TAYLOR STARS IN INITIAL SHOWING OF TWELFTH NIGHT

Remarkable Characterization of Sir Toby Belch, by John Taylor Featured

CAST IS OUTSTANDING

Modernized Shakespeare's Comedy Pleases Large Audience

A remarkable characterization of the Falstaffian rogue Sir Toby Belch by John Taylor, supported by a competent group of student actors, marked the opening Junior week performance Wednesday evening of a brightly colored, modernized version of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," given by the A. S. U. I. as the 1927 all-college play under the direction of John H. Cushman.

Mr. Taylor in a skillful and convincing make-up played superbly a difficult Shakespearean role, giving to the performance gusto and a salty flavor which carried it along in waves of hilarity. The high comedy part of Malvolvo, also a difficult characterization, was equally well done by Beardslee Merrill, as Malvolvo, while Beulah Brown as the boy-girl Viola played a charming heroine.

Hubbard Pleases

Maitland Hubbard, appearing for the first time in an all-college dramatic production, played a rollicking clown and sang delightfully the famous "Twelfth Night" songs. The foolish knight, Sir Andrew Anon, was well done by Robert St. Clair. Cameron as King as Orsino, Duke of Illyria, in make-up and interpretation gave a romantic touch to the cakes-and-ale comedy.

Lots Russell played a stately Olivia, and Alene Honeywell a vivacious Maria. Other parts were taken by Robert Brown as Sebastian, Arthur Ernest as Antonio, Dean Newhouse as Curio, Burdette Belknap as a priest and captain, Clair Gale as a priest and James Dunn as an officer of the Duke.

The modernized version, done by Talbot Jennings, is a two hour performance arranged in eight scenes. The plot is made compact and develops leisurely from a romantic beginning into spirited comedy which increases in speed and vigor until the final curtain. The translation makes intelligible obsolete Elizabethan expressions and at the same time preserves an authentic Shakespearean flavor.

Attractive Settings

Attractive settings designed and arranged by Theodore Pritchard of the department of architecture, Dorothy Darling and Ann Donson, include a prologue study in red and blue, and a palace scene in blue, maroon and gold, and a cellar and a garden built on different levels giving opportunity for effective grouping. Rich medieval costumes, introduced by Mrs. J. N. Nankervis completed a series of gorgeous fifteenth century scenes.

Make-ups were done by Cameron King, Beardslee Merrill and O. S. E. H. Stagebury.

The university orchestra under the direction of Mr. Carl Claus played the overture and entr'acte music, while the songs were arranged and directed by Miss Jennie Johnson and Miss Maudie Barnett. Lighting was done by Roy Patchen, painting by Harry Brown, hangings by C. W. Walton, construction by G. G. Hallam, business management by Clair Gale in co-operation with George Horton, graduate manager.

CAMPUS DAY DATE SET FOR MAY 12

Plans Will Go Ahead Under Supervision of George Austin

Campus Day has been set tentatively for May 12, it was announced at the regular meeting of the executive board Tuesday night. Under a constitutional provision, George Austin, as vice president of the student body, is in charge of arrangements.

Although no definite plans have been announced, it probably will be observed as it has in past years, with the campus cleanup occupying the morning and the May festival occupying the afternoon.

According to an old tradition at Idaho, every Idahoan, students and faculty alike, are assigned work with different projects, to clean up the campus. Enforcement of attendance at work projects generally is in the hands of the "V" club.

Date for the annual stafffest has not been set, although May 13 or 14 have been mentioned. Action on the petition probably will be taken by the calendar committee at its regular meeting Monday afternoon.

SCHOOLS ESTABLISH RADIO NEWS SERVICE

Stanford University, Calif.—(IP)—The Stanford Daily and the Daily Californian have established an exchange news service by radio. Important news events on each campus, are printed in the paper of the other university on the day they happen. Miss Agnes Bowen, Gamma Phi Beta, has details of the trip, and interested persons have been asked to get in touch with her.

FEW CONTESTS SEEN ON THE TICKET FOR STUDENT ELECTION

Frank Click is Lone Candidate for A. S. U. I. Presidency

ELECTION IS MAY 5

Few Posts Have More Than One Candidate in Field

As there was only one candidate nominated for each office for the general election, May 5, it was decided that no primary election was necessary, and the candidates will be voted upon directly in the general election.

Frank Click, a junior man on the executive board of the A.S.U.I., heads the ticket as the nominee for student body president, to succeed Harry C. Baughman. Fisher Ellsworth has been named to succeed George M. Austin as vice president of the student body.

Few contests loom for the election. Two candidates, Neil Jones and Cecil Hagen, have been named for managing editorship of The Argonaut. Three candidates, Smith Miller, George McDonald, and Allen Janssen, have been named for the associate editorship of the Gem of the Mountains and two candidates, Smith Miller and Maryvina Goldsmith, have been named for associate editorship of the Blue Bucket. It is understood that Miller has withdrawn from candidacy for the associate editorship of the Gem of the Mountains.

Other candidates named are: Executive board—Lurtha Cline, George Paulson and Lucille Eaton, senators; Rod Ross, Aldon Tall and Al-Wilda Langdon, juniors. May Queen—Josephine Keane. Maid of Honor—Norma Geddes. Page—Margaret Hagen. Yell King—Edwin Siggins, Horace Porter, and Richard King. Assistant manager of Dramatics—Arthur English, Patrick Walker and Burdette Belknap.

JUNIORS HILARIOUS IN ANNUAL FETE

Prom Tonight Will be one of Social Sensations of Season

All is in readiness for the Junior prom to take place this evening at the Elks Club ball room, according to George Yost, president of the Junior class. The prom which promises to be one of the outstanding social functions of the year will climax the series of activities scheduled for Junior week. Phil Cox, chairman of the prom committee, refused to detail the nature of the much-talked-of decorations planned by Professor Stueberg, of the agricultural department. Music will be furnished by an eight piece orchestra from Spokane.

The cabaret, to be given Saturday night at the Blue Bucket, will be the final event of the week, and according to Glenn Silverthorne, committee chairman, reservations have all been given out for the dance. Feature dances will furnish special entertainment; serenade horns, paper hats, will be passed out, the aid in making the last social one of the most outstanding.

Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock, the junior parade led by George Yost on a monstrous mule, followed by the junior band, floats and take-offs, started the fire-works for the day which ended with the class party at the Blue Bucket. The party was one of the most lively socials given by the Juniors throughout the year. Feature dancing, songs, and stunts, constituted a peppy program prepared by the entertainment committee.

The Junior serenade, originally scheduled to take place Tuesday night, was given after the party. The serenade was furnished by Beardslee Merrill's orchestra, and group songs were rendered by the Junior boys.

Seventy-two entries have been received in the all-university tennis tournament being sponsored by the Daily at the University of Washington.

NAME OF PAGEANT COMES FROM INDIAN WORD ED-DAH-HOW

Historians Explain Meaning As "The Light On The Mountains"

SHOSHONI SAYING

Production to Be Given in June to Dramatize Early Meaning

Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles on the historical background of the name of the pageant, "The Light on the Mountains", to be given this spring. The articles are written by

GEORGE YOUNG

"The Light on the Mountains", the title of the pageant written by Talbot Jennings to be presented on the University of Idaho campus this spring, is a literal translation of the Shoshoni Indian word "Ed-dah-how". John E. Rees, historian, who spent fifteen years as a fur trader in the western territory inhabited by Shoshoni Indians in Idaho a complete analysis of the word "Ed-dah-how", including its possible applications.

"Edah" is the English etymologist's derivation of the Indian word "Ed-dah-how", and is usually explained as carrying the meaning, "the light on the mountains" or the "Gem of the Mountains", according to John Rees in his historical discussion. The syllable "ed" conveys the idea of "coming down", the syllable "dah" means to the Indian both sun and mountain, the syllable "how" denotes an exclamation. Translated literally into English, Rees gives as one of its meanings, "Behold! the sun coming down the mountain."

Those who have been for any length of time in the mountainous regions have undoubtedly watched the early-morning shadows of the valleys rapidly give way to the great stream of sunlight coming down the mountain sides as the sun rises in the opposite direction. The beauty of such a scene tends to evoke an exclamation even from the most unresponsive sort. Sunlight coming down the mountain sides is a scene looked upon daily by the Shoshoni Indian, and has come to mean many things to him. Sun up is the beginning of another day, and is symbolic of a perpetual renewal of a natural phenomena—"for the sun has returned to replenish all things."

Excerpts of Rees' article says, "In the imagination this sunlight on the mountain side can be interpreted to mean 'sunshine mountain', 'shiny mountain' or 'the light on the mountain' can also represent the 'gladness on the mountain', or a brilliant display of sunlight upon a snow-capped mountain."

BOARD UPHELD IN ARGONAUT ACTION

Watson Humphrey Will Not Be Allowed to Run for Editorship

The action of The Argonaut board in refusing to nominate Watson Humphrey as one of the candidates for managing editorship of the paper, was upheld unofficially by the executive board of the student body Tuesday night when the bitter fight to place him was carried before that body.

The vote of the executive board followed the presentation of a mass of evidence by Mr. Humphrey and a half dozen witnesses and the reiteration by the chairman of the Argonaut board of the charge that Humphrey had not served a year creditably on the staff of the paper. The Argonaut board based its stand on the statement of Humphrey that he had not attempted to cooperate with the staff to the degree that he deserved nomination for the managing editorship.

The case was brought before the executive board following the statement by fraternity brothers of Humphrey that there was a general student demand that Humphrey be nominated. Humphrey's evidence presented at the meeting tended to show that he believed himself capable of handling the job, while the statement of the chairman of The Argonaut board was that while he had served as a reporter creditably, he had now shown himself capable of editing the paper. The ballot of the executive board was secret.

Clever, unusual, and interesting features are being developed to represent the different divisions of home economics work, including clothing, foods, textiles, art, and home nursing.

Although the "open house" is managed by the Juniors, the entire department cooperates in carrying out the arrangements.

The exhibit for this year promises to be the most comprehensive and elaborate demonstration that has been given in this department.

The general public is invited.

COLLEGE STUDENTS OPPOSE U.S. ACTION IN CHINESE WAR

Think Present Trouble Only Outgrowth of Oppression By Foreigners

BLAME YANK PRESS

Disturbance Held to be Good Laboratory, one Editor Says

Oberlin, Ohio—April 14—Although attacking the subject from various angles the student press of the American college does not like the attitude of the Western nations in China.

This, at least, is the impression given by a perusal of the college papers of the country for the past week.

After declaring that the great majority of the foreign trouble in China is a direct outgrowth of her oppression by foreign nations, the University Daily Kansas concludes:

"If the foreign powers wish to be friends to the Chinese, if they are really interested in the Chinese stable government they can do nothing better than recognize and arbitrate with the Cantonese government. By this they will be hastening the day of a united China with a responsible government, and will be winning, instead of losing, the friendship of the Chinese people."

Blame for a wrong attitude toward China is laid by several college editors on the American press. "Yellow journalism" is the way the Syracuse Daily Orange describes it, and goes on to say that it is merely a reproduction of the propaganda which caused the United States to enter unjustly into a war against Spain and later into a war against Germany.

"The disciples of yellow journalism," says the Orange, "have many crimes for which they should be made to answer but none is greater or more disgraceful than that of inducing a people to unnecessary war with another nation."

In the same tone, the Daily Cardinal, of the University of Wisconsin, in an editorial headed "Standard Oil Co-operates with the A.P.," declares that the recent story announcing the killing of 36 Yanks in Nanking, did not originate in the Associated Press offices in China, but in the dispatches to the Standard Oil company from its Chinese representatives.

"Discerning university students," advises the Cardinal, "are fortunate this year in being offered such excellent laboratory demonstrations of how wars are made."

"Can any truth come out of China?" asks the University Daily Kansas in another editorial, and goes on to say, "The Chinese mind is a closed book from a psychological point of view 16 put out exaggerated propaganda, but those who do not see the facts would better watch out that the public does not become 'psyched' out."

