. It was announced by Coach David MacMillan Tuesday. Members of the mythical all-state team, to be selected following the interscholastic tournament, will not be given gold basketballs as they have been in past years.

The new practice was initiated insofar as members of the state championship team generally have nothing to show for their work other than a silver loving cup which often is placed in an obscure trophy case in the halls of the high school producing the team. Members of the all-state will receive nothing but glory for their honor.

WOMEN DEBATERS MEET WEDNESDAY

Start Work on Triangular Contest to Be Held April 15

The women's varsity debate squad will begin work this week on the triangular meet which will be held April 15 between the University of Idaho, the University of Washington, and the University of Oregon.

The first meeting of the squad, to determine the issues of the question, will be held Wednesday afternoon, March 9 at 5 o'clock in room 204 of the Ad. building.

The question for the debate is: "Resolve that there should be a bureau of education established with a secretary in the President's cabinet."

A negative team, consisting of two speakers will represent Idaho against Oregon at Eugene, and an Idaho affirmative team will contest with Washington here. The members of the teams and the alternates will be chosen by several judges after a series of tryouts have been conducted.

This debate will be the last one this season for the women's squad.

FORESTERS TO HEAR PINE RUST LECTURE

Clarence C. Strong and H. N. Putnam of the Spokane office of white pine bluster rust control, will give an illustrated lecture on "Blister Rust and Its Control in the West." Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock in the assembly room of Morrill hall.

The lecture is open to anyone who is interested in learning the effects the rust would have upon white pine in Idaho if it got started, the school of forestry announced.

BEEBE ELECTED HEAD SIGMA TAU

Engineering Fraternity Chooses Officers for Second Semester

Eugene Beebe was elected president of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering society, at a meeting in the Engineering building Thursday night. His successor, Hugh Carroll, president for the first semester.

Other officers elected were: Stephen Blone, vice president; Theodore Rice, secretary-treasurer; Charles Miller, corresponding secretary; and Leland Chapman, historian. (These officers succeed Gilbert Darwin, vice president; Jess Buchanan, corresponding secretary and Harold Lamphier, historian.)

Following a custom started several years ago, the fraternity will offer its services to George Austin, vice president of the A. S. U. and head of Campus day. It has been customary that the fraternity assist in carrying out this tradition. Committees will be appointed as soon as a committee from the group meets with Mr. Austin.

CHINESE STUDENTS OUTLINE HISTORY REPUBLICAN WAR

Present Fighting Outgrowth of Meeting of Tiny Secret Society

POLITICS ARE FACTOR

Nationalist Party Seeks to Better Conditions in Old-est Monarchy

(By New Student Service)

From a tiny secret society founded by Sun Yat Sen the Chinese George Washington, in the days when South China was fighting to overthrow the corrupt Manch dynasty and establish a Republic (c. 1911) Kuomintang, the Nationalist party, has grown in size and strength until it's influence now extends over half of China. It's army of approximately 800,000 men under General Chiang Kai-shek is correctly called the "Nationalist" army, but in the news dispatches is at present battling with Chang tso-lin and his allies, whose forces number around 900,000, for the rich Yangtze valley, the industrial, commercial and agricultural region midway between Canton, from which the Nationalists started their drive in 1926 and Peking, the capital of the opposing Northern forces.

This was drawn out of a report prepared by a committee of Chinese Students in New York.

The Nationalist Party (Kuomintang) is the only party in China which is grouped together in support of a set of principles, a platform. Other parties have held together solely by allegiance to a military leader.

Fight for Principles

"International equality, political equality and economic equality" these are the principles for which the Nationalists are fighting. Popularly heralded as the "Three Peoples' Principles" of Sun Yat Sen they have formed the basis for all the reforms undertaken by the Nationalists in South China.

In seeking "International Equality" the Nationalists are striving to regain those of China's sovereign rights which she has lost under the unequal treaties, that China may take her rightful place as an sovereign nation among the other nations of the world, an equal among equals.

The Nationalists also favor "Political Equality" and throughout the territory which they control they have established the direct election of government officials and have granted the franchise to both men and women on a popular basis.

A direct tax on land, the development of natural resources by the government and governmental ownership of public utilities—these are the chief reforms which D. Sun includes under the third principle, "Economic Equality."