In a more humorous vein, the Harvard Crimson is afraid that the sending of American Marines is going to bring "disaster" to our own country. Says the Harvard publication:

"This exportation of marines is becoming a rather serious matter. The making of a good infidel and at least three good battery men. As a result the Quantico Marine Base may not be able to put a nine into the field. As a further result the national game may suffer. The state department should have thought twice before backing up what promised to be a baseball team of parts. If this goes on, even Gene Tunney may be sent to Shanghai or Vera Cruz."

MACMILLAN GOES TO MINNESOTA AS BASKETBALL COACH

Vandal Mentor for Seven Years Will Leave Staff in June

RECORD IS BRILLIANT

Idaho won 112 Games, Lost 24 During Time Here

Coach David MacMillan, for seven years basketball and baseball mentor at the University of Idaho, has been named head basketball coach at the University of Minnesota and will leave the staff here at the close of school in June, it has been announced from the office of President A. H. Upham. A larger salary than could be paid by the university was the reason for his departure.

Coach MacMillan, recognized as one of the foremost, if not the foremost of basketball coaches in the northwest, quick Idaho with a record which includes 112 games won, and 24 lost. The Vandals brought home the titular crown in 1923 and had there been a playoff, they would have been given the formal title for the year preceding that, as they held it by percentage.

In 1921, MacMillan's first year here, the Vandals finished second in the Northwest conference. Idaho was admitted to the Pacific coast conference the following year. The Vandals won the coast championship the year following but were not formally given the title as there was no playoff. In 1923, the Vandals defeated the University of California for the conference championship. In 1924 Idaho finished second in the northern division, behind the University of Washington. In 1925 the Vandals finished third, their lowest ranking under MacMillan's tutelage. In 1926 they tied with O.A.S. for second place, and they tied with Washington for second place in the season just closed.

Coming to Idaho, MacMillan introduced a new style of basketball play in the west. This style MacMillan describes as the "man-to-man game—five-man offense, five-man defense, with a short, hard-riding game." It has been copied widely because under it each player "has his man" and plays the game wherever the man goes. The team always is ready for any strategic move.

MacMillan's loss will be felt keenly by basketball fans here. A successor has not been selected.

IDAHO NINE DROPS TWO TO WHITMAN

First Game Goes to Extra Innings; Lose Second By Big Score

The Vandals lost both games of a two-game series played with Whitman college at Walla Walla last Friday and Saturday. The first game was tied at the end of the regular nine innings 9 to 9 but after playing one extra scoreless inning in gathering darkness the Missionaries managed to shove across the winning run in the eleventh frame to take the game 10 to 9.

Followers checked the first three stanzas and then the parade began. Lawrence, Grabner and Green were on the mound for Idaho at successive stages of the game. Each of them pitched good ball for an inning or two but were unable to keep up the pace long enough to prevent runs. Sullivan caught the whole game.

Saturday's game, a free hitting contest, ended with the Missionaries on the long end of a 10 to 3 score. In the first three innings they took three runs off Stockdale who was relieved in the fourth by Howerton who hurried until the beginning of the sixth. Green took the mound at this time with the score 7-3 and finished the game. Sullivan went the route in the backstop position.

Idaho scored her three runs in the fourth inning but was unable to get a man around the bases after that frame.

CORVALLIS, Ore. (PIP)—Three students who are batching together checked their bills and found that it cost them less than $10 apiece for their board. This doesn't restrict them to the customary prunes and oats but includes a variety. Skillful buying keeps down the bill.

IDAHO CADETS TO STAND INSPECTION NEXT WEDNESDAY

Three Army Officers to Rate R. O. T. C. Unit for Honor Selection

INSPECTION AT 1:15

Class Rooms, Equipment and Facilities Inspected Tuesday Afternoon

Inspection of the Idaho unit of the R. O. T. C. will be held next Wednesday by two officers of the war department and one from the Ninth Corps headquarters, according to word received by the military department of the university.

The inspection will take a day and a half and will be divided into three parts. The officers will arrive in Moscow Tuesday, April 20 and will make a formal call on President A. H. Upham. Following this will be an inspection of the facilities for instruction, assembly rooms, laboratories, arms, and equipment, and the records, programs and schedules. Wednesday morning there will be an inspection of the theoretical instruction. Each section will meet in their regular groups and the methods of instruction will be observed. In the afternoon will be the review and inspection of the practical work of the unit.

Inspection Officers

The three inspection officers are: Major R. M. Darford, Major Charles H. Bonesteel, and Major Edmund C. Waddill. The officers will arrive in the afternoon of April 20, and after the inspection, they will go to Pullman to inspect the unit at the Washington State college.

Major Darford, U. S. field artillery, is an officer on the general staff. During the war he served as a brigadier general. He was awarded the Distinguished Service medal for bravery in action. He was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1904, the General Staff college in 1924, and received his M. A. degree from Yale in 1917.

Major Bonesteel, infantry, is also on the general staff, a graduate of the United States Military academy in 1908, the General Staff college in 1920, and by the infantry advanced course at Fort Belvoir, Ill., in 1924.

Major Waddill, infantry, is a member of the Ninth Corps area staff of the R. O. T. C. He served as colonel during the World War. Major Waddill graduated from the Virginia Military Institute and from the General Staff college in 1926. He holds the Distinguished Service Cross.

Area Rating

Major Waddill will inspect the corps for their rating in the Ninth Corps area. Majors Darford and Bonesteel will rate the unit for the "Blue Star," or distinguished college rating. The unit won this rating last year and the cadets now wear the blue star, signifying the proficiency of the unit last year. The military department is hoping that the cadets will be at their best on the day of inspection so as to gain the distinction again for next year.

The program for the inspection by the war department board is as follows:

2:30 P. M.—A Call on the President of the University.

3:00 P. M.—Inspection of facilities for practical instruction during good and inclement weather, care of arms, equipment and instruments, office, recreation and assembly rooms and laboratories, condition of arms and equipment, records, programs, etc.

FOUR-WAY TRACK MEET POSTPONED

Inclement Weather Prevents Teams from Practicing Effectively

With Montana practicing in a snow-drift and the University of Idaho, Washington State college and Gonzaga university bucking cold winds and occasional snow flurries, the quadrangular track meet scheduled at Spokane Saturday, has been postponed, it has been announced by George Orton, graduate manager. An attempt will be made to have the meet held at Spokane on May 11.

It is probable that Idaho will enter 10 or 11 men in the Seattle relay April 30. These will make up the mile and two-mile relay teams, a sprinter, hurdler and shot putter. As weather conditions has prevented effective practice, Coach George Philbrook has found it difficult to get a line on men whom he will send to Seattle. It is probable, however, that Sam Perrins will go as the sprinter, Jack Mitchell as the hurdler and Pickett as the shot putter. Don Cleaver and Arthur Mathews are two letter men seeking places again this year in the distances, and these two may be included in the Seattle delegation.

BOARD WILL HEAR PETITIONS ON MAY 15

Requests for Concessions Received by Executive Group

Petitions for concessions at athletic contests will be heard by the executive board at its regular meeting on May 10. It was announced at the regular meeting of the board last Tuesday night.

Several petitions have been placed on file by the executive board, to be held until that date. Petitions are granted by the executive board, under a constitutional provision.

3 O. A. C. MEN BATCH; COST $10 PER MAN

Three students who are batching together checked their bills and found that it cost them less than $10 apiece for their board. This doesn't restrict them to the customary prunes and oats but includes a variety. Skillful buying keeps down the bill.

The mob has many heads but no brains.

Y.M. BIDS TO BE CALLED IN JUNE

University Will Let Contract for Memorial Building Soon After

Bids for construction of the Idaho memorial gymnasium will be called about June 1, according to L. E. Arsons, executive secretary of the university. Actual construction will begin about three weeks after that date, after some preliminary work has been finished.

The plans are now being checked over by an expert structural engineer before the steel work is ordered from the mill.

In addition to the original plans have added the total cost from $275,000 to $300,000. The additional $25,000 will be raised by issuing bonds to cover the amount.

Prof. David Lange, university architect, who is designing the new building, has embodied many new ideas in gymnasium construction in his designs. The building will have three floors, and will be constructed without the use of supporting columns. The use of heavy truss beams will make this possible.

The top floor will be the main gymnasium. A stage will be constructed at one end. Two balconies in addition to the seats around the floor will make it possible to accommodate a maximum of 6000 people without crowding.

Two long corridors on the second floor that will extend the length of the building will make it easy to handle large crowds. There will be offices on both sides of the corridors on the second floor. The first floor will be used as a drill floor by the military department.

So many of the students joined the strike that the faculty were forced to stop classes. The striking students formed a parade through the streets from Memphis, and were joined along the way by numerous high school and grade school students who caught the spirit of the collegians.

SCREEN SHOWS NEW COLLEGIATE HERO

"Sweet Young" Thing Holds Impregnable Place In Life

In legends, in novels and in picture shows of college life, we always see athletic games, and contests of thrills and excitement. Good old Oshkosh always wins in the 20 seconds and against terrible odds. Very important in this victory is the handsome hero athlete but more important is the "sweet young thing." We see her, when Oshkosh is losing, lean out and whisper words of secret meaning to her hero, who miraculously hearing, and understanding, seizes the ball, runs the length of the field or floor and makes a touchdown or a basket thus winning the day for dear old Alma Mater.

Later, tearing himself from the howling mob which has carried him from the field, he rushes to her side and tells the world at large just who did win the game. Or when the star performer is plotted against and carried away or blackmailed it is the girl who finds him or finds the person to clear his name just in time to win in the nth hour. Or we see her, the night before a big meet, telling him to win for her and Oshkosh tomorrow—and he does—he always does.

According to all this, Idaho as a "collegiate" college is a flop. Girls simply don't figure around here. If a girl leans out and whispers anything, no one would hear her on account of the uncouth yelling and some rude knight would boost her back with the rest of the crowd. Strange to say a girl's advice and encouragement as an individual is uncollected. And none of these ordinary players here ever plays a whole game by himself. Furthermore the only way an athlete is ever carried off the field is on a stretcher. If the coach sees one of his men walking down the street with a girl he looks his disgust and it is hard to express his contempt of a girl who keeps an athlete out at night dancing satanically, the night before a contest.

Instead of receiving encouragement from a girl, the football, track or what-you-will star spends a quiet evening with his fellowmen well chaperoned by the coach.

SKATING FAD SPREADS THROUGH COLLEGES

OBERLIN, Ohio, (IP)—The roller skating craze, which began recently at the University of Illinois, has spread to colleges and universities throughout the country. The revived sport appears to be most popular among the women, although the opposite is the case at Oberlin, where entire men's dormitories take daily exercises on wheels. At Western Reserve university, in Cleveland, the women are being supplied with roller skates by the athletic department. At the University of Minnesota the women have formed skating clubs.

SIX WOMEN TO GET DEBATE AWARDS

Debaters Will Be Recommended for Awards; Close Season

Six women will be recommended to receive emblems for participation in women's debates this year, according to an announcement by Maurita Miller, manager of women's debate.

The year's debating ended recently when the University of Idaho debated the University of Washington. Five debates have been had during the year. These have been with the following colleges: University of Washington, University of Oregon, University of Utah, Washington State college, and Whitman college. Of this number, four were no decision affairs and one to a decision, the decision being in favor of the University of Idaho against the University of Oregon at Eugene.

Two permanent triangular debates have already been scheduled for next year, one with the universities of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho and the other with Washington State college, Whitman college and the University of Idaho.

Those who will be recommended to receive awards are: Lola Gamble, Merna Adams, Maurita Miller, Ina McMurray, Pauline Brown, and Marjorie Albertson.

WHITTIER WILL TRY VOLUNTARY CHAPEL

WHITTIER, Calif., (IP)—By a unanimous vote of the student body and with the approval of college officials, Whittier college is to try voluntary chapel. The new order will exist so long as it is considered successful.

According to the student council, the plan will be successful so long as the average daily attendance is 80 per cent or more. According to President Wallace Turner, the action is the result of a spirit of democracy at the college.