While decidedly anxious to better the conditions of the laboring class, the Nationalist Party is far from the epithet "Red" so often applied to it. The labor movement is entirely divorced from the political movement; it is utterly alien to the "Three Peoples' principles."

Above all Kuomintang is anxious to raise the standard of living of the masses of Chinese toilers. This is a matter of immense importance to the West as well, for as China becomes the "dictatorship of the proletariat" it is utterly alien to the "Three Peoples' principles."

There will be a triangular debate between the men's teams of the University of Oregon, the University of Idaho, March 31. All members of the Idaho squad will be eligible for the team.

FRATS PLAN JOINT INITIATE DANCE

Committees for an inter-fraternity initiate dance were appointed Monday night at a meeting of Greek letter representatives at the Sigma Chi house.

George Hubert was elected dance chairman. The other committees are: music, Ray Hatfield and Burton Stewart; decorations, Ed Springer, Jim Hawkins, and Bob Mitchell; programs, Henry Martin, Frank Kelson, Percy Wilcox; finance, Jack Parker, Phil Duffy, John Glase; social, Max Landon, Jack Sheehan, Frank Lout; calendar, Dean Newhouse and Con Gillespie.

COLEMAN PICKS MILES ON TEAM

Idaho Forward Named on Thrd All-Coast Selection

Johnny Miles, star Idaho forward, has added another all-Pacific coast selection to his 1927 string. Ralph Coleman, Pacific coast conference official, who saw every conference basketball team in action this season, is the third northeastern authority to name the Idaho star.

"Miles of Idaho was undoubtedly one of the outstanding players of the season," Mr. Coleman said. "He was the star of the Idaho team for the last three years. He made a good running mate for Schuss, Washington, whom I have named for the other forward position."

Okerberg, Oregon, center; Westergren, Oregon and Grapp, O. A. C. guards, are the other members of the quintet.

IDAHO DEBATERS DEFEAT REDLAND

Tenn Has Non-decision Debate With U. S. C.; Meets Nevada Today

Idaho defeated Redlands university in the debate Saturday, March 6, according to word received by Davidson, coach Monday night. Idaho upheld the affirmative of the question, resolved; that the prohibition amendment should be modified to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

The debate with the University of Southern California on the same question Wednesday was a non-decision affair.

That democracy is a failure is the question which Idaho and the University of Nevada will debate Tuesday.

WOMEN ARE BARRED FROM SCHOOL AFLOAT

NEW YORK (IP)—Women will be barred from participation in the second annual college cruise around the world, it has been announced here by the University Travel Association. The main reasons for the decision are that there have been too many courtships on the trip taken this year, and that foreign countries used to co-education attribute a wrong attitude to the floating university. It is thought that this cruise may be followed by one for girls only.

NOTED ACTRESS TO READ DRAMA HERE

Sarah Truax Albert Will Give "The Silver Cord" Tuesday, March 15

Sarah Truax Albert an actress and reader of national fame will make her third appearance on the university campus, Tuesday evening, March 15, when she will read "The Silver Cord" by Sidney Howard, according to announcement made by the English club Monday.

Mrs. Albert had a distinguished career, before retiring from the stage and marrying Major Albert of the general legal staff of the Great Northern Railway company.

"The Silver Cord", to be given Tuesday night in the auditorium at 8 o'clock, is one of the most current successes of New York where it has aroused much discussion. The program which she will give in the assembly Wednesday is not yet determined. Sarah Truax, as a young girl, played in an all-star revival of the drama, "My Son, My Son", which has been supporting William Faversham on tour in Footloose.

While she was living in Spokane several years ago, she directed many of the Drama League plays with such persons as Stoddard King and George Greenwood. She is returning to Spokane for a series of readings for three weeks and will come down here for two days.

English club members who have paid their dues will be admitted free to the dramatic recital. There will be no reserve seats.

In the last two years, while her daughter was attending school in the east, she has gone back to the stage. She had the lead in New York in the drama, "My Son, My Son", which has been supporting William Faversham on tour in Footloose.