NEW DORMITORY TO BE ERECTED AT O.A.C.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., April 22.—(PIP)—A new men's dormitory has been assured by Dr. W. S. Kerr, president of the college, who has given instructions to the committee on dormitories to complete their investigations as soon as possible.

The first unit may be completed for use in September. Construction probably will be started as soon as a suitable site is secured and plans for the building completed. Construction of dormitory units during the next few years sufficient to accommodate from 400 to 600 men are being planned.

BOSTON BANS NEW BOOK

BOSTON, Mass. (IP)—Boston has placed a ban upon the sale of Sinclair Lewis' latest book, "Elmer Gantry." Boston booksellers have been notified that if they persist in sales of the book they will be prosecuted.

UNIVERSITIES HAVE OWN POLICE FORCE

Ohio State University Has Court to Regulate Traffic

Oberlin, Ohio.—(IP)—At least two universities in the country have their own police departments.

Ohio State has a fully organized and uniformed police force of its own. Previous to October 1, 1926, the college had only a watchman to look after its students and buildings, but on that date the police force was organized and has been doing efficient work ever since under the direction of Chief O. A. Zarger. It is called the Pennsylvania State College Police Force.

Ohio State University, on the other hand, has its own traffic court, and the judge is none other than President George W. Rightmire, who sits in the daily court for those who have violated traffic rules on the campus.

Recently Rightmire gave out the most severe sentences since the court was established over a year ago to help in the regulation of the ever increasing traffic problem on the Ohio State Campus. Five students, including one woman were denied the privilege of driving cars on the campus for the remainder of their college careers. Two women and seven men students were prohibited from parking on the campus. Eighteen of the 20 students summoned appeared in court; and charges against four of them were dismissed.

DATE BOOK CUTS MYSTERIOUS CAPERS

STANFORD, University, California, (IP)—Campus detectives here are busy trying to figure out the mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance and just as sudden reappearance of the official university Date Book, wherein are described the important social functions of Stanford. Officials are taking precautions against another such episode by requiring that from now on the book must be looked at under the supervision of those in charge.

IDAHO SLUGGERS MEET W.S.C. TODAY

Erickson Slated to Appear in Pitcher's Box for Vandals

This afternoon on MacLean field the Vandal nine will cross bats with the varsity aggregation of Washington State college in the first conference-baseball game of the season. Today's game will be the first of a two game series with the Cougars. The second contest is to be played tomorrow at Pullman.

The State college squad won a 10 to 2 victory from the College of Idaho a short time ago and the Vandals lost to the Idaho college team the next evening 10 to 6. Dope seemed to indicate a stronger lineup for Washington State but since that time several changes have been made in the Idaho lineup and workouts this week have shown a big improvement over early season form.

Both clubs have been handicapped with bad weather for the past month and will accordingly not be in top season form but a hard fought close game is expected.

Vandal hopes have risen considerably with the announcement that Lief Erickson, veteran hurler, will be on the mound in one of the two contests this week. Erick has been out of play so far this season due to a leg injury sustained late in the basketball season but has recovered sufficiently to take the mound again for a few innings at least. It is doubtful as to which of the two games he will start and the decision will probably not be made until just before today's game.

In case Erickson does not appear in the box this afternoon his place will be filled by either Stockdale, left-hander of last year's squad, Lawrence, Grabner, Lindsay, numeral man or Powers, new recruit at the checking job. All of these twirlers can be relied upon to furnish plenty of trouble for Cougar batsmen and will perform creditably if called upon to show their stuff.

The lineup for the other eight positions has not been definitely decided but it is expected that Howerton or Sullivan will take the backstop position, Fiecke or Green first sack, Jones or Murray second, Lehrbas third, Cheyne short, and Peterson, Simmons, Jacoby, Baird, or Marshall in the outfield positions.

EDITOR HITS ACTION OF SENIOR COUNCIL

PRINCETON, N. J., (IP)—The Princeton senior council came in for a rather bitter attack with the publication of the April number of The Nassau Literary Magazine, undergraduate publication of Princeton university.

The editor of the literary magazine declared that the council acted unwisely in resigning recently because the faculty of the university passed an auto ban over their heads. According to the attack, Dean Gauss thought the automobile situation to the attention of the council at least twice and the council had failed to make any recommendations for bettering the situation.

The resignation of the senior council resulted in the forming by the Princeton undergraduates of a student council representative of the entire student body.

KANSAS ADOPTS NEW CAMPUS VOTING PLAN

Men and Women to Vote Separately Under New Scheme

Following political scandals last spring and an attempt to put elections on a non-political basis at the University of Kansas, the W.S.G.A. and the men's student council there have formulated a new plan for elections of major officers.

Under the new system there will be one election each year in the spring for class officers and student council members, the men's and women's elections to be separated and managed by the two student groups. According to the plan, the president, treasurer and dance manager will be elected by the men, while the vice-president and the secretary are to be elected by the women. The editor and the business manager of the college magazine are to be elected jointly by the men and women.

Other features of the plan include a provision for a separate ballot and ballot box for the women at their general election. No class business is to be transacted without the endorsement of four officers. The election of officers of the freshman class will be conducted by the student councils in the fall, thereby abolishing the election of school officers in the general elections.

One of the main reasons for the adoption of the new plan was the request that the policy of the general elections be reorganized and made consistent with the policy adopted by W.S.G.A. last spring, whereby choice of candidates was put on a non-political basis. However, women candidates at general elections last fall were placed on party tickets.

Another incentive for reorganization of the system was decision of heads of the athletic department to have football men barred from candidacy for major offices because they believe that the combination of sports and politics was demoralizing to the team.

basis of preliminary surveys along the main east and west axis of the grounds now being made by the university engineer.

WOMEN DEBATERS CLOSE SEASON

Idaho Team Argued U. of W. on Education Question Here April 12

Women of the University of Idaho argued in the last debate of the season against the University of Washington here April 12, in the university auditorium. The question discussed was resolved, "That a department of education should be established with a secretary in the president's cabinet."