DEBATE TRYOUTS THIS AFTERNOON

Question to Be Argued Deals With Failure of Political Democracy

"Resolved that political democracy is a failure," will be the question to be used for the tryouts for the men's varsity debate squad this afternoon, at 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

The successful contestants will be members of the squad for the second semester. The old members of last semester's squad will not be required to tryout again.

There will be a triangular debate between the men's teams of the University of Oregon, the University of Idaho, March 31. All members of the Idaho squad will be eligible for the team.

Annual Spring Hoop Tournney Opens Here Thursday Afternoon

Boise, Buhl, Pocatello, Midway, and Salmon Will Right to Represent Districts of South Idaho

Eight of the best high school basketball teams in the state will gather here for a three-day tournament beginning Thursday to determine the state championship. District tournaments have been held in various parts of the state to pick the district champion team to come to Moscow, in the state meet.

Among the visiting teams will be Sandpoint, representing the Panhandle; the Lewiston team, champions of the North Idaho district; Boise, from the southern section; Buhl from south central; Pocatello, winners of the southeastern tournament; Salmon from central Idaho; and Midway in the eastern tournament. Moscow will also play in the state tournament by virtue of being the home team.

Each team comes to Moscow as the victor from its district. Not having engaged in inter-district competition it is difficult to compare the teams in an effort to determine the possible state champions, but by judges of teams and of the different types of ball played, it is thought that Pocatello and Boise are the strongest contenders. Sandpoint will put up a hard fight, and Lewiston and Buhl are well worthy to represent their districts.

Sandpoint won the Panhandle championship by defeating Bonners Ferry 15-14 in a furious and erratic game. The list of Sandpoint's victims, with the scores, includes Kellogg, 28-13; St. Maries, 35-26; Spirit Lake, 30-16; Bonner's Ferry, 15-14; and Coeur d'Alene 25-20. Sandpoint suffered one defeat at the hands of Coeur d'Alene earlier in the tournament 9-8.

The Capital City Braves trounced the Caldwell quintet Saturday night in the final game of the southwest tournament played at the "Y" in Boise.

The process of double elimination will be used in the state tourney. Thus a team suffering two defeats will be eliminated from further competition.

The athletic department of the university has purchased awards for the

PLACE BLANKS ON BULLETIN BOARD

Editors Urge Juniors and Seniors to Sign Activity Cards

Activity blanks for juniors and seniors, to be filled out for the Gem of the Mountains, have been tacked on the bulletin board in the Ad building, according to Leland Chapman, editor.

Activity blanks were sent to the group houses on the campus about a week ago, but the number of blanks filled out and placed in the Gem of the Mountains box, by the bulletin board in the Ad building, is not as great as anticipated, according to the editor.

"In that the staff is commencing to mount the pictures for the junior and senior sections this week, we urge that the upper-classmen take immediate action and get these blanks filled out," said Mr. Chapman.

There are several juniors and seniors who have thus far neglected to have their pictures taken for the Idaho year book, and for the benefit of those students, and with the hope of getting a one hundred per cent representation in the Gem of the Mountains for this year, upper-classmen may yet make arrangements for sittings with the photographers, according to George Young, associate editor. Underclassmen are also urged to have their pictures taken within the next few days.

VISITORS COMING

TUESDAY night the first contingent of high school basketball players and coaches will be on the campus, guests of the A. S. U. I. They will be here to compete for the state championship in basketball and will stay, most of them, until at least Sunday.

It will be the first time that many of these boys have ever been on a campus, although undoubtedly most of them have fairly definite ideas on what they will find when they get here.

But whatever they think every Idahoan should make it a personal matter that every one of these boys and their coaches are made to believe that Idaho really is glad to see them. They are the students of tomorrow and they represent the cream of high school basketball talent in the state.

SPIES

PROponents of an honor system have pointed to the fact that some professors leave the classrooms during an examination, virtually creating the honor system in the courses involved. Theoretically this is a beautiful practice but practically it has run afoul some snags. It just won't work.

There are, those, a majority, it is hoped, who would no more look at a pony or a prepared set of answers than they would do lots of other things. Then there are those who will, by some ingenious method, contrive to have the examination answers before them and all that is then required is to check the answers with the problems in the quiz and copy them into their blue books. Honor system or no, these students will not be deterred.