The Idaho team upheld the affirmative, arguing that the present educational system is not efficient and that education is worthy of national recognition. Marjorie Albertson, presented the Idaho side of the argument, and Lola Gamble gave the rebuttal and cross-questioned the Washington team.

The Washington debaters argued that education would be put at the mercy of politicians. Alice Harding and Margaret Hannum were the Washington representatives.

The debate created quite a bit of interest among the audience, many questions being asked the participants. The Oregonian system was used.

Bernice McCoy, of the school of education presided.

ROOKS TURN OUT FOR BALL PRACTICE

Schedule Not Arranged, but Several are in Prospect for Season

Twenty five freshmen baseball candidates answered the call of Coach McMillan Monday afternoon. Bill Lansdon, three letter first sacker of the varsity squad has been working the rookies.

The fresh schedule is not yet arranged but it is expected that games will be played with yearlings from northwest universities and similar teams. Very little can be predicted as to the strength of the team this season as no real workouts have been held. The majority of the time has been spent in lumbering up and chasing after lack of a proper diamond will be a handicap to the rookie squad as the only diamond on MacLean field will be occupied almost every evening by the varsity nine.

Among the most promising candidates for positions are Judy and Horn, pitchers; Sumpter catcher, Thornhill, Christians—McMillan, Beardmore, Brock, and Neman; Waldon, Frazer, Nordby, Soden and Archibald.

O. A. C. ENGINEERS TO BUILD NEW BRIDGE

Seniors Plan and Estimate Work on 58-foot Bridge

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., April 22—(PIP)—Seniors in civil engineering are building a 58 foot bridge of the trust type for the W.C.T.U. children farm home near Corvallis. When the original bridge was washed away by high water last winter, the local student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineering formed itself from a purely technical society into a public service organization by offering to replace the ruined structure with a new one. Students made their own plans and drawings, estimated the amounts of material used, and are working on their own time at the site.

SNYDER SMASHES FOOT AT PRACTICE

April 13 Is Unlucky Day for Base Ball Players

April 13 and a slide to third base resulted in a badly smashed ankle for Prof. R. S. Snyder, of the agricultural chemistry department. Professor Snyder was playing in a practice game against the Moscow high school team at the fairgrounds last Wednesday when the accident occurred. His ankle turned when he hit a rough spot near third base. Two bones were split and the ligaments were badly torn.

Professor Snyder was confined to his home for several days, but is now able to meet his classes although handicapped by crutches.

U. OF W. PLANS NEW UNION BUILDING

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Wash.—The A. S. U. W. building committee have completed its plans for a new union building which will be under construction next fall. As the student's coffers are quite limited, the plans provide for unit construction. This allows them to build additions until the structure is completed.

The Union building will be welcomed by the students as it will offer them many things that they have needed. There will be committee rooms, banquet rooms, ball rooms, a post-office, book store, barber shop, lounging rooms, and a new associated student office.

NEW COLLEGE OF FISHERIES

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, SEATTLE, Wash.—The tentacles of the college of fisheries of this university have stretched halfway around the world into Singapore and brought forth a young Hindu student. He has the romantic name of Ahamedur Nizam. Nizam expects to return to India upon graduation.

India is not the only country in which the call of the college of fisheries has been heard and answered; there are six Russians, two Filipinos, and one son of China enrolled here.

CORVALLIS, Ore., (PIP)—A tooth and a tusk of an elephant excavated in southern Oregon have been brought to the college museum by Dr. John B. Horner, director of Oregon historical research. The specimens were uncovered at a hydraulic placer mine at a depth of 40 feet in blue clay.

WOULD ABOLISH DEGREE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., (IP)—The Brown Daily Herald has asked the University here to abandon the Ph. B. (Bachelor of Philosophy) degree, which is still given here, because it is not commonly known in other college circles.

SUSPEND INSTRUCTOR; STRIKE

SUPERIOR, Wis., (IP)—One thousand students of Central high school here are on strike because of the suspension of Miss Lulu J. Dickenson, English teacher, for insubordination. The students are being backed in their demands that the teacher be reinstated by a committee of townspeople.

University of Southern California's hopes in basketball were delivered a severe blow when Bruce MacHaffie, star running guard, was forced to quit the squad on account of illness.

EDUCATORS DISAGREE ON "A" STUDENTS

Men Students With "B" Average Succeed More in Business

Students with a "B" average ranking in college have a better opportunity to succeed in the business world than "A" average men, according to George Wadswick, University of Oklahoma registrar. He believes that "B" average men engage in more outside activities which in turn tend to prepare them more efficiently for their future careers. However, Dr. J. S. Buchanan, vice-president of the S. Buchanan university, favors the straight "A" average group.

MANITOBANS ARGUE ABOUT NEWSPAPER

Whether Official Publication is Independent or Not, is Problem

Winnipeg, Manitoba (IP)—The pre-election battle for the presidency of the University of Manitoba Student Union has settled down to the issue of whether or not the Manitoban, official student newspaper of the university, shall have absolute independence in its editorial policies.

Candidate E. Gurney Evans stands for absolute freedom for the student newspaper. Candidates Frank Fidler and Edward Holland declare that the publication should be "independent" but should be under the control of the student officials on occasions.

Evans is being supported for the presidency by the Manitoba Student, independent newspaper founded by Leonard L. Knott, after he was ousted from the editorship of the Manitoban because of his refusal to obey the dictates of the U.M.S.U.

Among other varieties are the cedar of Lebanon, eastern white pine, Norway spruce, incense cedar, Austrian pine, and Douglas fir. Two rare trees are the "tree of heaven" and the Kentucky coffee tree.

SCANDAL MONGER WOULD TELL SINS

Theater to Disclose "Inner Life" at Iowa College

Alliance, Ohio—(IP)—Students at Mt. Union college are on their good behavior (at least those of a more credulous nature) since the receipt by the editor of the Dynamite, student newspaper, of a letter from an anonymous "scandal monger" disclosing his purpose of disclosing and publishing the facts concerning misconduct on the part of the Mt. Union undergraduates.