It is only fair to honest students that the instructor stay in the room; and keep a strict watch over the class while he is there. Any honest student will back up this assertion. They are putting nothing on the blue book but what the question suggests to them.

It is disheartening indeed to those who have prepared their lessons and have written into their papers only their own material, to be graded "C" when the other student, the one who cheats, ends the course with an "A". Grades, of course, mean nothing. It is the derivation from study that counts. But when everything scholastically is based definitely upon grades they must be given consideration.

AMERICAN IDEALS

WASHINGTON! Lincoln! Roosevelt! These are names which set the breaths of youth afire. They are criterions of fitness, bravery, all that is truly American. The small chap getting his first peep into the history of the land creeps through the forests with Washington's shivers with him at Valley Forge. And his mouth is open with hero worship. He reads with Lincoln before fireplaces, worships him when he pats an aged mother on the head and tells her her son has died in a glorious cause. He charges up San Juan Hill with Teddy Roosevelt and his Rough Riders, thrilling with the embryonic spirit of the adventure of pre-adolescent childhood. He treks across African plains with him, cuts his way through jungles in search of big game.

The boy is America in the making. The blind worship of youth has elevated these men to the pedestal of mythology, until today it is almost inconceivable that Washington or Lincoln were men of flesh and blood. They were heroes in a history that in most instances is mythology.

Generations have set up this machinery. And these men are looked upon as those whose lives represent American ideals. Isn't it possible that custom may be wrong in this case? Wonder if American character should be judged not by its Washingtons and its Lincolns but rather by those men who illustrate the fundamental traits of the people. Benjamin Caseres, writing in American Mercury, has compiled a list of men who have contributed to these traits. The following might be used to illustrate the point.

Love of Humbug—P. T. Barnum.
Love of Romantic Lawlessness—Jesse James.
Passion for Righteousness—William Jennings Bryan.
Love of Pragmatic Culture—Dr. Frank Crane.
The camp-meeting complex—Billy Sunday.
Divinization of Home and Mother—Edgar A. Guest.
Mask of Idealism—Woodrow Wilson.

BRAINS AND DRUNKENNESS

A CERTAIN Doctor has made an epoch-making discovery. After examination of 6,000 human brains he has announced that by examination of the brain he can tell whether or not a man was drunk when he died. Doctor Gettler claims that his discovery will be of tremendous aid in many criminal cases although it does seem rather unfair to extume the weaknesses of the dear departed.

The only difficulty is that no one has as yet decided how to find out if a man is drunk while alive. Authorities disagree. One school avers that a gentleman is never drunk while he can lie on the floor without holding on to the carpet. A committee of the British Medical Association has gone into the question thoroughly, and has returned with the following rather foggy result:

"The word drunk should always be taken to mean that the person concerned is so much under the influence of alcohol as to have lost control of his faculties to such an extent as to render him unable to execute safely the occupation in which he is engaged at the material time.

This hardly settles it. It is quite possible that a man might be engaged at the material time in the occupation of lying upon the floor, which the most inebriate can execute safely. In many cases the only solution of the perennial controversy may be to kill the suspect and to deliver his brain to Doctor Gettler.—Harvard Crimson.

HARD LUCK FOLLOWS IN STEPS OF ATHLETE

California Star Has Broken Leg, Arm, and Pulled Tendon

BERKELEY—Hard luck dogs "Breck" Marcus, University of California athlete, closer than a shadow. A broken arm cut short a promising gridiron career in 1925; last fall in mid-season he reeled off seventeen yards on his first play against Southern California—and broke his leg when tackled.

A few days ago, while practicing broad jumps, he pulled a tendon. Coach Walt Christie hopes to bring him back into shape within two weeks.

SCOTCH SINGER HITS AMERICAN STUDENTS

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (IP)—"The American college student is allowed too much rope," declared Sir Harry Lauder, Scotch Comedian, in an interview here with a Pitt Weekly reporter. "It would be far better," he said, "if the students walked to their classes every morning instead of riding to their schools in motor cars."

TO A SAGE-BRUSH MOCKING BIRD

Little, gray bird of the lonesome plain,
Cherilly singing thy song so free,
Swelling thy throat again and again,
With the volume of thy melody,
Carest thou not for an ear to hear,
Singing for love of thy desert home,
Telling the wild things far and near,
That spring has come?

Little, gray bird of the sage-brush land,
Lovest thou not the trees and flowers,
Where the Goddess of Spring with her magic wand
Strews the day with golden hours,
Hiding away in the lava bare,
Seeking a home in the desert drear,
Art-trying to tell the wild things there
That God is near?

Little, gray bird of the barren wild,
Spirit thou of a race that's gone,
Art singing the wrongs of natures Child
That has faded away in the great far-gone;
Oh, sweetest sonnet of yesterday,
Art, sweetest sonnet of all thy kind,
And is it the message that thou wouldst say,
Justice is blind?

ceeds in bringing laboring conditions somewhere near the level attained in the West.

Bolsheviks Dominate
"Bolsheviks Dominate the Cantonese"—such is the charge on the Nationalist's enemies, both in North China and among the foreigners. It is only after their disappointment at the Peace Conference's handling of the Shantung question and the non-ratification of the Washington Agreements and after the refusal of Westerners to accept the proffered posts that the "Cantonese" (Nationalists), accepted the services of Russian advisors.

Sun Yat Sen too, was a great admirer of some features of the Russian framework of government, such as: for instance, the use of a central executive committee in place of a single executive. Consequently Kuomintang is organized much along Russian lines.

Certainly, however, anyone not willfully blind can recognize the difference between "advisers and governmental framework" and "principles and policies." Certainly no one acquainted with the facts could call the "Three Peoples' Principles" Bolshevistic.

When student demonstrations compelled the treacherous Peking Government of 1919 to refuse to sign the Versailles Treaty, and when students elsewhere in the country began to take an active part in China's attempt to reestablish sovereignty. Kuomintang Nationalist leaders began to devote more and more energy to rallying student support.

Today students are busy addressing hundreds of meetings, editing and managing publications, organizing new branches of the party, educating the masses in the fundamentals of self-government, directing women's responsibility for the propaganda of movements, preaching various social reforms—shouldering, in fact, the Nationalist Party.

The Lamplighter

GOOD old Leerie, the lamplighter, worked cheerfully to make the streets bright. And the lamps sputtered a friendly glow into the darkness.

The citizens of the country have taken Leerie's job. They are the lamplighters of today, and they spend 3 1/2 cents of each tax dollar that their streets may be bright.

Good street lighting means more flourishing business sections, safe traffic, convenience, and protection.

Leerie, the faithful, has gone—but streets still need lighting. And in whatever communities college men and women elect to live, they should take a lively interest in civic improvements—including street lighting.

Dinner guests of Alpha Phi Beta Thursday evening were Bob Lamelle,

DRAMATIC CLASS TO PRESENT PLAYS

Three farces and medieval play will be given March 17 and 18.

"Fisherman's Luck," "Apartments to Let," and "The World Made Flesh" are four one-act plays which will be given by the play production classes Thursday and Friday evenings, March 17 and 18, in the auditorium.

The first three plays are rollicking farces and the fourth is a serious play with a medieval setting. The casts will be announced later.

This is the fourth series of plays given by the elementary dramatic classes.

THE COFFEE HOUSE

By Edwin Rule

The rollable machine which has been worked by an unreliable machine"—K. G. C.

Mind is the most wonderful machine ever put into the hands of an unskilled mechanic—Chenoweth.

Buried treasure. The old be-patched, be-knived, be-sabered, cursed, drunken, reckless, sodden, murdering, God-denying, man-defying gentlemen of Spanish Main were dabbling in zeros while hoarding their pieces of eight.

In the libraries of our modern university world is treasure beyond calculation, the "canned up" mental products of the ages. But the public has the key to the treasure chest; and not only does it possess the key, but the public has within its power to add to the volumes of golden treasury. Harvard has probably the best library in the country. It is the very soul of Harvard, housing the manuscripts which cannot be duplicated, and wearing the benediction of two hundred and ninety-three years of service inaugurated by its donor, John Harvard.

Let us our own library is of honor and quality. It is not the solution of the University's actual and growing needs. This is no criticism of the administration, nor of those who have planned our budget as generously and wisely as possible. But the problem remains. Every year students of history, of English, and of scientific French are taxed for the purchase of books which, on the termination of the year's work, are given over to the library. Instructors are often severely hampered in their work by the absence of essential volumes, and the departments are perpetually filing cards of application for this book and that.