The letter, dated and postmarked at Cleveland, Ohio, reads as follows:

Dear Sir: I am deeply interested in the moral affairs and conditions of Mount Union College, and I think it is to the benefit of all concerned if their wrong-doings are brought to light. That is, published in a paper, so that all the world may see them in their true character.

Seeing that you, as editor of the Dynamite, will not do this, I have taken it upon myself to set the facts concerning the inner life of Mount Union College and in a short while, after all these facts have been compiled, I shall print them so that all the students may see what they are.

I have my typewriter on the campus now and I defy any person who has done wrong now to keep his or her secrets from me.

All facts made known to me shall be published and anyone trying to find out my identity shall be persecuted considerably more than the others.

Signed: "The Scandal Monger".

P. S. Please print this in your paper as a warning to all those who have guilty consciences. "Scandal Monger".

The letter was printed in the Dynamite. Some declare they shall take no chances. Others declare it is but a bit of publicity as a forerunner to the regular "yellow sheet" of the Dynamite.

TRIANGULAR DEBATE REVIVE BIG THREE

Yale, Princeton, Harvard Brought Together by Forensic Needs

Cambridge, Mass.—(IP)—Although the Big Three combination—Yale, Princeton and Harvard—has ceased to exist so far as athletic relations are concerned, the group is again brought together by the arrangement for a triangular debate between the three universities. The first of these events took place on each campus last week.

UNOFFICIAL WORLD RECORD

Manila—Tollito Yidonsos of the 67th Infantry, using the broad stroke, in the Fort McKinley tank swim 220 yards in 2 minutes, 47 seconds, unofficially breaking the world's record.

CANOEING FOR CREDIT

MADISON, WIS.—(IP)—Women students in the Physical Education department of the University of Wisconsin are to be given college credits for canoeing. Prerequisites for entering the course include the meeting of certain swimming tests.

The four students found guilty of violating the University of Washington cheating code, 30 hours in penalties, 15 hours added to graduation requirements, plus E grades in the 15 hour courses involved—such were the drastic sentences meted out by the Senior Council last week in the first case before it this quarter.

Junior Antics Make Fun for By-standers During Annual Parade

The Junior parade was a huge success, according to bystanders. Although the parade was short, it was full of amusement from the beginning to the end.

All organizations cooperated by having their juniors put some stunt in the parade. Much originally was shown by the different floats and stunts entered.

Some of the entrants rode, some walked, and others got along some way or another. Everyone did his best to out-do his fellows in making fun for the onlookers.

One float represented the Moscow Volunteer Fire department, another the crowning of the May Queen, another a "puppy show", and still another the work of the college of agriculture. Several girls had a "puppy show" in the parade, and several more girls presented styles of a few years ago.

After the parade, the juniors assembled in the Blue Bucket for a party.

ROGERS SAYS SCHOOL GOOD THING FOR GIRL

Women Should be Better Educated to Support Men in Good Fashion

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—"Colleges are a good thing," grinned Will Rogers, America's Poet LaRini, in an interview here recently, adding, "For girls." They ought to know a lot more. Not God knows they know enough, but they ought to be better educated. They have to earn more or a lotta young men won't be supported in the style to which they've been accustomed.

He doesn't agree with H. G. Wells in his claim that a college course is a four-year vacation, but feels that women's education and football games might give the youngsters more time to play, less lecturing and more education," he thinks, "might relieve the situation."

When asked what he thought about fraternities and sororities, Rogers said, "Well I believe, they serve a good purpose. They take the boys and girls away from the common herd while they're at school, but they get on the normal level after they get out."

While he was visiting Nicholas Murray Butler a short time ago, the Columbia Dean said he was going to see that Rogers received a college degree. The peer of modern humorists replied he couldn't accept because it would put them on the same plane.

Asked if he thought it advisable for college girls to perform in a variety professional on graduation, he told us, "not until they have made as much as possible in the amateur ranks."

Rogers has a brotherly feeling for George Bernard Shaw, England's "intellectual scoundrel." He says, "we both know the world's wrong. We don't know what's wrong with it—but we're willing paid to fix it at no such a word."

BURGSTAHLER GOES TO CORNELL COLLEGE

Pastor at Buffalo Is Elected President of Iowa School

Mt. Vernon, Iowa—(IP)—Dr. Herbert J. Burgstahler, pastor of the Plymouth Methodist church at Buffalo, Cornell College, has been elected president of Cornell College, Iowa, to take the place left vacant by the resignation several months ago of Dr. Harlan Updegraff. The new president is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and of the Boston University school of theology.

The word which the boys at sunshine are appointed to deliver, inly convey the thought of "Glimp of the Mountains." The eternal sun on everlasting mountains means to the Indians a stability in his environment and is a signal for him to arise, as he habitually does when the light is on the mountain and in the refreshing atmosphere go about his daily activities.

Array of Splendor

"The emphasis," wrote Mr. Rees, "of the expression 'Ed-dah-hoe', is placed on the 'dah' syllable, as it is the keynote of utterance, for the sun arrayed on the everlasting mountain is the splendor which the speaker especially wishes to convey to the hearer."

An excerpt from an article written by another western pioneer says, "As you climb Sweetwater mountain, you will see the name Idaho written on the mountain top; at least you see a peculiar and beautiful light at sunrise, a sort of diadem on two grand clusters of mountains that bear away under the clouds 50 miles distant. That light is what the Indians call 'Ed-dah-hoe', which means light or diadem on the line of mountains."

SEVEN POISONED BY MERCURIC FUMES

Wisconsin Men Lose Control of Fumes at Inflation

MADISON, WIS.—(IP)—Seven members of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity at the University of Wisconsin were taken to the university hospital recently as a result of inhaling poison fumes during the initiation ceremonies.

The seven, only one of whom was being initiated, were overcome when mercuric fumes which were being administered to a freshman in a closed room got out of control.

A new theory as to evading low grades is offered by the students of Colorado Agriculture College. A drag on a cigarette between classes, the students claim, furnishes them with a certain stimulus which aids them in class work.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI HOLDS BANQUET

Letters Read From Alumni Scattered Over Whole United States

Alpha Kappa Psi, national honorary business fraternity, held a banquet in honor of the alumni members at the Blue Bucket, Tuesday April 19. Letters from alumni members, who are now scattered in all parts of the country were read. Some of the alumni members are now in various business activities, and others are taking graduate work.