The above is a condition in our expanding institution the remedy for which is comparatively simple, expeditious, fair to all parties concerned, and educationally and economically sound. This column's proposal is: A registration fee of five dollars per annum shall be assessed every full-time, resident student of the University; such monies resulting shall be apportioned the various departments on the basis of their numerical enrollment; all books purchased by the several departments shall become the property of the University of Idaho library.

Roughly, that is the plan. One may see at a glance that the remedy is simple—the fee would be collected during the regular registration routine. The remedy is expeditious—the solution lies within ourselves, and need not await outside approval. The remedy is fair to all parties concerned—the department having the largest registration would merit and would receive the greatest allotment of funds. The remedy is educationally sound—the greater the resource for educational purposes, the greater the potential production. The shrewdest use of one talent cannot equal the correspondingly shrewd use of the talents, or three; so the platitude runs. The remedy is economically sound—1st, because the fee would sound into a respectable sum of money without over burdening the individual; and 2nd, because the assessment would represent an investment in value.

Believe it or not, there are still those archaic souls whose sense of value has not suffered distortion. There are still those among our students who maintain that a university should be an educational institution. Such will approve the plan suggested. There are still those who would give five dollars a year to the betterment of a worthy library and not deem the fee disproportionately high in contrast with the A. S. U. I. fee of seven-tenths a year for our eight-seeking athletes. See America first. Join the football squad. In this particular column we are not knocking our athletic system, we might like to, but we are trying to balance the scales more nearly by introducing a plan which bears the earmarks of being a just one.

Logically, one cannot oppose this plan unless he also opposes the A. S. U. I. fee. That would be a heresy, but it would be logical. One might oppose the athletic fee and approve the Library fee. That, also, would merit burning at the stake of our "red-blooded" campus wrath, but it would be in harmony with the educational ideal.

The Coffee House will publish what the winds say. Address your commendation or condemnation regarding the plan to the Coffee House editor.

Cornell has opened a new art gallery as a permanent feature of the campus.

FOR THOSE WHO CARE—THE IDAHO BARBER SHOP. Adv.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., (IP)—A proposed five dollar limit on all-university social functions was unanimously voted down by the All-University Council of the U. of Minnesota here. In a written report the council gave the following reasons for disapproval of the plan:

1. It is impossible to produce at this cost a social function such as the student body wants and will support.
2. With the limit we would be unable to accommodate the increased number who would wish to attend.
3. The limiting of the cost of these functions might give rise to new social factors which we believe would be vitally detrimental to the institution.
4. There are enough low-priced parties to furnish adequate social life for students generally.

VANDALS LOSE MAT CONTEST TO W. S. C.

Boardman Scores Idaho's Only Decision in Wrestling Match

The Idaho wrestling team was defeated by Washington State college 24-15 at the university gym Saturday afternoon. The lone decision of Boardman, Idaho featherweight, over his opponent gave the Vandals their only score. The light heavyweight match was forfeited to W. S. C., Idaho not having a representative in that class.

In the first match of the meet, Bennie Brown won two decisions over Prince, W. S. C. As this was an exhibition bout the victory had no bearing on the score. Bennie had his man in trouble the whole time but lack of time prevented him from winning a fall.

The second event was the most closely fought and was the feature match of the meet. After losing the first round to Pollock, Tommy Boardman came back hard and won the decision in the second seven minute period. The third stanza being a draw, the mat in two extra three minute periods. Boardman sustained an injury in the third regular period and was not able to work in his usual form, losing the two extra periods by decisions.

In the 148-pound class August Miller, representing Idaho, was defeated by two decisions. The second decision for Clark, W. S. C., was unfavorable with this until officials explained the justice in giving the Cougar representative the nod. Miller put up a fine showing in the second period but was unable to put a telling hold upon his more wiry opponent.

The second event in the 148-pound class resulted in two draws and one decision for W. S. C. Patchen was cautious in his tactics. With the exception of two minutes in the second round they were not on the mat for the first two periods. The men were evenly matched and realized that a little slip on the part of either one might decide the match. At the opening of the third and last round between the two they were less careful and went to the mat almost immediately, with the W. S. C. man having the advantage. Patchen strove to the best of his ability but the decision was awarded to W. S. C.

The only fall to the afternoon was credited to Crov, middle weight of Idaho, in the third period of his exhibition match with Menzies. Although outweighed 10 pounds the Idaho man proved to be a good match for his more experienced adversary. The first period was a draw with the second going to W. S. C. by a decision.

IDAHO FROSH WIN FROM LEWISTON H.S.

Vandal Babes Defeat Opponents by 63 to 18 Score

The Idaho, freshman squad, completely outclassed and outgeneraled the less experienced Lewiston high school quintet, champions of their district and contenders for the state championship, for a one-sided victory 63 to 18 Friday afternoon. With the exception of the first quarter very little opposition was shown to the Vandal babes.

MacMillan, Utt and Thornhill began an orgy of scoring in the second quarter bringing the Idaho score to 27 while the high school lads were unable to account for more than 7 points. At the outset of the second half Thornhill and Newman were replaced by Christians and Barrett, who proved to work as well in the scoring machine as the other couple. The last two quarters were a repetition of the second.

Old Campus "Wrecks" Are Gone, Roadsters and Coupes Instead

What has happened to the once-collegiate cars. The automatic heap of junk and balling wire of the Rolls-Royce variety which were so popular on the campus in the past, are to be seen no more. Instead long-lined, speedy roadsters and even a few smart new coupes are very much in evidence. The old campus wrecks have evidently coughed their last, and perhaps died gracefully.

FORMER HOOP STARS WILL BE OFFICIALS

Harold Telford and Joe Thomas to Officiate at Tournament

Harold Telford, Coeur d'Alene and Joe Thomas, Moscow, will officiate at the district intercollegiate basketball tournament, which will open here Thursday afternoon. It has been announced by David MacMillan, director of physical education.

Both Mr. Telford and Mr. Thomas are well qualified to handle the tournament, said Coach MacMillan. Telford, who was a member of the coast championship Idaho hoop team of 1923, has been playing amateur and semi-professional ball since he was graduated from university. He officiated in the district tournament at Sandpoint.

KNIGHTS INITIATE ELEVEN PLEDGES

Ceremony Sunday Afternoon Followed by Banquet At Bucket

Eleven men were initiated into the local Ball and Chain chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights Sunday, according to LeRoy Long, honorable duke. A banquet was given at the Blue Bucket in the evening following the initiation.

Newly initiated members are: Fred Auger, Phi Gamma Delta; Robert St. John, Phi Delta Theta; Tom Ashby, Beta Beta Beta; Henry Martin, Sigma Phi Rho; Leslie Vance, Tau Kappa Iota; Bill Stevens, Beta Chi; Edward Springer, Alpha Tau Omega; Vaughn Jorns and Dan McGrath, Sigma Chi; Bob Tillotson, Delta Chi; and Edward Coons, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Following the initiation, the newly initiates were guests of the members at the banquet at the Blue Bucket. Harold H. Cornellison, one of the charter members of the local chapter, spoke on the history and rounding of the chapter. Honorable Duke Julio, of the Washington State chapter, and Mr. Newman, also of Washington State college, were speakers on the program.

IMPOSE OWN PENALTIES

LAWRENCE, Kansas, (IP)—A group of women at the University of Kansas have voluntarily imposed penalties on themselves for attending a dance later than the university rules allowed. They will remain on the campus for three consecutive week ends.

MAY CONSTRUCT TENNIS COURTS

Students and Others May Finance Project, Says Mix

Six cement tennis courts may be built this spring on the campus according to Gale Mix, athletic manager. He said that the students were willing to contribute their share of the money and that the decision was now resting with L. F. Parsons, executive secretary, as to whether or not the project could be put under way.

The courts, each of which would cost approximately $1,200, if constructed, will be on the present site of the sand courts in front of Ridge High hall. The proposition was thought of last year, but the possibility of constructing an outdoor amphitheatre on that location temporarily blocked the plans.

IDAHO PSYCHOLOGIST GIVES VIEW ON SUICIDE WAVE

difference in increased proportionate number of suicidal deaths among college students.