Paul Atwood, president of the chapter, presided at the meeting which was attended by 20 members and pledges. Ade Nelson, '24, who is connected with the Veatch Realty company in Moscow, attended.

Letters from the following men were read: Robert E. Reed, '26, now attending the law school at Stanford; Eugene Ostrander, '25, now with the Texas Oil company at Twin Falls; Walter G. Casbeer, '24, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, Seattle; Edmund G. Blackburn, ex '24, Clark Williams and Company, stock brokers on the New York stock exchange; Warren Vickery, '23, with Byron Deffenbach and Sons, public accountants, Pocatello; Phil Christensen, '25, Federal Standard Store in South Dakota; C. B. Lowe, '24, manager of the Adams County Abstract Company, Council; George M. A letter was also read from Prof. L. J. Schoonover, former professor of economics at the University of Idaho, now professor of finance and banking at the Harvard Graduate School of Business.

Leroy Long, Pocatello, was elected as the delegate to the national convention to be held in Chicago, June 22 to 25. Wellington Pierce was elected as the alternate.

Oberlin Women Put On Annual "Yale-Princeton" Game

Oberlin, Ohio—(IP)—Because they are not allowed to have inter-collegiate meets, the co-eds at Oberlin college create their own opposition in the annual "Yale-Princeton" basketball game held here every spring.

Two teams of girls are selected, one taking the name of Princeton and the other of Yale. The various women's dormitories then choose which team they will support, and decorate their dorms accordingly in blue and white or orange and black. The village stores aid in the spirit of the occasion and also take sides in the contest.

On the evening of the game, the co-eds march through the streets cheering for their teams, and then go to the men's gymnasium where the battle takes place amid extensive decorations.

Because the gym will not hold the entire co-eds, the meeting of the institution are excluded unless they can escape detection by dressing in co-ed clothes.

STANFORD PAPER TO RUN QUESTIONNAIRE

Questions in "Ask Me Another" Series are to be Original

Stanford University, Calif.—(IP)—The Stanford Daily has announced its intention of running a daily series of "Ask Me Another" questions, following the popularization of the sport by the publishing of question books throughout the country. The questions to be asked in the Daily are to be original.

STUDENT FLIES WHEN CARS ARE BANNED

Princeton Senior Plans Exhibition Flights in Own Plane

Princeton, N. J.—(IP)—New complications in connection with the ban on student cars at Princeton developed last week when a senior student, George Lambert, of St. Louis, flew over the campus in his own airplane. Lambert is practicing for exhibition flights at his home during the spring recess.

Students at the university are now speculating as to whether the auto ban will be extended to include flying machines.

STUDENTS ASK FOR COURSE IN WAR

Undergrads Seek Addition to Curriculum at Connecticut School

Middletown, Conn.—(IP)—a course in "war-its causes and cure", has been asked for at Wesleyan university here by an undergraduate committee of seventeen appointed recently to make a student survey of the heads of the curriculum. The purpose of the course, according to the committee would be to give educated men a background for aiding in the elimination of the causes of war.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR IDAHO PAGEANT

will assist in coaching the cowboy dance in the sixth scene and in the final scene will conduct the ballet. Original Music

Program music for the pageant will be handled entirely by Prof. David Nyvall, Jr., member of the music department faculty. All of the music which will be used in the pageant this spring will be original, being composed by Professor Nyvall.

Sale of tickets for the pageant will be handled by a committee with Hal Bowen as chairman. Other members of the committee have not been appointed as yet.

Traffic Committee

Parking of automobiles and other traffic problems will be handled by the R. O. T. C. cadet corps, according to the committee appointments. Members of the corps will be stationed at various points over the campus and streets leading to the university so that the crowd can be handled in a speedy manner.

Ushering for the pageant will be done by members of the Idaho chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights. This body will handle all seating arrangements for the production.

After much deliberation, Coach Gwynn Henry is to be retained at the University of Missouri for from one to three years at an increase over his present salary of $6,600 a year, according to indications given by the University board of curators.

ARMY EXAMS TO BE HELD JUNE 24 TO 25

Eligibles for Commissions Will be Questioned Simultaneously

A final competitive examination of all classes of eligibles for appointment as second lieutenants in the regular army will be held simultaneously throughout the United States during the week of June 20 to 25, according to an announcement from the ninth corps area office in San Francisco.

The examination is held to fill vacancies in the infantry, cavalry, field artillery, coast artillery corps, air corps, corps of engineers, and signal corps.

Information concerning submission of applications and the examination may be obtained from any army post, camp, or station.

Hat Making Is On Home Ec Program

Any curious and venturesome person who happens to wander into the home economics department during the next week or so, might discover strange and wonderful sights if he strayed into the first door on the right.

Contrary to expectation, instead of being occupied with needle and thread, the girls are busily engaged with building fences or intruding upon any pliers and wire. No, they are not occupations heretofore assigned to man. This is merely the class in millinery.

The hat "skeletons" are rather gruesome sights and the casual observer might think that a hat graveyard had been raided. But not so—not so—a little padding and dressing up and creations are evolved which might be recognized as feminine headgear in any respectable milliner's window.

These fruits of the milliners' art will appear for the first time before the public eye at the home economics open house next month.

DEBATER ESCAPES COURT APPEARANCE

Northwestern Student Says Liquor Obtained Easily in Manhattan

Lawrence, Kansas—(IP)—Stanford Clinton, Northwestern university debater, narrowly escaped being given an opportunity to test his forensic ability in court.

In a debate at Manhattan, Kans., Clinton made the statement that liquor could be obtained in Manhattan in less than five minutes. The next day Walter G. Gage, county attorney of Riley county issued a subpoena for the debater and forwarded it to Lawrence, where Clinton's team was to meet the University of Kansas.

Clinton declared that he was ready at any time to appear and give testimony before a grand jury. Because of the heavy schedule of the debaters, however, he was not called.