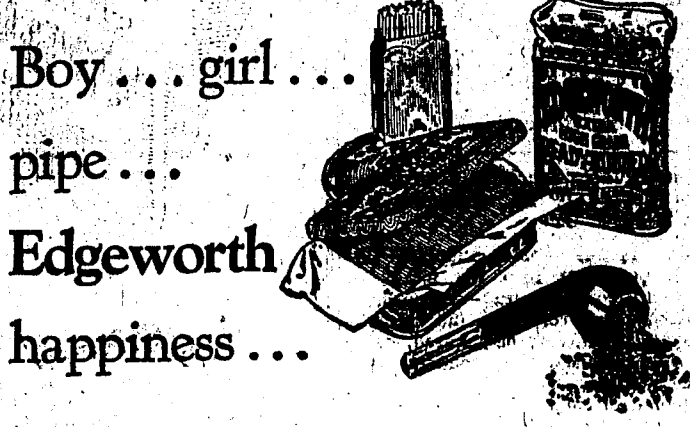

But there is a more important condition that might be operative in producing increased suicidal tendencies generally for all classes, college and otherwise. This is the one of suppressions in the individual, brought on by obstructions that are social and economic, and that operate most during the ages of late youth and early maturity—just when the young person is beginning to shift for himself. Suppression always implies a struggle to escape the conflict producing it.

"The family has almost ceased being an institution for the guidance of the child in sex, economic, social and religious adjustments. The child is left to develop many types of sex irregularities and even perversions; his economic needs are supplied out of the family income without his knowing why or how, and his social and religious adjustments have been let take the path of least resistance consistent with free expression.

"As the college student reaches the period of maturity he has been thwarted on every hand by obstruction standards in expressions of sex, economics, social and religious conduct. His early life is not in keeping with the tried and well established measures of worth in social adjustment. If the individual is one that happens, by nativity, to be a little lacking in mental stability, of course he will not be able to make the adjustments for the inevitable tendencies of expression established while his indulgent and neglectful parents slept or otherwise engaged themselves.

The conflicts that come between the adjustments of the unguided child and the rigorous standards of society generally, are overcome adequately only by the best of human kind and then not without severe struggle. The poorer ones seek an outlet, in some instances possibly, by the method of suicide. The student at college is confronted with the stern demands of social standards, and some can not face them. He struggles to escape this conflict, and in so doing hits upon self destruction and thus avoids meeting the issue squarely. This and many other compensatory activities are resorted to, such as stealing, spying, nervousness, functional paralysis, hysteria and many other forms of escape from reality. Suicide is only one of many such inadequate outlets for such conflicts.

If there is an increase in proportionate deaths by suicide among college students it is probably due first to neglected direction during childhood and early youth; second, to increased proportionate suppressions in college of the more unstable mentalities; third, the coming into contact of the neglected youth with the stern realities of living as shown by college teaching and college life, thus being thwarted in numerous directions; fourth, suppressions of early tendencies to respond and the adoption of a substituted outlet for natural but unacceptable expression. In some cases the substituted outlet is suicide.

OLD GOLD

IT'S THE SMOOTHEST CIGARETTE

"I got up with a throat that felt like a 'hang-over'... 'No more of these sand-paper smokes for me,' I resolved. So I took up OLD GOLDS. Now I can smoke from breakfast to bedtime, without a cough, a throat-scratch or a tongue-bite."

Careful preparation ensures complete detonation

"FOR want of a nail the shoe was lost; for want of a shoe the horse was lost; and for want of a horse the rider was lost."

Production of materials, efficient work, progress and prevention of accidents are dependent upon the reliability of such an agent as a blasting cap.

Yet the actual cost of reliable blasting accessories is relatively so trifling that it is obviously wasteful to compromise with anything less than the accessories made by du Pont, thoroughly dependable for three very logical reasons:

FIRST: The products of 125 years of explosives experience.

SECOND: Made in the most complete explosives plants in the world; rigidly inspected at every step, and their performance practically observed in the field.

THIRD: The increasing demand for du Pont Blasting Accessories.

Students and instructors of many of the leading technical institutions are making extensive use in class rooms of "The Blasters' Handbook." Copiously illustrated and splendidly arranged for study and quick reference. Ask for a free copy!
